The Week In The Corporation

Ex-Alderman Sarat C. Bose Corporation Urges His Immediate Release

A RESOLUTION demanding the immediate release of ex-Alderman Sarat C. Bose in view of the fact that he had been suffering from fever attended with diabetes since a long time and his condition was causing anxiety, was accepted by the Corporation at its meeting held on Wednesday, the 17th May.

The Corporation in course of the resolution also prayed to God for his early recovery.

Moving the resolution, Councillor Purnendu Sekhar Basu said that no speech was necessary in justifying the release of Mr. Sarat C. Bose. Mr. Bose was arrested in December, 1941. In England, Defence Rules had been withdrawn after the end of war in Europe. In India it was expected that the D. I. Rules would be withdrawn in this country also. The main question involved here was the question of a humanitarian consideration as Mr. Bose had been ailing for a long time from diabetes attended with fever. The Government should also take into consideration all the anxiety of his countrymen in demanding the release of Mr. Bose.

Councillor Basu recalled that in similar circumstances the Government had released politicals suffering from serious ailments. He hoped that the Government would take note of the anxiety of the people of this country on account of the health of Mr. Sarat C. Bose and release him forthwith.

The Bar Library and the Bar Association of the Calcutta High Court, Councillor Basu pointed out, had urged the release of Mr. Bose, and the speaker hoped that the Corporation, too, would unanimously accept the resolution.

Councillor Dr. Subodh Kumar Basu, Councillor Jagannath Kolay and Councillor N. C. Sen supported the resolution.

An amendment of Councillor Somnath Lahiri purporting that the Corporation should urge the Government to immediately release Mr. Sarat C. Bose and other detenus who had been ailing for sometime past was ruled out of order by the Mayor.

In moving his amendment, Councillor Lahiri said that it was a fact that Mr. Bose had been detained without any crime having been proved against him and every Indian condemned this act of the Government. There were many other detenus who also were suffering similarly in jail and the Corporation should urge their release too.

In opposing the amendment, Councillor N. C. Sen said that the amendment did not arise and it also ran counter to the spirit of the main resolution. This particular resolution, he pointed out, was on a particular ground, the ill-health of Mr. Bose, who had been arrested and kept in detention and who was suffering. Councillor Sen advised Councillor Lahiri to bring forward a resolution demanding the release of the other ailing detenus if he so wished, and he assured him of their support.

The original motion was carried without a division.

ROAD WATERING

Councillor Hirendra Kumar Ganguli drew the attention of the House to the pitiable condition into which streets in the added areas had fallen in the absence of watering arrangements for years together since the inception of the war. When the attention of the Departmental Head was drawn to this state of affairs he stated that owing to dearth of lorries those streets could not be watered until the normal times arrived. Residents of other Wards, Councillor Ganguli felt, would perhaps fail to appreciate to what extent the inhabitants of the added areas had been suffering in this respect. Councillor Ganguli would like to know from the Chief Executive Officer when it would be possible for the Corporation to resume watering the streets in the added areas.

The Mayor told Councillor Ganguli that the Chief Executive Officer assured him that steps were already being taken and the question was being examined.

CALCUTTA IMPROVEMENT TRUST

The Government letter refusing to entertain the proposal by the Corporation for a reduction of its contribution to the Calcutta Improvement Trust to 50 per cent. during the emergency period was recorded. The Government, however, agreed to a reduction to the extent of Rs. 1½ lakhs per year for a period of 3 years with effect from 1st April, 1944.

CLOTH SITUATION

Councillor Kaviraj Satyabrata Sen referred to the insufficiency of cloth allotted to his Ward and requested the Mayor to bring the situation to the notice of the Government.

Councillor Sen complained that in his Ward the population numbered a lakh and only 500 pieces of cloth had been distributed.

Councillor Md. Ismail stressed the need of supplying cloth to Corporation and industrial workers.

The Mayor said that he would ask the Chief Executive Officer to write to the Government to supply cloth to the Corporation employees.

COUNCILLOR H. S. GILL

Councillor H. S. Gill, representing Bengal Chamber of Commerce, having proceeded to the United Kingdom and being likely to be away from Calcutta for six months, tendered resignation of his Councillorship, which has been accepted by the Corporation.

DEARNESS ALLOWANCE

The Corporation adopted the following resolutions providing a revised rate of Dearness Allowance to its employees:—

(a) That in modification of all Corporation resolutions to the contrary all employees of the Corporation including labourers, workers and menials drawing a salary and wages up to Rs. 300 per month be given a dearness allowance at the revised rate as sanctioned by the Government of Bengal for their employees in Calcutta with effect from the 1st January, 1945, at an estimated cost of Rs. 5,17,200 per month.

(b) That in modification of the Corporation resolution dated the 7th March, 1945, Corporation officers drawing a salary from above Rs. 300 per month upto Rs. 2,000 per month be also given a dearness allowance as per revised scale sanctioned by Government, to their own staff with effect from 1st January, 1945 at an estimated cost of Rs. 10,800 per month.

(c) That effect be given to this resolution immediately the required subvention is received from the Government.

CORPORATION PUMPING STATIONS

The Corporation has confirmed the recommendation of the Water Supply Standing Committee stating that the services of Rai Bahadur S. C. Ghosh, Executive Engineer, Public Health Department, Government of Bengal, be requisitioned for examination and report on the condition of machineries at the various pumping stations of the Corporation.

The Rai Bahadur has agreed to take up the work.

CONTROL OF CHOLERA IN CALCUTTA

The Corporation at its meeting on Wednesday recorded the promulgation of temporary regulations by the Government under Section 2 (1) of the Epidemic Diseases Act, 1897 for the prevention and control of cholera in Calcutta. The regulations had been promulgated on the 27th April last (recorded in the Calcutta Municipal Gazette of the 5th May, 1945).

On the 19th April, 1945, Government forwarded a set of draft Regulations to the Corporation requesting the institution to inform the Government if it would desire that these regulations be promulgated.

The Chief Executive Officer in a reply, dated the 24th April, 1945, wrote to the Government that the matter could not be considered by the Corporation within so short a time. However, in view of the prevalence of cholera in an epidemic form, the Chief Executive Officer suggested that the regulations might be promulgated as an emergency measure with certain modifications and comments.

TOLLY'S NULLAH

The Corporation while considering the question of sanctioning the engineer's estimate amounting to Rs. 2,30,000 for reconstruction of the existing worn out drainage syphon under Tolly's Nullah near Kalighat Bridge appointed a Committee of five members to inspect the site and submit a report to the Corporation within a week.

Some Councillors made a grievance of the fact that the matter had not been reported earlier and complained of negligence on the part of the department concerned. It was also revealed that the pipe had become paper-thin at some places and there was every danger of South Calcutta being drowned in sewage if the syphon burst again.

Councillor Debabrata Mookerjee complained that the executive did not take early steps.

The Chief Executive Officer said that the department was trying to repair the damages done and make the syphon workable but when they found that it was unfit for further use they had taken immediate action by asking for its replacement.

On the suggestion of Councillor Sudhir Chandra Ray Chaudhuri, the Corporation decided to postpone consideration of the proposal for reconstruction of the syphon for a week and appointed a Committee of five to inspect the site and report as to how the matter stood and what should be done.

The Chief Executive Officer assured the House that the staff would take all steps meanwhile to prevent the collapse of the syphon if possible.

The Committee consists of Councillor Debabrata Mookerjee, Councillor Nalin Chandra Paul, ex-Deputy Mayor Mohamad Rafique, Councillor Sudhir Chandra Ray Chaudhuri and Councillor B. N. Roy Chowdhury.

ANTI-CHOLERA MEASURES

The Corporation sanctioned an amount of Rs. 42,588 for carrying out certain anti-cholera measures which had been decided upon at the conference held by the Mayor on the 2nd May last.

The measures include cleaning of bustees for which 300 additional coolies have to be engaged; better cleaning of service latrines in the unsewered areas, especially in Cossipore, Manicktalla and Tangra for which 200 additional sweepers are to be appointed; provision for reserve tanks in bustee areas; repair of street standposts and health propaganda.

The question of chlorination of unfiltered water from the Watgunge Pumping Station for one month at an estimated cost of Rs. 17,464 has been postponed for a week.

When the matter came up, Councillor Dr. S. N. Sinha enquired of the Mayor if bacteriological examination of samples of unfiltered water taken from different Wards, as suggested by him, had taken place and what was the result of such examination.

The Mayor said that in good many cases the cholera bacilli had been found.

In emphasising the need for tackling the disease at the source, Councillor Dr. Sinha wanted to be informed of the addresses of houses and Wards where there had been found. Chlorination of unfiltered water which amounted to 80 million gallons per day, according to Councillor Dr. Sinha, was an impracticable scheme. Besides, they would have to chlorinate up to 3 per cent. to have any effect and this would have an adverse effect on the poor people who could not but use unfiltered water for their drinking and other purposes.

Referring to the statement of the Mayor that cholera bacilli had been found in samples of unfiltered water taken from certain houses, Councillor Dr. Sinha advised prompt action not only to stop supply of unfiltered water to the affected houses but also to take steps for disinfecting them. Cholera, he emphasised, should be tackled at the source. He wanted to know who took the samples and who held the test. This was a very serious matter and the speaker was surprised at the statement that cholera bacilli had been found in certain cases but no steps were taken. He suggested that as soon as cholera bacilli were detected in any place the matter should be reported to the Mayor and Ward Councillors so that proper steps might be taken without delay.

FRESH ELECTORAL ROLLS

The Corporation considered a communication received from the Additional Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Home Department, Constitution and Elections, requesting the Corporation to undertake, as on previous occasions, the preparation of fresh electoral rolls for the Calcutta General and Muhammadan Constituencies including Women's Constituencies and the Calcutta portion of the electoral roll for the Calcutta-cum-Presidency Division Indian Christian Constituency of the Bengal Legislative Assembly and accepted the Government request, thereby permitting the Chief Executive Officer to make proper arrangements in the matter.

DR. B. N. DEY

The Corporation recorded the report regarding relinquishment of charge of the office of the Special Officer and Engineering Adviser by Dr. B. N. Dey.

In 1944, when the question of payment of the salary of Dr. Dey was brought up before the Corporation, the Corporation on the 22nd November, 1944, directed that a suit be filed against the Government of Bengal for a declaration that the orders of Government annulling the resolution of the Corporation dated the 4th October, 1943, appointing Dr. Dey as Special Officer and Engineering Adviser were void, inoperative and illegal and for consequential reliefs. Before the proposed suit was filed, Mr. Asghar Ali, a rate-payer, instituted a suit in the High Court for a declaration that the appointment of Dr. B. N. Dey was illegal and ultra vires. The Court held that the appointment of Dr. B. N. Dey was illegal and ultra vires and the order of the Government under Section 19 of the Calcutta Municipal Act was valid and effective. The Court also held the resolution of the Corporation appointing Dr. Dey as Special Officer and Engineering Adviser, to be not in conformity with law. A writ of Quo Warranto was accordingly issued against Dr. Dey and also an injunction restraining him from acting and functioning as Special Officer and Engineering Adviser. The orders of the Court having been served on Dr. Dey on the 27th March, 1945, Dr. Dey relinquished charge of his office as Special Officer and Engineering Adviser from the afternoon of the above date.

The charge of the Department over which Dr. Dey used to exercise supervision and control has since been made over to Mr. P. C. Bose, the Officiating Chief Engineer.

EX-ALDERMAN SARAT C. BOSE

HIS IMMEDIATE RELEASE URGED

Ex-Mayor A. K. Fazlul Huq, Mr. Kiron Sinha Roy, Dr. Syamprasad Mookerjee, ex-Mayor Santosh Kumar Basu, Mr. Shamsuddin Ahmed and Alderman Hem Chandra Nasker have issued a statement strongly urging the Government to release ex-Alderman Sarat Chandra Bose from detention without delay. In the course of the statement they say:

"It was on the 11th of December, 1941, that Mr. Sarat Chandra Bose was arrested in Calcutta. He has since been kept in detention without any charge or trial.

"As a victim of diabetes, Mr. Bose was in broken health at the time of his arrest. During the long period of his detention, he has been continuously suffering from slow fever and low vitality due to that debilitating disease. His release from detention is long overdue at least on urgent grounds of health. Unlike his previous detention in his own home at Kurseong, he has been kept in confinement in distant places in south India.

"For some time past there has been an additional distressing factor in his confinement. Owing to the humiliating conditions sought to be imposed upon the members of his family, he has not been able to avail himself of the prescribed periodical interviews."

In view of the alarming state of the health of Mr. Bose, the Bar Association of the Calcutta High Court in a resolution unanimously passed in their meeting urges the Government of India to direct his immediate release in order that he may be restored to health and occupy his rightful place in the public life of the country.

The Mayor Holds A Press Conference

Cholera In Calcutta In Under Control

“IF we want to free the city from the annual Scourge of Cholera and other diseases we must tackle the insanitary condition. We must get rid of the unfiltered water supply. We must have arrangement for speedy removal of the refuse. The lot of the bustee-dwellers must be improved.”

Thus said Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, Mayor of Calcutta, in the course of a statement to a Press Conference held in the Mayor's Room on Thursday afternoon, the 17th May.

“Cholera epidemic in Calcutta is under control and there is no reason for anxiety at the present moment”, the Mayor added.

He also pointed out that unless the permanent factors, which had been responsible for outbreak of epidemic in the city, were removed, the Corporation in order to combat an epidemic could only take palliative measures.

THE FIVE PERMANENT FACTORS RESPONSIBLE FOR EPIDEMICS MUST BE REMOVED

Below is reproduced the full text of the statement the Mayor made at the Press Conference he held in his room in the Central Municipal Office on Thursday, the 17th May, 1945—

The present epidemic of Cholera in the City started from the week ending 17th March. During that week deaths from Cholera were 54. There was gradual increase both in incidence and deaths till the peak was reached. This peak happened to be during the weeks ending 21st April and 28th April. During the week ending 21st April, the number of deaths was the highest viz., 186. During the week ending 28th April, attacks were maximum, viz., 592. Since then gradual decline has been noticed and I am glad to say that during the week ending 12th May attacks from Cholera were 292 and deaths 77. There is still further decline in the incidence, the number of cases removed on the 15th being 22 only.

ACTION TAKEN BY THE CORPORATION

Inoculation:—Up till now 29 temporary Doctors have been appointed to give Cholera inoculation. Besides this our permanent staff consisting of 16 Asstt. Sanitary Officers, 20 permanent Sanitary Officers, 29 permanent Food Inspectors and 17 Medical Officers of the Corporation Dispensaries are doing this work; altogether 109 persons are doing this work. The number of inoculations given in 1945 up to 12th May was nearly a lakh and a half as compared to total Cholera inoculations done in the previous year, i.e., in 1944, viz., 97,118.

Hospital accommodation: 121 permanent Cholera beds are maintained in different hospitals at Corporation cost. Besides this 178 extra beds were opened in different hospitals besides Campbell Hospital, where there was no limit to extra beds. All patients that could not be accommodated in other hospitals were taken in Campbell Hospital. At one time there were 330 cases in the hospital. The expenses of these beds are paid by the Corporation. Besides, to help us in the matter, the Surgeon-General was kind enough to make available 80 beds at the Behala Famine Relief Hospital. In case these were not sufficient, the Health Officer in consultation with the Surgeon-General had chalked up a plan of further expansion of Cholera beds to the extent of 1,000. Fortunately for us, the situation has improved and all these provisions had not to be resorted to.

Ambulance:—We have 16 ambulances of which 8 are on day duty and 7 are on night duty. They were considered to be very insufficient to meet the extra demand and the Health Officer immediately got in touch with the Secretary, Local Self-Government Department with a request for loan of A. R. P. Ambulances. The Government came to the help of the Corporation by arranging to remove non-infectious cases by A. R. P. ambulances and later on by lending 8 A. R. P. ambulances to the Corporation for removal of infectious cases.

Disinfection:—There are attached to different district offices nine disinfectant inspectors and 44 coolies. To cope with the work, ten extra disinfectant inspectors and 30 extra coolies were taken in. To have immediate disinfection of the premises as far as possible, staff was provided with each ambulance so that immediately after the removal of the patient to a hospital, they may cleanse and disinfect the site.

Special work*re. food & drink inspection:—After the Emergency Regulations under the Epidemic Diseases Act were promulgated by the Bengal Government, the Health Officer has authorised two hundred fifty-one officers of the Corporation of various departments to look to the quality of the foodstuff and to destroy those which are rotten and unhealthy. Besides this staff, several Councillors who have been authorised to help in this work have kindly volunteered their services in this line of work.

Prompt removal of refuse:—This work was for sometime very much handicapped for want of transport facilities. The Secretary, Local Self-Government Department was approached by the Department for loan of some vehicles from the Military and I am glad to say that twenty lorries were made available to us with the help of which considerable improvement was effected in conservancy work specially in congested areas; but this work is still not up to the standard due to insufficient number of vehicles. His Excellency has assured me of the supply of more lorries at an early date to tackle this problem. I hope we shall make a satisfactory progress.

in the matter of conservancy. I have asked the Chief Engineer to provide dustbins in every road, street or lane and he expects to do so in a short time. When this has been done, I want the rate-payers to co-operate with the Corporation and the Government in their joint effort to make the city neater and cleaner by persuading the resident to throw garbages only in the dustbins, otherwise the Corporation will be constrained to prosecute the delinquents for infringement of the rule.

Cleansing of bustees.—300 extra coolies have been appointed for better cleansing of the bustees and also a large number of extra methars have been appointed for the service privies. The Corporation has submitted a scheme for permanent improvement of the bustees. The Government is expected to promulgate a Bustee Improvement Act for the reform of the bustees.

Educating the public.—From the beginning of the outbreak Press Notes were issued by the Health Officer. Radio Talks in Bengali were broadcast on a large number of occasions by the All India Radio on the instruction of the Health Officer. Besides this, special anti-cholera drive has been started which is expected to do very useful work. The Publicity Department is organising the Drive. The Government is providing facilities to make Drive effective.

WHAT REMAINS TO BE DONE

The measures as specified above are however only palliative measures. In this connection, I would like to emphasise that Cholera has appeared in epidemic form in the city practically every year and I do not think that the epidemic this year is in any way out of proportion to the previous years. We have also to keep in mind the great increase of population and the standard of devitalisation of our people. I have mentioned these just to point out that there are certain permanent factors which must be responsible for this almost annual outbreak of Cholera in the city. If we remember that according to public health workers, Cholera, Typhoid, Dysentery and Diarrhoea are not individual diseases but symptoms of the same disease, viz., the general insanitary condition. Public Health authorities now-a-days regard these diseases as index of the insanitary condition of any city. The most palpable conditions, endangering the health of the city are:—

- (1) Dual system of water supply, viz., filtered and unfiltered water.
- (2) Intermittent supply of filtered water.
- (3) Existence of over 40 thousand service privies.
- (4) Our inability to remove refuses from the streets promptly due to want of transport facilities.

FAMINE COMMISSION REPORT

DELAY IN INTRODUCTION OF RATIONING CRITICISED

The Bengal Famine Commission, in its report recently published, has expressed the view that if effective preparations had been made in 1943, for the introduction of rationing in Calcutta, the crisis would not have begun as early as it did, and would not then have developed as quickly as it did. The failure to introduce rationing at any time during 1943 added greatly to the difficulties encountered by the Government in coping with the emergency throughout that year.

(5) Last but not the least important is the deplorable condition of the bustees in which nearly 25 to 33 per cent. of the citizens live. If we want to free the city from this annual scourge of Cholera and other diseases mentioned above we must tackle the insanitary condition. We must get rid of the unfiltered water supply. We must have continuous filtered water supply in the city. We must have arrangement for speedy removal of the refuse. All the service privies must be removed from the city and the lot of the bustee dwellers must be improved. The last item happily has received the kind attention of His Excellency the Governor of Bengal. The others can also be achieved. The only thing required is finance. Unfortunately, the Corporation at this stage cannot find capital expenditure but in view of the urgency of the problem, the State should come to the help of the Corporation for removal of the insanitary condition by advancing adequate money as interest-free loan.

NEW MAYOR AND DEPUTY MAYOR FELICITATIONS FROM FAR AND NEAR

Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, the new Mayor of Calcutta, was congratulated at a party arranged by the members of the Sisir Kumar Institute at Patrika House on Wednesday evening, the 9th May. Mr. Tushar Kanti Ghosh presided over the function.

Mr. Ghose expressed gratification on behalf of the citizens of North Calcutta at the election of Mr. Mukherjee who was a resident of the area. They all hoped and prayed, said Mr. Ghose, that under Mr. Mukherjee's regime, the amenities which the people of Calcutta were accustomed to formerly would be restored.

In reply the Mayor said that he considered it a great honour to be felicitated by an institution which was associated with the memory of Mahatma Swaraj Kumar and which by its work had come to occupy a place of pride among the public institutions of the city.

He assured that he would do all that lay in his powers to increase the amenities of civic life.

Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, the new Mayor of Calcutta was accorded a hearty reception at the office of Hindustan Works, Ltd., on the 5th May.

Mr. Hemendra Prasad Ghose presided.

The Deputy Mayor and many distinguished gentlemen were present on the occasion.

The new Mayor of Calcutta was felicitated on the 4th May last by the members of the Baghbaraz Tarun Bayam Samity. Dr. Bhupendra Nath Basu presided.

Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, Mayor of Calcutta, was presented an address of welcome organised by the Nikashipara Sarbaganin Durgotsab Committee on behalf of the citizens of North Calcutta on the 12th May at the Friends' Club ground, Shyambazar. The Mayor gave a suitable reply.

Mr. Suresh Chandra Majumdar, Managing Director, Hindustan Standard and Ananda Bazar Patrika presided over the function which was largely attended. Mr. Majumdar said that he felt very happy that his neighbour had been elected the Mayor and he requested the Mayor to initiate some constructive works for the benefit of the citizens which would perpetuate his memory.

The Professors of Manindra College entertained Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, the Mayor of Calcutta, on 14th May at the College premises.

Victory Celebration In Calcutta

Free Distribution Of Food And Cloth

THE Victory in Europe by the Allied forces was celebrated in the city of Calcutta on Monday, the 14th May. A ceremonial parade was held at the Brigade Parade Ground in the morning. His Excellency the Governor of Bengal, Mr. R. G. Casey, reviewed the parade and took the salute at a saluting point which was gay with the flags of the United Nations. Mrs. Casey was also present.

Representative detachments of available Allied Forces took part in the parade, those of the United Nations who could not provide troops having representatives at the saluting point or amongst the spectators in the special enclosures.

Many of the ex-prisoners of war who recently arrived in Calcutta from Rangoon were also present.

The Parade Ground was lined by thousands of spectators.

Among those present at the saluting base were Gen. Sir Richard O'Connor, GOC-in-C, Eastern Command, Maj.-Gen. D. Stuart, G.O.C., British and Indian Troops in Bengal, Brig.-Gen. R. R. Neyland, U. S. A., Commodore, E. C. Denison, R. N. Commodore, Bengal, Air Marshal W. A. Coryton, Air Marshal Commanding R. A. F., Bengal and Burma, Air Vice-Marshal C. S. Stevens, Maj.-Gen. Kiran Shumsher Jung Bahadur Rana, Nepalese Liaison Officer, Eastern Command, and Capt. J. E. N. Coope, R. I. N., Naval Officer Commanding, Fort William.

Over a dozen parties composed of civilians drawn from different communities paraded the streets singing specially composed victory songs.

Free food and cloth were distributed to about 15,000 indigent persons at Shyam Square, Deshbandhn Park, Hrishikesh Park, Mohamed Ali Park, Hazra Park, Triangular Park and Children's Play-ground on the production of printed cards previously issued by the Calcutta Rotary Club. Each person was given a plate of food, a packet of sweets and a dhoti or a saree.

Three of the centres, Mohamed Ali Park, Hazra Park and Triangular Park were visited by His Excellency the Governor and Mrs. Casey who took part in the distribution for a while, the Governor handing out plates of food and Mrs. Casey—sarees and dhoties.

Over 30,000 school children witnessed free shows given at almost all the cinema houses in the city.

The public buildings, business houses and railway stations were gorgeously illuminated at night.

BERLIN UNDERGROUND

A CITY BENEATH THE CITY

Red Army men exploring Berlin's "city beneath the city" found labyrinths of subterranean passages, streets, underground houses, factories and supply dumps, says Reuter's Special correspondent in a radio dispatch. "The war had long ago driven Berlin underground", said a "Red Star" despatch. Information now gathered on the spot shows that Berliners were allowed to know as little as possible about the existence of this concrete rabbit warren under the Government and other vital areas of the city which was kept a closely guarded secret.

CITY OF RANGOON

SPRINGING INTO ACTIVITY

Rangoon is already springing into activity reminiscent of the days before the Japanese, writes Alan Humphreys, A. P. I.'s special war correspondent.

The face of the city is already much cleaner as the result of swift action by the civil affairs officers. About one thousand disarmed Indian National army soldiers have been set to work cleaning the town.

Neglected bomb craters are being filled and the smell of decay and decomposition has disappeared from many spots in the city.

IMPROVEMENT OF CITY BUSTEES

GOVERNOR'S ACT UNDER PREPARATION

AT the beginning of January this year, His Excellency Mr. R. G. Casey presided over a Conference to discuss the ways in which Calcutta's Slum Areas could be improved. In accordance with the decisions taken by the Conference, the problems were examined by experts and plans were prepared for bustee improvement. The first objective was the improvement of existing bustees by ensuring better lighting, sanitation, lay-out, water-supply and conservancy arrangements. To achieve this objective, a Governor's Act is now under preparation, the draft of which will be published for eliciting opinions in the course of the month.

The Act proposes to give Government power to notify an area as an area to be improved and to direct the owners to carry out specified improvements. It will also enable Government to carry out the improvements itself, if the owners are dilatory, or if speedy remedy is desirable. Should the improvements be effected by Government, or by any agency acting on Government's behalf, the costs will be recoverable from the owners, to such extent as Government considers reasonable. Provision will be made to make it possible for Government or a local body to contribute towards any scheme.

In anticipation of the passing of legislation upon these lines, the Corporation and the Improvement Trust have each been asked to select a typical bustee, and to draw up plans for its improvement on the lines of the proposed Act, by the clearance of adequate passages for access and conservancy, by construction of surface drains, and so on. The existence of these two prepared schemes will make it possible to start work as soon as the Bill becomes law. Improvements of this nature constitute only a short-term plan, intended to ensure better living conditions while large-scale permanent improvements of a more far-reaching nature are under examination.

The second objective is the rehousing of the city's slum dwellers and the clearance of slum areas, involving the eradication of insanitary and unhealthy dwelling places, and their replacement by scientifically designed and scientifically administered housing schemes, either within the city's limit or in the surrounding areas. In the course of the January Conference, the technical staffs of the Calcutta Corporation and of the Improvement Trust were asked to submit proposals for the rehousing of the bustee dwellers. These proposals have since been made. The Corporation's plans contemplate the housing

SLUM CLEARANCE

HOWRAH MUNICIPALITY'S MOVE

The new Chairman of the Howrah Municipality convened the week before last a Conference of the ten Wards and municipal officers to arrange for one week's concentrated drive for general clean-up of the whole town between May 13 and May 20. The programme includes cleaning of all slums, bustees, insanitary privies, cesspools, thorough clearing up of silt of all drains, cleaning of all the insanitary tanks and disinfecting of all insanitary places.

CORPORATION COMMERCIAL MUSEUM

TENTH ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION

AT the public meeting held on Sunday at the Corporation Commercial Museum in observance of the 10th Anniversary of the foundation of the Museum, the need for creating an organization which could again carry the message of Swadeshi to every home in Bengal was stressed. Mr. Kiron Shankar Roy presided.

The President observed that the need of reviving the Swadeshi movement at this moment might be pertinently questioned. But things were not always normal in a subject country. While in Europe, with the cessation of hostilities, prison gates were being flung open the vast Indian prison remained as it did during the war. Further difficulties, in addition to those existing during the war, were being added for the Indian people. Taking for instance the cloth problem, Mr. Roy held that the cloth problem with which the country was faced was the effect of a planned conspiracy as Bengal famine had been the result of a conspiracy. An artificial cloth famine had been created in the country for certain ulterior objectives.

Had Indians been a free nation they could have taken steps to protect their interests. They had, therefore, no other course open but to take to Swadeshi and persist in their determination not to use any foreign produce. They must learn to do away with the need of foreign luxuries and must be prepared to lead a life of austerity until freedom was achieved.

Explaining the situation that had brought about the necessity for starting the Swadeshi movement afresh Mr. Jnananjan Neogi stated that signs were evident that with the cessation of war India would be flooded with foreign goods.

An appeal to the womenfolk of the country to use all their power and influence in their domestic life in inducing their fathers, sons, husbands and brothers to purchase swadeshi goods in preference to others, was made at a ladies' meeting organised by the A. I. W. C. at the Calcutta Corporation Commercial Museum on the 11th May last.

of the bustee-dwellers in tenement houses within the city; the Trust proposes the construction of satellite towns on the city's perimeter, where there are good communications.

Government has now requested the Corporation to work out in detail plans for the rehousing of 10,000 bustee-dwellers in tenements and the Trust has been asked to prepare plans for a satellite town for 12,500 bustee-dwellers. The preparation and inception of these plans will provide valuable information regarding the difficulties likely to be met, and will give some indication of the cost which would be involved in the rehousing of all the city's slum-dwellers.

Side by side with the improvement of existing bustees and with the preparation of these two major schemes of rehousing, legislation will be drafted which will aim at preventing haphazard anti-social building, overcrowding and unhealthy living conditions. This legislation will take the shape of a Town and Country Planning Act, and of a Housing Act.

POSTWAR PLANNING

Plan For Greater London--I

Professor Abercrombie Outlines The Features

In August 1942, Professor Patrick Abercrombie, who was then completing the plan prepared jointly by Mr. J. H. Forshaw and himself for the County of London, was commissioned, on behalf of the Standing Conference on London Regional Planning, to prepare an Outline Plan for those parts of Greater London which lie outside the City and the jurisdiction of the London County Council.

The Report now available is the outcome of that commission, and represents the views of Professor Abercrombie as an independent consultant. Neither the Ministry of Town and Country Planning nor the other Government Departments concerned have yet completed their review of his recommendations or of the assumptions of policy on which they are based. The Local Authorities directly concerned with the Report have not yet had an opportunity of considering them. The Report has been communicated to the Standing Conference, under Mr. E. G. Culpin's chairmanship. It has thereafter been circulated to the local authorities in Greater London.

The Minister of Town and Country Planning is anxious that not only the Local Planning Authorities affected but also the public should have the fullest opportunity, before decisions are taken upon it, of examining and discussing Professor Abercrombie's Plan.

THE Plan deals with an area of 2,599 square miles, which extends outwards from the London County Council boundary for roughly 30 miles from the centre of London, and which in 1938 had a population of 6½ millions. The area includes the whole of the counties of Middlesex, Hertfordshire and Surrey and parts of Kent, Essex, Bedfordshire, Buckinghamshire and Berkshire. The total area of Greater London envisaged in the Plan, including the County of London and the City, amounts to about 2,717 square miles, with a population of about 10½ millions.

STRUCTURE OF THE PLAN

Broadly, the Plan is based on a division of the area into four concentric rings, of which:

(1) The Inner Urban Ring represents the fully urbanised built-up areas adjoining the London County Council area;

(2) the Suburban Ring represents the area beyond the Inner Urban Ring and approximately within 12 miles of Charing Cross, in which the excessive densities of the Inner Urban Ring have not yet been reached, but in which land has now been built up to the limit prescribed by tolerable conditions;

(3) the Green Belt Ring comprises much open country and includes numerous established centres of population; it extends for about five miles beyond the Suburban Ring;

(4) the Outer Country Ring includes the remainder of the Region and contains distinct urban communities situated in land otherwise open in character and mainly agricultural.

AIM OF THE PLAN

The aim of the Plan is to discourage the further growth of industry and population within the London Region, and to provide for their better distribution and grouping.

Other problems are arterial road improvements, the conservation of good agricultural land, and the preservation and extension of the green belt round London.

POPULATION TRENDS

In the period 1919-1939, while the population of the London County Council and City areas decreased by 501,962, there was an increase of 2,007,018 in the area of the Greater London Plan. The net increase for the Region was thus 1,505,086, a third of the total increase for England and Wales during the inter-war period. Since the natural increase was normal, this phenomenal growth is accounted for by migration into the Region from outside.

Two main occupational groups are represented in this movement: (1) Skilled and unskilled industrial workers from South Wales, the North and North-West, and (2) white-collar workers, clerks, assistants and scientific workers. The second group is increasing more rapidly than the first.

NEW TOWNS

The Report recommends that the aim should be to decentralise a total of 1,033,000 persons: 618,000 under the County of London Plan, and 415,000 under the present proposals. It notes that, in case the density allowed for in the County of London Plan should be modified from 136 persons per acre to 100, the number to be decentralised would be 1,232,750; and it makes at certain points alternative provision for such a modification.

The redistribution proposed within the Region entails three major movements. First, provision is made for the development of a few smaller sites which, though they are recognised as being unacceptable from a planning point of view by reason of their relative nearness to London, cannot be avoided, if immediate accommodation is to be found for overspill, in the interests of a short-term housing policy. The number for which provision is made on these nearer sites (described in the Report as "quasi-satellites") is 125,000—i.e., 120,000 from the County of London and 5,000

Anti-Cholera Drive Inaugurated By Mayor

Co-operation Between Corporation And Government Urged

“DEVITALIZATION of the people due to famine and its aftermath is one of the causes which has brought high death-rate and epidemic of cholera and other diseases in the city”, said Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, Mayor of Calcutta, while presiding over the inaugural meeting on the Anti-Cholera Drive organized by the Corporation held at the University Institute Hall on Sunday morning, the 13th May.

The Mayor stressed that friendly co-operation between the Government and the Corporation could only help in achieving substantial result in the drive.

CITIZENS ARE REQUESTED TO OBSERVE RULES OF HYGIENE

Referring to the urgency of keeping the city clean the Mayor said that the Corporation lorries had been very small in number and there had been restriction of petrol. Only recently they got 20 lorries from the Government and that made the situation better. The Corporation had already provided adequate number of dustbins in different parts of the city and they would educate the people to deposit the garbage inside the dustbins.

With regard to cleaning the footpaths Government should take drastic measures. As regards other remedial measures the people should change their habit and educate themselves. The citizens should observe the rules of hygiene.

Mr. Mukherjee said that the Corporation was not so much responsible as the residents themselves in the matter of the present cholera epidemic. The citizens should not purchase exposed and contaminated food-stuffs.

The Chief Executive Officer had engaged 300 men for cleaning bustees of Calcutta at least twice a week. He requested the Councillors as well as private residents to co-operate with the Corporation staff and see that they discharge their duties satisfactorily.

Referring to the closing of the Bagbazar Market by the Government of Bengal the Mayor said there should be a model market started by the Government if they really desired the improvement of the city.

CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

Mr. Sailepati Chatterji, Chief Executive Officer, said in his lecture that the Corporation had taken all possible steps in order to prevent the spread of the disease. This year 1,13,000 people were inoculated by the Corporation and the number was daily increasing. So far 251 officers of the Corporation were authorised for destroying exposed food-stuffs. It was gratifying, said he, that the number of cholera cases had dwindled.

Councillor Madan Mohan Barman said that shortage of filtered water, use of unfiltered water, etc., were the main causes of cholera.

Dr. M. U. Ahmad said that they had a lot more to do. There was cholera and there would be cholera in the city unless the condition of the city be improved.

Councillor Somnath Lahiri, Mr. J. Neogy and others also addressed the gathering. The Surgeon-General of the Government of Bengal was present at the meeting.

OTHER MEETINGS AND SHOWS

After the meeting two sets of processions with impressive models, pictures, and slogans on banners, along with band parties paraded through different streets and bustee areas of Calcutta.

Two other meetings were held in the afternoon. The meeting at Deshabandhu Park was presided over by Councillor Dr. Bhupendra Nath Bose. Mr. Bhut-nath Mookerjee, Mr. Brojendra Nath Bhadra and Mr. Sourin Sen Gupta addressed the gathering.

CALCUTTA MORTALITY

DECLINE IN CHOLERA DEATHS

There was a further decline in the incidence of cholera in Calcutta during the week ended May 12. Attacks and deaths were 232 and 77, respectively, against 302 and 128 in the previous week. Figures for the corresponding two weeks last year were 138 and 274 attacks and 100 and 98 deaths.

Recorded attacks and deaths from small-pox during the week ended May 12 were 53 and 45 against 74 and 56 the week before. Figures for the corresponding two weeks last year were 313 and 375 attacks and 267 and 320 deaths.

There were 28 deaths from malaria against 33 in the preceding week.

Recorded deaths of paupers totalled 127—a fall of 17 from the previous week's figure.

Deaths from all causes during the week numbered 769 against 849 the week before. Total mortality figures in the corresponding two weeks last year were 1,076 and 1,169.

The meeting at Hazra Park was presided over by Councillor Debabrata Mookerjee. Mr. Prohlad Chandra and Mr. B. D. Chatterjee addressed the gathering.

On Tuesday, the 15th May, a peripatetic show was again out in the streets of Calcutta.

DR. B. C. ROY

The appointment of a Survey Committee by the Government to enquire into the causes of the high incidence of cholera in different parts of the country, the reasons for sudden outbreak of the disease in certain places in certain years and also the food, drink, sanitation and other conditions of living of the people in the worst affected localities, was suggested by Dr. B. C. Roy, ex-Alderman, presiding over the Anti-cholera Drive meeting held at the Calcutta Corporation Commercial Museum on Wednesday, the 16th May.

CHOLERA IN CALCUTTA: REMEMBER THAT FLIES CARRY THE INFECTION ABOUT

Dr. Roy said that cholera was a preventible disease and that a long-term policy should be taken by the Government to check the incidence of the disease which had been taking away heavy toll of lives in the countryside and Calcutta from year to year. He believed that in places where cholera was more frequent, there had been certain factors which were responsible for the incidence of the disease and the elimination of the causes from the places would check the outbreak of the disease. He, therefore, suggested the appointment of a committee to make an extensive survey of these causes so as to enable the Government to embark upon a long-term policy for eradicating the disease.

So far as Calcutta was concerned the acute shortage in the supply of filtered water was one of the primary causes of the incidence of the disease in the city. He had information that in bustee areas a very large number of people had been using unfiltered water for drinking and other purposes owing to the prevailing shortage of filtered water. He emphasised that the Government and the Corporation should take up this question seriously and see that filtered water was supplied to the citizens and more particularly to the bustee-dwellers in adequate quantities. He also requested the Government to give the Corporation necessary financial help in this matter so that the latter might be able to remove the shortage of filtered water in the city at an early date.

PREVENTIVE ASPECTS

Concluding Dr. Roy appealed to the people to get themselves vaccinated as early as possible and

REGULATION OF WATER SUPPLY

The Government of Bengal have issued an order regulating the distribution, use and consumption of water in municipal areas in the province.

The order directs that no new connection from the main water supply to any house or land shall be made without the sanction of the Chief Engineer, Public Health, Bengal.

The order makes it obligatory on the part of any local authority, providing a supply of water under the decentralised storage system, to take necessary measures for the proper working of check-pipes in the street tanks, and to ensure the maintenance of constant minimum pressure in the main of its water works, which in no case should be increased. Those local authorities, who provide a supply of water under the centralized storage system, have been asked to install a meter for the purpose of measuring and recording the amount of water consumed in any house or land.

All street standposts, hydrants and taps shall be kept in perfect working order and shall at short intervals be inspected and any defect noticed in any of them shall immediately be attended to.

The order authorizes the Chief Engineer of Public Health to issue orders requiring any local authority to take such action as is deemed necessary within a specified time for the restoration of the supply of water in case of any breakdown of water-supply either due to defective machinery or other causes.

requested the authorities to set up adequate propaganda machinery for educating the ignorant mass about the preventive aspects of the disease.

Dr. Indu Bhushan Bose dwelt on the various aspects of cholera and said that debilitation made the people more vulnerable to the disease. He emphasised the need of close collaboration between the Government, the people and the medical men of the country for checking the outbreak of the disease in various parts of the country.

To expedite inoculation work in the slum areas, the Government of Bengal, it is understood, have decided to take the help of non-official relief organizations in the city. Arrangements are being made to entrust immediately the work in two bustees with a population of 50,000 to the Medical Relief Co-ordination Committee, of which Dr. B. C. Roy is Chairman.

—PLAN FOR GREATER LONDON—I

from Croydon. Secondly, additions are proposed to existing towns together with the establishment of eight new towns (or ten, if the density of 100 persons per acre were to be adopted for the County of London). Provision is made for decentralising 261,140 persons to existing towns within the Region. Most of the new satellite towns would have a maximum population of 60,000. These eight towns would accommodate the largest group of the decentralised population, namely, 383,250. Of the ten possible sites suggested three are in Hertfordshire, three in Essex, one in Kent, two in Surrey and one in Berkshire. A third aim is to decentralise other population to towns within a 50-mile radius of London, but outside the Region. Two totals for this decentralisation are proposed, namely, 163,750 and 268,500 according to whether a density standard of 136 or 100 persons is adopted for the County of London area. It is also suggested that 100,000 should be decentralised beyond the London influence.

BAGHBAZAR MARKET CLOSED

The Baghbazar Market was ordered last week to be temporarily closed due to its being in a filthy and insanitary condition.

An order issued on the Receiver of the market by the Assistant Director of Public Health, Presidency Circle, under the Epidemic Diseases Act, says that the market shall be closed for 15 days from May 10 or till improvements are carried out to his satisfaction.

The following improvements are suggested:—The floor of the market should be repaired and properly paved; the passages widened at least 6 ft.; all stalls raised at least by 2 ft. above the level of the passages; drains repaired and properly graded towards the main drain; arrangements made for adequate supply of filtered water for washing of the stalls, passages, fish and vegetables and flushing drains.

Persons should be prohibited from sleeping in the market, and cattle and dogs should not be allowed to enter it.

The market should be thoroughly washed and disinfected once a day.

CHOLERA IN CALCUTTA: AVOID TAKING FOOD LYING UNPROTECTED FROM FLIES

LETTER TO THE EDITORThe Bengal Theatre

TO THE EDITOR, "CALCUTTA MUNICIPAL GAZETTE"

SIR,—With reference to Mr. B. V. Roy's personal reminiscences of plays, playwrights and players of the Calcutta stage, I beg to add the following:—

There is a slight error as to the date of starting of Minerva Theatre: it was started in 1893 and not 1888 as stated, with Giris Ghosh as Manager and with Giris' Bengali translation of Macbeth as its first play. The Star Theatre was first started in Beadon Street in 1883 with Daksha-Yagna as its first play and Giris Ghosh as Manager. In 1888, it was purchased by Gopal Lal Seal, grandson of the multi-millionaire Motilal Seal of Kalutola, and named Emerald Theatre, under the management of Giris Ghosh. The Star Theatre was started in Cornwallis Street (Hatibagan junction) in 1888 with Amritlal Bose as Manager. The first play was Giris Ghosh's devotional drama Nashiram.

The Bengal Theatre (afterwards "Royal" Bengal) was started in 1873 by a host of young men belonging to aristocratic families of Calcutta, including Sarat Ghosh, daughter's son of Ashutosh Deb (commonly known as Chhatu Baboo; Mammatlal Deb—adopted son of Pramathanath Deb commonly known as Latoo Baboo, and younger brother of Chhatu Baboo; Nut Behari Banerjee—uncle of W. C. Bonnerjee, Barrister-at-Law and first President of the Indian National Congress; Preanath Bose, another grandson of Chhatu Baboo; Girindra Dutt of the Hatkhola Dutta family; Vihari Lal Mitra (afterwards Rai Bahadur) of the Bagbazar Madan Mohan Mitra family; Balaram Das of the Janbazar Marh family (to which belonged Rani Basmoni) and others. The Theatre had a humble start as it began with a stage in a tiled hut which was improved later with Vihari Lal Mitra's donation of Rs. 7,000. There was no play-wright among them and they approached Michael Madhusudan Dutt who promised to write plays on condition that female parts should be played by females and not males as hitherto. The authorities of the Theatre fell in with the idea but the difficulties they had to face were many. No females with education could be had, and they had to be taught the Bengali alphabet as well as acting. Unfortunately, Michael did not live to see the fruition of his labours, as he died on the 29th June, 1873, while the Theatre opened in December of that year with his drama Sarmistha as its first play, of which Michael had only seen some rehearsals. Other plays produced here were Asramati, Durgesh-Nandini, Mri-nalini, Sadhabar Ekadasi, Sati-ki-Kalankini, etc. A play based upon a sensational incident of the time was produced named Mohanter E-ki-Kaj (i.e., what a deed of the Mohunt's), concerning a charge of murder brought against one Nabin Chandra Banerjee of Baganda (District Hooghly) which was reported in the Weekly Reporter of 1875. The incident was this: Madhab Giri, Mohunt of Tarnakeswar took a fancy to Elokeshi, wife of Nabin, and had her abducted and brought to his place where he kept her confined. On learning this, Nabin followed her up, entered the Mohunt's home, killed his wife with a dao or chopper to preserve her chastity, and then surrendered to the Police. This incident reads like a page taken out of Roman history and is unique in Bengal. Nobin was tried by the District Judge of Hooghly and sentenced to death, but on reference to High Court the sentence was commuted to transportation for life. The play based on this incident brought grist to the mill of the Bengal Theatre. Another play which proved very successful was Raj Krishto Roy's Prahlad Charitra (mythological) to see which people came to Calcutta from such distant places as Dacca, Chittagong, Birbhum, Bhagalpur, etc. The next successful plays were Beharilal Chatterjee's Provas Milan, Nanda Biday, etc. It may be mentioned that in or about 1886, Raj Kristo Roy seeing the success of his play Prahlad Charitra, started the Bina Theatre in Meehanbazar Street with young boys playing female roles, but the Theatre had a short life.

Of the players, mention may be made of Hari Adhikari alias Hari Bostom, Sarat Ghosh, Beharilal Chatterjee, Mathuranath Chatterjee (whose songs in the role of Narad in Prahlad Charitra were very popular), Jogendra Ghatak, Kunja Bose etc. Of the females, mention may be made of Golapi alias Mrs. Sukumari Dutt, who was taught by Michael himself, as well as Pootu-rani whose melodious songs as Sri-Krishna in Nanda-Biday were much appreciated.

The Bengal Theatre fell on evil days towards the Nineties of the 19th Century, and it changed hands. Later, after its end in 1901, the stage was occupied by various theatres such as Aurora, National, Thespian Temple, Presidency Theatre, etc. At last in or about 1919 the pavilion was dismantled and the Benden Street Post Office was accommodated in the new building, and it is still there.—Yours etc.,

President of Scaldah Bar Assocn., etc.

Calcutta, 2nd May, 1945.

[On behalf of myself and my readers I thank Mr. Bonerjee for the informative letter above. I had been compelled to leave a hiatus in my first article on the Calcutta stage, as regards the Bengal Theatre and I am grateful to Mr. Bonerjee for his efforts to fill the gap. B. V. Roy]

SEDITION CHARGEAGAINST SUBHAS BOSE ADJOURNED

The case against Mr. Subhas Chandra Bose under the Defence of India Rules in connection with an alleged pre-judicial speech delivered by him at Mohamad Ali Park, on April 11, 1940, and also with the publication of an article entitled "The Day of Reckoning" in the issue of the Forward Bloc, an English Weekly, of which he was the editor, was again adjourned until August 6, 1945, by Mr. J. Ahmad, Additional Chief Presidency Magistrate, Northern Division Police Courts, last week.

On the case against Mr. Subhas Ch. Bose being called for hearing Mr. B. C. Sen, Public Prosecutor, submitted that he had got a letter from Mr. S. M. Basu, Solicitor to the Province of Bengal intimating that the suit pending in High Court appeared on the prospective list and was directed to go out of the list. Mr. Basu was taking steps to have the suit brought on the list for hearing and it would take at least 3 months before it could be heard. Mr. Sen prayed for an adjournment of the case against Mr. Subhas Bose till the disposal of the matter in the High Court.

ASSEMBLY ELECTORAL ROLLS FOR CALCUTTACorporation Asked To Finish The Work Within Six Months

Steps for the preparation of fresh electoral rolls of all the territorial constituencies of the Bengal Legislative Assembly and the Legislative Council in so far as they relate to Calcutta, it is gathered, are being taken as hurriedly as possible.

The reason for this hurry is stated to be Bengal Government's prescribing a time limit for the completion of the work, namely, within six months from May, 1945.

Apart from the difficulty of finding accommodation for the huge staff that would be required to do the work and also the question of availability of a suitable staff under the present conditions, the Corporation pointed out to the Government that this time the work was bound to increase in volume owing, particularly, to (a) increase in the population of the City since 1938-39, which was the qualifying year in respect of the City rolls, (b) the lowering of the educational qualification both for men and women, and (c) the introduction for the first time of the literacy qualification specially for women under para 6 of Part IV of the Sixth schedule to the Government of India Act. The Chief Executive Officer wrote to the Home Department stating that the programme was not likely to be workable and that he could not undertake to complete the work within the prescribed time in view of the difficulties pointed out as above. The Additional Secretary, Home Department, wrote back to the Corporation stating that Government did not want that the Chief Executive Officer should pledge himself to a particular date for completing the work.

"In the circumstances and having regard to the extreme urgency of the work, as communicated to me by the Additional Secretary, Home Department, in his letter, dated the 21st April, 1945, and as verbally represented to me by the Special Officer of the Home (Constitution and Elections)

Department," the C. E. O. writes in a note to the Corporation, "I have asked the Electoral Roll Officer to take up the work at once."

As a part of the work of the general revision of electoral rolls the Corporation in 1939 also undertook preparation of fresh Electoral Rolls of the Calcutta constituencies. On the last occasion the work was taken up in May, 1939. The rolls were published in draft on the 1st April, 1940 and then finally published on the 2nd December, 1940. The minimum time for the compilation of the rolls for Calcutta is a period of 16 months. The Reforms Commissioner Mr. R. N. Gilchrist, the C. E. O. stated in his note, recognised this fact, as would be evident from his report published in 1938 and his recommendations were generally accepted by Government.

DARIDRA BANDHAB BHANDARCHARITY SHOW IN AID OF T. B. SANATORIUM

The DeLuxe Pictures' new film "Path Bendhey Dilo" was released at the Uttara Cinema on May 9. This maiden show was given in aid of the proposed T. B. Sanatorium of the Daridra Bandhab Bhandar.

Mr. Sudhir Chandra Ray Chaudhuri, Secretary of the Bhandar, addressing the audience dwelt on the object for which the show was being held. He announced that upto Wednesday evening the amount received totalled Rs 40,555 and that the entire sale proceeds with the exception of Rs. 15 paid to the Corporation as license fee, the only expense that the Bhandar incurred in this connection, would be spent for the sanatorium. He thanked the Exhibitors Syndicate for giving the free use of Uttara Cinema and DeLuxe Pictures for lending the very first show of the film.

CALCUTTA NEWS & VIEWSALL-INDIA HINDU MAHASABHA

The Working Committee of the All-India Hindu Mahasabha which recently met in Calcutta, Dr. Shyama Prasad Mukherjee presiding, passed a resolution demanding complete independence for India.

The resolution stated that "Hindusthan freed from bondage and in co-operative partnership with the Allied nations will be the greatest stabilizing factor in Asia and will help to maintain world security essential for the advancement of humanity."

The Committee discussed the Sapru proposals and passed a resolution repudiating the "vicious principle of parity of representation between the Caste Hindus and Muslims in the constitution-making body, legislature and executive, as it was unjust, unfair and destructive of the fundamental principle of democracy and nationalism."

SOCIAL WORK COURSE AT UNIVERSITY

A Social Work course is to be made a permanent feature of the activities of Calcutta University.

This decision was taken by the Senate on the 12th May when on the recommendation of the Syndicate it agreed to institute a Diploma in Social Work (Labour Welfare).

Calcutta University is the only centre in India which for the first time started such a course for the training of labour welfare officers as an experimental measure over two years ago.

The University had also been approached by various industrial organizations outside Calcutta industrial area for accommodating their labour welfare officers.

It was not the intention of the University to throw this course open to everyone. Only those who were directly concerned with labour welfare work would be admitted to the course. Time had come when this should be placed on a permanent footing as a recognized activity of the University.

"PROBLEMS OF NATIONAL RECONSTRUCTION"

A plea for improvement of agriculture on scientific lines and parallel and rapid development of industries in this country was made by Mr. Amiya Nath Bose in course of a thought-provoking address on "Problems of National Reconstruction," at an Afternoon Party held in his honour at the Winter Garden, Grand Hotel, on the 12th May.

Regarding agriculture, Mr. Bose urged nationalisation of land and introduction of a uniform system of long-term tenancy of the actual tillers of the soil.

For industrial development Mr. Bose advocated the method of scientific socialism under which all the basic and key industries would be owned and controlled by the State and organised on a large scale near the sources of raw materials and the rest of the industries dispersed throughout the villages.

EPIDEMIC DISEASES ACTExtended To Howrah And Bally Municipalities

The Government of Bengal have extended the temporary regulations for the prevention of spread of cholera promulgated under Section (1) of Section 2 of the Epidemic Diseases Act, 1897 to the Howrah and Bally Municipalities also.

"Not only there must be a National Government but for the success of our economic plan it must also be a democratic and socialist government," he stressed.

"I think", he said, "that we must resist the entry of foreign capital in India because if it is allowed, it will fundamentally destroy our national economic development and make political freedom a mere fiction."

Finally, Mr. Bose told England that she must surrender political power in India if she wanted to ensure her commercial prosperity.

MILK FOR CHILDREN

A proposal for distribution of pure milk at concession rates to children under two years in Calcutta is now under consideration by the Bengal Government.

The children, the total number of whom has been calculated at 20,000 will be given each one 'pow' of milk per day at a cost of one anna six pies which is half the prevailing market price. Distribution will be made twice daily—in the morning and evening—through 100 centres opened at Corporation schools, dispensaries, maternity homes, milk kitchens and markets.

The Calcutta rationing authorities have agreed to undertake the work of registration of infants and of issuing ration cards to them.

According to ration cards registered on March 11, 1945, the number of infants under two years in the Calcutta municipal area totals 15,841. The figure is regarded to be too low to be accurate and the actual number is expected to be three or four times that. The scheme has, however, been based on the total number of 20,000.

The daily supply required for 20,000 infants at the rate of one 'pow' per head, will amount to 125 mds. costing about Rs. 3,750. Fifty per cent. of the cost will be realized from ration card-holders, the rest being borne by the Government. The supply will be arranged by the Government and the distribution by the Corporation with the help of its employees, such as primary school teachers, vaccinators and compounders.

The milk to be distributed from 100 centres will be subjected to chemical and bacteriological tests every day at the central municipal laboratory.

CORPORATION ASSESSMENT CASERule Issued By High Court

Before Mr. Justice Ormond of the Calcutta High Court, an application was moved last week for the petitioner, Asgur Ally for a rule on the Corporation of Calcutta, Prafulla Chandra Chowdhury and Hem Chandra Gupta, stated to be auditors to the Corporation, to show cause inter alia why the Corporation should not assess and rate the public streets and squares vested in it to consolidated rate and why it should not realise the current and all arrears of the consolidated rates for all spaces in the public streets and squares in the occupation of its respective tenants and for all buildings therein erected respectively by the tenants, and why the auditors to the Corporation should not charge against all persons accounting all arrears of consolidated rate in either or both the shares payable by the tenants of the Corporation in respect of all spaces and buildings respectively occupied and erected by the tenants in the public streets and squares and why they should not certify the same.

His lordship issued a rule, making it returnable fortnight from date.

INDIA TO STAND ON HER OWN FEET

Alderman Siddiqi's Impressions

The view that India should stand on her own feet and forget that others were likely to come to her help in the economic sphere was expressed by Alderman A. R. Siddiqi, a member of the Indian Delegation to the recent International Business Conferences at Rye, replying to an address of welcome given by the President and the Committee of the Indian Chamber of Commerce at the Chamber's premises on the 7th May.

Mr. Siddiqi added: "Chances are that Mr. Churchill will dominate the decisions at Washington and we shall remain where we are, unless we decide to fight our own battles on economic field without looking to America, Russia or China. If the Americans find that they are not likely to be profited by any undertaking in India they are not going to extend their helping hands towards us. In fact, it would be foolish on our part to expect anything from them. The manner in which they deal with the dollar-sterling-rupee exchange proves clearly that America has not yet developed an international mind even financially."

Referring to India's position among the other small nations, Mr. Siddiqi said: "We should realise that small as well as big nations are not prepared to show us justice. We have to hammer them into a better frame of mind and unless we are prepared to do it I doubt that all the sacrifices India had undergone during this War will not bring her even the minimum benefit that she may reasonably expect."

After criticising the discriminatory treatment meted out to India, Mr. Siddiqi urged his countrymen to unite and crush this discrimination. "Thus alone," he said, "shall we be able to find food for our unemployment, and we shall then be able to erect a structure of economy that will lead us out of our present misery into a golden field of prospect and prosperity in future."

GREATER CALCUTTA MUNICIPALITY

We have received the report of the Bengal Administration Enquiry Committee which was published during the last week. The opinion of the Committee regarding the Local Self-Government institutions in the province is being reproduced elsewhere in this issue.

The Committee together with other recommendations also stresses that the Municipalities comprised in the Industrial area around Calcutta should be amalgamated into groups and Garden Reach South Suburban and Tollygunge Municipalities should be incorporated within the Calcutta Corporation or in the alternative, the three municipalities should be amalgamated. It is further recommended that all municipalities should have an Executive Officer, appointed by the Municipality in consultation with the Public Service Commission, half his salary being paid by the Municipality and half by Government and that a small Inspectorate of Local Bodies should be established under the new Ministry of Local Self-Government. All Commissioners should be elected and the system of nomination should be abolished. Industrial and minority constituencies may be created where needed. Local officers should have the right to attend meetings of the Municipality but they would have no right to vote.

Analysing the various recommendations contained in the report, the urge for introduction of a greater amount of centralization and official control stands uppermost. The history of Local Self-Government in the province has till this day been the history of a struggle between Government and Local Self-Government. This report, in that light, cannot be considered to have added any progressive element to the ideals of Local Self-Government.

IMPROVEMENT OF CITY MARKETS

The Bengal Government has so far declared thirteen private markets "unsanitary and unhygienic," and the owners of the markets have already been served with notices under the Epidemic Diseases Act to carry out within a week such improvements as repair of markets, rearrangement of stalls, widening of passages, arrangements for adequate supply of filtered water and provision for sanitary latrines.

Following this, Dr. M. U. Ahmad, Health Officer of the Corporation, has informed all the owners of the private markets that he is not going to recommend renewal of license under Section 896 (2) for any private market unless such markets conform to the undermentioned conditions.

The conditions are as follows:—

1. All passages to be of at least 12 feet width and must always be kept free from encroachments and kept open to sky.

2. All surface drains to be kept in proper state of repair and free from any encroachments which in the opinion of Health Officer or District Health Officer or any person authorised by them may interfere with proper cleansing of them.

2. Adequate arrangements for supply of safe water for proper cleansing and washing of all stalls and passages to the satisfaction of Health Officer or District Health Officer.

4. "Food" to be exposed or displayed for sale only for stalls raised at least by 2 feet from the floor level.

5. At least 6 feet interspace is to be provided in between any 2 stalls or rows of stalls.

6. Adequate arrangements of drinking water supply at convenient place or places within the market to the satisfaction of Health Officer or District Health Officer.

7. Adequate number of privies and urinals separate for male and female to be provided to the satisfaction of Health Officer or District Health Officer.

8. Privies and urinals to be always provided with proper means of flushing to the satisfaction of Health Officer or District Health Officer or any person authorized by them.

9. All privies and urinals to be maintained in proper condition so that no nuisance is created.

10. No food to be exposed or displayed for sale within 15 feet of any privy and urinal.

11. Adequate arrangement for bathing and washing to be provided within the market to the satisfaction of Health Officer or District Health Officer.

12. Arrangements for storing market refuse in a proper covered, enclosed and raised platform at a convenient place within the market with proper passage for refuse to be made to the satisfaction of Health Officer or District Health Officer.

13. Milk to be exposed or displayed for sale in a separate shed on stalls as per (4). Such a shed to be detached from any other shed and must be at least 50 feet apart from the place where fish is exposed or displayed for sale.

14. Each fish stall to be provided with adequate arrangements for constant supply of safe water to the satisfaction of Health Officer or District Health Officer.

There are altogether 43 private markets in the city of which 13 have, as already stated, been served with notices under the Epidemic Diseases Act by the Bengal Government to carry out certain improvements within a week. One of these markets opened some days ago after necessary improvements had been effected in accordance with the Government order.

SAFETY FIRST ASSOCIATION

The necessity of educating the public in safety ideas in order to reduce the number of accident was emphasized at the annual meeting of the Safety First Association of India (Bengal Branch) in Calcutta.

The Chairman, Dr. A. C. Ukil, in presenting the Association's annual report, said that although it was difficult to get accurate statistics and a proper classification of the accidents in this country, the figures collected by them indicated, year after year, a rising trend.

The total number of industrial accidents in India which was 20,787 in 1934 rose to 54,174 in 1942.

The death-rate per motor car and the general death-rate by accidents in India was considered to be high compared with other countries.

The enormous increase in the number of hand-carts in the city of Calcutta (about 11,000),—the slow speed, unwieldy size and the uneducated drivers—was described to be a definite menace to road users.

PREVENTION OF VENEREAL DISEASES

The Bengal Government have promulgated with immediate effect throughout the province the following Rules under the Public Health (Emergency Provisions) Ordinance, 1944 for the prevention of the spread of venereal diseases, viz., syphilis, gonorrhoea and soft chancre :—

No person shall print, publish, circulate or otherwise distribute or cause to be printed, published, circulated or otherwise distributed whether for the purpose of sale or free of charge, any notice, advertisement, hand bill or document whatever, other than a bona fide medical treatise, if such notice, advertisement, hand bill or document contains any reference to the prevention, cure or relief of any venereal disease or any system or sequela of any venereal disease, unless such notice, advertisement, hand bill or document either has been issued by or under the orders of the Provincial Government or has previously been submitted to the Government and approved by it by an order in writing.

No person, other than the Provincial Government, shall in any way advertise any place as a place at which any venereal disease or any symptom or sequela of any venereal disease is or can be treated, unless such person has applied for and received the prior approval in writing of the Provincial Government in this behalf.

Any contravention of these rules will be punishable with imprisonment which may extend to three months, or with fine, or with both.

TOWN PLANNING FOR CUTTACK

At the instance of the Government of Orissa, the Cuttack Municipal Board, it is understood, have prepared a detailed scheme of town planning for the Cuttack Town costing about Rs. 1,32,000, on a five-year plan of the Post-war Reconstruction Scheme.

The Board, in this connection, have considered all the ideas of improvement of the town on modern lines as far as possible during the post-war period of five years, and have moved the Government to come forward and help the Municipality. The Board have themselves undertaken their due share so far the funds of the Municipality permit them.

The Board taking the public health and sanitation as their primary concern have resolved to spend Rs. 29,40,000.

For development of roads the Board has resolved to spend Rs. 79,50,000.

The Board have laid their due emphasis on the social welfare work like establishing 200 Primary and Middle English Schools for 12,000 children of the town, constructing six parks with gymnasiums and swimming tanks, etc.

CALCUTTA'S BUS TRAFFIC

To relieve congestion in the city's transport system, 14 new Lease-Lend buses have been put on the road, bringing the total number of passenger buses to 356. About 50 more Lease-Lend chassis have also been released to owners of city buses and these will be plying as soon as their bodies have been built.

The Lease-Lend buses and chassis are in replacement of the 105 vehicles previously requisitioned by the authorities for A. R. P. and other civil defence services.

The queue system for bus traffic in Calcutta has been introduced at the crossing of Chowringhee Road and Corporation Street for buses plying on the Kalighat-Shambazar section.

A wooden barrier has been erected and instructions are given verbally as well as by means of loud-speakers at peak periods to the public as to what they should do.

There are about 70 buses plying on the route and if the experiment is successful, it will be extended to other important stops.

CITIZENSHIP COLLEGE IN INDIA

Mr. Dinkar Sakrikar, General Secretary of the All-India Students' Congress, has issued the following statement:—

The All-India Students' Congress proposes to organize a Citizenship College in the month of May to provide a course of supplementary education for students. The curriculum will include subjects of international, national economic, social and cultural importance. Classes on Organisation and Leadership, Journalism, Law and Music will also be conducted. Spinning too will be a regular feature, though not compulsory.

Prof. N. G. Ranga, Prof. Humayun Kabir, Mr. Bharatan Kumarappa, Mr. and Mrs. Aryanayakam, Mr. B. G. Kher, Mr. K. Rama Rao, Srimathi Kamaladevi Chattopadhyaya, Mr. Zakir Hussein and Mr. G. Ramachandran, among others, have agreed to lead the discussions in their special subjects.

This is really a praiseworthy endeavour. We wish it a success.

BERLIN'S MUNICIPAL ADMINISTRATION

Berlin Radio broadcast on Sunday, the 20th May, an announcement by Arthur Werner, the newly-appointed Lord Mayor of Berlin, saying: "With the consent of the Red Army Military Command, Berlin's municipal administration has been newly formed. I myself have taken over the functions of Lord Mayor."

"I call on Berlin's population to actively assist the new Municipal administration in restoring the normal life of the city and fulfilling the obligation towards the Red Army Military Command."

The Radio also announced that Berlin's underground trains were running again.

AMERICA'S HOUSING DIFFICULTIES

Since 1943 housing problems have been serious in some centres of war activity in the United States of America, it is understood here. Obviously, the materials and the labour which would be required to solve these problems are also needed in the war industries. In the defence cities many homes which used to house one family now house two or three. Many families are living crowded in trailer camps without sewage connections or running water with no place to put the children to bed before the adults retire, and no possibility for quiet rest for any member of the family until the entire camp has settled down for the night. Families are still living in dwellings which should according to any stand-

ALL-INDIA RABINDRANATH MEMORIAL FUND

CALCUTTA'S DUTY TOWARDS THE POET

CALCUTTA claims Rabindranath Tagore in a special way, and well she may do so. It was here in this city he woke up to his poetic Self and Destiny. Here came to him the "Great Awakening"—the fountain in him was unloosed. A new day dawned for Calcutta sixty-two years ago, where the Sudder Street ends, and the trees in the garden on Free School Street are visible.

CALCUTTA had since spoken in golden verses, in music and drama, in vibrant notes of a new faith, in agonized accents, and finally in the new speech of a New Humanity, unbound and chainless.

CALCUTTA must, therefore, have something tangible for the world to know its pride in being the city of Rabindranath Tagore. He prayed for it, he blessed it.

CALCUTTA observed "Rabindra Fortnight" that ended on May 15 last—with due solemnity. But mere observance of the Fortnight does not mean that the citizens have fulfilled their duty towards the Poet. Till adequate funds for perpetuating his memory are collected, the All-India Rabindranath Memorial Committee Fund will remain open to receive contributions, however small.

All contributions will be thankfully received at the office of All-India Rabindranath Memorial Committee, 6/3, Dwarkanath Tagore Lane, or 1, Burman Street, Calcutta, between 10 a.m. and 7 p.m.

ards have been demolished before the defence programme began. In some of the shipbuilding, air craft and munitions centres men are paying fantastic rents for "hot" beds which are used three shifts in the day.

BOMBED CITIES OF JAPAN

Japan will retain Tokyo as her capital but all non-essential persons will be removed from the capital, it is understood from the Tokyo Radio broadcast. More than 5,000 semi-underground homes have been built in Tokyo, the Japanese Domei News Agency has said in one of its broadcasts. These homes are comfortable and well-equipped and presumably will be used largely by Government personnel.

About a quarter of Nagoya, Japan's third largest city and aircraft manufacturing centre, is now a burnt-out ruin as a result of Allied raids, writes Reuter's special correspondent from Guam.

Thirty-three specific industrial and military targets were damaged or destroyed in 200 bomber raids last week.

Approximately 11 square miles of the crowded city are gutted by fire. Nagoya castle and many buildings in the castle grounds are among the buildings shown damaged in pilots' photographs on the city. Just under 60 square miles of industrialized urban areas on six leading Japanese cities have been incinerated.

The Week In The Corporation

STANDING COMMITTEES FORMED

The different Standing Committees of the Corporation for the year 1945-46 were formed at the Corporation meeting held on Wednesday, the 23rd May. The personnel of the Committees will be found in the supplement issued along with this issue of the Gazette.

MORE CONSERVANCY LORRIES

The Mayor, Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, while announcing the Bengal Government's loan of 100 lorries to the Corporation, expressed his expectation that the lorries would be received by the Corporation by Saturday next and be put to conservancy service from the next week. As a result of the addition of these 100 lorries, the Mayor hoped, the streets of the city and the silt from drains in Cossipore and Manicktolla would be properly removed.

The Mayor requested the Councillors to see that garbage was removed from each Ward at least twice in the course of a day, so also silt from the surface drains. If this was not done, the respective Councillors should make enquiries and report the matter to the Chief Engineer so that proper steps could at once be taken.

In reply to an enquiry, if there were enough drivers to man the additional lorries, the Mayor said that the Chief Executive Officer would look into the matter.

Councillor Hirendra Kumar Ganguli desired to know if the entire strength of the conservancy staff in the added areas was sufficient to remove the silt from the drains in those areas.

The Chief Executive Officer while admitting that the strength of the staff was insufficient for the work, pointed out that the question of removal of silt was aggravated by the existence of the salt lakes on the other side of the areas. The Government had in their directive asked the Corporation to undertake the work but had provided no funds for the same which would amount to over two lakhs of rupees. The Government had held that it was a liability of the Corporation.

RABINDRANATH TAGORE

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION AT RISHRA

The Boys' Library, Gymnasium and the 'Sahid Asram' of Rishra (Dist. Hooghly) celebrated the 85th birthday of Poet Rabindranath on the 20th May at the "Mango-grove" of the Asram. Mr. Narendranath Sen Gupta of the Calcutta Municipal Gazette Department presided. Selected poems of the Poet were recited, songs sung and papers read by the members of the Library and the Gymnasium.

The President said that although Rabindranath's greatness was manifested in all spheres of life, he would on the occasion discuss about Rabindranath as the great patriot. He mentioned the manifold activities of the Poet in this connection—the part he played in the Anti-Partition days of the Swadeshi movement of 1905; his renunciation of Knighthood as a protest against the Jalinwallabag atrocities in 1919 recorded in his ever memorable letter to the then Viceroy.

[The British Military authorities are transferring temporarily to Calcutta Corporation 100 lorries for conservancy and other services in the city, pending the purchase of 160 lorries, an order for 70 of which has already been placed with the Government, according to a report published in the Statesman of the 22nd May.

The report further stated that twenty lorries were lent recently to the Corporation by the American military authorities for conservancy service in the city's congested areas in the fight against the cholera epidemic.]

CONDOLENCE

The Corporation accepted a resolution condoling the death of Prof. Panchugopal Bhattacharjee, a victim of the Manirampur railway accident which happened on Monday night, the 21st May.

Referring to Prof. Bhattacharjee, the Mayor said that he was a very sincere and staunch worker of Congress. After doing strenuous work in connection with the Matriculation examination he was going to Deoghar for some rest but unfortunately God ordained otherwise. The deceased was very popular. He had a keen sense of duty and he was respected and admired for his devotion to the ideals of the Congress. On account of his amiable nature he was liked by all who came in contact with him.

Prof. Bhattacharjee, it may be recalled, was for sometime an Associate Member of the Primary Education Standing Committee and the District Committee of the Corporation.

RECEPTION TO MAYOR

Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, Mayor of Calcutta, and Mr. Saila Kumar Mukherjee, Chairman, Howrah Municipality were given a reception by Jamini Bhushan Austanga Ayurveda College and Hospital at their premises at 170, Raja Dinendra Street on the 19th May last under the chairmanship of Mr. Justice C. C. Biswas.

Addresses of welcome were presented to the Mayor and the Chairman, Howrah Municipality, and read out by Dr. Boto Kristo Roy on behalf of the President and members of the Executive Body of the Ayurveda College and Hospital.

The Mayor in course of his speech said that he had full faith in this branch of medical science, and observed that he would be successful in discharging his duties and the great responsibility laid upon him as the chief citizen of Calcutta provided he could get full co-operation from the public.

Mr. Saila Kumar Mukherjee assured to remove mal-administration from within the Howrah Municipality and to better the sanitary condition of Howrah if the sympathy and co-operation of the citizens were available.

Mr. Justice Biswas, Pandit Ashoke Nath Shastri, Messrs. Hemendra Prasad Ghosh and B. K. Biswas also spoke eulogizing the Mayor and the Howrah Municipality Chairman.

The Mayor, who is a member of the Shambazar Tennis Club was entertained at a tea party by the members of the Club on Sunday, the 20th May.

After an address of welcome from the Hony. Secretary Mr. A. K. Mitter, the President of the Club Mr. J. K. Mitter, who presided over the function, offered hearty congratulations to the Mayor who gave a suitable reply.

Local Self-Governing Bodies In Bengal

Administration Enquiry Committee's Report

The Report of the Bengal Administration Enquiry Committee, 1944-45, is in our hands. In December last the Governor of Bengal appointed a Committee, to be known as the Bengal Administration Enquiry Committee, whose work would be to assess and report whether the existing administrative machine was adequate in structure, extent and quality and also to recommend what improvements should be made for efficient discharge of work. The Committee, whose Chairman was Sir Archibald Rowlands, K.C.B., M.B.E., consisted of four members and one associate member.

The Committee devoted considerable attention to the structure of the Government machine both at Headquarters and in the Districts but did not go into the detailed organisation of the individual departments. The Committee visited four districts and inspected both the Government Establishments and the Local Bodies.

The Committee was required by terms of reference to consider how Local Self-Governing Institutions could best be used as an efficient adjunct to administration. Herein below is given the report submitted by the Committee after examination of each type of Local Body in turn according to the terms of reference:—

QUALITY OF ADMINISTRATION IN THE MUNICIPALITIES OF BENGAL

THOUGH the quality of administration in Bengal's 119 Municipalities is said to vary greatly, there is agreement that the general standard is depressingly low. The reasons are as follows:—

Section 8 (34) of Act XV of 1932 defines a Municipality as "any place in which this Act or any part thereof is in force." Section 6 (1) (i) directs that the Act shall not be applied to towns of less than 3,000 inhabitants, resident in an average density of 1,000 to the square mile. It is suggested that the leniency of these conditions has led to the establishment of any petty Municipalities with resources so inadequate that, from the time of their creation, they have had to struggle to balance their daily accounts, and have found it impossible to carry out any scheme of major improvement, or to provide those amenities which urban dwellers may reasonably expect.

SIZE OF MUNICIPALITIES

We agree that there is no virtue in the creation of a Municipality, with its expensive machinery of administration and its formidable overhead charges, if such Municipality can do little more than pay its staff, and if its inhabitants get no greater benefits than they would in a well-run Union Board. We have examined the list of Municipalities, and we noted that there are many which have a population of under 20,000. Three, indeed, are shown as having a population of less than three thousand (Birnagar, Nalchiti and Old Malda), while others, though they reach the three thousand mark, do not fulfil the condition regarding density—Chandrakona, Khirpai and North Dum Dum.

We, therefore, recommend that the record of every Municipality with a population of under 20,000 be examined, to see whether there is any justification for its continued existence, or whether it could, to the advantage of the local people, be amalgamated with some neighbouring body. Powers to withdraw the Act from any area, or to unite two or more areas, already exist (section 8 of Act XV of 1932), and it is in the public interest that these powers should be used, to weed out those Municipalities which are ineffective, and to amalgamate those which, united, may be expected to provide their inhabitants with the services normally associated with the word "municipal".

In no area does amalgamation, as distinct from abolition, appear more calculated to improve administration than in the industrial zone around Calcutta. It is true that on both sides of the Hooghly there exist Municipalities which are splendidly run, but it is also true that some of the Province's most impotent bodies lie within the industrial area; bodies with little record of public achievement, with no hospitals or amenities, and so bankrupt of resources that they are incapable of improving the distressing conditions in which most of their inhabitants live. Ribbon building, encroachments and contempt of local authority are inevitable when local authority is unable to provide efficient services or to enforce its own laws.

We realise that if the riparian Municipalities are to be consolidated into groups, the richer ones will have to share their resources with those which are poorer; but if the area is to be properly developed, the problem must be considered as a whole, and parochial interests must be subordinated to the general good. The Act admittedly provides (section 87) for the formation of Joint Committees for the resolution of joint problems, but it does not appear to us that such co-operation has been attempted, or that the Municipalities have combined for the provision of hospitals or similar services. The First

Aid Posts and the Emergency Hospitals, the relief centres and the excellent Fire Service, are all War's creation, and it would be a tragedy if, through lack of resources and lack of a common policy, corresponding benefits were to disappear with the Peace.

AMALGAMATION OF SMALL MUNICIPALITIES.

We, therefore, recommend that the Municipalities in the industrial area be amalgamated into groups which will be sufficiently influential and resourceful to ensure a high and uniform standard of municipal services on both banks of the Hooghly. We believe that such amalgamation would result in increased efficiency, and in economy.

South of Calcutta lie three suburban Municipalities, some of which are already dependent upon the City for a portion of their amenities. If there is to be any planned development of Calcutta, and if the crowded citizens are to be encouraged to live in the suburbs, it appears to us most desirable that these three Municipalities should be amalgamated with the Calcutta Corporation, and that the very extensive rural areas within their boundaries should be developed as residential sites, with the modern amenities which only a great city can provide. It has been written that Calcutta is one of the few big cities in the modern world to record no outward movement to the suburban areas, and it is suggested that the explanation is to be found in the bad communications and unhealthy environment in the areas around the city. As a result, the city's centre becomes more congested, whilst around its borders has grown up a belt of slums, effectively discouraging the citizens from making their homes in the countryside beyond.

It has been objected that any increase in the area to be controlled by the Corporation would be unwise: that the Corporation is big enough already; and that its record of administration inspires no confidence. We have no desire to enter into controversy; we are concerned only with suggesting improvements; and it is our belief that no great city can develop satisfactorily if it is hedged in by malarious villages, and by local bodies which have not the resources to undertake substantial schemes of development.

If this recommendation is not accepted, we would urge that the southern Municipalities should consider the advisability of uniting amongst themselves.

LACK OF FUNDS

We have been told that genuine poverty is at the root of many Municipalities' misfortunes, which confirms us in our belief that municipal status has been granted too readily. If there is little or no taxable capacity, the area must be developed before the tax-gatherer can profitably be sent on his rounds; but if there is taxable capacity, which is not being taxed, then clearly the local administrators are responsible. The relationship between taxation and the benefits which the taxing authority can confer is not always recognised: while those who rely upon the votes of the people may hesitate to enforce the collection of rates and taxes. The voter, conscious of his relative immunity, pays his dues sparingly or not at all, yet is pained to observe that his drains go uncleaned, and that one by one the street lights are extinguished. In the "Resolution on the Working of Municipalities, 1940-41", published in February, 1943, it is written—

"The rate-payers too must bear their share of responsibility for the present state of affairs, as they have generally shown very little civic sense and little realisation of the fact that public amenities cannot be had unless they are paid for."

Amongst the suggestions offered to us for overcoming this reluctance to tax and to pay taxes is one, originating with two Municipal Chairmen, that Government should take over the work of the tax-collector, thereby improving collections, and sparing Municipal Commissioners from odium. Although we appreciate the embarrassment which attaches to the imposition of a tax upon a friend, and, even more, to its subsequent forcible realisation, and although we are conscious of the fact that a vigorous Vice-Chairman may jeopardise all chances of his own and his colleagues' re-election, we consider that the realisation of municipal taxes by a Government agency would be a very retrograde step. It is essential that the responsibility for the imposition of the taxes and for their collection should lie with the elected Commissioners, and any attempt to divest them of this responsibility be strenuously resisted. We agree, however, that the machinery for the collection of taxes must be improved, and we accordingly recommend that each Municipality should have its Executive Officer.

THE EXECUTIVE OFFICER

This Executive Officer should have powers similar to those exercised by the Executive Officers in Madras, who are governed by the Madras District Municipalities Act (Act V of 1920). He will be appointed by the Municipality, in consultation with the Public Service Commission, and half his salary be paid by his employer, and half by Government, salary varying with the class of Municipality. He will be removable only after the passing of a resolution supported by two-thirds of the Municipal Commissioners, confirmed by Government. We believe that the existence of such an officer in every municipality will greatly improve collections, and will ensure that, even when the Chairman is absent or otherwise engaged, Municipal affairs will continue to run smoothly.

We have given anxious consideration to a suggestion that these officers should form part of a "Municipal Service", appointed and paid for by Government, and transferable when occasion arises. The suggestion has obvious merits; it would ensure independence of views and it would provide for the exchange of officers from one Municipality to another if the relationships between a Municipality and its officer become unhappy. Nevertheless, the majority view of the Committee is that the Executive Officer should be a municipal servant, rather than a member of a provincial service; and it will be for the Inspectorate of Local Bodies to watch out for friction, and to remove the cause before the breach is too great. We would, however, advise that qualifications for candidature (which we distinguish clearly from those considerations which influence selection) should be laid down in detail, on a provincial basis.

POST-WAR PLANNING

Plan For Greater London—II

EFFECTS OF DECENTRALISATION

Inner Urban Ring: The maximum net residential densities proposed are 100 and 75 persons per acre for different parts of this zone. It is from this Ring that the greatest decentralisation from areas covered by the Report is proposed.

Suburban Ring: A general net residential density of 50 persons per acre is proposed as a maximum. The only increase to be allowed is the building up of vacant frontages.

Green Belt Ring: This is to provide primarily for the recreation of Londoners and to prevent further suburban growth; therefore only small increases to existing towns are to be allowed.

Outer Country Ring: This will be the principal reception area for the decentralised population. Here, the Report proposes, its new satellite towns should be located. But it contemplates that the agricultural (and not the recreational) background will predominate.

PRE-WAR INDUSTRIES

In the inner area (i.e., County of London), industry falls broadly into three groups:

(1) The heavy industries, mostly located in big units along the Thames water-front and adjoining the canals and railway junctions. These are concerned with food manufacture and processing, heavy chemicals, heavy engineering and public utility plants.

(2) A wide variety of small-scale light industry and workshops intermixed with occasional large factories and with congested working-class housing, located in the East End boroughs. These are concerned mainly with clothing, light engineering, metal work, furniture manufacture, light chemicals, printing and stationery. This group of industries has spread westwards into Islington and St. Pancras, and there has also been a spread of the clothing industry into Westminster and St. Marylebone.

(3) An area of more modern industry associated with the motor and electrical trades and the preparation of foodstuffs, and located in medium to large factories in the boroughs west of London.

Board of Trade returns for 1932-1938 show that nearly half the total number of factories (employing 25 persons and more) opened in the country during that period were located in the Greater London Region. Figures of factory changes within the Region itself for the same period indicate that a majority of the new factories opened were located outside the County of London, and that far more factories were closed within the County than in the surrounding Region.

Approximately 80 per cent. of Greater London's factory growth between the wars is accounted for by the decentralisation of industry from congested sites in Inner London. The principal labour pool has remained on the east and south-east sides of London, giving rise to "an excessive daily journey to work."

The Report recommends that a detailed survey should be made of all evacuated industries and of war-time concerns which have started up in the Greater London Region, with a view to determining their most suitable location. In a number of cases, the Report suggests, it is essential to remove war-time factory buildings.

WAR-DAMAGE AND EVACUATION

Industrial damage has been fairly severe in some of the congested London boroughs, especially among factories in the 100-300 employee group. Every firm that refrains from returning to London, every occupier who moves out of London in preference to patching up old dilapidated premises will ease the burden of London's reconstruction. The decentralisation of business firms is also very desirable, and, as far as practicable, firms which have moved out to the suburbs or the provinces should be encouraged to remain there.

CHOLERA IN CALCUTTA : AVOID USE OF UNFILTERED WATER

Calcutta's Health Problems

Threat Of A Serious Outbreak Of Malaria

EPIDEMIC in Calcutta seems to be deep-rooted. After small-pox comes cholera, and cholera, it is apprehended, may be followed suit by malaria. The problems of city health have been found to be many and they cannot be easily and rapidly remedied. Since the promulgation of the Epidemic Diseases Act as a precautionary measure against cholera, insanitary condition of the private markets in the city, sale of unwholesome meat, adulteration of milk, etc., etc., are being daily revealed by the authorities, and suitable measures are being taken.

ANTI-CHOLERA DRIVE BY THE CORPORATION

In connection with the closing function of the anti-cholera drive conducted by the Corporation of Calcutta, a public meeting was held on the 19th May at Hazra Park. Councillor Dr. Sudhir Kumar Basu presided.

Mr. A. C. Roy Chowdhury, Assistant Director of Public Health, Bengal, said that the Government had taken all necessary measures in co-operation with the Calcutta Corporation. He hoped that the public would also rise up to the occasion and take special care in taking pure foodstuffs. He also asked them to get themselves inoculated.

Councillor Dr. Basu in the course of his speech warned the public against taking unfiltered water, rotten fish, fruits and other foodstuffs which were the sources of this disease. He appealed to the citizens to lend their wholehearted co-operation in making the anti-cholera drive launched by the Corporation a success.

In the morning over 100 squads went round the city for mass inoculation work in bustee areas, market places and neighbouring houses and about 15,000 persons were inoculated.

During a drive launched on Monday, the 21st May, against sale of unwholesome foodstuffs in the city under the Epidemic Diseases Act, three employees of the Corporation were injured in a clash with men of a sweetmeat shop in Jorasanko area. Some quantity of adulterated milk is alleged to have been found in the shop. The owner of the shop and four assistants were arrested.

INSANITARY PRIVATE MARKETS

Since the temporary closing of the Baghbazar market, seven other private markets in Calcutta have

FIFTEEN CASES : SAYS MR. AMERY

Mr. L. S. Amery, replying to Mr. Bellenger (Labour) at a recent sitting of the House of Commons, said that 15 cases of cholera had occurred at the end of April in a certain hotel in Calcutta, including one which proved fatal as a result of pneumonia which had followed. Immediate action was taken and the outbreak was now at an end.

There had been no other cases of cholera among British troops in India since 1943.

been directed under the Epidemic Diseases Act to carry out certain sanitary and other improvements within a week. Failure to comply with the Government order will make them liable to be closed until the required improvements are completed.

The improvements suggested include repair of markets, rearrangement of stalls, widening of passages, arrangement for adequate supply of filtered water for washing stalls, passages, fish and vegetables and flushing drains and provision for sanitary latrines. The markets are also required to be washed and disinfected daily.

SALE OF UNWHOLESOME MEAT

The question of taking drastic action against the sale of unwholesome meat in Calcutta is engaging the attention of the Government.

During a recent visit to a number of meat shops by the Director of Veterinary Services, Bengal, it was

CALCUTTA MORTALITY

CHOLERA IS ABATING

The Cholera epidemic in Calcutta shows definite signs of abatement, the number of deaths during the week ended the 19th May being 48 against 77 in the previous week.

Small-pox and Malaria claimed 51 lives during the week.

Deaths from all causes in the city totalled 654 against 749 in the previous week.

found that 22 shops, of which nine had no licence, were selling meat of animals not killed in any registered slaughter house of the Corporation nor did it bear the usual stamp showing that it was approved for sale.

ADULTERATED MILK SUPPLY

That on an average over 65 per cent. of Calcutta's milk supply is adulterated is revealed from the results of tests carried out by the Corporation on 4,709 samples in the past three years. Details of the results of the examination undertaken by the Corporation at the instance of the Bengal Government between March 12 and 16 from different places show a very high percentage of adulteration in milk at Baitakkhana and Koley markets, two main centres dealing with supplies from outside.

MALARIA AGAIN?

Dr. M. U. Ahmad, Health Officer, Calcutta Corporation, speaking at a meeting organized by the Health Service Committee, Indian Medical Association at the Association Hall on the 18th May last expressed his apprehension that the city might experience a far more serious outbreak of malaria during the coming rains than even the last year.

Dr. Ahmad said that all the factors contributing to the outbreak of the epidemic last season were present, while there was added to it the new factor of there being a large number of infected persons carried over from last year. Of the various causes the most potent were the Salt Lakes and the numerous stagnant pools and ponds and marshes in the eastern and southern suburbs of Calcutta which were the breeding places of the Anophylis in a large scale. The problem of inadequacy and unhealthy conditions of the drains in eastern Calcutta was an additional factor.

All these problems were so vast, and involved such heavy expenses that, as Dr. Ahmad thought, without governmental assistance it was not possible for any self-governing institution to tackle the problem.

Several schemes for dealing with the problem of the Salt Lakes had been drawn up by different authorities but no progress had been made, that might be due to insurmountable difficulties. The scheme for constructing sewers in eastern Calcutta had met a similar fate. On its own the Corporation was proceeding with the work of cleaning up of the stagnant pools and ponds and pumping out of the drain water in eastern Calcutta into the Storm-Water-Channel.

Dr. Ahmad emphasized the need for a vigorous propaganda amongst the owners of the stagnant pools and ponds who could undertake to clean their respective properties.

Lt.-Col. J. C. Dey, who presided, said that far from taking any determined action to tackle the problem the Government of Bengal had not yet been able to set up an Anti-Malarial Department.

The Government had an equal share in the blame that was generally heaped on the Corporation. He urged the citizens of Calcutta to carry on a vigorous campaign to put an end to the inertia of the Government.

A NEW CHOLERA VACCINE

TO CONDUCT TESTS IN BENGAL

The Committee of American Relief for India, it is learnt, seeking to use a new vaccine to relieve the cholera situation in Bengal. It is planned that the Quaker relief workers will seek the approval of the Government of India and private health agencies for its use.

Dr. Robert K. Jennings, co-discoverer of the new vaccine, and an associate of the Biochemical Research Foundation of the Franklin Institute of Philadelphia, is awaiting permission from the Government of India to go to Calcutta to conduct tests.

The new vaccine has not yet been used in connection with an epidemic but, on the basis of laboratory tests, it is believed to be superior in quality to present vaccines.

"CLEANER CALCUTTA"

TO THE EDITOR, "CALCUTTA MUNICIPAL GAZETTE"

DEAR SIR,—Allow me to ventilate through your esteemed paper a piece of public grievance of some importance at a time when His Excellency is so keen in getting a "Cleaner Calcutta".

On the Belgachia Road, and adjacent to the Bengal Veterinary College compound, two nightsoil carts are being parked day and night though this is not, of course, the parking place for such carts. The carts being quite old and rotten, their content trickle down and spoil the ground around it. This has been going on for sometime past and I wonder if it has ever attracted the attention of the municipal authorities or the people in charge of the inoculation depot at the Veterinary college.

Preaching of sermons to the pedestrians as to how they could get themselves immune to the cholera epidemic would not do any good unless early steps are taken to stamp out this standing nuisance.—Yours etc.

SATYA CHARAN BISWAS.

CALCUTTA'S SLUMS

A MATTER OF LOCAL IMPORTANCE

The matter being of local importance, the Government of India have, it is learnt, regretted their inability to undertake legislation, as suggested by the Bengal Government, for the improvement of Calcutta's slums.

The Bengal Government approached the Centre about two months ago for the issue of legislation giving the former certain powers to make it obligatory on the part of the house owners of the city to carry out some short term measures for the betterment of the conditions in backward

AMERICAN RELIEF FOR INDIA

HELP TO ERADICATE DISEASES

Outlining the plans for rendering assistance to 4,000,000 famine survivors in India Mr. J. E. Rhoads, President of the American Relief for India Inc., which is now conducting a drive to raise $1,200,000, through the U. S. A. has said: "All sentiment aside, there is a practical consideration of self-interest because pestilence that stalks through India's villages strikes at our American fighting men, thousands of whom are based in India. Our effort to help eradicate malaria, dysentery and cholera in Bengal safeguards American lives and strengthens the base of American military operations essential for victory.

"After the war, India will be an important link between the East and the West. Relief now, while thousands of American soldiers are based on Indian soil, would help to improve relations."

He emphasized that U.N.R.R.A. is unable to work in India and that the American Relief for India is the only agency to do the job.

The former Assistant Secretary of State, Mr. Sumner Welles, president of the Congress of Industrial Organizations, Mr. Philip Murray, and publisher Mr. Henry Luce are among the ten directors appointed for the American Relief for India Inc. Mr. William Phillips is vice-president.

CALCUTTA NEWS & VIEWS

UNIVERSITY AIR TRAINING CORPS

The Government of India have, it is learnt, sanctioned Rs. 15,000 as capital grant to Calcutta University towards the construction of a building for housing the Royal Indian Air Training Corps of the University.

SOVIET ACADEMY OF SCIENCE

The Secretary of the Academy of Science, U.S.S.R. has sent a telegram to the Calcutta University inviting them to take part in its 220th Jubilee celebration to be held in Moscow and Leningrad on June 15 and 28 respectively and requesting the University to send their representatives.

NEW SCROLL PAINTING FOR ASUTOSH MUSEUM

The Asutosh Museum of Indian Arts, Calcutta University, has been enriched by a remarkable scroll (pot) painting dealing with the Krishna cycle. The painting was presented by Mr. D. G. Archer, Deputy Commissioner, Santhal Pargana, who collected it from the Dumka Subdivision. In colour, scheme and technique, it is closely allied to the style of scroll painting obtaining in the neighbouring districts of Bengal.

CALCUTTA : BASE FOR MILITARY SUPPLIES

The consolidation of the U. S. Services of Supply into the India Burma Theatre Headquarters, it is believed, will have no effect on the U. S. Army installations in Calcutta and elsewhere in Bengal.

This, it is learnt, is merely an administrative change and does not affect operational activities. Calcutta will continue to be the main base for the entry of supplies into the India Burma Theatre and also for transport to China over the Stilwell Road by the Air Transport Command.

FULL RATIONING OF CLOTH

Full cloth rationing in Calcutta likely to be put into operation about the end of June.

Meanwhile the interim arrangement for releasing 2,000 bales of cloth (mostly dhuties and sarees), per month, to meet Calcutta's urgent needs will be continued until the introduction of full rationing. The interim scheme was brought into force on May 7 and over 200 shops were selected for distribution through the help of ward committees. About 100 are now functioning.

CALCUTTA RANGOON AIR SERVICE

A daily passenger and freight service from Calcutta to Rangoon marks a step further in the restoration of Burma, says a Press Note.

After three years, the Burmese capital once more takes its place in the vast network of air lines, run by the Air Command over India and Burma.

This claim of bases from Calcutta, extending previously to Ranicee was completed on May 16, when five Dakotas flew to Mingaladon airfield, a few miles north of Rangoon.

The normal journey from Calcutta to Ragoon takes approximately five hours.

BENGAL BOARD OF FILM CENSORS

The personnel of the Bengal Board of Film Censors for 1945-46, constituted under the Cinematograph Act of 1912, has been announced.

Commissioner of Police, Calcutta and the Deputy Commissioner of Police, Headquarters, Calcutta, will be respectively the ex-officio President and Secretary of the Board. The following will be the members: Vice-Chancellor, Calcutta University (ex-officio); Director of Public Information, Bengal, (ex-officio); Military Press and Film Censor, Calcutta; a nominee of the Corporation of Calcutta; Mr. F. Monk; Mr. W. I. N. MacEwan; Mr. S. K. Ghosh; Mr. A. F. Stark, Khan Bahadur Mohammed Ali, M.L.A.; Mr. Muazzam, Ali Choudhury, M.L.C.; Mrs. K. Nooruddin; Rai Radhika Bhusan Roy Bahadur, M.L.C.

BEPIN CHANDRA PAL

The late Mr. Bepin Chandra Pal's services to the nation were gratefully recalled at a public meeting held at the Corporation Commercial Museum Hall on Sunday, the 20th May, in observance of his death anniversary. The meeting was held under the joint auspices of the Indian Journalists' Association and Sylhet Sammilaneo.

A resolution was adopted urging the Calcutta University to publish an authoritative version of his writings. Dr. Sundari Mohan Das undertook to supply the University with Mr. Pal's unpublished writings which were lying with a gentleman of Sylhet.

Mr. A. K. Fazlul Hug, ex-Mayor, who presided, said that Bepin Chandra was a great orator and journalist the like of whom had seldom been born in Bengal. He had the courage to say and do things which he considered to be in the best interests of the country. Bengal had now fallen on evil days. Nothing could stir her to action, be it famine, maladministration or promulgation of Section 93.

Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, Mayor, called upon young men of Bengal to be inspired by the example of Bepin Chandra in the critical days they were confronted with to-day.

Messrs. Chapala Kanto Bhattacharya, Abdul Hamid Hemendra Prasad Ghose and others also spoke.

A. R. P. RESETTLEMENT

A Press Note issued by the Director of Public Information, Bengal, regarding the Bengal Government's decision to disband the A. R. P. and other Civil Defence organizations throughout the province, says that such disbandment will necessarily take time and will not be completed for some weeks.

The Government of Bengal, says the Press Note, gladly take this opportunity of paying a well-deserved tribute to the excellent work done during a period of great national emergency by the officers and men, paid and unpaid of the organizations now to be disbanded.

Every possible step is being taken to absorb the personnel in other forms of employment, both military and civil, and a wholetime officer has been appointed by Government to co-ordinate and control this work.

Every Civil Defence worker now being disbanded who satisfies the conditions that have been laid down will receive a gratuity on the prescribed scale.

It is understood Mr. J. W. Davis is being appointed as A. R. P. Resettlement Officer. He will be in charge of resettling A. R. P. paid personnel, who will be disbanded after July 31. Except in Chittagong Division where the A. R. P. staff will be retained, the organisation will be disbanded in Calcutta, Howrah, Hooghly, 24-Parganas, Dacca, Khargpur Narayanganj and Dhairab Bazar.

AMENDMENT OF PENSION RULES

In compliance with the provisions of Section 484(1) of the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1923, it is notified for general information that the Corporation of Calcutta propose to amend their Pension Rules by inserting the following rule after Rule 17-A:—

*17-B. Notwithstanding anything contained in the foregoing Rules, all small-scale pensioners be granted a temporary increase in their pensions with effect from 1st December, 1943, i.e., on pensions due in January, 1944 and until further orders, on the following scales:—

(i) On pensions not exceeding Rs. 20 per month—Rs. 3 per month.

(ii) On pensions exceeding Rs. 20 per month but not exceeding Rs. 40 per month—Rs. 4 per month.

(iii) On pensions exceeding Rs. 40 per month but not exceeding Rs. 44 per month—such amount as together with the pensions will equal to Rs. 44 per month.

The term "pension" as used in this rule, includes commuted portions of pensions, if any, and the additional pensions sanctioned by the Corporation and Government under Rule 17-A every year.

The object of the proposed amendment is to grant a temporary increase in the pensions of the small-scale Corporation pensioners, on the ground of abnormal rise in the prices of foodstuffs and other essential materials.

Objections to the proposal, if any, will be received by the undersigned up to the 3rd June, 1945, after which date the proposal will be further proceeded with.

Secretary to the Corporation.

IMPROVEMENT OF SLUMS

In an extraordinary issue of the Calcutta Gazette the text of a Bill aiming to improve slums in Calcutta and in other urban areas in Bengal has been published for general information.

It is proposed in the Bill to empower the Government to direct the owners of property situated within areas to be notified as slum areas to take steps to improve their property and to enable the government or a local authority or persons authorized by the Government to carry out the improvements if the owners refuse or neglect to do the same. These improvements will be carried out as far as possible at the expense of the owners.

The Bill also proposes to enable the Calcutta Corporation and other municipalities to levy rates to certain specified extents so that these local self-government institutions may easily undertake the work of slum-clearance.

The Bill, which is designed to be a Governor's Act, will be considered on or after June 21.

CORPORATION HEALTH DEPARTMENT

The Government of Bengal have deputed Maj. M. S. Chadha, Special Officer of the Public Health Department to inspect the organization and working of the Health Department of the Calcutta Corporation, in addition to the Director of Public Health who has been engaged in this job since January last.

Maj. Chadha started the inspection on Wednesday last.

IMPROVEMENT OF PRIVATE MARKETS

To avoid any duplication of direction in regard to the improvement of private markets in Calcutta, Mayor Debendra Nath Mukherjee in the course of a letter to the Bengal Government has suggested a conference between the Government Public Health Department and the Health Department of the Corporation.

The object of the conference is to ensure proper co-ordination of the activities of the two departments in order to determine a common programme of improvement to be given effect to by the owners of private markets.

The Week In The Corporation

CONDOLENCE

The Corporation recorded its deep sense of sorrow at the untimely death of Mr. P. P. De, a well-known citizen of Calcutta, an expert Engineer and a successful businessman and offered its condolence to the members of the bereaved family.

CLOTH SCARCITY AND CORPORATION EMPLOYEES

"That in view of the present unrest amongst the employees and labourers of the Corporation for want of cloth, the Government of Bengal be pressed immediately, for smooth running of the city's essential services, to supply cloth to all employees including labourers, workers, and menials of the Corporation drawing a salary up to Rs. 300 per month at the rate of one pair of 'dhuti' and one pair of 'sharee' to each such employee at every sixth month at controlled rates and the Chief Executive Officer be requested to arrange for necessary details in giving effect to the resolution at an early date."

This is the full text of the resolution adopted by the Corporation at its meeting held on Wednesday, the 30th May.

COUNCILLOR S. C. RAY CHAUDHURI

The mover of the resolution, Councillor Sudhir Chandra Ray Chaudhuri, said that the scarcity of cloth was a crisis all over the city and it certainly told upon the employees of the Corporation. The Ward Committees had been formed and they knew what poor distribution was being arranged.

In Councillor Ray Chaudhuri's Ward, that is, in Ward No. 3, he complained, cloth license was not given to old shops of the locality but to shops in Harrison Road and Burrabazar. That was the way in which the Committees were functioning and the Government was co-operating with these Committees.

Continuing Councillor Ray Chaudhuri said that the employees of the Corporation had approached him in his capacity as the President of the Employees Association and had represented to him that if immediate supply of cloth was not arranged it would be very difficult for them to come out to serve their office. To maintain the city's essential services in proper working order the Corporation had a duty and responsibility to discharge as an employer in the matter of satisfying the reasonable demands of their employees and as such, the Bengal Government should be moved to facilitate the supply of cloth to the employees as indicated in the resolution.

COUNCILLOR J. L. SAHA

Earlier as the Corporation met Councillor Jogindra Lal Saha drew the attention of the House that for the last few months the scavengers, labourers and other menials of the Corporation were unable to get a piece of cloth. In interim rationing period, the Government did not arrange for the supply of cloth to the labourers who had been drawing their ration through the Corporation ration shops. The scavengers, he said, had already held out a threat to the Corporation.

Councillor Saha requested the Mayor to approach proper authorities for cloth. Otherwise the essential services of the city would be dislocated. He also said that the Corporation employees should also be given dearness allowance at the enhanced rate and that, too, immediately.

CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

In the course of a statement before the House the Chief Executive Officer, Mr. Sailapati Chatterji, stated that the Corporation labourers were really feeling a great difficulty in securing cloth. A letter was written to the Director-General of Textiles asking him to supply the Corporation about 19,000 pieces of cloth, which practically covered the necessities of those Corporation employees who got their ration from the municipal ration shops. It had also been suggested in that letter that the supply should be made twice in a year. A reminder had also been sent to the same effect but no reply had yet been received. He assured the House that he would now personally speak to the Director-General of Textiles and urge him the necessity for passing immediate orders so that the scavengers and other menial employees of the Corporation might not go out of control.

In reply to Councillor B. N. Roy Chowdhury's question whether there was really the possibility of labour going off work, the Chief Executive Officer said that it was quite on the cards that they might.

Referring to the increased dearness allowance the Chief Executive Officer pointed out that in the Corporation resolution passed sometime ago a subvention had been asked from the Government in order to enable the Corporation to pay dearness allowances at the rate sanctioned by the Government for their employees in Calcutta.

Unless the Government, the Chief Executive Officer said, was ready with help the Corporation would hardly be in a position to grant its employees an increased dearness allowance. The Corporation resolution had been communicated to the Government, and moreover he himself made contacts with the authorities. He had been told that the matter had been receiving close attention of the Government.

COUNCILLOR B. N. ROY CHOWDHURY

In seconding the resolution moved by Councillor Ray Chaudhuri as stated above Councillor B. N. Roy Chowdhury said that every reasonable citizen should support the resolution. It was no matter for them to consider whether they would succeed in bringing the Government to its senses by passing a resolution of this kind. Many such resolutions had been passed but no result yet accrued. He suggested that the Chief Executive Officer should personally contact the authorities concerned.

COUNCILLOR J. H. METHOLD

Councillor J. H. Methold, expressing his support for the resolution, pointed out that when only 10 yards of cloth per head per annum had been fixed as Bengal's quota it was doubtful if the Corporation employees would really have any privilege.

COUNCILLOR DEBABRATA MOOKERJEE

Councillor Debabrata Mookerjee said that the Government had not yet decided in the matter of yardage. But it was rumoured that the Government would fix 12 yds. per annum. It would be a positive scandal to ask people to hide their shame with 12 yards of cloth a year. One could not simply cover one's body with that quantity however dexterously one wore the piece. It seemed as if they were being taken back to the days of Adam and Eve and would be called upon to cover their nudity with fig leaves.

So far as the poor employees of the Corporation and other establishments were concerned, Councillor Mookerjee continued, the quota fixed was absolutely inadequate. He criticised the interim rationing scheme and said that the case of the Municipal labourers was such that they could not ask them to wait till full rationing came into force.

CLOTH SITUATION IN CALCUTTA

Government Reply to Councillor Ganguli

A Press Note issued by the Civil Supplies Department, Bengal, on Thursday, the 31st May, says —

"The Calcutta cloth situation was a subject of detailed discussion at a meeting of the Calcutta Corporation on Wednesday last. Some of the statements made were of such public importance that it seems necessary to call attention to inaccuracies in them.

"The most important of these statements was that by Mr. Hirendra Kumar Ganguli to the effect that in Ward No 30, consisting of 30,000 residents, only 250 pieces of cloth had been made available for distribution. This statement is entirely incorrect. In the first fortnight of the Interim distribution scheme 2,400 ration units were issued to the Ward Committee. Work was naturally slow during the first few days and the Committee were only able to issue permits for 907 units. It will thus be seen that the limiting factor on supply during the period was not availability but the speed at which the Ward Committee were able to work. In order to assist Ward Committees in dealing more expeditiously with the issue of permits in future, arrangements for the provision of clerical staff have been sanctioned.

"The second most important statement was that cloth licences in Ward 3 had not been given to old shops of the locality. The position is that the Committee of the particular Ward did not submit its lists of shops by the time fixed. The Director-General of Enforcement, in consultation with the Standing Committee, was therefore, compelled to select certain shops himself and as the selection had to be confined to those shops of which this Committee had knowledge, the number was naturally small in the first place. A list of shops has since been received and a number of new shops have now been approved. There was also one other Ward (not mentioned by the Corporation) in which a similar state of affairs prevailed, namely Ward No 32. For that too a supplementary list has now been approved. The number of shops must naturally vary from Ward to Ward.

"Another important statement made was that labour could get no cloth permits from the Ward Committee. This statement is not correct, though there is some ground for thinking that the misapprehension contained in it was until recently shared by some of the Ward Committees. There is no bar whatsoever to the issue of a permit by a Ward Committee to a labourer, but under the present system, the Ward Committee concerned will be that not of the Ward in which he resides, but of the Ward in which his food ration shop is situated.

"Apart from these statements two lines of argument were followed by certain speakers. The first was that 10 yards of cloth per year was inadequate and that one pair of dhoti and one pair of saree must be given every six months to every employee. This would indeed be a reasonable demand according to peace-time standards; but cloth for civilians is not available in peace-time quantities at present, which makes rationing necessary—equitable distribution to all, even if of a more moderate quantity per head. Whatever quantity is available will be shared out in the fairest possible way. It follows from this principle that there can be no special discrimination in favour of employees of the Calcutta Corporation or of the Secretariat or of any particular employer of labour, on account of the nature of its work of course certain claims to special distributive arrangements and a scheme with regard to that will be announced shortly."

COUNCILLOR H. K. GANGULI

Councillor Hirendra Kumar Ganguli expressed that the Government had failed to realise the gravity of the situation. They were adopting the same tactics as they had adopted during the last famine and the measures they were adopting were nothing but mere eye-wash. As a member of the Ward Committee for Ward No. 80 he was in a position to state that they had failed to tackle the problem. His Ward, consisting of 30,000 residents, had got only 250 pieces of cloth for distribution. It was a travesty of fact to say that 250 pieces would be able to satisfy the claims of 25,000.

Had this been a free country, public opinion would have forced the Government to release the stocks of cloth seized.

It was strange that the Government, in spite of repeated demands of the people, were not taking them into confidence and tell them when full rationing would be introduced. It was because the Indians were a subject people the Government had dared treat them in such a shabby fashion.

COUNCILLOR M. M. BURMAN

Councillor Madan Mohan Barman said that there should not be any discrimination between the high and the low. High officials in the Directorate and also the head of the administration in Bengal should also be given cloth according to rationing order.

In England every man from the Prime Minister downwards was rationed but things were different here. The European community, he feared, would not be affected by rationing.

COUNCILLOR KAVIRAJ B. SEN

Councillor Kaviraj Satyabrata Sen wanted to know why they should be asked to wear 9 yards of cloth instead of 10. He said that only the other day the Government sought opinion with regard to supply of nine yard cloth. Did all the stocks of cloth seized measure 9 yards? He failed to understand how so much of cloth measuring 9 yards had become available all on a sudden.

He also said that the Government had made no arrangement for covering the dead bodies of the Hindus while they made arrangements for dead bodies of other communities.

THE MAYOR

Winding up the discussion the Mayor, Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, said that he fully endorsed the views expressed and observations made by different members of the House, on the policy that was being pursued by Textile authorities. They had utterly failed to tackle the cloth problem. The Government ought to have been alive to the position of the Corporation menial and labour staff who did not get their supplies from any ration shop in the city. They ought to have realised that these Municipal employees could not get a single piece of cloth from the Ward Committees.

It was deplorable, the Mayor proceeded, that the two successive letters that the Corporation had addressed to the textile authorities on the subject on the 19th and 26th May last had failed to elicit any reply from them. The House must bring it to the notice of the Governor that if these things went on any longer the textile authorities must be replaced by those persons in whom the people had confidence.

The resolution of Councillor Sudhir Chandra Ray Chaudhuri was passed without opposition.

CONGESTION IN TRAMCARS

Councillor Kaviraj Satyabrata Sen referred to the congestion in the tramcars and suggested that the Tramway Company should be approached for running the tram cars till late hour at night.

The Mayor said that he should ask the Chief Executive Officer to place the grievances before the authorities of the Tramways Co. Ltd.

CORPORATION EMPLOYEES' ASSOCIATION
AND
INCREASED DEARNESS ALLOWANCE

The Labour Secretary, Calcutta Corporation Employees' Association, has addressed a telegram to the Private Secretary to H. E. the Governor drawing attention to the "growing dissatisfaction" among the employees and labourers of the Corporation for non-payment of increased dearness allowance.

On May 16, the Corporation, in modification of their previous resolution, decided to give all their employees drawing up to Rs. 300 per month dearness allowance at the revised rate sanctioned by Bengal Government for their own employees.

The Corporation authorities have approached the Government for a sum of Rs. 5,17,320 per month as subvention to meet the increased allowance which will be payable as soon as the subvention is received.

RECEPTION TO MAYOR AND DEPUTY MAYOR

Accorded By Rate-Payers of Ward XIX

* Sir Abdul Halim Ghuznavi, M.L.A., (Central) presided over a reception given to Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, Mayor and Maulavi Samsul Huq, Deputy Mayor, at Carey High School, Entally on the 26th May.

The reception was organized by the rate-payers and public of Ward No. 19.

The Mayor and the Deputy Mayor were taken in a big procession from "Surendranath Banerjee Gate" near Entally market and were taken round through different routes. The procession was headed by a band party of Entally National Athletic Club. The Receptions were accorded on behalf of Ananda Samsud, Amar Sangha Entally, Hindu Mahasabha and others.

Sir Abdul Halim Ghuznavi, M.L.A., (Central) in course of his felicitations to the Mayor said "I hope when I say that the Corporation has been the grave of many reputations and unless both his effort and good luck are of extraordinary measures, he will end perhaps his career as Mayor, as others in his positions have done, in disappointment and frustration."

The president further pointed out that the Corporation had become a bye word for slackness, indecision and confusion, with the result that the health of the city had greatly deteriorated. Concluding he said that they had a right to expect that the fundamental obligation on the part of Mayor, Deputy Mayor and the Councillors should be acknowledged, and the executives of the Corporation should be given all the support it needed in the discharge of their duties.

Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, Mayor, in course of his reply said that the honour which was bestowed on him was not a personal distinction but it was bestowed on the Hindu Mahasabha that was fighting for the Independence for India.

Concluding he assured that he would ask the co-operation of all so that he could work impartially and independently in the discharge of his responsible duties.

Moulvi Samsul Huq, Deputy Mayor, also gave a suitable reply.

Local Self-Governing Bodies In Bengal—II

GOVERNMENT NEGLIGENCE

A third factor which has stood in the way of Municipal development is the manner in which local self-governing bodies have been neglected, both by Writers' Buildings and by local Government officers. Little has been done to guide or to encourage Municipalities, inspections have been few and generally superficial, and there have been serious delays in dealing with files relating to Municipal matters. We may instance the facts that the Hackney Carriage Rules of one Municipality have been pending five years for Government's approval, and that another Municipality has waited two years for a permit to buy some iron sheeting with which to repair its conservancy carts. Above all, may we instance the delays which have occurred in the gazetting of nominations, samples of which we append—

Name of Municipality	Date of receipt of local officers' nominations.	Date of issue of Government order.
Bansberia	12th May, 1943	4th Nov 1944
Baruipur	24th July, 1943	14th Nov 1944
Basirhat	5th March 1943	3rd Nov 1944
Dinajpur	8th July, 1943	26th May, 1944
Jaynagar-Majilpur	23rd July, 1943	7th Nov 1944
Kamarhati	4th Feb. 1943	21st Aug 1944
Mushidabad	April, 1943	(Not issued up to time of writing)
Serampore	11th Jan 1944	19th Oct 1944

Unfortunately, such delays are typical; they bring Government into disrepute, and lead to confusion in municipal affairs. What local body can have a heart in its business if months elapse, and even the receipt of its proposals is unacknowledged? What newly elected Commissioner can retain his enthusiasm, if the years pass, and he is unable to take his seat? It is easy to criticise local self-governing bodies for their inefficiency, for their inability to effect improvements, for the persistent inaccuracy of their returns and for the manner in which they have allowed encroachments on the public way; but Government's own record has not always been one of promptness or of understanding, and the Grand Trunk Road, as it goes northwards from Howrah, is an outstanding example of what private greed and official negligence can accomplish.

We have recommended elsewhere that the Portfolio of Public Health and Medical be separated from Local Self-Government, and we believe that such a division will help to relieve the delays which sometimes occur. We have also proposed that there should be a small Inspectorate of Local Bodies, which will be attached to the Ministry of Local Self-Government, and which will work in close collaboration with the District Officer and with the Examiners of Local Accounts. We have also recommended that the system of nominations should be abolished, a recommendation which holds good for Municipalities, subject to the creation of industrial and of minority constituencies as contemplated under Sections 18 and 19 of the Act. Government's local technical officers (for example, the Civil Surgeon, the Executive Engineer and the Superintendent of Police) should have the right to attend Municipal Meetings when matters of importance concerning their departments are tabled for discussion; such attendance will be in the capacity of adviser, and will carry no right to vote.

This District Officer, vested in the Divisional Commissioner's stead with appropriate powers under section 544 of the Act and aided by the Inspector of Local Bodies, will maintain a closer supervision than previously over Municipal finances; and we recommend that he be given greater powers to dispose of audit objections, many of which are so petty that they should never have to go to Government. We believe that the local officers are far better judges of such cases than any central authority can hope to be, and we see no reason why the Ministry should be clogged by these trifles, to the detriment of work which is far more important.

Armed with these extra powers, and closely in touch with municipal affairs, we believe that the District Officer will be far more useful to Municipal bodies than he has been in the past. Nevertheless, should the Municipalities show persistent incompetence, we think that Government should not hesitate to use, promptly and firmly, the powers of supersession which the Act confers.

TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING ACT

We believe that the recommendations which we have made will improve the day-by-day administration of the Municipalities, and will help in the provision of better Municipal services; but it will need more than Executive Officers and an Inspectorate to ensure the development of urban areas on proper lines—it will need legislation in the shape of a "Town and Country Planning Act". Extensive though the powers conferred by statute on the Calcutta Corporation are, and powerful though the consolidated Municipalities may become, those powers extend only to their boundaries, and the carelessness or obstructiveness of some neighbouring union board may jeopardise the health of the urban populace, or the success of some costly scheme of improvement. Local planning is of value, and Municipal authorities can do a great deal; but no organisation can live in isolation, no matter what its size may be, and there must be some authority to exercise control over the Province's urbanisation as a whole.

In England this has been recognised, both by the establishment of a Ministry of Town and Country Planning, and by the voluntary association of adjacent local bodies in the carrying out of schemes of common interest. Garden cities, satellite towns and trading estates are being set up in the rural areas in an effort to prevent the excessive centralisation of industry, with its cumulative disadvantages of congestion, high rentals and long daily journeys to and from work, but no similar tendency has been noted in Bengal; on the contrary, the congestion in and around the capital city increases, and urban development continues to take place on the old, unsatisfactory, un-co-ordinated and wasteful lines.

We, therefore, recommend that a Provincial Town and Country Planning Bill be prepared, which will divide the Province into regions, each under an authority consisting of representatives of the local bodies situated within the region. It will be the duty of the Regional authority to co-ordinate the development work of the local bodies lying within its jurisdiction, to prepare and to examine plans affecting more than one local body and to report to the Provincial authority, which will be responsible for the supervision and co-ordination of the activities of the Regional authorities. The existence of these authorities will not absolve local bodies from carrying out improvements within their own boundaries; the authorities are intended to prevent disjointed, haphazard development. It will be for Government to consider whether the authorities should be given powers and resources similar to those now enjoyed by the Calcutta Improvement Trust; though we may observe in passing that the Trust's powers, especially in respect of the utilisation of sites, do not appear to us to be adequate. Whatever financial resources may be placed at the authorities' disposal, we are unanimous in our recommendation that the authorities should have the widest powers for the prevention of the reckless un-co-ordinated location of industry, and the insistence upon ordered development.

CALCUTTA AND THE 24-PARGANAS

The City of Calcutta is subject to the control of various authorities, including the Chief Presidency Magistrate, the Commissioner of Police, the Corporation of Calcutta, the Collector of Calcutta, and the District Magistrate and Collector of the 24-Parganas. We do not regard this arrangement as satisfactory, and we recommend—

(a) that the revenue functions now performed by the Collector of 24-Parganas within the city be transferred to the Collector of Calcutta (i.e., supervision of revenue and khas-mahal collections, certificate work, etc.); and

(b) that the work of the Police Magistrates of Alipore and Sealdah be subordinated to the Chief Presidency Magistrate, instead of to the District Magistrate, 24-Parganas, as it is at present.

These changes will ensure that the jurisdictions of the Chief Presidency Magistrate, the Corporation, the Commissioner of Police and the Collector of Calcutta are co-terminous. Should the area of the Corporation be extended, we would advise that the jurisdictions of the other authorities be extended similarly.

SUMMARY OF RECOMMENDATIONS

(1) The history of all Municipalities with a population of under 20,000 is to be examined to see whether the Act should be withdrawn from the area, or whether amalgamation is possible and desirable.

(2) The Municipalities comprised in the industrial area around Calcutta are to be amalgamated into groups.

(3) Incorporation of the Garden Reach, South Suburban and Tollygunj Municipalities within the Calcutta Corporation; or, in the alternative, amalgamation of the three municipalities.

(4) All Municipalities to have an Executive Officer, appointed by the Municipality in consultation with the Public Service Commission, with salary paid half by Government and half by the Municipality.

(5) Establishment under the new Ministry of Local Self-Government of a small Inspectorate of Local Bodies.

(6) Abolition of Municipal Nominations, coupled (a) with the retention of the principles of Industrial and minority constituencies, and (b) with the attendance at Municipal Meetings of Government's local technical experts when subjects of importance appertaining to their departments are up for discussion.

(7) The District Officer to be vested with powers of the Divisional Commissioner, and with certain powers now exercised by Provincial Government in respect of audit objections.

(8) Passing of a Provincial Town and Country Planning Act, and strengthening the Calcutta Improvement Trust Act to give the Trust greater powers.

(9) Revenue functions of the Collector of 24-Parganas within the limits of the Calcutta Corporation to be exercised by the Collector of Calcutta.

(10) Magisterial functions of the District Magistrate of the 24-Parganas within the limits of the Calcutta Corporation to be exercised by the Chief Presidency Magistrate.

STEFAN STARZYNSKI

Heroic Mayor Of Warsaw

THE city that first bore on its breasts the onslaught of the Nazi blitz in 1939, was Warsaw, which, after the epic battle of 63 days in 1944, is in total ruins. It is reported to be another Pompei. Those, who have travelled all over Europe, have said that Warsaw is Paris of the North. The city owes its reputation in the modern times to her Mayor, Stefan Starzynski.

For abolition of excessive noise, cleanliness of the streets and flower-gardens, which adorn the residential houses, we have to thank Mayor Starzynski. He was a man of vision and imagination, capable of putting his bold plans into practice. He proved what hard work and sound planning could do within five years to improve a city with over a million of inhabitants. He loved Warsaw and really he did love the city. He managed to arouse not merely a popular interest for his schemes, but an enthusiasm felt by a wide mass of population. He began his work of reconstruction with what he considered most important, i.e., construction of twenty-eight big new schools, cleaning up of the suburbs and building of new thoroughfares. The scope of his work grew wider every year. New hospitals, play-fields and sports-grounds were built; the Vistula was provided with an embankment, and workmen's quarters were improved and modernized. Then, there rose the Tourist Hostel and the National Museum; reconstruction of the ancient monuments and unearthing of the old Gothic city-walls were taken up. Finally, there was town-planning on a large-scale, reaching far into the future.

THE CITY ON FIRE

September, 1939. The man, who took interest in the shining appearance of every new house, and who loved every new flower-bed in the squares of Warsaw, preferred ruin and destruction of the city to its surrender. When his city was on fire, he led the defence, with the same energy and spirit as he had lent to its building. He never spared himself, working day and night, broadcasting to the people with a voice hoarse with fatigue, keeping up public spirit, and continuing the defence as long as it was humanly possible.

The 7th and the 8th September,—the two days in 1939 were among the worst that the beleaguered capital had known. Disorganization and chaos had reached their peak. Air raids continued. There was no proper authority, no leader in Warsaw and for a moment the heart of the great city faltered. But not for long. On the 8th, Mayor Starzynski took power into his own hands. His untiring energy, optimism, and ready counsel set fire to the hearts of the people of Warsaw who simply adored their Mayor. During the darkest hours, over the worst stricken areas, he was here, there and everywhere. No one knew when he slept or rested himself.

CITIZEN MILITIA

Under his spirited leadership the citizens gradually organized themselves for the defence of the Capital. A "Citizen Militia" was formed to take over the duties of the police; the task was, however, easier for the willingness of the people to co-operate. Even the humblest and the poorest, vagabonds and beggars, city and suburban individuals, all were inspired with one thought—to defend their beloved city. Regulations issued by Mayor Starzynski and the Defence Council were readily complied with; there was no grumbling, no disobedience.

The Germans were closing in. After a fierce battle the Vistula was crossed near Annopol, and Osswiecie, to the north of the capital, was taken. On Friday, the 18th September, squadrons of the Luftwaffe appeared over Warsaw in mass formations, and bombed the centre of the town. There was practically no defence. The raiders flew low, bombing any objective which they were pleased to bomb, and machine gunning the streets without opposition. Poland had only about a hundred anti-aircraft guns, and most of them were used to defend only the vital military positions. Casualties were heavy.

MAYOR OF NEW YORK WITH STEFAN STARZYNSKI,
Mayor of Warsaw

Of these scenes of havoc and destruction the one most remarkable was a tall, narrow, six-storey building, at No. 9 Mylna Street, that was hit by a heavy calibre bomb, which destroyed the staircase. Meanwhile fire had broken out in the neighbouring paper store and flames began to lick the shattered building. Its inhabitants were trapped inside. At that moment the undaunted Mayor appeared on the scene. He threw a glance at the building enveloped in smoke and flames, turned round and called out "Feather-beds"!

There was an instance of astonished silence, and then, people rushed to their homes bringing feather-beds and heaping them on the pavement before the endangered building. The inhabitants jumped down from the windows to this layer of feather-beds. In fact, with the exception of one woman,—who jumped too far, fell on the pavement, and died on the spot,—everybody was safe and unhurt.

It was on the 18th that Mayor Starzynski broadcast his appeal to the people of Warsaw for voluntary labour to build barricades and fortify the approaches to the capital. Warsaw had no outlying defence-works, so that the defence of the city had to be organized in the streets of the suburban districts. The response to the appeal was instantaneous and generous, too. In one case, where only 600 men were needed, 5,000 reported. The old and the young, the rich and the poor, priests and rabbis, intellectuals and manual workers, men and women, were working side by side, each doing his, or her, best. There was no grumbling, no shirking. Warsaw was well fortified. If the Germans had not the better command of the air, they had only the other course—to have the town starved into submission. They could otherwise never have taken the city by storm.

Health & Hygiene

Health Condition Of Bengal In 1942

Report Of The Public Health Department

THE year 1942 was comparatively a better year from the view point of the public health except for the devastating cyclone with high tidal sea bore which ravaged the coastal belt of the Midnapore district towards the latter part of October and brought in its wake famine and pestilence and resulted in the filling of the tanks and dobas with saline water rendering them favourable breeding places for the virulent malaria carrying species A. Sundaicus according to the report of the Public Health Department, Government of Bengal.

Although there was an increase in the number of deaths from cholera and malaria, the deaths from small-pox, kala-azar, tuberculosis and other diseases like influenza, enteric fever, typhus fever, etc., recorded appreciable decrease in the year. Deaths due to child birth was also less than those in the previous three years by a considerable number. The Bengal Public Health Association with its branches throughout the districts of the Province did much towards the awakening of health consciousness of the people.

The municipal bodies in Bengal spent Rs. 58,16,594 or 40.9 per cent. of their total receipts inclusive of the opening balance on public health work during the financial year 1941-42 showing a decrease of 1.0 per cent. compared with the expenditure of 1940-41. This was to a certain extent attributable to the fact that a considerably higher expenditure had to be incurred on public safety.

The School Hygiene Division under the Bengal Public Health Department functioned throughout the year under report. The total number of school-going children examined was 16,635, of which 4,687 were from Calcutta, 7,798 from the other municipal areas and 4,155 from the rural areas. Mal-nutrition, eye troubles, dental caries and enlarged tonsils were found to be the most common ailments. The rural areas had in addition enlarged spleen. All defects or diseases in the boys were brought to the notice of their parents or guardians for proper treatment.

There were 1,448,299 births registered in the year under report as against 1,594,291 in 1941—a decrease of 150,992. The birthrate was 28.98 per 1,000 of the mid-year estimated population against 31.9 in the previous year. The large difference in the rates of 1942 and 1941 was due to the adoption of the estimated mid-year population in calculating the rates of 1942, the rates in 1941 being calculated on the census population of 1931. The number of deaths registered in the Province during 1942 was 1,222,164 as against 1,184,850 in 1941, representing an increase of 37,314. The death rate was 20.19 per mille against 23.7 per mille in 1941, the rate in 1941 being calculated on the basis of 1931 census figures. The highest birth rate of the year (34.8 per mille) was recorded in the district of Birbhum and the lowest (9.4 per mille) in Calcutta.

The number of infantile deaths during the year was 2,23,500 (urban 10,064 and rural 2,13,436) against 2,48,226 in 1941, representing a decrease of 24,726. The infantile death rate was 154.3 per mille of live births against 155.7 in the previous year.

The total number of deaths from cholera during the year under report was 78,391 (3,232 in urban areas and 75,159 in rural areas) with a death rate of 1.3 per mille as against 61,879 deaths in the previous year with a death rate of 1.2 per mille. The quinquennial average death rate from cholera was 0.7 per mille. The mortality from cholera was greater in the rural areas than in the urban areas.

Small pox was responsible for 4,781 deaths (4,475 in rural areas and 306 in towns) giving a death rate of .08 per mille as against the quinquennial average rate of 0.2 per mille. The number of deaths from this disease in 1941 was 13,250. The death from small-pox in rural areas decreased from 6,894 to 4,475 and urban areas from 6,366 to 306 in 1942. Out of the total deaths of 4,781 during the year under review 385 occurred among infants under one year and 1,313 among children between one and ten years.

Mortality from "fevers" (which include deaths from diseases of a widely varying character) rose from 732,884 in 1942 to 782,312, the death rate being 12.9 per mille. About 98 per cent of deaths from fevers occurred in the villages.

There were 426,573 deaths (2,966 in urban and 423,607 in rural areas) from malaria during 1942 as against 338,381 (2,077 in urban and 336,304 in rural areas) in 1941. The Provincial mortality rate was 7.04 per mille. Malaria was responsible for 34.9 per cent. of the total fever deaths in 1942. The highest death rate of 21.83 per mille was recorded in the district of Pabna while the lowest rate of 0.30 per mille was recorded in the Howrah district. 99.3 per cent. of the total malaria deaths occurred in rural areas thus showing that the problem was mainly rural and that it still remained one of the greatest rural public health problems of the Province.

15,230 persons died of kala-azar during the year under report, the death rate being 0.25 per mille as against 16,349 deaths and death-rate of 0.33 per mille in 1941. The death rates in urban and rural areas were .08 and 0.27 per mille respectively.

There were 72,810 deaths from respiratory diseases in 1942 against 84,647 in 1941. The mortality rate was 1.20 and 1.70 per mille in 1941-42 respectively. The highest death rate of 5.1 per mille was recorded in the district of Jalpaiguri and the lowest rate of 0.1 per mille was 1 in the district of Malda.

Pneumonia accounted for 38,277 deaths with a mortality rate of .63 per mille as against 44,801 deaths in 1941 with a mortality rate of 0.9 per mille.

Tuberculosis took a toll of 11,120 lives with a death rate of 0.18 per mille as against 12,867 lives with a rate of 0.25 per mille in the previous year. The number of deaths from the disease in rural areas was 7,583 and in urban areas 3,537 giving a death rate of 0.14 and 0.63 per mille, respectively. Calcutta with a death rate of 1.07 per mille was responsible for 63.6 per cent. of the deaths recorded in the urban areas.

The tuberculosis surveys at Barisal and Serampore were completed during the year under review. Both these revealed interesting statistical data regarding the incidence of tuberculosis in both industrial and rural areas, which are calculated to be very helpful in formulating the post-war antituberculosis scheme. The Bengal Tuberculosis Association continued to carry on valuable publicity and propaganda work with the usual grant from Government. The work of the Association included :—

(1) maintenance of six dispensaries in Calcutta and one in Howrah and three tuberculosis clinics at three mufassil towns; (2) training of health visitors and medical men in tuberculosis work; (3) anti-tuberculosis propaganda through lantern lectures, cinema shows and radio talks.

The Jadavpur Tuberculosis Hospital, which is the only institution of its kind in the Province, received considerable financial assistance during the year. An additional recurring grant of Rs. 20,000 was made to the hospital for maintenance of 20 additional free beds thus raising the number of free beds maintained at Government cost to 30 during the year. A capital grant of Rs. 15,000 was also made to the hospital towards cost of acquisition of land for further extension of the hospital.

POST-WAR PLANNING

Plan For Greater London—III

[Concluded from the issue of 26th May, 1945]

EXCEPT for Welwyn and Letchworth and the building of one or two small working-class areas near railway junctions, no conscious effort has yet been made to relate housing and industry in the Greater London area.

Industry has mostly selected the nearest suitable flat land on the fringe of built-up London independently of housing movements. The industrial population in the main continues to be drawn from the older residential areas, since it is only here that accommodation to rent is normally available. As industry increases so does the population pressure in these built-up areas. Thus, the industrial development of Park Royal has created an almost insuperable housing problem at Willesden. London has thus expanded outwards by concentric rings of industry and mostly unrelated housing in an everwidening sprawl.

Given proper co-ordination between the provision of factories and houses, industrialists are known to be ready to move out. Employees also would not mind moving if houses were provided to rent. Good cheap shopping and social entertainment facilities must also be provided in the reception towns from the start.

The proposals for decentralisation envisage the removal of industry to both new towns and existing towns. New towns are best built up in the first instance by firms who will take with them skilled male labour and their families. When large firms move out it is desirable that they should go to towns with a strong local life of their own into which the employees can be fully absorbed.

The decentralisation of 1,033,000 people would involve, the Report estimates, the decentralisation of 1,720 factories employing directly 258,000 people.

Dispersal of industry is proposed to a limited number of towns, mainly—on account of industrial linkages with the North, on the north side of the Thames. Suggestions are made as to the rate and limits of growth of towns in which provision is made for industrial development.

TRADING ESTATE FACILITIES

The provision of modern trading estate facilities is a potent means of attracting industry to predetermined locations. Certain limitations, which such estates are liable, are noted; and the importance of including in them staple concerns employing skilled male labour is stressed.

NEW INDUSTRIAL PROPOSALS

The report differentiates between (a) areas where the entry of further industry should be prohibited, principally the inner urban, the suburban and green belt rings, and (b) areas where it should be encouraged, mainly in selected towns outside the green belt ring and certain centres in the built-up Metropolitan area and in the green belt ring.

North of the Thames it is proposed that within the inner urban rings no further industrialisation should take place except in the Barking-Gagenham area.

Some industry from Reconstruction Areas should be decentralized with a proportion of the population to the outer towns or new satellites, and noxious industry to more isolated sites; but a great deal of industry will have to remain where it provides local work. It should, however, be grouped in units of appropriate size.

Where industry can prove a case for entry into the London Region, it should be settled on the east side of London or in one of the existing or proposed satellite towns.

South of the Thames the proposed industrial ban would apply to the inner urban and suburban rings except (a) in the Mitcham-Croydon neighbourhood, (b) to a limited extent in the Erith neighbourhood, and (c) in the Cray Valley if the adjoining land on the west is used for a quasi-satellite.

As far as possible industry and population should be decanted from the same areas. Side by side with industrial decentralization there should be commercial decentralisation.

The Report, distinguishing (a) new satellite and existing towns planned for industrial expansion; (b) other markets, residential and dormitory towns, (c) rural villages and (d) the open country site, discusses the suitability of each class for the absorption of industry.

INDUSTRY AND TRANSPORT

Industrial areas should be planned and developed in the closest collaboration with all transport authorities. An ultimate reduction in travel to and from work is an essential aim.

ROAD SYSTEM

The main features of the road system envisaged by the Report and indicated in a plate are:

(1) Ten express arterial highways, linking up on the London side with the ten main radials of the County of London Plan and extending outside Greater London in a system of National routes.

(2) A sub-arterial road system, to carry all the normal main traffic of the region and including many existing roads of great importance.

(3) Five ring roads, lettered A to E, of which A and B are in the L. C. C. area, connecting the arterial roads and also serving as by-passes round congested centres. Details of the Express Arterial D Ring, to run at a radius of 12 miles from the centre of London, are given.

AIR AND RAILWAYS

A ring of airports round London is envisaged, with one large trans-ocean airport at Heathrow, twelve miles from Victoria. Communications to London should be provided by road via express arterials 2 and 1, and by the express arterials D ring which passes the eastern side of the site, and by electric railway to Waterloo and Victoria by means of a short branch to the existing Southern Railway's line east of Feltham.

It is considered that the solution of the railway problems is largely inherent in the proposals for the decentralisation of population and industry, which will materially reduce the amount of daily travel between London and the suburbs, and that no drastic alterations or additions to the railways are necessary. The suggestions put forward mainly concern,

- (1) general electrification in the Greater London area.
- (2) provision of certain additional short lengths of passenger track, and
- (3) goods traffic.

MARKETS AND OPEN SPACES

Wholesale markets might be decentralised as indicated in the County of London Plan, or alternatively might be placed further out at points near Watford Romford and Kingston. Regional goods distribution centres, coinciding in some cases with the change-over stations from steam to electric traction and mainly on the fringe of the Regional boundary, are suggested near Reading, Aylesbury, Luton, Ware, Bishop's Stortford, Chelmsford, Tilbury, Gravesend, Rochester, Maidstone, Redhill, Woking and Basingstoke.

A wide green belt is proposed immediately round London, where building will be allowed in exceptional circumstances only, and which will be primarily for recreational use. This green belt will lead into an open countryside kept primarily for agricultural use. Lesser girdles are proposed for the separate communities, both old and new. It is important for recreational purposes that open spaces should be linked up and additions made to the green belt. Little has been done, so far, to knit that belt into a continuous system by footpaths, park strips, riverside walks, bridleways and green lanes.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

SHORT WEIGHTS

To THE EDITOR, "CALCUTTA MUNICIPAL GAZETTE"

SIR,—The attention of the Mayor and the Councillors of the Calcutta Corporation is sought to be attracted to the fact that in most of the shops in North Calcutta, the vendors, specially up-country men, cheat the innocent public by their use of short and false weights. Some five years ago the Corporation took steps in the matter as a result of which the use of false weights was not very common. But the state of things did not continue for long. The said practice is being seen at present again to be prevalent with renewed vigour. Probably, it is the laxity shown by the Food Inspectors in charge of the Wards, added to the want of a proper supervision and attention of the District Officers of the Corporation, that has been at root of the situation. May not the rate-payers of this city expect the Corporation authorities to take immediate steps so as to prevent the dishonest practice.—Yours etc.,

TARA PRASAD BANERJEE.

The deceased, aged 56, was one of the Directors of the firm of Messrs. G. D. Banerjee and Co., Ltd. A gentleman of genial temperament, he was loved by all who came in contact with him. His death is a loss to the commercial community of Calcutta of which he was a respected member. He was religiously disposed and made donations to various charitable institutions including the gift of a cottage to the Jaadypur Tuberculosis Hospital.

Dr. Foss Westcott, Bishop of Calcutta and Metropolitan of India, will be retiring shortly, and farewell functions in his honour are at present being held in Calcutta. Members of Christ Church, Calcutta, presented him with an address on May 26.

The election of Dr. Westcott's successor will be held on the 22nd June by the electoral body of the Calcutta Diocesan Council and the Bishops of India, Burma and Ceylon, in Calcutta.

Dr. Westcott has been Bishop of Calcutta and Metropolitan of India since 1919, and has been 56 years in India, since 1889, when he came out to the S. P. G. Mission, Calcutta.

Churches in India, Burma and Ceylon propose to present a purse to the most Rev. Dr. Foss Westcott, Bishop of Calcutta and Metropolitan of India since 1919, who is shortly retiring after 56 years of ecclesiastical work in India.

It is understood that the Metropolitan wishes, on his retirement, to make his home amongst the people of the country.

CALCUTTA MORTALITY

49 CHOLERA DEATHS LAST WEEK

Calcutta's small-pox epidemic which began about the middle of November 1944, has been declared to be non-existent from the week ended May 26. A disease is declared to be epidemic in Calcutta when weekly deaths from it total 30 or more. During the week there were 31 attacks and 22 deaths against 41 and 29, respectively, the week before. Figures for the corresponding two weeks last year were 159 and 258 attacks and 148 and 258 deaths.

During the week, cholera attacks and deaths were 232 and 49 against 241 and 43, respectively, the week before. During the same period last year attacks were 89 and 155 and deaths 58 and 54.

Malaria during the week ended May 26 caused 21 deaths against 22 the week before.

Recorded deaths of paupers numbered 83 against 90 in the preceding week.

Deaths from all causes during the week totalled 643 against 645 the week before.

VEER SAVARKAR'S BIRTHDAY

The 63rd birthday of Mr. V. D. Savarkar was celebrated at a public meeting held under the auspices of the Bengal Provincial Hindu Mahasabha at the University Institute Hall, on Monday, May 28th.

Dr. Syamaprasad Mookerjee said Veer Savarkar's name stood in the front rank of India's selfless patriots whose record of suffering and sacrifice served as an inspiration to one and all. Love for his motherland and a desire to see it freed from alien rule had been the burning passion of his life right from his very young days.

The Mayor, Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, who presided, paid glowing tributes to the services rendered by Veer Savarkar to the cause of uniting the Hindus. He said that Veer Savarkar was a very great personality and wished him long and healthy life.

SIR ASUTOSH MOOKERJEE

The need for more men of Sir Asutosh Mookerjee's type at the present time when the future of India was being laid on a new basis was stressed by Dr. Maghnad Saha presiding at a memorial function held at the foot of Sir Asutosh's bust at Darbhanga Building on the occasion of the 30th anniversary of his death on May 25. A large gathering of teachers and students of the University was present.

Dr. Saha said that Sir Asutosh was a great fighter; he never shirked fights. But in the midst of turmoils and fights with officials and with the public, he had the interest of the University uppermost in his mind.

Concluding, Dr. Saha said: "On this day when the future of our country is going to be laid on a new basis, we require more men of Sir Asutosh's type. We can say of him, 'Bengal hath need of thee.'"

Reference to Sir Asutosh Mookerjee's invaluable services for the spread of education in this country and his inspiring leadership and personality was made by Sir Hasan Suhrawardy conducting a memorial service at the foot of Sir Asutosh's statue in Chowringhee Square the same day.

ELECTORAL ROLLS FOR CALCUTTA

The last date of application for being included in the electoral roll of the Bengal Legislative Assembly for the Calcutta constituencies having been fixed on the 30th June the Government have prescribed a programme in advance for the purpose and have requested the Corporation to complete the work for final publication of the rolls by the first week of November, 1945.

The lowering of the educational franchise qualifications and the increase in the population of Calcutta since 1939-40 when the rolls were last prepared will bring in a much larger number of electors.

On previous occasions, the minimum educational qualification for both men and women for enrolment was the Matriculation or its equivalent examination. The minimum qualification for the male voter now is the passing of the examination of Class VI of Middle English or High English

... and the bushman's fury spread in resonance through tropical thickets, picked up in relays wherever his command prevailed. A crude way for a Chief to call his men to action!

The exigences of modern life demand swifter and more efficient means of communication between the farthest corners of the globe. The telephone & telegraph unimpeded by mountain or sea, depend on an adequate supply of high-efficiency cables to carry messages.

Laid out along the most modern lines our works are equipped with the latest type of machinery for the production of ultra modern cables. A highly skilled technical staff exercise rigid control at every stage of production ensuring strict conformity to any specification—B.S. or International. Right now we can only quote for Electrolytic H.D. Bare Copper Wires.

A closer system of tele-communication will be an essential factor in the industrial development of India. To this end we are equipped to supply the Nation's demand for cables of various types.

schools, while that for the female is merely literacy, which is defined as ability to read and write in some language or dialect in common use in any part of India.

The total number of electors on the last rolls for the Calcutta territorial constituencies for the Assembly was 2,33,534.

Organizations like Bengal Chamber of Commerce and Marwari Chamber of Commerce are, it is understood, making arrangements for getting enrolled as many eligible members of their communities as possible.

OVERSEAS EXHIBITION OF BENGAL ART

The Trustees of the National Galleries Melbourne and Sydney have approached through Mrs. Casey the Asaturn Museum of the Calcutta University to send an exhibition of Bengal art to be shown in Australia. It has also been proposed that the exhibition might be shown in the U.S.A. and U. K.

THE CLOTH FAMINE

A strong plea for appointing a Bengal Cloth Famine Enquiry Committee has been put forward by Councillor Madanlal Khemka, President, Marwari Chamber of Commerce, in the course of a statement. Councillor Khemka points out that if an enquiry be made into the present cloth and yarn famine, which may also be called 'man-made' it will lead to more startling disclosures of sins of omission and commission than even the food famine.

The Bengal Government was urged to release at least 10,000 bales of dhoties and sarees for distribution to Calcutta people at a meeting organized by the Januraksha Samity at Shradhdhananda Park on Thursday. Dr. Nalinaksha Sanyal, M.L.A., presided.

Another meeting held at the University Institute Hall, presided over by Mr. Jalaluddin Hashemy, Deputy Speaker, Bengal Assembly, criticized Government for seizing all available and incoming stocks of cotton goods in the province without making satisfactory arrangements for its distribution.

LENGTH OF A 'DHOTI'

Apropos the suggestion made by the Government of India for a reduction in the length of dhoties meant for use in Bengal by half an yard per piece, the width being 44 inches, in order to enable a corresponding increase in production and supplies to be made, the Bengal Government in the department of Civil Supplies circulated 350 circular papers a few days ago among the citizens of Calcutta, including members of the Legislature and municipal councillors inviting their opinion on the matter.

It is learnt that of the 350 enquiries made, only about 100 replies had been received by the department by the date fixed by them. About 60 of them have expressed themselves in favour of reduction in the length of the dhoti and 35 against it.

On the basis of these replies the Bengal Government, it is stated, propose to decide in favour of reduction in the length of the dhoty by half an yard per piece and advise the Government of India accordingly.

SERAMPORE LOCAL BOARD

The Serampore Local Board has been abolished from June 1 under orders of Bengal Government.

NEW MAYOR OF KARACHI

Mr. M. Misquita has been elected as the Mayor of Karachi for the current year, 1945-46. Mr. Misquita is Karachi's first Christian Mayor. The Karachi Daily says: "Mr. Misquita is the oldest Councillor now in the Corporation; he celebrated his silver jubilee of councillorship last year. He is a person of upright character and can be trusted with safeguarding the interests of the Corporation."

BURDWAN MUNICIPALITY

The sweepers of the Burdwan Municipality staged a three-day strike during the last week.

It is learnt that the sweepers demanded sarees with larger borders for their womenfolk and certain types of dhoties for themselves.

The local authorities informed the sweepers that they could not comply with their request as the required types of dhoties and sarees were not available. Ultimately an amicable settlement was arrived at.

POONA CITY MUNICIPALITY

A meeting of the Poona City Municipality convened on May 22 by Mr. V. B. Deshmukh, President of the Municipality, was held as illegal by the President himself who agreed with a point of order raised by a member that the notice convening a meeting must be issued over the signature of the Chief Officer only.

Mr. G. M. Khopkar, who had been appointed as the permanent Chief Officer of the Municipality from May 10 by a resolution passed by the Municipal body in February last, could not function in that capacity owing to a temporary injunction passed by the first class Sub-Judge, Poona, restraining the Municipality from giving effect to the resolution. The resolution was challenged as illegal, null and void by a Councillor of the Municipality who requested the court to issue a temporary injunction to the above effect pending the decision of his suit.

NEW CURE FOR CANCER

Successes in the treatment of cancer with the new drug called "H-11", first mentioned in 1943, have been recorded by pathologists at the research laboratories at Sunbury-on-Thames, England.

An analysis of 677 cases, all described as being beyond further treatment and therefore hopeless, treated last year shows that 67.8 per cent had the cancerous growths reduced or arrested, and in some cases they disappeared altogether.

Since 1940, 2,500 patients have been given the new drug and the longest cases had no recurrence for four years. It may be explained that five years without a recurrence is necessary before medical circles announce a cure.

"H-11" is a glandular extract discovered by 10 research scientists headed by Mr. J. H. Thompson, and the laboratories were specially founded to carry out research in the new drug.

NEW CURE FOR TYPHOID

It is reported from America that the preliminary tests of the newest penicillin type of chemical, streptomycin, has indicated that it cures typhoid and prevents a person from becoming a carrier of that disease.

CHOLERA IN BOMBAY SUBURBS

APPEARS IN EPIDEMIC FORM

Cholera is raging in epidemic form in some of the suburbs of Bombay, such as Thana and Kalyan, and in districts such as Nasik, it is announced by the Health Officer of the Bombay Municipality. Preventive measures have been put into operation and a batch of subsidised medical practitioners has been sent to the affected areas to prevent the infection from spreading and to deal with the cases.

The Week In The Corporation

Another Directive To The Corporation Proposed Reduction Of Water Supply To The City

THE Mayor, Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, made a reference at the meeting of the Corporation held on Wednesday, the 6th June, to a directive issued by the Government of Bengal to the Corporation under the Defence of India Rules requiring reduction of water supply to the city from 8½ hours to 6 hours daily and also introducing certain other changes in the workings of the Water Works Department.

According to the statement of the Mayor it was revealed that the Government had not consulted the Corporation before issuing such a direction.

Introducing the matter to the House the Mayor stated that it was his duty to bring to the attention of the House the fact that another order under the Defence of India Rules had been served on the Corporation which, he felt, was intended to take away to a great extent the rights which this civic body enjoyed.

The directive was stated to have provided for the following steps which the Corporation was required to take:—

- to restrict water supply to 6 hours instead of 8½ hours as at present;
- to sanction for no new water connection;
- to leave all repairs to the waterworks machinery entirely in the hands of the Government; and lastly;
- to instal water meter in every house at Corporation expense.

Making a statement before the house the Mayor said:—

"My duty is to bring to the notice of the house that another Defence of India Rules move which I feel is intended for taking away our rights to a great extent and this is in connection with the Water Works Department. On Friday last (June 1) an intimation was sent from the Government of Bengal that so far as the Water Works Department is concerned the hours of supplying water to the city would be curtailed. Now you know that we get full pressure at 6½ hours and medium pressure for 2 hours daily. The Government Order is that the water supply will not be made by the Corporation for more than 6 (six) hours. That is one of the most important conditions mentioned in the Defence of India Rules.

"The second thing is if any sanction is to be given for water connection our department will have no say, even the Chief Executive Officer will have no discretion as to whether this water connection is to be given or not. Permission will have to be sought from the Chief Engineer, Public Health Department of the Government.

"If any repair is to be made, if any machinery is not working well our Officer-in-Charge, say of Pulta or at Tullah will at once bring it to the notice of the Government and not even to the Chief Engineer and the Chief Executive Officer of the Corporation whether it will be required or not and this is a matter entirely resting at the decision of the Government.

"There is one very important matter in the Government Order, viz., that metre will have to be fixed in every household so that the consumption of water that is made by every family might be measured. I understand from the report of the Executive Engineer, Water Works, that about one crore of rupees will be necessary for that purpose, and you will have to find out that money anyhow at the present financial position of the Corporation."

Continuing the Mayor said:—

"These are matters which are very important not merely for the difficulty into which the Corporation might be put or the rate-payers might be put, but also a policy of administration. It is for the house to determine whether they would submit to this, order or they would look into the autonomy and the dignity of the Corporation and resist the application of the Ordinance. I do not ask you to come to a decision on a matter so important as this but if you so desire I would fix a special day for consideration of this item."

In reply to Councillor Debabrata Mookerjee, the Mayor said that the Defence of India Rules had already been promulgated and they were already in operation.

In reply to Councillor Dr. S. N. Sinha as regards the total quantity of water supplied to the city at present, the Chief Executive Officer said that probably 72 million gallons were being pumped at Pulta.

Councillor Dr. Sinha: Is it a fact that in maintaining this supply you are going against the Government order?

The Chief Executive Officer: Strictly speaking, we are violating the Government order. The matter was recently considered by the Water Supply Committee, which directed that, pending decision by the Corporation, they should carry on as before.

Councillor Dr. Sinha suggested that the Corporation should approve of the action of the particular department in maintaining the usual pressure in supplying water to thirsty people in these sultry days even at the risk of violating the Defence of India Rules.

Giving replies to various enquiries both the Mayor and the Chief Executive Officer said that the communication from the Government was received by the Chief Executive Officer on the 30th May last after the Corporation meeting. The communication had been sent by them without a covering letter.

Councillor Debabrata Mookerjee: I take it that neither the Mayor nor the Chief Executive Officer was consulted.

The Mayor: I have not been referred to or consulted. I understand that neither the Chief Executive Officer has been consulted.

Councillor Mackertich John: How long will it take to fix meters to every household?

Chief Executive Officer: Possibly 6 years.

The House decided that the matter would be considered at a Special Meeting to be held on Wednesday next (13th June) along with the report of the Water Supply Committee which was directed to meet on Friday, the 8th June, to consider the matter. The water supply would not be curtailed meanwhile, the Mayor assured.

Corporation Threatened With A General Strike

Scavengers And Labour Put Forth Their Grievances

INFORMATION was given by Mr. Sailapati Chatterji, Chief Executive Officer, in the course of a statement before the meeting of the Corporation held on Wednesday, the 6th June, that unless the demands put forward by the labourers and scavengers of the Corporation were met they would launch a general strike since the morning of the 21st June. It was stated that the Secretary of the Corporation Scavengers and Labour Union had informed the Chief Executive Officer about the demands of the employees relating to payment of increased dearness allowance, supply of cloth, and revision of grades.

After some discussion, Monday, the 11th June, was fixed for consideration of this matter.

THE CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER EXPLAINS THE SITUATION

Since the third week of May resolutions passed by the Scavengers and Labour Union and other sister unions embodying the grievances of these employees had been sent to the Chief Executive Officer and to the Mayor. The main demands were, payment of dearness allowance at the rate of Rs. 20 for employees drawing salaries up to Rs. 35 and Rs. 22 for those drawing higher salaries, in anticipation of Government sanction, from January; immediate supply of cloth to all employees drawing salaries up to Rs. 300, and their children; and revision of grades of methars, dhangars, jamadars, coolies, peons, orderlies and all classes of labour to be given effect to at once.

On the 4th June, the grievances of the employees were last sent to the Chief Executive Officer with the threat that unless their demands were met and grievances fulfilled by the Government or the Corporation immediately, a general strike would be started from the morning of the 21st June, 1945.

"As I have stated before", the Chief Executive Officer said, "the position in regard to their grievances had been explained to the various representatives of the Labour Unions but it seems they are unwilling to wait any further."

INCREASED DEARNESS ALLOWANCE

In regard to the employees' demand for payment of dearness allowance at the rate of Rs. 20 and Rs. 22, the Chief Executive Officer said that according to the resolution adopted by the Corporation sometime ago, the increased Dearness Allowance was to be paid on the Government agreeing to pay the amount necessary for such payment by way of subvention. The Government had been informed of the Corporation's decision and reminders had been sent and only recently a reply had come from the Government that the whole matter was being considered.

SUPPLY OF CLOTH

Regarding the demand for supply of cloth to employees drawing salaries up to Rs. 300 and their children at once, the Chief Executive Officer stated that he, as early as May 18 last, had written to the Director-General of Enforcement and Public Relations for supply of cloth to those employees of the Corporation (numbering approximately 19,000) who were receiving rations from the Corporation shops. A reminder was sent on the 26th May. Subsequently on May 30 last the Corporation passed a resolution that all employees of the Corporation including labour, workers and menials drawing salaries up to Rs. 300 per month be given one pair of dhoti and one pair of saree every sixth month at controlled rates.

On the 1st June last the resolution of the Corporation was forwarded to the Director-General of Enforcement and Public Relations and a copy of that letter with a forwarding letter was sent also to the Secretary, Government of Bengal, Department of Public Health and Local Self-Government. The Chief Executive Officer also saw Mr. A. A. Saha, Additional Controller of Textile, in this connection and Mr. Saha after discussion with him promised to send by the end of this week an indent form which should be filled by the Corporation on receipt of which he would be able to issue order for supply of cloth as per indent in one lump next week. He, however, made it clear that the supply of cloth would be for one ration (one piece of cloth) and not one pair of dhoties and one pair of sarees as suggested in the Corporation resolution. Arrangement for supply of cloth would be made as soon as the same was received from the Textile Department.

INCREASE OF BASIC PAY

Regarding the increase in basic pay of Corporation labour staff, the communication received from the Labour Commissioner, who had recently recommended a minimum basic pay of Rs. 20 per month, formed an item in the agenda for consideration by the House.

GENERAL STRIKE RESOLUTION

ADOPTED BY SCAVENGERS AND

LABOUR UNION

A general strike would be launched from the morning of June 21, if their grievances were not met, it was resolved at a meeting of the Calcutta Corporation Scavengers and Labour Union and other sister unions of the Corporation held on June 2 last.

The first strike notice, it is stated, was served to the Corporation on May 19.

The Union held seven meetings between May 19 and June 3 at Central Municipal Office Building Lawn, Park just by the side of Minerva Cinema, Hatibagan, Ballygunge Bustec, Nambagan Bustec, and Cossipore Goukhana.

The following grievances were placed before the meeting and passed unanimously:

1. Dearness allowances to be paid to all employees drawing salary up to Rs. 300 at rate of Rs. 20 and Rs. 22 respectively in anticipation of Government sanction from the month of January, 1945.

2. Cloths to be supplied to all employees drawing salary up to Rs. 300 and to their children at once.

3. Question of revision of grades of methars, dhangars, zamadars, peons, orderlies, clerks and all classes of labour be confirmed at once by the Corporation as per memo submitted already to the Corporation.

4. The Port Commissioners employees are getting rice at the rate of ten pice per seer, the same procedure to be followed by the Corporation.

Copies of the resolution were sent to the (i) Mayor, (ii) Chief Executive Officer, (iii) Commissioner of Police, (iv) Labour Commissioner, Government of Bengal, (v) Secretary, Public Health and Local Self-Government Department, Government of Bengal and other authorities.

INCREASED DEARNESS ALLOWANCE

GOVERNMENT AGREE TO PAY NECESSARY AMOUNT

The Government of Bengal sent on Friday a letter to the Chief Executive Officer of the Calcutta Corporation intimating their decision to pay the amount necessary for increased dearness allowance to the Corporation employees with all arrears up to June, 1945.

The Chief Executive Officer said that he had already made his recommendation about the revision of grades of menials and clerks and this would be considered by the Special Establishment Committee, appointed by the Corporation.

In the course of a summary enquiry made into the demands and grievances of the Corporation employees under the Essential Services Maintenance Ordinance 1942, the Labour Commissioner's report to the Government in connection with the fixation of minimum basic wages was as follows :—

"The Calcutta Corporation have in their employment about 14,000 labour and menials spread over the engineering, drainage, water supply and other departments. Of these the office peons and orderlies numbering about 1,200 are placed on a permanent basis in the grade of Rs. 14-1-20. Other men though enjoying virtual security of service have no grade and are generally employed on a fixed pay which varies from Rs. 13 to Rs. 18. There are some employees like the Gully Pit Boys who are paid at even less than Rs. 13 per month.

The minimum basic wage for unskilled industrial labour in the Calcutta area is being raised at the instance of Government by adjudicating proceedings etc., to Rs. 20 per month. I, therefore, proposed that the minimum basic wage of all labour and menials who are in receipt of wages of Rs. 13 and above but below Rs. 20 per month should be raised to Rs. 20 per month.

Thus, the Executive had taken whatever action was possible under the circumstances, and they could not proceed any further unless proper sanction in respect of the demands of the employees was forthcoming.

The Mayor said that the Councillors should consider how the threatened crisis could be avoided. They could easily realize what difficulty would have to be faced by the Corporation if the men went on strike.

The Corporation would have to find Rs. 12,00,000 annually if the basic pay of the employees was raised as directed by the Government. How this money could be obtained in the present financial position of the Corporation should receive their serious consideration.

On the suggestion of Councillor Hirendra Kumar Ganguli, Monday next was fixed for consideration of the matter. On that day the House would also consider the recommendation of the Labour Commissioner regarding increase in the basic pay of labour and menials of the Corporation.

COUNCILLOR MOWDUDUR RAHMAN

Councillor Mowdudur Rahman, who held his seat at the Corporation as a nominated Councillor, tendered his resignation on account of his taking up an appointment under the Commerce Department of the Government of India. The Corporation at its meeting on Wednesday accepted Councillor Rahman's resignation and also recorded its appreciation of the valuable service rendered by Councillor Rahman during the tenure of his Councillorship.

BENGAL SLUM IMPROVEMENT BILL

A Special Committee consisting of nine members, namely, Councillor J. H. Methold, Chairman, Roads and Bustees Standing Committee, Councillor Purnendu Sekhar Basu, Councillor Abdus Sattar, Councillor Madan Mohan Barman, Councillor Dr. S. N. Sinha, Councillor Dharendra Nath Ghosh, Councillor Syed Afzal, Councillor Debabrata Mookerjee, Councillor N. C. Paul— was formed to consider the draft Bengal Slum Improvement Bill, 1945, and to submit a report within ten days.

The Bengal Slum Improvement Bill, 1945, (a summary of which is given elsewhere in this issue) will be taken into consideration on or after June 21.

CONDOLENCES

The Corporation condoled the deaths of Sardar Nihal Singh, a prominent member of the Sikh Community domiciled in Bengal; Dr. H. K. Sen, a scientist of international repute; Rai Bahadur Kasiswar Chakravarty, a well-known citizen of Calcutta, an erudite scholar and a man who had served the Corporation in many capacities in the past and Mr. Radhasyam Singh, an ex-lawyer and a great social worker.

CLOTH RATIONING IN BOMBAY

COMMENCED ON JUNE 3

Rationing of mill-made cloth commenced in the city and suburbs of Bombay on the 3rd June. Brisk sales were noticed in about 315 approved shops spread over the whole area. Many shops which usually remain closed on Sundays, were open to-day to mark the inauguration of cloth-rationing.

CLOTH DISTRIBUTION IN WARD NO. 30

Councillor Ganguli's Reply To Government

In the course of a letter to us Councillor Hirendra Kumar Ganguli seeks to reply the Government Press Note issued closely upon his speech at the Corporation meeting last week :—

"I have read the Press Note issued by the Civil Supplies Department, Bengal, published in your esteemed Gazette dated 2nd June 1945, and I have to state that the same is definitely misleading so far as it refers to my speech delivered at the Calcutta Corporation on Wednesday last. According to the said Press Note I am reported to have made an "entirely incorrect statement" to the effect that in Ward No. 30, consisting of 30,000 residents, only 250 pieces of cloth had been available for distribution". It is claimed in the said Press Note that 2,400 ration units were issued to the Ward Committee in the first fortnight of the interim distribution scheme.

"It is quite possible that 2,400 units were issued to the Ward Committees as alleged in the Press Note; but then 'units' include drill, longcloth, shirting, marking, coating prints, etc. In my Corporation Speech my complaint was against the poor supply of cloth which is essential in the name of modesty. I do not see how the alleged supply of 'units' can possibly redress the grievance of people suffering from cloth-famine. Government's parade with regard to 2,400 units in the context of my speech is a mere eye-wash. Even if 2,400 pieces of cloth were actually issued to 30,000 persons that would mean that one piece of cloth would have to be shared by about 11 individuals. God help us from a Government that feels proud of such a great gift!

"The Press Note declares that the limiting factor on the supply is not availability but the slow speed of the Ward Committee in distributing permits. But then how could the Ward Committee get over the red tapeism prescribed by Government? After all, it consists of voluntary workers with limited time. The Press Note farther announces that in order to assist Ward Committees in dealing more expeditiously with the issue of permits in future, arrangements for the provision of clerical staff have been sanctioned. Such "sanction" is a news to us. It remains to be seen when it will come into operation. We have been told of "arrangements" too often to take them seriously."

Bengal Slum Improvement Bill

A Statement Of Objects And Reasons

The Government of Bengal published for general information the "Bengal Slum Improvement Bill, 1945" in an Extraordinary issue of the Calcutta Gazette last week.

The Bill will be taken into consideration on or after the 21st June, 1945 and that any objection or suggestion which may be received by the Secretary, Public Health and Local Self-Government Department before the said date will be considered.

The statement of objects and reasons of the Bill is as follows:—

IN many urban areas in the Province, and particularly in the city of Calcutta and the municipality of Howrah, there exist slums which will eventually have to be totally demolished. Pending such total demolition, which will take time and which will necessitate the re-housing of those who live within the slum areas, it is proposed in this Bill to empower the Provincial Government to direct the owners of property situated within areas to be notified as "slum areas" to take steps to improve their property and to enable the Provincial Government or a local authority or person authorised by the Provincial Government to carry out the improvements if the owners refuse or neglect to carry out the improvement as directed.

These improvements will be carried out as far as possible and equitable at the expense of the owners, although provision has been made in the Bill to enable the Provincial Government or a local authority to bear such part of the expense as the Provincial Government thinks fit. The improvements will be directed towards securing the immediate amelioration of living conditions in the slum areas and the removal of circumstances likely to cause or facilitate the spread of disease.

BUSTEE IMPROVEMENT SCHEME

RESOLUTION BY IMPROVEMENT TRUST

At its last meeting the Calcutta Improvement Trust Board ordered that a scheme to be named "Bustee Improvement Scheme No. 1" should be framed and that estimates for the acquisition of land and buildings and Engineering works should be called for from the Chief Valuer and the Chief Engineer respectively.

The Board resolved that provision should be made for the construction, maintenance and management of buildings for the re-housing of persons of the poorer and working classes who are likely to be displaced by the execution of the general improvement scheme.

The area in respect of which the Board decided that a general improvement scheme should be framed, is bounded on the east by Rajendra Mallick Street and extending 120 yards to the west and 50 yards north of Baranashi Ghose 3rd Lane and 100 yards south of Madan Mohan Chatterjee Lane in Ward No. VI.

The Board considered the joint note of the Chief Valuer and the Chief Engineer's, submitting proposals for bustee clearance and re-housing and resolved that danger to the health of the inhabitants of buildings in this area is caused by the narrowness, closeness and bad arrangement and condition of streets and buildings and groups of buildings in the area and want of light, air, ventilation or proper conveniences and that the area is an unhealthy area.

APPLICATION OF THE ACT

The Act will extend to Calcutta and into every area that has constituted a municipality under the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932.

It provides that if the Provincial Government is of opinion that the condition of any area containing hut or huts and other buildings is insanitary or attended with risk of disease to the persons residing within or in the neighbourhood of such area by reason of the manner in which the hut or the huts and other buildings are constructed or crowded together or of want of drainage or sewerage or of impracticability of scavenging or from any other reason, it may, by notification, declare such area to be a slum area.

If the improvements are not carried out to the satisfaction of the Provincial Government within the time specified in the order issued under that section or within such further time as the Provincial Government may, on application, made to it in this behalf, think fit to allow, the Provincial Government may either carry out the said improvements itself or authorise a local authority or any other person to carry them out.

SCOPE FOR IMMEDIATE ACTION

If at any time the Provincial Government is of opinion that the procedure laid down in section 4 of the Act is likely to lead to delay and that immediate action is necessary for the removal or abatement of the insanitary condition of any slum area or for the providing of adequate drainage, sewerage or facilities for scavenging in any such area, it may, instead of issuing any order under section 4, proceed at once, either to carry out itself the improvements which it considers necessary for the purpose or to authorise any local authority or other person to carry out the said improvements.

The improvements which an owner or other person may be required to carry out under section 4 or which the Provincial Government or any local authority or other person authorised by the Provincial Government may carry out under section 5 or section 6, may include,

- (a) the removal of any hut or other building in a slum area either wholly or in part;
- (b) the construction of streets, passages and drains in such area;
- (c) the providing of the means of lighting, water supply, common bathing arrangements and common privy accommodation for the use of the tenants in such area; and
- (d) the filling up of tanks, wells, ditches or trenches and low lands in such area.

FINANCIAL ASPECTS

It also provides that for the purpose of enabling the Corporation of Calcutta or the Commissioners of a Municipality to meet any expenditure incurred by the said Corporation or such Commissioners under this Act, the Provincial Government may authorise the said Corporation or such Commissioner to levy within the limits of Calcutta or such Municipality, as the case may be, rates exceeding by such extent as may be specified in such order the maximum rates leviable under the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1923 or the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932, as the case may be, and thereupon the levy of such rates shall be lawful as if such rates had been levied under the provisions of the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1923 or the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932, as the case may be.

It provides that the Provincial Government may issue directions with regard to the measures to be taken for carrying out the improvements referred to in sections 4, 5 or 6 of the Act in a slum area and it shall be the duty of any owner, person or local authority to which such directions apply to comply therewith.

PLANNED IMPROVEMENT

(2) the provisions of sections 341 and 342 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932, shall apply to streets, passages, bathing arrangements and privy accommodation in any slum area outside

CALCUTTA'S SLUMS

LOW-LEVEL AERIAL PHOTOGRAPHS TAKEN

R. A. F. Mosquitoes have assisted in the clearing up of Calcutta's slum dwellings.

Some time ago H. E. the Governor of Bengal, made a tour of the bustee areas of Calcutta. Later he announced that he intended carrying out large-scale improvements.

Mr. Casey made a special request to the R. A. F. for low-level aerial photographs covering the condemned areas so that he could examine them in detail. Mosquito aircraft which are used for very long range reconnaissance flights in South East Asia carried out the job.

Calcutta's Milk Position

Suggestion For Improvement

A BOLD policy regarding improvement of Calcutta's milk position was advocated by Dr. L. C. Sikka, Special Officer, Agriculture Department, Government of Bengal, speaking at a meeting of the Royal Asiatic Society of Bengal on Monday.

He was discussing the problem on the basis of the results of a milk survey recently carried out by him in the areas covered by Calcutta Corporation and the Municipalities of Howrah, Tollygunge, Garden Reach and the South Suburban Municipality, called the "initial Calcutta" area.

According to their estimate worked on the basis of ration cards the population in this area was 27.7 millions, he added. Of this, adults were 23.1 millions and the rest were children below 12. This estimate did not take into account the large number of persons living in clubs, hotels and other residential institutions.

DIFFERENT REQUIREMENTS

As regards per capita requirement, different recommendations had been made by different experts. In the opinion of Dr. Aykroyd, the nutrition expert, each adult should get half a pound and a child and a nursing mother one pound each per day. This was much lower than western standards. Even if they estimated their total "desirable" requirement on this basis, they needed in this area about 20,000 mds. of milk a day. Another 1,100 mds. were necessary for clubs, boarding houses, hospitals, etc. Almost the same quantity was used for the manufacture of sweets, milk powder and condensed milk so that the total requirement came to 22,200 mds. a day. The minimum requirement was estimated at about 11,000 mds. This was for "priority classes" which included infants, nursing mothers and invalids.

The daily supply was about 8,700 mds. much lower than the 1937 figures. The official estimates for 1937 and 1944 were 6,000 mds. and 4,840 mds. respectively. Of the present supply, about 1,400 mds. were taken away by manufacturers of sweets, condensed milk etc. The balance of 2,300 mds. was available for 27.7 million ration card-holders for consumption as liquid milk. This came to less than 1 oz. per head per day. So in order to meet the "desirable" requirement they must increase their present supplies sixfold. To satisfy the minimum requirement the supplies should be increased threefold.

QUALITY OF MILK

As regards quality of the milk, he said that out of 224 samples taken by them and examined at the Corporation laboratory, 178, that is, 79 per cent were found adulterated. Bacteriological examination of some of these samples disclosed that they had been produced and handled under insanitary conditions.

Milk cattle should be shifted from Calcutta to the countryside and citizens should be more dependent on the supply from outside. To achieve these objects on a permanent basis he urged the setting up of a milk council consisting of representatives of the industry and also of the Public Health and Agriculture Departments of the Bengal Government. This council would control the milk trade in all its aspects, production, processing and distribution. The council would operate through two sub-committees of producers and distributors.

Local Self-Governing Bodies In Bengal—III

Administration Enquiry Committee's Report

WE have heard much about the District Boards in the course of our enquiry, and we have been greatly exercised as to the nature of the recommendations which we should make regarding their future. Many claims have been made, that the Boards have played their part with distinction; at the same time, there are many who have suggested that the Boards' achievements have been few, and that their records have been disappointing. If such criticism is justified, we feel that the District Boards, along with other local bodies, may have suffered from an absence of official help and guidance. Moreover, the cesses upon which the District Boards rely for the major part of their income are inelastic; and, in recent years, there has been the added difficulty of collection, and the counter claims of Primary Education Cess.

We learn that the provincialisation of the public health services will not long be delayed; and we understand that already many hospitals are being administered by Government. The road work of the vast post-war schemes will be carried out under the Communications, Transport and Buildings Ministry, while the Education Ministry expects that the Primary Education Act will soon have been introduced throughout the Province. If the administration of health, of roads and of education is taken from the District Boards, what will be left to them? In such circumstances, it would seem to us that the Boards will become functus officio: for they would be shorn of most of their activities.

PROVINCIALISATION OF HEALTH SERVICES

Times have changed since the District Committees were established in 1871; and we agree that, with the coming of Provincial autonomy, it is no longer necessary to arrange "exercises in local self-government". We appreciate that the provincialisation of the health services will enable the limited resources of the Province to be used to secure uniform standards of health services: we recognise that the construction of a network of roads is a task which must be approached from a provincial rather than a district view-point; and we realise that many duties were entrusted to the District Boards prematurely, before the correct techniques were worked out. Though, therefore, questions of policy are outside our terms of reference, we can understand that Government's development plans may be better achieved under a system of provincialisation.

At the same time, we have real sympathy with those who believe that local interest, supervision and care are necessary to ensure that the expenditure of money upon local objects conforms with the wishes and needs of the locality, and we should be sorry if the wealth of local knowledge and experience, now concentrated in the members of the District Boards, were no longer available for the promotion of the districts' interests. Should, therefore, the time come when the District Boards are so bereft of functions as to render their continuance in their present form meaningless, we would advise that there be erected in their stead a District Advisory Board, with members elected as members of the School Board are now elected, which would meet for the discussion of local problems and for the ventilation of local grievances. This Advisory Body would elect its own Chairman, and its representatives would be freely invited to attend meetings of the District Development Board, under the chairmanship of the District Officer; for we attach great importance to the close association of Government's executive officers with non-official local advisers.

If the Boards' functions are thus provincialised, and if, in place of the Boards, it should be found necessary to create advisory bodies, no one who believes in the development of democratic institutions could fail to regard such an arrangement as historically retrograde, if the arrangement were intended to be permanent. In good time, when the road system has been built, and when the health services have been established, public opinion will doubtless press Government to hand back to local bodies the functions of which they have been temporarily relieved.

OTHER POSSIBILITIES

There is a second possibility; that Government may decide completely to provincialise only one service—that of Public Health—and that the Boards will be left with responsibility for district roads. Should this be so, the District Boards would have to remain as an executive body, but their functions would be so limited that we suggest for Government's consideration whether it might not be appropriate to return to the Boards the control of Primary Education.

The third possibility is that Government will proceed no further with provincialisation, and that the District Boards will remain, substantially as before. Whether they do, or whether there is only provincialisation of part of their functions, we consider that if the Boards are to remain as executive bodies certain changes, both of approach and of practice, are necessary; and we recommend accordingly—

We recommend the abolition of nominations, a step which would complete the journey from the purely nominated bodies of 1871 to the completely elected body of 1945. Such a change is long overdue, for a generation has passed since the official Chairman was replaced by the non-official. We would advise, as we do for Municipalities, that local technical officials should attend meetings, in an advisory capacity and without the right to vote, whenever matters of importance, relating to their special subject, come up for discussion. Where necessary, minorities should be represented by special constituencies.

It has been suggested to us that membership of the Legislature interferes seriously with the proper discharge of duties as Chairman or Vice-

Chairman of a District Board, and that if such Chairman or Vice-Chairman were elected to the Legislature, he should resign his local appointment. It has also been suggested to us that a Chairman who is also a member of the Legislature, can render great service to the district which he represents, and can ensure that the requirements of his constituency—requirements which cannot always be met from local resources—are brought prominently to Government's notice. We appreciate both viewpoints, and we think we may safely leave to the good sense and public spirit of the individual the burden of decision whether his membership of the Legislature is in the interests or not of the local body, and of acting in accordance with his decision.

Britain's General Health In 1944

Improvement In Certain Directions

B RITAIN'S general health during 1944 was maintained in some ways improved, compared with peace-time, the Ministry of Health say. The most sensitive index of the nation's general health is the proportion of infants dying in their first year of life. In the last war it rose steadily. During the last three years it has declined steadily and in 1944 was the lowest ever recorded.

The death rates for children up to 10 years of age have also been the lowest as also the proportion of mothers dying in childbirth. As the war progressed, vital statistics for mothers and children continued to improve and in the fifth year of war they were the best Britain has ever had.

The Ministry of Health give the following reasons for this most satisfactory state of affairs:

- (1) Full employment throughout the country;
- (2) higher purchasing power in many families;

total number of deaths from all forms of tuberculosis was almost the same as in 1933—which was reckoned a satisfactory year. As a matter of fact the death rate among women and girls, where an increase often shows itself first, was the lowest on record in 1944. Unfortunately, though the Ministry of Health point out that there was an increase in the number of new cases notified, the most serious problem in connexion with this dread disease is the shortage of nursing and domestic staff in sanatoria.

INCREASE OF VENEREAL DISEASES

It is unsatisfactory also that there is still an increase in venereal diseases, though the educational programme launched through the BBC, Press, films, posters and leaflets will, it is hoped, go a long way towards diminishing this scourge by removing the old and dangerous habits of secrecy and hush-hush.

Finally, it is not anticipated that there will be any serious epidemics of any type of disease as a result of the forces going or returning from the Continent in large numbers. Every precaution is taken at the ports to ensure that individuals have a clean bill of health before mingling with the rest of the community.—The Statesman.

TYPHOID INOCULATION

Dr. M. U. Ahmad, Health Officer, Calcutta Corporation, advises the public to get themselves inoculated against typhoid. People wanting Corporation assistance should get in touch with District Health Officers. Typhoid according to Dr. Ahmad, prevails in the city more or less in endemic form throughout the year with a tendency to increase during the monsoon. During 1943-44 and 1944-45, 1,462 and 1,381 persons respectively, died of the disease in the city.

(3) more widespread education regarding the value of diet, fresh air, exercise, etc.; and (4) a national milk and vitamins scheme which provides milk (free to those with lower incomes), cod liver oil and orange juice to expectant mothers and children under five years of age.

OUTBREAKS OF EPIDEMICS

Regarding epidemics, although there was a comparatively serious outbreak of influenza in late 1943 and early 1944, it was not so bad as the peace-time epidemic in 1937. Hitherto, this winter, influenza notifications have been remarkably low, but a Ministry of Health official told me: "We are keeping our fingers crossed until the end of March," as until then the danger cannot be said to have passed.

Typhoid reached a new low level last year and diphtheria is "fast coming under control." Tuberculosis and venereal diseases are listed as Britain's black spots in the health market. Last year the

NEW CURE FOR WOUNDS

RUSSIAN DISCOVERY

Essex College of Medicine and Surgery in New Jersey, W. S. A. has announced that a Russian developed serum which has cured wounds resistant to sulfa drugs and penicillin will be used for the first time in this country in research at the college.

President A. M. Koch said the work would be carried on by William M. Malisoff, newly appointed Research Professor in Biochemistry, who has been awarded a grant for research in Kodjkin's disease.

The serum was discovered by professor A. A. Bogomolets who, like Malisoff, has made considerable study of means to extend the span of life, the College said. It is credited with saving the lives of countless Red Army soldiers.

FOOD SUPPLY DEPARTMENT EMPLOYEES' UNION

At a General Meeting of the Food Supply Department Employees' Union of the Calcutta Corporation held on the 21st May, 1945, under the presidency of Mr. S. C. Ghose, Food Supply Officer, resolutions were passed electing Mr. Md. S. Anam (A. F. S. O.) as a Vice-President of the Union; demanding increase in pay and allowances of the staff of the Food Supply Department; and deciding to raise funds for the All-India Rabindra Nath Memorial Committee.

POST-WAR PLANNING

Tennessee Valley Project

What Planning Has Done In America !

[By W. L. VOORDUIX, formerly Head Planning Engineer, Tennessee Valley Authority, now Hydro-Electric Member, Central Technical Power Board, Government of India.]

In course of his introductory remarks to the film on the Tennessee Valley Authority presented before a combined audience of the Indian Branch of the Institution of Electrical Engineers and the Institution of Engineers (India), at the Royal Asiatic Society, Calcutta, only some time ago Mr. Voorduix said the following :—

Fundamentally, the Tennessee Valley Authority was set up as a 'Pilot plant' to throw the light of actual experience on the development of all the resources in a river valley, and not just one or two of the resources, and the T. V. A. was to serve all the inhabitants of the valley and not just a few special interests. In the past the Federal Government had undertaken, time and again, the construction of separate works for navigation or flood control or power. Bringing all the responsibilities together in one agency, this unity was what was new and different. The combined responsibility given to the T. V. A. made it possible to have the solution of one problem dovetail with—and not interfere with the solution of another problem.

I believe that it is well for us as engineers to remember that in an organization of this kind engineering is merely the means to an end, i.e., engineering skill is utilized to construct and operate the works which make an improvement in the general welfare of the people possible. Besides the Engineering Department, which directs its energies toward the planning, design and construction of the water control works in the river channels, and the Power Department, which operates the power system, the T. V. A. has Departments mainly concerned with agriculture, forestry, chemical engineering, health and safety, commerce, reservoir property management, as well as a Personnel Department, Finance Department, Legal Department, and Supply Department.

The management of all the inter-related tasks of the various departments is vested in a three-man Board of Directors assisted by a General Manager and General Counsel, a budget staff and an information service. The Board of Directors is appointed by the President of the United States by and with the advice and consent of the Senate.

T. V. A's SYSTEM

The T. V. A.'s system now consists of 28 major plants and an additional 13 small plants. Of the 28 major plants 22 are multi-purpose dams and reservoirs and 6 are thermal electric stations. The system of reservoirs, with a total storage capacity of 22,000,000-acre ft., controls the floods and regulates the flow of a large and turbulent river with a drainage area of some 40,000 sq. miles. A navigable channel for river craft with a 9 ft. draught is provided for a distance of 650 miles from the mouth of the Tennessee River to Knoxville, Tennessee. The total generating capacity authorised for installation at the dams and thermal electric stations is about 2,850,000 KW of which more than 2,000,000 K.W. is now installed.

The total length of transmission lines is about 16,000 miles of which more than 90 per cent. carries a voltage of 44 KV or over. The highest transmission line voltage is 154 K.V. The area covered by the transmission lines extends for a distance of 400 miles from east to west and about 200 miles from north to south. The generating stations are scattered throughout this area, the longest 154 KV line between stations is approximately 150 miles. The net generation has grown from 400,000,000 KW hours during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1934 to more than 10,000,000,000 KW hours during the year ended June 30, 1944, a growth of 25 times the original load in ten years.

The T. V. A. deliver energy to industries, neighbouring utilities and to municipalities and co-operatives, who distribute the energy to residential and rural customers in the T. V. A. area. Energy to the municipalities and co-operatives is delivered at the Sub-stations at a rate of about 2.7 pies KW hour. Contracts with the municipalities and co-operatives who own and operate the distribution systems, allow a substantial increase above this rate to be charged to the residential customers, but any surplus accumulated above interest on bonds and operat-

WATER-WORKS IN BENGAL

SATISFACTORY SUPPLY FOR 1943

As in previous year there were 52 water-works in operation during 1943 which supplied 19,011,261 gallons of filtered water to a population of 20,24,500. The quality of drinking water supplied from the various water works was satisfactory—say the reports of the Chief Engineer, Public Health and of the Sanitary Board, Bengal.

2,497 A. R. P. tube-wells sunk in 1941 and 1942 in Calcutta were maintained by the department as in the previous year. It is, however, unfortunate that reckless driving of motor vehicles caused a large number of tube-well pumps to be knocked down and damaged and that pumps or parts of the pumps continued to be stolen during the year.

Owing to the serious outbreak of epidemics of cholera and other water-borne diseases as an aftermath of the economic condition of 1943, it was considered necessary to make provision for supply of pure water throughout the province for drinking and other domestic purposes and it was accordingly decided to repair all derelict tube-wells and where possible to withdraw and resink them. The operation was restricted in the first instance to 16 districts of the province which were worst affected by cholera. The total cost on this account amounted to about Rs. 15 lakhs during the year.

ing expenditures can only be used for improvements or extensions to the distribution systems or to retire the bonded indebtedness.

FLOOD CONTROL

In the operation of the system of power plants the guiding factor is the requirement of flood control, i.e., prior to the winter season from December to March, when the major floods occur, the reservoirs are emptied to pre-determined levels and as the danger of floods becomes less during this season, they are partially refilled. After the danger of large floods has passed the refilling of the reservoirs is continued depending upon the amount of stream flow available for this purpose. During the following dry period of the year the amount stored in the reservoirs is released for minimum flow regulation allocated to the powers purpose.

The T. V. A. obtains its funds for the construction of the works by appropriations from the Federal Treasury. The total investment is expected to be in the neighbourhood of Rs. 250 crores, and it is expected that of this amount about 70 per cent. will be allocated to the powers purpose.

POSSIBILITIES IN INDIA

In taking a broad view of the possibilities of development of this nature in India, there are two points which stand out. These are the requirements for irrigation, and the greater density of population in this country. In the T. V. A. no irrigation is required, while in this country irrigation would be one of the major purposes of water control projects. This added function would make a multipurpose development much more valuable, particularly because the interests of power and irrigation are not in conflict with each other. Possibilities for power development generally occur in the upper reaches of a river where the rainfall is the heaviest, and where a substantial head is available, while possibilities for irrigation generally occur in the lower and flatter reaches of the river.

Irrigation can thus utilise the regulated flow made available from the power development. Thereby, there would be at least two paying partners instead of only one as is the case in the T. V. A. The density of population is many times greater in this country than it is in the United States and this generally also holds true for the river valleys in each country. Similar undertakings covering the same area in both countries would therefore directly benefit more people here than would be the case in the United States.

I believe that you will agree with me that developments of this nature are worthy of your serious consideration. Your future will depend in a large measure upon what you will do with your undeveloped river valleys. The film which you will see, shows one phase of the T. V. A. development and that is the work with the people themselves and the effect of the development on their daily lives.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

THE WESTERN GATE TO THE CORPORATION

To THE EDITOR, "CALCUTTA MUNICIPAL GAZETTE"

SIR,—It is a pity that in spite of a large number of durwans and chaprasis being employed by the Calcutta Corporation, the western door of the Corporation main building (opposite to Byron's Soda Water Factory) remains closed mostly without previous notice for about 10 or 12 days in each month. This causes great inconvenience to the rate-payers and other people who have to come to the Corporation on business and who use this gate for the sake of convenience. People coming from the western side of the building while attempting to use this gate very often find to their great surprise and annoyance that the same has been under lock and key. We do not know if the Care-taker of the Corporation really takes any care to see to this. The gate should either be kept regularly open or should be permanently closed with proper notice to the public.—Yours, etc..

RATEPAYER.

J. R. BANERJEA STREET

To THE EDITOR, "CALCUTTA MUNICIPAL GAZETTE"

SIR.—It has been an age-long practice to name the streets in Calcutta after the worthy sons of the country, and it is, perhaps, not too late to suggest renaming of either Sukea Street or Ram Krishna Das Lane or Badur Bagan Lane in Ward No. 4 as J. R. Banerjee Street or Lane to commemorate the name of the late Principal J. R. Banerjee, an well-known educationist and philanthropist, who served the country and helped the student community in various ways and who lived in the above locality for the best part of his life. As a gentleman of unique culture, as a teacher with infinite tenderness of heart, as a citizen of rare distinction there are, I think, only a few who can be his equal. Prof. Banerjee was also a Councillor of the Corporation of Calcutta for sometime.—Yours, etc.,

RANGOON'S ROOFLESS BUILDINGS

ARRANGEMENTS FOR REPAIR

Great rafts of teak logs, which will provide roofs to Rangoon's roofless buildings, are floating down the monsoon swollen Hlaing River from the Burma State forests to the timber yards on the west side of Rangoon's waterfront, writes an Indian Army observer.

In the next fortnight or so, many thousands of logs and hundreds of thousands of bamboos and poles will also come spinning down the river to the Rangoon timber yards.

Meanwhile, 130,000 more trees are being felled and hauled to collecting points on the river bank. The production of 100,000 charpoys, 40,000 benches, 20,000 tables and 5,000 chairs is being taken in hand by the Chief Engineer as part of the plan to restore the city.

Forty miles to the north of the city, Army engineers are preparing to instal mechanical equipment for the development of quarries which, it is hoped, will eventually yield 1,000 tons of stone a day for work on roads.

"RABINDRANATH WAY"

AND

"CHOWRINGHEE ROAD"

To THE EDITOR, "CALCUTTA MUNICIPAL GAZETTE".

Sir,—The suggestion of Mr. Mohammad Ismail to name the "Chowringhee Road" as "Rabindranath Way" is no doubt a very laudable one. It is needless to say that the people of Bengal will most gladly and wholeheartedly support the idea of perpetuating the noble memory of the Poet in a very befitting way. However, in this connection I take the opportunity to state here for the information of the Councillors of the Corporation of Calcutta as well as of the literary public that:—

(i) in the early records it is found that the original name of "Chowringhee" is "Cherangi"—(Vide Wilson's Early Annals, Vol. II, Consultation No. 851, page 173, etc.) And it is to the goddess Kali, herself called "Cherangi", from the legend of Her origin by being cut with Vishnu's disc, that they trace the name of "Chowringhee". Although some recent writers say that the name of "Chowringhee" was named after one "Chauranga Swami", there is no tangible evidence to this fact that Chauranga Swami ever came to Calcutta and lived in its jungle as an ascetic and gave his name to the village;

(ii) references to many historic buildings and places of "Chowringhee" are found in the early history of Calcutta scattered over in the pages of Bengal: Past & Present, Calcutta Faces and Places and also among the Oriental Scenerics of Thomas Daniel. Thus, the name "Chowringhee" is so inextricably interwoven with the early history of Calcutta and the name of goddess Kali (Cherangi) that it should not be effaced, or substituted with another name without making the history of Old Calcutta quite gloomy and misleading to the lovers of history.

I, therefore, suggest that if the entire portion of the "Southern Avenue" be named as "Rabindranath Way" and the Lake as "Rabindra Dighi" with a cool and green approach, it will perpetuate the noble memory of the great Poet in the most befitting manner.

I hope that the city-fathers and the authorities concerned may not have any objection to endorse my suggestions.—Yours etc.

NARENDRANATH GANGULY.

LATE PROF. P. G. BHATTACHARJEE

A meeting to condole the death of Prof. Panchu Gopal Bhattacharjee who died in the train accident near Maniram-pur station was held at the residence of the deceased on the 2nd June last. Dr. Syamaprasad Mookerjee was in the chair.

The meeting paid its homage to the memory of the deceased who was well-known for his work in the field of education and for the cause of the Congress.

The Mayor, Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, said that Prof. Bhattacharjee was a man of simple habits. He had a strong sense of responsibility and would carry out faithfully any work that might be entrusted to him. In politics, he was tolerant of the views of others and respected the views of those who belonged to the opposite camp. He was long connected with the Primary Education Committee of the Calcutta Corporation. The speaker assured the gathering that he would do his best to see that the suggestion to name a road after the deceased was put into effect.

The President, Dr. S. P. Mookerjee, said that Prof. Bhattacharjee was a dutiful man who left his mark on any kind of work that he undertook. As a successful teacher he won the respect and admiration of his students; he also won the respect and admiration of his co-workers and colleagues, as well as of the general public.

BENGAL RED AID COMMITTEE

To launch a campaign for immediate release of the pre-reform political and security prisoners of the province, the formation of an all-parties' committee has been decided upon by the Bengal Red Aid Committee.

The condition of these prisoners, among whom are persons convicted in the Chittagong Armoury Raid case, was discussed at a Press conference in Calcutta convened by Mr. Muzaffar Ahmad, President of the Red Aid Committee.

There was no reason why these people should not be released because Government knew that they had all ceased a long time ago to be terrorists. Government also knew that they were anti-Fascists to the core. Early in 1942 a statement was issued by prisoners in Dacca jail calling upon the people to participate in the war against Fascism and the worldwide struggle for democratic freedom. The Bengal Government reprinted their appeal in National War Front leaflets but refused to release them.

PROBLEM OF CLOTH DISTRIBUTION

Problems relating to the supply and distribution of cloth in Calcutta during the interim rationing period were discussed at a meeting of representatives of Ward Civil Supplies Committees in North Calcutta on Tuesday. The Mayor, Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, presided. Representatives of 17 committees were present.

The meeting demanded that the supply of cloth be made at such rate that each adult received at least one unit, according to his or her choice, by the last week of June, and that the quota for each consumer in the province be not less than 25 yards annually. The inclusion of children below 12 in the interim scheme was also urged.

Dr. Sen, who was suffering from high blood pressure, came down to Calcutta from Patna in December last. He, however, recovered from that attack by the end of February which again relapsed in the first week of April and ultimately proved fatal.

His dead body was taken to Keoratala Burning Ghat where the last rites were performed.

Dr. Sen, who was born in 1888, was a pioneer in the

"GERMANY'S HEALTH IS EXCELLENT"

Paris, May 22.

Maj.-Gen. Warren Draper, Chief of the Public Health Branch of S.H.A.E.F., to-day said that "Germany's health is excellent."

The Germans, he added, were better nourished than many people in Britain.

"Germany has sufficient food for 60 days", he said. "After that there may be serious developments. The Germans are certainly not going to get more than the people in the liberated countries."

The belief that Europe was riddled with epidemics and starved as a result of the war was not borne out by statistics, he declared.—Reuter.

FULL CLOTH RATIONING IN CALCUTTATo Be Introduced About The Middle of July

Full cloth rationing may be introduced in Calcutta about the middle of July.

Though on the basis of population Calcutta should get 1/15th of the total quantity of cloth supplied to Bengal which amounts to 34,212 bales or 51,318,000 yds monthly, the city might be given a weightage of 15 yds. per head per annum over the rural population, thus bringing its per capita allotment to 25 yds. a year.

This can be done by deducting one yard from the per capita allotment in respect of the people in the mofussil which will leave in the hands of the authorities about 56,000,000 yds. for making special allotment for Calcutta's 4,000,000 population. The districts may, therefore, get one yard less than the province's per capita allotment of 10 yds. per annum.

TOKYO—WORLD'S THIRD CITYBurnt To The Ground

It is disclosed according to Tokyo Radio message that besides the two royal palaces—the Imperial Palace and the Omiya Palace, the residence of the Dowager Empress—that have suffered damage, the Soviet, Swedish, Finnish and former U.S. Legations and Embassies, the Imperial and Bunrika Universities, practically all of Tokyo's business centre—once proudly proclaimed as fire and earthquake-proof—and large sections of the city's residential area have been burnt to the ground as a result of Allied bombing.

Conflagration has practically laid waste what was once the world's third largest metropolis. The bomb-shocked population piled all the belongings they could into carts, barrows, prams and any kind of wheeled vehicle and fled in their thousands to the safety of the open country.

THE WEEK IN THE CORPORATION

A SHORT RECORD OF THE MORE IMPORTANT DECISIONS OF AND DISCUSSIONS
AT THE CORPORATION MEETING FOR THE WEEK ENDING JANUARY 4, 1946

Purchase Of The Tramways Undertaking

Company Cancels The Contract Under Which Corporation Was To Purchase It

A letter from the Calcutta Tramways Co., Ltd.,—informing the Corporation that in view of the fact that the Corporation had been unable to obtain assent of all parties concerned in the matter of purchase of the tramways undertaking, namely, Howrah and South Suburban municipalities, Calcutta Port Commissioners and the Government of India; to obtain enactment of proposed legislation in regard to formation of a Transport Board, or to obtain the moneys necessary for the payment of the purchase price under terms of the contract the contract under which it was to purchase the tramways from January 1, 1946, was cancelled and the arbitration should not be proceeded with,—was placed before the House by the Mayor, Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, at the meeting held on Wednesday, the 2nd January, 1946.

The Company's letter was received by the Chief Executive Officer on Wednesday, and could not hence be included in the agenda for the meeting fixed for that date.

At the suggestion of the Mayor, the House decided to hold a Special Meeting on Monday, the 7th January, next for consideration of the Company's letter.

AT a Special Meeting held on Friday the 28th December last, the Corporation had considered:

(1) the letter of the Calcutta Tramways Co., Ltd., regarding the purchase price of the undertaking.

(2) the question raised by the Commissioners for the New Howrah Bridge regarding assignment of the benefit of the contract between them and the Calcutta Tramways Co., Ltd., in connection with the purchase of the undertaking;

(3) the tenders received for the appointment of an Agent to run, maintain and work the Tramways undertaking.

PRICE DISPUTE REFERRED TO ARBITRATION

The Calcutta Tramways Co., Ltd., having failed to accept the Corporation Chief Engineer's valuation, the dispute as to the proper purchase price for the undertaking was referred to arbitration in terms of an agreement entered into between the Corporation and the Company.

The Corporation had appointed Mr. Sarat Chandra Bose as its arbitrator, while the Company appointed Mr. W. J. Younie of Messrs. Price, Waterhouse, Peat & Co. as its arbitrator in the matter.

The arbitration proceedings were to commence very soon.

The legal question raised by the Commissioners of the New Howrah Bridge related to whether the Corporation possessed statutory authority to fulfil the terms of the agreement between the Commissioners and the Tramways Company.

The Chief Executive Officer in his letter in reply maintained that the Corporation had such authority. The action of the Chief Executive Officer was approved by the Corporation.

The Mayor informed the House that the Public Utilities and Markets Committee was considering the four tenders already offered to run, maintain and work the undertaking of the Tramways after the undertaking was purchased by the Corporation.

The Committee was directed to conclude its deliberations and place its recommendations before the Corporation soon.

THE QUESTION OF CORPORATION'S AUTHORITY TO RUN TRAMWAYS ON NEW HOWRAH BRIDGE

THE PRICE DISPUTE

The Corporation at its meeting held on the 6th December last approved the valuation made by the Officiating Chief Engineer of the Calcutta Tramways undertaking at Rs. 3,69,35,200 and decided that the Company be informed of the said valuation.

The Corporation also resolved that in the event of the Company not accepting the said sum the difference or dispute be referred to arbitration as provided in Clause 11 of the agreement dated the 3rd September and that Mr. Sarat Chandra Bose be nominated and requested to act as Arbitrator on behalf of the Corporation in the matter.

In pursuance of the above resolution the Calcutta Tramways Company was addressed accordingly. In reply, the Company informed the Corporation that the matter had been referred to the Home Board for instructions.

As the Company under instructions from the London Board of Directors failed to accept the valuation made on behalf of the Corporation, the Chief Executive Officer called upon the Company to appoint its own Arbitrator.

When the Company's letter declining the proposed purchase price computed by the Corporation, along with all the correspondence on the subject that had passed between the Chief Executive Officer and the Company, was placed before the House, the Mayor, Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, said that another letter had been received from the Tramways Company intimating that they had appointed Mr. W. J. Younie as their Arbitrator.

It may be recalled that the Corporation offered Rs. 3,69,35,200 as the purchase price of the Tramways undertaking which was not accepted by the Company who valued their property at Rs. 8,51,59,075.

The letters written by the Chief Executive Officer to the Calcutta Tramways Co. Ltd., were recorded.

NEW HOWRAH BRIDGE

With regard to the question whether the Corporation had the statutory authority to run tramways on the New Howrah Bridge, a bunch of correspondence passed between the Chief Executive Officer and the New Howrah Bridge Commissioners. The Corporation approved the contents of the letters written by the Chief Executive Officer.

The Commissioners of the New Howrah Bridge had no objection to the Tramways Company assigning the agreement to the Corporation provided the latter were able to satisfy them that the municipality possessed statutory authority to fulfil the terms of the agreement. They suggested that the Corporation should obtain the Advocate-General's opinion in addition to the legal opinion already sent by them.

The Chief Executive Officer, Mr. Sailapati Chatterji, said that he had replied to the Howrah Bridge Commissioners' letter pointing out that the question whether the Corporation had the statutory authority to fulfil the terms of the agreement did not concern the Commissioners. It was a matter between the Corporation and the Tramways Company.

TENDERS FOR CORPORATION AGENT

Consideration of the tenders received by the Corporation in response to its advertisement for an Agent to run the Tramways undertaking on behalf of the municipality from 1st January, 1946 was postponed.

The House was informed that the Public Utilities and Markets Standing Committee which was considering the tenders, had not yet concluded its deliberations.

The Corporation had received the following tenders for the appointment of an Agent to run, maintain and work the undertaking of the Calcutta Tramways Company :—

Transport Syndicate (6, Old Post Office Street), Anandram Gajadhar (51, Vivekananda Road), Ballygunge Building Society Ltd. (220-A, Rash Behari Avenue) and S. K. Roy & Co. (2, Dalhousie Square, East).

EX-COUNCILLOR A. C. BANERJEE

The Corporation condole the death of Mr. A. C. Banerjee, who was a Commissioner of the old Corporation for about 20 years and was also a Councillor of the new Corporation for a term. As a mark of respect to his memory, the House adjourned for 15 minutes.

The death occurred on the 26th December last at the Calcutta residence of Ex-Councillor A. C. Banerjee.

Mr. Banerjee was for some time a member of the old Bengal Legislative Council. During the anti-partition movement he was one of the Chief Lieutenants of the late Sir Surendranath Banerjee. He was also connected with many other public associations.

Born in 1886, he was called to the English Bar in 1890, and was for many years an Assessor of the Calcutta Improvement Trust Tribunal. He is survived by his only son, Mr. Abani Banerjee, Barrister-at-Law.

The Mayor while referring to the death of Mr. Banerjee recalled his valuable services to the Corporation.

CANCELLATION OF CONTRACT

A letter of the Tramways Company under the signature of its Agent, dated the 2nd January, 1946, and addressed to the Chief Executive Officer, was received on the 2nd January, the day for which the Corporation meeting was fixed. The letter stated inter alia :—

"We have to bring to your notice the fact that, since the Corporation of Calcutta has been unable to obtain the assents mentioned in Paragraph 7 of the Contract, dated the 3rd September, 1945, or to obtain the enactment of the legislation to which reference is made in Paragraph 8 of such Contract, or to obtain the money necessary for the payment of the purchase price under such Contract, the Contract is cancelled in terms of Clause 5 thereof.

"We have, therefore, to request that since by reasons of this fact the submission under which the arbitrators were appointed is also cancelled, the said arbitration should not be proceeded with.

"We shall be glad to have your acknowledgement and your assurance that no steps will be taken in the arbitration.

"Our solicitors, Messrs. Orr Dignam and Co., have this day intimated the above facts to the arbitrators and stated that they will of course be pleased to appear before the arbitrators if the latter desire to put any questions with a view to elucidating further facts in consequence of which the Contract is cancelled."

The provisions which the Corporation had failed to comply with referred to obtaining consent from the Government of India to run the tramways on Government land and on the New Howrah Bridge, to get enacted legislation as was necessary to enable the Corporation to purchase and run the tramways. It was also said that the money which was necessary for the purchase of the undertaking was also not available.

Placing the letter before the House the Mayor said that after this letter the Corporation was to decide what course of action the Chief Executive Officer would take in the matter. He suggested the holding of an emergent meeting for coming to a decision.

LAW OFFICER'S OPINION

Councillor Nalin Chandra Paul suggested that the Law Officer's opinion on the matter should be made available to the members when they met on the next occasion to consider the matter.

The Law Officer should also be asked to give his opinion as to whether the objection of the Port Commissioners could at all interfere with the right of Corporation to purchase the tramways undertaking.

The Mayor assured Councillor Paul that the Law Officer's opinion would be obtained and circulated among the members.

The House then decided to hold a Special Meeting on Monday, the 7th January next for consideration of the Company's letter.

BENGAL PUBLIC HEALTH SCHEMESIR DALAL'S DISCUSSIONS

Sir Adeshir Dalal, Member for Planning and Development, Government of India, who left Calcutta on the 25th December last had discussed on development plans with the Bengal Government officials.

After detailed discussion of the agricultural schemes, the medical and public health schemes, particularly anti-malaria measures, were considered. The necessity of re-organizing the Public Health Department to cope with the public health measures required in the Province was emphasized. The education plans were then discussed.

Sir Ardeshir suggested that an industrial plan for the Province should be prepared, not so much with the idea of the Provincial Government taking a share in the management of the industries, but to help and guide industrial development in Bengal.

GOVERNMENT DIRECTIVES TO CORPORATION—II

The proposal moved by Councillor Dr. Sinha was read out and the same was seconded by Councillor Dr. M. N. Sarker.

COUNCILLOR A. SATTAR

Councillor Abdus Sattar referring to the 2nd paragraph of the Corporation resolution dated the 29th March last opined that Government be informed that all that was possible was being done.

COUNCILLOR J. L. SAHA

Whereupon Councillor Jogindra Lal Saha calling attention of the House to the 3rd paragraph of the resolution, dated the 29th March, pointed out that the Corporation should also draw the attention of Government for payment of their dues to the Corporation.

Councillor Rafique suggested reiteration of the previous resolution of the House.

"SUPERIOR GOVERNMENT CAUGHT US NAPPING"

—S. M. USMAN

The Mayor having, in answer to questions regarding Councillor Dr. Sinha's motion, declared the same to be perfectly in order, Councillor S. M. Usman said that they were simply evading their duty. If they really meant business, they should devise ways and means for the betterment of the city. "We are shirking our duty. Superior Government caught us napping."

Councillor Usman blamed the Corporation executives for not carrying out their duties. He said that the assessment department had become a serious scandal and that was why the Corporation could not find out means to carry out the directives in spite of the fact that provision had been made for them in the budget.

COUNCILLOR J. H. METHOLD

Councillor J. H. Methold thought that the Corporation was in default in carrying out the directives. They should ask the executive to carry out the directives as quickly as possible.

The money, he said, must be found out and incomplete work should be finished as quickly as possible to prevent any eventuality.

COUNCILLOR J. A. PARKS

Councillor J. A. Parks said that if they passed the resolution as moved by Councillor Dr. Sinha they would simply be asking Government to take over the Corporation immediately.

Councillor Parks proposed to direct the Chief Executive Officer to inform Government in detail what action had so far been taken by the Corporation and what actions could not be taken due to lack of funds and to enquire to what extent Government were prepared to assist the Corporation in implementing the directives.

"CORPORATION HAD BEEN CONDEMNED UNHEARD"

—D. MOOKERJEE

Councillor Debabrata Mookerjee complained that the Corporation had been condemned unheard. Government were fully aware that the Corporation had to tide over a crisis of a magnitude which had not taken place during the recent, if not also the past, history of the Corporation.

"Why this nasty haste on the part of Government to drive us to a corner and put their feet down upon us when Government themselves are not prepared to help us tide over our difficulties?"—Councillor Mookerjee asked. After the issue of the directives, the Corporation tried its best to implement them, but Government did not come forward with a helping hand which the Corporation expected of them.

COUNCILLOR M. A. H. ISPAHANI

Councillor M. A. H. Ispahani said that the Corporation should admit that it was in default. It could, however, point out to Government the difficulties that stood in the way of proper execution of the directives.

COUNCILLOR A. A. WISE

Councillor A. A. Wise observed that the Corporation had not fulfilled its obligation as it should have done. But as there was no necessity of washing the dirty linen, he appealed to the Councillors of all parties to get together and work as a team.

COUNCILLOR P. S. BASU

Councillor Purnendu Sekhar Basu complained that the Corporation had always received step-motherly treatment from Government, although it had been doing its duties consistent with the funds available.

He mentioned that during the period of war the Corporation had supplied water not only to the people of the city but also to a large number of military personnel. Still, Government had not given a copper for that. From 1888 up till to-day Government had been giving only Rs. 4,100 to the Corporation for the maintenance of the fire brigade, whereas the revenues out of amusement tax, motor vehicles tax, sales tax, etc., went fully, or in major portions, to the Government coffer.

COUNCILLOR B. K. BANERJI

Councillor Bejoy Kumar Banerji, accounting for the slow progress of the Corporation work, recited the various difficulties lying before the institution. And the worst of all, it was impossible to find money.

"ACKNOWLEDGE MISTAKE AND ASK FOR HELP"

—A. R. SIDDIQI

Alderman Abdur Rahman Siddiqi, characterizing the Government letter as damaging to the Corporation, observed that the House must find out how best their civic rights could be safeguarded.

Referring to the Mayor's statement regarding the Government letter being an ex parte document, he pointed out that the Chief Executive Officer's report did not support the Mayor's contention.

"I never hold the Corporation in high esteem," said Alderman Siddiqi. "Its birth took place in politics in the days of C. R. Das, who took charge of it."

A municipality or a Corporation was a subordinate body, and, therefore, such a subordinate body had to accept directives and had to submit to the superior body, Government. No Corporation could claim complete independence from Government. During the last two years Government had given the Corporation perhaps a crore of rupees in various ways but its progress had been the progress of a rake.

Government had condoned crime after crime; dishonesty after dishonesty. The Corporation had become a sink of immorality, dishonesty and a stink to the nostrils of the rate-payers. The Corporation had come to a state of bankruptcy because of its incapability.

Had the rate-payers paid their rates correctly, he believed the Corporation would have received a crore of rupees more. Alderman Siddiqi charged that the Corporation officers were neglectful of their duties.

Alderman Siddiqi suggested, as the case was, that they should admit that they had gone wrong. That would be honest. The courageous attitude for them to adopt would be to acknowledge their mistake and ask Government to extend a helping hand in an effort to re-build their position.

He asked the House to accept Councillor Parks' motion.

"WE ARE PREPARED TO GO OUT"

—S. C. RAY CHAUDHURI

Councillor Sudhir Chandra Ray Chaudhuri, calling attention of the House to the occasional visits of Alderman Siddiqi for blaming the executives and abusing the fellow Councillors, remarked that the game was started by the Muslim League Ministry, during the time they held office, with a view to supersede the Corporation. During that time the Corporation demand for a little amendment in the Municipal Act for facilitating the purchase of the tramways was refused by Sir Nazimuddin. They also persistently opposed the acquisition of the tramways.

In view of the fact that it was Government alone who were responsible for over-population in the city, damages to roads by military lorries, etc., he demanded release of the Corporation from the hands of Government.

"If Government want to supersede the Corporation, let them come out and say so openly. We are prepared to go out and take our stand by the side of the people." He thought that the directives were mere devices and subterfuges to prepare the ground for supersession of the Corporation.

Continuing Councillor Ray Chaudhuri emphasized that without enhancing the rate they had carried on so long but now it had become an impossibility unless other avenues for increasing the revenue were opened up for them.

He then moved a rider to the original motion of Councillor Dr. Sinha which was accepted by the original mover.

THE MAYOR

Winding up the debate, the Mayor, Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, informed the House that 4 out of the 16 directives had already been carried out. Work in connection with eight others had been taken in hand and would be completed in due course. Explanation had been given by the Chief Executive Officer why the remaining four had not been taken in hand. The executive did their best to carry out the directives, and if they had failed, it was because of lack of funds.

He appealed to the members of the House that they should all put their heads together and work as a team to improve the condition in the city.

Councillor Parks' motion was then put to vote and lost.

The original motion of Councillor Dr. Sinha along with the rider put forward by Councillor Ray Chaudhuri was adopted.

Mahatma Gandhi In Calcutta

Pandit Nehru's Busy Engagements In The City

MAHATMA GANDHI'S prayer congregation was resumed at Sodepore Khadi Pratisthan on the 21st December evening, after three days, during which Gandhi had been away from the Ashram on a tour to Santiniketan and Rampurhat.

"WE ARE ALL TRAVELLERS"

Addressing the prayer gathering Mahatmaji said:—

"We are all travellers. I had been to Santiniketan for two days. I have returned and will stay here for two or three days and again I will go to Midnapore.

"We are all travellers. Sooner or later we will have to undertake a long journey. This is the preparation for the long one. We must not be sorry for any travelling, short or long. But we do feel sorry for the long journey because we do not understand the significance of life and death, which are equal.

"To-day's song conveys the idea appropriately (Ai Korechho Bhalo Nithur, Ai Korechho Bhalo). This is a prayer to God to burn our passion. And only when we have succeeded in that, we will have no sorrow for the long journey."

Earlier that day Gandhiji interviewed the Mayor of Calcutta, Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee.

Mr. Sarat Chandra Bose called on Mahatma Gandhi in the afternoon and was closetted with him for about two hours.

Among others who met Mahatmaji were Lady Henderson, wife of the Hon'ble Mr. Justice A. G. R. Henderson, and Mr. D. K. Lahiri Choudhury, M.L.A. (Central).

"TO BE FEARLESS"

"We do not want to live on the mercy of anybody except God," said Mahatma Gandhi addressing the congregational meeting at Sodepore on the 22nd December last.

"Gita teaches us to be fearless", he added "If you could win that, nobody would be able to keep you down. If anybody asks me to bow down my head— I am an old man and anybody can push me or knock me down—but if I say, I won't, utmost he can do, he can kill me. This fearlessness is Swaraj. If everybody acts in the same way or feels in the same spirit, Swaraj is there. It, however, does not mean that Government will go away to-day but it means that no power can make us bow down our head. We would not achieve independence by simply repeating the word like a parrot. Our deed must be on the same line."

Explaining the evening song, Gandhiji said that it was not an easy task to select an appropriate song out of the many composed by Gurudev (Rabindranath Tagore). In this particular song, the Poet asked them not to be coward. They were in a small boat and God was their helmsman. When God was their helmsman they should not be afraid of anything. His hands were not shaky and He would safely escort them to their destination.

Gandhiji asked his audience to have faith in God. They would have to swim across the ocean of life. After all, what was fear. The word itself frightened them. He, therefore, advised them that they must take the essence of the song to their heart. Gandhiji asked them not to leave him nor, he said, would he leave them so long as he was in Calcutta. He also advised them to take part in the prayer by singing in chorus with him?

Mr. Sarat Chandra Bose had another two-hour talk with Mahatma Gandhi.

Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru also saw Gandhiji.

Fifty members of the Indian National Army Corps presented a guard of honour to Mahatma Gandhi, while he was on his way to the evening prayer ground. Mahatmaji acknowledged their salute with his usual smile.

FIFTH INTERVIEW BETWEEN GANDHIJI AND MR. CASEY

Mahatma Gandhi had an interview with H. E. Mr. R. G. Casey, Governor of Bengal, at Government House on the 22nd December last.

Mahatma Gandhi arrived at Government House at about 7-45 P.M. and left at 9-45 P.M.

This was the fifth interview between Mahatma Gandhi and Mr. Casey.

The day on which Kasturba had died was quietly observed in Sodepore Ashram on the 22nd December. Mahatma Gandhi was present. The eighteenth chapter of the Gita was read in observance of the day during prayer time in the morning.

A congregational spinning in memory of the deceased was held later in the day which was conducted by Mahatma Gandhi. It lasted for about an hour.

Mr. Sailo Kumar Mukherji, Chairman of the Howrah Municipality, had an interview with Mahatma Gandhi during his morning walk. Mahatma Gandhi advised Mr. Mukherji and all Congress Councillors to closely study his articles and writings on municipal administration and try to follow those principles in their civic duties.

"PRESENCE OF GOD"

In his after-prayer discourse on the 23rd December last at Sodepore Gandhiji explained the inner meaning of the famous poem of Rabiudranath entitled "You have broken open the door and come to me, Oh Effulgent One" (Bhengecho Duar, Ashecho Jyotirmoy) which was sung during the prayer.

Gandhiji said that they should understand the spirit of the song. In it the devotee was welcoming the Effulgent One, signifying God, for breaking open the door of his heart. In the ordinary case what did they find? They had seen that when a thief broke into a house the householder got frightened and raised an alarm. But in this case the devotee instead of getting frightened was inviting the One who would break the door of his heart open. What was the reason? It was because the devotee knew that the door of his heart ought to be broken in order to make it clean for the abode of God. He knew that unless his heart was clean he would not be able to realize God and that was why he was so fearless. When the devotee's heart was clean and purified and when he began to feel the presence of God in his heart he became absolutely fearless. If they could make their heart clean and purified, their attitude of life would be changed and even their greatest enemy would have a change of heart by coming in contact with them. That was why he would ask them to digest the inner meaning of the Bhajan.

Mahatma Gandhi met about 100 workers of the Bengal Congress Committee at an informal conference.

THE DAY OF SILENCE

The day of silence of Gandhiji came on the 24th December last. So the prayer was conducted by Mr. Kanu Gandhi, who at the conclusion of the prayer read out the written message of Gandhiji.

In the message Gandhiji said that Monday, the 24th December, was a great day for the Christians. The day following would be Christmas Day and that was the reason why they had heard in the Bhajan a translation of one of the best English songs from the Book of Psalms. They should understand the meaning of the song. It depicted one of the many who had lost his way and was penitent for going on a wrong track. Now after a period he had been able to realize his mistake and he implored to God to guide and show him the right way. He appealed to God to illumine his way in order that he might not fall into numerous pits which covered all his way. Wistful as he was to realize God, he fervently appealed to Him to take him to the other world. He knew that it was God alone who was able to take him from darkness to the kingdom of light.

Mr. L. G. Thatté, General Secretary, All-India Anti-Pakistan Front with a party of about 25 went to Sodepore at noon to offer picketing before Gandhiji's cottage at the Sodepore Khadi Pratisthan Ashram. They carried Swastika flags and shouted anti-Pakistan slogans.

The demonstrators did not enter the Ashram but waited near the gate.

There was no interference with them.

Mahatma Gandhi left Calcutta on his tour over Midnapore and other places.

"The Intentions Of Britain Are Well-known To India"

—Pandit Nehru

THE proposed Parliamentary delegation to India would serve no useful purpose, declared Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru addressing a mammoth meeting of Calcutta citizens at Deshabandhu Park on the 21st December last.

The British Parliament, Pandit Nehru said, had been ruling over India for the last 150 years, and, if it had not been possible for it to know the Indian mind, he failed to understand how a delegation sent by it could serve any useful purpose.

Panditji considered it derogatory to his own self-respect as well as to the self-respect of the Indian nation that a delegation of this kind should be sent out to India to study the Indian situation.

Panditji considered the delegation to be a huge joke and a device to shelve the real question.

AN UNDEMOCRATIC BILL

Proceeding Panditji said that he understood that a Bill was going to be passed in Parliament which would give power to Central Government so that its actions could not be criticized by any Court.

There was absolutely no justification for this undemocratic Bill, Panditji said, even in war-time, not to speak of peace-time. This measure, he said, was being enacted simply to tie down the hands of the Congress Ministries which the world knew were going to be established after the elections.

They paid little heed to what was being done in England concerning India, because the intentions of Britain were well-known to Indians, Panditji said.

Panditji recalled that while he was in detention in Ahmednagar Fort he had read about Mr. Branden Bracken announcing in the House of Commons that the question of India was in the cold storage.

To that his reply was that the question of India could brook no delay as their problems had stood in need of immediate solution. Otherwise, the storm which was brewing would sweep over India.

NEED FOR DISCIPLINE

Young men's need for discipline and training for service in the cause of the country was emphasized by Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru speaking at a crowded students' meeting in Sraddhananda Park Calcutta on the 22nd December last.

The period of studentship, he said, was essentially a period of training one to do a job well, whatever it was. Students should try to understand politics and economics in relation to the day-to-day knowledge of what was happening in fields and factories and other spheres of life. This was necessary because they would have to shoulder the burden in the India of to-morrow. What future India was going to be like ultimately depended on young men and women.

Pandit Nehru explained that politics of India to-day concerned two things, political freedom and rapid economic advance. It was a politics of revolutionary change,—change in the condition of people's way of living.

AN ALL-INDIA OUTLOOK

Addressing another meeting at Girish Park, the same day Pandit Nehru expressed the view that provincialism, sectarianism and isolationism stood in the way of India's freedom and progress.

Pandit Nehru said that they must sink their differences to achieve freedom which alone could solve their problems, political, social or economic, which were all inter-linked. They must cultivate an all-India outlook.

A purse of Rs. 50,000 was presented to Pandit Nehru.

He also formally opened the Seth Anandram Jaipuria College at Raja Naba Kissen Street

Dr. D. N. Chatterjee, Blood Transfusion Officer, Bengal, collected his blood for the Calcutta Blood Bank shortly before he left for the reception given him at Girish Park.

DESHABANDHU C. R. DAS

Pandit Nehru installed the same day a marble bust of Deshabandhu Chittaranjan Das at Kalika Theatre, in South Calcutta.

Dr. B. C. Roy who presided over the function said that the stone representation of one who was the very embodiment of life was a very unsatisfactory thing. He gave his all for the relief of the distressed and the poor Chittaranjan would never die. He lived in the hearts of his countrymen.

Pandit Nehru said that when he was asked to come to a theatre he was rather surprised. But when he learnt that he was to unveil the bust of Deshabandhu he could not resist the request. He had the fortune to be associated in work with Deshabandhu. When one has to work with great souls one imbibes some of his qualities. When he recalled the old memories of 20 to 30 years back his heart was filled with joy as well as sadness. Even if Deshabandhu's bust was installed in a small place, he believed it had its utility.

Panditji was presented with a cheque of Rs. 6,000 by the authorities of the Theatre to be spent in aid of hospitals.

Prior to his departure for Santiniketan Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru along with Dr. B. C. Roy witnessed the screening of "Amerec", a picture depicting bustee life.

As Pandit Nehru could not reach the railway station in time he left Calcutta on the night of the 22nd December for Santiniketan by car. From Santiniketan he proceeded to Patna.

MR. SARAT C. BOSE'S ADVICE TO PRINCES

The hold of British Imperialism on India was bound to end very soon, and the people was in no mood to tolerate any misrule any longer; the rulers of the Native States should take note of that fact, observed Mr. Sarat Chandra Bose presiding over a public meeting largely attended by the people of Bikaner at Maheswari Bhawan on the 28th December last. The meeting passed a resolution protesting against the "repressive measures adopted by the Bikaner Government to suppress people's consciousness for political advancement" and also viewed with concern the hunger strike of Magharam Baidya and other political prisoners in that State which had been going on for the last 40 days.

Addressing the meeting, Mr. Bose said that for the last 200 years the people of British India had been facing problems similar to that faced by the people of Native States. It was regrettable that the rulers of the Native States who were themselves Indians should copy the laws and ordinances of the British India and promulgate them in their own Governments.

Mr. Bose also added that he would like to tell the rulers of princely India that they should give up the way of running administration on the bureaucratic model as prevailing in India. They should realise that the Maharajas or Rajas ruled in the country in name only; the country belonged to kisans and mazdoors, Maharajas or Rajas might come and go, but the kisans and mazdoors remained there and the Government should be run in a way best suited to their interest. The rulers, if they were to be real rulers, should be imbued with the spirit of serving the kisans and mazdoors.

Tea and Industrial Output

*F*EW matters have received such detailed attention since the war began as the efficiency of industrial production. In India the problem has been greater than in most other countries because, to meet the basic needs of the fighting forces, a great new industry has had to be created without the help of either a large machine tool industry or a large mass of skilled labour accustomed to factory conditions.

That tea—India's own product—has played a valuable part in achieving unprecedented output is a matter of no small satisfaction. The part that tea has played—is playing, and will continue to play—is to promote concentration. Not so long ago it was accepted by factory executives without questioning that output must fall towards the end of a working shift. To-day this theory has been discarded as unsound, for repeated experiments have proved beyond question that tea served to the workers on the job renews concentration and flagging energies with the result that output remains at its peak level right to the end of the shift.

Our considerable experience in these matters is at the disposal of all employers. A short pamphlet entitled Canteens for the Workers has just been issued on this subject, which will be sent free on application to the Commissioner, Indian Tea Market Expansion Board, 101, Clive St., Calcutta.

Sir Philip Francis

(By B. V. RAY, M.A.)

ONE of the outstanding figures in English Society in Calcutta during the latter days of the 18th Century was Sir Philip Francis, one of the four Councillors appointed under the New Regulating Act passed by the British Parliament to form the Council of the Governor-General, Warren Hastings. He arrived here in 1774 and by his own personal qualities as well as by reason of his exalted position, became one of the leaders of English Society. From the beginning the four Councillors (Francis, Col. Monson, General Clive and Richard Barwell) divided themselves into two groups in the Council, one group supporting Hastings, and the other against him. I need not go into the causes of this divided faction and for my present purposes it is sufficient to mention that Francis was against Hastings. The famous duel he fought with Hastings is well known, and I have already described it in detail in the pages of the Calcutta Municipal Gazette.* In this article I will deal with another matter connected with Francis' career in Calcutta viz., the criminal case in which he was involved (Grand vs. Francis) and for which he had to face trial at the newly established Supreme Court.

Before going on to the trial and the affair leading up to it, I will deal with the question, where was Francis' house in Calcutta? His brother-in-law, Alexander Macrabbie came out with him to India as his Private Secretary, and was later appointed Sheriff of Calcutta. Macrabbie kept a diary, and under date 21st February, 1776 he wrote: "We have at last engaged a capital house, the best in town, but such a rent! £100 a month is enormous!" A rent of £100 a month came to rupees one thousand at the then prevailing rate of exchange and was certainly an "enormous" sum to pay. Francis himself also wrote to John Burke in England: "Here I live, in the finest house in Bengal, with a hundred servants, a country-house, and spacious gardens, horses and carriages." The position of this house was made clear by the evidence of a witness in the case to which I have alluded above (Grand vs. Francis), when the khidmutgar of Mr. Grand in identifying Francis said "Mr. Francis the Counsellor who lives behind the Play-House." At that time the Play House or Theatre was situated at the corner of the present-day Lyons' Range and Clive Street, and the house rented by Francis lay "behind" or to the north of it. In recent times the site was occupied by the New Oriental Bank and was purchased in 1893 by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce for construction of the Royal Exchange, which occupies it now. I may mention in passing, that the Royal Exchange building was constructed at a cost of five lakhs of rupees and was formally opened by Lord Ronaldshay, Governor of Bengal, in 1918. A bronze tablet is affixed to its walls, stating that it occupies the site of the Town House of Sir Philip Francis, Member of Council 1774-1780.

As regards the "country-house" mentioned by Francis in his letter to Burke, it bore the name of the "Lodge," and Mr. Busteed, the historian believed it to be the Magistrates' House in Alipore, now the official residence of the Collector of 24-Parganas. It was described by Macrabbie in his diary as "consisting of a spacious hall and four chambers, surrounded by a veranda and a colonnade, standing in the midst of twenty acres of ground." Francis purchased it in 1775, and later sold it (in April 1780) to Mr. Livius for Rs. 80,000.

Coming now to the famous case, it concerns a gentleman named G. F. Grand, who first came out to India in 1766, and after serving for a short period in the Military establishment of the East India Company, went back to England. Then having secured an appointment as Writer in the Civil Service of the Company he came out again in 1776. He married a young and exquisitely beautiful girl named Miss Verlee (or Werlee) at Chandernagore, and both lived in Calcutta. Mrs. Grand has been described by contemporaries as very beautiful, and Busteed says: "In face, form, figure and gracefulness of carriage, she seems to have presented a combination quite unrivalled. And beyond this she was dowered with that rare and special beauty, which perhaps ranks highest in the scale of female attractions—a glorious head of hair." At the time she was married to Grand (July 1777) she was only 15 years of age. As regards Sir Philip, Busteed says: "To him also nature had been prodigal of her gifts. In addition to his rare mental endowments, he was remarkable for an exterior described as "strikingly handsome." His contemporaries speak of his tall, erect, well-proportioned figure, his classical features, his small, delicately moulded ears and soft, shapely hands, etc." He was then 38 years old. He met the lady at social functions and as is natural, the preference and attentions paid by him, a handsome and experienced man of the world, to a girl in her teens, gratified her and made her look upon him with favour. "Specially in India, such a man's getting into further favour is facilitated especially by high official position." No doubt it was extremely flattering to the young girl to be the object of such marked attention from such a high personage as Sir Philip Francis, Member of the Council of the Governor-General.

For what follows, we have Grand's own description in his published memoirs:

"On December 8, 1778, I went out of my house about nine o'clock the happiest, as I thought myself, of men; and between eleven and twelve o'clock returned the same night to it as miserable as any man could feel. I left it prepossessed with a sense that I was blessed with the most beautiful as well as the most virtuous of wives, ourselves honoured and respected, moving in the first circle, and having every prospect of speedy advancement. Scarcely had I sat down to supper at my benefactor Mr. Barwell's society . . . than I was struck with the deepest anguish and pain. A servant, who was in the habit of attending Mrs. Grand, came and whispered to me that Mr. Francis was caught in my house and secured by my Jemadar (an upper servant exercising a certain authority over other servants). I rose up from table . . . and sent for a friend out, whom I requested to accompany me."

He then took Major Palmer (Hastings' Secretary) with him, but on reaching his house they were surprised to find, not Francis, but Mr. Shee (afterwards Sir George Shee) held down on a chair in a lower apartment, with two more gentlemen there, all entreating the Jemadar to let Shee go. (These two were Mr. Shore, afterwards Lord Teignmouth, and a Mr. Archdekin). The Jemadar explained to Grand that Francis had been in his mistress' apartment on the upper floor to which he (Francis) had gained access by means of a ladder. The servants' suspicions had been roused on finding the ladder, and Mrs. Grand's apartment locked on the inside, and they had created a turmoil. Francis had then come downstairs, where, in answer to his whistle, the other gentlemen had scaled the compound wall and rushed in, having been evidently waiting in readiness to help Francis if necessary. A scuffle between them and the servants had followed, in which Francis succeeded in making his escape, and the Jemadar had only been able to hold down Mr. Shee.

The next morning Grand sent Francis a challenge to fight a duel, as the custom of the time demanded in order to vindicate his honour, but Francis refused to fight. Grand writes thus in his own narrative:

"I wrote to Mr. Francis that, void of every spark of principle and honour as I deemed him, still I trusted he would not deny me the meeting which I summoned him to immediately, with any friend he might choose to bring. His reply was laconic and easy. It was couched in these terms: that, conscious of having done me no injury, and that I laboured under a complete mistake, he begged leave to decline the proposed invitation, and that he had the honour to remain my most obedient etc. etc."

This exasperated Grand, who then filed a "plea" in the Supreme Court against Francis for seducing his wife, claiming damages amounting to fifteen lakhs of rupees. The case was taken up in February, 1779 and lasted for nearly a month, many witnesses being examined. In the course of his deposition, Grand's Khidmutgar stated that "when Mr. Francis came out he said 'give me that thing' (the ladder), 'I will give you money.' 'I will make you great men.' He spoke to the Jemadar and all the servants. He also said 'Don't you know me? I am Mr. Francis' etc. etc. (The interested reader will find a complete account of the case in Busted's "Echoes from Old Calcutta"). The case ended on 6th March, 1779, when judgment was pronounced against Francis, damages amounting to 50,000 sicca rupees being awarded to Grand. It may be mentioned that the amount was paid by Francis.

Grand obtained a transfer to Patna and later went to Tirhoot, where he started an Indigo manufacturing concern. His career afterwards is of no interest but the subsequent career of Mrs. Grand is interesting. Three months after being divorced from her husband, she passed into the "protection" of Francis. Later, she went to France and when the French Revolution broke out, she succeeded in escaping from France to England. Going back to France again in 1797, she came under the notice of Prince de Talleyrand, the famous diplomat, who was then Foreign Minister. She lived with him for some time, and later, was married to him in 1802 at the intercession of the Empress Josephine, Consort of Napoleon Bonaparte. She thus became Princess de Talleyrand and lived till 1835. It is because of her long residence in and connection with France that she is referred to by historians as "Madame" Grand instead of Mrs. Grand.

HEALTH & HYGIENE

Water And Its Purification.

(By M. B. SEN GUPTA)

THE necessity for water purification, in its truest sense, has been felt with the advance of human civilization. It is evident that primitive people did not consider it to be of pressing importance as long as they had provision for securing and storing a constant supply of water. The people of China were familiar with the sinking of Artesian wells, but the first of their kind in Europe was sunk in a city of Northern France in 1126. The necessity for proper arrangements for the supply of water made itself felt when, with the increase of population, people began to congregate in cities. Collection and storage of water in suitable reservoirs and its conveyance to the consumers followed. By the invention of the steam engine, power and machinery for pumping water were made available. Cast iron pipes replaced wooden mains in 1800. In fact, the birth of the Water Works and the gradual improvements in operation began from the year 1800. Sand filters came into use in England in 1829 and rapid sand filters with coagulants in 1885. The use of Chlorine and its compounds for disinfection of water were introduced in Belgium in 1902.

PURE WATER

At one time people were satisfied with water, from which obvious suspended impurities had been removed, and accepted fairly turbid water. But to-day, those responsible for water supply cannot rest content with merely supplying clear and transparent water; it should be tasteless and odourless, should be harmless to the distributing mains, should not give trouble to the housewife in domestic work, should not consume soap in excess and, last but not least, should be available in abundance.

We generally have our water from river, lake, well or spring. Water is a universal solvent, deriving its soluble ingredients from its source and the strata through which it travels. Some waters contain more of lime, some more of iron. This is due to the fact that water while flowing through strata of these ingredients dissolves a certain proportion of them. Pure distilled water, which has no dissolved contents in it, has no taste at all. When minerals and organic substances in water exceed a certain proportion, they are termed "impurities." The river, on its flow, carries along with it the washings of the soil, plants and trees, excretions of the human body and decayed matter of animal and vegetable origin. It is therefore natural that such water may contain injurious substances and bacteria. These bacteria, which are invisible to the naked eye, bring upon us untold sickness, suffering and loss of life.

BOILED WATER

It is a popular belief that water once boiled is free from germs. This is not always the case: on the first boil, completely germinated organisms no doubt die, but certain bacteria having special resistive capacity may survive and even thrive under favourable conditions. For this reason, water has to be boiled for two or three successive days to make it pure. However, to our great relief, it may be mentioned that all pathogenic germs are generally short-lived and are killed by a little heat or even in inclement weather.

Typhoid, Cholera and Dysentery are water-borne diseases. In fact, "Spirillum Cholera" of Asiatic Cholera, "Bacillus Typhosus" of Typhoid fever and "Bacillus Dysenteria" of Dysentery have all been detected in contaminated water. Spirillum Cholera is weaker than Bacillus Typhosus and cannot survive long outside the human system. It is killed within ten minutes at a temperature of 60 deg. C and can be very easily destroyed by chemical disinfectants. Poor people are generally victims of these diseases because of their unhygienic mode of living. They bathe in streams and lakes which frequently serve as carriers of infection.

WATER PURIFICATION

Water purification consists in removing impurities in water. Boiling is undoubtedly the best method but is impracticable for various reasons. There are three stages in purification, which are:

- (i) Making the water clear and transparent by the removal of suspended matter;
- (ii) Removing Calcium and Magnesium salts, if present; and
- (iii) Sterilizing.

Even ancients felt the desirability of removing suspended particles. Though they could not conceive of any chemicals for this purpose, they noticed that these particles settled down by themselves, if the water was allowed to remain quiescent for a time. The upper layers of water could then be decanted and used. This process is called "Sedimentation." But there is another kind of impurity which evenly mixes with the water and becomes, so to say, one with it. This is termed "Colloidal impurity." Scientists are of opinion that this kind of impurity always remains floating in water on account of an electric charge, and settles down only when the charge is neutralized. Neutralisation can be achieved by the addition of various chemicals, the best known amongst them being Alum which can be safely used without impairing the quality of water.

FILTERED WATER

After removing suspended impurities to a considerable extent by the above method, the water is made transparent by passing through filters. There are several types of filters such as (1) Slow Sand filters, (2) Rapid Gravity filters and (3) Pressure filters. There is difference of opinion as to which is the best, but without going into technical details, it can be said that Slow Sand filters are best suited for the removal of bacteria. Water, after having passed through Slow Sand filters at a proper rate, can safely be used without any sterilisation, the bacteria being unable to penetrate the thin film of Aluminium Hydroxide on the filter bed. The disadvantage of this type of filters is that enormous space is required to build a filter bed, which is rather a problem in big cities. In the case of other filters, as water is passed through by pressure about fifty times more water can be filtered through each square foot area of the filter bed. Although the bacteria are reduced considerably after this stage of purification, they are not eliminated altogether, so that the risk of infection still exists. To remove this infection, additional plants are necessary for sterilization of the water.

The water which consumes more soap and does not lather freely, is called Hard Water, i.e., it contains excessive quantities of calcium and magnesium salts. Very hard water tastes bad and if taken for a continued period results in digestive troubles. The water, which is neither soft nor hard, is considered to be the best for drinking purposes.

Development Of Calcutta Which Way The City Can Extend ?

SCHMES for rapid and planned development of the major Indian cities are being considered by the different provincial governments and the municipalities of the respective cities.

The Government of Sind propose to invite an expert in town planning from abroad to carry out the scheme for "Greater Karachi" and the development of towns in Sind. The Town planning and Improvements Committee of the Madras Corporation have approved the proposal of the Commissioner for including within the city limits the areas administered by the Saidapet Municipality including Guindy race-course and certain other adjoining areas. A survey, along the lines of the new survey of London life and labour and the social survey of Merseyside, will be soon taken up by the Punjab Board of Economic Survey consisting of several economists, professors and students for Greater Lahore with nearly a million population spread over 140 square miles.

"CLEANER CALCUTTA"

Calcutta is also striving for proper development and more so, when the population of the City has vastly increased and slums have grown in enormity and filthiness.

The question of "Cleaner Calcutta" has since sometime engaged the attention of the Government, particularly, His Excellency the Governor of Bengal. Recently, the Bengal Slum Improvement Bill was made public for proper criticism and appreciation. Only sometime ago the Corporation, Government and the Improvement Trust executives published their long and short term schemes for development of Calcutta.

As is evident, attention has been given to intensive development of the city—entailing slum clearance, which will also necessitate the city's extensive development. Some interesting letters are being reproduced below with respect to Calcutta's development in size.

MR. SNAITH'S SUGGESTION

Mr. I. F. Snaith wrote from Shillong some time ago to the Statesman :—

"Unlike cities of the West, Calcutta has not spread out tentacles, and the vast increase in population is mainly gathered in an area that was adequate for the 1903 population of 8,50,000 but totally inadequate for the 2—3 millions of to-day

"A comparison with some of the cities of the U. K. is enlightening :—

	Acreage	Population
Greater London	... 4,48,301	8,000,000
Glasgow	... 30,000	1,088,417
Birmingham	... 46,687	940,000
Liverpool	... 20,120	855,000
Manchester	... 21,690	766,000

"These are 1932 figures and the cities have grown in area since then.

"Great industrial expansion is foreshadowed in India after the war. Obviously Calcutta badly needs a new development area. Where is it to be located? The Southern end is largely residential, the North a bottleneck, the East impossible by reason of the vast Salt Lake area; so it would seem that the new town must be West Calcutta absorbing Howrah and reaching out North, South and West. Admittedly it is a task of great magnitude but Calcutta itself has grown out of a swamp, the Lake area and Barrackpore Park are reclaimed paddy fields.

"I visualize a 30-year plan. In this period the jheel of Howrah could be converted into beautiful lakes with tree-lined avenues. An extensive new industrial area might lie to the north-west in the area served by the Bally-Burdwan Chord Railway, the Taikessen Railway and the two light railways. The first essential would be a new Grand Trunk Road taking off from the existing Trunk Road south of Chandernagore and linking up with the Orissa Trunk Road west of Ulubaria. Imagine this a wide arterial concrete road which would accord access to a very large area for both industrial and residential expansion.

"The project should embrace the whole area between the Hooghly and the Damodar. A large lake to the west might serve as an airport for flying boats. The water supply could come from the Damodar. The possibilities for development of Calcutta west are unlimited, and with the advantage of starting more or less from scratch with careful planning and foresight a great and beautiful city could emerge."

MR. GURNER'S PROPOSAL

Pointing to Mr. Snaith's assumption that "development of Calcutta towards the East is impossible by reason of the vast Salt Lakes area," Mr. C. W. Gurner, Chairman, Calcutta Improvement Trust, stressed :—

"... months ago a Committee appointed by Government, of which I was Chairman, examined the problem of the reclamation of the Salt Lakes and came to the conclusion that this was within certain limits, a practical and realizable objective. The report, submitted to Government in April 1944, fluttered quietly into its pigeon hole and has not re-emerged. But it is now essential that the general conclusions reached should be made known to the public.

"The main recommendations made may be summarized as follows :—

- (i) A well-defined area of about 18 sq. miles immediately to the east of the New Cut Canal could be reclaimed by cut and fill methods to provide 8 or 9 sq. miles of good building land eminently suitable for an entirely new urban settlement with open spaces, lakes and other amenities. (ii) Steps should be taken to acquire as soon as possible the whole of this area with a view to extinguishing all future claims for compensation and obtaining complete control of its future development. The estimated cost of this acquisition (including a small portion added on subsequent consideration) should not exceed one crore. (iii) Utilization of 2½ sq. miles of land already vesting in Government on the edge of the Salt Lakes should be controlled against development or commitment adverse to the general scheme. (iv) A permanent organization should be established for accurate estimating of the cost of reclamation and subsequently proceeding with the scheme.

"Preliminary estimates of the cost of the project are three crores for reclamation and 14½ crores for engineering works. This expenditure would be distributed over a long period and would be largely recouped by the sale of developed building land.

"Plans accompanying the report, prepared from correlation of field survey with air photographs, well illustrate the accessibility of the reclaimable portion of the Salt Lakes from Calcutta and the scope for its urban development.

"There has recently been some indication of renewal of interest in these recommendations, and proposals for adaptation of the Salt Lakes area to the extension of Calcutta, which have now been under discussion on and off for the last 100 years, may, it is hoped, before long be brought one step nearer towards realization."

MR. KHAN'S VIEWS

In support of Mr. Smith's views Mr. Z. Khan was of opinion :—

"Greater Calcutta can only expand across the Hooghly, Calcutta lacks such natural features as sea or wooded hills or a mountain range in the background which add so much to the scenic beauty of a big city. All the more reason, therefore, why makers of Greater Calcutta should make the most of the only natural feature—the Hooghly—in planning the Calcutta of the future.

"This will involve the provision of more and better means of communication across the river, and in this the architects will have a wonderful opportunity of giving play to their imagination and skill. Presumably it is not beyond modern engineering science to incorporate such features as an artificially created pleasure island in the middle of the river or a traffic tunnel under it as well as a few more bridges.

"Another amenity which could easily have been provided long ago and which would add so much to the joys of the otherwise drab and colourless life of the citizens, is a riverside promenade with rows of pavilions and restaurants and proper bathing enclosures. Jetties and warehouses should not cover the whole river front as they do at present, but should be removed to points North of the New Howrah Bridge or South of Taktaghat. The whole area along the Strand between the New Howrah Bridge and the Fort should be laid out as a Public Park and recreation ground. This will also bring to light the beautiful facades of many buildings on the Strand, such as the new Customs House.

"Let us feel proud of living in a riverside city and let us not think of the Hooghly as only a commercial highway where one can also wash one's sins away."

CALCUTTA NEWS & VIEWS

BENGAL COUNCIL ELECTIONS

Ten elected members of the Bengal Legislative Council representing the various constituencies, including Calcutta General Constituency, will vacate their seats in the Upper Chamber early in April next, says a Press Note. Election to fill these seats, and also by-elections to fill two vacancies in the European constituency resulting from the resignation of Messrs. J. S. Graham and James Orr and another vacancy in the Calcutta and Suburbs (Mohammedan) constituency caused by the death of Mr. Yakub H. S. Sattar, will be held simultaneously. The detailed programme will be announced shortly.

ALL-INDIA TELEGRAPH UNION

A resolution that, constitutional methods for the redress of the fundamental grievances of Telegraph employees regarding pay, pensions, allowances, etc., having failed, "no option is left to the subordinate staff but to resort to cessation from work until and unless their just and legitimate demands are met," was adopted by a meeting of Telegraph Department employees on the 21st December last.

The meeting was held under the auspices of the All-India Telegraph Union at the Central Telegraph Office, Calcutta. Prof. Humayun Kabir presided.

The meeting pledged its support to any action jointly decided up on by different service organizations for launching a strike without any avoidable delay.

LATE MR. KALINATH ROY

The Executive Council of the Indian Journalists' Association at their meeting held on the 22nd December last passed the following resolution :—

"The Indian Journalists' Association records its deep sense of sorrow at the death of Mr. Kalinath Roy, Editor, The Tribune. A great Bengalee and a prince among journalists he had rendered invaluable services to the cause of journalism as well as to the country for more than a quarter of a century. Nature's born gentleman, he won the heart of everybody by his sterling character, childlike simplicity and unassuming manners. While offering sincerest condolences, the Association thinks that the best way to pay homage to the memory of the illustrious deceased is to follow the ideals he placed before us.

"That a public meeting be held at an early date under the auspices of the Association to mourn his loss.

"The Association requests the Trustees of The Tribune to take adequate steps to perpetuate the memory of Mr. Kalinath Roy who had served the paper for about 30 years and made the paper what it is to-day. This Association offers its wholehearted co-operation to the Trustees in this matter."

INCREASED PETROL RATION

While, according to the Statesman, it is considered most unlikely that petrol rationing will cease so soon, there is understood to be a possibility of an increased ration being made available early next year.

DEAF-MUTES' INDUSTRIAL EXHIBITION

The need for greater public support to the cause of education for deaf-mutes in Bengal was stressed by Mrs. Casey opening the annual deaf-mute artisans' Industrial Exhibition in Calcutta on the 21st December last.

The Exhibition, which was organized by the Convention of the Teachers of the Deaf in India (Bengal Zone) at the Deaf and Dumb School remain opened at 71, Tarak Pramanik Road till the 27th December last.

Mrs. Casey said that although the Bengal Government had recognized the need for helping the education of the deaf and dumb yet it was really public contributions with which the schools could be maintained. She hoped that there would be no lack of voluntary effort and service for this noble cause which was bound to attract sympathy and liberal support.

LABOUR M. P. IN CALCUTTA

Mr. Harold Davis, Labour M.P., who is touring India to acquire first-hand knowledge of India and her many problems, politically, economically and socially met some Press representatives in Calcutta on the 23rd December last to ascertain their views on the Indian situation.

Mr. Davis said that the younger elements in the Labour Party were watching the situation in India. They were going to force the Indian issue at the next Labour Party Conference in June and insist on a decisive step being taken to bring the deadlock to a satisfactory end.

CALCUTTA-DELHI AIR SERVICE

With the relaxation of priority control on air traffic, Indian National Airways propose to introduce a daily service between Delhi and Karachi and Delhi and Calcutta, and also a tri-weekly service between Delhi and Peshawar. Half the carrying capacity will, it is stated, be available to the public on a non-priority basis.

CHRISTMAS IN CALCUTTA

Despite the general shortage of essential consumer goods and high prices, Calcutta seemed to have had as good a Christmas as could be expected under the circumstances. Last minute buying on the 23rd and the 24th December, when the Sir Stuart Hogg Market was packed to capacity, helped the city's celebrations this season, the first Christmas after six years of war.

The city's main thoroughfares on Christmas Eve and the 25th December were thronged with people of all communities. Not a few of the merry-makers belonged to the city's shifting population, members of the Allied Forces, to whose enjoyment the various Service restaurants and hostels contributed much.

LORD WAVELL IN CALCUTTA

His Excellency the Viceroy and Lady Wavel arrived at Calcutta on the 26th December at 1-15 p.m. by air from Delhi.

Their Excellencies, accompanied by Mr. G. E. B. Bell, Private Secretary to His Excellency, arrived at the Alipore Air Port and were received by H. E. Mr. R. G. Casey, Governor of Bengal, and prominent officers of the Bengal Government.

Their Excellencies drove to Government House. Later Their Excellencies proceeded to the Calcutta Race Course where they were received by the stewards of the Royal Calcutta Turf Club. His Excellency watched the race for the Viceroy's Cup and gave away the cup to the winning owner, Mrs. Susan Sopher. His Excellency Mr. R. G. Casey and Mrs. Casey were also present at the race course.

INSTITUTION OF ENGINEERS: SILVER JUBILEE

The need for establishment of more training schools and colleges for engineers and the establishment of a research institute on India's water problems was stressed by the Viceroy in his address at the opening of the Silver Jubilee session of the Institution of Engineers (India) the next morning (the 27th December).

India had owed much, said His Excellency, in the past to the skill and devotion of Engineers. In the present, she had a greater need than ever of their services, to further that wide development of her agricultural, industrial and economic progress which it was within her power to make. Such general progress required scientific planning; and it was here that the institution of engineers, which dealt with all branches of Engineering, seemed well fitted to make its contribution.

"The factor that is likely to put the brake on the development of Bengal in the next 10 years is not the usual disability, lack of money—but the much more difficult one of lack of trained and qualified engineers and technicians," said His Excellency Mr. R. G. Casey, speaking as chief guest at the annual dinner of the Institution of Engineers (India) in Calcutta on the 28th December last.

He emphasized that young men of this country should train themselves for the practical and constructive professions and occupations—engineering, medicine, agriculture, forestry, fisheries, etc. "It is these professions—and not the law—that are necessary to build up this country."

COLD WAVE IN CALCUTTA

Calcutta experienced a cold wave for a couple of days since the night of the 25th December.

The minimum temperature in Calcutta on the 26th was 47 degrees and the maximum 75. The lowest minimum temperature recorded during the last 11 years in Calcutta is 45 degrees on the 19th January, 1934. It touched 47 on the 8th January, 1945.

On one occasion in the last 35 years, the minimum temperature in Calcutta has gone below 47 degrees. This was on the 24th December, 1910, when the temperature fell to 46. The lowest ever recorded up-to-date was 44.4 on the 20th January, 1899.

MUSLIM LEAGUE VICTORY DAY

"The Muslim nation in India is determined to be free. It is a power to reckon with, and not all the thunders and threats from Delhi, Allahabad or Seagram can suppress that urge for independence which is part and parcel of its very existence," said Mr. H. S. Suhrawardy addressing a gathering of Muslims, one of the biggest in recent years, in Calcutta Maidan on the 27th December last.

The occasion was the launching of the election campaign by the Bengal Muslim League for the provincial legislature and observation of "Victory Day" for the success of League candidates in the Central Assembly.

Mile-long processions coming from different parts of the city and suburbs converged on the meeting ground. Waving of multi-coloured flags with League emblems, shouting of slogans, such as "Pakistan Lae Ka Rahange" (we will fight for and win Pakistan), display of lathis, playing of music were features of the processions, which temporarily dislocated vehicular traffic along some of the main thoroughfares leading to the Maidan the Statesman writes describing the procession.

"False is the calumny that our organization is one of rich people. I claim that the League, founded on the loyalty and support of the poor, cannot but have only one aim in view, namely, the betterment of the lot of the poor and the oppressed," said Mr. H. S. Suhrawardy.

"To the Hindu peoples I offer my hand of friendship and regard, and I trust they will never have any cause to entertain any sense of grievance at the hands of Muslims. I, therefore, ask the Congress to leave us alone. They have sufficient evidence of the fact that they are not wanted by Muslims."

So little of it. . . .

Khwaja Sir Nazimuddin said that the result of the Central Assembly elections in Muslim constituencies had demonstrated that the claim of the League—the only representative organization of Muslims—could no longer be refuted or challenged.

"We demand that the British Cabinet should be ready to announce, immediately provincial elections are over, the setting up of two constituent assemblies, one for the Pakistan zone and the other for the rest of India."

Referring to the coming provincial elections, Sir Nazimuddin said that the League had no objection to the setting up of Muslim candidates by the Congress. They would welcome it as it would enable them to further strengthen the organization of the League and demonstrate more fully the solid support it enjoyed of the Muslim masses

CONGRESS DIAMOND JUBILEE CELEBRATION

"A fear persists with the advocates of Pakistan that if India remains undivided the Muslims cannot escape oppression at the hands of the Congress. Such misgivings are due to want of confidence." Thus observed Dr. Prafulla Chandra Ghosh, Member, Congress Working Committee, in a call to his countrymen to put up a united fight against British imperialism while hoisting the national flag at Deshapriya Park on the 28th December morning on the occasion of the Diamond Jubilee Celebration of the Indian National Congress.

The Bengal Provincial Congress Committee observed the occasion by hoisting the national flag at its premises in the morning. Mr. Surendra Mohon Ghosh, President of the B. P. C. C., hoisted the flag and Mr. Kalipada Mukherjee, Secretary of the B. P. C. C., explained to the gathering the significance of the flag.

Hoisting the national flag and addressing the gathering at Deshapriya Park, Dr. Ghosh said :

"On this day 60 years ago the Congress began its work. It was then limited within a handful of men. But to-day after 60 years it is the organisation of the people. It has worked and grown from strength to strength but has not yet been able to reach its ideal of winning independence. It is true that it has gone far during the last 25 years under the leadership of Mahatma Gandhi but the goal has yet to be reached."

Continuing Dr. Ghosh said that some might say that the British were now weak but he thought that it was none of their concern whether the British were weak or strong, the Congress had but one task before it and that was to win freedom. The Congress did not want that any country in the world should be ruled over by another. It wanted to liquidate dependence and oppression in a final manner and wanted freedom for all. Dr. Ghosh said that they wanted to be friendly with the British. They had no objection to their remaining in India but there should not be a single Britisher here in India as their master.

In explaining the significance of the National Flag Dr. Ghosh said that it was in 1921 that the idea of National Flag was first conceived of. But in variegation of colours it differed from the present one which was an emblem of purity, courage and sacrifice.

The inscription of charka on it signified economic liberation of the people of which an overwhelming percentage was steeped in poverty. The Congress stood for vindication of the rights of the poverty stricken people whether they were Hindus, Muslims, Christians, Parsees or Jains. It stood for equal rights for all.

DEATH OF DR. AJIT MOHAN BOSE

The death took place in Calcutta early this week of Dr. Ajit Mohan Bose, a well-known medical man of the city. Nephew of Sir J. C. Bose, Dr. Bose was regarded as an authority on Naturopathy and a pioneer among private medical practitioners in Bengal in the introduction of X-Ray, electrotherapy, hydropathy and other forms of treatment in Calcutta.

He was the first Indian doctor to attend the Radiological and Naturopathy Conference in Berlin in 1936, and was in charge of the X-Ray and Electrotherapy Department of Chittaranjan Seva Sadan.

The late Dr. Bose, who was 62, leaves a wife and only son, Mr. Dilip Bose.

RELEASE OF POLITICAL PRISONERS

Immediate legalisation of Forward Bloc, Congress Socialist Party and Kisan Sabhas was urged in a resolution adopted at a largely attended public meeting held at Jorabagan Park on the 30th December last.

The meeting also adopted another resolution urging the immediate and unconditional release of all political prisoners and officers and men of the Indian National Army.

In another resolution the meeting protested against the proposal for retrenchment of workers from factories, railways and other places and called the Government to see that nobody was retrenched.

PROBLEM OF ACCOMMODATION

While Calcutta continues to be a major base for the armies of occupation and an important port on the lines of communication, the utmost consideration is being given to releasing property requisitioned for military purposes. Up to the end of November, 150 residential and 149 non-residential premises were released.

The Standing Quartering Board which functioned in war time to adjust demands, having full regard to the requirements of the public, continues to exercise full control and co-ordination of the general problem.

The Board meets once every week and reviews in detail every demand for accommodation and decides the properties and lands which should be put forward for de-requisitioning. Six civilian members are included in the Board of whom three are Government officials.

During the first half of December the following civilian properties have been released : Residential premises 22, non-residential 22.

This brings the total of released properties to 172 residential and 171 non-residential.

KEROSENE RATIONING TO BEGIN IN JANUARY

A Bengal Government Press Note says : The rationing of kerosene in Calcutta, which was to have started on December 31, 1945, will now begin four weeks later, i.e., on January 28, 1946. The postponement, however, means the loss of only one rationing period as rations are to be drawn only once every four weeks.

The postponement was necessitated by unexpected delay over the linking of specific blocks of streets, roads and lanes or sectors of holdings to individual kerosene retail shops with the result that the distribution of all ration cards before December 31, 1945, was not found possible.

Previous announcements with regard to kerosene permits for cooking and refrigeration and for vehicles and boats may thus be considered cancelled. Permits will now be valid from February, 1946, and monthly thereafter.

ECHO OF "CALCUTTA FIRINGS"

The India League conference in London is reported to have adopted a resolution protesting against "the wanton firing on peaceful and unarmed student demonstrators in Calcutta and elsewhere in India", calling upon Government to institute a searching inquiry into the conduct of the officials concerned.

LOCAL SELF-GOVERNMENT IN C. P.

• No Bright Record For 1944-45

The record of local self-government in the Central Province during 1944-45 has been neither bright nor reassuring. In general, the standard of financial administration of local bodies showed no appreciable improvement. The annual report mentions the names of a number of local bodies administered by officers-in-charge appointed by Government. These were mostly superseded on grounds of mal-administration. Petty embezzlements, misappropriations and losses by theft were noticed in many municipalities, district councils and local boards. In certain cases surcharges were made due to gross negligence or misconduct on the part of the office-bearers. Apart from overpayments and double payments many cases of irregular and wasteful expenditure were noticed in a large number of municipalities. Sixteen municipalities showed unsatisfactory financial position. An instance of mismanagement is the suspension of a municipal secretary by a chairman, who had no such power, without holding any departmental inquiry.

Concluding Dr. Ghosh exhorted all present to try to realise the ideal the National Flag stood for. Dr. Ghosh said the National Flag would be no better than a piece of cloth if the ideas and ideals associated with it were not intelligently understood. To honour it was to honour the country.

A public meeting was held in the evening at Braddhananda Park. Mr. Bepin Behari Ganguly presided, and among others Mr. Kalipada Mukherjee, Mr. Jnanjan Neogy, Mr. Raj Kumar Chakravarty addressed the meeting.

Mr. Surendra Mohon Ghosh, President, B. P. C. C., also hoisted the National Flag in the morning at Hazra Park. The function was held under the auspices of the South Calcutta District Congress Committee.

A meeting was held at Beadon Square in the afternoon under the auspices of the North Calcutta District Congress Committee. Mr. Amar Krishna Ghose presided.

FIRST CIVIC ELECTION IN CHINA.

Chungking's first populace election after the war has recently been held. Hundred and thirty-eight candidates including women contested 85 Municipal Council seats.

Though qualified quarters consider that there is not yet a machinery for national election in China the fact that nearly a quarter million out of a population of one and a quarter million (every citizen has a right to vote) thronged 250 polling booths from dawn to dusk testifies to the desire of the people in Chungking.

Most voters were illiterate but there were authorized substitute writers on hand.

Candidates had to meet following requirements: More than 25 years of age; secondary education, and some years in public or social work.

The popular council has powers to make laws for the municipality, examine the annual budget and allot powers vested in similar councils in Britain and America.

HONOUR TO AMERICAN GENERALS

The new U.S. Postal Guide shows that fourteen towns have been renamed in honour of Gen. Marshall, but none for Gen. Eisenhower. In case he feels neglected, Texas has bought his birth-place in Denison, and will maintain it as a permanent memorial to him.

LONG-LOST RUSSIAN TOWN EXPLORED

Guided by folk legends Soviet archaeologists have discovered a long-lost 1,500-year-old town and fabled castle in the Central Asian deserts of the Kara-Kalpakain Republic. Previously unknown to scientists this town, Kurgancha, is often mentioned in the folk-lore of the local population. These stories say it was built by Koblandy-Batyr, the national hero of Kaba Kalpak. Some of the arched, two-storey buildings were in such a good state of preservation that they could be entered without preliminary excavations.

In the same area the expedition discovered the ruin of Barak Tan Castle. Legends relate that after the death of a local ruler, Barak, a dragon occupied the Castle. For many years superstitious tribesmen were afraid to go near the sinister pile.

Further south, in an area called by Professor Sergei Tolstoy, leader of the expedition, "A preserve of primitive cultures", the scientists unearthed 13 more sites of ancient habitations in addition to the 7 previously found here. These settlements are remains of the Kherfzm civilization, which flourished in the early centuries and are situated in the desert, north of the present town of Farknl.

Company Cancels The Agreement

AT its emergent meeting held on Monday, the 7th January last, the Corporation directed the Chief Executive Officer to send to the Agent of the Calcutta Tramways Co., Ltd., a suitable reply, in terms of the advice given by the Counsel, bearing upon the Company's letter to the Chief Executive Officer informing him that the agreement entered into between the Company and the Corporation on the 3rd September, 1945, (which is reproduced as supplement to this issue of the Gazette) stood cancelled and that arbitration should not be proceeded with.

THE COMPANY'S LETTER

[In the matter of an arbitration between the Corporation of Calcutta and the Calcutta Tramways Company Limited, in terms of the submission contained in a contract between the parties dated the 3rd September, 1945, and the said contract dated the 3rd September, 1945.]

"We have to bring to your notice the fact that since the Corporation of Calcutta has been unable to obtain the assents mentioned in paragraph 7 of the above contract, or to obtain the enactment of the legislation to which reference is made in paragraph 8 of such contract, or to obtain the moneys necessary for the payment of the purchase price under such contract, the contract is cancelled in terms of Clause 9 thereof.

"We have, therefore, to request that, since, by reason of this fact, the submission under which the arbitrators were appointed is also cancelled, the said arbitration should not be proceeded with.

"We shall be glad to have your acknowledgment and your assurance that no steps will be taken in the arbitration.

"Our Solicitors Messrs. Orr, Dignam and Co. have this day intimated the above facts to the arbitrators and stated that they will of course be pleased to appear before the arbitrators if the latter desire to put any questions with a view to elucidating further the facts in consequence of which the contract is cancelled."

IN THE BACKGROUND

According to Clause 7 of the Agreement executed between the Company and the Corporation, the Corporation approached the Government of India regarding the tramways in the Maidan area, the Chairman, Tollygunj Municipality regarding the Tramways within the limit of that Municipality, the Chairman, South Suburban Municipality and the Chairman, Howrah Municipality, for the same reason, the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation Ltd., regarding the contract for the supply of electrical energy, and the Commissioners for the New Howrah Bridge regarding the tramways over that bridge.

The Government of India informed the Chief Executive Officer on the 27th December, 1945, that they had referred the matter to the Government of Bengal and further communication would follow as soon as they received the reply.

The Chairman of the Tollygunj Municipality informed that no agreement had been made between the said Municipality and the Company.

The Chairman of the South Suburban Municipality informed that the Commissioners of the said Municipality approved of the Tramways undertaking being taken over and run by the Corporation—the details being settled after further negotiation.

The Chairman of the Howrah Municipality informed that the said Municipality agreed that the Tramways undertaking be taken over by the Corporation and that the benefit of their agreement with the Company be assigned on such terms and conditions as might be agreed upon between them and the Corporation. They nominated Messrs. S. K. Mukerji and B. C. Kar as their representatives to discuss the matter with the Corporation.

The Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation Ltd. informed that their present contract was binding on them and their successors and would remain in force till it was determined by either party. Evidently, in the event of the Corporation stepping into the shoes of the Calcutta Tramways Co. Ltd., the agreement would continue as an agreement between them and the Calcutta Corporation—the Calcutta Corporation being bound by the obligations of the Calcutta Tramways Co. Ltd. They further informed that, though not apparently necessary, it would be advisable to execute a short supplementary agreement recording the transfer.

The Commissioners for the New Howrah Bridge intimated that they would have no objection to the assignment of the agreement provided the Corporation were able to satisfy the Commissioners that the Corporation possessed statutory authority to fulfil the terms of the agreement. They further insisted that the opinion of the Advocate-General should be taken in this case. Approval of the Local Government was also sought in this case. The Local Government informed that the question of Government approval would arise after the consent of the Bridge Commissioners had been obtained.

In respect of clause 8 of the agreement the Corporation was advised by Mr. P. R. Das, Bar-at-law, that no such legislation was necessary. So no action was taken in that connection.

Regarding the payment of the purchase price the Corporation was advised that the expenditure could be met from the amount of Salami to be realised from the Agent who will be appointed by the Corporation to run the undertaking. Tenders were invited for the appointment of an Agent and 4 offers have been received from parties who are agreeable to pay a salami of Rs. 41 crores approximately.

The Corporation Chief Engineer valued the Tramways undertaking at Rs. 3,69,35,200 and the Corporation, in the event of the Company not paying the said sum, appointed Mr. Sarat Chandra Bose to act as Arbitrator on behalf of the Corporation.

The Company, who valued their property at Rs. 8,51,58,075, appointed Mr. W. J. Younis, to act as arbitrator on their behalf, and informed the Corporation of their decision in their letter dated the 27th December, 1945.

Lastly, on the 2nd January, 1946, the Corporation received the Company's letter cancelling the agreement made between the Corporation and the Company dated the 3rd September, 1945. At the Corporation meeting the Mayor read out that letter before the House, which subsequently decided to hold a special meeting on Monday, the 7th January.

When the Company's letter came up for consideration by the House, Councillor Nalin Chandra Paul pointed out the inconsistency in the Company's letter. He said that in one part of the letter it was stated that the contract was cancelled while in another part it was stated that the solicitors of the Company would be pleased to appear before the arbitrators if the latter desired to put any questions with a view to elucidating further the facts in consequence of which the contract was cancelled. That showed that the Company had not yet made up their mind if the contract had been really cancelled or not. The agreement between the parties was quite explicit.

The Mayor, Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, said that as the agreement between the parties and the whole case would come up before the arbitrators it would not be proper for them to hold a discussion over it.

Alderman Abdur Rahman Siddiqi maintained that Councillors were within their rights to discuss the matter.

The Mayor disagreed as he considered the matter to be sub judice.

The House eventually came to the decision that the Chief Executive Officer should give a suitable reply to the Agent of the Calcutta Tramways Co., Limited in terms of advice given by the Counsel.

The Mayor then called out the next item.

At this stage Alderman Siddiqi wanted it to be recorded that the members of his group present at the meeting would not be responsible for any financial imposition in case the matter was attended with any loss or surcharge.

The Mayor agreed but pointed out that along with this it would also be noted that Alderman Siddiqi had wanted the thing to be noted after the meeting concerning the item had been declared to be closed.

Councillor J. H. Methold also, on behalf of his party, expressed the same opinion as that of Alderman Siddiqi.

CONDOLENCE

The Corporation condoled the death of Dr. S. C. Basak, Senior Government Pleader, Calcutta High Court, and as a mark of respect to his memory the meeting was adjourned for 10 minutes.

Mentioning the death of Dr. Basak, the Mayor, Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, said that Dr. Basak graduated about 50 years ago and after obtaining his M.A. degree in Natural Science as a contemporary of Mr. P. N. Brahma, ex-Mayor and Mr. A. K. Fazlul Huq joined the High Court later on. He made his mark in the High Court within a few years and won confidence and respect not only of the Bar but also of the litigant public.

Proceeding the Mayor said that while coming down to Calcutta from Kalimpong he felt uneasy in the train and died of heart failure before the train reached Jalpaiguri on Sunday night (the 6th January).

WATER WORKS ENGINEER

A requisition meeting which sought to rescind a previous resolution of the Corporation appointing Mr. R. M. Gupta as Water Works Engineer fell through as leave was refused by 38 votes to 27.

DEATH OF DR. S. C. BASAK

END OF A BRILLIANT LEGAL CAREER

The sudden death of Dr. Sarat Chandra Basak, Senior Government Pleader of the Calcutta High Court, was mourned at a Full Court meeting of all the judges, presided over by the Chief Justice, Sir Harold Darbyshire, at the Calcutta High Court on Monday, the 7th January last.

Dr. Basak was returning from Kalimpong to Calcutta and died of heart failure in the train near the Jalpaiguri station on the previous night. He was aged 70 years.

Out of respect to the memory of Dr. Basak, all the members of the Bench and the Bar stood for two minutes in silence.

Dr. Basak was the senior government pleader in the High Court. Dr. Basak had a very distinguished career at the Bar. He was enrolled in 1901 and after a very extensive practice in 1929 he succeeded Mr. Justice Guha as senior government pleader when the latter was promoted to the Bench, and he filled the office of the senior government pleader with great distinction. He was a scholar in the widest sense of the word. He was a lawyer, who was well-versed in many branches of the law. He was an Advocate who always knew his case and conducted it wisely.

It was a great loss to this province that he with his kindly disposition, his learning, his experience and his wisdom had been taken away at this time.

His body reached Calcutta on Monday morning, the 7th January last, and was taken to his residence at Bhawanipore from where it was carried to Keoratala Burning Ghat for cremation.

Wreaths were presented by many associations including the Calcutta High Court Bar Association.

After a brilliant academic career, Dr. Basak obtained his M.L. in 1908, standing first class first, and D. L. in 1909.

He leaves behind him his widow, six sons, three daughters and numerous friends and relations to mourn his death. His eldest son, Mr. K. C. Basak, I.C.S., is a secretary to the Government of Bengal.

that they would do the work of inspection of supervision of various departments among themselves.

In this matter those Councillors sought the co-operation of other Councillors. The Mayor hoped that every member of the House would be willing to co-operate with them and the Mayor for effecting whatever improvement was possible in the circumstances.

Councillor Nalin Chandra Paul, proceeded the Mayor, was complaining that in spite of his best efforts as Chairman of the Services Committee No. 1, he did not get the necessary help and co-operation from the executive.

Such thing, the Mayor remarked, must not continue. He suggested that besides taking part in the deliberations of this House they should informally meet from time to time and see what they could do to improve things.

With the approval of the House, the Mayor wanted to ask the Chief Executive Officer to give such facilities as might be required to carry on the work of inspection.

The Chief Executive Officer, Mr. Sailapati Chatterji, assured the Mayor that the executive would lend their whole-hearted co-operation in the matter.

Whereupon the Mayor asked Councillors not to proceed in a fault-finding spirit but to see to it how they could establish complete co-ordination between the Councillors and the executive with a view to improving the municipal administration.

The Governor received the deputation in his study and discussed with the deputationists Calcutta's numerous problems connected with sports and particularly the question of a stadium in Calcutta for nearly an hour. It is learnt that His Excellency was very sympathetic and gave a very patient hearing and freely and frankly discussed with Sir Nazimuddin and his colleagues.

The trend of discussion and commitments and counter commitments were not made known, but one feels optimistic of the prospect of a Stadium in Calcutta sooner or later possibly sooner than later.

A neatly printed pamphlet entitled "Representation to the Governor War Memorial Stadium," issued by Mr. Roche, sponsor of the War Memorial Stadium Scheme was handed over to the Governor and others who were present with the H. E. at the Government House on Wednesday evening.

A GIANT HOUSING SCHEME

2,000,000 NEW HOUSES FOR INDIA

A giant scheme to build 2,000,000 houses in the industrial and rural areas in India spread in the next 10 years has been drawn up by the Government of India and the scheme is presently under examination of the Finance Department.

This will form one of the important items on the post-war construction plan of the Government of India. It is expected that Government will create a department called the National Housing Agency to work out the scheme. A housing expert will be in charge of the newly constituted department and the department will have full powers to deal with the housing problem effectively and promptly.

The Labour Department of the Government of India has, it is learnt, expressed readiness to supply the entire technical personnel required for the scheme as also the necessary material. The Government are also stated to be willing to advance by way of subsidies and grants to the tune of 50 per cent. the cost of constructing these houses.

CLOTH CONTROL TO CONTINUE

FOR SOME TIME MORE

"Cloth control measures will have to continue for some time and there will be no further reduction in the ceiling prices of cloth and yarn for the present."

This recommendation of the Industries Committee of the Cotton Textile Control Board was announced by Mr. Krishnaraj Thackersey, Chairman, at the meeting of the Board held in Bombay on the 21st December last.

Mr. Krishnaraj said that the present outlook was not favourable and it was not possible under the present conditions to remove the control as quickly as was at one time anticipated. Until the present world shortage in textiles was removed, it would be necessary to retain control to ensure that whatever supplies were available were distributed as fairly and equitably as possible. "If any relaxation is made at this juncture," Mr. Krishnaraj said, "the situation may seriously worsen and this will only result in a further aggravation of the short supplies resulting in resumption of black-market activities. It is our earnest desire that control should be relaxed gradually and in an orderly way. This will be done as soon as it becomes possible, but it will be difficult at this stage to indicate any time limit."

BRITAIN'S HEALTH

MUCH IMPROVED IN 1944-45

The British Health Ministry's report for the year 1944-45 up to the last March states that Britain was healthier during the period than she has ever been before.

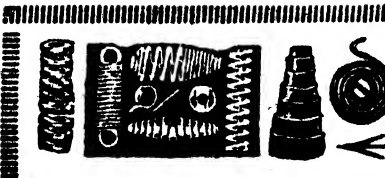

The main reasons are considered to have been better distribution of food through different social sections; special measures—for example, diphtheria immunization—against particular diseases and new methods of treatment, especially penicillin.

One especially gratifying factor is that death rates among mothers in childbirth, babies in their first month of life and children of all ages up to five were the lowest ever recorded in England and Wales in war or in peace.

So were the death rates from tuberculosis, diphtheria and typhoid fever.

It is officially admitted that the tuberculosis problem was being hampered by lack of hospital accommodation and a dearth of nursing and domestic staff.

Another black spot in the nation's health was venereal disease. It is true that figures show a slight improvement but, "give no cause for complacency."

9 p.m. to 8 a.m. (next morning).

CANCELLATION OF LEASE

At the instance of the Public Utilities and Markets Standing Committee the House resolved that the Calcutta Improvement Trust be approached with a request to cancel the existing 99 years' lease of the land at the junction of Gariahat Road and Rash Behary Avenue measuring approximately 5 bighas 18 kottahs and sell the land to the Corporation on payment of the capitalised value of the monthly rent, viz., Rs. 826, as this is likely to enable the Corporation to utilise the land to the best advantage leading to increased revenue from the market.

RELIEF TO SMALL-SCALE PENSIONERS

With a view to affording relief to the small-scale Corporation pensioners on grounds of the abnormal rise in the prices of foodstuffs and other essential materials the Corporation accepted the recommendation of the Services Standing Committee No. I for insertion of the following Rule after Rule 17A of the Corporation Pension Rules :—

17B. Notwithstanding anything contained in the foregoing rules, all small-scale pensioners be granted a temporary increase in their pension with effect from 1st December, 1943, i.e., on pensions due in January, 1944, and until further orders, on the following scale :—

(i) On pensions not exceeding Rs. 20 per month—Rs. 3 per month.

(ii) On pensions exceeding Rs. 20 per month but not exceeding Rs. 40 per month—Rs. 4.

(iii) On pensions exceeding Rs. 40 but not exceeding Rs. 44 per month such amount as together with the pensions will be equal to Rs. 44 per month.

The term "pensions" as used in this rule includes commuted portions of pensions if any, and the additional pensions sanctioned by the Corporation and Government under Rule 17A every year."

CORPORATION STRIKE ECHO

On the motion tabled by Councillor J. H. Methold the House adopted a resolution requesting the Services Standing Committee No. I to enquire into the absence from duty of the Deputy Executive Officers and other Heads of Departments during the recent Corporation strike and in view of the seriousness of this matter recommend to the Corporation such disciplinary action as they deem necessary should be taken against these officers.

CONDOLENCE

The House condoled the death of the father of Councillor S. M. Usman.

The Gazette conveys its sincerest condolences to Councillor Usman in his bereavement.

Mahatma Gandhi On Cleanliness

"If Every Citizen Does His Part The Face of Calcutta Will Be Changed"

MAHATMA Gandhi and his party returned to Calcutta by a special launch soon after midnight of the 4th January last. He proceeded to Sodepur by car.

"Swaraj has not yet come. But I have not given up hope. You must keep on knocking and one day Swaraj is bound to come," said Gandhiji addressing the congregation after prayer at Sodepur Ashram on the 4th January last.

"We are soldiers of freedom. Soldiers of a State receive salary and they maintain discipline. Soldiers of freedom do not get such payment; but they acquire strength by maintaining discipline," he said.

SERVANTS OF GOD

In words of Badsha Khan, they were all Khudai Khidmatgar or servants of God. They were to maintain discipline and that was why he had introduced the practice of clapping hands while praying.

Explaining the 'Bhajan' sung at the prayer Gandhiji said it was very sweet. The poet—Rabindranath—said that if nobody responded to their call they must not despair but continue to work for their ideal. Even if failures met them they must not be broken. They should go on working irrespective of whether their hopes and aspirations were realized or not. One who was devoted to God did not feel despair; he went on knocking at the heaven's door for entrance to the kingdom of God.

Mahatma Gandhi was glad to receive the news about the release of Capt. Shah Nawaz Khan, Capt. Sehgal and Lt. Dhillon, three I. N. A. officers who were tried by a Court Martial.

CONSTRUCTIVE PROGRAMME

Between 750 and 800 workers from different districts of Bengal met at Sodepur Ashram in the afternoon of the 5th January last when Mahatma Gandhi explained to them his 18-point constructive programme which included work for communal unity, removal of untouchability, propagation of khadi and village industries, and basic education.

In his 90-minute address Gandhiji explained to them the place of constructive programme in the struggle for Swaraj and its relation to civil disobedience.

Some questions were submitted to Gandhiji referring to the Bengal famine and rehabilitation.

"THE HOUND OF HEAVEN"

After the conference Gandhiji held his prayer meeting.

Referring to the song that was sung at the prayer on Sunday, the 6th January, Gandhiji said that they should take the significance of the song to their hearts. In the song poet Rabindranath said that he would not be frightened to see God coming to him in the form of misery. In this connection Gandhiji would remind them of an English poem entitled "The Hound of Heaven" in which God had been described as a huntsman pursuing the disciple continually. God, Gandhiji explained, could not leave His devotee alone because He, who had created the world, was concerned about the world going in order. So real misery came when they forgot God and happiness came when they kept God in them.

Gandhiji had a resumed talk to the Bengal Congress Workers' Conference in the afternoon.

CLEANLINESS NEXT TO GODLINESS

In the after-prayer discourse on Monday, the 7th January last, Gandhiji stressed on the need for observance of the rules of cleanliness by every citizen. He asked them to remember that cleanliness was next to Godliness and that if they could observe the rules of cleanliness they would be pure in their hearts also.

Gandhiji said that although he did not travel much during these days he had heard from his friends how the city streets were made dirty with the kernel of fruits, paper pieces and other useless things strewn over them. It was also said that Calcutta had been dirty. But he could tell them that if every citizen did his part and observe the rules of cleanliness then the face of Calcutta would be changed.

Gandhiji also exhorted them to apply the rules of cleanliness in other spheres of their lives as well.

SIXTH MEETING WITH GOVERNOR

The sixth meeting between His Excellency Mr. R. G. Casey, Governor of Bengal and Mahatma Gandhi took place at Government House, Calcutta, on Monday night. The meeting lasted for about two hours.

Gandhiji left for Gauhati on his Assam tour on Tuesday afternoon, the 8th January, by the Assam Mail.

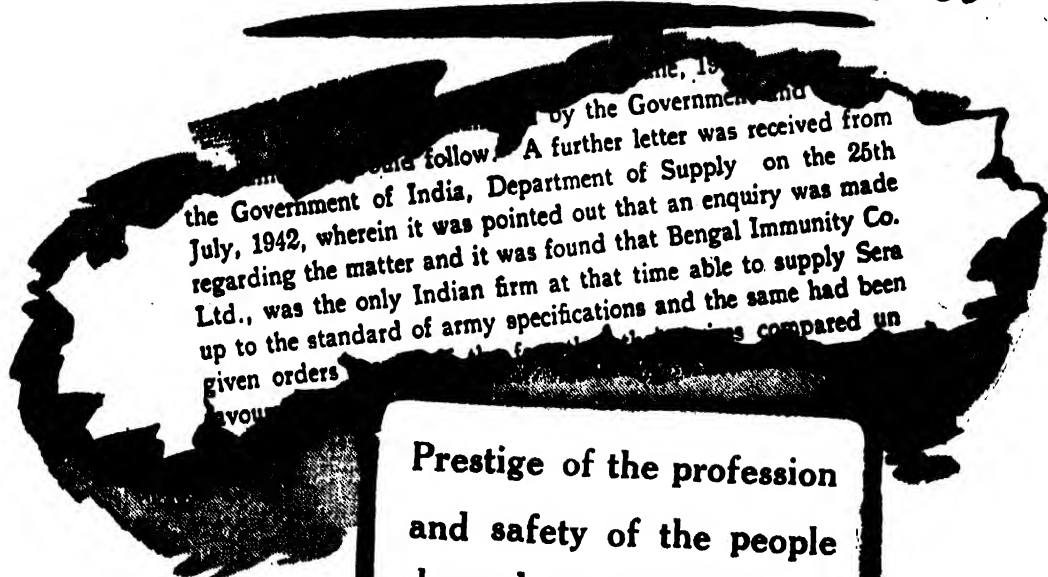

The Assam Mail, which does not usually stop at Sodepur, made a special halt there to enable Mahatma Gandhi and his party to entrain from that station.

The special bogey of third class compartments—fourth from the engine—stopped just in front of where Gandhiji was waiting on the platform.

Among those who accompanied Gandhiji were Mr. Satish Chandra Das Gupta, Rajkumari Amrit Kaur, Mr. Pyarilal, Dr. Susila Nayyar, Shri Kanubhai, Shri Ramkrishna Bajaj, Dr. Bharatan Kunarappa, Mrs. Ava Devi and Mrs. Prabhavati Devi.

Gandhiji will return to Calcutta on Monday next, the 14th January, by Assam Mail and will hold his usual prayer at Sodepur Ashram the same afternoon.

HEALTH & HYGIENEWater And Its Purification—II

(By M. B. SEN GUPTA)

THERE are various processes of sterilization in practice, some of which being described below :—

(a) Ultra-Violet Rays : The Ultra-Violet Rays from the sun possess some bactericidal action and on this account, in tropical countries, the rivers are to some extent purified bacteriologically. This is particularly true of surface waters. Artificially prepared rays have also been found to sterilize water. But only clear and colourfree water can be treated by this method.

(b) Ozone : Ozone is a superactive form of Oxygen and its use is advocated for the following reasons :

(i) Colour and suspended matter are removed or reduced.

(ii) Odour and taste are removed or reduced.

(iii) A palatable and sparkling water is produced.

Sterilization by ozone, though in use in the Continent in large water-works, cannot be extensively used owing to the cost of electricity which is prohibitive in many places.

(c) Katadyn Treatment : Certain metals, particularly silver and copper, have been found to possess bactericidal action on the germs which are usually present in drinking water. Dr. Krauch of Munich demonstrated the toxic effect of activated silver and named it "Katadyn." Silver in ionic condition is believed to be responsible for such action; the quantity of silver required is only one part in 1,000 millions—a quantity undetectable by ordinary analysis. A curious feature of the Katadyn treatment is that water sterilized by this process can again sterilize a further quantity of water. Even the empty bottle in which the sterilized water had been kept is capable of sterilising a fresh sample. This is attributed to the fact that some silver ions stick to the walls of the bottle and sterilize the further quantity of water poured into it. A knowledge of this unique property probably accounts for the advocacy of the use of silver vessels, especially for feeding children, in our country from a long time.

Immense advances have been made in the purification of water by the use of Chlorine and its compounds. About forty years ago, an Englishman used Chlorine temporarily in a Typhoid epidemic in Maidstone. Afterwards Sir Alexander Houston used it successfully on a large scale in the London Water Works in 1905. In the early installations, Chlorine was being used in the form of Bleaching Powder. There were, however, certain difficulties regarding its application. Cost was high, storage difficult and the arrangement for mixing the chemicals, cumbersome. All these set-backs have been overcome by the introduction of Liquid Chlorine which is more stable, easy of manipulation and economical and simple in the regulation of dosage. The dosage depends on the organic and inorganic matter present in the water and generally it does not exceed one part per million.

STORAGE OF WATER

It has been found that some chlorinated waters, if stored for a few days, show an increase in the bacteria content. This is called "After Growth" and is due to bacteria surviving by means of spore formation. Though these bacteria are not harmful to the human system, they create an unpleasant taste. It is, therefore, advisable to avoid chlorinated water which has been in storage long.

Chloramine treatment is recommended where water has to be stored for comparatively long periods. When Ammonia is mixed with water and the water chlorinated, Chloramine is formed, which is a more permanent and effective disinfectant than chlorine. Water thus purified is free from any unpleasant smell or taste. Water is sterilized by the Chloramine treatment in Jamshedpur.

Pure drinking water is not easily available everywhere. In big cities where there are arrangements for water supply, the general public is not to bother about it, as the water supply department is responsible for its provision. But in absence of such arrangements, everyone has to find his own drinking water. Consequently, it is desirable that one should know how to obtain pure drinkable water.

It is of primary importance that the available source is not contaminated by animal and vegetable agencies. Generally, water is polluted by sewage and, the more recent the pollution, the more dangerous it is to health. The main object of water analysis is to detect such pollution and its character. The fitness of water for drinking purposes can be ascertained by chemical and bacteriological examination. No opinion can, however, be passed from the results of chemical or bacteriological analysis alone. Bacteriologically a particular sample of water is regarded as pure if there be no Colon Bacilli in a 100 cc. of the liquid. It is also very necessary to test the water for such substances as Lead and Zinc and be sure that these are completely absent, as serious diseases may result from the consumption of such water.—Tisco Review.

IMMUNIZATION AGAINST 'FLU'

EGGS BEING THE BASIS OF RESEARCH

Eggs are the basis of one of the biggest attempts yet to vanquish influenza.

South Africa, Australia and Canada are sending thousands of doses of a new vaccine to England which it is hoped will provide immunization against 'flu'.

This vaccine, which was first developed in America two years ago, has, it is claimed, ten times the potency of any vaccine yet produced and it is made by injecting influenza virus into eggs containing embryo chicks.

Now for the first time given an epidemic, large-scale field tests are being undertaken with men from the forces and factory workers as 'volunteer guinea pigs.' The immunized volunteers will mix normally with people who have not been inoculated to test the effectiveness of the vaccine.

The Role Of Engineers

“They Are The Salt Of The Earth”

THE role of engineers in rebuilding India was emphasized by His Excellency Lord Wavell opening the silver jubilee session of the Institution of Engineers (India) during the last week of December.

India, the Viceroy said, had owed much in the past to the skill and devotion of engineers. In the present, she had a greater need than ever of their services, to further that wide development of her agricultural, industrial and economic progress which it was within her power to make. Such general progress required scientific planning; and it was here that the Institution, which dealt with all branches of engineering, seemed well fitted to make its contribution.

NEED FOR RESEARCH INSTITUTES STRESSED

Expressing appreciation of the part played by engineers in this country during the recent year the Viceroy said:—

“They accomplished some remarkable work, with limited resources, in constructing air-fields and strategic roads at high speed when we were threatened by the entry of Japan into the war. As Commander-in-Chief, I was most grateful to them.

“The dictionary definition of a civil engineer was ‘one who designs works of public utility, bridges, canals, gasworks, etc.’ India is not much given to gasworks, but in canals and bridges she is at the head of the list. It is up to Indian engineers to maintain their supremacy in these branches, and to develop all types of engineering to the utmost. There is great need for the establishment of more training schools and colleges for engineers and for the encouragement in every way of the technical skill which India requires for her development. There is no lack of ability if opportunity offers.

“There is also great need for Research Institutes, so that India may not be dependent on discoveries made abroad and can make her own researches into her particular problems, of which those dealing with water are the most urgent and vital. Besides the normal ones of irrigation, there are many special problems—water-logging, soil erosion, flood control, hydro-electric power—for which research is essential, and research which can only be effectively done in India.”

POST-WAR PLANS

In his address the newly elected president, Nawab Zain Yar Jung, Member for Public Works, the Nizam's Executive Council, Hyderabad (Daccan), said that at the end of the most disastrous war in history, they found themselves faced with problems, both economic and social, of unsurpassed magnitude. In their solution the engineers of India must and will take a leading part.

There was a wide-spread feeling that post-war plans had so far made little progress beyond the stage of initial consideration. There were parts of India where schemes were still at a tentative stage. The pace had to be accelerated and for that co-ordination between the engineer and the administration was most necessary.

Nawab Zain Yar Jung also added:—

“To-day after a terrible period of storm and stress and destruction the world and its people are faced with the problem of rebuilding and rehabilitation. That problem confronts not only those countries which have been reduced to ruin by human hands which brought no other gifts than death and destruction, but also those lands, like ours, which are assailed by the deadlier enemies of poverty, ignorance and disease. We have, therefore, to rebuild and reshape the whole of our national life, and we could take no better resolution on this occasion of the silver jubilee of this Institution than to pledge ourselves to attack, with all the tools and implements, the machinery and equipment, the mind and the imagination of the engineer, the triple alliance of poverty, ignorance and disease which holds our country in its relentless grip.”

“HASTEN TO THE TASK”

“The main fact as I see it is that there are many millions of people in this land, who have not the ghost of a chance of a decent, prosperous life unless we—that is you and I, the scientist and the policy maker—create the conditions of wealth in which human prosperity is possible,” said His Excellency the Governor of Bengal, Mr. R. G. Casey at the Annual Dinner of the Institution of Engineers (India) at the Great Eastern Hotel.

His Excellency said:—

“I started life as an Engineer—and it is a profession for which I have a high regard. I regard engineers as the salt of the earth. I find myself able to say this without undue lack of modesty, as it is so long since I could venture to call myself an engineer that I realise that the salt in me has lost its savour.

“I can see no good future for India's peoples unless an effort on a scale hitherto unknown is made to create wealth by the application of modern techniques to the development of India's great but relatively undeveloped resources. I also believe that there is no time to waste about it. Look around the Calcutta slums, the towns, and villages and you will see the reason why we must hasten to the task.”

Referring to the road construction programme involving the construction of some thousands of miles of new and improved roads and bridges and culverts that were particularly necessary to avoid encouraging the malaria mosquito, the Governor said:—

"The net result of all this means that this Province is at the start of a great effort of self-development—in which engineering skill and initiative will be biggest individual factor." His Excellency also said:—

"A country, particularly a country such as India and particularly such a province as Bengal—where millions of people subsist on the border line between distress and bare sufficiency—does not acquire prosperity merely for the asking or by effluxion of time. Prosperity is not one of nature's free gifts to man. Nature has given to India materials—nothing more. Modern science has given opportunities to make use of these materials—nothing more. So far we have made comparatively little use of our opportunities."

CALCUTTA NEWS & VIEWS'TOKYO CADETS' IN CALCUTTA

The 'Tokyo Cadets' of the Indian National Army, who returned this week to Calcutta, have decided to hold themselves at the disposal of the Congress for national work. They are awaiting the return of Mr. Sarat Chandra Bose to Calcutta for his guidance.

This can be gathered from the statement made by some of the cadets at a Press Conference held on Tuesday, the 8th January last at the I. N. A. Relief Committee Office, at Guinea House.

The cadets also said that they attended the funeral of Mr. Subhas Chandra Bose in Tokyo. They confirmed reports of his death.

Of these eleven are Bengalees, one Ceylonese, and three Madrasis.

SIR WILLIAM JONES BICENTENARY

Eloquent tributes to the many sided genius of Sir William Jones, the founder of the Royal Asiatic Society of Bengal were paid at a meeting held at the Royal Asiatic Society Hall on Monday evening, the 7th January, last, in connection with the bicentenary celebrations of his birth.

Prof. Suniti Kumar Chatterji, who spoke on the life and works of Sir William, said that at a time when the European merchants had been out for the material exploitation of the Eastern countries Sir William came here with a great cultural mission. He developed a genuine interest for the oriental culture and during his stay for 11 years in India he set himself to the systematic study of Asian culture. He became versed in Sanskrit, Arabic, Persian and some other oriental languages and translated Mahabharat, Ramayana, Sakuntala into the western languages. He translated many Arabic and Persian books also. It was he who found out that there was a similarity between Sanskrit, Latin and Greek and professed that there might be some common origin of these languages.

Sir Louis Farmour, Sir Jadu Nath Sarkar and Dr. J. M. Unvala also paid their homage to the memory of Sir William.

In connection with the celebration of the bicentenary of the birth of Sir William Jones a symposium on "Pre-Historic Culture in India" was held at the Society's Hall on Tuesday, the 8th January last.

Prof. K. P. Chatterjee, head of the Department of Anthropology, University of Calcutta, opened the discussion.

Earlier Dr. M. N. Saha said that from the very beginning of the Society it took a keen interest in Anthropological research. In 1837 Major Campbell published a paper on Nepal's Material Culture.

Referring to the great works of Mr. Hodson, Mr. B. Guha and Prof. K. P. Chatterjee on the ancient tribes of India Dr. Saha stressed that to solve the entangled social and psychological problems of India the study of the manners and customs of the aboriginal tribes was essential.

LATE MR. KALINATH RAY

The services rendered by Mr. Kalinath Ray, late Editor, The Tribune (Lahore) in the cause of Indian journalism and nationalism were gratefully recalled by different speakers at a public meeting held at the Indian Association Hall, Calcutta, on Sunday, the 6th January last. Mr. Mrinal Kanti Bose presided. The meeting was organised by the Indian Journalists' Association.

A resolution was adopted condoling the death of the veteran journalist "who had earned the respect and admiration of all by the integrity of his character, his devotion to truth, fearlessness and high sense of duty."

In him, the resolution stated, the Press had lost one of its ablest and sincerest of devotees who had made journalism a high mission in his life and raised it to a level of dignity and fairness seldom surpassed.

The meeting recalled with gratitude that he had brought the Punjab, to which he had given the best part of his life, nearer to Bengal and wielded his powerful pen for the development of an all-India nationalism.

"Simple and unostentatious by nature, always averse to limelight, he had by his silent devotion to duty placed an example of service which the country and the journalists in particular will strive to emulate and the memory of which they will cherish," stated the resolution.

In paying his tribute Mr. Hemendra Prasad Ghose said that Mr. Ray was a man with a remarkable courage of conviction. He had drunk deep at the fountain of knowledge and was conversant with the politics not only of his own country but of other countries as well.

Mr. Satyendra Nath Majumdar said that Mr. Ray had achieved unique popularity among the Punjabis. His writings were marked by sound logic and argument and were not mere effusions of sentimentalism.

Mr. Vivekananda Mukherjee said that from his youth he found a special delight in reading editorials in The Tribune which were so informative and enlightening.

Mr. Mrinal Kanti Bose said that Mr. Ray belonged to the old type of journalists who had taken to the profession as a noble mission. Regard for truth and fairness was the marked traits of his character. A man of strong convictions, he did not deviate from the path he had chalked out for himself out of fear or temptation.

Among others Mr. Amal Home, who had been a colleague of Mr. Kalinath Ray on The Tribune and held charge of the paper during his imprisonment under Martial Law, also addressed the meeting.

MR. T. H. ELLIS

Mr. T. H. Ellis, District and Sessions Judge, has been appointed an acting Judge of the Calcutta High Court with effect from the date on which he takes his seat to February 21, 1946, during the absence on leave of Mr. Justice A. N. Sen, says a communique.

CRIMES IN CALCUTTA

The following statement of crimes during the month of November last has been issued by the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta.

Seventy-five pick-pocketing cases against 82 in October were reported of which 41 were detected.

Fifty-six cases of house-breaking by day and 214 by night against 58 and 179 respectively in October were reported, of which 48 cases were detected.

The number of thefts by servants dropped to 96 from 117 and 127 in October and September last respectively. Thirty-six of these were detected.

FOOD RATION CARDS

Food ration cards at present in use in the Calcutta industrial area will cease to be valid after January 27, 1946, the last date of ration week No. 104, says a Press Note.

In order, therefore, the consumers may draw their rations from January 28, existing cards are to be revalidated for a further period of 26 weeks. The revalidation will be effected between January 21 and 27 by the pasting of renewal slips at food ration shops on the back of existing food ration cards.

Consumers should take their food ration cards to their ration shops during ration week No. 104, i.e., between January 21 and 27. The cards will be renewed immediately and returned to them on the spot. Without further difficulty consumers will then be able to draw their rations on the basis of the renewed cards from ration week No. 105, i.e., from January 28.

"ALI BROTHERS' DAY"

Services rendered by Maulanas Mohammad Ali and Shaukat Ali to the cause of India's freedom and of Islam were recalled at a meeting held in Mohammad Ali Park, Calcutta on Sunday, the 6th January last in observance of the Ali Brothers' Day.

Mr. A. R. Siddiqi, who presided, spoke on the lives of the Ali brothers with special reference to their severance of connection with the Congress. Swami Viswanand, Mr. S. M. Usman, Maulana Abdur Rafi and Mr. A. J. Waheedi also spoke.

BOMBAY-CALCUTTA AIR SERVICE

There will be shortly two daily air services between Bombay and Calcutta. One will be operated by Tatas and the other by the Air Services of India Limited. Tata's daily air service between Bombay and Calcutta is expected to be resumed in the first week of March.

The Air Services of India have applied for permission to operate Bombay-Calcutta service as also to run a service between Bombay and Delhi. Tatas are already running a daily air service between Bombay and Delhi in addition to the one by the National Airways between these two cities. Thus, there will be three daily air services between Bombay and Delhi and two daily air services between Bombay and Calcutta in two or three months' time.

ROLE OF ENGINEERS IN NATIONAL AFFAIRS

A plea that engineers should take greater responsibility in the affairs of the nation was made by Mr. J. N. Das Gupta presiding at the annual meeting of the Bengal Engineering College Alumni Congress at Great Eastern Hotel on the 5th January last.

As a result of the nature of their education and practical training engineers, he said, became a sort of "over-specialized" section of the community. They should not be absorbed only in their particular job and consider themselves 'superior to politics'. Unless engineers were given a proper place in national affairs the world would fall short of the "ideals that are being formulated for the New Era." They needed such men as could shape policies to guide society as also the tools which would bring economic regeneration.

The secretary, Mr. D. K. Chakravarti, appealed for funds for carrying on the work of the Congress.

The average prices in deficit and self-sufficient districts remained unchanged at Rs. 12-9 and Rs. 11-4 respectively, while the average for the surplus districts declined by an anna and was Rs. 11-2 on December 19.

The clipper turns back on its homeward flight on the 9th, and is expected to reach New York in the first week of February.

The flight outward to Calcutta started on the 5th December last. The clipper carries 26 technical experts of the Pan-American airways, and the object of the present flight is to determine airport and service facilities for a commercial air service.

MR. BENOY JIBAN GHOSH RELEASED

Mr. Benoy Jiban Ghosh of the Secretary's Department Calcutta Corporation who was released from the Buxa Special Jail on the 5th December last, resumed his duties the next day. He had been arrested in May, 1941 and after about a year at the Hijli Special Jail, he was later transferred to the Rajshahi Central Jail and thence to the Buxa Special Jail where he was in detention during the last three years.

Apart from losing a few pounds in weight, Mr. Ghosh maintained good health throughout the period of his incarceration. On the day he resumed his duties as Senior Superintendent of the Secretary's Office, he was accorded a most warm and cordial reception by his friends and colleagues in the Secretary's Department and other departments of the Corporation.

A NEW DRUG FOR ANAEMIA

Scientists claim that they have discovered a new secret synthetic drug which has been successfully used in the treatment of anaemia.

The drug has been named 'Follic Acid.' Injection is unnecessary, the doctors say, and the drug can be given by the mouth. In cases under observation the red cells rose in 12 days from 1.64 million to 3.21 million.

CALCUTTA MORTALITY

Calcutta's health, which during the first three weeks of December registered a gradual but continued improvement, received a setback during the week ended December 29. The total mortality figure rose to 876, an increase of 106 over the previous week's figure.

This rise, as explained by the Health Officer, has been greatly influenced by the increase in deaths from respiratory diseases which totalled 220 against 174 the week before. Pneumonia alone caused 118 deaths against 88 in the preceding week.

During the corresponding two weeks last year, deaths from all causes averaged 1,025.

Malaria caused 88 deaths during the week against 28 the week before. In the corresponding weeks last year an average of 71 persons succumbed to this disease weekly.

Cholera attacks and deaths numbered 7 and 3 respectively against 11 and 7 the week before. The average for the corresponding weeks last year was: attacks 28 and deaths 10.

Attacks and deaths from small-pox numbered 2 and 1 respectively against 1 each the week before. Last year attacks and deaths averaged 246 and 181 respectively during the corresponding weeks.

Recorded deaths of paupers were 124 against 103 in the preceding week.

The rise in deaths attributed to pneumonia and in deaths among paupers may be due to the recent cold spell and the high cost of warm clothing of which there are only limited stocks in the city.

Calcutta's total mortality during the week ended January 5 was 797, a drop of 79 from the previous week's figure. During the corresponding two weeks last year, the average death rate per week was 1,066, the quinquennial average being 836.

Cholera showed a rise during the week, attacks and deaths being 22 and 8 respectively against 7 and 3 in the previous week. Attacks and deaths, during the corresponding weeks last year, averaged 30 and 12 respectively.

Malaria caused 86 deaths against 88 the week before. Last year, an average of 72 persons succumbed to this disease weekly during the corresponding period.

Small-pox attacks and deaths numbered one each against two and one respectively the week before. The average for the same period last year was: attacks 239, deaths 178.

Recorded deaths of paupers were 119 against 124 in the preceding week.

ANTI-BACTERIA RESEARCH

Of Great Value To Public Health

The measures which Britain, America and Canada worked on from May, 1942, to counter the possible use of bacteria in warfare by the Germans and the Japanese produced knowledge "of great value to public health, agriculture, industry and science."

With this disclosure in London came a warning to the world from one of the scientists engaged in the work Mr. George W. Merck, U.S., special consultant for biological warfare.

•ANOTHER TUBERCULOSIS SANATORIUM FOR BENGAL

The foundation stone of a tuberculosis sanatorium, which is expected eventually to accommodate 600 patients, was laid on the 5th January last at Amulia, Bardwan district by His Excellency the Governor of Bengal, Mr. R. G. Casey. His Excellency who covered part of the journey by air was accompanied by Mrs. Casey, Major General W. R. Dimond, Surgeon General, and Mr. J. L. Llewellyn, Secretary, Public Health and Medical Department, Bengal Government.

The sanatorium is based on the recommendations made over ten years ago by Dr. Ukil, Head of the Department of Chest Diseases, Medical College Hospital. The total estimated cost of Rs. 2,82,000 was contributed by Seth Bain Coomar Bangur, a prominent Calcutta stock broker while the three landlords from whom the land has been purchased have agreed to forego Rs. 25,000 of the calculated cost

In a report to the U.S. Secretary of War, Mr. Merck wrote: "During the development of the atom bomb and other secret weapons during the war development of agents for biological warfare is possible in many countries, perhaps under the guise of legitimate medical or bacteriological research."

The results include development of methods of rapid and accurate detection of minute quantities of disease-producing agents; significant contributions to the knowledge of control of airborne disease-producing agents; production and isolation for the first time of crystalline bacterial toxin which has opened the way for the preparation of a more highly purified immunizing toxin; development and production of effective toxoid in sufficient quantities; significant contributions to the knowledge concerning development of immunity in human beings and animals against certain infectious diseases of human beings and animals and in development of protective clothing and equipment and information on the effects of more than 1,000 different chemical agents on living plants and studies of production and control of certain diseases of plants.

TIDAL WAVE IN KARACHI

163 PERSONS KILLED

One hundred and sixty-three persons were killed and about 800 were rendered homeless and property worth Rs. 2,14,000 was destroyed in the Karachi area as the result of the tidal wave in the wake of the earthquake which occurred on the 28th November last, says an official statement.

IMPORTANT NOT CE
GOVERNMENT OF INDIA—DEPARTMENT OF SUPPLY
CEMENT CONTROL

Military demands having virtually ceased, and provided production is maintained and wagons for cement transport are supplied, it is expected that adequate quantities of cement will be available for repairs and maintenance and the construction of all descriptions of new works.

In order to make the procurement of cement as easy as possible certain relaxations in control have been introduced. The following arrangements should be noted :

1. The requirements of the public for the maintenance, repair and construction of new private buildings.

(a) Calcutta, Howrah and respective environs.

Supplies when available may be obtained, without reference to this office, from any of the Main Selling Agents and/or their Registered Stockists in any quantity at the controlled rate without the necessity of filling in any application form and/or obtaining the recommendation of any local authority.

(b) Elsewhere in Bengal, Bihar, Orissa and Assam.

Supplies when available may be obtained, without reference to this office from any Registered Stockists, in any quantity at the controlled rate without the necessity of filling in any application form and/or obtaining the recommendation of any local authority.

Note: Stocks are kept at certain important centres which may not be distributed by the Stockist unless against specific release authorisations issued by this office. This arrangement is to assure, until such time as conditions assume complete normality, that the requirements of Government and Quasi-Government Departments, Public Utility Concerns, and important industries receive supplies of cement in less than full wagon load lots with the least delay.

2. The requirements of Government Departments and Quasi-Government Departments.

Throughout Bengal, Bihar, Orissa and Assam Government and Quasi-Government Departments must apply direct to this office to assure the most rapid availability of supplies. Small Municipalities and District Boards requiring unimportant quantities may endeavour to obtain supplies from sources mentioned in Para I, Sub-Section (b).

3. The requirements of Public Utility Concerns and Industries.

Throughout Bengal, Bihar, Orissa and Assam small industries requiring unimportant quantities may endeavour to obtain supplies from sources mentioned in Para I, Sub-Sections (a) and (b). Important industries should make direct application to this office to assure the most rapid availability of supplies. Applications may be made on the usual forms or simply by letter either with or without any supporting authority.

Chronicle & Comment

Bi-Centenary Of The Birth Of Sir William Jones (1746-1946)

Sir William Jones, Founder and first President of the Royal Asiatic Society of Bengal (founded in 1784), was born in 1746, when his father, William Jones, (Sr) was already a well-known figure in the literary and scientific world of England counting among his friends Sir Issac Newton, Lord Parker, Samuel Johnson and others. Young Jones joined the University of Oxford and showed remarkable aptitude for literary and linguistic studies composing in Latin and Greek and mastering the major languages of Europe. Even in his student days, he was studying with keen interest Persian, Arabic and Chinese, and was preparing to publish his "Commentaries on Asiatic Poetry." So when he landed in Calcutta to serve as a judge of the Supreme Court, he was already a well-known figure and was naturally selected by Warren Hastings to develop, through the Asiatic Society, a systematic survey of the Natural History, Economic Resources, Languages, Literature and Culture of India. As President of the Society, he lit the lamp of research into Asiatic civilization in general and of Indian History and Culture in particular. He definitely demonstrated the kinship of Sanskrit with Greek and Latin, and other European languages, and thus made himself the founder of Comparative Philology of the Indo-European languages.

He translated into English Sakuntala of Kalidasa, a masterpiece of Sanskrit drama, which was re-translated into French by Professor Chezy of the College de France, and it is well-known how profoundly the Indian play influenced Goethe while he was giving finishing touches to his masterpiece, Faust.

Sir William Jones died (April, 1794) prematurely at the age of 49, lamented by the world of scholarship; but his spirit lived on, inspiring workers in the East and the West to continue the great work of international understanding through Language, Literature and Culture.

It is in the fitness of things that the Royal Asiatic Society of Bengal celebrated worthily the Bi-centenary of its illustrious Founder and invited representatives of learned Societies in India, China, U. S. S. R., Iran, Turkey, Great Britain and America as well as individual leaders and patrons of learning to participate in the celebrations. The celebrations began on the 6th of January, and terminated on its Foundation Day (15th of January, 1946).

The Week In The Corporation

Wednesday: 16th January

DIAMOND HARBOUR DISASTER

A resolution noting with horror the accident which occurred at Diamond Harbour and asking the Bengal Government to institute an immediate public inquiry into the disaster was passed by the Corporation at its meeting held on Wednesday, the 16th January. Sympathy was expressed towards the families of the victims, and the meeting adjourned without transacting any business.

The resolution, which had been tabled by Councillor Madan Mohan Barman, was moved from the chair by the Deputy Mayor, Mr. Shamsul Haque, who presided, while a rider asking for adjournment of the House in honour of the dead was moved by Councillor Mohammed Israil.

The resolution stated as follows—

That the Corporation notes with horror the accident at Diamond Harbour resulting in the death of a large number of citizens of Calcutta and also a large number of visitors to Calcutta, and offers its deepest sympathy to the families of the victims.

That the Corporation calls upon the Government of Bengal to start immediately a public enquiry into the cause of the accident which apparently seems to be due to engineering defects in the construction of the jetties at Diamond Harbour.

Moving the resolution, the Deputy Mayor, Mr. Shamsul Haque, said:—

"We meet this evening under the shadow of death. A large number of pilgrims, bound for Gangasagar met with a horrible tragedy which has cast a gloom over the whole province.

"From all accounts, it appears that the jetties at Diamond Harbour had not been attended to in order to ensure their safety, and when the pilgrims crossed the jetties in a body, the structure gave way, with the result that many found a watery grave and many were injured. It discloses lack of attention to duty and lack of ordinary foresight on the part of those who were in charge of the arrangement and the least that we can do is to demand a public enquiry into the causes that led to the disaster.

"To the families of the dead, we offer our sympathy and condolences. To the injured, we convey our best wishes for their speedy recovery to full health and activity."

Speaking on the resolution, Councillor Madan Mohan Barman said that on past occasions, arrangements used to be made for the Gangasagar pilgrims to embark at Calcutta. But this year, according to him, the military authorities declined to allow use of the ghats in the Calcutta river for the embarkation of the pilgrims; with the result that only a few days before the Mela, the whole arrangement had to be shifted to Diamond Harbour. The military, it was reported, had refused to give Babu Ghat, Princep Ghat, Ahiritola Ghat, etc., for the purpose.

It had been reported in the Press, Councillor Barman said, that 148 of the pilgrims lost their lives in the disaster. But according to rumour, loss of life was said to be much heavier and a large number of bundles containing the belongings of the pilgrims were lying unattended.

One of the rumours about the cause of the accident was that a steamer struck the jetty due to the negligence of a Serang which led to the collapse of the jetty. It was necessary that a sifting public enquiry should be made into the causes of the accident.

Councillor Jogindra Lal Saha, supporting the demand for a public enquiry, said that he visited Diamond Harbour on Sunday (the 13th January) afternoon. He found on enquiry that there were no proper arrangements made for the pilgrims on the river embankment when they reached there after alighting from the train; there was a thin covering under which they had to stay the whole night. Police and volunteer arrangements were inadequate.

According to him, the jetty was three feet wide, made of one-inch thick kutcha wood, with bamboo railings.

It passed his understanding how a disaster of such magnitude could take place in such a small place unless authorities were negligent. The railway and steamer companies had asked the people in general to come to attend the Mela and people came in their thousands. How could the railway and steamer companies now absolve themselves of all responsibility in the matter? He demanded a sifting enquiry into the incident.

Councillor Saha stated to have heard that as a result of the catastrophe many families had been deprived of their relatives and in the case of two or three families his information went that there was no one left.

Councillor Kaviraj Satyabrata Sen said that unlike on past occasions, volunteers were not allowed to accompany the pilgrims in the steamers. The

CALCUTTA CORPORATION SCAVENGERS AND LABOUR UNION

A mass meeting of Scavengers and Labour Union and other sister Unions was held on the 8th January last at the Hazra Road Metbar Bustee under the Presidentship of Mr. Radha Ballav Gope.

The following resolutions among others were passed unanimously:—

The meeting regrets to state that Corporation has done nothing for the benefit of their Harijan employees and other labour workers and also neglected to solve the difficulties which they have suffered during the present war crisis and are still suffering on account of low wages and higher prices of all sorts of commodities.

The meeting stresses that necessary education be given to Harijans of the Corporation and the Corporation be requested to give proper support for the betterment of the Harijan boys with regard to their education and the Corporation be requested to make early arrangements for the necessary repairs of the School buildings.

The meeting regrets to note that the full quota of aid which was usually received by the School Committee was not received for the years 1943 and 1944. The meeting requests the Corporation to make immediate arrangement to pay the full quota of the aid.

steamer companies had said that they were not responsible for the accident. Who then was responsible for it?

He demanded a sifting public enquiry in the matter and urged that the jetties should be preserved in the same condition in which these were after these had collapsed.

The resolution, as stated above, was passed.

Councillor Mohammed Israil moved for the adjournment of the House in memory of those who were no more.

The House also adopted the adjournment motion moved by Councillor Israil.

CONDOLENCES

The House also condoled the deaths of Mr. Lalita Prosad Varman, the well-known Journalist and Editor of Viswamitra, the daily Hindi paper of Calcutta; Thakur Ram Monohar Sing, a prominent Congressman, ex-Member of the B. P. C. C., ex-Secretary, Burrabazar District Congress Committee and Editor of Viswamitra, a Hindi daily at Bombay; Mr. Ranglal Jajodia, a prominent businessman of the city and a social and Congress worker of Burrabazar.

LATE MR. N. C. ROY CHOWDHURY

The Corporation expressed deep regret on the demise of Mr. N. C. Roy Chowdhury, B.E., the first Civil Engineer appointed by the Corporation to look after Calcutta Improvement Trust works. He had retired after 13 years of efficient service.

Mr. N. C. Roy Chowdhury was an able and very popular officer of the Corporation. Besides, he served as the Municipal Engineer, prior to his Corporation service, in Howrah, Cuttack, and Monghyr. He died at the age of 70 at Lucknow. His generous disposition, amiable manners and courteous behaviour struck any one who came in contact with him. His dealings even with menials were most sympathetic. His charities were also numerous: any good cause, national, religious or social was supported by his bounties. He provided many students with tuition fees. His connection with the LATE MR. N. C. ROY CHOWDHURY Calcutta Corporation Jamadars, Peons and Workers' Association was most intimate.

He has left four sons behind him of whom Mr. Bimal Chandra Roy Chowdhury is a professor at the Lucknow College; Mr. Sukumar Roy Chowdhury, a doctor now practising in Shillong, Mr. Sashi Sital Roy Chowdhury, a political worker and Mr. Chuni Lal Roy Chowdhury, now in England.

Mr. N. C. Roy Chowdhury has left a building at Keshab Sen Street for the poor students who reside there free of charge. Many big engineering projects have been constructed under his direct supervision. Among the numerous projects the "Kiul Railway Bridge" is worth mentioning.

MAHATMA GANDHI IN CALCUTTA

Interviews Security Prisoners In Presidency Jail

AFTER a five-day tour of Assam, Mahatma Gandhi and his party returned to Sodepur Ashram by special train in the afternoon of Sunday, the 18th January.

Gandhiji said that it was a great pleasure to him that on his return journey from Assam, people were sufficiently quiet and he expected that such peace would be maintained on every occasion.

Mahatma Gandhi made a reference to the recent occurrences at a Chittagong village and the disaster at Diamond Harbour in his prayer message at Sodepur on Monday, the 14th January.

The occurrences at the Chittagong village, he said, must have given to everyone the same pain that they had given to him. The Government was to perform its own duty about it. But his thought passed to themselves. If they entertained no Satyagraha in them, then such happenings could not take place. What had happened at Diamond Harbour was similarly painful.

Gandhiji did not address the congregation, the day being his day of silence, but his message to the people assembled was read out by Shri Kanu Gandhi.

VISIT TO SECURITY PRISONERS

Gandhiji visited Presidency Jail at Alipore on Tuesday evening, the 15th January, and spent over two hours interviewing the 49 security prisoners now lodged there.

The security prisoners whom Mahatmaji saw included two women and two patients by whose bedside he remained some time. The interviews took place in a room adjacent to the main gate of the jail, where the prisoners came in batches of five, while the two women came in a separate batch. After he had had talks with the 10 batches, Gandhiji went to the jail hospital and walked upstairs to see the two patients.

The security prisoners presented Mahatma Gandhi with a garland and a bouquet, and 77,000 yards of yarn spun by four of them.

Gandhiji was received by the Jail Superintendent, Lt.-Col. R. L. Patney, and other jail staff.

As he came out of the jail Gandhiji said to the Jail Superintendent, with his usual smile: "I thank you very much." He accepted an offering of a jail-made carpet from the Additional Jailor, Mr. A. K. Moitra.

Gandhiji announced that he would leave Sodepur for Madras on the 19th January reaching Madras on the morning of the 21st.

"ABYSS OF IGNORANCE"

Referring to a song of poet Rabindranath sung during Wednesday's (the 16th January) prayers at Sodepur Khadi Ashram, Gandhiji said that desire only tended to throw human beings into the darkness of unreason and misguide them. The poet had prayed to God for heavenly light to lead a man who had been slave to his desires and was groping in darkness.

"Every one of them should pray morning and evening to God who was an Omniscient Being to dispel darkness from his heart and save him from the abyss of ignorance. They should pray to God to awaken them in His kindly way from the slumber of idleness and reprove them so that they might not again fall a prey to it," Gandhiji added.

About 80 school children met Mahatma Gandhi after prayer at Sodepur Ashram and contributed to the Harijan fund about Rs. 10.

ROMAIN ROLLAND VOLUME

Among others who called on Gandhiji were Deshbandhu C. R. Das's wife, Mrs. Basanti Devi and her daughter Mrs. Aparna Devi.

Mme. Madeline Rolland, sister of M. Romain Rolland, in a letter to Dr. Kalidas Nag having stated recently that M. Romain Rolland in his last days remembered Indian leaders like Gandhiji and Pandit Nehru, whom he had met in Europe before the war. Dr. Kalidas Nag, Dr. Amiya Chakravarti and Prof. Mihir Kumar Sen met Gandhiji in that connection on Wednesday at Sodepur and discussed with him about the publication of a volume in memory of M. Romain Rolland.

Special ArticleMunicipalization of Calcutta Tramways

[By A. K. SUR, M.A., F.R.ECON.S., F.R.S.S.]

THE protracted dispute over the proposed purchase of Calcutta's Tramway undertaking by the City Corporation has now reached a new phase. It is reported that the Municipality has now been informed by the Tramway's Agent that last September's contract between the parties about the running of the service from 1st January, 1946 by the Corporation is cancelled due to its failure to fulfil certain conditions. These relate to obtaining assent of the Government of India and the New Howrah Bridge Commissioners for running trams on the maidan and the bridge, and also to payment of the purchase price by the Municipality. In view of this the Corporation has been asked not to proceed with the arbitration regarding settlement of the purchase price of the undertaking as the clause under which arbitrators were appointed is also cancelled. It is assured, however, that the Company's solicitors are prepared to appear before the arbitrators to elucidate further the facts in consequence of which the contract is cancelled.

THE PRESENT DISPUTE

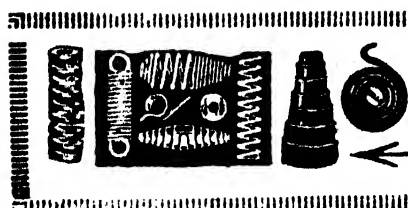

Before we come to recount here the facts that led to the present dispute between the Corporation and the Calcutta Tramways, it would be worth while to state here briefly the nature of the Company's undertaking and the terms and conditions of the original contract under which it had been operating so long. The Company's track mileage measures about 84.18, and it stretches over the area not merely of the Calcutta Corporation, but also that of the Tollygunge and Howrah Municipalities, the Bengal Government and the Commissioners for the New Howrah Bridge. For this, the Calcutta Corporation receives a total track rent of Rs. 80,590 per annum, the Tollygunge Municipality Rs. 200 per annum, the Bengal Government Rs. 10,281, and the New Howrah Bridge Commissioners Rs. 1,25,000. For the Howrah section the Howrah Municipality receives a track rent of Rs. 4,566 per annum and the Bengal Government Rs. 2,440. The Company's concessions are perpetual, subject to right of the respective municipalities to purchase undertaking within their areas on 1st January, 1938, and on the 1st January of every subsequent period of seven years on paying 25 years' purchase of the difference between the average Gross Annual Receipts and that Working Expenses of the Company for preceding seven years.

In virtue of the above contract, the Calcutta Corporation gave notice of intention to exercise its rights to purchase the undertaking on the 1st January, 1945. Negotiations were, therefore, set afoot between the Company and the Corporation, and pending any final decision on the matter, it was agreed that the Corporation would purchase on these terms the whole of the undertaking including the Howrah system and portions of the Calcutta system not operated under the contracts with the Corporation, with effect as from January 1, 1946.

DEPUTATION TO GOVERNMENT

But there were certain legal difficulties in the way of the Corporation's early acquisition of the

Tramways. So at its meeting held on the 6th December, 1944, the Corporation decided to send a deputation consisting of five members (Messrs. R. N. Gaggar, M. A. H. Ishahani, S. C. Ray Chaudhuri, S. M. Usman and the Mayor (Mr. Anandilal Poddar) to meet the Hon'ble Chief Minister in connection with the purchase of the Tramways undertaking, and to place before him the points of view of the Corporation relating to the question of the purchase of Tramways, with a view to facilitating taking over of Tramways concern by the Corporation. The Deputation was also to request the Government to assist the Corporation in the matter of acquisition of the Tramways and to amend Section 97 of the Calcutta Municipal Act so as to give power to the Corporation to raise loan for the purpose. The Corporation deputationists accompanied by the Chief Executive Officer and the Assessor to the Corporation waited on the Chief Minister on the 21st December, 1944, and it was reported that a full and frank discussion took place in course of which the different points of view were brought out without any reservation. "The deputation explained in details that even without the books of the Company being available to the Corporation, the purchase price on the basis of standard authorities and on the figures supplied by the Tramways Company themselves, would not exceed Rs. 3,62,00,000 and the Chief Minister seemed to have been convinced that the purchase of the Tramways by the Corporation would be an economic proposition. The deputation made it clear that on the existing Agreements and on the basis of the legal opinion obtained by the Corporation, the Corporation had full right of taking over the Tramways Company on the 1st day of January, 1945 without the sanction of Government and they also said that the Corporation had the capacity of financing the purchase of the undertaking". The Chief Minister, on the contrary, pointed out that "as advised by his legal expert it seemed that the sanction of the Government was necessary before the Tramways undertaking could be purchased by the Corporation and that in any case the amendment of Section 97 of the Act was necessary before the Corporation could finance the purchase of the undertaking." The Chief Minister further stated that the legal questions could not be finally decided without protracted litigation and it was, therefore, desirable that the Government and the Corporation would come to an Agreement as to how the Tramways undertaking be best municipalized or nationalized. Government help on this matter was, however, assured on the condition that the Corporation was agreeable to the general proposition of the formation of a Transport Board to control, manage and carry out the administration of all transports including the Tramways, Bus and other forms of transport services that might come into existence hereafter in Calcutta, the adjoining municipalities and the Industrial areas. It was stated that the Corporation should have representation on the proposed Board proportionate to its interests and that the Corporation should be entitled to a share of the profit that the undertaking may earn in proportion to the size of the interest of the Corporation in such undertaking. The Chief Minister further stated that in the event of the Corporation agreeing to the formation of the proposed Transport Board, the Government might be prepared to find the money themselves or through the Transport Board and the Corporation might not be called upon to finance the purchase of the undertaking at all.

NEW ARRANGEMENT

Later on, the Tramways Company approached the Corporation to remain in possession of undertaking for its own benefit until December 31, 1945, and retain the profits for the year. While seeking this allowance the Company stipulated that (i) meantime the purchase price of whole tramways with the plant, machinery, land, buildings, rolling stock, stores and everything connected therewith belonging to the Company including Howrah as at 31st December, 1944, is to be ascertained in the manner provided by the 1899 Agreement incorporated in Bengal Act IV of 1900, and on footing that all such assets deemed to be subject matter of 1899 Agreement as at December 31, 1944, (ii) immediate endeavour is to be made by the Corporation to obtain necessary assent from other Authorities and passing of necessary legislation to enable plant, machinery, land, buildings, rolling stock, stores and everything connected therewith belonging to the Company, from January 1, 1946, and purchase price is to be paid by that date, (iii) in the event of the Corporation failing to obtain necessary consent and passing of necessary legislation or failing to obtain necessary finance by loan or otherwise to implement such arrangement, the Company is to be left in possession after December 31, 1945, on terms of existing agreement and the notice shall be cancelled.

These proposals were virtually accepted by the Corporation, and in the light of same an arrangement was arrived at by which the Corporation was ultimately to acquire the undertaking on January 1, 1946. Meanwhile the Corporation set about to determine the purchase price of undertaking and to call tenders for the appointment of an agent to run the services. Regarding the latter, so far as our information goes four tenders so far submitted tenders for running the tramways service in Calcutta on behalf of the Corporation. They are: (1) Transport Syndicate of 6, Old Post Office Street, Calcutta with a tender limit of Rs. 4.5 crores, (2) Anandram Gajadhar with no tender limit, (3) Ballygunge Building Society with a tender limit of Rs. 4.5 crores, and (4) S. K. Roy of 2, Dalhousie Square East with a tender limit of Rs. 4.0 crores.

PRICE OF THE UNDERTAKING

So far as the determination of the price of the undertaking is concerned, the Corporation stuck to the price named by them in 1944. One only wonders how the Corporation arrived at the purchase price of Rs. 3,69,35,200. At least, they have not disclosed the basis of their estimate. Against this we have the demand of the Calcutta Tramways Company amounting to Rs. 8,51,59,075. Now in the light of the provisions embodied in the original contract, it is not very difficult to calculate the purchase price of the undertaking. It is "twenty-five years purchase of the difference between the average gross annual receipts and the working expenses of the Company for preceding seven years." Let us tabulate here the gross annual receipts and working expenses of the Company for several years, as given in its audited balance sheets.

Year.	Gross Receipts.	Working Expenses.	Surplus.	Dividend.
1933	423,957	267,279	156,678	7½
1934	449,557	279,785	169,772	9
1935	465,159	281,310	183,849	9
1936	457,929	287,087	170,842	8
1937	476,076	289,126	186,950	8
1938	489,027	301,978	187,049	8
1939	490,253	311,973	178,280	5½
1940	503,238	320,913	182,325	5½
1941	570,235	357,146	213,089	5½
1942	602,343	398,389	203,954	6½
1943	907,834	589,846	317,988	7½
1944	1,229,803	675,596	554,207	7½

Now the question here is: which seven years are to be taken into account for the purpose of the estimate? If the seven years ending 1939 are to be taken into consideration then the purchase price comes to £4,405,075 or Rs. 7,63,54,633. But if the seven years preceding the 1st of January, 1945 be taken into consideration then the purchase price comes to £6,560,300 or Rs. 11,37,11,866. Now the Corporation estimate falls far short of either of the above estimates.

It is obvious from the above, that the Corporation has blundered somewhere in regard to the calculation of the purchase price of the undertaking. They could have indeed made a revised estimate, but instead of that they let the matter go by default. If one would refer to clause (iii) of the temporary arrangement that the Company had with the Corporation as cited above, then it is evident that in view of the said stipulation "the Company is to be left in possession after December 31, 1945, on terms of existing agreement and the notice shall stand cancelled."

HEALTH & HYGIENE

India's Problem Of Population And Food Supply

THE importance of food supply in the world of to-day was stressed by Prof. Afzal Hussain in his presidential address to the 33rd session of the Indian Science Congress held sometime back at Bangalore. In Europe, in the Far East and India there is food shortage, he said. Dealing particularly with India, he said the first difficulty they were up against was lack of accurate statistical data. Without accurate assessment of food requirements and agricultural production, no agricultural planning was possible.

FOOD RESOURCES

Dealing with Indian resources Prof. Afzal Hussain said that feed 400,000,000 India must increase her food production in cereals by 10 per cent. in fruits, by 50 per cent. in vegetables, by 100 per cent. in pulses, by 20 per cent. in fats and oils, by 250 per cent. in milk, by 300 per cent. in fish, flesh and eggs. He pleaded that the yield per acre of cereals should be rapidly increased and said no efforts should be rapidly increased and fisheries and increase the quantity of fish available. Wild life, both bird and animal could be a useful addition of food supply.

Expressing the view that the United Nations Organisation on Food and Agriculture may exercise some control on the rate of increase in the population of India. Prof Afzal Hussain said: "A stationary population for some years to come would avoid 'futility and frustration' which the present situation strongly suggests."

POPULATION TREND

"The United Nations," he said "have now accepted the responsibility for meeting the food requirements of all people. They must, therefore, determine the production of food and control its distribution. We are already hearing of world wheat pools. The necessary corollary to this responsibility is that the United Nations will have to watch the population trend of various countries. What will be the attitude of the nations with a low or controlled birth-rate towards another nation with an uncontrolled and very high birth-rate? Will not the United Nations Organization be justified in exercising some control over population? Having accepted membership of the community of nations, India will have to fall into line with the rest of the world. The solution of the population problem is not easy and at any rate it will be many years before a satisfactory solution can be found. In the meantime an increase in population will continue."

INCREASE IN PRODUCE

On the other hand, said Prof. Afzal Hussain, there were those who firmly believed that "nations can live at home", and saw in the development of the modern science of agrobiolgy the possibility of a manifold increase in produce from the land. They claimed that the problem was not of over-population but of under-development of natural resources and inadequate utilization of human knowledge to develop these resources. For instance, Wilcox placed the theoretical limit of the yield of wheat at 171 bushels and of potatoes at 1,830 bushels, while the average in the U. S. A. was only 8.4 per cent. of this limit in the case of wheat and 8.6 in the case of potatoes.

Prof. Hussain said that neither the policy of population reduction nor the magic wand of agrobiolgy could bring forth immediate results.

SMALL POX EPIDEMIC

AN APPEAL TO THE PUBLIC

The Health Officer, Dr. M. U. Ahmad, issues the following appeal:-

This is the season when Small pox breaks out in an epidemic form in Calcutta. Over 8,000 lives were lost from Small-pox in Calcutta during 1944-45. This has happened in spite of our possessing the surest and simplest method of preventing this calamity, viz., Vaccination. The public are requested to get themselves vaccinated immediately. Authorities employing a large number of labour or other kind of staff can render valuable assistance by taking a little amount of care and seeing that all persons employed under them are vaccinated. Authorities of schools and colleges are specially requested to arrange for vaccination of all students under their care.

As usual, Corporation, besides the permanent staff of vaccinators, have appointed a very large number of temporary staff (both male and female) for this purpose. Everybody desirous of having himself vaccinated should get in touch with his respective District Health Officer.

Man-Power and Output

The supply of labour is a problem—the proportion of skilled to unskilled workers is a problem. These are the problems which every industrialist in India has to face daily and find answers to as best he can. Due to the unprecedented incentive provided by the war to India's industrial activity, the old problem of achieving maximum production while conserving manpower and materials has assumed even greater proportions to-day and is the most serious concern of every factory manager.

Tremendous attention is, therefore, focussed on the efficiency of the individual worker and his ability to maintain a high standard of physical effort and concentration for long periods. Anything that promotes this is a very real boon to the factory manager. In a great many factories tea has been found of great value. It has been proved in practice that tea served to the worker on the job materially increases his power to maintain efficiency to the end of his shift. Our considerable experience in these matters is at the disposal of all employers. A short pamphlet entitled 'Canteens for the Workers' has just been issued on this subject, which will be sent free on application to the Commissioner, Indian Tea Market Expansion Board, 101, Clive Street, Calcutta.

Slums Of Vienna

How They Have Been Cleared

[Below are reproduced excerpts from the book, "Special Correspondent," by Robert Berneys, M.P., author of "Naked Fakir." In 1930, Mr. Berneys set off on a tour round the world. In "Special Correspondent" he gives a picture of the times through the eyes of a shrewd observer who has himself been in lively contact with men and events.]

In this connection may be recalled what Mr. Sara C. Bose, ex-Alderman, inter-alia, said in reply to the civic address presented to him by this Corporation on the 4th October, 1945, drawing the attention of the members of the Corporation to the work done by the Social Democratic Party of Vienna within the short space of ten years.—Editor, C. M. G.]

THE Immense Karl Marx Hof has been captured after a fight lasting from dawn till midday.... Its five thousand occupants have been evacuated and the building is slowly filling with gas.... from Ottakring comes the rattle of machine-gun fire and the occasional thud of howitzer.... So read the sober, accurate report of The Times on the riots in February, 1934. I rubbed my eyes. Was this really the quarter that only a few months before, one sunny October afternoon, I had visited with another fellow Liberal M.P., Mr. Geoffrey Mander, as the finest illustration of slum clearance in Europe?

VISIT TO VIENNA

We had made our tour on the invitation of Herr Seitz, the Socialist Burgomaster of Vienna, an old man with a beard, very courteous and charming, in appearance and manner rather like Lord D'Abernon. Hastily I ran my eye down the two-column account. What had happened to him? "Herr Seitz," I read, "the deposed Socialist Burgomaster, who has long been in poor health, suffered a stroke to-day at the Police Presidency in consequence of the strain to which he has been subjected. He is reported to be in a state of collapse."

What has happened to those kindly women who had taken me those lovely flats? "...roughly made deal coffins carried through an outlying street. It is believed that many women and children have shared the fate of their menfolk."

So this was the end of the great adventure in social reform. The place of pilgrimage for the housing reformers of the world had become a shambles. Almost the solitary great achievement of post-war Socialism was in ruins.

EXPERIMENT IS OVER

But, though the experiment is over, it is worth, even now, some description.

This city of two million people crippled by the war and the Peace Treaty, where the average earnings of the working man do not exceed thirty shillings a week, has in ten years cleared away its slums. It was a fascinating tour that I made to find out how it had been done. Our first stopping-place was inevitably some way from the centre of the town, and I recalled one of the major problems of housing in England—the increased expense in travelling to and from work involved in distant housing estates. It has been overcome here in an interesting way. The fare on the trams—thirty-two groschen; about two pence—is a flat rate.

It is thus possible to go from one end of Vienna to the other for the same price as for a few hundred yards down the street.

WORKING MEN'S FLATS

My first sight was of the Karl Marx Hof, a series of working men's flats stretching block after block for a thousand yards. It contained fourteen hundred flats. It sounds a dreary vista, but they were not the skyscraper slums that frequently go under the name of working men's dwellings in England.

They were fronted by a green line of grass playgrounds for the children; each flat had a balcony decked out as a flower-garden; each block had some subtle change in line or colour that was extraordinarily restful to eye. There were statues and fountains such as in London are found only in some smart West End "court."

My guide knocked at a door at random, and we asked permission to go inside. It was like the advertisement of a model dwelling in a garden suburb. There was an entrance-hall, a kitchen, two rooms, and a balcony so big that it made a fine nursery. All the flooring was parquet, and with each flat was included a gas stove.

RENTS FOR FLATS

With the memory of back yards at home, with the washing hanging out to dry on a Monday afternoon, I asked how in a flat that difficulty was overcome. It was quite simple. There was a steam laundry. The right to use it was included in the rent. And the rent for all this—which included a gas stove and a steam laundry? The equivalent of five English shillings a week.

And in my constituency and in five hundred others unemployed families, with not more than twenty-eight shillings a week coming into the house, are paying twelve and six pence to fourteen shillings a week.

I know what the average Englishman interested in housing will say: "That is all very well. These are flats. The English working man will not live in flats, and if you had to tramp up ten flights of stairs every time you came back from an afternoon's shopping, you wouldn't either." I agree. I said exactly the same to my guide.

ESTATE OF HOUSES

His answer was to take me to another part of Vienna, where I saw an estate, not of flats, but of houses—blocks of four or eight houses, each with a separate door and a staircase. We explored further, and came upon another estate of two-storied houses exactly as in England. They were as well equipped and as comfortable and as cheap as the flats.

It was all according to taste. Some preferred communal living; others liked isolation of a separate house. I cannot believe that it was a mere accident that the communal flats were called the Karl Marx Hof and the estates of separate houses were named after George Washington.

How has it been done? Here are the facts. During the war there was a severe Rent Restriction Act. This continued after the war into the time of the inflation. Private enterprise found it hopelessly unprofitable to build new houses. The shortage was appalling. The municipality had to step in and build its own. There was no money for it in the city treasury, and little possibility of raising a loan. It had to be done out of special taxation. A tax was levied on each room in any occupied house rising by arithmetical progression after each third room. Thus, if you paid four pounds for four rooms you were taxed sixteen pounds for five rooms and thirty-two pounds for six rooms. It was a crushing impost, but it produced the money and the houses.

Sixty thousand houses have been built since 1922 in Vienna, and they are free of all charges in connection with debt and sinking fund. The rent is not rent in our sense—the payment of interest on capital. It is merely a charge for present upkeep and future repairs.

No doubt weighty objection can be brought against the measures. It will be argued that the British nation, with an income tax of five shillings in the pound, could not afford the additional terrible burden of additional taxation; that money must earn three and half per cent.; and that the fact that the loan is for housing makes no difference, and that in any case the present position of Austria's finances is hardly an advertisement of the soundness of her financial policy since the war.

But the results cannot be argued away. While we in England have been taking about the slum clearance—producing successive Housing Bills, launching “crusades,” conducting “drives”—Vienna has done it.

The popularity it was beyond dispute. Though Vienna had long since gone anti-Socialist in national affairs, in municipal affairs the city still returned the Socialist party which first launch the Housing Scheme by a majority, after twelve years, of two-thirds of the seats.

But there was nothing particularly socialistic about the achievement. As the Socialist Burgo-master said to me, “It is the Socialists who happen to have done it here, but the same kind of thing could be done in England by any party.”

CITY WITHOUT SLUMS

But will it be done? Slum clearance needs ruthlessness and it needs self-sacrifice. There is not a plentiful supply of these qualities to-day, either in the Ministry of Health or the property owners. There is also the remarkable Conservatism of the working classes. I talked to the members of the English trade-union delegation to Vienna about the Vienna

Housing. They were quite unimpressed by it. “Well, I don't like that steam laundry idea at all”, one of them said to me. “My wife would not like to go out and do her washing at a stated time. And those baths, too—fancy having to dress first, and then go across a cold courtyard and have a bath, and then have to dress all over again”. Another objection to the payment for these houses out of taxation was: “If houses are provided by the State, why not food and clothing?”

Still the fact remains that Vienna is the only city in Europe that has cleared its slums—or, rather, had cleared its slums. For after the events of February even post-war Vienna has become a city in the past tense.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

SEPARATION FROM BHATPARA MUNICIPALITY

TO THE EDITOR, “CALCUTTA MUNICIPAL GAZETTE”

SIR,—There appears to be a united demand for separation of Athpur and Mulajore, inhabited largely by the Bengalees, from under the Bhatpara Municipality. The name Bhatpara is stated to be a misnomer. For Bhatpara proper has a representation of only 2 out of total of 19 commissioners on its Municipal Board. Its administration is controlled by the up-country, floating labour population of Jagatdal and Kankinara. There was progressive deterioration in office administration (which culminated in its supersession in 1942 since its different wards were allotted representation proportionate only to their population ignoring all other factors which in heterogeneous township of this kind should have received the most serious and careful consideration. In any case, the Department of Local Self-Government cannot deny self-governance to a class of people, largely the Bengalees, desiring to tear themselves asunder from the dominance of the up-country labour population of Jagatdal and Kankinara. That would be against the fundamental principle of self-government which the Department stand avowedly to promote and foster.—Yours etc.

Secretary,

Separation Committee, Ward No IV,
Bhatpara Municipality.

YOU'D be surprised how many modern inventions owe their efficiency to ingenious rubber parts, designed and compounded to perform many different, highly specialized functions. Today the moulding of such parts from synthetic rubber is an art brought to high perfection by the G.T.M.—Goodyear Technical Man.

Typical is the underwater driving gear on marine tractors. Abrasion from sand and mud wore out bare metal gears so rapidly, that Goodyear developed a steel-hard, rubber-covered gear that lasts far longer and does not foul from corrosion.

Entirely different are Milking Machine Inflatons—the cup-shaped "hands" of mechanical milkers. These must be extremely soft, flexible, acid-resistant and non-taintable to milk.

Then there is Goodyear's new Iceguard boot for airplane propellers, made of electro-conductive rubber that "heats up" to prevent ice forming on the blades. Or oil-resistant hydraulic packings, accumulators and gaskets for aircraft that keep pliant and operative at 65° below zero.

If this suggests new possibilities for the use of rubber in your postwar product, why not write us? Today Goodyear technicians are doing things with synthetic rubber impossible with nature's product. To consult the G.T.M., write to G. T. & R. Co., 60, Chowringhee, Calcutta.

A Government grant of Rs. 50,000 to the Royal Asiatic Society of Bengal was announced by Professor Meghnad Saha, President of the Society, presiding at the symposium on "Indian Culture as a Factor in World Civilisation" held on the fourth day of the bi-centenary celebrations of the birth of Sir William Jones, founder of the Society at the Society's premises on the 9th January last.

MR. SARAT CHANDRA BOSE; ADDRESS OF WELCOME

On behalf of the citizens of Calcutta, an address and a purse of Rupees one lakh eleven thousand one hundred and one were presented to Mr. Sarat Chandra Bose at a mammoth gathering of more than a lakh of people at Deshabandhu Park on Sunday evening, the 13th January last.

The address was printed on silk and presented in an engraved silver tray. The purse was made of tri-colour Khaddar.

Both the address and the purse were presented by Mr. Sures Chandra Majumdar, Chairman, Sarat Chandra Bose Reception Committee.

To the eastern side of the rostrum, a huge dais was erected in which sat 12 released members of the Indian National Army, including some I.N.A. cadets. Behind the dais which was 6 feet high and 20 by 40 feet in area, was placed a huge bust-size portrait of Mr. Subhas Chandra Bose, 16 by 12 feet, representing Netaji in the uniform of the Commander in chief of the Indian National Army. Over the portrait, there fluttered a huge National Flag.

Replying to the address of welcome Mr. Bose said.

CALCUTTA MORTALITY

There was an all-round improvement in Calcutta's health during the week ended the 12th January.

Cholera attacks and deaths during the week were 8 and 2, respectively against 22 and 8 the week before. In the corresponding weeks last year there were 24 and 32 attacks and 14 and 15 deaths.

There was no reported attack or death from small-pox against one each the week before. In the corresponding week last year there were 411 and 233 attacks and 327 and 176 deaths.

Malaria caused 25 deaths against 36 the week before. During the corresponding weeks last year there were 64 and 75 deaths.

Recorded deaths of paupers numbered 115 against 119 in the preceding week.

There were altogether 783 deaths from all causes during the week against 797 the week before. The number of deaths for the same period last year averaged 1,191 weekly.

"Independence is at our door. I have no doubt that we shall gain our independence by following the path of non-violence. Because I am in favour of military training it does not mean that I support violence. India has no necessity of supporting violence. I believe military training cannot militarise Indians."

ANOTHER RECEPTION TO MR. BOSE

A call to the youth of Bengal to join the Congress in large numbers and hasten the day of the country's deliverance was made by Mr. Sarat Chandra Bose replying to a reception accorded him by Tarun Milan Sangha at Kumartooly Park, on Monday evening, the 14th January last.

A purse was presented to Mr. Bose on behalf of the Sangha.

Addressing the gathering, Mr. Bose said that he had very little time to make speeches and he did not also consider that there was any necessity for making speeches for they had long passed that stage. The Congress had been founded 60 years ago and Mahatma Gandhi had been guiding the organisation for the last 25 years. Under his able leadership the Congress had grown from strength to strength and to-day the message of the Congress had reached every nook and corner of the country, every home.

As regards work that young men of Bengal should do, Mr. Bose referred to his speech made at Deshbandhu Park the day previous and said that the Congress had chalked out the path for them and it was up to them to follow it. They should rally round the banner of the Congress and hasten the day of their deliverance.

ACADEMY OF FINE ARTS

Art was one of the lingua francae of the world, said H. E. Mr. R. G. Casey, opening the 10th annual exhibition of the Academy of Fine Arts at the Government School of Art, Calcutta, on Tuesday, the 15th January, last.

Art was part of the soul and the creative expression of the people and so might be said to be one of the media of knowledge and understanding between one country and another. It was difficult to get to know the people of any country immediately unless one was able to speak their language. So it was difficult to understand their traditions and the forces that motivated and inspired them without knowledge of their art and music.

In Bengal they had seen enough of her art to realize the great richness that lay stored here—richness in archaeological as in medieval and present-day fields. But there was just as much that could come out of the future in the living art of her young men and women.

STEPS AGAINST BLACK MARKETING

"Currency notes of the value of Rs. 500, Rs. 1,000 and Rs. 10,000 cease to be legal tender from to-day", under the provisions of a new Ordinance issued on the 12th January last as a step taken to deal with black-marketing in the country. By another ordinance banks and treasuries were called on to declare their holdings of currency notes of the value above Rs. 100.

Hectic days were passed in Calcutta for some days by those holding high denomination notes without any knowledge of the fate of their possessions.

A panicky crowd collected in front of the Reserve Bank for forms prescribed by the Demonetization Ordinance.

The Reserve Bank of India, Calcutta, issued Rs. 96,59,000 on January 15 and Rs. 47,92,500 on January 16 to Scheduled Banks in exchange of currency notes of higher denomination following the promulgation of the currency ordinance.

Rs. 7,67,500 was issued to Scheduled Banks and Rs. 16,72,000 to private individuals on the count of their declaration forms on January 18.

The important part which the public can play in exposing black-marketing and profiteering was stressed by Sir Douglas Gordon, Director-General of Enforcement, Civil Supplies Department, in a speech at a Conference of Civil Supplies Ward Committees representatives on Tuesday, the 15th January last.

Sir Douglas Gordon suggested that ward committees could render valuable service to the public and to Government by acting as a focus of public opinion on rationing and control schemes and by bringing to official notice breaches of the orders noticed by members of the Committees or referred to them by residents.

ALDERMAN ABDUR RAHMAN SIDDIQI

Alderman Abdur Rahman Siddiqi, M.L.A., (Central) left Calcutta on Monday night, the 14th January for Lahore where he will preside at the All-India Indonesian Conference to be held on the 19th January.

COMMUNIST PARTY RALLY

"If we do not extend to others the principle of self-determination and fail to unite amongst ourselves we shall not be able to earn our independence from the British," said Mr. P. C. Joshi, General Secretary of the Communist Party addressing a large rally of nearly a lakh of people at the foot of the Ochterloney Monument on Sunday afternoon, the 15th January. He added: "We must wage now our last battle of freedom on the basis of recognition of the right of all nationalities of our great country."

Mr. Joshi began with congratulations to the citizens of Calcutta on their heroic stand against police repression during the recent firings in Calcutta. The Congress, League and Communist students and workers created such a united force which made the police bend down. "The first duty and the main slogan of the Communist Party" he said "is to gain the freedom of India by a United Struggle of all the parties and patriotic organisations."

The Communists demanded freedom, but they did not claim that they were the only fighters of freedom. The main policy behind their programme was that "we cannot gain independence if we fail to be just to the legitimate rights of all nationalities in India." Fifty lakhs of people were going to be thrown out of employment in the near future he said. All the dues and sterling balances lying with the British must be realised from them without delay and spent on the nation-wide rehabilitation programme, in order to avoid such an eventuality. The wealth that hoarders and black-marketeers had amassed during these years must be controlled by the nation in the cause of the common people.

Appealing to the people to vote for the Communist candidates he said that these votes would be neither against the Congress nor the League. The Communist Party demanded full independence as well as acceded to the right of self-determination of the Muslims.

Kisans and workers from different areas adjoining Calcutta came in a procession through the Calcutta streets to join the rally. Councillor Somnath Lahiri presided.

POLICE FIRING ECHO

A reception was accorded to students, who had been injured as a result of police firing in Calcutta on November 21, 22 and 23 last in connection with the observance of Indian National Army Day, at a meeting held in the University compound on Thursday, the 17th January.

Ten of the students who sustained injuries as a result of the firing, were present. Miss Bela Majumdar, a post-graduate student, was in the chair.

TEAR GAS TO DISPERSE CROWD

"There is no truth in reports published in a section of the Press that the police opened fire on the workers of an engineering workshop at Garden Reach, Calcutta, on Wednesday (the 16th January). Tear smoke was the only 'weapon' used to disperse an unruly crowd in the face of serious provocation." Thus stated a Press Note issued on Thursday, the 17th January.

In those days when England returned youths, specially those like Girish Babu, who had high academic and technical qualifications, sought Government service, Girish Chandra chose to be a school master. His school and College were the asylums of political sufferers, students or teachers, and he never cared for Government grant to refrain from rising affiliation to the University.

perty or for the arrest of any tenant in connection with recovery of rent, unless the person applies for execution, when making his application swears or affirms by affidavit or otherwise that no part of the rent in respect of which execution is applied for is such as is not chargeable under this Order.

The Bengal Hotels and Lodging Houses Control Order, 1942, has been amended so as to enable the Rent Controller to order the refund of any sum in excess of the fair rate of charges paid by the occupant of a room either before or after the commencement of this Order. This amendment enjoins upon the managers of such establishment to undertake repairs of rooms or to take measures for the due maintenance of any essential supply or service.

RATIONING OFFENCES

Instances of rations not only being drawn on absentees' ration cards but also on cards obtained on false data were brought to light as the result of a recent drive undertaken in some parts of Calcutta by the Rationing Directorate in co-operation with the Enforcement Division.

It may be recalled in this connection that offences under the Calcutta Industrial Area Rationing Regulations, 1943, include the taking out of a ration card on false information, obtaining of any rationed article with a card other than the one issued in a particular name or on an absentee's card. In addition, a person living in a residential establishment is not entitled to the use of a ration card.

Heads of families recorded as such on the cards should also notify the Rationing Officer in writing, within ten days, any reduction in the number of members of the family due to death, absence for more than 7 days or any other reason.

Apart from the legal aspect of the matter, it is definitely in the interest of the public to co-operate in seeing that such anti-social practices cease and that intriguements are reported to the nearest police station, Enforcement Officer or Civil Supplies Information Post.

ARCHAEOLOGICAL WORK IN INDIA

A programme of field work to be undertaken in the immediate future was approved by the Central Advisory Board of Archaeology at its meeting in Calcutta recently. The meeting reviewed the activities of the past year.

The Board generally accepted the proposals of Dr. R. E. Mortimer Wheeler, Director-General of Archaeology in India, relating to the training of Indian students in the subject. The proposals recommended that for short and limited periods the services of a few foreign archaeological experts should be secured to train students within the country without necessitating their going abroad.

GOVERNMENT AND MUNICIPAL FINANCES

Municipal finances are sought to be placed on a sounder basis by means of a special measure recently taken by the Bengal Government. Orders have been issued that there should be no unnecessary delay in revising the assessment of municipal rates and that postponement would be permitted only in the most exceptional circumstances.

Government have declared their intention to appoint assessors in suitable cases, and a date has been fixed by which a municipality, wishing to represent exceptional circumstances must forward such a request to the District Officer. In order that provincial revenue should not be unduly or unjustifiably burdened, it has been decided that claims for assistance towards the cost of the normal functions of a municipality would be considered only if Government are satisfied that the local authority has made use of any existing margin of taxation in the level of the rates, and has made full use of its powers of taxation by accurate assessment and energetic realization of dues.

To enable Calcutta Corporation to finance its project of laying the unfiltered water main from the junction of Debendra Ghosh Road to Amir Ali Avenue, the Government of Bengal have sanctioned a loan of Rs. 8,70,000 to the Corporation. This loan will bear interest at 3 per cent per year and will be repayable in ten annual instalments.

MILK IN INDIA

In a report Mr. R. A. Pepperall, an officer of the British Milk Marketing Board, who toured this country as Milk Marketing Adviser to the Government of India last year, criticizes the methods by which milk is generally produced and distributed in India.

He says: "The present degree of efficiency of the dairy industry throughout India is probably the lowest in the whole world, and records complete disagreement with the existing arrangements." Milk yields, as he finds, of Indian cows are low though they compare more favourably in terms of butter and fat. The best means of increasing the yield is better management of indigenous stock rather than importation of new blood from abroad as India's cattle have to fulfil the dual purpose of providing draught animals as well as milk supplies.

Referring to the present ways of distribution of milk Mr. Pepperall opines that a survey of squalor, filth, ignorance or indifference towards hygienic principles and revolting personal habits allied to official apathy produces in a Western mind feelings of disgust and possibly of despair at the prospect of effecting any appreciable improvement. "Conditions are bad in Bombay, but are perhaps worse in Calcutta where many thousands of buffaloes, together with a similar number of cows, are permanently maintained in stables. Milk is brought from these stables to market in open galvanized cans slung at the ends of bamboo poles on the shoulders of coolies. The containers are quite open except that leaves or straw are placed on the top to prevent milk from spilling. The market is crowded with people chewing betel nut, smoking and spitting, and there it is tested by prospective buyers dipping their hands in to judge the amount of fat or added water. More dipping of hands occurs when milk is measured after sale."

Mr. Pepperall blames Calcutta Corporation for not treating milk as a highly valuable food and attending to the way it is handled. Hundreds of cans arrive daily at a railway station, "open at the top except for the covering of straw or palm leaves." A milk vendor standing beside an open can produced his license for Mr. Pepperall's inspection. The only condition it contained was that the goods (i.e., milk) should not be spread on the pavement and that the licenses must stand in the gutter. A test of milk in Bombay showed bacteria count of 36 million per c.c.—a fact that presumably inspired Mr. Pepperall to draw the unfavourable comparison with London's sewage. Tests of 247 samples of milk at Calcutta disclosed added water in every case and few specimens that reached the prescribed minimum for butter and fat were in all probability also adulterated as legal definition of pure milk in India places the fat content about two per cent below the normal average of fat found in milk produced by indigenous animals. At least one-fifth of the fat may, therefore, be abstracted without penalty.

The general average of added water exceeded 25 per cent and in one case was 87 per cent and water is at times taken from stagnant tanks. That the poverty-stricken producer who is totally at the buyer's mercy in respect of price he receives, should seek redress by adding water to increase the milk he has to sell is the "inevitable consequence of a contract entered into in bad faith whereby the producer knows that on the question of payment he is being exploited and the buyer in fixing his price expects (and gets) an adulterated article."

BOMBAY MUNICIPAL CORPORATION

CIVIC RECEPTION TO BRITISH PARLIAMENTARY DELEGATION

The Bombay Municipal Corporation accorded a civic reception to the members of the British Parliamentary Delegation on the 18th January last.

Only five members, Mr. Godfrey Nicholson, Mrs. Nichol, Mr. Bottomley, Brig. Low and Major Wyatt were present.

The Mayor, Dr. Alban DeSouza, welcoming the members of the delegation to the city declared that it was not a conducted tour and the delegation's activities so far reported clearly showed that its members went about the country as they liked and saw whomsoever they wanted to see. Press reports so far published clearly showed the earnestness of the members of the delegation to find out for themselves conditions in India and assess the political awakening of the Indian masses.

Mrs. Nichol, thanking the citizens of Bombay for the warmth of the reception, said: "India is passing through troublous times and I do not want to say one word about the political situation. But I can say this that no delegation could have come with greater freedom of action and less restraint imposed upon it than this delegation to India. We are a Parliamentary delegation and not a Governmental delegation.

"I can honestly say that the British Government is completely sincere in its professions towards India. We look forward to the time when India shall be free to build up her own economic position and security in order to make a glorious land for Indians to live in."

MAYOR OF CALCUTTA

58TH BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

The 58th birthday anniversary of Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, the Mayor of Calcutta and the General Secretary of Bengal Provincial Hindu Mahasabha, was celebrated at Habiganj at the residence of Rai Sahib P. C. Roy on the day of Uttarayan Sankranti. It was attended by a large number of ladies and gentlemen of the town. The ladies played music on instrument and sang songs suitable to the occasion. Poet Manuj Chandra Sarbadhikary recited a poem which he composed then and there praying for his long life to be dedicated to the emancipation of his Mother land. Mr. Mukherjee in a neat little speech thanked the inhabitants of Habiganj for this sincere and very touching function. Among those present were some professors of the Habiganj College, some high officials and leading men of the Hindu Mahasabha. The following important artists of distinguished families displayed their musical skill:—Srimati Rekha Rani Biswas, Anupama Sen, Purabi Sen, Annapurna Gupta and Kumari Sutapa Roy, Binapani Roy and Sarbajit Roy.

PRESIDENCY COLLEGE FOUNDATION DAY

The need for establishing cordial relationship between the teacher and the student was stressed by Prof. S. C. Mahalanobis presiding over the Founders' Day celebrations of the Presidency College, Calcutta, on Sunday, the 20th January. The College was formally opened 128 years ago.

Prof. P. C. Mahalanobis, Principal of the College, said that Bengal was falling behind other provinces in the sphere of education. Government on whom rested the primary responsibility for arresting this retrograde movement should provide sufficient funds to retrieve the lost ground.

Referring to the great traditions of the institution, he said that its teachers and students should make their contribution to the future development of science and culture which would earn their final reward in the advancement of human welfare and happiness.

Presenting the annual report, Prof. Somnath Maitra said that the number of students on the rolls were 1,117 in the current session against 989 in the last. Results of last year's University examinations were satisfactory, the percentage of passes in I.A., I.Sc., B.A. and B.Sc. being 58.5, 78.5, 75.6 and 64.2, respectively. Students secured ten places in economics and geology in M.A. and in history, economics, Persian, chemistry, botany, physiology and geology in B.A. and B.Sc. examinations. The first place in the I.Sc. and the third and fourth places in the I.A. also went to the boys of the institution.

THE WEEK IN THE CORPORATION

A SHORT RECORD OF THE MORE IMPORTANT DECISIONS OF AND DISCUSSIONS
AT THE CORPORATION MEETING FOR THE WEEK ENDING JANUARY 25, 1946

Monday : 21st January

SUBHAS CHANDRA'S BIRTHDAY

"That in order to celebrate the 50th birthday of Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose, ex-Mayor of this Corporation, it be resolved that the 23rd January, 1946, be declared a holiday for Corporation offices, schools and workshops and that the Corporation building be suitably illuminated."

This was the full text of the resolution adopted by the Corporation at its meeting held on Monday, the 21st January.

A sum of Rupees two hundred and fifty was sanctioned for the purpose of illumination.

Councillor Jogindra Lal Saha, who moved the above resolution, said that it was the first time in the history of India that they were going to celebrate the birthday of the revered Netaji. He recalled that in recognition of the services rendered by Mr. Bose his admiring countrymen had honoured him by conferring the title of Desha-gourab on him.

Referring to his formation of the Indian National Army, Councillor Saha remarked that he had ascended to higher glories outside India. Mr. Bose lived in Calcutta and they, as citizens of Calcutta, should do all that they could to celebrate his birth-day.

Councillor Mohamed Rafique said that they were not against the motion because of the fact that Mr. Subhas Chandra Bose belonged to a quite different category of people. He requested the Mayor to give direction to the Chief Executive Officer to hoist the flags of the different communities on the 'liking' if flag hoisting formed a part of illumination.

The resolution was then accepted by the House, only Councillor A. J. Parks dissenting.

It was agreed that the expenditure to be incurred, amounting to Rs. 250, should be met from the closing balance of the Municipal funds.

RECEPTION TO MAJOR-GENERAL SHAH NAWAZ

Referring to a Press report that the civic reception to be given to Maj.-Gen. Shah Nawaz Khan would be held along with the public reception at 4 p.m. on Thursday, the 24th January, in Deshapriya Park, Councillor Nalin Chandra Paul and several other Councillors pointed out that the Corporation's function should be held separately and not mixed up with any other functions. It was decided that the Chief Executive Officer should contact Maj.-Gen. Shah Nawaz to find out which date would suit him to attend the reception in the premises of the Corporation.

INFECTIOUS DISEASES HOSPITAL

Accepting the recommendation of its Public Health Standing Committee, the Corporation decided to utilize an area measuring about 40 bighas between the Campbell Medical Hospital and the passage by the side of the Corporation Central Stores as the site for an infectious diseases hospital. The Corporation wanted the hospital to be constructed on modern lines.

The site selected by Government on Beliaghata Main Road was not considered suitable as that was in the midst of an area proposed to be developed by the Improvement Trust.

CONCERN FOR DR. MOOKERJEE'S HEALTH

On the motion of Councillor Kaviraj Satyabrata Sen the Corporation expressed concern about the present condition of the health of Dr. Shamaprasad Mookerjee, who had been ailing for some time. The Corporation prayed to the Almighty for his speedy recovery.

"SOMETHING HAS CHANGED IN BOMBAY"

MR. BRAILSFORD'S IMPRESSIONS

"Something has changed in Bombay since I last saw it fifteen years ago," writes Mr. H. N. Brailsford from Bombay. Its wealth is more visible, its poverty more startling. Round the bay that rivals Naples in beauty, its upper stratum enjoys from new mansions vistas of hills and trees bathed in eternal sun shine.

"Working your way inwards you soon reach the crowded Indian streets. Here are tenements where an average clerk struggles to raise a family in two rooms on a salary of £4 a month."

"Beyond this relative opulence come the dungeons and 'shanties' that house a million workers. Eight textile hands, who work by day, share a room at night that measures eleven feet by seven. Another group on night shift inhabit it by day. There, over a hundred women must use a single water tap and queue for two hours before they reach it. They too are relatively fortunate, for they enjoy the fraction of a home."

"The last category is homeless and it may number 20,000 persons. These sleep on the pavements every night with a bit of sacking round them. At dawn they wash at a public fountain and then go for their work—it may be as servants to fortunate families, who have the privilege of paying rent."

EXPANSION OF QUININE PRODUCTION

A production target of 10,000 lbs. of quinine sulphate per year, making India reasonably self-sufficient in this vital drug is envisaged in a five-year plan of the Government of Bengal, a start of which has already been made.

The district of Darjeeling has been provisionally selected as the area for the application of the scheme. For the development of the plantations on modern lines officers will be trained abroad before taking up their duties. The existing factory will also be reorganized and equipped with imported modern machinery.

It is expected that entire cost, estimated at Rs. 7,00,000 in five years, will be recovered through the sale of quinine and other cinchona products.

WATER-SUPPLY IN THE CITY

On the recommendations of the Water Supply Standing Committee the Corporation passed the following resolutions in respect of the supply of water in the city:—

(i) That in view of the fact that machineries of the Pumping Stations at Mullickghat and Watgunge are worn out and that the river has deteriorated and the supply of unfiltered water is being interfered with to the great detriment of the health and sanitation of the city the Corporation do request the Government of Bengal to refer the matter to the Expert Committee for the Water Supply appointed by the Government, and that as it may mean increased cost to the Corporation, the Corporation do request the Government of Bengal to authorise the Corporation to levy cess from the Insurance Companies on fire premiums.

(ii) That in view of the fact that the population of Calcutta has not decreased with the end of the war and the condition of water supply is still alarming, and in view of the fact that the water of the Hooghly beyond Pulta has actually deteriorated, so much so, that growth of algae in the river water has created difficulties in the filters of the Pulta Water Works the Corporation of Calcutta do request the Government to expedite the work of the Expert Committee and direct them to finish their work quickly and to suggest ways and means for relief from shortage of drinking water during the next summer."

MRS. PANDIT ARRIVES FROM NEW YORK

CIVIC RECEPTION ACCORDED

Mrs. Vijayalakshmi Pandit arrived at Karachi from New York on Monday, the 28th January. She flew to Allahabad early next morning. She was received at Karachi by a huge crowd at Drigh Road aerodrome and was greeted by "Jai Hind" and garlanded profusely.

Due to heavy rush of crowds in the Municipal grounds, the civic address could not be presented to Mrs. Pandit. The function had to be abandoned.

Mrs. Pandit looked cheerful when she landed from the U. S. army plane. Among those who were present at the aerodrome to receive her were Dr. Choitram Gidwani, President of the Sind Provincial Congress Committee and Mr. M. Misquitta, Mayor of Karachi who garlanded her. Representatives of various organisations also garlanded and welcomed Mrs. Pandit.

From the aerodrome she drove to the municipal corporation where civic address was to be presented to her.

Over 10,000 citizens, mostly women, crowded in the municipal grounds which could accommodate not more than 3,000 people. They had been waiting for over two hours to witness the civic reception to Mrs. Vijayalakshmi Pandit. As soon as she arrived there was confusion. Many were crushed by the great rush of the crowd and in the din that prevailed the function had to be abandoned. Due to uncontrollable stampede a number of women were, seen in distress and some in tears. Dr. Hanna Reilt, the noted Swedish authoress was caught in the crowd.

The Civic address was read at a public meeting held at Rambaugh grounds.

"India's struggle is Asia's struggle for freedom from imperialistic yoke," said Mrs. Pandit addressing a mammoth meeting at Rambaugh grounds within an hour of her arrival by the skymaster "The City of Casablanca" at Karachi airport. She said that British propaganda in the United States had drawn effective black curtain around the true state of affairs in India. Americans knew India as a great country under bondage. They knew about Gandhi and Nehru, of Maharajas and Hindu-Muslim differences. British propaganda was insidious and subtle and she believed that there was an understating between the British authorities and American newspapers in regard to publication of India's news.

Mrs. Pandit said that she went to America not to ask her help for India's freedom movement but she felt that America should know the real facts about India's struggle for freedom. It was now realised that India's fight represented the struggle of Asia as a whole against imperialism. She said that she asked the American public that if the war was fought for democracy why 400 million people of India should be left behind and allowed to remain as slaves. The average American was sympathetic with India's struggle for freedom and she believed that the whole world was behind India.

DEMONITIZATION ORDINANCE

Councillor Kaviraj Satyabrata Sen made a reference to the Demonitization Ordinance and said that the forms were not available and the public was experiencing difficulty. He would request that the time for submitting the returns be extended.

CHITTAGONG OUTRAGE CONDEMNED

The Corporation adopted a resolution expressing their deep sense of 'abhorrence and indignation at the dastardly outrage on the peaceful villagers of Kasaipara near Chittagong and wanton destruction of their property' by some members of the Civil Labour Unit and called upon the Government to set up an impartial Tribunal for a sifting enquiry into this horrible tragedy with a view to bringing the offenders to book.

In moving the resolution, Councillor Hirendra Kumar Ganguli said that it was inconceivable how such a thing could happen in a civilised Government, and words failed to give expression to their feeling at the inhuman conduct of members of the Civil Labour Unit. A sifting enquiry should be held into the incidents and the offenders brought to book, Councillor Ganguli demanded.

Councillor Abdus Sattar, while seconding Councillor Ganguli, said that it was unfortunate that these members of the Labour Unit were their own countrymen. It would not do for the Government to haul the offenders up before a civil court for trial, because they knew that sometimes for want of evidence the criminals escaped punishment. They demanded from the Government that a public enquiry should at once be instituted and offenders adequately dealt with.

Councillor Md. Israil expressed his sympathy with the victims and suggested adjournment of the meeting as a protest against the conduct of some members of the Labour Unit.

Councillor J. H. Methold said that he did not know the facts of the incident and therefore he would prefer to remain neutral. If the facts were true he would have no hesitation to support the resolution.

The meeting was thereupon adjourned till Monday, the 21st January.

Friday, 18th January

CIVIC RECEPTION TO I. N. A. OFFICERS

The Corporation at its meeting held on Friday, the 18th January last, decided to accord a civic reception to the three I. N. A. officers, Capt. Shah Nawaz, Capt. Sehgal and Lt. Dhillon during their visit to Calcutta on the 23rd January or some other date to be fixed in consultation with those gentlemen and sanctioned an expenditure not exceeding Rs. 1,000 for the purpose, to be drawn from the closing balance.

In moving the resolution Councillor Purnendu Sekhar Basu said that when the nation was congratulating itself upon the release of those gentlemen it was only meet and proper that the Corporation should avail themselves of the opportunity to register the city's congratulations by according them a civic reception. The I. N. A., they knew, had only one objective before it and it was the independence of India. The I. N. A. had its arms ready against the British; it had also its arms ready against the Japanese if the latter chose to make an attempt to rule over India. The I. N. A. was not an army of bandits; it was an army of national liberation.

Opposing the motion Councillor J. H. Methold said that those men were wrongly described as Capt., Lt. or Maj.-General. They held no military rank as a result of their being discharged from the Army. He was emphatically opposed to giving a civic reception to men who had been tried and dismissed from the Army. He warned the members against the possibility of their being surcharged in case the resolution was passed.

The motion was put to vote and carried.

INDEPENDENCE DAY CELEBRATION

The Corporation directed that all its offices, schools, etc., should remain closed on the 26th January in order to enable its employees to participate in the Independence Day Celebration. The Mayor was requested to hoist the national flag on the Corporation buildings on that day.

FREEZING OF PROPERTY DEALS BYNATAL INDIANS

Following General Smuts' announcement in the House of Assembly on Monday, the 21st January, that a bill would be introduced to freeze property deals between Indians and other races, the Natal Indian Congress cabled the Government of India, urging an appeal to the Assembly of the United Nations Organisation.

The Executive Committee of the Natal Indian Congress met to decide what means they should use to fight the passage of the bill. Among protests was suggested a One-Day Strike of All Indians in Natal. Appeals for support was sent to sympathisers in Washington and London.

BENGAL I. N. A. RELIEF FUNDMORE THAN RS. 3 LAKHS COLLECTED

Collections to the I. N. A. Enquiry and Relief Committee Fund, Bengal, now amount to Rs. 3,08,616-8-9.

Councillor Dr. M. N. Sarkar, who moved the resolution, said that they should give their employees facilities to observe the day.

Councillor Jogindra Lal Saha said that the executive should be directed to make arrangements for observing the day as in previous years.

Councillor Kaviraj Satyabrata Sen said that the Mayor should hoist the National Flag on the Central Municipal Buildings as customary.

MR. M. A. JINNAH

Mr. M. A. Jinnah, President, All-India Muslim League, it is understood, who was to tour some districts of Bengal by the middle of February, may not be able to come at present.

INDIA GOVERNMENT'S FOOD POLICY

An All-India agricultural and food policy has been announced by the Government of India. The policy is defined as "to promote the welfare of the people and to secure a progressive improvement of their standard of living", Sir J. P. Srivastava, Food Member, and Sir Jogendra Singh, Agriculture Member, explained to press correspondents on Sunday the 20th January, the terms of the policy. Asked what was new in the statement, they indicated that ideas had been put forward and discussed, but the attempt to integrate them into a definite policy and to carry it out was new. Sir Jwala Prasad indicated that financial provisions for carrying out the plan would be included in the next budget.

"The policy", it is announced, "includes the responsibility for providing enough food for all, sufficient in quantity and of requisite quality. For the achievement of this objective, high priority will be given to measures for increasing the food resources of the country to the fullest extent, and in particular to measures designed to increase the output per acre and to diminish dependence on the vagaries of nature. Their aim will be not only to remove the threat of famine, but also to increase the prosperity of the cultivator, raise levels of consumption and create a healthy and vigorous population. The Central and Provincial Governments will bring all available resources to bear to achieve this end in the shortest possible time."

GOVERNMENT-SPONSORED RESTAURANT IN NEW DELHI

As one of the means of spreading knowledge of nutrition among the people, a proposal is under consideration of the Central Food Department to inaugurate a Government-sponsored restaurant in New Delhi. Balanced meals prepared under hygienic conditions will be served to the public at cheap rates and it is hoped that other provinces and States will start similar restaurants.

To the restaurant will be added a milk, tea and fruit juice bar, an experimental kitchen for demonstration purposes and a nutrition museum.

These nutrition restaurants will not compete with the catering trade but would undoubtedly assist in raising the standard of hygiene and nutrition of commercial restaurants generally.

Subhas Chandra's Fiftieth Birthday

Maj. Gen. Shah Nawaz Arrives In Calcutta

IN connection with Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose's birthday celebrations in Calcutta Major General Shah Nawaz arrived in Calcutta by air from Delhi at 11-30 a.m. on Tuesday, the 22nd January. He was received at the Dum Dum Aerodrome by several members of the Bose family, and was then driven straight to Mr. Sarat Chandra Bose's House where a large crowd gathered to have a darshan of the I.N.A. leader. As the car with Major-General Shah Nawaz reached the house at about 12 p.m. shouts of "Jai Hind" mingled with the sounds of conchshells reverberated the whole atmosphere.

In the midst of blowing of conchshells by girls, the Major General entered the Elgin Road premises. Mrs. Arunprova Bose, wife of Mr. Suresh Chandra Bose, and Mrs. Kanaklata Mitra, sister of Netaji Bose, offered their benedictions by pouring 'dhan' and 'durba' (paddy and green grass) on the General's head. Mrs. Lalita Bose and Miss Nandita Mitra, daughter of Mr. Haridas Mitra then garlanded him. Mrs. Amita Mitra, wife of Mr. Haridas Mitra, put a 'Tilak' mark on the forehead of the I.N.A. hero with blood drawn by herself from her own finger and saluted him with 'Jai Hind'. Flower petals were then showered on his head.

Major-General Shah Nawaz's first visit on Tuesday, the 22nd January, to his Netaji's house was one of the most touching scenes of grief ever seen. On entering Netaji's study and drawing-room one has to face Subhas—a portrait very life-like with crystal clear eyes looking straight into one's heart. Coming face to face with this life-like picture of Netaji there came a sudden change over the demeanour of Major-General Shah Nawaz;—the soft smile on his lips faded away and he looked grave and stiff,—as if he was in the living presence of Netaji himself. His eyes were shining with moisture in spite of his effort at self-control when Mr. Aurobindo Bose came to his rescue but Mr. Bose himself was unable to check his own tears. The ladies and other gentlemen present were all overwhelmed with emotion at this sight. Major-General Shah Nawaz was hardly able to hold himself steady before the cameras, so deep was his grief. And immediately after the photographers released him, his self-control snapped and he was sobbing like a child.

"SUBHAS CHANDRA FOUGHT FOR INDIA'S LIBERATION UNTIL THE LAST BREATH OF HIS LIFE"

Immediately after his arrival Major-General Shah Nawaz held a Press Conference in course of which he stated:—

"I cannot think of a better message to give to the country than to deliver the message given to Col. Habibur Rahman by Netaji after the plane crash. Netaji asked Col. Rahman to tell his countrymen that 'Subhas Chandra Bose fought for India's liberation until the last breath of his life': This is the message which Netaji gave to Col. Habibur Rahman.

INDIA'S FREEDOM

"His (Netaji's) love was devoted entirely to the cause of India's freedom and he was a symbol of fight against British Imperialism, and the greatest tribute we can pay him is to follow his footsteps and also his last message."

Regarding the best way that I. N. A. personnel could most usefully apply themselves to, the Major-General replied:—

"I think the most useful task which the I. N. A. soldiers can fulfil, being soldiers, is to bring about discipline and good organization amongst Indian masses. They can create a spirit of unity and brotherhood of all Indians—infused into them by Netaji and if they can carry out this mission successfully and bring about communal harmony and unity they could do no greater service to the country than his."

Asked about the general view among the I. N. A. men on the Congress creed of non-violence, Major-General Shah Nawaz stated:—

"I would like to make it plain that we, the men and officers of the I. N. A., are soldiers. who used to take orders from our Netaji and his last instructions to us were to follow the leadership of the Indian National Congress. His exact words were 'Indian National Congress was the flesh of his flesh and the bone of his bone'. We all regard ourselves as the servants of the forty crores of Indians and it was for their liberation that we fought. To us Indians our country comes first and all party politics afterwards."

* TASK UNFULFILLED

At about 5 p.m. Major-General Shah Nawaz accompanied by Mr. Amiya Bose reached the main gate of the I. N. A. Relief Committee Office at 'Guinea House' (Bowbazar), which was nicely decorated with the giant portrait of Netaji at the top of the building and a tricolour national flag.

Standing on the balcony Mr. Shah Nawaz saluted Netaji's portrait when he was seen visibly moved. He then greeted the eager crowd waiting outside from the balcony on several occasions with Jai Hind.

He also took the 'salute' from the I. N. A. cadets, who were sent by Netaji to Japan for training and a batch of 15 of whom were present. He shook hands with them and made personal enquiries about their health, family residence, the details about their training while in Japan, the treatment meted out to them by the authorities on their way to India, etc.

"The task we had undertaken has not yet been fulfilled. We will have to continue the work although in a different way," said Major-General Shah Nawaz, addressing about 70 members of the Indian National Army at its Transit Camp in Harrison Road Dharamsala.

Pausing a moment Major-General Shah Nawaz continued in a choked voice:—

"Netaji is no longer with us to-day. But you must not be disheartened. We will have Mahatma Gandhi, Sardar Patel, Pandit Nehru, Mr. Sarat Chandra Bose and other Indian leaders behind us. So long we were fighting with arms. Now we will fight in a different way under the guidance of Mahatma Gandhi and other leaders, who will always keep you all in their minds."

Netaji's Birthday Procession

The Most Imposing Ever Seen In The City

CALCUTTA witnessed the biggest procession on record which paraded its streets on Wednesday, the 23rd January, from Desapriya Park at the southern end of the city to Deshbandhu Park at the northern end covering a distance of about seven miles on the occasion of the 50th birthday of Subhas Chandra Bose.

Major-General Shah Nawaz of the Indian National Army who participated in the procession in a lorry was the recipient of the ovation from the people. Donned in full military uniform Shah Nawaz responded to the greetings of the crowd standing all along on the lorry waving now and then his white handkerchief.

The most impressive feature of the celebrations was a two-mile long procession of I. N. A. Relief Committee volunteers, the longest and most imposing ever seen in Calcutta, which marched through the heart of the city, watched and followed by lakhs upon lakhs of men and women along its entire 8-mile route.

The procession comprised of nearly 5,000 I. N. A. Relief Committee volunteers, including 300 women, all dressed in white and wearing Gandhi caps and about 5,000 volunteers of other organisations.

Starting from Deshapriya Park in South Calcutta at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, it took the procession nearly 5 hours to reach its destination, Deshabandhu Park in North Calcutta. Vast multitudes of people waited for long hours at different points of the route to witness the procession.

Vast crowds surged round Netaji's portrait and the I. N. A. hero and showered garlands and flower petals on them. Gen. Shah Nawaz who received a tremendous ovation all along the route, greeted the crowds with Jai Hind.

As night fell, the city was illuminated as on the occasion of the Diwali festival.

"From to-day every able-bodied young man of India should consider him a soldier of I. N. A., every woman should consider herself as a member of Rani of Jhansi Regiment and every little boy a member of the Bala Sena. If you do so I can assure that the Britishers cannot remain in India to rule over us."—Thus said Major-General Shah Nawaz while unfurling the National Flag at 38-2, Elgin Road in the morning.

"THE SPIRIT OF NETAJI IS NOW ECHOING AND RE-ECHOING IN EVERY NOOK AND CORNER OF THE COUNTRY"

Before the flag hoisting ceremony the National Anthem of Azad Hind Foj conducted by Mr. Pankaj Mallik was sung by Miss Shela Bose, Lalita Bose, Mrs. Bela Mitra and other members of the Bose family. The portrait of Netaji was unveiled by Major-General Shah Nawaz.

A two minutes' silence was observed to pay homage and respect to Netaji, the martyrs of 1942 and for those heroes who laid their lives in the Assam-Burma frontier for the liberation of their motherland.

Thousands of people had gathered in front of the house since early morning.

Addressing the gathering the Major-General said :—

"I do not know whether Netaji is alive or dead. According to Col. Habibur Rahman, who was in the plane in which Netaji was travelling, Netaji has left us. I do not believe that Netaji is no more. I believe that God will not be so cruel, as to deprive us, the people of India, of Netaji. India needs him most. The spirit of Netaji which made I. N. A. is now echoing and re-echoing in every nook and corner of the country. It is due to Netaji's blessing that I. N. A. soldiers were not misunderstood by their fellow countrymen, instead they captured their hearts."

AZAD HIND FOJ

Once Japanese officers said that the Japanese armies would go in front and in their rear should come the soldiers of the Azad Hind Foj. Indignant at this suggestion, Netaji said that the Azad Hind Foj should always be foremost in the fight for India's freedom and the first drop of blood to be spilt in that land for the purpose should be the blood of a member of the Azad Hind Foj.

Accordingly, Shah Nawaz Khan said, the first Brigade to cross Indian border was the Subhas Brigade of the Azad Hind Foj. It had been his fortune to command that Brigade and they were able to reach Kokima. As God willed it they could not win but he could vouch in God's name that not a soldier of the army retreated a single step before the onslaught of the enemy forces. Short of armaments as they were, Netaji armed them with a mighty weapon, the resolve that they would die for the liberation of their motherland. The members of the Azad Hind Foj always sought the opportunity of sacrificing their lives at the altar of country's freedom. In all their activities they had the single mission of achieving independence.

SUBHAS BRIGADE

Shortage in the supply of ration and disease had took a heavy toll of lives, Shah Nawaz Khan said.

For the last two months they had been living on grass alone and nearly 60 p.c. of the Subhas Brigade died this way.

Netaji asked them to return so that they might again march forward, better equipped. When told of this, the soldiers of the Brigade said how could they return from the soil where they had already hoisted the Tri-colour. But they had to return after all, as they were ordered by Netaji.

Concluding Shah Nawaz reminded the audience of Netaji's last message which Col. Habibur Rahman had brought to India. Netaji in his parting message said :

"Col. Habib! you give this message to my countrymen. Tell them that Subhas Bose till the last moment of his life fought for the freedom of India."

THE PROCESSION STARTS

The procession started at 2 p.m. from the Deshapriya Park, headed by a section of cyclists followed by a Sikh cavalry of 25 strong. The peals of a gong just behind the cavalry and mounted in a lorry heralded the advance of the procession. This was followed by a detachment of nearly 200 Khaksars marching by threes. The Khaksars were followed in turn by a band of Sikh volunteers, Jadavpur College Volunteer Corps, a bagpipe band, the volunteers of the Azad Muslim Students' and Youngmen's Union, a batch of I. N. A. soldiers, in a lorry, a band of Sikh boys, 176 I. N. A. lady volunteers, a singing squad, I. N. A. volunteers from Central Calcutta and the volunteers of the Indian National Ambulance Corps in succession.

A 10-feet high portrait of Netaji in military robes installed on a trolley followed immediately by a lorry on which stood Major-General Shah Nawaz of the I. N. A. accompanied by Mr. Amiya Kumar Bose and Mr. Aravinda Bose among others and waving greetings to the crowd on the wayside, formed the centre spot of attraction of the whole procession. This was followed by a bust of Netaji and a small replica of the Singapore War Memorial of I. N. A.

MR. SARAT C. BOSE AT CENTRAL ASSEMBLY

ELECTED LEADER OF CONGRESS PARTY

The Congress Party in the Central Assembly met on the 19th January last and elected Mr. Sarat Chandra Bose, ex-Alderman, Calcutta Corporation as the Leader of the party.

The following other office-bearers were also elected : Mr. Asaf Ali, Deputy Leader; Seth Govind Das, Treasurer; Prof. N. G. Ranga, Mr. N. V. Gadgil and Mr. Mohanlal Saxena, Secretaries.

The elections of the Leader and the Deputy Leader were unanimous. Mr. Asaf Ali proposed the name of Mr. Sarat Chandra Bose for the Leadership and Mr. Sarat Chandra Bose proposed the name of Mr. Asaf Ali for the Deputy Leadership of the party respectively.

ARCH AND GATEWAYS

Archways and gateways dedicated to the memory of prominent personalities of the I. N. A. like General Mohon Singh and Calcutta student-martyr like Rameswar Banerjee were put up at almost every important crossing of the route, decorated with flowers, flags and fine textiles.

People lined the entire route, and was at places ten to twenty deep, were patient, uncomplaining and orderly. House-tops, balconies, tree-branches or for the matter of that any elevated position on the route that provided a better view of the procession was taken advantage of by the passer-by.

Along the Chowringhee Road, good-humoured Americans could pick up the mood and re-echo Jai Hind as easily as those who shouted it at them. The long unopened doors and windows of the palatial mansions and hotels at Chowringhee were found to open and thousands of inquisitive eyes peeped through them. Cameras in the hands of the American servicemen began clicking.

The procession stopped in front of the Calcutta Corporation to enable the Mayor to pay greetings to Major-General Shah Nawaz on behalf of the entire city of Calcutta.

The procession came in front of the Senate House at about 5 p.m. The spacious lawn of the University Buildings and the College Square in front were already over-crowded. The students who mustered strong at this spot garlanded Shah Nawaz on behalf of their colleagues of different educational institutions of the city.

AT DESHBANDHU PARK

The procession stepped into the Deshbandhu Park just at about 7 p.m. The huge crowd of men and women that had patiently awaited its arrival rent the firmanent with cries of Jai Hind, Netajiki Jai, Bandemataram and blowing of conchshells.

Within a circular enclosure spouting out to the western gate of the park stood the National Flag lifted up on a 80 ft. tall stem wrapped in all-white khadi. The volunteers stepped in, saluted the National Flag and squated on the ground in perfect order.

But Maj.-Gen. Shah Nawaz, fatigued as he already looked before the procession reached the terminus, decided not to proceed further. The decision came as a disappointment to the assembled crowd but when it was announced that Shah Nawaz could not stand further strain because of his ill-health, the decision was accepted by the crowd most gracefully.

THE CITY AT NIGHT

At night the city presented a different spectacle. The floating light, the multi-coloured light, the half-dim cherag light and the candle light all helped to illuminate the veiled face of the city and transformed it into a fairy-land. Each of the component parts of the procession with its distinctive mobility, dress and melody and tune helped to enrich the other in its impressiveness and the entire procession became a welter of colours.

THE MAYOR'S TRIBUTES

"The whole of India was this day united to celebrate the golden jubilee of Netaji's Birthday anniversary. From his very boyhood there were indications of the inner spirit of his character which later on won for him the love and admiration of 400 millions of his countrymen. It was the life and character of Swami Vivekananda which made the deepest impression on his mind when he was a young boy in the school. Liberation of the mother country was the dream of his life and nothing could divert him from this goal. Nothing seemed too great for his sacrifice or too hard for his indomitable spirit." Thus said Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, Mayor of Calcutta, on Wednesday, the 23rd January, presiding over the public meeting that was held at the Sraddhananda park, under the auspices of the Bengal Provincial Hindu Mahasabha.

Continuing he said, it was he alone who challenged the non-violent doctrine of Mahatma Gandhi. His spirit of independence, his burning love for his mother country and his courage of conviction burst out in their highest glory when he went to Singapore and founded the Azad Hind Government and organised the Indian National Army. He opposed the Japanese Government when he had occasion to do it for the good of his mother country. His success in organising the Indian National Army comprising people of all communities and their unflinching loyalty to Netaji is a complete answer to the imperialist contention that the so-called trusteeship of the British is necessary in India for the settlement of communal dispute. Netaji's I.N.A. is also a clear negation of the doctrine of Pakisthanism. He wanted integrity and unity of India as a whole and would oppose any forces that favoured vivisection of India. The President concluded with an appeal to the youth of Bengal to take inspiration for patriotism from Netaji's life and spirit and fight in a body without communal bias for the freedom of India.

A NEW BILL INTRODUCED IN NATAL

COLOURED PEOPLE TO HAVE NO VOTE

"The new Bill extends restrictions to the whole province of Natal. Colour bar already operates in all spheres of life especially in education, social services, railway and other transport, and public places. Coloured people do not have the vote in Parliamentary or Municipal elections," says a cable sent by the Natal Indian Congress to the Associate Press of India.

"The effect of the new Bill," the cable adds, "is to herd all Indians into certain 'exempted' areas, under intolerable living conditions, and it further prohibits Indians from acquiring landed property outside such areas."

"The new bill is aimed at undermining the strength of the Indian community by strangulating commerce and by reducing Indians to a position of social servility."

"The Congress appeals to all freedom-loving people to bring diplomatic pressure against the Union of South Africa, and get the matter raised by their delegates to the U. N. O. Assembly and by other means reveal the true conditions affecting the minorities in South Africa. The Congress has already requested the Government of India to intervene."

SUBHAS CHANDRA'S BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

BOMBAY POLICE OPENS FIRE

The Police Commissioner of Bombay promulgated an order under Section 144 of the Criminal Procedure Code in the city of Bombay, following the decision of the Subhas Bose Birthday Celebration Committee to organise a public procession on January 23 and whereas it had been made to appear to him that there was likelihood of disturbance of public tranquillity and order.

The order prohibited taking out of processions and carrying weapons in certain limits of Bombay city.

In that connection Bombay police had to open fire on Wednesday, the 23rd January, on demonstrators.

The latest unofficial casualty on that day figured the total number of dead 10 casualties of all classes, including firing, lathi charge and gas attack 450. of whom over 70 received bullet wounds.

Mahatma Gandhi Leaves Calcutta

Last Prayer Meeting

MAHATMA Gandhi left Calcutta on the 19th January last for Madras. He was accompanied by Mr. Pyarelal, Miss Agatha Harrison, Mr. Sudhir Ghosh and others.

In deference to the wishes of Gandhiji to avoid noise, a peaceful atmosphere prevailed at the Sodepur railway station.

I AM SATISFIED WITH WHAT LITTLE I COULD DO TO BENGAL

Mahatma Gandhi had a 95-minute interview with 201 security prisoners of Dum Dum Central Jail on the 17th January last.

It is understood that in course of his talks with the security prisoners, Gandhiji spoke on the cult of non-violence.

Of 248 security prisoners now detained in Bengal jails, 201 are lodged in Dum Dum Central Jail and the rest in Presidency Jail. Gandhiji had interviewed the security prisoners of Presidency Jail on the 15th.

Gandhiji arrived at Dum Dum Central Jail at 7-30 p.m. and left at 9-5 p.m. The usual lock-up time was extended by more than an hour and a quarter to enable Gandhiji to complete his interview with the security prisoners.

MEETING THE GOVERNOR

Mahatma Gandhi met the Governor of Bengal, Mr. R. G. Casey, for the seventh time during his last visit to Bengal at Government House on the 18th January last.

Gandhiji arrived at Government House at 7-30 p.m.

The last Gandhi-Casey meeting was the longest of the seven, and lasted about 135 minutes. Gandhiji left Government House after the interview at 9-45 p.m. Mrs. Casey was present during part of the conversations.

AFTER-PRAYER DISCOURSE

"Although during my stay I could not visit different parts of Bengal as I wished, still I will say that I am satisfied with what little I could do to Bengal. My code teaches me to be satisfied even if I succeed in one front out of ten I try," observed Mahatma Gandhi in course of his after-prayer discourse at Sodepur on the 18th.

Gandhiji regretted by saying that he was addressing the congregation for the last time on the present occasion and God only knew when he would be in a position to repeat his visit to Bengal. He had a mind to go to Chittagong and also to visit Munshigunj but he could not realise his wish. He was satisfied with what he could do to Bengal.

Referring to Chittagong incident Gandhiji said that there was no point in finding fault with others over this issue.

They had to analyse themselves. They should remember that by always finding fault with others they themselves were likely to be faulty. If the habit of fault-finding became a permanent feature with them they would never be able to serve anybody.

Tulshidas in his inimitable way made it quite clear that there were no animate or inanimate objects which were either totally evil or totally good. Those two qualities more or less were to be noticed in everything and just like the proverbial swan they had to discard the evil of a thing and adopt the good of it for their own welfare.

He asked the people to remember this moral sermon of the poet and conduct themselves accordingly. There was a Sanskrit saying that one might turn out to what he wished to be. If they concentrated only on black spots it was sure they would themselves be spotted. Therefore, for one's own welfare it was desirable that the habit of fault-finding ought to be given up. He concluded by saying that in China there was a pillar on which three monkeys were carved out of stone one of which was blind folded, the other ear-logged and the third close-mouthed.

The moral of this illustration was "see no evil, hear no evil and speak no evil". He urged upon the congregation to take to heart what this Chinese symbol taught them.

NECESSITY OF CONGREGATIONAL PRAYER

Dwelling upon the necessity of congregational prayer Gandhiji hoped that people on return to their homes would conduct such prayer in the company of the members of the family and children. Theatres or cinemas they often paid visits to, but those agencies could scarcely benefit the people to the extent the congregational prayer could do. He himself had been to a famous theatre in London and could speak from his personal experience that it hardly benefited him. Comparing the benefit of congregational prayer with what little historical knowledge a dramatic performance could offer Gandhiji said that the former was many thousand times more beneficial. What the stage could teach, he asked. Was it of any consequence when compared with the realistic drama that the world presented? He had seen the role of a hero being played on the stage. Could Rama of his conception be played on the stage? Could the tragedy on any stage be so realistic and effective than the tragedies they witnessed on the world stage? Mothers were ministering angels of homes and they nursed children to life, and to them he specially appealed to introduce God and divinity to their children and to introduce Bhajan song which was full of eternal bliss.

MODERNIZATION OF HOSPITALS

GOVERNMENT'S PROVISIONAL GRANT

A provisional grant of Rs. 34,14,000, on the basis of Rs. 1,000 per bed, has been made by the Government of Bengal for the modernizing, repairing and re-equipping of mofussil hospitals. The district authorities have been authorized to re-allocate the grants to the different hospitals in their areas according to their particular requirements.

This allotment is expected to bring all provincialized hospitals to a high level of repair and efficiency and afford an opportunity to eradicate many of the causes of discomfort and complaint.

IMPROVEMENT OF CALCUTTA

A FIVE-YEAR PLAN FORMULATED BY THE IMPROVEMENT TRUST

The Calcutta Improvement Trust has formulated a five year plan ending March 31, 1951.

The essential work of the Trust is the carrying of the main sewer from Dhappa Pumping Station to the north of Calcutta. During the next five years it has also been proposed to widen Middle Road, Entally, commence work on Central Avenue up to Chitpore Bridge and open out the first part of the Bowbazar Relief Road from Central Avenue to China Town.

The feature of this programme is the increasing amount of building operations to be undertaken by the Trust. Four bustee improvement schemes have been included in this programme. It is felt that in addition to the bustee improvement schemes, building operations should be carried out in the Christopher Road Rehousing Scheme and rehousing should be commenced in Maniktala from Narkeldanga Main Road to Ultadanga Main Road.

Some engineering works will be undertaken this year and already the Government have sanctioned the first portion of the Maniktala sewer involving an expenditure of over Rs. 9 lakhs. It is also hoped that during this cold weather, engineering works in Howrah Bridge approach—from Canning Street to Strand Road, Central Avenue to Upper Chitpore Road, and Chittaranjan Avenue to Wellington Street will be taken up.

It is further hoped to commence the final portion of schemes, Gora Chand Road to South Road, Entally. Early in 1946, it may be possible to commence the final phase of the engineering works in Eastern portion of Southern Avenue as well as complete the engineering works of Old Ballygunge Road and Gariahat Road widening.

The Trust have undertaken on behalf of the Government a survey of the Salt Lakes and also the preparation of schemes for a satellite town for 25,000 people. These are not included in the programme. These schemes as also the drainage and sewerage scheme for Howrah cannot be fitted into the Trust programme with the present Trust finances. If the Howrah drainage and sewerage scheme is to be undertaken it will have to be done under a newly constituted improvement Trust brought about by the Howrah Amendment Bill. As to scheme relating to Topsia, it is not considered of an urgent nature, as the benefits of this scheme will not materialise until the reclamation of the Salt Lakes is taken in hand.

HOWRAH MUNICIPAL EMPLOYEES

DECIDE TO RESORT TO GENERAL STRIKE
FROM FEBRUARY 1

The Secretary, Howrah Municipal Employees' Association, writes :—

"A largely attended meeting of the employees of the Howrah Municipality was held at the Howrah Town Hall on Wednesday last, with Mr. Sibnath Banerjee, M.L.A., President of the Association in the chair, demanding the restoration of cut in grain allowance of the menials and other demands. It was resolved that if their demands were not fully and finally met at a Special General Meeting of the Commissioners by that date the employees will wait till January 31 and resort to a general strike from the 1st of February without any further reference"

Most people treat municipal subjects with indifference and unconcern—everybody's business being nobody's interest. But, really there are no uninteresting subjects, only uninterested people.

Yet, there is an increasingly large number of people now who believe that civics is a matter of concern to them, to their community and to the future of their city.

The Calcutta Municipal Gazette appeals to just such people. It invites discussion and constructive criticism in the conduct of our municipal affairs. It helps to increase the interest in Local Government, to make public life more useful, to make our nationalism richer by making it a matter of practical, constructive achievement.

And the Gazette is free from party fealty, without any party obligations or debts to pay. It wishes to present ideas impartially and judge questions in the interests of the city only and none other.

We invite you to read the Gazette regularly and help to spread ideas on municipal subjects.

A Week In Bombay

[By KANAI ROY, B.A.]

LEAVING Calcutta recently by the B. N. R. Bombay Mail on a Wednesday, I reached Bombay on the Friday following, at about 11 a.m. I actually detrained at Dadar, about 4 miles short of the famous Victoria Terminus Station situated in the heart of the city, as I was to put up with a friend residing at Khandivlee, about 20 miles out of Bombay, and easily reached from Dadar by electric train. It was not till Friday afternoon that I paid my first visit to Bombay City, coming again by electric train from Khandivlee.

My first impressions of Bombay were, that it was a far smaller town than Calcutta, that it was very neat and clean, and that all the people hurrying along the streets were full of "life" and energy. Yet the streets seemed to be less noisy than in Calcutta. Everyone seemed bent on some definite purpose and talking or shouting in the streets was at a minimum. The main roads are wide and well-kept and for going about in the city I had taxis, trams (some of them double-deckers), buses, and Victoria phaetons, which last are greatly in demand and much used. All taxi drivers are in neat uniforms, not like Calcutta taxi-men, dressed anyhow. There is also the electric train-service running through the town at frequent intervals to the suburbs and outlying places, which is a great boon, as it is quick and cheap. There are two kinds, fast and slow, the latter stopping at every station, while the former "hops" several halts. There are stations inside the town such as Marine lines, Ville parle, lower Parel etc. The carriages are roomy, comfortable and clean. The longest run of electric trains called the "Deccan Queen" is from Bombay to Poona, a run of 120 miles, and the coaches of this are of the "corridor" type, i.e., you can walk from one end of the train to the other. In buying intermediate class tickets for "through" railway journeys (i.e., via E. I. R. or B. N. R.) however, there is much trouble and inconvenience, because only a limited number of such tickets is sold very early in the morning, and you have to come at an unearthly early hour in the morning to stand in a queue, shivering in cold, and may have to go away disappointed if the allotted number of tickets is sold out. In consequence, black-marketing in these tickets goes on. Compared with this, the local electric train service is excellent, and it runs day and night except only for 8 hours, from midnight to 8 a.m.

It is, of course, well-known that the city of Bombay is built on a curving, horn-shaped neck or promontory of land, with the sea on all sides except one. On the western part of the city, a huge slice of land has been "reclaimed" from the sea by building high embankments and draining away the water, under the "Back Bay Reclamation Scheme." Over this reclaimed land runs the beautiful "Marine Drive", the resort of the elite, a wide and nicely kept road used for promenades and drives, flanked by imposing buildings. Near this, at the top of Churchgate Street, stands the Eros Cinema, considered the finest in Bombay, which I visited one evening. There are several other luxurious cinema houses such as the Metro, the Roxy, the Capital etc. Some of which also I visited, and found them to be far superior, better equipped, and more luxuriously appointed than any cinema in Calcutta. The only quarter in which European business-houses, shops etc. predominated was the Hornby Road locality where many offices, business-houses etc. are situated, such as the Improvement Trust Office, the Bombay Gymkhana etc. The Municipal office is here, next to the Illustrated Weekly office, and appeared to be a smaller building than that in Calcutta. Excepting this locality, I could see no other particular locality or quarter in which the European element predominated, as in the Chowringhee quarter of Calcutta. It is also remarkable that in the everyday life and dealings in the city, in Cinema houses, hotels, restaurants etc. there is no special priority or privilege accorded to Europeans as such.

There are many splendid hotels and restaurants in the city, chief among which is the Taj Mahal Hotel, said to be the finest hotel in Asia, where I had lunch one day. It is situated opposite the well-known "Gateway of India"—the huge gate through which passengers coming in ships from foreign lands first set foot on Indian soil. The Hotel is a massive and magnificent structure, most elaborately and luxuriously furnished, the feet sinking deep in the floor-carpets as you enter. In the dining and other public rooms there are ranged glass show-cases displaying dresses and other articles for sale, and I was surprised to find fine dhoties attached to fashionably tailored English coats, shirts and ties. . . . There is another fine Hotel named the "Purohit" situated opposite the Brabourne Cricket stadium. It is elegantly furnished in the style of the best English hotels, and the service is all silver, but the food served here is entirely and strictly vegetarian, no meat or fish being served. There are also numerous "Irani" hotels all over the town, which follow the American "Drug-stores" system, i.e., they supply light refreshments as well as sell provisions, biscuits, toilet articles, hosiery etc. and the most remarkable convenience is that you can always use their telephone. You may simply have a cup of tea and use the telephone for half a dozen calls, because in Bombay the telephone system is automatic (dialling system) and only a fixed sum per annum is charged, irrespective of the number of calls.

[Note—The writer is the son of our esteemed friend Mr. B. V. Roy, who is well-known as a regular contributor to the Gazette—Editor, C. M. G.]

I did not, of course, have time to see all the "sights" of Bombay, but will describe first a few.

The Nepean Sea Road in Malabar Hill is one of the most aristocratic of roads, skirting the sea across the hill, and is extensively used for drives etc. The locality is very fashionable, and there are many beautiful concrete buildings of modern design as well as buildings of the Bungalow type. The Government House is situated at the extreme tip of Malabar Hill on the sea-shore. The Shivaji Park, on Chowpatty sands (beach) is of immense size, and all "political" meetings are held here. The Park is flanked by many graceful buildings of modern style, and reminded me of the newly developed Ballygunge Lake area in Calcutta. Other places worth visiting are the Elephanta Caves, the Temple of Jogeswari (12 miles out of the city), the Juhu beach etc. of which I could visit only the last, to take a sea-bath. The beach here is dotted with shelters, restaurants and other conveniences in American style on the lines of Miami beach in Florida, U. S. A., and is extensively used for sea-bathing. You can hire ponies here for a rupee, to take a ride on the beach before bathing.

As for the markets, I visited the Crawford Market, near the Victoria Terminus Station. It seems to be built on the lines of the Hogg Market in Calcutta, but is smaller in size, and the range of commodities available here is also rather poor. A much bigger shopping and marketing centre is in the Kalbadevi locality, where large stocks of all kinds of Indian-made goods are available, in the Morarji Gokuldas Market, the Mulji Jetha Market, etc., fresh vegetables and articles of food are available in plenty, of which the prices generally appeared to be cheaper than in Calcutta, excepting eggs, which are priced the same as Calcutta or higher. Meat and fish (mostly sea-fish) are about a rupee a seer. It seems to be a peculiar habit for ladies in Bombay to do their marketing in the afternoon. It may be mentioned that there are no "meatless days" as in Calcutta, but fresh milk is absolutely unprocurable. All hotels and households use milk-powder for tea and other purposes, and I understand fresh milk is supplied under ration-system only for infants up to 4 years of age.

The policemen on the streets appeared to be all locally recruited. In Calcutta they hail mostly from Behar and U. P., there being hardly any Bengali policemen in Calcutta. "Jay-walking," i.e., walking on the roadway meant for wheeled traffic is not only prohibited, but the people seem to have enough civic sense not to do it. Similarly, trying to board a bus or tram in motion is an offence for which you may be arrested, but nobody seems to do it. At every stopping place, people stand in queues waiting for buses, and inside the buses only 6 people are allowed to stand, when all the seats are filled. Hence, there is no frantic rush and overcrowding as in Calcutta. Each bus has two conductors, and both tram and bus services are run by the Bombay Electric Supply Corporation, there being no private buses or syndicate as in Calcutta.

I saw a very convenient arrangement for people living in outlying places who come to the city for business or service, but who have to leave home too early for their meals. I saw coolies carrying large number of tiffin-carriers (called by them "thalis") coming into the suburban trains near Bombay and distributing them without fuss or confusion to some of the passengers. On enquiry I learnt that these coolies, by arrangement, collect the empty cases, have them filled with food from hotels (also by arrangement, of course) and then distribute them to their patrons. They also take back the empty cases after meals, and charge only two rupees a month (for each person) for this service of fetching and carrying.

Everybody knows that the Film industry is one of the largest industries in Bombay. I found that the studios of most of the famous Film concerns are outside the town, Dadar being the largest film colony with several studios, and most of the artists and other staff also living there. The Bombay Talkies studio is situated in Malad, about 18 miles out of town, easily reached by electric train, and I spent one day there looking over the studio, laboratory etc. The next station from Malad in Gorgaon, where the Filmistan Studios are situated, and I visited this also. I may mention that the Producer and Director respectively of this concern are two Bengali gentlemen, Sasadhar Mukherjee and Jnan Mukherjee, whom I had the pleasure of meeting, and who showed me every courtesy. Finally, I may mention that I also had the pleasure of meeting the famous "Ashok Kumar"—the idol of millions of India's film-fans. He is actually Mr. Ashok Kumar Ganguli, B.Sc., and a more courteous, pleasant mannered gentleman I have hardly ever met.

After spending just a week in Bombay, I left by the E. I. R. Mail, dropping down at Allahabad, where I spent two days with my brother, who is in Military service and stationed there. Going round the city, I found it, generally speaking, rather dusty and dirty, and not at all up to my expectation. The only form of cheap conveyance for going about is the "tonga" (horse-drawn). The bazar area is very congested and dirty, and the town having been a training centre for military personnel, some new English-style hotels, restaurants, shops etc. have sprung up here and there. Food and commodities seemed to be plenty, and much cheaper than Calcutta. Cloth-rationing is in force, but the local people do not seem to worry much about it, as they mostly use Khaddar or hand-loom stuff in preference to mill-made cloths. I did not see any striking or imposing buildings. The High Court building, though small in size, appeared to be a neat and graceful structure. I also saw Ananda Bhawan, the famous one-time residence of Pandit Motilal Nehru, a huge, straggling building with large grounds. One road has been named after Pandit Jawaharlal's deceased wife, Kamala Nehru. The Tandon Park, named after Purushottamdas Tandon, is a large Park, used for Congress or political meetings. The people seemed to be everywhere politically minded as I found even Government servants greeting each other with "Jai Hind".

LETTER TO THE EDITORFOR INDIAN STUDENTS IN ENGLAND

To THE EDITOR, "CALCUTTA MUNICIPAL GAZETTE"

SIR,—The question of Indian students who come to England to study, raises certain problems which have to be faced and disposed of, if fresh bitterness is not to be added to Anglo-Indian relations. Unfortunately there is a tendency—

- (1) for some Colleges and Universities to limit the number of students from India, and
- (2) for some Boarding-houses to refuse to receive these students from overseas.

These conditions place the student from India in a very unhappy position if he (or she) has not previously made definite arrangements. Often students desiring to come to England are not in a position to make such arrangements because of a lack of the right contacts in this country through which to make them.

Having studied medicine in England and lived and practised as a surgeon in London for 16 years, I have established many contacts with English people, who are sympathetic to Anglo-Indian friendly relations. I am anxious to help intending students from India to avoid the difficulties I have mentioned, and if such students will write to me in the first instance, telling me what studies they desire to pursue here, I will put them into direct touch with a reliable source where every help will be given.

I shall be glad if you please give this letter publicity.—Yours etc.

EXPOSED FOOD AND TUBERCULOSIS

To THE EDITOR, "CALCUTTA MUNICIPAL GAZETTE"

SIR,—For more than once we tried to draw the attention of the Corporation authorities to the exposed cooked food especially during festivals, stacked by the side of the public thoroughfares, but to no effect. The Corporation authorities have made big promises but there has been little in action. The food-stuff lies at the mercy of flies and other insects carrying infectious germs and is covered by dust of the streets raised by the traffic. It is needless to add that the exposed food-stuff is a cause for the spread of tuberculosis and other infectious diseases. Has not the time come for the Corporation to take active steps to prevent the spread of such fell diseases?—Yours faithfully,

TARAPROSAD BANERJEE

CALCUTTA NEWS & VIEWSEXCHANGE OF HIGH DENOMINATION NOTES

The Currency Office, Calcutta, remained open on Sunday, the 20th January from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. to receive declaration forms and high denomination notes tendered by the public for exchange into notes of smaller value.

Despite the extension of the original 10-day period for the declaration of high value notes, the rush at the Currency Office on Saturday, the 19th, was the heaviest of the past three days as many were ignorant of the extension. It is estimated that well over 2,000 applications for exchange were tendered to the Reserve Bank in addition to hundreds more handled by scheduled banks on behalf of their clients.

The city appeared to be settling down after the panic and excitement of the past week.

The Government of India on the 19th January last issued a notification under Section 6 (10) of the High Denomination Bank Notes (Demonetization) Ordinance, authorizing the Reserve Bank every scheduled bank and every Government treasury to extend the period during which high denomination notes may be tendered for exchange to the 26th January, 1946.

FELLOWSHIP FOR CHINESE SCHOLAR

Dr. Shyamaprasad Mookerjee, it is learnt, has sent a letter to the Chinese Ministry of Education, on behalf of Calcutta University, offering to establish a Research Fellowship in Sanskrit on Indian philosophy open only to Chinese scholars. The Fellowship which is named Bipradas Pal Chowdhury Fellowship is understood to be of the value of about Rs. 5,000.

MAHARSHI DEBENDRANATH ANNIVERSARY

The great qualities of head and heart of Maharshi Debendranath Tagore and his contributions in the fields of contemporary social, religious and literary activities were recalled at a public meeting held at Sadharan Brahmo Samaj Hall on the 19th January last on the occasion of his 40th death anniversary. Mr. Rathindranath Tagore was in the chair.

In his speech, Mr. Rathindranath Tagore said that as Maharshi Debendranath was primarily known as a religious preacher his contributions to the Bengali literature had not attracted attention to any remarkable extent. As a matter of fact, the Maharshi was not a man of letters in the main. Like his other activities literature also formed a part of his religious duties. The works he had left us in explaining his theological beliefs and in depicting the beauty of this earth, a creation of God, were a veritable mine of literary excellence in their solemnity, clarity, sobriety, art form and in their influence in shaping the works of his contemporary men of letters. But it was a matter of regret that this contribution had not been duly acknowledged.

There was a vast field, Mr. Tagore said, for a fuller investigation into the extent of contribution of Maharshi Debendranath in the various spheres of contemporary life. It was a happy augury that researches were being carried on by competent persons inside and outside the Brahmo Samaj into the versatility of the genius of Maharshi Debendranath. The speaker assured these persons his sincerest and all possible co-operation.

Mr. Prabhat Chandra Ganguly said that Debendranath was one of those great personalities, who helped the country in retaining its own culture during the difficult years of the nineteenth century when people seemed to forgo their own culture in the impact of western civilization. The motto of Debendranath was the realization and establishment of truth, beauty and the good.

Mr. Jogananda Das said that the reawakening of the Hindus was due mainly to the new spirit and consciousness with which Debendranath infused the then Bengal.

LENIN DAY IN CALCUTTA

A large number of men and women observed Lenin Day at the University Institute Hall on Monday, the 21st January under the Chairman of Mr. P. De Sarkar. The meeting hall was decorated with red flags and a big portrait of Lenin was placed on the platform. The meeting opened with the song of Red Flag sung in chorus.

Mr. P. De Sarkar said that benevolence was a common trait with human beings but unscientific service was of no help to anybody. The scientific socialism preached by Karl Marx and demonstrated in practice by Lenin was the best way to serve the downtrodden. A proper evaluation of the life and work of Lenin, therefore, could be made through an analysis of Marxism-Leninism. The corner-stone of this theory and practice is the conception of a proletarian dictatorship following a proletarian revolution. All other ideas of helping the masses, whether it was parliamentary politics or compromise with imperialists, could lead the people nowhere.

JATINDRANATH BASU

THE death last week in Calcutta of Mr. Jatindranath Basu removes a most remarkable figure from the ranks of our public men. A nephew of Bhupendranath Basu, he followed in the footsteps of his distinguished uncle, and quite early in his career he entered public life in which he soon carved out a position for himself. There was hardly a field of activity to which he did not make his contribution. Law, Politics, Social Service, Sports,—he took up everything with equal seriousness, and on each of them he brought to bear his high intellectual gifts and rare industry in a manner which could not but evoke deep admiration. There had been and are, of course, many in our midst who had and have risen to greater heights in this or that particular sphere; but there have been few built in a finer mould, few with such intimate and first-hand knowledge of public affairs, such wide cosmopolitan sympathy and such deep affection for their people. He was no doubt a “Moderate” in politics but he was no self-seeking sycophant masquerading in the garb of a Statesman. His was the moderation and restraint of the sincere patriot, who, without abating one jot of endeavour for the uplift of his people, takes what he can get, then wraps his soul in patience, and bides his time. Twice invited to form a Ministry in Bengal by the then Governor, Lord Lytton, he declined the honour, because, as he made no secret, he was unable to work Dyarchy, on which the Liberal Party in India had pinned such fantastic faith. The lust of office could not buy him. He was a Liberal in the best sense of the term. It was no mere political colour with him, it was an article of his faith, part of his personality. No doubt he had seceded from the Congress but the Congress always found in him a valiant champion of popular liberties and people's rights. He came back from the Round Table Conference in 1931 completely disillusioned. He plainly told his friends that England did not mean business. She would never give what India wanted; she still believed in “ruling” India and in “dividing” India. Englishmen, he would often say, understand fighting, and they will yield, he added, only to persistent fighting. How true he spoke!

Jatindranath Basu lived up to what he believed, and was incapable of doing a wrong. He was the soul of sincerity and never could be anything else. He radiated "sweetness and light" all around. Such suavity, such courtesy, such consideration are rarely met with in these days. He led a life of singular purity, in which the desires of the flesh had played little part—a life almost ascetic. The fortitude and patience with which he bore his sorrows and sufferings during the last years of his life afforded testimony to the innate dignity and nobility of his character. His intellectual interests ranged over a wide variety of subjects. He was one of the most well-read persons we have known. History, Philosophy, Literature he had the most complete acquaintance with. He read to good purpose, for whatever he read he remembered. His love of Literature was such that even in his death-bed he would have read out to him the famous Bengali epic, Meghnad-Badh Kavya and would wistfully look forward to the readings. He would ask the reader—a keen and accomplished student of Bengali literature—the meaning of archaic words and expressions with which Michael's classic is strewn, and then he would himself explain them. And it was his regret that he could not hear the end of it; his end came sooner.

A singularly modest man, Jatindranath Basu had the utmost contempt for the art of studying appearances and for the tricks by which public men catch the limelight. He shunned them. For more than thirty years it had been our privilege to know him and also to work with him in some spheres of his multi-sided activities, and we pay our tribute to his memory,—the memory of one who stands eminent among many, who have dreamt great dreams for India and worked for their realization untiringly. He leaves behind him before his country's altar no offering so noble, no proof of her greatness so incontrovertible as that one thing of which he never thought at all—his own 'Self'—and his own love.

May his soul rest in peace!

THE WEEK IN THE CORPORATION

A SHORT RECORD OF THE MORE IMPORTANT DECISIONS OF AND DISCUSSIONS
AT THE CORPORATION MEETING FOR THE WEEK ENDING FEBRUARY 1, 1946

PLAGUE IN CALCUTTA

What is stated to be the first case of plague in greater Calcutta this year was reported on Monday, the 28th January, when a patient suffering from that disease was admitted to the Campbell Medical Hospital from Cossipore.

"It is a genuine case of Plague. The blood and gland smear of the patient confirm this diagnosis", said Dr. M. U. Ahmad, Health Officer, Calcutta Corporation, in course of a statement the following day in connection with a case which had been removed to the Campbell Hospital from Cossipore Road.

The case was imported from a U. P. village to Cossipore area.

Stating the precautionary measures which the Corporation had taken, the Health Officer added that 20 contacts had been inoculated on Monday.

The Mayor, after reading out the statement made by the Health Officer at a special meeting of the Corporation on Tuesday, the 29th January, said that if the members of the House could suggest any further precautionary measure to be taken by the Health Officer in this matter he would see to that.

Councillor Dr. S. N. Sinha drew the attention of the Mayor to the fact that the Bengal Government had been trying to drive 100 House Surgeons and House Physicians from the Medical College. The Government, he informed the House, had practically accepted the resignation of these house surgeons and physicians with effect from the 1st February. Supposing anything like an outbreak of plague took place then, Dr. Sinha emphasised, the city would greatly need efficient house surgeons and house physicians to meet this job. He appealed to the Mayor to request the Government not to discharge these house surgeons and house physicians from the Medical College.

The Mayor assured the House that he would draw the attention of the Government to this matter.

Lt.-Col. C. L. Pasricha, Director of the School of Tropical Medicine, told a reporter of The Statesman that there was no danger of plague occurring in Calcutta or in other places in Bengal except when infection had been acquired elsewhere. For many years Bengal and Assam had been free from plague with the exception of a few cases imported from Bihar, the U. P. and other places where the disease was still endemic.

The exact reason why Bengal and Assam had been free from plague had not yet been fully established.

In 1934, there was an instance when infection was acquired in Calcutta. In this case the plague bacilli were injected into the victim with criminal intent. Several men were brought to trial and the case—Pakur Murder case—ended in conviction of two of the accused persons and they were sentenced to transportation for life.

ART IN INDUSTRY ANNUAL

MRS. CASEY'S PRESIDENTIAL SPEECH

At the Annual General Meeting of the Indian Institute of Art in Industry, held on Wednesday, January 30th, Mrs. R. G. Casey said that the art in industry movement was a shadow in 1944. She continued:—

"There was a time when the wares of Hindusthan were known and admired all over the world; admired because of their superb designs. To day the brocades of Benares are as wonderful as ever; many handicrafts have not lost the skill of past centuries, but on the average the machine-made goods of this country show a decline in industrial taste. We need only look at the exquisite border and fabric designs in a Moghul or Rajputana painting to see how great that decline has been.

"Whilst industrial development depends upon many factors such as the availability of the necessary capital, on raw materials, machinery, etc., it also depends upon the appearance of the goods which it produces, how they are presented to the public, and on how they are advertised.

"Many countries in their ignorance neglected applied art for a long time. Some sought refuge under the cheap price of their goods, others relied on quality and ignored appearance. They have all learned their lesson. America is far advanced in this field. Sweden also. In England, the two Councils of Industrial Design and of Art and Industry are to-day most active and work in conjunction with bodies such as the British Colour Council, the Society of Industrial Artists and many others with the same aims as those of this Institute.

"I think India is fortunate. This Institute has a carefully planned programme covering all practical steps for the advancement of industrial taste in India. You have heard that the Government of India is supporting this body. The Bengal Government has also become a strong supporter of the Institute. The Institute was registered only nine months ago. It will require Rs. 5½ lakhs a year in order to carry out its carefully planned programme. So far it has under Rs. 2 lakhs a year of which the lion's share comes from the Central Government."

ANTI-CHOLERA MEASURES

Early steps are being taken by the Public Health Department of the Bengal Government to ensure that adequate measures are adopted this year to combat the incidence of cholera in Calcutta, which usually breaks out in epidemic form in the summer.

Officers of the Department have discussed with representatives of the Calcutta Corporation and medical men what means should be adopted to deal with the problem. Lt. Colonel C. K. Lakshmanan, I.M.S., Director of the All-India Institute of Hygiene was among those present at the meeting.

Civic Reception To Major-General Shah Nawaz Khan

“Nothing Is Worse Than Slavery”—Maj -Gen. Replies

*The Mayor, Mr. Debendra
Nath Mukherjee, presenting the Civic Address to Major-General Shah Nawaz Khan*

THE Corporation of Calcutta accorded a reception to Major-General Shah Nawaz Khan of the Indian National Army in the Council Chamber of the Central Municipal Buildings on the 24th January last.

The address, which was read by the Mayor, Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, was presented by him to the Major-General in a silver casket.

In reply to the address, the Major-General described how Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose formed the Azad Hind Fauz (Indian National Army) and narrated the incidents in connection with their march towards India. About Netaji, he said, “A great politician, he had proved himself to be greater as a General.”

THE CITY RECALLS THE EPIC OF KOHIMA AND IMPHAL

THE ADDRESS

To

MAJOR-GENERAL SHAH NAWAZ KHAN

Dear Friend,

On the occasion of your visit to this city, we offer you and through you, to your compatriots, Col. Seghal and Col. Dhillon, a warm welcome and hearty felicitations.

After a protracted trial by Court Martial, at the Red Fort in Delhi, since made famous in history, when the nation has been congratulating itself upon your release and the release of your comrades, this Corporation takes occasion to register on behalf of the city its joyful thanks at so happy a sequel brought on by the nation's unanimous demand in vindication of the will of a whole people of four hundred millions that not a hair on your head should be touched.

To your countrymen, the trial at the Red Fort was an indictment of patriotism, arraignment of the right of self-determination and impeachment before an Imperialist Tribunal of the inalienable right of a subject nation to attain to the completest form of self-expression. At the trial your plea of love of country was considered a reproach and failed you there; but it has stood you elsewhere—at the bar of your own people who acclaim you today as the hero with a halo of glory round your head.

It is a happy augury that your visit to this city should fall to coincide with the inauguration of the Golden Jubilee Celebrations of the birth anniversary of Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose. This city, to which he gave so much, claims the unique pride and distinction of being the nursery of his hopes and the cradle of his dreams, and recalls on the occasion of your visit, the epic of Kohima and Imphal of which you and your compatriots were the protagonists under the leadership of the man of the moment, the man of Destiny, Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose.

Your firm resolve to carry on freedom's battle with the new weapon of non-violence bespeaks your dauntless heart which refuses to submit or to yield. May you live long to herald the dawn of India's liberation.

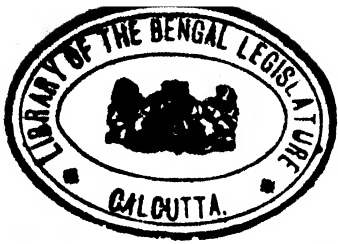

JAI HIND

Yours in the service of the Motherland,
DEBENDRA NATH MUKHERJEE

Mayor

ON BEHALF OF
THE ALDERMEN AND COUNCILLORS, CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA

January 24th, 1946,
CALCUTTA

MAJOR-GENERAL SHAH NAWAZ KHAN

Before presenting the address, the Mayor referred to the police firing which took place in Bombay on the occasion of Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose's birthday celebrations. He said that there could be no justification for the 'brutal' firing which took place in Bombay on the occasion. The Mayor then requested the gathering to observe two minutes' silence in sympathy for the unfortunate victims.

The two minutes' silence was observed. The address was, then, read out by the Mayor

THE REPLY

Replying to the address, Major-General Shah Nawaz Khan said:—

"During our stay in the Far East, under the British regime and also during the period of Japanese occupation, we saw and we felt that we Indians, irrespective of our rank,—it was immaterial whether we were Rajas or Maharajas, Generals or Colonels,—we were looked down upon by everybody. Very rightly the people said that these Indians, who were themselves slaves were helping the British to enslave other nations of the East. It was a thing which no honourable Indian could tolerate and we told the Japanese that the British were very weak in India and there was every chance of our succeeding. But what we were not quite sure about was the opinion of the Indian people.

"ONE RAY OF HOPE"

"We did not know whether if we came in with the Japanese Army we will be welcomed by our brethren and countrymen or whether we shall be cursed by them. We could not decide that because most of us were very inexperienced. Therefore, to decide such an important question we had to take the advice of great Indian leaders either inside or outside India. We tried our best to contact the Indian leaders inside India but this was not possible. They were all beyond our reach,—inside British jails in India. We saw only one ray of hope and that was Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose. We wanted the Japanese to request him on our behalf to come and lead us in our fight for India's liberation."

FORMATION OF I. N. A.

Describing how Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose came from Germany, braving the dangers of the hazardous journey of those days and formed the Azad Hind Fauz and Government, the Major-General said that total mobilisation was Netaji's programme. He asked all civilians to support the soldiers who were going to make 100 per cent sacrifices on their part. The speaker then narrated how whole families responded to his appeal, the father joining the Army, the mother the Rani of Jhansi Regiment and the children joining the Bala Sena.

MARCH TOWARDS INDIA

After narrating incidents culminating in their march towards India, the Major-General said that in actual fighting the I.N.A. soldiers underwent the greatest hardships that any soldier in any army had ever to face. They were fighting against a most powerful combination of Anglo-American forces while they had no aircraft, no artillery, no proper system of ration supply, no proper system of medical attention. All that they had were rifles and with these rifles they faced the strongest army in the world.

The Major-General proceeded:—

"During the operations of 1944, at every front wherever we met the enemy, we defeated him. And I can assure my countrymen that it was not the British might that forced us eventually to fall back. It was hunger, disease and starvation that ultimately forced us to come back."

"On behalf of our soldiers, on behalf of the Army, I can assure you, that the pledge that we took once in front of our Netaji, the pledge of either freeing our country or giving up our lives while attempting to do so stands. There has been no change. The pledge we have taken once, we all mean to stand by."

NETAJI AS A GENERAL

The Major-General maintained that Indians were not inferior to any other people on earth and from his knowledge of great men that he had met in Burma, Thailand, Japan and elsewhere he could say that none of them was in any way superior to their Netaji. A great politician, Netaji had proved himself to be greater as a General.

In this connection the speaker recalled how Japanese Generals sometimes consulted him and used to correct mistakes pointed out by him.

"We have realised that there is nothing in this world which is more evil and which is worse than slavery and to remove this slavery from our motherland, we are prepared to sacrifice everything."

Netaji Bose made appointments not on communal considerations but on considerations as to how far a man was prepared to make sacrifices in the cause of his country, the Major-General said that there were three Divisions in the Indian National Army of which two were commanded by Muslim officers. In his Cabinet of fifteen ministers, eight were Muslims.

MORAL OBLIGATION OF THE PEOPLE

He refuted that Netaji lived a luxurious life. Netaji loved all his soldiers and they all loved him.

"I can assure you that Netaji lived the same life, wore the same dress, ate the same food as any soldier of his Army."

In appealing for contributions to the I. N. A. Relief Fund, the Major-General said that over 4000 I. N. A. soldiers died fighting in the jungles of Burma and he felt that it was their moral obligation to see that their dependants did not suffer. The soldiers who were fit could work and earn their living and they had not started to fight in the expectation of any reward but the case of those who had died and left dependants was different. He appealed to all Indians to make sure that no dependants of the deceased soldiers who had become shaheed (martyrs) for the country, suffered in any way. Jai Hind.

ENTERTAINED AT LUNCHEONS

Mr. Shamsul Haque, Deputy Mayor, held a dinner party (Indian style) on the 25th January last at 8 p.m. at the Councillors' Club Room, Central Municipal Office Buildings, in honour of Major-General Shah Nawaz Khan of the Indian National Army.

Mr. Sures Chandra Majumdar, Managing Director, Ananda Bazar Patrika Ltd., also entertained the Major-General at a luncheon at the Indian Association Hall.

Major General Shah Nawaz In Calcutta

"I Feel That The Ties Which Bind Me With The People Of Bengal, Are Stronger"

"JUST as the British had raised the slogan through posters at the time of their peril during the war—'All Together Stop That Jap'—henceforth our slogan on the same line will be—'Hindus, Muslims and Sikhs—All Together Kick the Englishmen out of India'."

Thus observed Major-General Shah Nawaz in course of his one and half-hour's speech in reply to the address of welcome presented by the citizens of Calcutta at a mammoth public meeting held at Deshapriya Park on the 24th January, evening.

Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, Mayor of Calcutta, presided.

POLICE FIRING AT BOMBAY ON NETAJI'S BIRTHDAY CONDEMNED

At the beginning of the meeting, on a suggestion from the Chair, everybody standing observed two minutes' silence in honour of the victims of the police firing at Bombay on Netaji's Birthday.

"I hope I am voicing," the Mayor said, "the opinion of all present here, as also of the 6 or 7 lakhs people of this city of Calcutta that we condemn in a strong term the atrocious and brutal firing by the Government of Bombay.

"I warn the Government of India and also the British Government that they should remember that India is now one. It knows no difference of provinces or caste or creed. It is like now one organism and if one part is hurt that hurt would be felt by the whole of India."

He then said: "I have already to-day wired to the Mayor of Bombay conveying our sympathy for the victims and the families of the victims and I have also let the Mayor know that my citizens of Calcutta are prepared to rush to Bombay and to lay down their lives if necessary as a vindication of the honour of the Indians."

"Ladies and Friends, I would ask you to observe two minutes' silence in honour and sympathy for those who have fallen victims to this brutal conduct of the British Government and I hope you will also observe two minutes' silence with all seriousness and solemnity that this occasion requires."

After the opening song, the Mayor read out the address of welcome to Major-General Shah Nawaz.

TO MAKE INDIA FREE

Replying to the address Major-General Shah Nawaz Khan said that in giving the slogan he had taken the one from the British, who preached unity through posters, which he found on the walls, while the danger to India from the Japs lasted. It was now for the Indians to unite and drive out the British.

He said that during his stay abroad one thing had struck him. Everywhere he went he found that Indians were looked down upon, irrespective of their rank, status or religion, as slaves of the British. This inspired them to make India free.

He gave an account of how they built up the I. N. A. and fought under Mr. Subhas Bose's leadership in Burma and Malaya. They sent an appeal to Mr. Bose, who was then in Berlin, to come and lead them and he, in spite of the risks of the journey, agreed.

The Japs at first told them that Indian soldiers were mercenaries and could not fight freedom's battle, but they showed the world by their bravery and courage against one of the mightiest armies of the world what stuff they were made of. The I. N. A., he said, had no tanks and aeroplanes, and was short of food and medical supplies. It was a "Fakirs' Fauj" while it fought the British.

"Netaji is no more with us, but other great Indian leaders are there. We will obey their orders," he declared.

"LEARN TO DIE"

The Major-General said that they had no communal problem in the I. N. A., nor among the Indians in South-East Asia. British imperialism could never help in solving this problem in India. England had been destroyed by German bombs, and they wanted to re-build their country by exploiting India, he said. But the British could not remain in India for a single moment if once Hindus, Muslims and other communities combined.

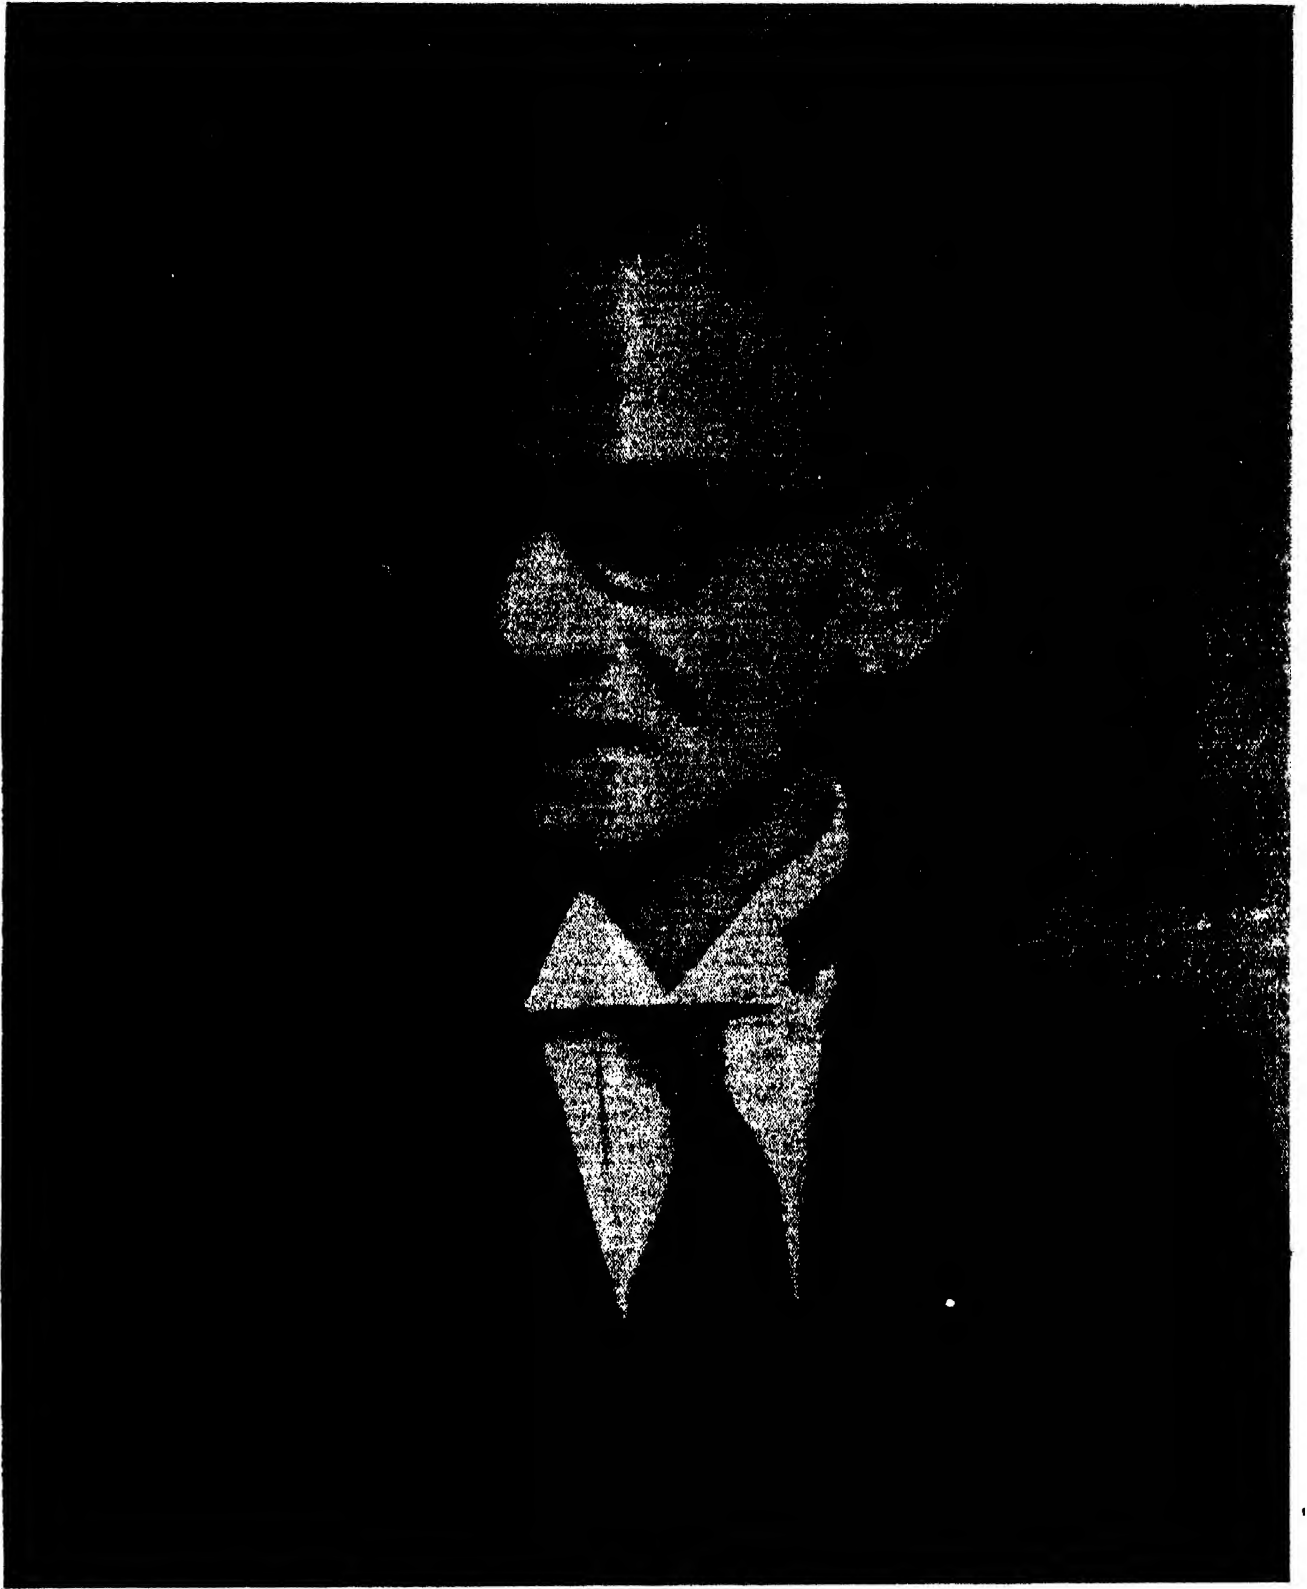

The people of India, he said, were afraid of the police. They feared going to jail and facing police lathi charges. But Mahatma Gandhi, Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru and other great Indian leaders came and dispelled the fear from their hearts. People were no longer afraid of going to jail or facing lathi charges. They had advanced further and were not afraid of British bullets. Netaji gave one motto to the I.N.A. That was: "If you want to live then learn to die". That was a motto which should be taken up by the 40 crores of the Indian people.

RECEPTION BY STUDENTS

Speaking at a reception given him by the Calcutta students at Deshbandhu Park in the morning of the 25th January last, Major-General Shah Nawaz referred to the firings on the processions in Calcutta and Bombay and remarked that nowhere in the world except in India the Government who showered bullets on peaceful people was tolerated.

But India had achieved one gain. While they were in Delhi Fort, Shah Nawaz went on, they read in newspapers the sacrifice of the Calcutta students. The blood that flowed on Calcutta streets forced open the prison gates of Delhi Fort. Every drop of blood that was shed mingled together into a mighty stream which ultimately would sweep away the vestige of the British imperialism in India.

JATINDRANATH BAŠU

Major-General Shah Nawaz went to Nakhoda Musjid to say his Jumna prayer. When he was coming out after the prayer several Muslims surrounded his car and kept on shouting "Down with I.N.A.", "Muslim League Zindabad", etc. Major General asked the demonstrators to listen to him but without any effect. Some members of the public who gathered round the car of Major General Shah Nawaz to prevent any unpleasant incident received minor injuries.

After he had left the place there was a commotion. Other Muslims who were present at the Mosque resented the demonstration, and a counter-demonstration was held by several others.

Major-General Shah Nawaz was given a public reception in the afternoon at Dalmiya Park, Howrah, by a large gathering of people including many women. Contributions were made at the meeting to the I.N.A. Relief Fund. An address was presented to Mr. Shah Nawaz at the meeting.

A MESSAGE TO BENGAL

Maj.-Gen. Shah Nawaz rounded off his visit to Calcutta by participating in the Independence Day celebrations on the 26th January morning and left by air in the afternoon for Delhi. Before leaving General Shah Nawaz gave the following message to the people of Bengal:

"On the eve of my departure from Bengal I firstly wish to thank the people of Bengal from the bottom of my heart for the great honour they have shown me and the way they have conducted all their meetings and processions. I feel overwhelmed by the kindness and love that they have shown for Netaji and his Azad Hind Fauj.

"I have known all along that the people of Bengal loved Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose, but it was not until I had seen it with my own eyes that I realised the limitless depth of that love.

"My only prayer is that God be pleased to bring our Netaji back alive and safely to his own country.

"Lastly, I wish to assure the people of Bengal that I am a humble soldier of Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose and shall continue to be so till the last breath of my life, and as such I feel that the ties which bind me with the people of Bengal are stronger than ties of blood relationship."

Just before leaving the Elgin Road residence of Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose, where he was staying, at noon the General garlanded the portrait of Netaji in his office room and reiterating his allegiance said, "I still hold myself to the pledge I gave you, Netaji."

The General gave the following message to the I. N. A. Relief Volunteer Corps:

"I was very much impressed by the well-disciplined manner in which the volunteers conducted themselves, and controlled a huge procession on Netaji's birthday. I can quite confidently say that theirs was by far the best organised show that I have seen so far."

OTHER ENGAGEMENTS

At Deshabandhu Park, Gen. Shah Nawaz Khan hoisted the National Flag in the presence of a huge gathering, in connection with the Independence Day celebrations.

Later, the General opened the Congress Exhibition and unveiled a Martyrs' Memorial at Sraddhananda Park.

From Sraddhananda Park the General came to the offices of the "Hindusthan Standard" and "Ananda Bazar Patrika" in Burman Street where he hoisted the National flag in the presence of a large gathering.

On behalf of "Hindusthan Standard" and "Ananda Bazar Patrika" a purse of Rs. 10,101 was presented to the General by the Managing Director, Mr. Sures Chandra Majumdar, for the relief of the I. N. A. men.

On his way to the aerodrome before his departure from Calcutta, Gen. Shah Nawaz paid a visit to the Mahajati Sadan. He went round the uncompleted building and hoisting the National Flag there before a large gathering, he said: "So Netaji, I am honoured to-day."

HIS IMPRESSIONS

Giving his impressions of the Calcutta tour on Netaji's birthday celebrations, Major-General Shah Nawaz stated on the 27th January from New Delhi that he was greatly impressed by the enthusiastic welcome accorded to him by the people of Calcutta. He fully realized that this was so because he was a humble soldier of Netaji and representative of the Azad Hind Fauj.

What impressed him most was the excellent manner in which a huge procession nearly three and a half mile-long and several meetings attended by many lakhs of people were organized and kept disciplined.

He remarked that in this very pleasant trip there was one ugly incident. It was on Friday, January 25, when he attended Jumna prayers in the Mosque in Zacharia Street. When he came out after saying the prayers a big crowd collected round him and started cheering. He stood up on top of his car to show himself to the crowd and then requested them to allow the car to proceed, when some young-men belonging to a reactionary political groups tried to stop his car by shouting anti-national slogans.

NETAJI SUBHAS CHANDRA BOSE

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATIONS AT LAHORE

The birthday celebrations of Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose were marred by an incident in Lahore in which the police resorted to a mild lathi charge on students of a local procession. A police party arrived on the scene and tried to persuade the students not to march in a procession. While the police were persuading them to disperse, some of the students are alleged to have thrown brickbats at the police, and no police sustained minor injuries. The police then made a lathi charge and dispersed the processionists, some of whom were injured.

The leader of the students told the Associated Press that they did not intend to form procession but they were proceeding to the rally of the students held in the Gol Bagh when they were stopped by the police and were dispersed with a lathi charge.

Ex-Alderman J. N. Basu

His Death Condolled By The Corporation

THE death occurred of ex-Alderman J. N. Basu the well-known Liberal leader, at his residence, 14C, Balamram Ghose Street, Calcutta, at about 11 o'clock in the morning on the 24th January last. He was 74 at the time of his death.

The Corporation at its meeting held on Tuesday, the 29th January, condoled the death of ex-Alderman Basu, and adjourned the meeting till 1st February as a mark of respect to his memory.

Paying a glowing tribute to the memory of Mr. Basu, the Mayor said that he was a man of all-India distinction and universal popularity. His integrity of character, sincerity of purpose and devotion to duty endeared him to all. Mr. Basu belonged to a Kayastha family of Shambazar to which the city of Calcutta was indebted for production of a number of eminent citizens of lead and thought.

Two minutes' silence was observed as a mark of respect to the memory of the great departed.

Councillor Purnendu Sekhar Basu moved for the adjournment of the meeting as a mark of respect to the deceased which was accepted by the House.

Then the Mayor adjourned the meeting till Friday, the 1st February.

LIFE SKETCH

Mr. Basu received his education at Hindu School and Presidency College, Calcutta, and after passing the M.A. and B.L. examinations of the Calcutta University, he joined a well-known firm of solicitors, of which he later became the head. His father, the late Mr. Trailokyanath Basu was a pleader at Muzaffarpore.

He took up public work quite early in life. He enrolled himself as a volunteer in connection with the session of the Indian National Congress which was held in Calcutta in 1890 under the presidency of Sir Pheroze Shah Mehta and took up Congress work. In 1917, Mr. Basu along with some others severed his connection with the Congress and joined the National Liberal Federation of India.

Mr. Basu was a former President of the National Liberal Federation of India and was a delegate from Bengal to the London Round Table Conference. He had been a member of the Bengal Legislature for the last 20 years representing North Calcutta General Constituency except for a short period of one year and was a former President of the Indian Association, Calcutta. He was a leading solicitor of Calcutta High Court and was a former President of the Incorporated Law Society.

Mr. Basu was connected with numerous educational, cultural and social service organizations in Calcutta. Following a serious illness in August, 1941, he retired from active public work. But in spite of his failing health, he always made it a point to attend the sittings of the Bengal Legislative Assembly of which he was a member, on the occasion of every crucial voting in support of the popular cause.

Mr. Basu was loved and respected by all classes of people for his sincerity of purpose, courage of conviction, genial temperament and old-world courtesy.

Mr. Basu was chairman of the non-official Committee which was appointed to enquire into allegations of police atrocities in Contai, Midnapore, during the Civil Disobedience movement in 1930 and showed considerable courage by signing the report of the Committee.

He was deeply interested in the educational, cultural and social advancement of his people and worked hard in that cause.

He was a lover of sports. When the Mohun Bagan Athletic Club was started, he was selected as one of the first batch of its players. He was the President of that club till the time of his death.

He leaves behind him six sons and four daughters.

The funeral took place at Kashi Mitter Burning Ghat and was largely attended. A large number of people also called at his residence to pay their last respects to the deceased. Wreaths were offered on behalf of numerous institutions and organizations.

TRIBUTES

Paying tributes to the departed Mr. Hemanta Kumar Bose issued the following:—

"Jatin Babu is no more, long live Jatin Babu.

"People of Calcutta and specially those of North Calcutta will cherish his memory with reverence and gratitude. He was to them really a friend in need and a friend indeed. His munificence knew no bounds. Not only that, his ungrudging charities to the poor had become a byword in the locality, but also in every distress and difficulty, he had been the best counsel and help to the citizens of North Calcutta and always stood by their side.

"He was sweet and mild in temper, noble in spirit, and determined in actions. A sincere patriot, his public moves were always inspired by a motive of selfless service to the people.

"Though he belonged to a different school in politics, it was no bar to his taking exception to Government atrocities on Congressmen during the Civil Disobedience movement in Contai in 1930, and he actually came out of his reclusé, and proceeded to the spot to lead an enquiry. It is no wonder, therefore, that he commanded universal respect.

"His death is a distinct loss to the country, and I pay my respectful homage to his hallowed memory, and convey my sincere condolence to the bereaved family."

Owing to the death of Mr. Basu, President of the Mohun Bagan Athletic Club, all activities of the club remained suspended till 30th January.

LETTER TO THE EDITORREFORMS IN THE CORPORATION

[The Editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed by the correspondents]

TO THE EDITOR, "CALCUTTA MUNICIPAL GAZETTE"

SIR.—There is a general complaint that the Calcutta Corporation has not been discharging its duties properly or efficiently for a pretty long time. To those, who love their city and are zealous of her reputation, this is very painful indeed. I am not one of those, who indulge in cheap gibes at the expense of our Councillors and think I have thereby done my civic duty. A people always get the government they deserve.

It is undeniable that our roads except a few are full of pot-holes and entirely out of repairs. Generally speaking, the City has a dirty appearance and in some places, e.g., Posta, Barabazar, Jorabagan, Aheeritola, etc.—not to speak of the suburban areas—a sort of anarchy prevails. This is partly due to the insanitary habits of the people resident in these areas and partly due to ineffective conservancy organisation.

It cannot also be denied that our City Fathers have largely lost the fire and zeal of the reformer which Deshbandhu C. R. Das tried to inject into the administration. This is partly due to lack of co-operation between groups of Councillors. A serious blunder was the introduction of communal electorates.

For the last ten years or more, we have had Governments in Bengal, whose antagonism to the Corporation has been notorious. Whatever "reforms" they have tried to effect have been reactionary. A further complication has been introduced by the division of the Councillors into separate groups. It cannot be too much emphasised that pure politics is totally out of place in civic affairs and efficient administration can be the result only of common aims and objects among the Councillors themselves.

H. H. THE AGA KHAN

MARBLE SHRINES FOR MRS. GANDHI AND MR. DESAI

His Highness the Aga Khan is rebuilding with white marble the mud shrines of the late Kasturba Gandhi, wife of Mr. Gandhi, and Mr. Mahadeo Desai in the compound of the Aga Khan Palace in Poona, where Mr. Gandhi was detained. The shrines will be surrounded by specially built walls. The Aga Khan has obtained Mr. Gandhi's consent for this work.

Mr. Gandhi has been requested to suggest inscriptions to be carved on the shrines.

The work of rebuilding has already been started and is expected to be completed in the first week of February.

CEYLON LOCAL BODIES'POLICE FUNCTIONS FOR LOCAL SELF GOVERNMENT

Local Government authorities in Ceylon are considering the advisability of vesting police functions in local bodies. The matter is likely to be discussed at a conference of Government agents which will be held early next month.

Moreover, the Municipal Act is defective inasmuch as it has given no executive powers to the Mayor. In my opinion, the Mayor must be vested with the power to issue directives to lay down policies, to call for reports direct from the heads of the departments, and to interfere on his own responsibility, when he is of opinion that any officer of the Corporation has been acting manifestly against its interests. On the other hand, the Chief Executive Officer must have his powers enlarged not only in the interests of his prestige, but also for the sake of efficiency. It should be a rule that Councillors and Aldermen must not interfere directly with the executives, but issue directions and orders only through the Committees.

In my opinion, the Chief Executive Officer should be relieved of his routine duties to a very great extent, and one of his principal duties should be daily three hours outdoor inspection for 5 days in the week. It should be his chief endeavour to see that the plans and policies of the Corporation are being given due effect and that the outdoor staff have been discharging their allotted duties properly and efficiently. It is no use putting "new wine" into old bottles. The Corporation must recruit first-class men, who are well educated, well trained and healthy, active and energetic.

I propose that the office and routine duties may be entrusted to a Deputy Chief Executive Officer. There should be four Assistant Executive Officers who should be in charge of different groups of departments and final authorities in routine and purely departmental matters. I propose the following scales of pay to attract really first class men:—

Chief Executive Officer	Rs. 2,500—100—3,000
Deputy Executive Officer	Rs. 1,350—100/2—2,350
Asst. Executive Officer	Rs. 800—40—1,000—50/2—1,250

Plus ten per cent House allowance.

The Mayor should hold a conference with the Chief Executive Officer and the Deputy and Assistant Executive Officers once a week in his chamber, and gather the latest information about the affairs of the Corporation. He should also hold outdoor inspections paying surprise visits to different institutions.

One of the principal causes of the deterioration in the administration, is the fact that Calcutta's finances are totally unequal to her needs. You cannot make bricks without straw. I have studied the financial needs of the Corporation, and find that a minimum assured revenue income of Rs. 330,00,000 is necessary.

The city is growing by leaps and bounds. The population is not less than 3,000,000 and next to Tokyo and Kyoto, Calcutta is the biggest city in the East. Her water supply and conservancy and drainage system has to be remodelled without delay. The congestion is fearful, nearly 300 to the acre. The city must be extended both southwards and northwards. It will not do to wait till the Salt lakes are reclaimed or the Howrah Municipality with the help of the proposed Improvement Trust succeeds in bringing up its amenities up to the standard of Calcutta. The Tollygunge area north of the Budge Budge Railway should be vested in the Corporation and the work of improvement should be put in hand as soon as possible.

I give below my estimates of the possible Expenditure which the City Administration will have to bear if it is brought up to the requisite standard of efficiency.

	per annum. Rs.
I. General Administration ...	12,00,000
II. Assessment and Collection of rates and taxes ...	9,00,000
III. Collection and disposal of refuse etc. ...	40,00,000
IV. Water Supply ...	30,00,000
V. Drainage and Engineering Departments ...	8,00,000
VI. Repairs to Roads, Footpaths etc. ...	18,00,000
VII. Road watering ...	8,00,000
VIII. Markets ...	4,50,000
IX. Service of Loans ...	60,00,000
X. Primary Education ...	22,00,000
XI. Grants to Hospitals, Dispensaries and Charitable Institutions ...	10,00,000
XII. Corporation Dispensaries, Maternity Homes and Baby Clinics ...	7,50,000
XIII. Fire Brigade ...	6,00,000
XIV. Pensions and Gratuities ...	6,00,000
XV. Calcutta Improvement Trust ...	20,00,000
XVI. Contribution to the Garden Reach Municipality ...	2,50,000
XVII. Development schemes ...	20,00,000
XVIII. Miscellaneous Items not included in above ...	5,00,000
Grand total ...	2,83,50,000

[Note.—In all estimates I have included establishments. I have assumed that the law shall be modified so as to limit the Corporation's contribution to the Calcutta Improvement Trust to a maximum of Rs. 20 lakhs.]

It is plain a revenue income of Rs. 3 crores must be assured enabling the Corporation to put at least Rs. 10 lakhs to a reserve fund to meet emergent expenses.

In my opinion, the consolidated rate including Howrah Bridge Tax should at once be raised to 22½ per cent. The Collection Department needs looking after. If proper assessments are effected—say, for instance, in the Barabazar area, the income will go up at once by at least ten lakhs. Violation of building rules and regulation are rampant in the city and should stop.

As far as I can see, the best course for the Corporation is to insist on being allowed to levy a terminal tax. There is such a tax at Bombay, Karachi and Lahore. I believe regard being had to the fact that Calcutta is the chief port for centre part of India such a tax is sure to prove lucrative.

The position then would be this:—

	Rs.
Income from Consolidated Tax (taking collection at 92 per cent. of the demand) ...	2,07,45,000
Contribution from Government (Refund from Petrol Tax) ...	4,50,000
Contribution towards Primary Education by Government say ...	10,00,000
License Fees ...	15,00,000
Market Collections (Municipal Markets) ...	18,00,000
Terminal Tax ...	30,00,000
Miscellaneous Heads of Receipts ...	6,00,000
Total ...	2,85,95,000

As regards Primary Education the Government of Bombay makes a handsome contribution. There is no reason why the Bengal Government, half of whose revenues are derived from the city, should not make a similar contribution.

My letter is already long. I hope, however, to revert to this matter at a later date, and, in the meantime, I shall be glad if others come forward to comment on my suggestions. I hope you will give the same opportunity as you have done me to offer my suggestions,—Yours etc.

INDIA'S FOOD DEFICIENCY

India's food deficiency was debated early this week by the Central Legislative Assembly on an array of motions in which Congress, Muslim League and even the European group combined to warn the Government against what was described as a dangerous food situation ahead.

Mr. B. R. Sen initiating the debate admitted that "India had been living from hand to mouth for the past three years," and the Government's failure to build an adequate central reserve precipitated the situation.

On the assessment of the situation, he revealed it was felt necessary to send the permanent Food Secretary, to Washington to place India's case before the combined Food Board.

But the hopes of adequate relief from the Board, were meagre, he admitted, and stressed on what he described as Government's basic plan, which demanded that the "general deficiency of foodgrains in India should be shared on an All-India basis."

This evidently envisaged a plan for reduction of rations, against which Mr. Masani (Congress) warned that "already the people were not having a balanced diet and any reduction in rations would lead to serious consequences."

Mr. Sarat Chandra Bose, Leader of Opposition, in his speech outlined a food policy for the guidance of the Government of India and the Treasury benches, who, he said, were responsible for the situation, and added:—

In so far as Government could not better handle the situation, "they must quit and make room for others who could discharge that responsibility."

DOCTORS PROSECUTED

FOR VIOLATION OF PUBLIC HEALTH ORDINANCE

Eleven doctors of Calcutta have been prosecuted by the Detective Department of the Police before Mr. W. J. Palmer, Chief Presidency Magistrate, for the alleged violation of the Public Health (Emergency Provisions) Ordinance, 1944, by making unauthorised advertisements about the treatment of venereal diseases on sign-boards, walls and in newspapers.

Some of the doctors on receipt of summons appeared in court and were released on bail of Rs. 500 each while fresh summons were issued against the rest, and the hearing was adjourned till February 20.

CALCUTTA NEWS & VIEWS"INDEPENDENCE DAY" IN CALCUTTA

The "Independence Day" was celebrated on a grand scale in Calcutta on the 26th January last.

Houses were profusely decorated with National Flags and portraits of national leaders. Portraits of Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose figured prominently among the portraits of national leaders displayed.

The beflagged streets echoed with the shouts of "Bande Mataram" and "Jai Hind" raised by young men and women who paraded the city streets in batches.

"Liberty Arches" were erected at important street crossings and street light posts decorated with National Flags and foliage. "Martyrs' Memorials" were raised at different parks and squares where ceremonial hoisting of the National Flag was held.

A procession of nearly 500 buffalo carts, decorated with National Flags and portraits of national leaders, which was taken out in the morning and a procession of nearly 300 cyclists which came out in the afternoon, attracted large crowds of spectators.

An outstanding feature of the celebrations was a "Martyrs' Exhibition" in Shradhananda Park displaying posters depicting different phases of development of the nationalist movement beginning from the Battle of Plassey.

In hoisting the Congress flag in Deshabandhu Park Mr. Shah Nawaz Khan said that pledged to non-violence the Congress was marching to its goal of freedom for India under the leadership of Mahatma Gandhi. They should be prepared to lay down their lives to achieve their ideal.

Under the auspices of Bengal Carters' Union and Coal Mazdoor Sabha a mile and a half long procession was taken out by the Calcutta carters, coal and other workers from Cossipur, Ultadanga, Baghbazar, Hatkhola and other areas to celebrate the Independence Day.

The procession passed through Cossipur Road, Ultadanga Road, Baghbazar-Chitpur Road, Harrison Road, College Street, Cornwallis Street, R. G. Kar Road and terminated at the Deshabandhu Park, where the National Flag was unfurled by Mr. Sudhindra Pramanik, President of the said Unions.

At about 10-30 in the morning when an "Independence Day" procession comprising boys and girls, numbering about two hundred, were passing by the Communist Party's Office on Russa Road on its way to Bhowanipore, two throw-down bombs and stones were hurled from the building, resulting in injuries to two girl processionists, namely, Miss Mridula Gupta (12) and Miss Minati Bhowmick (12), said to be members of the South Calcutta Congress Volunteer Corps.

Four communists including the Secretary of the South Calcutta District Communist Party were arrested following incidents which took place in front of the party's office near Kalighat Tram Depot.

PARLIAMENTARY DELEGATION ARRIVES

The members of the British Parliamentary Delegation arrived in Calcutta by air from Madras on the 25th January last.

The members of the Delegation had one of the quietest days of their Indian tour on Sunday, the 27th January.

They met His Excellency the Governor of Bengal at the Government House on Sunday morning.

Later Mr. Sorensen visited the Kidderpore labour area. He was shown round the workers' quarters. He visited a labour union office, inspected a primary school, started by the workers. The visit lasted about three hours. "We want a Free India and a National Government", some workers told Mr. Sorensen when he asked them about their main grievances. When reminded of the poverty of India they said, that in a Free India all ploughable land would be cultivated and industries would provide employment for poor people. The country would no longer be exploited by foreigners. The salaries of Burra Sahibs would be distributed among poor people.

The Delegation spent their busiest day in Calcutta on Monday, the 26th January, when they met representatives of about half a dozen political parties and other associations. Two of the members—Mr. Sorensen and Lord Chelmsford—visited some villages in the suburbs of Calcutta.

Among the parties whose viewpoint was explained to the Delegation were the Provincial Muslim League, the European Association, the Hindu Mahasabha, the Scheduled Castes, the Radical Democratic Party and the Pre-reform Political Prisoners' Release Campaign Committee. Some Congress leaders also met the Delegation.

LATE PROF. BIDHU BHUSAN RAY

The portrait of the late Professor Bidhu Bhushan Ray, B.Sc., Guruprasad Singh Professor of Physics, Calcutta University, was unveiled by Dr. B. C. Roy at the University College of Science on Monday, the 26th January. This portrait is a present from Dr. Satyaban Roy to the Memorial Committee. The deceased scientist died an untimely death in 1944.

The Committee has so far collected Rs. 8,322, which will be handed over to Calcutta University for the creation of an endowment. Out of this, a lectureship named after the late Professor will be instituted on Experimental and Mathematical Physics and allied subjects. A course of lectures, at least three in number, will be delivered once in every three years at the University Science College by a distinguished scholar.

PANDIT NEHRU AND CONVOCATION ADDRESS

A deputation of the Calcutta Muslim Students' League met the Vice-Chancellor, Calcutta University, at his residence on the 25th January last to protest against the invitation extended to Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru to deliver the Convocation address of Calcutta University this year. "as Pandit Nehru has become the champion of the conservative Right-wing of the Congress which has always worked in close alliance with Indian capitalists."

The deputation also pointed out that Pandit Nehru had now taken the undemocratic stand that even if the Muslim League won the majority of the seats in the Provincial elections, as they had already done in the election for the Central Assembly, he would not abide by the judgment of the Muslim masses and would have "no truck with the Muslim League."

The deputation also notified that unless the invitation was withdrawn Muslim students would organize a demonstration in which they hoped students of all communities will participate.

The Vice-Chancellor, it is stated, assured them that the matter would be placed before the Syndicate.

CALCUTTA FIRINGS ECHO

After considering a list of casualties among the students of affiliated colleges and recognised schools in Calcutta during the firing incidents in November last, the Senate at its meeting on the 26th January last reaffirmed the resolution passed by the Syndicate demanding an imperial public enquiry into the matter and also demanded that a representative of the Senate should be included in the Enquiry Committee.

MR. SATYSRANJAN BAKSHI

Mr. Satysranjan Bakshi, security prisoner, is having frequent attacks and his condition is now causing anxiety, according to his wife Mr. Santosh Lata Bakshi, who saw him at the Medical College Hospital on the 23rd January last.

Mr. Bakshi's mother and son were also present at the interview.

MAYOR OPENS ART EXHIBITION

The Second Art Exhibition sponsored by Charka Baithak was opened at 1, Chowringhee Terrace by Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee. Mayor of Calcutta, in the presence of several distinguished ladies and gentlemen. The exhibition consists of 100 water colours and sketches executed by 14 artists mostly belonging to the School of Art inspired by Dr Abanindra Nath Tagore and Nandalal Bose.

A COURSE OF STUDIES IN PLASTICS

The Senate of the Calcutta University at its annual meeting on the 26th January last accepted an offer of an endowment of Rs. 1,15,000 for introducing a course of studies in Plastics in the M.Sc. Course and in furtherance of research in that subject.

It may be mentioned here that Rai Bahadur S. K. Ghosh in course of a letter to the University intimated that a group of his friends wished to make the aforesaid endowment. The Syndicate also at its last meeting accepted the offer with thanks.

CONGRESS PICTURES EXHIBITION

"It is a new world, a world of hope and inspiration"—with these words Mr. Kalipada Mukherjee, Secretary, Bengal Provincial Congress Committee, invited on the 30th January last, the Calcutta Press to be present at Sraddhananda Park on the occasion of a Press review of "the exhibition of Congress pictures."

"This artistic world created by six Bengali Hindu and Muslim artists on about 175 pieces of paper and canvas and with the help of colour and brush and lines and curves gives in light and shade a bold outline of the national history of India, a history which is thoroughly faithful as well as readily appreciable."

MR. DILIP ROY'S BIRTHDAY

The 50th birthday of Mr. Dilip Kumar Roy, of Pondicherry, will be observed on the 8th February. Mr. Sarat Chandra Bose will preside over the function.

ROMAIN ROLLAND'S 80TH BIRTHDAY

A message from Mahatma Gandhi was read at a commemoration meeting held on the 30th January at the Ramakrishna Mission Institute of Culture to express India's reverence and love for the late Romain Rolland on the occasion of his 80th birthday.

Gandhiji, in his message, which was read by Dr. Kalidas Nag, said:

"The few days I passed with Romain Rolland and his sister were among the happiest days of my life. He has been truly described by some of us a Maharshi. He bore on his beauteous face the marks of a great sage. He lived and died for humanity, leaving it the richer for having lived."

Swami Pavitrananda presided. Dr. Kalidas Nag outlined the plan for publishing a Romain Rolland Commemorative Volume containing reminiscences of Indian leaders of thought and culture who knew Romain Rolland personally and through his writings. They include Mahatma Gandhi, Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru and Raj Kumar Amrit Kaur.

MRS. ARUNA ASAF ALI

In her first public utterance in Calcutta on the 30th January after three and a half years of underground life to evade arrest by the police in connexion with the August 1942 disturbances, Mrs. Aruna Asaf Ali called upon the people totally to boycott within three months goods of foreign manufacture, particularly British.

She addressed a crowded meeting held in Deshbandhu Park to protest against Government atrocities of August, 1942, and the recent police firing in Bombay.

Mrs. Asaf Ali said that negotiations for settlement of India's political issues were afoot. The people must remember that under any negotiated settlement power went only to the powerful. But the power achieved through struggle remained with the people. The Indian masses should, therefore, be on their guard to see that the rights they were trying to wrest from the British were not usurped and exercised by the few capitalists in the country. To prevent this, they should single-mindedly carry on their struggle for independence. The first item on the programme should be to refrain from buying even a pice worth of foreign goods henceforward. Let those engaged in parliamentary politics continue their work inside the legislatures. It was for the masses outside to keep the freedom movement alive.

Referring to the August disturbances, she said that the Congress being a people's organization could in no way divest itself of the responsibility for the 1942 movement launched by the people themselves.

She appealed to the people to strengthen the Congress in its fight for freedom.

Mrs. Asaf Ali left for Delhi on Thursday the 31st January.

The Week In The Corporation

POLICE FIRING IN BOMBAY

The Corporation on 5th February, recorded its emphatic protest against police firing on peaceful processions in Bombay on the occasion of the birthday celebrations of Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose on the 23rd January last and congratulated the citizens of Bombay for their "bold stand in vindication of their right of taking out processions through public streets."

Moving this resolution Councillor Dr. M. N. Sarkar said that there was absolutely no justification for the way the police had behaved. Similar processions had been taken out all over India but no such action was taken by the police anywhere. They must send their condolences to members of the bereaved families and convey their sympathy to the injured.

ENHANCEMENT OF SALES TAX

A reference was also made by Councillor Kaviraj Satyabrata Sen to the enhancement of the sales tax from three pice to four pice in the rupee.

Councillor Kaviraj Sen said that in only one or two other provinces the sales tax had been imposed. In view of the talk about famine occurring again, it was time that they should record their protest against the enhancement. In that view he suggested that the Corporation should write to Government intimating the latter that the citizens of Calcutta were against the enhancement.

The Mayor wanted to know if he would write the letter personally or the Corporation would do it.

Councillor Kaviraj Satyabrata Sen was of the opinion that the Mayor could do it himself.

Councillor B. N. Roy Chowdhury suggested that Councillor Kaviraj Sen should put in a motion protesting against the enhancement of the tax.

MEDICAL COLLEGE HOSPITALS STAFF

The Corporation expressed the opinion that the demands of the Honorary House Staff of the Medical College Hospitals, Calcutta, were just and legitimate and viewed with alarm the serious situation likely to be created in the event of Government's failure to reach a satisfactory settlement.

Friday, the 1st February

SPEECHES IN INDIA LANGUAGE

For the first time in the history of the Corporation Councillors began speaking in their respective Indian languages at the meeting of the Corporation held on Friday, the 1st February.

Councillor N. C. Paul first started speaking in Bengali while moving for adjournment of an item. Councillor Sudhir Chandra Ray Chaudhuri, in seconding Councillor Paul's proposal, made a lengthier speech also in Bengali.

Thereafter Councillor Mohamed Rafique, having spoken in Urdu for some time, the Mayor, Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, asked him if he was supporting or opposing the proposal for adjournment of the item.

Councillor Rafique said that it was he, the Mayor, to see what a Councillor meant.

Councillor Rafique was followed by Councillor S. Afzal, who also began speaking in Urdu.

The Mayor said that he was unable to follow him.

Councillor Afzal pointed out that two members had spoken in Bengali, which was not intelligible to all, though he had understood it for he knew Bengali. The Mayor said that he could not compel any member to speak in English.

Councillor Afzal then said that he could understand some members, who always spoke in Bengali speaking in that language but there was no reason why those members who were accustomed to speak in English should speak in Bengali. He expressed the view that members should speak in a language which would enable others to understand what they said and participate in the discussion.

Councillor Afzal requested the Mayor to adopt a definite principle. The proceedings, he said, ought to be conducted in a language which was intelligible to all sections of the House.

The Mayor said that it was for the House to decide.

Councillor A. A. Wise said that it was only fair that proceedings should be conducted in a language which was understood by all, otherwise they should have the help of interpreters.

On an enquiry by Councillor S. N. Banerjee as to how the proceedings could be recorded if members persisted in speaking in different languages, the Mayor said that that question did not arise. The question was whether members were debarred from speaking in languages other than English.

The law laid down nothing definitely as to which language should be the vehicle of expression in the House. It absolutely depended upon the decision of the House as to which language the members should speak in.

Councillor Sudhir Chandra Ray Chaudhuri said that the day was not distant when the Britishers would quit India. In that event they would have to carry on the proceedings in the vernacular languages.

Councillor M. A. H. Ispahani proposed to speak either in Tamil or Persian.

Councillor Ray Chaudhuri said that it had been settled among them that they would speak in Bengali. There were many among them who knew English but were not in a position to speak fluently in English. It was not certainly just that such members would remain silent when the House would be making deliberations on important matters.

After this, there was no attempt to check any speaker using any Indian language and the Indian members went on speaking in Bengali, Urdu and Hindusthani.

The European members, who apparently could not follow the proceedings well, one after another left the chamber.

PURCHASE OF THE TRAMWAYS

While the House took up for consideration the report of the Chief Law Officer as regards the arbitration proceedings in the matter of acquisition of the tramways undertaking by the Corporation, Councillor Sudhir Chandra Ray Chaudhuri blamed the Chief Executive Officer and the Chief Law Officer for the failure to appoint umpires which, he said, had sabotaged all their efforts in the matter of municipalizing the Calcutta tramways. The arbitrators had declined to proceed with the arbitration because they had failed to appoint an umpire beforehand.

It was a matter of great regret that their labour for last few years came to a failure.

The Mayor, Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, said that he had taken the opinion of Mr. N. C. Chatterjee and Mr. Atul Gupta, two distinguished lawyers of Calcutta High Court, as to what the Corporation should do after the collapse of the arbitration proceedings due to the non-appointment of an Umpire at the right time as enjoined in the Agreement between the parties.

They had expressed the opinion, he said, that the Corporation had still the right to appoint its own Arbitrator and issue 15 days' clear notice to the Company to appoint theirs. In the event of the Company's failure to do so, the award given by the Corporation's Arbitrator would be binding on both the parties.

The Mayor said:—

"You appointed Mr. Sarat Chandra Bose Arbitrator and Mr. P. B. Mukherjee as one of their leading Counsels of the Corporation in that matter. The Chief Executive Officer and the Chief Law Officer are moving under the directions of Mr. Mukherjee. You, who are holding the Chief Executive Officer and the Chief Law Officer as responsible in this connection, I must tell that if I am to give my honest opinion, I must hold Mr. S. C. Bose and Mr. P. B. Mukherjee responsible for the collapse of the Arbitration proceedings. If you hold anybody guilty you should hold your Arbitrator and Counsel guilty. Your lawyers must give advice to your officers and it is not that our officers should advise the lawyers.

"I have consulted Mr. Atul Gupta, Barrister-at-Law, and Mr. N. C. Chatterjee, Barrister-at-Law, in this connection and in their opinion they stated that because the two Arbitrators failed to do their duties, the agreement under which the arbitration proceedings started could not be inoperative or void. The Corporation has got still the right to appoint their Arbitrator and call upon the Tramway Company to appoint their Arbitrator and if the Company fails to appoint their own Arbitrator then the Corporation may appoint its Arbitrator as sole Arbitrator, whose award shall be binding on both parties.

Councillor J. H. Methold suggested that the lawyer's opinion should be circulated to members and further consideration of the matter should be adjourned.

Thereupon the House postponed decision on the matter till Tuesday next (the 5th February) pending circulation of the Counsel's opinion amongst the members.

Tuesday, the 5th February

PURCHASE OF THE TRAMWAYS

At the meeting of the Corporation held on Tuesday, the 5th February, consideration of the report on the arbitration proceedings with regard to the Corporation's proposals to acquire the tramways undertaking was postponed until the 18th February next.

The first arbitration proceedings having failed, the Chief Executive Officer had sought legal opinion as to whether arbitration could be proceeded with afresh.

When the matter was mentioned at the meeting, Councillor Nalin Chandra Paul moved that consideration of the subject be postponed as members had not had sufficient time to study the opinion of the lawyers, to whom the question had been referred.

Protesting against the proposal, Councillor Syed Afzal said that there should be no objection to the Corporation considering the matter straightaway. At one time the Corporation were anxious to rush through the proposal to acquire the Tramways undertaking; why should they now hold up discussion?

Councillor S. C. Ray Chaudhuri, speaking in Bengali, remarked that they had already made up their minds to refer the matter to arbitration afresh, but had not yet selected an arbitrator and so required time to come to a decision.

Councillor A. A. Wise asked for an English translation of Councillor Chaudhuri's speech, which was furnished by the Mayor.

Replying to Councillor Afzal, Councillor Paul said that they were still zealous of making an early purchase as they had been all along.

As stated, Councillor Paul's adjournment proposal was carried.

PRESS-WORKERS' STRIKE NOTICE

The fresh strike notice, given by the men in the Corporation Press, was referred to in the House.

A 14-day strike notice dated the 4th February had been submitted by the men of the Corporation Press following the Corporation's alleged failure to redress their grievances within a reasonable period. Their main demands pointed to the proper revision of grades and the same service benefits including provision for leave rules as enjoyed by the clerical and subordinate staff. They, however, expressed the hope that the Corporation would bring about an amicable settlement of the dispute without delay.

It may be here recalled that after their first strike in November last the Corporation appointed a Special Committee to consider their case.

Referring to the strike notice at the Corporation meeting, the Mayor, Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, said that the Strike Special Committee of the Corporation which was considering the matter had submitted an ad interim report and by the middle of February the final report would be ready. The Committee, of which he was the Chairman, was doing its best and the Committee expected to place its report in a week's time.

He complained of an attitude of non-co-operation on the part of the Press employees and said that on account of this, the Secretary's Department was experiencing considerable difficulty and he did not know whether in view of this attitude it would be possible to have the budget printed for presentation on Friday next (the 8th February). Being Press employees, they had somehow or other come to know what decisions of the Committee were on different items.

The Mayor said that it was unfair to the Corporation that the men had decided to go on strike without waiting for the Special Committee's final recommendations which were expected to be ready in a week's time.

So far as the revision of grades and the scales of pay were concerned, he assured the House that the Committee's decisions would be placed before the House by the middle of February.

The Chief Executive Officer, Mr. Sai'apati Chatterji, said that he had called quite a number of the Press employees and told them that it would be unfair on their part not to wait till the Corporation had come to a decision. He had also told them that even if they went on strike, they should do their duty properly meanwhile.

Criticising the attitude of the Press-workers the Chief Executive Officer said that he had asked the men not to alienate the sympathy of the Special Committee which was doing very valuable work for them by any hasty action. He informed that he would later let the House know the men's reaction.

The Mayor remarked that it would be incorrect to suggest that the Press employees had alienated the sympathy of the Special Committee. However, they should wait until the Corporation had come to a decision.

In the course of the discussion, which followed, Councillor Mrigendra Kumar Majumdar said that the Chief Executive Officer should be authorized to take necessary steps so that the budget could be printed and presented in time.

Councillor Dr. S. N. Sinha opined that the Press employees received the lowest wages, compared to other corporate bodies.

Councillor Debabrata Mookerjee remarked that they should study the reaction of the Press employees to the talk they had with the Chief Executive Officer.

The House decided to watch the Press employees' reaction to the Chief Executive Officer's advice.

LEGAL INTELLIGENCECALCUTTA HOUSE-RENT CONTROL ORDER*A CASE AGAINST CORPORATION

P. Mullick, of Damodar and Co., College Street Market, instituted a case against the Calcutta Corporation before Mr. A. Ahmed, Calcutta Rent Controller.

Applicant's case was that he had been carrying on business in leather goods in a shop-room in the market building since 1942, paying a monthly rent of Rs. 100 to the Calcutta Corporation. In September 1944, the Corporation demanded rent at Rs. 5-6 per day, i.e., Rs. 161 per month, and also Rs. 2,500 as salami for continuance of tenancy, in default, applicant to be ousted from the shop-room.

It was contended on behalf of the Corporation that the Calcutta House Rent Control Order, 1943, did not apply inasmuch as the shop-room was situated in a market place as defined in Section 3, Clause 39 of the Calcutta Municipal Act with reference to para 2, sub-para 3 of the Rent Control Order, and as regards the rate of rent, the shop-room had been let out since 1925 at the rate of Rs. 100 per month.

The Rent Controller observed that the rate of rent not having been increased from 1925 till September, 1944, it was clear that in December, 1941, i.e., the standard month of rent, the rent was Rs. 100, and regarding the applicability of the order, it was held that as the shop-room was not being used for the purpose of selling foodstuffs or live-stock, Section 3 of the Municipal Act excluded the shop-room from the definition of "market" and as such the Rent Control Order did apply.

The rent was fixed at Rs. 100 with effect from September, 1944 and the demand of salami was declared illegal under the amended provision of the Calcutta House Rent Control Order 1943.

Mr. D. N. Coomar, Advocate, appeared for the Calcutta Corporation: Mr. Sudhansu Kumar Basu, Advocate, for the applicant

The life story of Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose will be the subject matter of a film, to be produced at an estimated cost of Rs. 50 lakhs by a newly established film producing concern in Calcutta.

This was announced by Mr. Nripendra Krishna Chattopadhyaya on behalf of National Theatre at a luncheon given to a number of Calcutta journalists at the Great Eastern Hotel on the 1st February last. Mr. Makhan Lal Sen presided.

The story will be divided into two parts. The first will depict Netaji Bose's activities in India and the second will deal with the formation of the Indian National Army outside India. Every effort, it was emphasized, would be made to give realistic touches in filming the activities of the I N. A. in Singapore, Malaya and Burma and for this purpose the producers propose to send their artists to those places.

Mr. Bijay Ratna Majumdar, a well-known Bengali writer, has been commissioned to write the script. The writer would be assisted with some good technical experts to make the film a success.

BENGAL PROVINCIAL STUDENTS' CONGRESS

Resolutions noting with grave concern the progressive deterioration of the world situation as emerged out of the World War II, re-affirming its faith in the Congress leadership and reiterating its determination to abide by the decision of the Indian National Congress in all struggles against the British Imperialism, and expressing its belief in the 'constructive programme' as given by Mahatma Gandhi, were adopted at the annual Congerence of the Bengal Provincial Students' Congress which met for the second day at Sraddhananda Park on Sunday, the 3rd February, under the presidentship of Mr. Bijay Singh Nahar.

The Conference also was of opinion that the students organization should not be allowed to be used as tools in the hands of different political parties and in practical politics it should always follow the lead of no other party but the Indian National Congress.

Dr. Alban De'Souza, the Mayor of Bombay, presided.

The Corporation expressed its "profound shock at the extensive use of tear smoke, lathi charge and the frequent firing resorted to by the authorities on the occasion of the celebrations in connection with the Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose's Birthday Anniversary, resulting in severe loss of life and injuries to several innocent persons." The Corporation demanded the institution of an open, independent and impartial enquiry into the whole affair.

The Mayor was asked to forward a copy of the resolution to the Government of Bombay.

SMALL SAVINGS SCHEME

The Central Government's Small Savings scheme was primarily aimed at inculcating the habit of thrift in the backward classes of the country, said Mr. Justice C. C. Biswas, President of the Bengal National Savings Committee, at a meeting of officials and non-officials in the British Indian Association Hall, Calcutta, on the 2nd February last.

A circular issued by the National Savings Central Bureau of the Government of India was discussed at the meeting. The circular stressed the necessity of forming savings groups and recruiting people to them. For this purpose it advocated the formations of Savings Committees in various localities throughout the country. The members of these committees would consist of officials and non-officials who would approach in their respective areas every person able to save, even if the amount was only four annas a month. The names and addresses of these persons would be taken and made over to Government-appointed authorized agents for the sale of National Savings Certificates.

The meeting passed a resolution welcoming the Central Government's proposals and urging the appointment of ward committees to inaugurate the scheme in Calcutta. Those present were requested to send in the names of persons willing to serve on such committees.

LATE MR. J. N. BASU

Great qualities of head and heart of the late Mr. J. N. Basu and his services to the cause of the country were recalled at a condolence meeting held on Sunday, the 3rd February, at the Baghbasar Reading Library Hall. Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, Mayor of Calcutta, presided.

Mr. Mukherjee said that they were there to pay homage to Mr. Basu not that he was a man of rare abilities and scholarship but that in him was housed a heart overflowed with the milk of human kindness—in him the distressed and needy found a real friend.

JATINDRANATH BASU

Referring to the deep regard of the late Mr. Basu for the tradition and culture of his land of birth, Mr. Mukherjee said that although Mr. Basu received Western education he was never an imitator of Western manners—he was a Bengalee out and out.

A resolution expressing deep sense of sorrow at the death of Mr. Basu and conveying sympathy to the members of the bereaved family was adopted at the meeting, all standing.

Dr. Bhupendra Nath Basu, Mr. Bhutnath Mukherjee and Mr. Amiya Kumar Guha, among others, dwelt on the many-fold virtues of the late Mr. Basu.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of Cornwallis Library, the sad death of Mr. J. N. Basu, Solicitor, was condoled on the 27th January last under the chairmanship of Mr. Manilal Srimani.

LATE MAHAMOHOPADHYAYA GANANATH SEN

The first Death Anniversary Memorial Meeting of the late Mahamohopadhyaya Gananath Sen Saraswati Vidyasagar was held on the 26th January last at Viswanath Ayurveda Mahavidyalaya at 94, Grey Street, Calcutta. Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, Mayor of Calcutta, presided over the function.

Mr. Sudhir Kumar Ray Chaudhuri proposed for a Memorial in the form of statue and naming a street after him.

The Mayor spoke elaborately on the Mahamohopadhyaya and said that he represented a fusion of Eastern and Western culture, placed Ayurveda on modern basis, and strengthened it on scientific efficiency, restored it to its former glory that was lost due to foreign rule. The Mayor characterised him as an erudite scholar a pious sage, an out-and-out Indian, a profound personality inspiring love and respect, and a great patriot having had contact with Deshbandhu C. R. Das and Deshapriya J. M. Sen Gupta. The President further observed that it was through the princely gifts and untiring zeal and devotion of the lamented Ayurveda Rishi that the Viswanath Ayurveda Mahavidyalaya and Arogyasala came to exist and that the best homage the countrymen could pay to his pious memory would be to maintain and expand this Mahavidyalaya by their contributions.

With a vote of thanks the meeting came to an end.

CALCUTTA FIRINGS ECHO

When asked by Mr. V. Yates (Labour) whether he would instruct the Government of India to order a public inquiry "into the shooting of unarmed students of Calcutta and other places in India" and if he would publish figures of casualties during these incidents, Mr. Henderson, Under-Secretary of State for India, replied that the Governor-General did not consider a public inquiry was called for. Lord Pethick-Lawrence, Secretary for India, accepted that view.

Mr. Henderson said: "I regret to say that altogether 57 persons have died and the number known to have been injured is about 700. The disturbances were, in all cases, dealt with by the police and the military were not called in.

"As regards Calcutta, a departmental inquiry was held and it was shown that in all but possibly one case firing was justified. That case is being further investigated.

"In no instances were the disturbances confined to students, nor did the police fire until the crowd had thrown missiles or resorted to other violent methods or until firing was necessary in defence of life or Government property."

DEDICATION CEREMONY AT ST. JOHN'S CHURCH

At St. John's Church, Calcutta, in the evening service on Sunday, was interpolated a dedication ceremony of a memorial given to the church by the 2nd Battalion Dorsetshire Regiment of their many comrades who fell in the South-East Asia campaign, in which the regiment added greatly to its great fame. The memorial consisted of a silver plaquelet into the buttress wall of the Lady Chapel, and a silver cross and candlesticks for the altar of the chapel; it will be completed by two vases not yet received.

ELECTION DEMONSTRATIONS

On Monday evening, the 4th February, a demonstration was staged in front of the house of Mr. H. S. Suhrawardy at 40, Theatre Road by a large number of students against the decision of the Muslim League Parliamentary Board on certain nominations.

When Mr. Suhrawardy came out of his house and confronted the demonstrators, they demanded an explanation of him as to the arbitrary nominations of some undesirables.

Mr. Suhrawardy agreed to listen to their grievances if they would send a small deputation to meet him.

Earlier, the student demonstrators stormed the Muslim League office. They broke several chairs and tables and shouted slogans.

ROYAL ASIATIC SOCIETY

A Rs. 16,00,000 plan for a new building for the Royal Asiatic Society of Bengal was announced by Prof. M. N. Saha presiding over the annual meeting of the Society in Calcutta on Monday, the 4th February.

Stressing the need for a new building, he said that the present house was 137 years old, and according to engineers and Government chemists was unfit for keeping precious collections of Sanskrit, Arabic and Persian manuscripts held by the Society in public trust. The space in it was also quite insufficient for the growing needs of the Society.

The proposed new building would serve as a Burlington House for Calcutta. It would not only accommodate the library, the office and scholars' rooms, but would afford an asylum to other learned societies in the city, springing either from the activities of the Royal Asiatic Society, or otherwise. It would also provide a commodious meeting room for all classes of members of the Society and quarters for some members of the staff. The Central and Bengal Governments had been approached for financial help.

The necessity for a new building for the Society was also urged by Dr. Kalidas Nag, General Secretary, in the annual report. He said that most of the rooms of the present building were damp and dark, and the books and manuscripts in the library were damaged by white ants, cockroaches, mice and other pests. The Society had to house about 100,000 books and periodicals and 40,000 manuscripts. Its own publications from 1788 to date numbered several hundred, the total value being about Rs. 10,00,000.

There were 714 ordinary and 16 institutional members in 1945.

Mr. Justice N. G. A. Edgley was elected President and Dr. Kalidas Nag was re-elected General Secretary.

MR. PERCY BROWN

Mr. Percy Brown, Curator, Victoria Memorial, was awarded the Dr. Bimala Churn Law Gold Medal for his "conspicuously important contributions" to the study of fine arts and architecture with special reference to India from the earliest times to the 13th century.

THE FIRST CASE OF PLAGUE

A NOTE OF WARNING

The necessity for all official and non-official hospitals, Calcutta Corporation and other public bodies remaining in full staff efficiency and in a state of readiness is stressed by Dr. K. K. Sen Gupta, president of the Bengal Provincial branch of the Indian Medical Association, in view of the discovery of a genuine case of plague in the Campbell Hospital in Calcutta recently.

Urging all concerned properly to realize the gravity of the situation, Dr. Sen Gupta says that there are "susceptible rats and carrier-rat fleas galore. Climatic conditions and the squalor of the bustees and the devitalized condition of the people, are extremely favourable for multiplication and transmission of the highly virulent germs."

He emphasized that arrangements must be made beforehand for effecting inoculation and immediate rounding up of suspicious cases.

CALCUTTA MORTALITY

There was an all-round improvement in Calcutta's health during the week ended February 2. Total mortality during the week was 749, a drop of 11 from the previous week's figure. Mortality figures for the corresponding two weeks last year were 1,076 and 1,078.

Small-pox attacks and deaths were two each against three and two the week before. There were 379 and 339 attacks and 284 and 254 deaths from the disease during the corresponding weeks last year.

There were 38 attacks and 13 deaths from cholera against 39 and 20 in the preceding week. During the corresponding weeks last year attacks were 23 and 16 and deaths 13 each.

Malaria took a toll of 22 lives against 35 the week before. There were 54 and 60 deaths during the corresponding weeks last year.

Recorded deaths of paupers numbered 134 against 115 in the previous week.

way Company or its employees not less than 20 days before the date of expiry of the four months' period.

The more important findings of the adjudicator are:

(1) General upward revision of grade pay with a minimum basic wage of Rs. 20 per month.

(2) Traffic staff and depot cashiers to qualify for privilege leave after 280 days of work (which need not be put in within the last 12 months) instead of 288. Engineering and overhead staff not at present entitled to any privilege leave to have 14 days' privilege leave.

EMERGENCY HOSPITALS TO BE RETAINED

The extensive facilities for hospital treatment at present provided by the Famine Relief Emergency Hospitals in Bengal to supplement normal hospital accommodation in the province are to be continued.

During the months which followed the famine, some 23,000 emergency hospital beds were set up in Bengal. As originally intended, these beds were to be closed down on March 31, 1946, but they proved of such inestimable benefit to the sick, especially in areas which previously had no hospital accommodation, that their retention on a more permanent basis is regarded as most desirable.

At present, some 17,000 beds are actually occupied, and though the number of patients is declining, it is realized that to close down these beds would be to inflict great hardship on the people, and would retard most seriously the province's rehabilitation.

Government has, therefore, decided that 20,000 beds should be retained until they are replaced by permanent beds or until thanks to the recovery of the people and to improved health measures—they are no longer required.

For the present, the continuance of these 20,000 beds has been sanctioned up to three years; and though beds will be closed down when no longer needed, Government is aware of the inadequacy of hospital arrangements in the mofussil, and every care will be taken to ensure that Bengal's hospital facilities are as extensive as provincial resources allow.—Press Note.

The Week In The Corporation

BUDGET ESTIMATES FOR 1946-47 CORPORATION FACES A DEFICIT OF Rs. 51,63,000 Increase Of Consolidated Rate Suggested

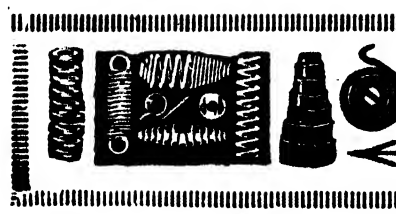

WHEN the House met on Friday, the 8th February, over a special meeting, the Mayor, Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, informed that, in reference to his discussion with the Governor of Bengal, His Excellency Mr. R. G. Casey, about the financial position of the Corporation, the House could be assured of Government assistance if only the Corporation did everything possible to save themselves from the impending crisis. As regards the various claims of the Corporation due from Government the latter's attitude was favourable to the Municipality.

The financial position of the Corporation was such that the deficit could not be met from the receipts.

According to the Chief Executive Officer, Mr. Sailapati Chatterji, the Mayor said that the Corporation were faced with a deficit of Rs. 51,63,000.

Presenting the Budget Estimates for 1946-47 the Chief Executive Officer said that a scrutiny of figures both on the receipts and expenditure sides showed that the Corporation were faced with a deficit of Rs. 31,63,000. For the last few years it had not been possible for the Corporation to maintain their closing balance at Rs. 40,00,000, the minimum decided upon in 1935. The administration would be unworkable without a minimum closing balance of at least Rs. 20,00,000. To bring about this position at the time of passing the budget, the deficit of Rs. 31,63,000 plus Rs. 20,00,000, namely Rs. 51,63,000 in all would have to be accounted for.

This deficit could not be met from their present income. He suggested an increase of 2 per cent. in the consolidated rate and expected to raise about Rs. 15,00,000 by that means. He was also counting on Government help in the shape of ways and means advance to the extent of Rs. 37,00,000. If they could get these amounts, their budget might yet somehow be balanced.

The Mayor told the House :—

"I may tell you that Government have assured me that if the Corporation do their part, namely, help themselves as much as they can, Government will also co-operate and give them help as far as possible. I will tell you later on, in details, about the different claims that Corporation are making on Government and also whether Government are prepared to write off our claims on Government against their dues from Corporation."

Continuing he said :—

"All these things came in during the discussion with the Governor and the reply of the Government has been very favourable, provided we play our part to save the Corporation from the financial crisis. If you do your part, the Governor has assured me that Government would come to the help of the Corporation."

Councillor Provansu Kumar Sett asked :—

"Are we to take it that Government insists on increasing the consolidated rate by 2 per cent.?"

The Mayor replied :—

"I have said what I had to say now. I will tell you all in details later on."

The Chief Executive Officer then presented the Budget.

How To MEET THE DEFICIT?—C. E. O. EXPLAINS

To meet this deficit, the Chief Executive Officer suggested an increase of 2 per cent. in the consolidated rate which now stood at $19\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. Such an increase in the rate taking collection at 90 per cent., he said could produce an additional revenue of Rs. 19,68,000 in a full year. But taking into account the probable cost of working out details, a net sum of about Rs. 14,50,000 could be obtained from such increased taxation. Further, Government should be approached for a ways and means advance of Rs. 37,00,000 during 1946-47.

If the Corporation had to carry on their administration, permanent additional sources of revenue must be found and Government should take steps to make such additional revenues available to the Municipality. But as schemes for the provision of additional revenues would necessarily take some time to mature, he had already requested Government to advance Rs. 37,00,000 to the Corporation. This figure he had included on the receipt side, to present a workable budget.

In this connection the Chief Executive Officer mentioned the efforts made by the Corporation year after year to induce Government to take necessary steps to provide the Municipality with some additional sources of revenue. The Corporation, he said, should press their claim on the Government for suitable legislation to enable the Corporation to impose certain new taxes, and a share of some of the existing taxes, such as the Amusement tax, the Electricity tax and the Sales tax.

Explaining briefly some of the important features of the budget, the Chief Executive Officer said that in spite of the impending financial collapse, he had provided for new works to the extent of Rs. 5,51,000, including Rs. 4,00,000 to put Calcutta roads in order. About Rs. 14,00,000 had been allotted to meet 20 per cent. of the dearness concessions which, according to Government's decision, had to be borne by the Corporation. A further provision of Rs. 12,00,000 had been made for additional emoluments to Corporation employees on the basis of the recommendations of the Strike Settlement Special Committee.

To meet the liability under the new Slum Improvement Act, Rs. 1,50,000 had been provided.

With the removal of lighting restrictions, the demand for restoration of normal lighting had become insistent, and accordingly a provision of Rs. 8,94,000 had been made in the budget against Rs. 2,22,000 in the current year. The budget also provided Rs. 2,52,000 for the purchase of different types of motor vehicles including 15 conservancy lorries and 4 ambulance cars.

For want of funds, no action could be taken on some of the Government directives requiring heavy outlay. Provision had, however, been made for putting up a cold storage room, remodelling of the animal vaccine depot, clearing of surface drains in Manicktolla and Cossipore, etc., and in respect of several other directives.

CONDOLENCES

References were made in the House to the deaths of Sir U. N. Brahmachari, the well-known physician; Mr. S. N. Halder, a Barrister-at-law and former member of the Corporation, and Mr. Ranjan Sen, a prominent business man.

As regards receipts, the outstanding rate bills, specially in the Law Department, had been a matter of great concern to the Corporation for the last few years. In this connection a Committee was appointed to increase the Municipal revenue. The Committee, which was empowered to compromise outstanding claims at a discount not exceeding 10 per cent., had failed to secure the co-operation of defaulting ratepayers, with the result that collection in the Law Department remained at the normal level. He suggested that the question of sale of unrealized bills at a discount should now be considered and the Advocate-General's opinion sought in the matter.

Mr. Chatterji referred to the negotiations between the Corporation and the Government of India on the question of contribution from the Centre for the repair of city roads damaged by military traffic. The Government had now asked the Corporation to draw up and send to them a comprehensive road-repairing programme.

The Corporation appointed a Special Committee of 21 members to consider the Budget Estimates.

DISTURBANCES IN CALCUTTA

Demonstrations : Lathi Charges :

People's Protest Against The Sentence Passed on Capt. Rashid Ali

WHEN the procession taken out to protest against the sentence passed on Capt. Abdur Rashid Khan of the Azad Hind Fauz and to demand the release of all political prisoners attempted to proceed through Dalhousie Square it was dispersed by the police with lathi charge on Monday, the 11th February, once shortly after midday and the second time in the afternoon, resulting in injuries to 20 students.

As the news of the lathi charge passed round with lightning rapidity throughout Calcutta, indignant protest demonstrations were staged in various places in Central and North Calcutta. Group meetings were held on the streets and the entire tram and bus traffic were at a standstill.

Gradually, towards the night the disturbances centered round Chittaranjan Avenue, where military trucks were intercepted and set ablaze.

The police opened fire on mobs on three occasions in different parts of Calcutta. One man was killed and ten persons injured by bullet and gun shots. Tear gas was also used for the first time in many years and lathi charges were made.

Between 17 and 20 persons, including boys below 10 years, were killed and about two hundred mostly by bullets and gun shots were wounded in the disturbances that lasted from daybreak till mid-night on Tuesday, the 12th February.

Towards the evening military assistance was requisitioned. The police opened fire on 14 occasions. Repeated attempts were made to disperse the mobs by use of tear gas and by lathi charges.

The city's life was completely paralyzed. Public transport services were brought to a standstill. Complete Hartal was observed in the city. Both Hindus and Muslims joined in the demonstrations throughout the city.

Kalighat Post Office was looted; Kalighat tram depot was attacked and 10 trams were destroyed by fire; European shops were stoned, pedestrians assaulted, and military-type vehicles and civilian cars stopped and burnt by rioters.

Twelve persons were killed and nearly 200 others injured as a result of military and police firings and lathi charges in course of incidents in several parts of Calcutta on Wednesday, the 13th February.

Despite the presence of military patrols in the streets an attack was made on the 67-year-old Dharamtolla Street Methodist Church, which the rioters entered and set fire to. A raid on the office of the North District Deputy Commissioner of Police on Upper Circular Road, the burning of Colootola Post Office in the University Buildings, destruction of lorries and private cars, looting of shops, attacks on pedestrians and barricading of important city roads were carried out.

An order under Section 144 was promulgated in Calcutta banning public meetings and processions and Government issued a warning that any person obstructing or barricading public roads were liable to be fired upon by police or military.

After a lull of about two hours in the morning, trouble started afresh in several localities. Vehicles passing along the road were stoned, road-blocks erected, overhead tramway and telephone wires cut and brickbats were hurled at mobile military and police squads who patrolled the streets.

Fire was opened by the military and police nearly two dozen times to disperse large crowds of people, who collected on the roads in different parts of the city. Tear gas was also used many times to disperse the crowd.

The situation worsened after nightfall when fire was set to two military lorries near Jagu Babu's Bazar in Bhowanipore, to a church on Dharamtola Street, to a postal van near College Street-Bowbazar Street crossing. The Fire Brigade attended repeated calls.

Disturbances spread to Greater Calcutta area. Mill and factory workers struck work in a number of places in Howrah and Hooghly district areas and trains were held up on E. I. R. and B. & A. R. by crowds standing on the railway tracks.

Vital public services remained paralyzed throughout the day. None of the city's transport services was able to function. Over 5,000 telegrams for Calcutta residents and business houses could not be delivered. The city's telephone exchanges worked throughout the day with skeleton staffs. As many as 80 per cent. of the operators failed to report for duty.

A large percentage of the Municipal conservancy staff was unable to come to work. As a result, garbage dumps at street-corners were mounting, menacing the city's health. Street gas-lamps in many places were unlit.

The riot situation in the city of Calcutta showed a marked improvement on Thursday, the 14th February. There were a few incidents on that day. Two military lorries were reported to have been burnt in the vicinity of Sir Ashutosh Mukherjee Road at about 10 a.m. and a few shots were fired. The Fire Brigade put the fire out. Lathi charges were made on crowds at the junction of Baitakhana Road and Harrison Road. In the evening there occurred a clash and some firing at Manicktolla.

The death-roll in Calcutta firings mounted to 44, with 9 of the injured persons having expired in hospital on Thursday.

The trouble had already spread to Greater Calcutta area, and attempts were made again to hold up trains by people lying on railway tracks.

At Naihati, where 3 people were killed as a result of military firing on the previous day, nearly 60,000 mill and factory workers struck work on Thursday. An order under Section 144 was promulgated in Barrackpore Subdivision.

One person was killed and 8 other injured when a party of troops opened fire on a crowd of factory and mill workers in front of the Indian Air Survey Office in Dum Dum Cantonment in the morning.

"Peace brigades" went into the troublous parts of the city, pleading with the rioters to remain calm and peaceful.

There was no examination for the I.A. and I.Sc. students at the Calcutta and Bhowanipore Centres both on Wednesday and Thursday, the 13th and the 14th February.

BENGAL GOVERNOR'S BROADCAST

His Excellency Mr. R. G. Casey, broadcasting from Calcutta Station of All-India Radio on Tuesday night said that 'mob violence must be ended and ended speedily'. He also said:—

"The situation is such that I have asked the army to come to the assistance of the civil power in order that order may be restored in Calcutta as quickly as possible. Peaceful citizens should keep to their houses.

Keep off the streets and keep out of trouble."

Formations of military started operating in Calcutta about 8 p.m. on Tuesday.

Regretting the incidents that had taken place in Calcutta, Moulana Abul Kalam Azad, the Congress President, appealed to all the citizens to try their best to stop the spread of hooliganism in the city.

Mr. Sarat Chandra Bose and Mr. S. M. Ghosh, President, Bengal Provincial Congress Committee, in a joint statement said:—

"It is the duty of every one of us to prevent a recurrence of molestation of innocent passers-by and damage to property."

Khawaja Sir Nazimuddin and Mr. H. S. Suhrawardy issued a statement:—

"We entreat everyone to preserve the peace and keep calm. To those of our brethren, Muslims and Hindus, who have been injured, we extend our heartfelt sympathy."

A Government Press Note announced a ban on processions and warned people against interfering with traffic. It stated:—

"Government have decided that, in view of the fact that free and safe movement for all on the public roads has not yet been re-established, meetings and processions and assemblies for whatever purpose must, for the time being, be prohibited. Orders to this effect are being issued and will come into force at once."

Calcutta's disturbed areas were patrolled by the military and the police throughout the day and night.

Members of the Indian National Ambulance Corps, the Friends' Service Unit and Indian Red Cross Society, Bengal, cruised round the city in cars and vans, picking up the injured from the streets and removing them to hospital.

Mr. Sarat C. Bose said on Wednesday in the course of a statement that handing over the city to the armed forces had only aggravated matters. The Governor had been unwise in not consulting the leaders of public opinion, especially the President of the Indian National Congress, who was then in Calcutta. Mr. Bose said that unless the armed pickets were withdrawn forthwith the situation might become uncontrollable. He appealed to all to maintain peace and order in spite of gravest provocation.

Due to lack of a quorum the meeting of Calcutta Corporation due on Wednesday was not held.

In reply to a question of East Wintelow (Conservative) about the riots in Calcutta in the House of Commons, Mr. Arthur Henderson, Under Secretary for India, said that the disturbances reached a pitch at which it was impossible to restore and maintain order with available civil resources. Governor accordingly authorised the importation of strong military forces.

He would make a fuller statement when he had received further report.

Death of Sir U. N. Brahmachari

Distinguished Scientist and Medical Man

The death occurred in Calcutta on the 6th February last of Dr. Sir Upendra Nath Brahmachari, whose discovery of a specific for Kala-azar made him famous throughout the world. He was a former President of the Indian Science Congress.

Sir Upendra Nath, who was 70, had been in ill health for sometime past but the death was sudden due to heart failure.

He is survived by his wife, two sons—Dr. Phanindra Nath Brahmachari and Mr. Nirmal Kumar Brahmachari—and two daughters.

The funeral took place at Nimtolla Burning Ghat and was largely attended.

A SKETCH OF HIS CAREER IN LIFE.

SIR U. N. Brahmachari, M.A., M.D., Ph.D., F.R.A.S., B.F.N.I. was a well-known figure in the medical world of India. His rise in his profession was almost meteoric and within a few years the discovery of a specific for Kala-azar made him famous throughout the world. It is not often that such a career of usefulness is ever vouchsafed to men. He was a renowned man not only in his profession but also in other fields of activity.

He was born on June 7, 1875, in Jamalpur, a station on the F. I. R. line. His father Dr. Nilmony Brahmachari was a well-known medical practitioner of the place with an extensive practice.

HIS EDUCATION.

Young Brahmachari was educated at the Hooghly College. Later he joined the Presidency College in Calcutta. He took his B. A. degree with honours in mathematics. He passed his M.A. examination in the first class group and chemistry was his subject. He joined the Medical College of Calcutta and duly received there the degrees of M.B. and M.D. He also got Ph.D. in physiology. He won the Coates Medal, and Griffith Memorial Prize. He was further a Minto Medalist of the Calcutta School of Tropical Medicine and Hygiene.

He went to Dacca as a teacher in the Dacca Medical School. Within a short time he picked up a wide practice. But the possibilities in a far-off district town were very limited. He soon came back to Calcutta and joined the Campbell Medical School where he served from 1905 to 1923. Having come to a bigger field of activity, Dr. Brahmachari found scope for his undoubted genius. He was soon in touch with the various cultural societies of the city. The Asiatic Society of Bengal, the foremost association of India, was his favourite resort to further research work in various fields. He got the Sir William Jones Medal of this institution.

HIS DISCOVERY

Dr. Brahmachari created sufficient reputation for himself to get himself selected as research worker under Indian Research Fund Association. He continued as such for nearly six years, 1920 to 1926. His work brought him an ample reward. He was now known throughout the world as the discoverer of a specific for that serious ailment, Kala-azar. He discovered the famous "Urea Stibamine" an organic antimonial—a powerful medicine for this disease. Millions were benefited by it. It brought him huge fortune and fame. It may be said of him that he awoke one morn to find himself the richest medical practitioner in the whole of India.

But this fame and fortune never brought stagnation in his activities. He acted as a physician to Calcutta Medical College from 1923 to 1927. This was not only a high distinction, but an opportunity to medical practitioners of the premier city of India for real work.

Dr. Brahmachari accepted the professorship of Tropical Medicine in the Carnichael Medical College at Pargachia when it was started and also was appointed an honorary Professor of Bio-chemistry by the University of Calcutta.

HIS CONNECTIONS

Sir Upendra Nath, unlike others of his profession, never forgot his early connections with the learned societies of the city. He had also connections with several international societies. He was elected President of the International Association of Microbiologists, a society started for the furtherance of a remarkable study. He was elected a fellow of the Royal Society of Medicine, London, and also a fellow of the Royal Society of Tropical Medicine and Hygiene, London.

He was Vice-President of the Royal Asiatic Society of Bengal and became the President of this Society in the year 1928-29. This implied not merely study and original work, but a recognition of his undoubted powers to continue research work and attending success in the same field. Only genuine workers with some international reputation could hope to become its President. He also acted as its Secretary for some time.

In the field of pure scientific research also, Dr. Brahmachari held several important positions. He was a member of the court of Indian Institute of Science, Bangalore, a leading society of India in the domain of scientific research. He was a Vice-President of the National Institute of Science in India. He was elected President of the Medical and Veterinary section of the Indian Science Congress. This was a high compliment paid to a member of the healing profession. Again in the Jubilee Session of this Congress held in the year 1938, he presided over the Medical Section. In view of the fact that this was really an international session, the selection of Dr. Brahmachari proved his great position in the line chalked out by him as his particular concern.

There were other societies which honoured him in various ways. He was the Vice-President of the Physiological Society of India and there were other societies too which claimed him either as patron or

His treatise on Kala-azar which is a masterpiece in its line, his articles on "Chemotherapy of Organic Antimonial" "Chemotherapy of Quinoline Compounds" and other topics are illuminating in their brilliant exposition.

The Syndicate of the Calcutta University at its meeting on 8th February last adopted the following condolence resolution on the death of Sir U. N. Brahmachari:

"The Vice-Chancellor and Syndicate of the University place on record their profound grief and sense of loss at the sad and sudden demise of Sir Upendra Nath Brahmachari, which took place on the 6th February, 1946. Eminent Physician and Scientist, who had been connected with the University for the past forty years, as an Ordinary Fellow, as a Member of the Syndicate, as Dean of the Faculties of Science and Medicine and in various other capacities, he had rendered unique services to the cause of education in this country. A discoverer of the famous drug "Urea Stibamine", he will rank as one of the great benefactors of humanity, who has helped to save lives of millions of his fellowmen."

Karachi's Deficit Budget

The first peace-time budget of Karachi Municipal Corporation shows a deficit of Rs. 5,72,000 in 1946-47. The estimate of revenue is Rs. 76,40,000 and that of expenditure Rs. 82,12,000.

The Corporation budgetted Rs. 49,98,000 on capital works including the water works and the drainage schemes. It proposes to raise loans amounting to Rs. 80 lakhs to finance these schemes. Besides a post-war development programme for the development of the city estimated to cost Rs. two crores has been prepared.

The Chief Officer, Mr. T. J. Bhojwani, in his note sounding a warning against any increase in expenditure urges the Councillors to proceed with utmost caution during the coming year when, he says the Corporation would be placed in "extremely grave financial positions."

Bombay Corporation and Victory Day.

The Bombay Municipal Corporation in a letter addressed to the Government of Bombay had expressed its "inability to arrange for the distribution of sweets on account of victory day."

This has been made known in a Press Note recently issued by the Government of Bombay which says:

"It was intended to distribute sweets to children in all primary schools in the Province on the Victory holiday, December 24, 1945. The Bombay Municipal Corporation was requested to make arrangements for the primary schools under its control. The expenditure, limited to eight annas for each child, was to be borne by the Government. The Corporation informed the Government that as all the Municipal schools would be closed on December 24, for the Christmas Holidays, it was unable to distribute sweets. The Corporation was, then, requested to arrange for the distribution on the first working day of the New Year. The Corporation replied on January 17, expressing inability to arrange for the distribution of sweets on account of Victory. The Government desired to provide sweets to the children in Municipal schools in Bombay City, together with other parts of the province, but owing to the attitude of the Bombay Municipality this could not be done."

The Week In The Corporation

MONDAY: THE 18TH FEBRUARY

Police Firings In Calcutta Condemned

Corporation Records Its Protest

The Corporation of Calcutta at its meeting on Monday, the 18th February, condemned the recent police firings on the citizens of Calcutta and adjourned its meeting as a mark of protest till Wednesday next.

The Corporation also placed on record their deep sense of sorrow at the loss of so many lives and conveyed their sympathy to the members of the bereaved families.

It was urged that the Mayor should institute a public inquiry to expose the vagaries of the authorities.

In the course of his speech Councillor S. M. Usman said that he would like to remind the British Government that the time was gone when the people would submit tamely through the fear of machine guns. His countrymen, both Hindus and Muslims, had joined hands and the speaker had seen how in spite of repeated firings and hundreds getting wounded they stood and faced bullets.

According to him, the tension had eased not because of military action but because leaders had gone about asking people to keep the peace. What had happened was not according to any plan. "I again warn the British Government," he said, "that they should see the writings on the wall. If the same things are repeated, not only this city, not only this province, but the whole of the country will be in turmoil."

The Mayor, Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, expressed that in every city there had been outlaws and hooligans. But who was responsible for the trouble. Heavens would not have fallen if the peaceful procession was allowed to pass. British Imperialism would not have been collapsed. It was the police who created the trouble by firing upon the innocent citizens. He held the police, the agents of the British Imperialism, were responsible for creating trouble. During the Netaji's Birthday the Police did not interfere in Calcutta and nothing happened. At Bombay police interfered and created trouble. The Government of Bengal should take a lesson out of it. The Government and the British Raj ought to remember that the time had come when men and women were inspired with the burning desire of emancipation of their motherland. Unless there was complete transfer of power to the Indians there was bound to be disturbances and there would be damages to properties. They could not prevent that.

"ANARCHY WAS NOT ON THE PART OF THE PEOPLE BUT OF THE GOVERNMENT ITSELF"

COUNCILLOR P. S. BASU

Councillor Purnendu Sekhar Basu, who moved the adjournment of the House as a protest against the wanton police and military firings on citizens said that as representatives of the citizens it was their duty to voice their indignation at the uncalled-for action of the police and the military which caused loss of many valuable lives.

The public demand for an impartial inquiry in connection with the disturbances last November had not been met by the Government. Councillor Basu doubted if the Government would hold any inquiry in regard to the present disturbances. But they could not sleep over it and he requested the Mayor to form an influential committee so that the vagaries of the police and the military might be exposed and the liberty of the citizens safeguarded.

COUNCILLOR S. C. RAY CHAUDHURI

In seconding, Councillor Sudhir Chandra Ray Chaudhuri said that the British Government pretended that they were prepared to offer something to the Indians. But their actions in this country were just the different.

The sort of atrocities that had been perpetrated in the city of Calcutta recently and in November last should not be tolerated any longer. The procession, organised in protest against the sentence on Capt. Abdur Rashid, that started on the first day of the incidents was admittedly peaceful. What happened after the police had made a lathi charge on the peaceful student processionists was due to the unwarranted action on the part of the authorities.

If so many valuable lives were lost in such a way and within such a short space of time, he thought that they were not living a civilized life. There had been complete anarchy during the last few days. But that anarchy was not on the part of the people but on the part of the Government itself.

Councillor Ray Choudhuri said that it was high time that the Mayor should lead them in this matter so that the oppressors of people could not only be taught a lesson but these atrocities were stopped. These atrocities had passed all limits of toleration and not a single citizen considered his life and property to be safe.

It was the Government who was responsible for these atrocities and not the people. The Mayor should rise equal to the occasion and do something to put a stop to these atrocities otherwise they would be faced with another crisis within a short space of time.

COUNCILLOR B. N. ROY CHOWDHURY

Expressing his sorrow for those who had lost their lives during the disturbances in the city, Councillor B. N. Roy Chowdhury said that he must say in the interest of truth that the responsibility for lawlessness and violence lay to a great extent on certain persons, who had indulged in acts of violence against the wishes of their leaders. Mahatma Gandhi, Mr. Sarat Chandra Bose and others.

He did not believe that the educated young men of their country were responsible for violence. But certainly there were reactionary elements, who had taken advantage of the situation for which there had been bloodshed, for which innocent lives had been lost.

COUNCILLOR H. K. GANGULI

Councillor Hirendra Kumar Ganguli said that Councillor Roy Chowdhury laid the responsibility to a greater extent on the hooligans than the police. It was the Police Raj that was responsible for the lawlessness in the city and also for unnecessary bloodshed. The Governor, Mr. Casey, perhaps thought that he would be doing proper justice by setting armed forces against unarmed public.

COUNCILLOR M. M. BARMAN

Councillor Madan Mohan Barman said that during the days of disturbances when about 200 Oriyas were proceeding along Harrison Road after crossing Chittaranjan Avenue an armed Gurkha, or perhaps Bhutanese used tear gas with the result that four of the Oriyas fell unconscious. The marksmanship was so perfect that tear gas shells fell upon his own house on Harrison Road, and on Marwari Hindu Hospital, although there was no disturbance in that area.

He also referred to the tragic circumstances in which a Marwari boy and a girl on the third storey of a house on Jagannath Ghat Road had been killed in military firing.

COUNCILLOR S. M. USMAN

Giving a graphic description to the incident that led to the worsening of the situation Councillor S. M. Usman, who was all along with the procession at Clive Street and also with the procession that passed round Dalhousie Square, said that once more the atrocities of the British Raj had proved to the hilt that they, Indians, were slaves and they were treated not as human-beings but as cats and dogs. The police was determined to create trouble. They knew that the Muslim League, and the Congress were not going to create trouble. The processionists were peaceful all through. The provocation came from the British Government and their agents, the police. Two lakhs of Hindus and Muslims paraded Dalhousie Square and there was not the slightest provocation. It was the police, who unnecessarily opened tear gas firing near Lal Bazar on the processionists. He could assure them that the cause of all this trouble was due to the police and nobody else.

Councillor Usman said that the students' procession was proceeding smoothly on that day towards Dalhousie Square when all on a sudden a police lorry came and wanted to stop it.

But the processionists marched on. At last, one very responsible police officer came and caught hold of some of the students and put them in the police van. In spite of that, the students were peaceful and every one of them offered himself for arrest. Instead of arresting them, there came the lathi charge upon them.

On receipt of this information he rushed to the spot. He contacted a high police officer, who appeared to be very nervous and told him that what he had done would again put the city in turmoil. He told the police officer that the students would march peacefully along Dalhousie Square and the police should not interfere.

But the police would not agree. Mr. Suhrawardy also came to the spot and they both asked the students to remain calm and peaceful. They found that some of the students had been wounded. He asked the students to sit down and practically all of them sat down and he wanted to address the students. But suddenly a high police officer called him. The police knew that the Congress and the Muslim League were not out for creating a trouble.

The police did not allow him to address the students. He could say that without any warning and without a single pebble being thrown at the police, that a high police officer snatched away a lathi from a constable and the first blow came upon a friend of his and the second upon the speaker himself.

Councillor Usman said that if an independent enquiry took place he would disclose the name of that police officer. According to the speaker, whatever trouble had come upon the city, the responsibility for that lay entirely on British Government and the police here.

Referring to the students' procession in Dalhousie Square area on the first day of the incidents, Councillor Usman said that if he had been given an opportunity to address the students, he would have been able to persuade them to leave the place peacefully, as most of the students were willing to hear him.

On the second day of the incidents, the speaker proceeded, a procession led by Mr. Suhrawardy and some other leaders, passed through Dalhousie Square smoothly. When the front part of the procession had reached Chittaranjan Avenue, a lorry with police constables on it wanted to pass through the procession. Councillor Usman said that some of the constables charged the processionists with lathis. Later, some tear gas was also used.

Councillor Usman thought that the cause of all trouble was the police and nobody else. Proceeding he said that, after serious provocation, some of the lorries were burnt. He did not like to throw the blame on hooligans. That was not correct. They were men of their country.

It might be that they did something wrong; it might be that they were misguided, but they were not hooligans; it would be insulting their people to say that they were hooligans. There had been atrocities and acts of violence. Some of the acts of violence should be condemned and deprecated.

Continuing Councillor Uaman said :—

"I am not a coward. I don't like to throw blame upon the hooligans. It may be some were misguided, but they were actually inspired with the highest motive. I want to warn the Government that those days are gone when people of our country will tamely submit before their machine-guns and bullets. I have seen with my own eyes that Hindus and Muslims joining hands together in spite of repeated firings, in spite of the fact that hundreds were being wounded, faced bullets bravely. Let Government do not think that this act subsides because of the military. What happened was a sporadic act on the part of the people. There is writing on the wall and if the same things are going to be repeated, not only the city but the whole country will be in turmoil. Our students, our youngmen and the Indian masses will join hands together. I have seen when one Muslim was shot down, Hindus also joined and vice versa. That is a good sign. Whatever we elder people cannot do, the younger people and the masses have done."

COUNCILLOR J. H. METHOLD

Councillor J. H. Methold said that although he did not profess to know the origin of the trouble, he must say that he was convinced that there was a large hooligan element involved in the incidents.

To Indian members he would say that whatever form of Government they might have in this country, Hindusthan or Pakistan, it would be the duty of that Government to see that such a state of things was not allowed to continue, and law and order was maintained.

He saw many people throwing brickbats at houses and shops on Chowringhee smashing doors and windows.

COUNCILLOR ABDUS SATTAR

Councillor Abdus Sattar deprecated attack on women and raid on churches and said that the police and the military were responsible for all that had happened during those few days. There was no organisation behind this trouble, none of the political parties lent their support to it; it was a voluntary act of some of the youngmen of this province in protest against the actions of the Commander-in-Chief in connection with the sentence passed on Capt. Abdur Rashid Khan of the Indian National Army. The situation could have been averted but for some of the silly acts of the police officers of this city.

COUNCILLOR NALIN CH. PAUL

Councillor Nalin Chandra Paul said that the very fact that the Government had called in the aid of the military tantamounted to a confession of their incompetence. It was, therefore, no wonder that Indians should raise the cry that the British should "Quit India".

COUNCILLOR A. A. WISE

Councillor A. A. Wise said that he had nothing to say about police opening fire on harmless students. But through the evidence that had come out in course of statements made by different members of the House it had been proved that there were definite reasons for the police opening fire. The fact that acts of violence were perpetrated by members of their city proved conclusively that there were elements of unrest among their people. He said that in course of the disturbances police and military lorries were burnt and glass panes of shop windows in Chowringhee area were broken. He alleged that there had been rape of woman on public street.

Proceeding, Councillor Wise said that after 88 years' of association with Indians, he could not say that these atrocities could be perpetrated by Indian gentlemen. They were perpetrated by men who could be found in every nation, he said, among the British, among the French. He was not blaming right-thinking Indians.

If they went round Chowringhee, they would find that every house and shop on Chowringhee up to Army and Navy Stores had been damaged and furniture burnt down. The speaker said that he had taken an impartial view of things as a member of his party. His views, he said, did not represent the views of his party as a whole. Even places of worship had been desecrated. He would ask them to consider if such acts excited love and affection. He could not understand why hatred against his nation should be engendered when they all could work together peacefully. He did not believe that these acts of violence had been perpetrated by educated and right-thinking Indians but by elements, who were found in every civilised country. The point he emphasised was that such acts must not be condoned and that steps must be taken to put a stop to this.

OTHERS ALSO SPOKE

Councillor Bijoy Kumar Banerjee and Alderman Hemaprova Majumdar also spoke, condemning the firings, and said that it was time that the British should quit India. According to them, such disturbances were bound to occur from time to time if the British did not quit India.

THE MAYOR

"The Government should remember that the time has come when every man and woman in India is inspired with a burning desire for emancipation of the motherland. On the slightest irritation that flame will burst into a conflagration. Unless the Government redeem their pledge to give independence to India, such disturbances will occur again and again."

Thus said the Mayor, Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, in the course of his speech.

The Mayor said that he was not present in the city when it was overtaken by most tragic incidents. He was sorry that Mr. Wise had not really said a word about the genesis of the tragedy. It was true that in every city there were outlaws and hooligans and when there was confusion and complete disorder, it was only then that these outlaws and hooligans had their full play.

Who was responsible for creating confusion and disorder which afforded opportunity to outlaws and hooligans to commit acts of violence and do damage to the property of innocent citizens? What would have been the result if the peaceful procession was allowed to go on and finish its march? Heavens should not have fallen, British imperialist power should not have collapsed if the students' procession was allowed to proceed in the way it liked to go. It was the police who created this trouble, according to the speaker, by firing on innocent citizens. The speaker thought that it was the police, it was Government, who was primarily responsible for the creation of confusion and disorder. If there had been a free play of hooliganism, that was the result and not the cause, for which he thought Government was responsible.

The Mayor thought after the incidents of November last, Government had grown wiser. That was why he thought Government had left the procession organised on the occasion of Netaji's birthday celebrations, the biggest for many years to the care of the organisers and the volunteers. There was no policeman visible along the mile-long procession on that occasion. There was no disturbance, no disorder on that occasion.

He had thought that Government would take into account the fact that non-interference in the procession organised in Calcutta on the occasion of Netaji's birthday celebrations led to no disturbance, while interference with a procession on this occasion in Bombay led to disturbances and loss of life. It was only when Congress peace squads toured the city of Bombay that peace was restored there and the Police Commissioner had to appreciate the services of these peace squads.

He had hoped that by comparing the results of their policy of non-interference with those of the policy of interference in Bombay, the Government here would not repeat their foolish action of November last. Unfortunately, he said, the British power here, obsessed with a false sense of prestige and intoxicated with the power of domination that it had been enjoying for a long time, could not give up its habit. They interfered with a harmless procession. The British power ought to realise that to-day every man and woman of this country was filled with a burning desire for emancipation of his or her motherland and with the smallest spark of discontent and the slightest cause of irritation, the burning flame in their hearts might develop into a conflagration.

He felt that unless the Government in England was sincere with the promises which they were making year after year for giving India complete independence and unless these promises were redeemed, these disturbances were bound to come.

The Mayor concluded:—

"These pleasure trips of the British Parliamentary Delegation and the expected august visit of Lord Pethick-Lawrence will not satisfy us. It is now time that something substantial was given to Indians. Unless there is complete transference of power from the British agencies to Indians there are bound to be such disturbances".

CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

Councillor Nalin Chandra Paul referring to a resolution of the Services Standing Committee that the post of the Chief Executive Officer be advertised and that the best person selected appointed on the expiry of the term of office of the present incumbent, Mr. Sailapati Chatterji, asked whether the Committee's direction that, pending confirmation by the Corporation, the resolution be forwarded to the Government, had been complied with.

The Chief Executive Officer said that the resolution required the sanction of the Corporation before it was sent to the Government. He had consulted the Advocate-General and according to the latter the resolution was illegal.

The Mayor suggested that the subject might be discussed on a proper motion.

Councillor Sudhir Chandra Ray Chaudhuri said that the Chief Executive Officer had been already asked to place the matter before the Corporation but nothing had been done yet. This was a vital issue and they wanted to discuss the matter straightaway.

The Chief Executive Officer said that he was prepared to go but not at the request of Mr. Ray Chaudhuri.

Ultimately it was decided that the matter should be discussed at a meeting on Friday.

CONDOLENCE

The House condoled the death of Sir Renwick Haddow, a prominent European businessman of the city who expired recently.

Wednesday: The 20th February

SIT-DOWN STRIKE AT THE PRESS

At the Corporation meeting held on Wednesday, the 20th February, the Chief Executive Officer made a reference to the sit-down strike of the Press-workers. Mr. Shamsul Haque, the Deputy Mayor, was in the chair.

The Chief Executive Officer, Mr. Sailapati Chatterji, while appraising the House of the strike situation, said that for some days in the past the Corporation Press workers were going very slow. From Tuesday, the 19th February, they were actually on strike. As a result very little progress had been done in printing out the Chief Accountant's Budget Report which would be placed before the Corporation shortly.

Replying to a question put by Councillor Sudhir Chandra Ray Chaudhuri, the Chief Executive Officer said that the Mayor had a discussion with the representatives of the strikers on Tuesday evening about their demands. But, as far as he knew, although the Mayor was willing to make certain concessions to the Press workers they showed no willingness to resume their duties. He also admitted that he had closed the Press under lock and key on the suggestion of the Mayor.

PROTEST AGAINST SALES TAX

A resolution protesting against the enhancement of the sales tax was adopted by the House. In the opinion of the Corporation it would be very difficult for the poorer section of the community to pay the tax at the increased rate.

The resolution was moved by Councillor Kaviraj Satvabrata Sen and seconded by Councillor Gosto Behari Sett.

Mr. M. A. Jinnah In Calcutta

"Trial And Punishment Of I. N. A. Men Legally Wrong, Logically Untenable And Morally Indefensible"

MR. M. A. Jinnah, President, Muslim League, arrived in Calcutta by the Delhi Mail, on the 15th February last.

To avoid crowds at Howrah Station Mr. Jinnah alighted at Belur, about six miles from Calcutta, and motored to 5, Harrington Street, the residence of Mr. M. A. H. Ispahani. He was received at Belur by Nawabzada Liaquat Ali Khan, Chairman of the Central League Parliamentary Board, who is now in Calcutta, Mr. H. S. Suhrawardy, Mr. Ispahani and several other League leaders.

Later, Mr. Jinnah had a discussion with local leaders regarding conditions in the city and the prospects of League candidates in the coming elections to the Provincial Legislative Assembly.

MEETS THE GOVERNOR

Mr. Jinnah met H. E. Mr. R. G. Casey, Governor of Bengal, at Government House on the 16th February morning. Sir Frederick Burrows, Governor-Designate of Bengal, was present for a few minutes.

The interview lasted about 90 minutes. Mr. Jinnah arrived at Government House at 10-30 a.m. and left just before noon.

Nawabzada Liaquat Ali Khan, Deputy Leader of the Muslim League Party in Central Assembly, also had an interview with Mr. Casey the same day.

THE I. N. A. TRIALS

Mr. M. A. Jinnah in the course of a statement issued on Sunday, the 17th February, said that the Government of India's Press communique concerning their policy of trial and punishment of Indian National Army men, issued last week, was legally wrong, logically untenable and morally indefensible. He added:—

"I do not wish to add to the enormous bitterness, passion and excitement that prevail throughout the country. In Calcutta alone 44 innocent lives have been lost and about 700 persons have been injured, to say nothing of the other parts of India, for the simple reason that they wanted to condemn in unmistakable manner the policy and action of the Government by exercising their right as citizens to hold meetings, to take out processions and to stage demonstrations. One cannot slur over the conduct of the police, which is basically regulated to suppress free expression and liberty of speech of the people. An impartial tribunal must be appointed to hold an enquiry into this whole affair, wherever firing has taken place."

"I wish to make it clear beyond doubt that I witnessed all along the countryside from Delhi to Calcutta blood in the eyes of the people over the discriminatory treatment of Abdur Rashid. It has stirred every section of the people and has shocked every thinking man. It will be a folly to expect that this action of the Government or their persistence in it will blow over like a passing storm. It has gone deep into the hearts of the people and I am afraid will nullify our efforts to co-operate with the Government in the handling of the threatened food situation and other matters of importance facing the country."

LUNCHEES WITH THE GOVERNOR

The meeting between His Excellency the Governor of Bengal, Mr. R. G. Casey, and Mr. Jinnah was resumed on Sunday, the 17th February.

Mr. Jinnah arrived at Government House, at 12-30 p.m.

A crowd at the north gate cheered him as he drove in.

This was the second day of the meeting.

After the meeting with Mr. Casey, at which Sir Frederick Burrows, the Governor-Designate, was also present, Mr. Jinnah stayed on to lunch with His Excellency at Government House. Nawabzada Liaquat Ali Khan, Mr. M. A. H. Ispahani and Mr. H. S. Suhrawardy were among the guests at lunch.

On Thursday, the 21st February, Mr. M. A. Jinnah along with Messrs. H. S. Suhrawardy and M. A. H. Ispahani visited the Campbell Hospital and saw the patients wounded during the recent disturbances in Calcutta.

Calcutta In Turmoil

Corporation Protest Against Police And Military Firings

THE Corporation of Calcutta at its meeting held on Monday, the 18th February, condoled the deaths of those who were killed as a result of police and military firings during the recent disturbances in the city and adjourned its meeting without transacting any business in protest against such firings.

Members expressed the view that the responsibility for the trouble, which came upon the city, should lie on the shoulders of Government and the police.

Councillor Purnendu Sekhar Bose, who moved adjournment of the House, urged the Mayor to constitute a Committee of enquiry so that the vagaries of the police and the military might be exposed and the liberty of citizens safeguarded.

The condolence resolution was moved by the Mayor, Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, who was in the chair, and accepted, all standing.

The Mayor told the House that one of those killed as a result of the firing was a nephew of the Deputy Mayor, Mr. Shamsul Haque.

Except one incident in which troops opened fire in Bhowanipur the city of Calcutta after three stormy days was quiet on the 14th February last.

The military continued to patrol the streets and strongly guard Chowringhee, Bhowanipur and Wellington Square area and Sealdah Railway Station.

Public transport services were suspended and telephone exchanges functioned with skeleton staffs.

His Excellency Mr. R. G. Casey made a tour of inspection of the greater part of the city of Calcutta.

The Commissioner of Police, Calcutta, issued an order prohibiting, with effect from Thursday (the 14th February), any procession or public assembly within the city and suburbs of Calcutta without previous permission. Under the order "public assembly" means an assembly of five or more persons, but does not include persons while in the pursuit of or engaged in their lawful profession, calling, business or trade.

... It was officially stated that the order will be withdrawn as soon as normal conditions are restored in the city.

Labour demonstration in the outlying industrial areas was more marked. Most of the mills and factories in Hooghly, Howrah, Budge Budge and Barrackpore in 24-Parganas were closed.

Of the injured admitted to hospital during the last four days, 10 died on the 18th February last, bringing the death-roll to 42. The injured totalled about 860. In addition 82 members of the Calcutta Police, including five officers, were injured. There was no death.

Two trains were held up by a crowd at Champahati Railway Station on the South-Suburban Section of B. A. Railway.

Conditions in Calcutta returned almost to normal on the 15th February last. In the morning several buses and taxis were on the streets and as the day advanced the number increased. The tram service, however, remained suspended.

The telephone service, which had been dislocated due to shortage of staff during the past three days, improved considerably.

Shops in European quarters were open, but many in Indian localities remained closed as a protest against the Government decision to increase the rate of the Sales Tax from three pice to one anna in the rupee with effect from the day before.

No incidents were reported and no deaths occurred among the injured in hospital.

The ban on processions and assembly of more than four persons remained in force until further orders.

Military and police patrols continued and traffic police returned to point duty.

In view of the improved situation, military pickets stationed at various points in the disturbed areas were withdrawn at night.

During the last four days' incident in the city and its suburbs over 80 lorries were burnt, a tram depot and a post office burnt and another post office raided.

Over 150 arrests were made in connection with the incidents on various charges of rioting, assault, for setting fire to lorries and cars etc.

The death roll in Calcutta firing mounted to 47.

Two of the persons injured in Calcutta firing, expired in hospital on the 15th February last.

Calcutta switched on to normal life on the 16th February last when no firing or disturbance was reported from any part of the city. The tram service was resumed from early morning. It was, however, discontinued after dusk, presumably as a matter of precautionary measure. Buses were plying in all the routes till late hours of night as usual.

All the offices, some of which were working partially and others completely closed during the disturbance, were working as usual. While Cinemas had started their shows, most of the shops still remained closed on account of the anti-sales tax campaign.

Three others, who were injured as a result of firing in Calcutta early in the week, succumbed to their injuries in hospital bringing the total number of deaths in the city firings to 50.

GOVERNMENT'S SHARE OF RESPONSIBILITY

In a statement on the Calcutta disturbances Maulana Abul Kalam Azad, the Congress President, said that the Government must bear a large share of responsibility for whatever had happened. The worst incident of all in the disturbances was the attack on the Methodist Church in Dharamtalla Street. He appealed that the damage must be made good by contributions raised by citizens of Calcutta.

Comments in the Press and on the platform have revealed that the actual position in respect of the so-called 'protected area' in Calcutta is widely misunderstood, states a Bengal Government Press Note issued on Sunday, the 17th February.

Under the Calcutta Police Act, the Note adds, the Commissioner of Police is empowered, if he considers it necessary in the public interest, to prohibit public assemblies and processions in any specified area for a period not exceeding 7 days, and for longer periods with the sanction of Government.

This power was exercised by him to prohibit demonstrations in the neighbourhood of Dalhousie Square for limited periods on many occasions in the past. In 1936, circumstances arose which made it necessary for the Government to authorise the Commissioner of Police, without any limit of time, to ban the holding, except with his previous permission obtained in writing, of public assemblies and processions in the Dalhousie Square area and also in three other areas in the city.

The question was reviewed by the Council of Ministers in August, 1937, and it was their decision that special powers were not called for in respect of other areas but that the area bounded by Strand Road on the south, Canning Street on the west, Radha Bazar Street, Bentinck Street and part of Chowringhee Road on the north, and Ochterlony Road, Lawrence Road and Auckland Road on the east required special treatment.

Accordingly, the power to prohibit without limit of time, the holding of public assemblies and processions in this area alone, except with his previous permission obtained in writing, was left in the hands of the Commissioner of Police.

A revised order was issued and this now forms part of the statutory rules which are in force for the regulation of traffic in the streets and public places in Calcutta and its suburbs.

It will be obvious from the history of the order that it was not a war-time measure, but has, in fact, been in force since 1936, and was, in 1937, endorsed and continued by the Council of Ministers.

Press Freedom Necessary For World Peace

Calcutta Journalist Presides Over Editors' Conference At Allahabad

"Nothing short of a radical change of the Government and their policy will assure anything like the freedom of the Press or freedom of information, which is necessary for peace in India, no less than world peace," said Mr. Tushar Kanti Ghosh, Editor, 'Amrita Bazar Patrika,' presiding over the fifth session of the All-India Newspaper Editors' Conference held in Allahabad on the 16th February last.

Among the Calcutta journalists who attended the Conference were Mr. W. C. Wordsworth, Acting Editor, "Statesman" (Calcutta); Mr. Amal Home, Editor, "Calcutta Municipal Gazette"; Mr. J. C. Himkar, Editor, "Jagriti"; Mr. B. Sen Gupta, "United Press of India"; Mr. Vivekananda Mukherji, Editor, "Jugantar"; Mr. Gopul Halder, "Jana Yuddha"; and Mr. Satyendra Nath Mazumdar, "Globe".

OUTLINING the demands of the Indian newspapers Mr. Tushar Kanti Ghosh said: "We do not ask for a Royal Charter for the Press. We do, however, demand that the Press be not subjected to extraordinary pains and penalties, and that too at the whim and caprice of the Government and their officials. In other words, we demand that the Indian Press should be as free as the British Press is."

Welcoming the delegates to the Conference, Mr. Subramanayam, Chairman of the Reception Committee, said: "Our demand is a simple one. We want a free press but we claim no special in its power to prevent distortion and total suppression of news and the Indian Press should have a foreign news service of its own, not as a competitive service but as a supplementary one purveying news from world countries and cities such as Washington, London, Paris and Moscow, the Middle East Countries, and the East Asia countries.

There were the high lights of an interesting address delivered by Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru inaugurating the session of the All-India Newspaper Editors' Conference at Allahabad.

"A free India cannot afford an unfree press", said the Rt. Hon. Sir Tej Bahadur Sapru addressing the Conference. Sir Tej referred to the law of sedition, the law of libel and the law of contempt which directly affected the Press.

Das, Jyotish Joardar, Monoranjan Gupta, Bhupendra Kumar Dutta, and Jnanendra Nath Mazumdar, who are in detention under the D. I. Rules and who had been selected as Congress nominees in the forthcoming elections, was adopted unanimously by the Corporation.

The resolution was moved by Councillor Sudhur Chandra Ray Chaudhuri and seconded by Councillor Gosta Behari Sett.

RELEASE OF CAPT. ABDUR RASHID

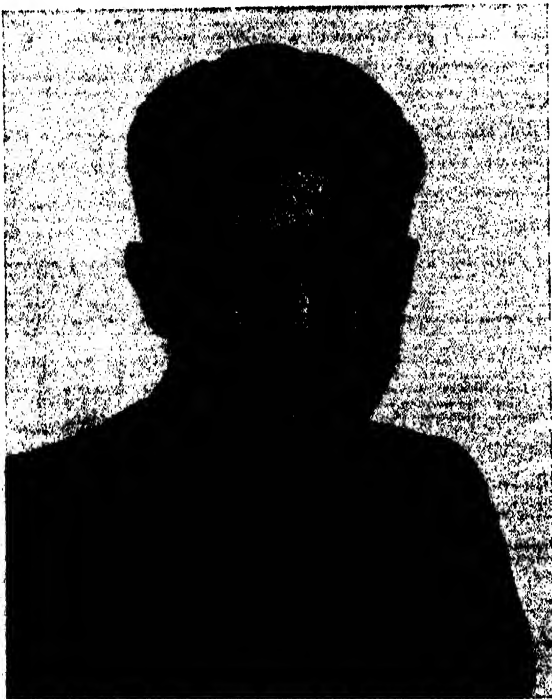

Another resolution sponsored by Councillor Abdus Sattar and seconded by Councillor Purnendu Sekhar Basu urging upon the Government of Bengal to impress upon the Government of India the immediate necessity of releasing Capt. Abdur Rashid in view of the resentment and public opinion against the sentence passed upon him was adopted by the House unanimously.

MR. JNANANJAN NEOGI

The Corporation rejected the recommendation of the Services Standing Committee No. I to re-appoint Mr. Jnananjan Neogi as the Officer-in-Charge of the Commercial Museum and Health Publicity Department at the expiry of his term on January 8, 1946.

SERVICE EXTENSION REFUSED

The Corporation also refused to grant extension of service to Mr. Abdul Wahed, Lighting Supervisor, District III, for a further period of one year.

TUSHAR KANTI GHOSH

privileges for ourselves. The freedom of the Press is nothing more and nothing less than the freedom of the citizen.

On the second day of the Conference Sir Akbar Hydari, Member for Information and Broadcasting in the Viceroy's Council, urged the editors to avoid stories which might create a panic among the people and to avoid criticism of the efforts of the Government to meet the crisis.

The Press in India should devote more time and space to village and rural life and conditions in the rural area. The Press in India should guard against big combines starting a chain of papers and dictating policies detrimental to the interests of the country; the Press in India should do everything

Protest Against Increase Of Sales Tax

City Shop-Keepers Observe An All-Out Hartal

MANY shops remained closed in Calcutta and Howrah on the 16th February last as a mark of protest against increase in sales tax from three pice to one anna per rupee.

Representatives of many business organizations of Calcutta met in the house of Mr. Raghunath Dutt and resolved that an Anti-Sales Tax Association be formed with one or more than one member from various business associations to agitate against the Sales Tax.

It was further resolved that all business associations would keep their respective businesses closed till the said Tax was repealed.

Retail shop-keepers of Calcutta continued their all-out 'hartal' for the third day on Sunday, the 17th February, as a mark of protest against the recent enhancement of the Sales Tax. Representatives of as many as 16 Traders' Associations resolved at a joint meeting at 72, Canning Street, to suspend all business to an unlimited period till their demand of immediate repeal of the Sales Tax was conceded.

All the shops of Calcutta, except food ration, medical and 'pan-biri' shops, continued to remain closed on Monday, the 18th February, for the fourth day as a protest against the enhanced sales tax.

Hindus and Muslims, irrespective of their caste or creed, seemed to be united with the one object of repealing the order.

The cloth ration shops were also closed for which, however, many people had to suffer inconvenience. All the book-owners announced their decision to keep the shops closed.

At least Rs. 30,00,000 worth of business was not transacted in Calcutta in the last four days when over 90 per cent of shops, mostly Indian-owned, were closed as a protest against the increase in the rate of sales tax. This means a loss of Rs. 1,87,500 to Government, which could have otherwise been collected by way of sales tax at the new rate of one anna in the rupee.

Mr. S. K. Halder, a member of the Board of Revenue, Government of Bengal, met representatives of the Bengal National, Indian and the Marwari Chambers of Commerce on Sunday and ascertained the traders' views on the matter.

Members of the Calcutta Electric Traders' Association, at a meeting, decided to suspend all business.

The 'hartal' in Calcutta against increase in sales tax continued till Wednesday when a move to end the 'deadlock' was taken by Mr. C. W. Gurner, Adviser to the Governor of Bengal, who met a deputation of the General Traders' Association and 51 other associations and discussed with them the different aspects of the question.

In a written memorandum the deputation urged the repeal of the Act and pointed out that if necessary, a movement for boycott of British goods might be started.

Among other things, the memorandum emphasized that the tax had already affected the purchasing capacity of consumers and helped to deviate trade from Bengal to other provinces. The recent increase of the rate to one anna per rupee, was, it was further stated, calculated to encourage dishonest dealings to the prejudice of honest dealers.

Almost all shops including meatstalls and confectioneries had been closed.

At their respective meetings held on Thursday, the 21st February, the traders of Hogg Market and the Governing Body of the India Confectioners' Association resolved that with a view to make the Anti-Sales Tax campaign a complete success it had become imperative to co-operate in this movement until relief was forthcoming from the authorities.

Proposed Reduction Of Cereal Rations

To Come Into Force By The Middle Of March

THE proposed reduction from 4 seers to a little over 2½ seers per week per adult in cereal rations in Bengal is expected to come into force by the middle of March.

Since January 31, 1944, when rationing was introduced in Greater Calcutta, labour has been treated exactly in the same way as other members of the public. This was done in view of the difficulty in the classification of labour.

On the basis of the present population of 4,000,000 in Greater Calcutta, 165,000 mds. of cereals will be saved a week as a result of the proposed cut, enabling the Government to feed 2,640,000 persons more with 2½ seers per head per week.

In the case of industrial labour, an additional ration of 4 ounce per adult is proposed to be granted, reducing the ration of an adult worker to 8 seers and 4 chittaks per week.

An official announcement giving the date from which the proposed cut in ration will come into operation, is expected to be made shortly.

In the meantime, Bengal Government have, with effect from the 11th February last, introduced the following cuts in the allotment of wheat products for establishments in Calcutta and its industrial area:—

1. Eating houses	...	25%
2. Hotels	...	20%
3. Restaurants	...	25%
4. Sweetmeat manufacturers (Indian type)	...	38½%
5. Confectioners	...	38½%
6. Biscuit manufacturers	...	15%
7. Tea shops	...	40%
8. Ja'pan shops	...	60%
9. Tiffin rooms and office canteens	...	15%
10. Miscellaneous	...	10%

THE VICEROY SPEAKS

"We are some three million tons short of our requirements," said Lord Wavell, the Viceroy, in a broadcast on what he described as a very serious shortage of food in India and stated that as a method of meeting it the Government had decided to cut the basic cereal ration all over British India from one pound to 12 ounces with four ounces more for the heavy manual labourer.

Referring to the proposed cut he said: "I entirely appreciate that this is an inadequate ration, but it is all that our present resources will allow. If we get additional resources that will enable us to increase this ration we shall certainly do so."

THE MAYOR'S VIEWS

His Excellency Mr. R. G. Casey met several leading Calcutta citizens representing different communities and interests at a conference at Government House when the food situation in the province was discussed. Sir Frederick Burrows, Governor-designate, Bengal, was also present.

Mr. Casey is stated to have emphasized the seriousness of the food situation in India and appealed to leaders of public opinion to educate the people as to the necessity of cuts in their food supplies in the interests of their fellow-countrymen.

Interviewed by the 'Statesman' reporter on his return from the conference, the Mayor, Mr. D. N. Mukherjee, said: "Mr. Casey told the conference that leading men of Bengal should consider the food crisis calmly, leaving political differences in the background. Bengal occupies a better position than any other province in India, but still the Governor desires Bengal to review the rates and quantity of foodstuffs in the interests of deficit areas in Bengal. He has assured the conference that there would be no export of rice from Bengal nor of wheat from any part in India. The Governor requested the public not to cause agitation among the mass of the people because of reduction in the ration."

A VERY BIG PROBLEM

Making a comprehensive survey of Bengal's food position and taking into account stocks held by Government and also reports about the recent 'Aman' crop Mr. A. deC Williams, Adviser, Civil Supplies, declared at a press conference at Writers Buildings, on Wednesday, the 20th February, that there was no reason why there should be another famine in Bengal.

Mr. A. C. Hartley, Director-General of Food, was also present in the conference.

As regards the question of introducing over-all rationing throughout Bengal, Mr. Williams said that it was a very big administrative problem. In addition to Calcutta and industrial areas Government had introduced over-all rationing in the towns of Bengal. Government now proposed to introduce overall rationing to other unrationed areas also.

Four members of the Indian Food Mission to London and Washington—Mr. Ibrahim, Rahimtoola, President of the Bombay Muslim Chamber of Commerce, Khwaja Sir Nasimuddin, former Premier of Bengal, Sir Manilal Nanavati and Sardar Sant Singh—arrived in England on the 16th February last.

On Monday, the 18th February, the delegation consulted officials of the Ministry of Food on India's food position and later met the Secretary of State for India.

Britain will do her utmost to stave off "the shocking calamity overhanging the people of India," said Dr. Hugh Dalton, Chancellor of the Exchequer, during the debate on the food situation in the House of Commons. He added, "even our utmost may be terribly small."

"We shall do our utmost using to the full for this purpose the machinery of the Combined Food Board and the newly set up, very hopeful though young, International Food and Agricultural Organisation to which we are deeply committed."

The leader of the Indian delegation to U.N.O. Sir A. Ramaswami Mudaliar, in his speech appealed for help to prevent a famine in India, referred to the Bengal famine and said: "While one and a half million died of starvation, and three million unofficially, not one foreigner in India was allowed to starve during that terrible time. This may be a very fantastic way of exercising the traditional Indian hospitality."

The grave rice shortage in Indian was thrown into relief by President Truman in a Press conference statement, appealing for full backing for his nine-point plan against world starvation.

The international Food Board and subsidiary committees have pressed their inquiries into India's emergency appeals for food but no positive programme has yet been formulated.

It is learnt that 400,000 tons of wheat have been allotted to India for the first half of 1946 by the Combined Food Board in Washington.

"If India is allowed to starve, the chasm of distrust between the Occident and the Orient will be too wide ever to be bridged in this generation," says the New York Times in an editorial.

Famine and civil strife "whose grisly shadow already darkens the land" are hastening "the day of reckoning in India," says the New Delhi correspondent of the 'Sunday Observer'.

The United States State Department officials expect that "considerable quantities of both wheat and rice will be made available to India during the present year" according to the National Committee for India's freedom.

Australia, it is known, will do everything possible to ship 150,000 tons of wheat to India in the course of the next month to help in averting famine, reports Melbourne Raido.

The suggestion that a National Government should be formed representative of the elected members of the Central Legislature, irrespective of parties, to meet the present food crisis in the country, is made by Mahatma Gandhi in a statement.

Gandhiji says:—

"Whether the Government can accept the suggestion and whether the different political parties that compose the Central Legislature consider it practicable or not, is more than I can say. But this much I can say without fear of contradiction. I have little doubt that if the mercantile community and the official world become honest, we, such a vast country, can just tide over the difficulties, even if no help comes from the outside world which is itself groaning."

"On no account are we going to submit to large masses starving and dying while a few profit by their misfortune, as in Bengal", says Pandit Nehru in a statement.

"The food situation in India must not be used as a 'Political Football', observed Mr. M. A. Jinnah, President of the All-India Muslim League, commenting on Viceroy Wavell's broadcast on what His Excellency described as "the very serious shortage of food in India".

"I reiterate the Viceroy's statement that at this common crisis no political bargaining must be made out of it—by anybody. Food must be a matter above Party squabbles."

TEA and Labour Welfare

DURING the last nine years we have assisted some thousands of industrialists to provide good cheap tea to their workers. In fact, there are to-day in India very few concerns of any size who do not assist their workers to maintain energy and concentration throughout the working shift, by making tea available.

But in addition to its utilitarian value, tea has a definite social value as well. The tea canteen services—of various kinds to suit varying needs—designed by the Tea Market Expansion Board have proved so successful in operation that they have been, in a great many cases, the starting point for the growth of a far wider welfare service; which growth, we are happy to report has in every case been of unmistakable value to employer and worker alike.

Our considerable experience in these matters is at the disposal of all employers.

A short pamphlet entitled Canteens for the workers has just been issued on this subject, which will be sent free on application to the Commissioner, Indian Tea Market Expansion Board, 101, Clive Street, Calcutta.

LETTER TO THE EDITORREFORMS IN THE CORPORATION—II.

To THE EDITOR, "CALCUTTA MUNICIPAL GAZETTE."

[The Editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed by the correspondents.]

SIR,—I am very thankful to you for publishing my letter in your issue of the 2nd inst. I regret that I made a few mistakes therein in calculating expenditure and income on the basis of my suggestions. May I correct them as under?

(1) On the expenditure side a grave omission is that I have not included street lighting which will cost about Rs. 900,000 a year. Moreover, as against the item V. Drainage and Engineering Department, the item Rs. 800,000 is an underestimate. It should be Rs. 12,00,000. Another glaring omission is the expenditure on Public Health which I suppose cannot cost less than Rs. 450,000. Making these additions and alterations the total should be Rs. 283.50,000 + 17.50,000 = 301,00,000. Moreover, I understand that the Corporation is going to construct and maintain an isolation hospital which is likely to cost something like Rs. 600,000 a year. The Grand Total accordingly is Rs. 307,00,000.

(2) On the income side taking the gross annual valuation at Rs. 12 crores, the 22½ per cent. Consolidated Tax should yield Rs. 270,00,000 but regard being had to the fact that normally only 92 per cent is collected, the income should be Rs. 247,50,000 approximately. Making the necessary correction the total income comes up to Rs. 326,00,000. This would enable the Corporation to put at least 10 lakhs to a revenue reserve fund.

Now that the Calcutta Improvement Trust has decided upon a policy of giving priority to schemes for the rapid development of the Manicktola Area, it behoves our City Fathers to join hands and to actively co-operate in this direction, thereby converting a notoriously insanitary and backward area into a healthy garden suburb.—Yours etc.

NRIPENDRA KUMAR GUPTA,

The 20th February, 1946.

RECEPTION TO MR. ANAM

An address of welcome to Al-Haj S. Anam was read out by the Secretary of the Union. Mr. Murari Mohon Das, on behalf of the employees extending felicitations to Mr. Anam, a copy of the Holy Koran was presented to him.

CALCUTTA NEWS & VIEWSNEW GOVERNOR OF BENGAL*Sir Frederick Burrows Takes Oath Of Office

Sir Frederick Burrows, first member of the British Labour Party to become Governor of Bengal, took oath of allegiance and of his new office on Tuesday, the 19th February.

The ceremony was held in the Throne Room of Government House, Calcutta, amidst time-honoured ceremonials. Sir Harold Derbyshire, Chief Justice of Calcutta High Court, administered the oaths.

Lady Burrows was present at the ceremony.

A salute of 17 guns was fired after the oath-taking, and leading civil and military officers, noble men of Bengal, ecclesiastical dignitaries, some prominent non-officials and Consulate representatives were presented to Sir Frederick and Lady Burrows.

Earlier, Mr. R. G. Casey, who vacated office as Governor of Bengal, and Mrs. Casey left by air for the United States via the Philippines.

The Governor-Designate of Bengal, Sir Frederick John Burrows and Lady Burrows arrived in Calcutta from New Delhi by plane on 16th February last.

His Excellency Mr. R. G. Casey, the retiring Governor, who was present at the aerodrome to receive Sir Frederick was first to greet him as he came out of the plane.

Sir Frederick Burrows and Lady Burrows had earlier arrived in Karachi on the 10th February last by a Sunderland flying-boat from Cairo.

Sir Frederick was accompanied by his Assistant Private Secretary, Miss Phyllis Miller. The party drove to Government House. Sir Frederick left for Delhi the next day to meet the Viceroy before proceeding to Calcutta to take charge from Mr. Casey, as Governor of Bengal.

In a short broadcast from the Calcutta station of All-India Radio, on Sunday, the 17th February, Mr. R. G. Casey, the retiring Governor of Bengal, said goodbye to the people of Bengal.

Mr. Casey in his broadcast said:—

"I am greatly troubled and grieved—as any friend of Bengal must be—at the events of the past week and by the loss of life and other casualties that have been suffered. It has been a deplorable business, no less than the other disturbances of three months ago.

"Owing to circumstances of the war and the aftermath of the famine of 1943, the Bengal Budget is still heavily in deficit, in spite of appreciable increases in taxation. The Central Government, at the instance of the late Ministry and of myself, made subventions to Bengal in the last two years totalling about Rs. 10 crores. In spite of this, our budget for the year just about to end will be in deficit to the extent of round about 7 crores, by reason generally, of relief and rehabilitation expenditure, which we are still having to carry.

"I have represented our cases on many occasions to the Government of India, and I am glad to tell you that provision is being made in the Central Budget for a subvention to Bengal of about 7 crores, which will, as it happens, just about balance our Budget for the present year."

The badge bearing the inscription "Hungry Postal Employee" is intended to draw public attention to their grievances.

At a meeting of employees of about 70 of the city's post offices, held early this month, it was decided that the men should go on strike from March 11 if the Government did not revise their scales of pay and to wear a hunger badge from February 15.

Each and every postal and R. M. S. employee of Bengal and Assam had decided to go on strike from a date between March 27 and April 4 next, unless the Government clearly declared its intention to accept their demands, said Mr. B. N. Ghosh, General Secretary and Mr. J. N. Banerjee, Vice-President respectively, of the Calcutta branch of the All-India Postal and R. M. S. Union at a Press Conference held on Sunday, the 17th February.

The programme included strike also on the wireless and telephone systems. More than 30,000 employees in Bengal and Assam would be involved if the strike was resorted to

Chronicle And Comment

SUSHIL CHANDRA SEN

The premature death of Mr. Sushil Chandra Sen creates a void in more than one sphere which will be difficult to fill. Both as a lawyer and a legislator he attained a distinction which has hardly been matched in recent years. His work for amending the laws relating to Companies and Insurance in British India has been recognised to have been on a very high level, and the way in which he piloted the two Amending Bills of 1936 and 1938 through the Indian Legislative Assembly bore testimony to both his forensic knowledge and debating skill. As a solicitor his position was unique in the Calcutta High Court alike for ability and integrity. His connection with the Corporation of Calcutta began in 1928 and continued for sixteen years, and during this long period he served the city with devotion and courage. As a member attached to no creed or party, he could and did always speak and act in a manner which appeared to him to be best in the interest of the citizens of Calcutta. To such independence he brought to add a sweet reasonableness and disarming courtesy which could not but win for him friendship and admiration among all sections in the Corporation, and his death naturally has caused great grief which we share in full. We have lost in him a dear and esteemed friend, and our heart goes out to the members of the bereaved family in deep sympathy.

GOVERNMENT CONTRIBUTION TO CORPORATION

The Calcutta Corporation has been given a contribution of Rs. 86,407/12/- by the Government of Bengal representing one-third share of the sinking fund and interests charges for the year 1945-46 on the loans raised for the Calcutta Fringe Area Drainage Scheme.

DUBLIN HONOUR FOR "G. B. S."

The Corporation of the City of Dublin has before it a motion seeking to confer the Freedom of Eire's capital on George Bernard Shaw, the famous Irish playwright.

Mr. Shaw writes in this connection:—

"I shall be gratefully proud to become an honorary freeman of my native city. I have, hitherto, evaded credentials from foreign sources. Dublin alone has the right to affirm that in spite of my incessantly controversial past and present, I have not disgraced her."

A delegation from the City Council is expected to go to London to confer the honour upon Mr. Shaw.

VICTORIA MEMORIAL HALL

Victoria Memorial Hall in Calcutta is being slowly restored to its pre-war magnificence.

The Memorial's 8,000 art treasures, mostly miniatures, manuscripts, paintings and engravings from the British Victorian era, are being removed from the basement vaults where they were stored after Calcutta became a possible bombing target.

The Memorial, it may be recalled, was conceived in January, 1901, by the then Viceroy Lord Curzon soon after the Queen's death. He conceived it as a British rival to the Taj Mahal, built by Emperor Shah Jehan as mausoleum for his wife, Mumtaz Mahal.

Victoria Memorial Hall involved an outlay of more than 550,000 pounds sterling (more than Rs. 8,000,000) and is the most spectacular example of Curzon's "successful mendicancy", for most of the exhibits came to the Memorial by gift or bequest at Curzon's personal solicitation and pressure.

The design of the Memorial is chiefly Renaissance in character though traces of Saracenic influence can be discerned.

The exterior is of polished marble quarried at Makrana in Jodhpur State whence the Mogul builders of Delhi and Agra in the past had drawn their supplies. The ornamental groups of statuary over the entrance porches and figures surrounding the dome were designed and made in Italy. The figure of Victoria standing 16 feet high and weighing 8 tons, surmounts the huge marble dome and revolved upon its own base, a sphere two feet in diameter. From the ground level to the base of the figure is 182 feet. The dimensions of the Hall itself at the corner towers are 389 by 229 feet.

The Memorial has a collection representative of all aspects of British-Indian influence from the early 16th Century.

Among the pictures is one 274 inches by 196, which already has been restored to its position in the Hall. It is a painting by the Russian artist Vassili Verestchgin of the state procession of Edward VII when he visited Jaipur as Prince of Wales on February 4 1874.

RESTORATION OF POPULAR MUNICIPALITY

Mr. M. C. Shah, President of the Ahmedabad Municipality took over charge of the municipality during the last week from Dewan Bahadur Maulvi, Chairman of the Committee of Management. He was accompanied by a large crowd shouting slogans such as, "hand over the Popular Municipality."

Before proceeding to the municipality, Mr. Shah performed the flag salutation ceremony in the Congress house in which the members of the Congress Municipal Party took part. He said:

"The Ahmedabad Municipality has contributed its share to the freedom struggle of the country. The Congress Municipal party which has learned its lessons from Mahatma Gandhi and Sardar Vallabhai Patel has acquitted itself honourably. It passed the "Quit India" resolution of August 1942 and Government superseded the municipality. Municipal servants including school teachers went on a stay-in-strike. Some of them were arrested and prosecuted in April, 1944. Government ordered for fresh elections, to test the popularity of the Municipal-Congress Party which was returned by the electorate en bloc. Again it resolved to cease to function till the Congress leaders were in jail, and Government superseded the municipality and appointed a committee of management. The supersession was challenged and was held invalid by the Bombay High Court. This was a victory of the people and the popular municipality would resume the march of civic progress which was interrupted during the last three and a half years."

Taking over charge of the municipality, Mr. Shah said that municipal servants who had suffered would be compensated adequately and the "Congress Flag" which was removed by the Committee of Management would be reinstated on the Municipal building. The municipal offices were closed in honour of the restoration of the popular Municipality.

BOMBAY CORPORATION ADJOURNEDPROTEST AGAINST SENTENCE ON CAPT. RASHID

The Bombay Municipal Corporation adjourned its meeting on the 14th February last as a mark of protest against the sentence passed on Captain Rashid of Indian National Army and inequitable treatment given by the Commander-in-Chief to Captain Rashid.

Week In The Corporation

Monday: 22nd February

THE CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

At a Special Meeting held in camera on Friday, the 22nd February, the Corporation considered the correspondence that had passed between the Secretary, Government of Bengal, Department of Public Health and Local Self-Government, and the Chief Executive Officer, Mr. Sailapati Chatterji, regarding the continuance of his appointment for a further period of two years from 24th December, 1946 to 23rd December, 1948, as per resolution of the Corporation dated the 21st December, 1948, and resolved:—

"That the resolution (being No. 865) of the Corporation dated the 21st December, 1948, regarding the appointment of the Chief Executive Officer be modified by deleting the provision for his continuance in office for the additional period of two years for which no approval was accorded by Government."

On the 21st December, 1948, the Corporation had resolved as follows:—

"That Mr. Sailapati Chatterji be appointed as the Chief Executive Officer for 3 years on and from the 24th December, 1948 to 23rd December, 1946, on the terms and conditions mentioned in the Resolution dated the 25th August, 1948. That the appointment of the said Chief Executive Officer do continue for a further period of 2 years on and from the 24th December, 1946 to 23rd December, 1948 on the terms and conditions as mentioned in the said Resolution."

"That the Government be requested to accord its sanction to the appointment for a further period of two years."

"That this Corporation is of opinion that the reasons put forward by the Government for curtailing the tenure of office of the Chief Executive Officer from 5 years to 3 years are unsubstantial and unconvincing."

"That the Corporation places on record its strong protest against the interference of the Government with the decision of the Corporation in the matter of appointment of the Chief Executive Head of the Administration of the city."

The above resolution having been communicated to the Government, they gave their approval of Mr. Chatterji's appointment as the Chief Executive Officer for the first three years and informed the Corporation that they would consider the question of his appointment for the additional two years at the relevant time.

On the 26th January, 1946, the Government informed the Corporation that the time had come when final orders by the Government should be passed in the matter of appointing Mr. Sailapati Chatterji as the Chief Executive Officer for the two additional years as contemplated in the Corporation resolution of the 21st December, 1948.

When the Government letter was placed before the Mayor, he remarked thereon that the decision rested with the Government and inquired why in spite of the clear and unambiguous resolution of the Corporation the Government's letter of the 26th January was written.

The Government wrote back that the reference was made to the Corporation in view of the fact that the Corporation had been reconstituted by general election since their previous resolution was passed and added that should it be the opinion of the Mayor that this did not necessitate placing the matter before Councillors again, this reference would not be pressed.

In reply to this letter the Chief Executive Officer informed the Government that the Mayor had observed that every resolution of the Corporation was binding so long as it was not rescinded by the Corporation. It did not make any difference because of the fact that it was passed by the last Corporation. So it would have its course if the Government did not decide otherwise.

On the 8th February, 1946, the Mayor directed that the correspondence any also the resolution in question should be sent to the Chairman of the Services Committee No. I as desired by the latter. The Services Committee at its meeting on the 11th February last passed a resolution stating:—

(i) That this Committee deplores the steps that the Chief Executive Officer and the Mayor have taken on the subject of re-appointment of the Chief Executive Officer and takes exception to the interpretation which the Mayor has put on the resolution of the Corporation dated 21st December, 1948.

(ii) That by reason of the fact that the Government was pleased to approve the appointment of the Chief Executive Officer in 1948 only for three years and in view of the consensus of opinion of the present Corporation that the administration of the Corporation would be better served if another person with fresh outlook is appointed in his place, it be resolved that in modification of the Corporation resolution dated 21st December, 1948, the post of the Chief Executive Officer be advertised and the best person selected be appointed with effect from the date of expiration of the period of service of the present incumbent.

(iii) It was further resolved that the draft advertisement inviting applications for the post be put up at the next meeting of the Committee for consideration and that the Chief Executive Officer be directed to communicate forthwith the above decision to the Government pending confirmation of that decision by the Corporation.

At the Corporation meeting on the 18th February, 1946, a reference was made to the resolutions of the Services Committee No. I. The House gave directions.—

(a) That a Special Meeting of the Corporation be held on Friday, the 22nd February, to consider the Government letter regarding the re appointment of Mr. Sailapati Chatterji as Chief Executive Officer for a further term, together with all remarks and notes thereon, as also the resolution passed by the Services Committee No. 1, in connection therewith, and (b) that a letter be addressed to Government immediately informing them that the Corporation have taken up the matter and requesting them to stay their hands until the Corporation's opinion, one way or the other, has been communicated to them.

In the meantime a motion was brought before the House under the names of Councillors Bhabesh Chandra Das, Sudhir Chandra Ray Chaudhuri, Jogindra Lal Saha, Gosta Behari Sett, S. A. Habib, S. M. Usman, Madan Mohan Barman and Alderman Hemaprova Mazumdar, namely,

"That the resolution of the Corporation dated the 21st December, 1948, regarding the appointment of the Chief Executive Officer be modified by deleting the provision for his continuance in office for the additional period of two years for which no approval was accorded by Government."

The House, sitting in camera, adopted the above motion and it was also resolved to send this decision immediately to the Government.

CORPORATION PRESS WORKERS' STRIKE

Referring to the strike by the Press employees the Mayor, Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, at the meeting of the Corporation held on Friday, the 22nd February, observed that the whole administration of the Corporation was about to be brought to a standstill as a result of the strike. The agenda of the Corporation and Committee meetings could not be printed. The report of the Special Committee appointed to inquire into the grievances of all the municipal employees could not be circulated to members and placed before the House. They had so long been carrying on by cyclostyling the important papers, but the men doing this job were now reported to have been threatened with violence if they did not stop work immediately.

The House appointed a Committee of six members, including the Deputy Mayor, to negotiate with the Press employees who were on strike with a view to coming to a settlement.

The employees of Calcutta Corporation Press declared a staying-in-strike on Thursday, the 21st February and at a meeting of the employees and workers of the Corporation held at the Central Municipal Office Lawn, resolutions were passed condemning the action of the Corporation authorities in declaring a lock-out against the workers of the Corporation Press, in reply to their staying-in-strike and authorising the Council of Action to take necessary steps to protect the rights of the press workers.

SEQUEL TO R. I. N. STRIKE DEMONSTRATIONS BOMBAY : KARACHI : MADRAS

The Bombay police fired a number of times on the 22nd February last in the Kalbadevi, Bhuleshwar and Gungum areas, where mobs broke open a number of shops, looted them and set fire to furniture as a sequel to the R. I. N. strike demonstrations. From 30 to 40 grain, cloth and jewellery shops were looted. The mobs were fired upon repeatedly. Total casualties reported were 60 killed and over 600 injured.

Bombay witnessed a second day of unprecedented mass violence on the 23rd. Unofficial reports put the total number of dead since the beginning of the disturbances on the night of the 21st February last in the neighbourhood of 250 and the total number of injured well over 1,300.

After three days of rioting, looting, arson and destruction of property leading to repeated shootings by the police and military, Bombay had a comparatively quieter day on Sunday, the 24th February. Except for three or four minor incidents, there were no acts of mass disturbance.

The Royal Indian Navy ships under the control of the ratings on strike surrendered unconditionally in the morning in accordance with the advice tendered to them by Sardar Vallabhai Patel.

Dr. J. Alban D'Souza, Mayor of Bombay and Chairman, Citizens Peace Committee, issued an appeal to the citizens to remain quiet and peaceful.

The police opened fire on a crowd near Idgah Maidan, Karachi, that advanced on the police three times on Sunday, the 23rd February. Two rounds were fired at each time. Two more shots were fired on a crowd which attacked a police officer on a gharry.

Besides a few stray incidents the city remained comparatively quiet on Monday, the 24th February. Tram and bus services were not, however, resumed. Military and police pickets continued patrolling the streets of the city.

The police fired several rounds on a mob at Bunder Road adjoining the Idgah Maidan on Tuesday, the 25th February. Several persons were wounded and taken to hospital.

The police also made lathi charges and used tear gas on the mob.

The Karachi Municipal Corporation adjourned its meeting without transacting any business and passed a resolution sympathising with the victims of the Karachi firing. In the opinion of the Corporation the matter took a serious turn only when the authorities issued orders under Section 144. The Corporation deplored the action of the authorities and demanded an impartial enquiry into the whole affair.

The Corporation also requested the Government of India not to persecute and victimise the R. I. N. strikers.

Four persons were injured when the police of Madras opened fire on Tuesday, the 26th February, on a mob numbering over 2,000 which obstructed the passage of the Up Indo-Ceylon Express and another passenger train of the South Indian Railway and indulged in heavy stone throwing.

The strike was called off on Monday, the 25th February on a 'dead-line' basis, the understanding being that the press workers would be informed within a reasonable time about the favourable decision by the Corporation.

Mr. Jinnah In Calcutta

Thousands Hear Him In The Maidan

MR. M. A. Jinnah wired from Calcutta on the 23rd February last to His Excellency the Viceroy appealing for the abandonment of further I. N. A. trials and remission of Captain Abdur Rashid's sentence. The following is the text of the telegram :

"I fervently appeal to you to intervene and abandon further trials of Indian National Army men and remit Rashid's sentence. The Commander-in-Chief's explanation in his speech in the Council of State is unconvincing and untenable in the eyes of any thinking man. The discrimination plea based on brutality cannot be maintained in law or on facts disclosed in the case before the bar of public opinion."

R. I. N. RATINGS

A deputation of R. I. N. ratings, who are on strike, met Mr. M. A. Jinnah, on Sunday, the 24th February, afternoon and appraised him of their grievances.

Mr. Jinnah spent about an hour and a half with them, and advised them to call off strike, assuring them that he would take up the matter with the authorities concerned with a view to bringing about a peaceful and honourable settlement.

FIRST PUBLIC APPEARANCE

An appeal for solid Muslim support to League candidates in the coming Bengal Legislative Assembly Election was made by Mr. Jinnah addressing a huge gathering of Muslims on the Calcutta maidan the same day in the afternoon.

This was Mr. Jinnah's first public appearance since his arrival in Calcutta a week ago. Numerous processions carrying League flags and shouting Pakistan slogans from different parts of the city and suburbs converged on the maidan where thousands of people had assembled long before Mr. Jinnah's arrival. As a result of strain and long wait in the blazing sun over a dozen people fainted. Firing of rockets which burst high up in the air into chains of green Muslim League flags was an attractive feature of the demonstration. There were elaborate volunteer arrangements and a "Pakistan Ambulance Corps" was in attendance.

As Mr. Jinnah appeared on the 12-ft. high decorated rostrum he was given a rousing reception by the vast crowd amidst shouts of joy.

LIFE AND DEATH PROBLEM FOR MUSLIMS

In his 25-minute speech in Urdu Mr. Jinnah said that Pakistan was a life and death problem for the Mussalmans. Muslims wanted Pakistan because they were anxious to get rid of British and Hindu domination. For that there must be perfect unity and solidarity in the Muslim ranks. Once that solidarity was achieved, there was no power on earth which could resist their demand for Pakistan.

DEMAND FOR ENTIRE INDIA

Commenting on the attitude of Hindus to Pakistan, Mr. Jinnah said that though Pakistan meant that Muslims would get only one-fourth of Bharat and Hindus three-fourths of it they were not satisfied and demanded Bharat in its entirety!

Mr. Jinnah next spoke of election in reference to the Pakistan issue. Had the Muslim League lost or won the elections so far held? he asked. A vote for a League candidate was a vote for Pakistan which they all wanted. What was the position of Muslims in India even seven or eight years ago and what was their position to-day? To-day the Muslim League was a power recognized all over the world. In Sind the League had captured 80 per cent. of the Muslim seats; in Assam 92 per cent.; in the Punjab 90 per cent.; but he regretted that the results of the N. W. F. P. election fell short of his expectation.

In the Punjab the League had to fight the election on two fronts and against heavy odds. On the one hand, there was the unholy Glancy-Khizr alliance and on the other, the Congress and black-market money. In spite of that the League success in the province had given a deathblow to the imperialist domination and paved the way for Pakistan! So far as N. W. F. P. was concerned, whatever might have been the election results, he had found during his 10-day stay there that the heart of the sturdy Pathans was sound and was with the Muslim League.

FOUNDATION OF A FREE INDIA

Mr. Jinnah emphasized that the League was not fighting the elections only for forming Ministries here and there. They were fighting the election this time on a definite issue. They were determined to scrap the 1935 Act and lay the foundation of a free India and free Pakistan (applause).

What would be the Bengal Muslims' verdict in the election? Bengal must not rest satisfied with anything short of cent. per cent. success for the League candidates. That would be an indication of the Muslim mind to the British Cabinet Delegation that was shortly coming to India.

Mr. Jinnah concluded :—

"Some events of deep concern and regret have occurred in recent weeks in Calcutta, Bombay, Karachi and many other places in India. There have been burnings and lootings and hartals. It is our undeniable right to hold meetings and processions. We have the right to condemn Government where it goes against the interests of the people. But much damage has been caused to properties. This is a matter of deep regret. To oppress anybody, to make anybody suffer is against Islam. It is our duty to protect the weak and particularly those belonging to the small minority communities. There is no glory in making them suffer. If we have to fight against any community, we ought to do it gloriously and manfully and like men, however powerful that adversary may be."

Some prominent Gujarathi residents of Calcutta saw Mr. M. A. Jinnah, in the morning and presented him with bouquets of flowers. Mr. Jinnah spent with them some time, and talked with them in Gujarathi.

A PURDAH MEETING

The part that women could play in furthering the cause of Pakistan and ameliorating the condition of their poor sisters was stressed by Mr. Jinnah, addressing a purdah meeting of Muslim women in the Muslim Institute Hall, Calcutta, on

Late Mr. Sushil Chandra Sen

Corporation Condoles The Death Of An Ex-Councillor

THE Corporation of Calcutta at its meeting on Wednesday, the 27th February, condoled the death of Mr. Sushil Chandra Sen, Solicitor and ex-Councillor of the Corporation for 17 years, and as a mark of respect to his memory adjourned its meeting without transacting any business.

A resolution expressing its deep sense of sorrow and conveying sympathy with the members of the bereaved family was also adopted at the meeting, all standing.

Paying tributes to the memory of the late Mr. Sen, the Mayor, Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, said in the death of Mr. Sen they had lost one of their best friends. He was a member of the Corporation for a long time upto 1941. The late Mr. Sen was a brilliant scholar of the Calcutta University, joined the High Court as Solicitor and within a few years, by dint of his ability, and sound and thorough knowledge of law, won the confidence of the litigants in and outside Bengal. He also attracted the attention of the Government of India, who appointed him as their Solicitor in Bengal. He was closely associated with the late Sir N. N. Sircar, ex-Law Member, Government of India, and assisted him in piloting the Companies and the Insurance Amendment Acts.

Concluding the Mayor said that his untimely death had been a shock not only to the members of his family but also to the country. His death had caused a loss in the province which would take many years to be made up.

On the motion of Councillor Hirendra Kumar Ganguli the meeting was adjourned.

MR. SEN'S CAREER

The death occurred in Calcutta in the afternoon of the 23rd February of Mr. Sushil Chandra Sen, C.B.E., till lately solicitor to the Government of India. He was aged 53.

Son of the late Mr. Satish Chandra Sen, a well-known solicitor of Calcutta, Mr. Sushil Chandra Sen was the senior partner of the firm, Messrs. Dutt and Sen and joint author, with the late Sir N. N. Sircar, of Indian Companies Act. He also collaborated with Sir N. N. Sircar, formerly Law Member, Government of India, in piloting in the Central Assembly the Indian Insurance Act and the Indian Companies Act.

He was a Councillor of the Corporation of Calcutta for a long time. Associated with various charitable institutions of the city as well as of outside, he endowed a charitable hospital and dispensary at his village home at Guptipara.

He was a Vice-Chairman of the Jadabpur Tuberculosis Association, member of the Executive Committee of the Chittaranjan Sevasadan, Servants of Humanity Society and various other institutions.

He leaves behind him his widow, three sons, four daughters and a host of friends and relatives.

The Food Situation At Present

Conference And Discussions In Calcutta : The Mayor Presides

A SUGGESTION to entrust the administration of food policy to a body of persons representative of the people of India, assisted by real experts free from party politics, was made at a Conference held at the Indian Association Hall, Calcutta, on Tuesday, the 26th February, to consider the present food situation in the country. The Mayor, Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, presided.

The Conference viewed with grave concern the sudden deterioration in the food situation in the country as a whole, including Bengal, and urged the Governments, both at the Centre and in Bengal, to place before the public fuller and more dependable facts regarding the food supply and requirements in each province.

ECONOMY IN FOOD

It also called upon the people of Bengal to allay uncalled for panic, carry out the suggestions of Mr. Gandhi in regard to production of food, prevent black marketing and profiteering, set up village grain stores, exercise utmost economy in the consumption of food, co-operate in rationing measures and to ensure that there is no discrimination in the supply of food to any section of the people, civil, police and military, official and non-official.

SITUATION NOT ALARMING

Mr. H. S. Suhrawardy, ex-Minister of Civil Supplies, Bengal, in a broadcast from the Calcutta Station of the All-India Radio, on Monday, the 26th February on the present food position in Bengal, said that one ought not to be vaguely optimistic or unduly pessimistic. The situation was not alarming; the position was very much better than in 1943, when there was a real shortage of 2,500,000 tons of foodgrains in Bengal alone.

In 1943, there was a large army which had to be fed and there was an increase in the civil population. The Government had no stocks in hand; there was no storage in and movements to deficit areas. There was no machinery for distribution or procurement of foodgrains. Other Governments were reluctant to send their surplus to Bengal.

"This year the aman crop is not much different from the crop of last year. The army has been reduced; foods of other kinds are now available to the civilian population; there is procurement machinery and there are stocks in hand; good storage arrangements have been made; movements are easier and deficit areas can be fed; the distribution machinery is functioning and Food Committees have been set up. Vegetables are being grown in much larger quantities, and more land has been brought under cultivation. There are regulations which prevent hoarding, and enable the Government to know, who have stocks in hand."

NON-OFFICIAL ADVISORY BODY

That the Bengal Government have decided to set up a non-official advisory body to assist them in the food administration of the province, this information was conveyed to a meeting held at the Indian Association Hall, Calcutta, on Wednesday, the 27th February, to consider the food situation in the province, by Mr. Akhil Chandra Datta, former Deputy President of the Central Assembly who presided. Mr. Datta said that he received the information from Mr. A. de C. Williams, Food Commissioner, Bengal.

The meeting asked the Government to entrust the administration of food policy to a body of persons representative of the people of Bengal assisted by real experts.

A resolution was passed urging Government to refrain from giving effect to the proposed reduction in the quota of rationed food "in view of the fact that the people of Bengal have become greatly debilitated and devitalized for want of sufficient food during the last four years and that further under-consumption of food is sure to prove even more injurious to their health."

RATIONING TO CONTINUE

In the Central Assembly on Thursday, the 28th February, the Food Secretary, Mr. B. R. Sen, replying to Mr. Sri Prakasa, said it was difficult to specify the period during which food rationing would continue. Control over distribution could not be relaxed so long as the present food shortage lasted and conditions did not return to normal.

Monday, the 25th February. It was, he said, a happy augury for the future that their womenfolk had understood the significance of Pakistan and were not far behind men in their fight for it.

He appealed to them to take up welfare work and other forms of social service and to help in removing illiteracy.

ADDRESS TO MUSLIM STUDENTS

The British Government would be committing the greatest blunder if they ignored the Muslim League, declared Mr. M. A. Jinnah reiterating the League demand for Pakistan and two constituent assemblies, at a largely attended meeting of Muslim students on the Calcutta Maidan on Tuesday, the 26th February.

He reminded the Muslims that the League was fighting the elections not to work the Government of India Act of 1935, but to end it so that Pakistan might be established.

Mr. Jinnah advised the students to mould their future differently and to direct their attention to fresh avenues opening up before them both in their own interests and in the interests of the nation.

Purses were presented to Mr. Jinnah by the All-Bengal Muslim League, the Medical College Muslim Students' League and several other organizations.

MR. JINNAH LEAVES CALCUTTA

After two weeks' stay in Calcutta, Mr. M. A. Jinnah, President, All-India Muslim League, left for Assam by the Surma Mail on Wednesday, the 27th February. He travelled in a special saloon attached to the mail, fitted with a microphone, to enable him to address gatherings at wayside stations.

In order to assist those Provinces and States affected by famine by ascertaining which of their requirements can be immediately met from war surpluses, the Government of India are sending a Committee headed by Major-General Thomson, who has been specially lent by the Master-General of Ordnance, to discuss matters with authorities on the spot, according to a Press Note.

FOOD FROM OUTSIDE

Inquiries made at the office of the Australian High Commissioner in India indicate that 150,000 tons of wheat will be loaded at Australian ports for India before the end of March, 1946. The wheat will be carried in 16 or 17 ships.

The Indian food Delegation, having completed its discussions with the British Government and the London Food Council, will start for the United States of America towards the beginning of the next week. The Delegation is reported to have discussed the situation in the House of Commons with the India Food Relief Committee.

TRIBUTES TO DILIPKUMAR ROY

A CALCUTTA FUNCTION

Tributes of love, and respect were paid to Mr. Dilip Kumar Roy on the occasion of his 50th birthday celebrated at the Kalika theatre hall on the 8th February last. Mr. Sarat Chandra Bose presided over the function.

A purse of Rs. 23,000 was presented to Mr. Roy as a token of love and admiration by his friends and admirers.

Raja Dharendra Narayan Ray of Lalgaol, Chairman of the Reception Committee, in extending a cordial reception to Mr. Dilip Kumar Roy said that Dilip Kumar was a philanthropist, a poet, a sincere conversationalist and a great artist with his heart overflowing with the milk of human sympathy. He was wedded to the cult of sacrifice and was a great soul.

Mr. Atul Gupta said that the many-sidedness of the creative Bengali mind had come to fruition in Dilip Kumar. His greatest contribution lay in the new touch and turn he gave to the Indian classical music.

Replying to the felicitations, Mr. Dilip Kumar Roy said that Man loved his relations but he loved God without knowing Him. He had his differences with the President but despite this he loved him for the simple reason that he could not do otherwise.

Mr. Roy hoped that the truth that he had realised might in return for the affections manifest itself through his work and creations. The love that he had received from Subhas Chandra was invaluable. Bengal was always uppermost in the speaker's mind. Reference had been made to the song that he had sung. Whatever he had to say he tried to say through the medium of song. Some people had asked him why he did not sing Kirtan song. He loved to sing Kirtan songs but opportunities for doing so did not always present themselves. The speaker believed that the thought-treasures of the past found expression through the medium of song.

There were two sides, Mr. Roy said to a song—the wealth of its ideas and its sweetness—one represented strength and the other Love. When he heard national songs Subhas Chandra used to exclaim 'How beautiful.' Subhas Chandra did not like Thumri songs. Later, of course, he admitted that there was another side to the song, namely, its charm and sweetness.

Anti-Sales Tax Campaign

The City's Move For Removal Of The Tax

BENGAL is being overburdened with taxation one after another, thereby increasing the hardships of the poor people of the Province where 50 lakhs of people died during last famine," said Mr Debendra Nath Mukherjee, Mayor of Calcutta, while presiding over the mammoth meeting at Sradhdhananda Park on Monday, the 25th February.

He warned the Government that if the Sales Tax was not repealed immediately, he as the leader of the 40 lakhs of people in this city would start any movement that might be necessary to remove this tax. A Province-wide agitation would soon be started which might turn into a big conflagration, he added.

An assurance that the Bengal Government would consider the question of suspending the enforcement of the recent increase (one pice in the rupee) in the rate of sales tax until the formation of a Ministry provided the traders' hartal is called off immediately, is reported to have been given by H. E. Sir Frederic Burrows to the Mayor on Wednesday, the 27th February.

The Mayor, on behalf of traders' organisations, saw His Excellency at Government House in the afternoon, when he had a discussion with him on the grievances of the traders.

The Governor's assurance was communicated to the Anti-Sales Tax Committee and the Consumers' Union, who regarded it as "falling short of their joint demand, namely the repeal of the tax."

Viceroy's Immediate Intervention Urged

THE Viceroy's immediate intervention to end the - deadlock in Calcutta's civic life created by the closing of shops as a protest against the increase in the Sales Tax was urged on the 22nd February last in a telegram sent to His Excellency on behalf of 45 traders' organizations in the city. It was stated that the imposition of the tax which had been doubled within the last six months, had resulted in the diversion of Bengal's trade to other provinces. It was emphasized that the traders were determined not to call off the strike unless their demand for the repeal of the tax was met.

A cable on similar lines was also sent to the Secretary of State for India.

Indian confectioners also joined the strike.

Mr. C. W. Gurner, Adviser to the Governor, Finance Department, left for Delhi on the 22nd February last by air to discuss with the Government of India, Bengal's financial problems.

The shopowners' viewpoint about the hartal was explained to a Press Conference held under the auspices of the All-Bengal Anti-Sales Tax Committee in Calcutta.

It was stated that the operation of the tax during the last few years had affected manufacturers as well as small dealers. At the time of its imposition Government said that it was temporary and the revenue derived from it would be spent for nation-building purposes. A sum of Rs. 9,00,00,000 so far collected had not been utilized to that end. It was in the interest of the consumer that the tax should be abolished.

"There can be no question of the abolition of the Sales Tax; the only question at issue is that of its administration with the minimum inconvenience to retail trade and the maximum latitude for the poorer class of consumer, and this aspect is receiving the fullest consideration of Government," stated a Press Note issued by the Bengal Government.

Protest in Calcutta and the suburbs in protest against the tax was held on the 23rd February.

last peacefully. The traders with unshaken determination asserted that they would continue the strike until the tax was repealed.

Referring to the Government Press Note on the question of Sales Tax, the Committee of the Marwari Chamber of Commerce in a press statement deplored that the Government were tinkering with the Sales Tax issue and were trying to justify the enhancement of the tax by advancing arguments which held no water.

MAHATMA ON ANTI-SALES TAX CAMPAIGN

Mahatma Gandhi, in a telegram to the All-Bengal Anti-Sales Tax Committee, said:—

"You have every right to protest so long as the protest remains truly non-violent and is justified by facts. I am prepared to do what I can if you furnish me with facts and figures."

"We are fed up with the tax. No minor changes or a slight reduction will satisfy either the consumer of the mercantile community. The evil must be eradicated"—stated a Press communique issued on behalf of the All-Bengal Anti-Sales Tax Committee.

A resolution protesting against the enhancement of sales tax and assuring full support and co-operation to the All-Bengal Anti-Sales Tax Committee in its peaceful fight for the legitimate demand of getting the iniquitous tax repealed, was adopted by the Committee of the Indigenous Manufacturers' Association.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Card-Board Box Manufacturers' Association a resolution recording emphatic protest against the tax and recommending all members to suspend business transaction to mark their opposition was adopted.

Mr. K. Ahmed, Hony. Secretary, Calcutta Hosiery Association, sent a letter to the Private Secretary to the Bengal Governor protesting against the Bengal Sales Tax.

An emphatic protest against the Bengal Sales Tax was made at a mammoth public meeting held on Monday, the 25th February, at Braddhananda Park. Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, Mayor of Calcutta, presided.

The Mayor said that Bengal was being overburdened with taxations, one after another, thereby increasing the hardships of the poor people of the Province where 50 lakhs of people died during the last famine. He asked Mr. Burrows, the new Governor, who comes of a very humble family to think of the poor people of this province, who could not bear the burden of this injudicious taxation. He warned the Government that if the Sales Tax was not repealed immediately, he, as the leader of the 40 lakhs of people in this city would start any movement that might be necessary to remove this tax. He also added that a Province-wide agitation would soon be started which might turn into a big conflagration.

Another public meeting was held at the Beadon Square under the presidentship of Mr. Hemanta Kumar Bose.

The meeting adopted a resolution demanding immediate repeal of the Sales Tax.

The city traders observed, on Tuesday, the 26th February, for the 12th day, complete hartal in protest against Bengal Sales Tax. Hartal was now spreading throughout the province.

Mr. Hemanta Prasad Ghose, President of the All-Bengal Anti-Sales Tax Committee, has sent telegrams to Mahatma Gandhi, Maulana Abul Kalam Azad, Mr. Sarat Chandra Bose, Mr. Jinnah, and Nawabzada Liaquat Ali Khan soliciting their intervention and help on behalf of the traders.

DEATH OF MR. RANJAN SEN

The death occurred on the 8th February last of Mr. Ranjan Sen, senior partner of Messrs. R. Sen and Co., a leading transport firm in this part of India, at his 101 Elgin Road residence, "Ajana."

The late Mr. Sen started his career as an appraiser in the Customs Department which service he left later and took to business. He was Freight Banyan of Messrs. Gladstone Wyllie and Co., for some time and was later a Ship Chandler and Marine Contractor of Ellenman's Hall and City Lines.

He was a Vice-President of the Calcutta Freight Brokers Association for 3 years.

A self-made man he expanded his business rapidly and soon made his firm R Sen and Co a leading transport firm in Bengal and Bihar.

CENTRAL GOVERNMENT BUDGET FOR 1946-47

Revenue Deficit Indicated

While placing before the Assembly the Central Government Budget for 1946-47 the Finance Member indicated a revenue deficit in the current year of Rs. 144.95 crores, as against Rs. 155.29 crores anticipated in the Budget Estimates. Revenue for the next financial year, at the existing level of taxation, is placed at Rs. 307 crores and expenditure at Rs. 355.71 crores, leaving a prospective deficit of Rs. 48.71 crores.

The revised estimate of Defence expenditure for the current year met from revenue is Rs. 376.42 crores as against the original estimate of Rs. 394.23 crores. The estimate for 1946-47 is Rs. 243.77 crores.

The Financial Settlement will continue for one more year, at the request of the Government of India. The question of alternative methods of financing H. M. G.'s future expenditure, stated the Finance Member, is engaging the closest attention of Government.

As regards India's forthcoming negotiation with H. M. G. regarding the sterling balances, he stressed that "India will be entirely free to take any line that she may see fit to pursue." Any idea that she was committed in advance to a scaling down of the balances was entirely without foundation.

Finally, the Finance Member announced that a Taxation Enquiry Committee would be set up in the near future which, he hoped, would be predominantly non-official.

The Calcutta Town Hall

[By B. V. Roy, M.A.]

THE British Power in India in the 18th Century met perhaps its most redoubtable foe in Tipu Sultan of Mysore. The successful conclusion of the two Mysore Wars, resulting in the defeat and death of Tipu, was therefore hailed with a sigh of relief, and was celebrated throughout India by thanksgivings, entertainments, illuminations, etc. The British residents of Calcutta decided, at a meeting held by them, to give more concrete shape to their appreciation of the services of the two successive Governor-Generals, Lord Cornwallis and Lord Wellesley, by erecting their statues in marble in Calcutta. The statues were ordered, and came out from England, but it was found that there was no suitable building in which the statues could be placed. At this, at a meeting held in 1804, the British residents resolved to erect a Town Hall "for the convenience of the settlement, and the reception of the statues of the Marquess Wellesley and the Marquess Cornwallis." It was further proposed to raise funds for the building of the Town Hall by means of public lotteries. The Government, on being approached, agreed, and decided that a Lottery Fund might be started out of the proceeds of the lotteries to be held, not only for building the Town Hall but also for carrying out some much-needed "improvements" in the town, such as opening out of new roads, etc. The first lottery was advertised in the Calcutta Gazette of the 18th July, 1805, consisting of 5000 tickets at a hundred rupees each, total five lakhs of rupees, with a thousand prizes aggregating five laks of rupees. Out of the prize-money, ten per cent was to be deducted, to form the Lottery Fund. The management of the lotteries and the fund was placed under a Committee appointed by Government.

Sufficient funds having accumulated in 1806, the plans and estimates for the Town Hall were sanctioned in 1807, and Colonel J. Garstin, Chief Engineer to the Government, was entrusted with its construction. The building was started on the 1st December, 1807 and completed in 1813. The Town Hall, when completed, was placed under a Committee of Management, who appointed one Mr. William Hastie as its steward. A set of Rules was passed in 1814 relating to the use of the Hall, by the general public for holding meetings "considerable entertainments on great public occasions", etc., as well as for use of the attached rooms by "merchants and other individuals desirous of having the use of a separate room for transaction of business", etc.

Within a short time after its construction, certain serious defects appeared in the building, it being even considered unsafe to use the Hall. A Committee of Engineers was appointed to go into the matter, but their proposals and estimates for repairs being considered too costly, nothing was done for some time. In 1818-19 the building was put under thorough repairs, the cost being borne partly out of the Lottery Fund and partly by the architect, Colonel Garstin, according to the terms of the agreement made with him. The next repairs were done in 1824 under orders from the Military Board. Some twenty years later, in 1843, the Government lotteries were abolished and the Lottery Committee was dissolved. They therefore made over all records connected with the Town Hall to the Collector of Calcutta, and in 1844 the Hall was placed on the roll of Public Works, under the charge of the Civil Architect.

As regards the furnishing of the Town Hall and its subsequent history, I have drawn freely upon Mr. S. C. Sanial's excellent account based upon original Government records, which appeared in "Bengal, Past and Present" some years ago. It appears that an estimate for furniture, etc., amounting to over Rs. 90,000 was sanctioned by the Government in 1814, but nothing like this amount was spent, because at that time apprehensions were entertained as to the safety of the building. Only some chairs, etc., were purchased at a cost of about Rs. 3,000 in 1814, and in the next year, 86 "lustres" of lights were purchased for about Rs. 37,000. Several years later, in 1823, thirty more "lustres" for the Marble Hall were purchased for Rs. 5,000. In 1817, the Government had been again approached by the Committee of Management to complete the furnishings, but had informed the Committee that funds were not available from the Lottery Fund owing to its large commitments for town-improvement works undertaken. In consequence, the Steward, Mr. Hastie, furnished the Hall at his own expense to make it suitable for holding public entertainments, etc., and Mr. Hastie was allowed the exclusive privilege of supplying provisions and other requisites at such entertainments. From an inventory taken in 1849, after the Town Hall had passed into the charge of the Chief Magistrate, it appears that furniture and fittings, as well as glass-ware, crockery and plated-ware, etc. (imported from England) to the value of over Rs. 54,000 had been purchased from time to time by the stewards in charge, who had the privilege of supplying provisions, etc. to parties held at the Hall, and were reputed to have made considerable profits.

The management of the Hall, as already stated, was first placed in the hands of a Committee, which functioned up to 1824, the Hall being thereafter placed under the management of the Lottery Committee. This Committee continued in charge until 1843, when it was dissolved. The steward Mr. Hastie died in 1819 and other stewards were appointed at the time the Lottery Committee was dissolved (1843). Mr. J. Spence, founder of the well-known Spence's Hotel, was the steward, and he remained in sole charge till the next year (1844) when the Hall was placed under the charge of the Chief Magistrate of Calcutta. The establishment originally sanctioned by Government consisted of a steward on a salary of Rs. 250 per month, a "tindall" on Rs. 5, four "Khalassies" at Rs. 4-8-0 each, one bhaestee on Rs. 5, two Durwans at Rs. 5 each, two mehters at Rs. 4 each, one brick-layer Mistry on Rs. 5, and two peons at Rs. 5 each, total Rs. 511 per month.

In the matter of taxes, the Town Hall was originally assessed at sicca rupees 800 per quarter, and this appears to have been paid out of the Lottery Fund until the Lottery Committee was dissolved. The balance remaining out of the Lottery Fund (about Rs. 58,000) was made over in 1844 by the Government to the Council of Education, for the construction of the Fever Hospital i.e., the present Medical College Hospital. Consequently the question arose as to who was to pay the taxes for the Town Hall, and the matter was referred to the Government. Mr. J. P. Grant (subsequently Sir John Peter Grant, Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal) who was Secretary to the Government, submitted a note to the Deputy Governor stating that the taxes had hitherto been paid out of the Lottery Funds, but the balance had been made over to the Fever Hospital. "The result is that it seems there is no help for it, but Government must pay the assessment and all other charges of the Town Hall out of the General Revenues. It yields no profit." The Deputy Governor, Major-General Sir John H. Littler, agreed, and passed orders accordingly.

On the 5th October, 1865, the Government of Bengal wrote to the Chairman of the "Justices of the Peace for the Town of Calcutta" as follows:—

"A proposal has been under the consideration of Government for raising funds for the maintenance of the Town Hall, by charging a fee of Rupees 100 for the use of the Hall for all concerts, balls, dinners, and other purposes of amusement or professional emolument, the gratuitous use of the building being restricted to cases of a purely public or charitable description. With reference to this proposal, it has occurred to the Lieutenant-Governor that the charge of the Town Hall, which has hitherto been in the hands of the Commissioner of Police, might, with advantage be made over to the Justices of the Peace for the Town of Calcutta for the use of the town; the cost of its improvement, repair, etc. being borne by the Municipal funds, and the Justices making such arrangements as, while affording the public the free use of the Hall for all legitimate purposes, would provide an income sufficient to meet the charge. From a statement prepared by the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta, of the number of concerts held in the Town Hall during the past year, that officer has ascertained that, had the proposed fee been charged, the return would have amounted to Rs. 8,800. I am to request that you will be so good as to lay this proposal before the Justices, and report, for the information of Government, whether they are willing to agree to it, and if so, the specific terms on which they would suggest that the transfer should be made."

To this, reply was sent by Mr. R. Turnbull, Secretary to the Justices, to the effect that it had been resolved, at a Special General Meeting of the Justices that "the Justices, on behalf of the town, should accept the charge of the Town Hall, on condition that the proprietary right in, and charge of, the Town Hall, and all buildings, out-offices and premises attached thereto, together with any furniture or other property contained therein, not being private property, should be made over to the Justices, who should have the sole and uncontrolled management thereof." This was forwarded to the Government of India for final sanction, and the Governor-General in Council agreed, on the 18th February, 1866, "to the transfer of the Town Hall, and all its appurtenances, to the Calcutta Municipality, to be held by the Justices as Trustees for the town, on condition of their keeping it in repair, and for the purposes for which it has heretofore been maintained; and on the understanding that, until other arrangements can be made, the lower floor will continue to be occupied by the High Court, on the payment of a fair rent by the Government to the Municipality."

The Town Hall has since continued in the charge of the Corporation of Calcutta, the last Commissioner of Police to hold charge of it being Mr. V. H. Schalch.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

REFORMS IN THE CORPORATION—III

TO THE EDITOR, "CALCUTTA MUNICIPAL GAZETTE"

[The Editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed by the correspondents.]

Sir,—I am very glad that Mr. Nripendra K. Gupta, a veteran journalist, has come forward with a scheme of reforms in the Corporation as published in your esteemed journal of the 2nd February, 1946. He has also invited public criticism on his scheme.

I may make the following suggestions, and if they are accepted and the Corporation observe economy, I am sure, there will be no necessity of increasing the rates and taxes and the Corporation may not have to beg money from the Government by way of subventions and loans.

1. The Rebate System should be introduced for realizing rate bills, license fees and other regular taxes. It will surely reduce the outstanding bills and thereby reduce the law charges. (Vide: The Calcutta Municipal Gazette dated 7th June, 1941, under the caption "Rebate on Corporation Rate-bills").

2. The provisions 128 and 129 of the Calcutta Municipal Act of 1928 should be strictly enforced upon the Calcutta Improvement Trust, while the Corporation is regularly paying its annual contribution to that body amounting to more than twenty lakhs of rupees.

3. All open lands which are suitable for building sites not utilized for such purposes for a period of more than three years, should cease to enjoy the expiration of such period from the benefit of the remission of consolidated rate bills under the proviso to Section 151 of the Act. It was reported (in 1930) that Rs. 56,000 a year could be realized from this source alone.

4. Proper valuation of pucca buildings. If the assessment of pucca buildings be correctly and strictly made only in Ward Nos. 5, 6, 7, 8, 12, and 13 (especially of big houses) the income of the Corporation will at once be increased to 80 lakhs of rupees and more (Vide the Bengali daily Motilal dated the 15th February, 1945, under the caption "Corporation Assessment").

5. All masonry buildings as defined in Section 2(40) and in contravention to Sec. 3 (10) and (36), should be assessed as pucca instead of bustee, which will save 12 per cent. of rate i.e. Rs. 12 per rupee (Vide Sec. 159 of the Act).

6. All lanes, private lanes and common passages and 'Estates lanes' (belonging to the Government) should be properly assessed under Section 124 of the Act.

7. Realisation of taxes from unlicensed Khatals, cow-sheds, stables for hackney carriages etc., should be strictly made following the Chapters XI, XII, XIII and XXIX of the Calcutta Municipal Act of 1923.

8. The provisions of Sections 173 and 174 (dog license) and Sec. 386 (four footed animals) of the Act should be strictly enforced.

9. Tax on Trades, Professions and Callings under Chapter XII of the Act should be collected within three months (i.e. by the 30th June) every year.

10. To review the lower percentage of rate (under Sec. 127(b) (iii) of the Act) and bustees with huts upon them, should be strictly valued annually (Vide Sec 131 of the Act).

11. The provisions of Sections 386 and 428 of the Act should be strictly enforced to increase the Corporation income.

12. Stopping the huge leakage of Demand Notice fees and Warrant fees by granting a separate receipt for the same to the party. (Vide the "Nationalist," dated 29th November, 1945, under the caption "More Revenue for Corporation)."

13. The exemptions under Section 126 of the Act (exemptions from Consolidated Rate) should be strictly scrutinised.

14. The College Street Market and other municipal markets which are losing concerns may be leased out or be managed by Agents. It will no doubt increase the income instead of loss. (Vide : "Advance" dated 27th November, 1945, under the caption "Calcutta Corporation").

15. Before running to the court and incurring heavy expenditure for instituting Charge Suits under Section 205 of the Act, for realisation of arrear taxes, the amount of outstanding rate-bills in respect of each premises with names of the recorded owners should be published in the Calcutta Municipal Gazette. This will surely reduce the number of cases and a large sum of money will be realised before institution of suit (Vide : the Amrita Bazar Patrika dated 14th January, 1945, under the caption "Realization of Rates and Taxes").

16. In each and every case where law permits, the occupier's share of taxes should be recovered from the occupiers under Sections 149, 189 and 191 of the Act, instead of instituting Charge suit against the owner (Vide the Morning News dated 22nd September, 1944, under the caption "Realization of Rates and Taxes").

17. Rule 9 of Schedule VI of the Act, should be strictly observed by the Chief Executive Officer for collecting license fees quickly.

18. Attendance of all coolies, scavengers, etc., in Attendance Register Books should be carefully kept. It is alleged that attendance of many coolies, sweepers, etc., is recorded in the attendance register book in two Wards (and more) on the same date in many cases. Such allegations were made by Mr. C. W. Gurner in his Report on the Finance of the Calcutta Municipal Corporation of 1943.

19. The Commercial Museum of the Corporation should be totally abolished, as it is rendering no service to the rate-payers of Calcutta. A large sum of money can be fetched from the rooms of the two storeys occupied by the Museum by letting them out to approved tenants. Similar recommendation was made by Mr. C. W. Gurner in his Report of 1943, page 81.

20. The Publicity Department of the Corporation should be amalgamated with the Health Department, without delay, to save unnecessary and extra expenditure every month.

I venture to make the above suggestions in all humility. We are confident, however, of good results if these are acted upon and trust that no time will be lost in making a beginning with them. It is high time that the Corporation finances were placed on a sound basis.—Yours etc.,

NATABAR DATTA,
Pura-tattwanidhi.

CALCUTTA NEWS & VIEWS

RIOTOUS DEMONSTRATIONS IN CALCUTTA

Violent disturbances occurred in Calcutta during the early part of the 22nd February last when demonstrators interfered with tram and bus traffic.

The demonstration was in protest against the firing by police and military on R. I. N. ratings then on strike in Bombay and Karachi.

Train service at all the three stations at Sealdah, Calcutta, was totally suspended as the result of a 24-hour strike by the station staff, which started from the morning of the 23rd February in sympathy with the R. I. N. ratings in Bombay and Karachi.

In consequence of the strike, no trains excepting Darjeeling Mail, Dacca Mail, North Bengal Express and a few early morning local trains arrived at any of the three stations at Sealdah. Nor did any train leave Sealdah on Saturday barring the Khulna Passenger which left in the morning, but was held up shortly after it had left Calcutta.

The train service on the E. I. R. was disrupted for some hours in the morning as a result of large crowds holding up trains at Belur by squatting on the railway line. Excepting Four Up local trains which were cancelled, normal running of the trains in this system was resumed in the afternoon. Trains ran as usual on the B. N. R.

In sympathy with R. I. N. ratings about 50,000 workers including B. A. Railwaymen and workers of about 30 factories struck work for a day on Saturday and paraded the streets of the city and its suburbs.

The train service to and from Sealdah Station (B. A. Railway), Calcutta, was resumed on Sunday, the 24th February, the men returning to work after a one-day strike in protest against military and police firing in Bombay and Karachi.

Trams in the city also started running.

ACHIEVEMENTS OF ROTARY MOVEMENT

The achievements of the Rotary movement during the 41 years of its existence were recounted by Mr. N. C. Laharry at the weekly meeting of the Calcutta Rotary Club at the Great Eastern Hotel on the 19th February last.

The movement was founded in 1905 by an American, Mr. Paul Harris, with four members drawn from four distinct vocations. To-day the movement encircles the world with 253,435 members and about 6,000 clubs in 60 different countries. India has 69 clubs, with a total membership of 3,360. One of the most important objects of Rotary is the promotion of goodwill and understanding among different races and nations.

INFLUX OF DESTITUTES IN CALCUTTA

The number of destitutes coming into Calcutta is increasing. It is estimated that 200 people mostly women are arriving daily from 24 Parganas, Howrah and other districts and from neighbouring provinces.

The Government of Bengal are rounding up the destitutes and taking them to Government homes. There are three homes in Calcutta which accommodate over 1,000 people. Children are sent to orphanages.

BENGAL MUSLIM LEAGUE

The Working Committee of the Bengal Provincial Muslim League at its meeting in Calcutta on Wednesday, the 27th February, decided to expel from the Muslim League organisation all members of the League who are contesting the official League nominees in the general elections or are assisting such contestants.

The Committee has called for explanations from such persons to be submitted to the secretary of the Bengal Provincial Muslim League by March 7. The nominees of the League have been asked to send information regarding persons opposing League nominees also by March 7, and all explanations and papers received in this connection will be considered by the Committee on March 8.

NEW VICE-CHANCELLOR

His Excellency the Governor of Bengal has nominated Mr. P. N. Banerjee to succeed Dr. Radha Binode Pal as Vice Chancellor.

The term of the present Vice-Chancellor of Calcutta University, Dr. Radha Binode Pal, expires on March 12.

CALCUTTA IMPORT TRADERS' ASSOCIATION

The Government of India's policy relating to import licences was criticized by Mr. J. Leisk, presiding at the annual meeting of the Calcutta Import Traders' Association at the Royal Exchange.

The present system of control, he said, appeared to be used, not in the interests of the consumer, but in an attempt to protect certain indigenous industries. It was understood that import licences were being refused for some

CALCUTTA MORTALITY

There were 704 deaths from all causes in Calcutta during the week ended the 23rd February against 808 in the previous week. The figures for the preceding week (ended 16th February 1946) included 24 reported deaths in connexion with the recent disturbances. During the corresponding two weeks last year the total mortality in the city averaged 959.

Attacks and deaths from cholera were 70 and 21, respectively, against 65 and 24 the week before. During the corresponding two weeks last year there were 26 and 21 attacks and 11 and 8 deaths.

Smallpox attacks and deaths were two each against four and three respectively in the previous week. In the corresponding two weeks last year attacks from this disease averaged 387 and deaths 259.

Malaria caused 31 deaths, a rise of three over the preceding week's figure.

There were 122 recorded deaths of paupers against 137 the week before.

articles now being considered for protection by the Tariff Board. No regard, however, was apparently shown to the quality or price of indigenous products or to the ability of indigenous industries to meet consumers' requirements either on a quality or quantity basis. Numerous complaints had been received by the Association and similar organizations in other parts of India in this connexion. The Central Government's Commerce Department had been approached to remedy the situation.

NEW TAGORE LAW PROFESSOR

The Senate of Calcutta University appointed Prof. Elmer Balogh of the University of Witwatersrand, Johannesburg, Tagore Law Professor on an honorarium of Rs. 9,000 on the 23rd February last. The subject of his lectures will be "Adaptation of law to Economic Conditions."

Supporting the appointment, Mr. Justice C. C. Biswas said that at a previous meeting when the matter was discussed, some members said that the University should have nothing to do with any one coming from South Africa which had been so hostile to India. In recommending the appointment, the University was actuated only by academic considerations. The appointment of Prof. Balogh would in no way compromise the honour and dignity of the country and the University.

TO BE LETSANSKRIT STUDIES IN BENGAL

The annual convocation of the Bengal Sanskrit Association was held on the 23rd February last at the Sanskrit College, Mr. Justice B. K. Mukherjee, the President, presiding. Owing to the trouble on the railways, the lack of transport in Calcutta, and the deplorable condition of the city, attendance was inevitably smaller than usual; most of the winners of prizes, scholarships and diplomas had been unable to get to Calcutta or if in the neighbourhood unable to get to College Square.

The proceedings opened as usual with a Vedic chant; the distribution of awards followed; the Secretary of the Association gave an account of the year's work and the present state of Sanskrit studies, the President's address discussed with vigour the general want of interest in Sanskrit studies and the common feeling that they are alien to the spirit of the day and an impediment to worldly success. As is usual and proper, all the proceedings were in Sanskrit.

CALCUTTA CIVIC GUARDS

The Calcutta Civic Guards were on parade on Sunday, the 24th February; to mark the change-over of the Provincial Civil Guard Organization from a war-time to a peacetime footing. Mr. Norton Jones, Deputy Commissioner of Police, is in charge of the Organization.

The Government, in deciding to convert the organization from a wartime to a peacetime body, envisages the disbandment of the wartime paid Civic Guards in Calcutta and reduction of volunteers. From March 1, there will be 50 Civic Guards in each of the 25 Calcutta Divisions, working under a District Commissioner and other officers.

LEGAL INTELLIGENCE

ALLEGED ILLEGAL BUILDING PLAN

Justice Clough of the Calcutta High Court, disposed of an application in which the petitioner, Chaturbhuj Haridas, inter alia for an order on the first respondent, the Corporation of Calcutta that they do cancel or withdraw the sanction which they were alleged to have illegally granted in respect of a plan submitted to them of premises No. 6, Karbala Mahomed Street, Calcutta, belonging to Mussamat Baji Kowri, the second respondent and deal with or reconsider that plan in accordance with the Calcutta Municipal Act and the rules contained in schedule XVII of the Act.

Mr. B. C. Dutt appeared for the petitioner; Mr. J. C. Sett and Mr. R. N. Mitter (Jr.) for the Corporation; Mr. B. C. Ghose and Mr. S. K. Basu for the second respondent.

The petitioner claimed to be owner of premises No. 6, Karbala Mahomed Street adjoining the premises No. 6, and his case was that he had been informed that plan for further construction, addition or alteration of the building existing at premises No. 6 had been illegally sanctioned by the Corporation. That plan was alleged to offend against the building rules of the Corporation.

He further alleged that the respondent No. 2 had started building rooms and sheds above the third storey of her premises No. 6, pursuant to the alleged sanction, and was threatening to construct the entire building into a four-storied premises. He alleged that such construction would prejudicially affect the sanitation and ventilation of his own premises No. 6. The respondents denied the charges made by the petitioner.

His lordship held that the proposed verandah on the fourth storey on the north of the courtyard infringed Schedule XVII, but the sanction did not affect the side space or back space rules. The plaintiff was not prejudiced by other matters complained of. The Corporation was directed to consider the plan in the light of his lordship's judgment so far as it affected the verandah on the fourth storey on the north.

The Week In The Corporation

Purchase Of Calcutta Tramways Corporation Appoints New Arbitrator

The Calcutta Corporation at its meeting held on Wednesday, the 6th February, appointed Mr. N. K. Basu, an eminent Advocate of the Calcutta High Court, as its Arbitrator in connection with the proposed purchase of Calcutta Tramways undertaking by the Corporation and requested the Company to appoint its Arbitrator.

Councillor Nalin Chandra Paul, who moved the resolution, said that instructions should be given to the Office as well as the Arbitrator that the first act of the Arbitrators before entering on the reference should be the appointment of an Umpire.

It will be recalled that the arbitration proceedings could not be proceeded with on the 16th January last as the Arbitrators on behalf of the parties had failed to appoint an Umpire before entering on the reference as provided in the agreement between the parties.

Councillor Paul also said that in view of the legal opinion obtained from Mr. N. C. Chatterjee and Mr. A. C. Gupta as regards holding a fresh arbitration, another attempt should be made to put the matter to arbitration again. As litigation in a matter like this was bound to be expensive and as the Corporation was determined to make the purchase, the best course for them would be to explore the avenue of arbitration once again. Failing that, litigation would have to be resorted to.

Councillor Phanindra Nath Brahma said that the Company should be told that if it failed to appoint its Arbitrator, then the Corporation's Arbitrator would be the sole Arbitrator and his decision would be final and binding on both the parties.

The House had before it the report of the Law Officer on the arbitration proceedings in the matter of acquisition of the Calcutta Tramways undertaking.

The first sitting of arbitration, according to the Law Officer's report, was held on the 16th January last at the residence of Mr. Sarat Chandra Bose (No. 1, Woodburn Park). As approved by the Chairman of the Estates and General Purposes Committee, Mr. P. B. Mukherjee, Barrister-at-law, appeared on behalf of the Corporation, while Mr. S. Chowdhury, Barrister-at-law, for the Company.

At the very outset, Mr. Chowdhury enquired of the Arbitrators (Mr. Sarat Chandra Bose representing the Corporation and Mr. W. Youme representing the Calcutta Tramways) if they would proceed with the reference, and on their replying in the affirmative, Mr. Chowdhury submitted that he was appearing for the Company under protest, as the contract dated 3rd September, 1945, and consequently, the submission thereunder having been cancelled, the arbitration could not be proceeded with.

Mr. Mukherjee on behalf of the Corporation had hardly said a few words in answer to this submission when he pointed out to the Arbitrators that according to the express provisions of the Agreement they were to appoint an Umpire "before entering on the reference". Mr. Chowdhury objected to this saying that as the Arbitrators had already entered on the reference they could not appoint an Umpire at that stage.

At this Mr. Mukherjee pointed out that as the reference had just started, the Arbitrators could retire and decide as to the appointment of an Umpire and that the objection taken by Mr. Chowdhury was absolutely technical.

Mr. Chowdhury having pressed his objection, the Arbitrators, after hearing the parties, retired for a few minutes for having a discussion amongst themselves. On returning Mr. Bose said that they had made up their minds and that as they had failed to appoint an Umpire before entering on the reference as provided in the Agreement they could not, at that stage, make an appointment. They would not, therefore, proceed with the reference and had to leave the parties to take such action as they might be advised.

The Arbitrators having decided not to proceed with the arbitration, the Chief Executive Officer suggested that opinion of Counsel should be taken on the following points:—

(1) If the agreement of 3rd September, 1945, still subsists and if so whether the Corporation should now proceed to appoint a new Arbitrator and call upon the Tramways Co Ltd., to appoint their Arbitrator and proceed with the arbitration afresh.

(2) Whether in view of what has happened the Corporation should apply to High Court to pass an order on the Arbitrators to proceed with the arbitration.

The matter was placed before the Corporation on the 1st February, 1946, when the House postponed consideration of it for circulation of the opinions of Messrs. N. C. Chatterjee and A. C. Gupta.

The Corporation on the 5th February, 1946, again postponed consideration of the matter.

At the Corporation Meeting on the 20th February, 1946, consideration of the matter was again postponed.

COUNCILLOR'S GIFT TO CORPORATION

The House thankfully accepted the offer of Councillor Golam Hossain of an open plot of land on Narkeldanga North Road with a structure thereon built by him for the establishment of a dispensary to be named 'Mewa Charitable Dispensary.'

NAMING A CALCUTTA ROAD AFTER NETAJI

Consideration of the proposal of Councillor Kaviraj Satyabrata Sen to name Elgin Road as "Netaji Subhas Chandra Avenue" was postponed to a later meeting.

Anti-Sales Tax Campaign Calcutta Traders' "Hartal" Ends

THE 18-day old Calcutta traders' 'hartal' ended and shops opened on Tuesday, the 5th March. Nearly 72,000 shops were involved in this strike.

Following the decision of the different Indians trades associations, the consumers' committee and other interests to suspend the 'hartal', most of the shops and stores, which were closed since the 15th February last as a protest against the Sales Tax, opened and carried on business as usual.

"THE TAX CANNOT BE JUSTIFIED"—OPINES THE MAYOR.

"The hartal in the city as a protest against Bengal Sales Tax to continue till the entire tax is repealed," was the decision taken at a meeting of consumers and dealers held on the 1st March last under the presidency of Jnananjan Neogi, at the Corporation Commercial Museum.

The meeting further resolved that arrangements be at once made to intensify the hartal and to extend it amongst the consumers in various ways and for co-ordinating other centres of co-operation from the students and the masses.

The electric dealers in various parts of the city also joined the hartal.

Following the assurance of His Excellency the Governor of Bengal to suspend the enhanced sales tax, communicated through the Mayor of Calcutta, Mr. Mukherjee, all the shops of the Hogg Market opened from Saturday, the 2nd March, 1946.

In an interview to the Associated Press of America, the President of the All Bengal Anti-Sales Tax Agitation Committee, Mr. Hemendra Prosad Ghosh, said that "the situation may go out of hand if timely action is not forthcoming."

Saying that the enhancement was the "last straw on the camel's back," he declared: "surely His Excellency the Governor could have, and should have, shown greater regard for the basic principle of democracy—no taxation without representation—by leaving the tax at two pice in the rupee."

The tax, he explained, originally imposed in July, at two pice in the rupee, was doubled during Section 93 Administration of Bengal.

The Mayor of Calcutta, Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, who is also the President of the Calcutta Consumers' Association, holding that the tax "cannot be justified on any ground," said the strike was causing "immense hardship" to about 60,00,000 of people in Greater Calcutta.

He urged the Government to revise its decision, and suggested that the Government, in case of budget deficit, can meet it by imposing taxes on luxuries, race course and liquor.

The Mayor of Calcutta, Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, met the representatives of the Consumers Committee, which had been formed on the 2nd March last with him as the Chairman, in the Mayor's room.

The Mayor requested the consumers' representatives to be quiet, peaceful and disciplined until the Committee decides one way or the other.

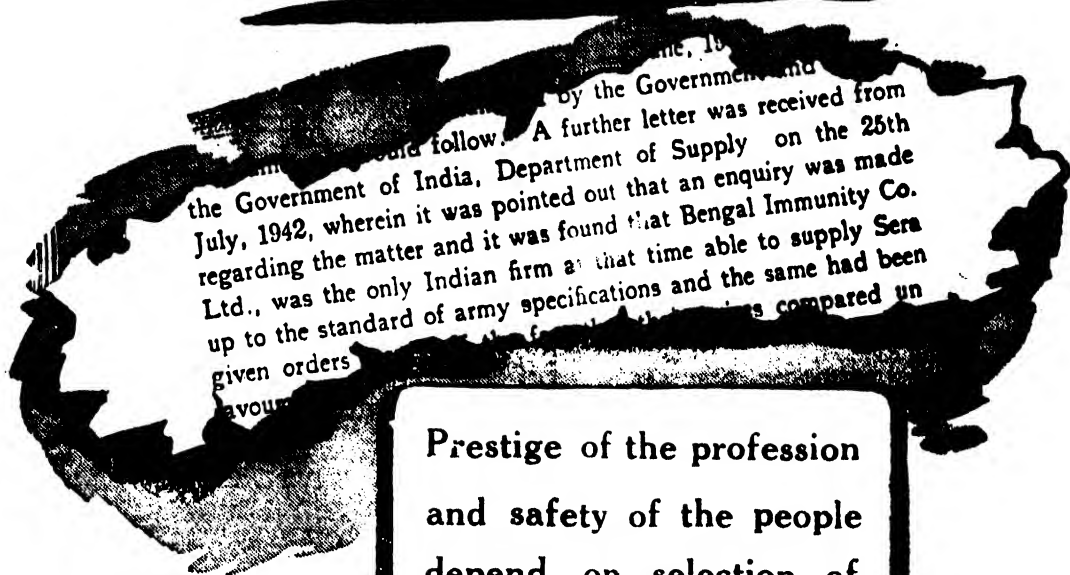

A resolution advising Indian dealers of Calcutta to suspend the hartal for the present and appealing to the public to co-operate fully in the restoration of normal order was accepted at the meeting of the provisional Consumers' Committee, the Mayor presiding.

The Committee came to the above decision "after carefully examining the situation in the country and having due regard to the appeal made by the Congress President and other leaders to observe an atmosphere of truce with the Government for the time being in view of the grave issues under negotiation."

They congratulated the traders and the public on their conducting "a most peaceful hartal for about three weeks as a protest against the Sales Tax" and observed: "The Bengal Government have at last bent to the force of public opinion, although partially, and have issued a communique suspending the recent enhancement of the rate of the tax from three pice to one anna in the rupee."

The Committee also expressed their desire to continue the campaign against the tax in other forms and appealed to both the public and the traders to do everything they can to control anti-social activities."

"The Government of Bengal have had under consideration representations which continue to be received against the enhancement of the Sales Tax from three pice to one anna in the rupee together with the situation caused by the hartal of traders in consumers goods", stated a Bengal Government communique issued on the 2nd March last.

"The original grievance of the traders that the tax could not be added to the controlled price has been completely removed by orders of the Government of India received since this movement began", the communique also stated. "The Government, however, recognize that there still exists a widely held apprehension that the further enhancement of the tax above the levels prevailing in other provinces, and the absence of any Sales Tax in some provinces which have important markets in consumer goods, will lead to some displacement of trade from Bengal.

"Meanwhile, a new position has arisen through the announcement by the Finance Member of the Government of India of the appointment of a Committee to report on the present tax structure and incidence of taxation in India.

"On a further review of these circumstances, H. E. the Governor has decided to restore the status quo by suspending the enactment enhancing the Sales Tax to one anna in the rupee till its operation can be brought under review by the Ministry which, it is hoped, will take office after the elections. The repeal of the Professions Tax which was undertaken as a partial offset to the enhancement of the Sales Tax will not be rescinded, but the statutory exemption of boots and shoes up to a certain price which forms part of the enactment now suspended, ceases to have effect as from the date of reversion of the tax to three pice in the rupee.

"Government would take this opportunity of correcting statements made in the course of recent agitation to the effect that the Sales Tax was originally introduced as a temporary war-time measure. No such undertaking was given when the Bill was placed before the Legislative Assembly, and it is clear from the speeches made on behalf of Government at the time that there was no such intention. The Finance Minister in introducing the Bill in November 1940, explained that "the present resources of the Government of Bengal are not sufficient to enable them to maintain the natural development of the programme of nation-building activities already in progress, and for the purpose of financing the further beneficent schemes for the economic improvement of the province additional revenues are essential." This is exactly the present function of the tax as one of the sources of general revenue in the carefully co-ordinated scheme of provincial taxation."

Tagore's Ancestral Residence In Calcutta To Be Acquired As A National Memorial

THE ancestral residential house of Poet Rabindranath Tagore in Calcutta is going to be acquired at the instance of the Government of Bengal and made over to the Rabindra Memorial Committee.

This would enable the Memorial Committee to preserve as a national monument this memorable building similar to what was done by Britain in regard to the home of Shakespeare.

The Rabindra Memorial Committee was confronted with almost insuperable difficulties in this matter but the intervention of Mr. R. G. Casey, the outgoing Governor of Bengal, seems to have brought this cherished objective of theirs within the bounds of possibility at no distant date.

It may be recalled in this connection that some parts of the ancestral house of Poet Tagore at Jorasanko, Calcutta, had been sold out some time back and these purchasers wanted to demolish the old structures and construct a new one in their place. All attempts to persuade the purchasers to sell the property back to the Rabindra Memorial Committee proved abortive. His Excellency Mr. R. G. Casey intervened at this stage and passed orders for legal proceedings to be initiated under the Bengal Land Acquisition Act for acquiring the entire plot of land together with the structures thereon. At the instance of the Governor, a lump grant of one lakh of rupees in favour of the Rabindra Memorial Committee has, it is understood, also been provided for in the next Budget of the Bengal Government.

Mr. Casey appreciated the response of the people for this noble cause and observed that it was really going to be a people's memorial.

He also expressed the desire to be present in Calcutta at the time of formal opening of this memorial.

After the formality of the Land Acquisition Court proceedings are gone through, the Rabindra Memorial Committee will set up a Board of Trustees for giving concrete shape to the aims and objects which the Committee have in view for perpetuating Poet Tagore's memory.

In this connection, Mr. Sures Chandra Mazumdar, Honorary Secretary to the Rabindra Memorial Committee, has announced that the Committee have so far been able to raise nearly Rs. 18 lakhs as subscription. While characterising this response from the public as very generous and encouraging, Mr. Mazumdar feels that at least 25 lakhs would be necessary to carry out the projects of the Committee.

Food Situation In India

Modified Scheme Of Rationing

UNDER the modified rationing scheme now in operation in Bengal, 18,000,000 family cards, covering the entire population of the province outside the full-scale rationed area, have been distributed through Union Food Committees composed predominantly of non-officials.

Salt, sugar, kerosene and cloth are generally supplied to a family on the basis of these cards, but instructions have been issued by Government that wherever there is a shortage of rice and consequent high price, rice should also be put on ration. Government will then supply from their own stocks rice to retailers appointed by the Food Committees for distribution at controlled rates at three seers per week per adult and one-and-a-half seers per child under 12. Rice has already been put on ration at Tangail, Faridpur, Dacca and certain other deficit areas.

Instructions have also been issued that broken rice and rice not in first class condition may be made available to District Magistrates for relief operations when necessary.

Cheap grain shops have been opened in some areas in Mymensingh District and arrangements have been made for the opening of such shops in certain other districts.

Full-scale rationing, as in the Calcutta rationed area, will be started in Darjeeling, Kalimpong and Kurseong from the beginning of next week and a similar scheme will be put into operation in eight

The Government are reported to be pushing on with their procurement programme and according to Mr. S. K. Chatterjee, I.C.S., Director-General, Food, procurement from January 1 to date has been 70,000 tons more than that in the corresponding period last year.

"India is 6,000,000 tons short of foodgrains and the food shortage in some sections is already so great that the Government has had to take over responsibility of feeding part of the population."

The announcement was made by Mr. B. R. Sen, Secretary of the Food Department, at a Press Conference at New Delhi on the 2nd March last.

In the House of Commons on Monday, the 4th March, the Under-Secretary of State for India, Mr. Arthur Henderson, said that the Indian Food Delegation had discussed with the British Government India's import requirements of food-grains to meet the present emergency.

"The British Government," Mr. Henderson said, "will make every effort in Washington to see that India's requirements are met as fully as possible at the earliest possible date."

The Indian Food Mission, led by Sir Ramaswami Mudaliar, has now been in U. S. A. to present India's needs to the Combined Food Board in Washington.

Thoughts On "Safety First"

[By 'CITIZEN "MONTE"']

After reading the Safety First Supplement to the Municipal Gazette

WRITING, in this country, is yet unfortunately not much as a profession to write home about. In the middle of the twentieth century even, there lurks about our writers still a guilty, woe-begone look which proclaims distinct disadvantages from the 'box office' outlook with consequential maladjustments in social hierarchy. And yet of all professions known to men, writing is the most prolific. You can, although you may not, write on anything. As a matter of fact, you do not, it seems, even require anything to write about. For, have not volumes and volumes been already written on nothing at all? Only they call it Nihilism, or a philosophy of negation or by some other high-sounding name. But the fact remains that one can still write—on nothing. Looking at it from another point of view, this is just what writers in India usually and actually do: they write (to exist) on practically nothing. But we have already touched upon the 'box office' aspect of Indian journalism.

An old saying declares that writing makes the perfect man. Because, we presume, you get your man more perfectly through what he has written than what he is heard or remembered to have spoken. But this rather seems to put a premium upon the noble art of writing, inasmuch as it clearly goes to indicate the enunciation of a "safety first" principle in the field of literature which places writing at a disadvantage. This is more explicitly expressed in an Indian saying of greater antiquity which says: "Speak hundreds (of words) but write none". In fact, in the matter of safety from future complications speech seems to have been definitely preferable in ancient wisdom to writing.

VERY interesting possibilities are promised to the research student who would seriously undertake to go into this ancient ban against writing. It is quite possible that it will be established beyond dispute that the ancients were also aware of historic occasions which cause huge governmental machinery to be set in motion to inaugurate vigorous campaigns, the "Use less paper" campaign, for instance. But the research student needs go deeper into the thing and discover the real reason why writers were deemed more helpless and less able to defend themselves than the speakers, ipso facto. Valuable information may also come to light on ancient systems of news chronicle and propaganda and the self-preservative practices of ancient journalists. Although, it has to be admitted, that it is really not the journalists who, in modern days at least, are responsible for the very flourishing vogue of writing. Our politicians are and have been valiantly doing their bit to carry on the good work with only this difference that they always seem to have a happy knack of writing a lot even when saying nothing. This may be a new approach to the old 'safety first' warning given out by our ancient wiseacres, but there it is: and it certainly encourages writing and is the key-note of political (particularly, colonial) journalism.

It will be a sad mistake, however, to jump to the conclusion that our wise and hoary ancients had the idea that what is spoken should not be written or vice versa. As vehicles of expression of the human mind, speech and writing are practically of the same value. It is only on the degree of personal caution involved in each that opinions differ. But so far as we in these modern days are concerned, both speech and writing are just the same—at least in the matter of the degree of commitment that each involves its author in. So that we are now perfectly free to write as we do with (or without) as much safety as if we were speaking it. Indeed, writing may be said to have come very much into fashion these days. The risk (warned by ancients) seems to have been simply ignored because it concerns only the individuals and not the noble art itself. And that is probably why we find our present politicians so keen on reducing everything to writing.

This is evident from the fact that the task of settling down again to peaceful progress amidst a war-torn world is being at last accomplished through the writing of innumerable protocols, charters, treaties and similar acknowledgments of mutual duties and obligations among the people of the world. India's freedom, it may be safely predicted rightaway, will also come in writing as well as in speech. Of late, a tendency is noted among the powers that be to exercise stringent economy of speech on the subject, the Viceroy's last address to the Central Assembly providing a striking instance of this economy. But nevertheless freedom will come, sure as divine wrath on incorrigible mortals, only it shall always elude form and shape unless reduced to writing. Not that our freedom will be wholly or merely literary, but a lot of writing needs must be at the bottom of it, if you see what I mean

TALKING of freedom, however, it is significant to note that the kind of freedom which the "Safety First" campaign is usually supposed to indicate, is not exactly the "Quit India" variety. The movement, as a matter of fact, is intended for freedom from careless habits which cause people to quit more than India—their very earthly existence, in fact. In other words, preventible loss of life or serious injury to limbs is the aim of "Safety First" campaigns of whom everybody should know about. For one thing, their patient perseverance is not only remarkable, but extremely commendable. Regardless of the fact that Science, wedded to Warfare, has been but just induced to cease from annihilating millions of human beings in less time than the proverbial twinkling of an eye, and also, further, that the scientists of the day are busy feverishly contemplating completion of the Atom Bomb which, in power of devastation, equals if not exceeds the traditional conception of the God of Destruction in Indian philosophy, these worthy people,—the "Safety First" campaigners, I mean,—are going about patiently trying to prevent people from being killed in street accidents with a nasute which is almost seraphic. They certainly deserve more than passing notice and the worthy Editor of this eminent Gazette certainly deserves public esteem for seeking to bestow noble praise where it is so richly due.

A LITTLE thought on the incidence of fatal accidents will convince you that the real danger lies not so much in forgetting the "safety first" principle, but rather in our happening to think of it at the wrong place and moment—that is to say, right in the middle of the street with mechanical contrivances and vehicles moving by in a death dealing manner. From the comparative safety of the writer's desk, it may be easy to debate upon the apportionment of guilt between careless drivers and their no less careless victims. But gravely and closely concerning civic life, as it inevitably does, the question certainly needs deeper study.

OF late public imagination and temper were greatly exercised in Calcutta over a number of deaths happening with alarming frequency due to people being run over by vehicles of a particular type and class. It was then that the Government was moved to take a hand in inaugurating a vigorous "Safety First" propaganda. So vigorous, indeed, was the "Safety" drive engineered by Government that people were pardonably bewildered to find in the Government so much anxiety for preserving peoples' lives. Apart from the lavish munificence (with people's money) displayed by the Government on this score, this was certainly a very welcome indication of a "change of heart" rather strikingly evident against the sinister background of the "man-made" famine devastations which gave unto Death a deplorably large toll of human lives which the god of war had been successfully cheated of, as regards Bengal particularly. Be that as it may, the "all-out" endeavours of the Government to make us safety-conscious came as a mild surprise, so to speak, specially to those, who had already comfortably delivered their souls to the easy virtues of fatalism.

Growing along with the complacent lethargy of the "fatalists" was also a certain tension of public temper with regard to the element of social justice in respect of these unfortunate deaths. The stark tragedy of these deaths interfered with clarity of thought and resulted in some bitterness of feeling. So that the question now involves a matter of civic principle: what constitutes safety of the road for Calcutta pedestrians? On the face of it, it is certainly hard on the victims of these fatal street accidents to be subjected to an amount of dishonour even after they have paid the maximum penalty of death for their sins of omission or commission. But even death fails to provide adequate excuse for disowning responsibility for social continuity. And, therefore, the need was greatly felt for establishing a knowledgeable convention as to road safety in Calcutta.

THE primary fact about death is that it is liable to happen even without a moment's notice. People have, therefore, to be very careful so as not to fall into its clutches unwittingly. But exercise of caution should be imperative not only on the probable victims but also on those whose carelessness causes fellow human beings killed. The "Safety First" campaign was designed to meet this contingency. But man, now-a-days, has passed under the control of machines rather than keeping control over them. This is particularly true of those who drive lorries and trucks. They simply cannot get their machines to comply in time with their earnest desire to prevent anyone being run over. Recognition of this caused the campaigners to pay greater stress on the work of warning pedestrians. The work of cautioning the "road hog" was also admirably carried on. But still doubts remained about the maximum exercise of caution in each of the cases turning fatal by both the driver and his victim. Considering that accidents are still occurring, it is obvious that the work of the "Safety First" campaigners is yet not quite complete in Calcutta. This is all the more surprising because the people of Calcutta, as a rule, are certainly never ignorant of or reluctant to admit, the need for precautions for the sake of safety. Take, for instance, the unfortunate deaths by trampling which occurred in Deshabandhu Park the other day. But thereafter more colossal gatherings have taken place in the very same grounds, but the disciplined movement of people—the same people who, as pedestrians, mostly use the roads of Calcutta—have been admirably suited to "Safety First" principles and not a single similar case of accident has been allowed to happen. This is a pointer for those who take the pedestrians' guilt for granted in all such cases of death by accident. It also helps us to realize that huge and costly organisations, under full Government control, are not also essential to ensure public safety through concerted public action. What you have to do is to leave the business of the people to the people concerned and check the malicious zoom of power-mad drivers, who refuse to recognise their duty to the people they are passing by. As matters stand, there is an uncomfortable feeling that drivers enjoy better safety, after the accident, from needful repercussions than the pedestrians, who are lucky to get away with "minor" injuries. Such glaring injustice to "minorities" are justly apt to make people irritated, and needs careful consideration both by Government and the public.

In fine, then, the "Safety First" is an important and socially necessary campaign which should be effectively organised from within the society and by the people themselves. There are various aspects, of course, of this campaign. The first, and the most obvious one, has been dealt with above. Like so many other things undertaken by the Government, the campaign yet remains to be blessed with appreciable success. It is not the fault of the people, really, that speedier success is not yet attained. That, however, is another story which does not concern an academic discussion of the movement. And what does not concern us here academically is a matter of great controversy which should be avoided. Safety first, what?

CALCUTTA NEWS & VIEWSMRS. SWAMINATHAN IN CALCUTTA

The need for ungodding sacrifice and suffering in the cause of the country was stressed by Mrs. Ammu Swaminathan, M.L.A., (Central), replying to a reception accorded her on the 1st March last at Puddapukur Institution, Bhowani-pore, by the Kerala residents in Calcutta.

Referring to Azad Hind Government and Indian National Army, she said that these were the greatest gift of Netaji to his nation. They were really free men and women who breathed free air. Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose was undoubtedly a great man, a national leader of great eminence. It was frivolous for anyone to suggest that he wanted to hand over India to the Japanese.

Mrs. Swaminathan paid her highest tribute to the leadership of Gandhiji.

Mr. K. P. Thomas, who presided, referred to Mrs. Swaminathan as one of the most talented daughters of Kerala. She was the only elected woman member of the Central Assembly, who had the rare honour to represent Madras city. He added that four hundred million people of

- India loved and honoured her for being the mother of Lt. Col. Lakshmi Swaminathan. He hoped she would be brought to India soon.

Mrs. Swaminathan left Calcutta for Delhi on the 2nd March last.

POET NABIN CHANDRA SEN

The talent and achievement of Nabin Chandra Sen as a poet were recalled at the inaugural meeting held at Mahabodhi Society Hall, on the 1st March last in connection with the centenary celebrations of his birthday organised by Sincere Vaishnab Sammilanee.

Rai Bahadur Khagendra Nath Mitra who was in the chair, said that three qualities of the poet had specially attracted him. These were his poetic talents, his patriotism and his religious nature. His Rambatak, Kurusketra and Pravesh had added a new charm to the Mahabharat. His Polashir Juddha (Battle of Plassey) had captured the imagination of the students of the speaker's time and fired them with patriotism. At a time when the impact of western civilisation was breeding a sense of inferiority complex in the Indian mind, it was Bankim Chandra and Nabin Chandra who inspired them with the noble ideals of Bhagavad Gita and brought about a transformation in their outlook. He was a Vaishnab to the core of his heart. He considered leaders of different religions as teachers of the world.

Among others Mr. Phanindra Nath Mukherjee, Mahamahopadhyaya Kalipada Tarkacharyya, Mr. Pyari Mohan Sen and Mr. Manmutha Nath Ghose also spoke.

CENTENARIAN SCHOLAR FELICITATED

A profound scholar, a devout Vaishnab and an ardent lover of men, Vaishnabacharyya Dr. Rashik Mohan Vidya-bhusan with all his faculties keen and virile even yet at the age of 107, is a living inspiration to the dying spirit of young men for a long and useful life—was the feeling observation made by more than one speaker on the occasion of the 107th birthday anniversary of the Vaishnabacharyya celebrated on Sunday, the 3rd March, at 25, Baghbazar Street under the auspices of the Sincere Vaishnab Sammilani. Mahamahopadhyaya Kalipada Tarkacharyya presided.

The speakers added that the example of this 'ancient youngman' and sage would revive youth in the old and cheer up life and activity in them.

Replying to the felicitations 'Vaishnabacharyya Dr. Rashik Mohan said that he did not know why they were so lavish in their kind and felicitous words which he thought he did never deserve. Perhaps, it was some sort of that paternal love which never looked for the qualification of the son. Dr. Rashik Mohan said that he felt grateful to all present for having come to his house to show him their love.

SOCIAL VALUES

Inaugurating a series of lectures on 'Social Values' at the Calcutta University on the 25th February last, Dr. Radhakamal Mukherjee stressed that the alternative social ideals and policies now dominant before modern civilisation, that is, Individualism versus Communism, Democracy versus Autocracy, Humanism versus Militarism, equalitarianism versus liberitarianism, could be rightly judged only with reference to the stress of dominant values that were or would be sought by people.

Continuing he urged that social planning required initially a clear understanding of the scale of values and virtues that was to dominate a particular cultural system. In a planned society values had to be planned. Such planning of values was a matter less of economics and politics and more of tradition, wit and religion.

He further added that there was to-day not only a clash in the schemes of values but also a profound discord among different kinds of institutions. In modern power-politics any insistence upon justice, law, and order had become out of date. Even the progressive ideals of social justice and justice were harnessed by socialism and communism as mere techniques and weapons in the class struggle. Referring to India, Dr. Mukherjee observed that in the present institutional situation in India while familiar with their old world ideals of honesty, compassion and equity, the 'Secondary groups'—the 'minority' and the 'party' actuated by the unilateral struggle for power and privilege, become larger and more mechanical in their use of instrumental values, without any compunctions in respect of their techniques and means, and vitiated the morality of the whole people.

He emphasised finally that it was the task of the social schemes to classify the system of values in the midst of the present crisis, and fight against false evaluation, perversions of values and social changes in wrong directions.

CHOLERA EPIDEMIC IN CALCUTTA: GET YOURSELF INOCULATED.

INDIA AND THE ANGLO-INDIANS

"India means home to the Anglo-Indian community," said Mr. Frank Anthony, M.L.A. (Central), addressing a large gathering of Anglo-Indians at the Grail Club, Calcutta, on Sunday, the 3rd March.

They had been legally defined as natives of India and as such, were essentially Indians. Communally, however, they were Anglo-Indians, constituting one of the recognised minority communities of the country with a culture and history of their own. In fairness to the community, therefore, he could not, as their leader, countenance any scheme for the mass emigration of the community from India.

The Sapru Committee had accepted the case of Anglo-Indians, and its main recommendations had been endorsed by various political parties which showed that Indian leaders to-day were not disposed to destroy the community.

DEATHS FROM CHOLERA

EPIDEMIC FIGURE REACHED

Though the general health of the city remains otherwise satisfactory, incidence of cholera is causing some anxiety to the health authorities of Calcutta.

Deaths from cholera have already reached the epidemic figure and health authorities are waiting a report on the incidence of the disease during the present week before they declare cholera to be an epidemic disease in Calcutta.

Last week there were 57 attacks and 31 deaths from cholera in the city as against 70 attacks and 21 deaths during the previous week. Since Monday last 10 to 15 cholera cases have, on an average, been daily admitted to hospitals most of which are already filled up to their normal capacity.

Incidence of small-pox has registered a marked fall this year. There were only 7 attacks and 4 deaths from small-pox during the week ended March 2 last as against 553 attacks and 244 deaths from this disease during the corresponding week last year. During six months of epidemic period, from November 18 to May 29, last year, 4,733 persons died in Calcutta from small-pox.

The marked fall this year in the incidence of small-pox is attributed to mass vaccination last year. It is also pointed out in this connection that past records show that a year following the epidemic year generally registers a fall in the incidence of the disease. The absence of any large influx of population is also considered to be another cause.

Referring to those who still persisted in calling themselves Domiciled Europeans, Mr. Anthony said that they were not only emasculating the community in the political and economic field, but were doing a great disservice to their children. The domiciled European was not legally a native of India and was already being shut out from employment in this country.

Speaking on the economic position of the community, he said that in the past its members had been employed almost exclusively in Government and commercial establishments. In common with the rest of mankind, they could not escape the effects of unemployment in the immediate post-war era. He, therefore, urged Anglo-Indians to go in for agriculture and hoped that at least 5,000 to 10,000 of them would in time take to the land. To this end, those now in the Armed Services should take advantage of agricultural training being offered by the authorities. He was also anxious that the community should find a livelihood in the regular Indian Armed Forces.

POSTAL EMPLOYEES' STRIKE THREAT

Employees of post offices and of the R.M.S. (other than postmen and lower-grade staff) in Calcutta and Howrah, at a meeting in the Indian Association Hall on Monday, the 4th March, endorsed the notice given by the Federation of Postal and Telegraphs Unions to go on strike from March 23 if the demands of the men were not met by the authorities. Mr. Mirina Kanti Bose presided.

The meeting sympathised with the cause of postmen and lower-grade postal staff who had decided to go on strike from March 11 and declared that postal clerks and sorters, if forced by Government to perform any non-clerical duties during the period of the postmen's strike, would stop work from the same day as the postmen. The responsibility for a total strike would then lie with the Government.

Closely after the above strike resolution a settlement was reached between the Post and Telegraphs Department and their employees in the dispute over wages. Both sides agreed to refer the dispute to adjudication.

BENGAL COUNCIL ELECTION

Mr. Biswanath Roy (Congress) was elected on Monday the 4th March, to the Bengal Legislative Council from the Presidency Division General Rural constituency, defeating Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, Mayor of Calcutta, (Hindu Mahasabha) by 359 votes to 203.

ECHO OF NOVEMBER FIRINGS

120 Hindu, Muslim, Sikh and Indian Christian boys, mostly students, who were arrested in Dhurrumtolla Street on November 21 and 22 following the police firing on processions, were prosecuted under the Calcutta Police Act before Mr. W. J. Palmer, Chief Presidency Magistrate, on the 27th February last.

They were charged with contravening the police orders and directions lawfully given to them in connection with their procession and assembly at the crossing of Dhurrumtolla Street and Madan Street in order to prevent obstructions.

Four of them pleaded guilty and were warned and discharged. The remaining accused pleaded not guilty and the hearing of their cases was adjourned till April 3 and 4.

DR. RADHA BINODE PAL

Dr. Radha Binode Pal, Vice-Chancellor, Calcutta University, who had tendered resignation of the office of Vice-Chancellor, on being requested by His Excellency the Chancellor to reconsider his decision and by a full meeting of the Syndicate which met on the 28th February last, and also in view of the fact that the students sat for the examinations which passed off peacefully Dr. Pal agreed to withdraw his resignation.

AUTOMATIC TELEPHONE FOR CALCUTTA

That a big drive for expanding the existing facilities of telephone in big cities like Calcutta, Bombay, Karachi and Ahmedabad by changing over to the automatic system which obtains in all advanced countries will definitely be launched during the next financial year, it is reported. A provision of Rs. 3½ lakhs for Calcutta and nearly Rs. 7 lakhs for Bombay has, it is understood, been incorporated in the next budget of the Central Government.

Death Of Rameshwar Banerjee

"Police Exceeded Their Limits Of Power Under Law"— Coroner's Verdict

Death was caused by gunshot wounds inflicted on the head on November 21 last near the crossing of Dhurrumtolla Street and Madan Street by the police firing from close range under orders of Inspector Hammond without justification and in which they exceeded their limits of power under law." This was the majority verdict (6 to 1) given by the Jury on Wednesday, the 6th February, at the inquest held by Mr. A. Haque, City Coroner, on the death of Rameswar Banerjee (19), the first victim of the police firing on a students' demonstration in Calcutta.

The students demonstrated as a protest against the I.N.A. trial and were going in a procession from Wellington Square along Dhurrumtolla Street when the police stopped it from proceeding any further towards Dalhousie Square stating that it was a prohibited area.

In course of his charge to the Jury, the Coroner observed that he could not agree with Mr. Basu, Government Counsel, that the students were determined to break the law, and said that in his opinion they were determined to protest against the I.N.A. trial.

The first point, continued the Coroner before the Jury for consideration was how, where and when the death was caused, and the second point was if the death was caused by the criminal act of another, who was guilty thereof. As regards the first point, it was clear from the evidence of Khan Sahab Dr. Hossain, who held the post mortem examination, that the death was caused by bullet wounds. Dr. Hossain opened the first cover containing the bullet at his house and again re-sealed it. He should not have done this irregular act. The bullet was found to be reformed and it was therefore bound to create suspicion that the bullet was tempered with but there was no evidence on that point. The Coroner did not think that Dr. Hossain would allow the bullet to be tempered with.

Referring to the second point that if the death was caused by the criminal act of another, who was guilty, the Coroner said that the case of the father of the deceased and the students was that the sergeant fired the boy with intent to kill him. On the other hand, the Government case which was put forward by Mr. S. Afzal, Advocate, at the beginning of the inquest was that there was shooting by the police in Dhurrumtolla Street on that day but there was no connecting link between the shooting and the death of Rameswar Banerjee. On December 19 three witnesses were examined and Mr. Afzal wanted to close the Government case and wanted a verdict when the Coroner referred to Section 24 of the Coroner's Act and wanted more evidence on the points of where, how and when the death was caused. On the next date of hearing, Mr. Afzal produced another witness Sub-Inspector Baroda Sarkar, who investigated the case. But the court did not get any particulars regarding the above points from this witness. He knew nothing and his evidence was full of half truths, untruths and concealments of facts. His evidence was not with the paper on which it was written. The Coroner continued that no other witnesses were produced by the Crown and he had to summon certain books.

The Coroner pointed out that there was no evidence who had called the mounted police on the scene to trample upon the boys. Whoever asked for it, had done atrocious act and the Coroner did not find language to condemn it. It was admitted that there were two charges by the mounted police. Nothing could be more atrocious than this.

The Coroner further observed that Inspector Hammond did not ask for permission for firing from Mr. Doha when he had contacted the Deputy Commissioner over the phone. He only said that firing might be necessary. The Coroner accepted the evidence of the two students as truthful and sincere. According to them, the last charge and firing by the police were without any reason and was out of anger. It was also proved by the second student that Rameswar was aimed at three times and was at last killed by a sergeant.

The Coroner could not accept the evidence of Inspector Hammond that he and his party were in danger even when they were inside the cinema lobby and therefore he had to order for firing. The Coroner could not believe Mr. Hammond's story because he said that there were incessant brickbattling of half and full bricks. But the question was wherefrom the students got these bricks. Mr. Hammond did not see them carrying brickbats, still he would say that they threw bricks. How could they carry and cover the bricks under their cloths while the police accompanied them all the way. Mr. Doha's evidence was that the students were peaceful and hence he left the place. Mr. Hammond also said they were peaceful till 6-30 p.m. There was also no evidence that somebody carried brickbats from Mati Sil Lane. The Coroner could not therefore accept the evidence of Mr. Hammond that the boys were throwing brickbats continuously. Moreover, none of the injured sergeants or mounted police were produced in court and without any tangible evidence the court could not accept that they were injured.

Referring to the Crown evidence that the police cordon was broken twice on November 21, the Coroner pointed out that there was no mention in the Government communique about it but the communique said that the police cordon was broken on November 22.

About the story of a police lorry being set on fire, the Coroner stated that neither the number of the lorry nor the broken parts of it were produced in court and without any specific evidence, he could not accept the story.

Mr. A. K. Basu, counsel with Mr. S. Afzal, Advocate appeared for the Government of Bengal, Mr. J. C. Gupta, counsel and Mr. S. P. Agarwala, counsel instructed by Messrs. K. K. Dutta and Co., solicitors, appeared for the Bengal Provincial Students' Congress. Mr. Sankar Banerjee, counsel with Mr. M. M. Sen instructed by Mr. B. K. Bose, solicitor, appeared for the father of Rameswar Banerjee.

CALCUTTA'S FILTH : WHOSE RESPONSIBILITY?

"On the whole the attitude of the newspaper is destructive; few positive practical suggestions for improving matters are to be found in its pages.

Nonetheless, it has performed a valuable service in revealing where the responsibility lies—with the Calcutta Corporation first of all, then with the Bengal Government and then with the Government of India. Ultimately, the responsibility for the state of Calcutta is that of the British citizen."

Thus wrote the well-known British Medical publication, The Lancet commenting on the Statesman's publication "Filthy Calcutta," which appeared sometime ago, and on which we have commented already.

Mahatma Gandhi during his last stay in Calcutta expressed hope to the Mayor, Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, when he called on the Mahatma, that during his mayoralty Mr. Mukherjee would get the city rid of its dirt.

Again, in one of his addresses to the Congregation at Sodepore after prayers Mahatmaji observed :—

"It is said that Calcutta is a dirty city. If that is so, every person living in the city is responsible for this state of affairs."

Gandhiji added :—

"If everyone living in this city realised his duties and obligations in this respect, Calcutta's face would change in no time. If every individual citizen observed the rules of cleanliness, Calcutta was bound to be a clean city. Besides, if they observed cleanliness they would also have a kind of peace in their mind."

Gandhiji also said that now-a-days he did not stir out frequently. Therefore he did not know what the condition of the roads and streets was. But friends told him that the condition of roads and streets was very unsatisfactory; friends told him that they were dirty.

Friends had also told him that even the prayer ground was made dirty by people who came here to attend prayers by throwing skins of oranges and bits of paper. Gandhiji reminded the gathering of the English saying. "Cleanliness is next to Godliness." Gandhiji added that cleanliness should be both inward and outward.

Gandhiji has been imperfectly informed we are afraid because he has not been evidently told whose responsibility it has been.

BOMBAY'S MUNICIPAL THEATRE

The Bombay Municipal Corporation is reported to have endorsed a provision for earmarking Rs. 2 lakhs in its budget for 1946-47 for the construction of a municipal theatre. This proposal, although belated, is widely welcomed.

Most citizens consider that the sum allotted by the Corporation is not adequate for a well-equipped theatre, but the Corporation's present finances do not permit of a more generous grant. Not for the first time the city's philanthropists will have to come forward in order to implement this deserving cause.

Bombay has grown theatre-conscious during the last few years, and several theatre groups have been formed, we are told.

But what about Calcutta? This city saw the birth and growth of the modern stage in India, and it was one of the fondest dreams of the first Mayor of Calcutta, Deshbandhu Chittaranjan Das, to have a Municipal Theatre in Calcutta.

INDIANS IN SOUTH AFRICA

The announcement in January last by Field Marshal Smuts in the House of Assembly of the Union of South Africa again brought up to the forefront the question of the status of the Indian nationals in the dark continent, which had for some time remained in the background. We had hoped that the Indians there would be better treated than with the abominable legislation, like the Pegging Act. By his announcement the Field Marshal made known to the public the intention of his Government to introduce a bill this session prohibiting the rights of Indians to acquire and occupy fixed property, excepting in certain areas set aside for them. General Smuts even 'freezed' all transactions relating to fixed property between the Indians and the non-Indians in Natal since the date of his announcement pending the implementation of the legislation.

Before his bill had been placed on the Statute Book the Field Marshal thought of a new device, namely, of enfranchising Indians so that they could choose three Europeans—two from Natal and one from the Transvaal—"to guide the destinies of 240,000 Indians in an Assembly of 150."

A deputation of the South-African Indians is expected to arrive in India soon, to take up the matter with the national leaders of India and the Government of India.

The South African Field Marshal wears two faces,—the face of Fascism for Indians in South Africa and the mask of Humanism for his Western—British and American—admirers. It is time he was "debunked"!

MADRAS CONDEMNS RACE DISCRIMINATION

The Madras Corporation has passed a resolution protesting against "the gross racial discrimination made in the army, navy and air services between European and Indian servicemen in status, pay and treatment which have been the cause of the recent strikes in Bombay, Karachi, Calcutta and other places."

LONDON COUNTY COUNCILS ELECTION

Labour has retained control in the London County Councils elections. The position at present is: Labour 80; Conservatives 30; Communists 2; Liberal 2.

For the first time in the Council's history two Communists were elected—they beat Labour candidates in the badly-bombed East End area of Mile End.

Of the seats still undeclared, nine were previously held by Labour and one by Conservatives.

Dr. C. L. Katial, former Mayor of Finsbury, has been elected as one of the two representatives of Finsbury on the London County Councils. Dr. Katial, who stood as a Labour candidate, was the only Indian to contest the elections.

RENT FOR THE PLOT WHERE NEHRU SPOKE

The Sukkur Municipality has sent a bill for Rs. 200 to the Local Congress Committee towards rent of the plot where Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru addressed a public meeting during his Sind tour last month.

INCREASE OF V. D. RATE

AMONG AMERICANS IN CALCUTTA

A tenfold increase in the venereal disease rate among the American army personnel in Calcutta is reported by the Chief Surgeon's office, India-Burma theatre.

Commenting on the report published in the army newspaper Roundup that "prostitution has gone mobile" in Calcutta in recent months, high medical officers said the rate of venereal disease jumped from approximately 1.24 per 1,000 per week in last mid-August to 11.8 in mid-February.

The Roundup said prostitution in Calcutta recently is concentrating in taxis and horsedrawn gharries and added that base surgeons' statistics indicated that 30 per cent. of disease comes from brothels, while 70 per cent. from pickups, taxis and gharries.

FIRE SERVICE WORKERS' DEMONSTRATION

A peaceful procession of over 1,000 Fire Service workers started from Ochterloney Monument on Wednesday, the 13th March, evening and after parading the main streets in the Chowringhee area, assembled in front of the Municipal Buildings shouting slogans to stop retrenchment.

The demonstration was intended to attract the attention and sympathy of the Councillors of the Corporation, who were considering at the meeting on 13th March, a motion for the continuation of the services of the Auxiliary Fire Brigade employees till the formation of a Ministry in the province following the elections.

It will be recalled that Government had recently served retrenchment notices on about 1,000 temporary employees of the Fire Service.

THE WEEK IN THE CORPORATION

A SHORT RECORD OF THE MORE IMPORTANT DECISIONS OF AND DISCUSSIONS
AT THE CORPORATION MEETING FOR THE WEEK ENDING MARCH 15, 1946

Purchase Of The Tramways

Interim Injunction Issued By High Court On New Arbitration Proceedings

Wednesday: 13th March

THE Mayor, Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, informed the House at its meeting held on Wednesday, the 13th March, that Chief Executive Officer had been served with a notice just then informing him that an interim injunction had been issued by the Calcutta High Court at the instance of the Calcutta Tramways Company restraining the Corporation from proceeding with the arbitration proceedings.

It may be recalled that during the last week the Corporation had appointed Mr. N. K. Basu, Advocate, Calcutta High Court, as its arbitrator and called upon the Company also to appoint an arbitrator of its own.

On the ex parte application of the petitioner, the Calcutta Tramways Co., Ltd., Mr. Justice Clough of the Calcutta High Court granted on Wednesday, the 13th March, an interim injunction restraining the respondent, the Corporation of Calcutta, from appointing Mr. N. K. Basu, Advocate, Calcutta High Court, as the sole arbitrator in connection with the alleged arbitration proceedings between the parties.

His Lordship also granted an interim injunction, pending the final disposal of this application, restraining the Corporation from proceeding with any arbitration, and an interim order, staying all further proceedings in such arbitration in the meantime. The hearing of the application was fixed for Friday, the 15th March.

In this ex parte application, the petitioner, the Calcutta Tramways, asked inter alia for a declaration that the arbitration agreement between it and the respondent, the Corporation of Calcutta, dated the 3rd September last, had been cancelled and determined, and was void, inoperative and of no effect and that no arbitration could be held thereunder. It also asked for interim orders as granted above.

Mr. S. Chaudhuri and Mr. G. K. Mitter appeared for the petitioner whose case inter alia was that different sections of its tramways were constructed under various agreements between its predecessors-in-interest or itself on the one hand, and the Secretary of State for India in Council, and various municipalities, etc., including the Corporation of Calcutta. Diverse enactments were passed by the Bengal Legislature regarding the rights connected with the above tramways. On the 9th December, 1899, an agreement was entered into between it and the above Corporation which was incorporated in a schedule of Bengal Act IV of 1900. Affecting to act under the above agreements and enactments, the respondent, on June 27, 1944, gave notice to the petitioner of its intention to buy, on January 1, 1945, the tramways and other properties of the petitioner. It disputed the Corporation's right to buy all such properties. The disputes between them were settled by a fresh agreement dated the 3rd September last.

The petitioner contended that assents, approval and legislation mentioned therein were imperative for the proper discharge of the last mentioned agreement. The Corporation, however, had failed to perform its obligations thereunder by not getting such assent, etc., and, the necessary enactment, and by neglecting to procure the moneys necessary for payment of the price of the petitioner's properties. So, it submitted that the last mentioned agreement and notice dated the 27th June, 1945, were inoperative and should be deemed to be cancelled. Further, it was entitled to remain in possession of the ownership of its tramways and other properties as if the agreement of the 3rd September last had not been made and as if the above notice had not been given. The arbitration clause contained in that agreement should also be deemed to have been cancelled and it was not binding on the petitioner.

The Corporation, however, was contending that the agreement together with its arbitration clause was still operative and in affected exercise of its rights thereunder, the Corporation had purported to refer diverse alleged disputes to Mr. N. K. Basu, Advocate, as an arbitrator. It had also called upon the petitioner to appoint its arbitrator within 15 days since the 5th March last, in default whereof, the Corporation threatened to appoint Mr. Basu as the sole arbitrator and to proceed with the arbitration proceedings. The petitioner submitted that such arbitrators would have no jurisdiction to conduct any arbitration proceedings or to make any effective award. It would not be binding on the parties. Unless the orders asked for were made, the petitioner would suffer irreparable loss.

His Lordship made the orders stated above.

CORPORATION LOSSES DUE TO JAP ACTION

The statement forwarded by the Chief Executive Officer to the Government of Bengal showing the amounts of direct and indirect losses suffered by the Corporation as a result of Japanese action since the 1st December, 1941, was approved by the House, which also decided to intimate the Government that the statement was not complete as regards full details and that supplementary lists would be sent later.

The information, needed by the Central Government for reparations from Japan, and submitted by the Corporation in reply to an inquiry in the course of their two communications received by the Corporation was as follows:—

Damage suffered by Calcutta Corporation on account of direct enemy action during World War II is estimated at Rs. 4,948. The sum covers damage to roads, street lamps and adjuncts, and water mains hit in eight Japanese air raids on the city between December, 1942, and December, 1943.

The Municipality's indirect losses and expenditure on measures taken to guard against enemy action since December 1, 1941, including A.R.P. expenses, war risks insurance of Municipal factories and damage caused to street lamps by military and other traffic during the period of blackout, amounted to over Rs. 68,00,000.

Expenditure incurred by the Corporation for grant of dearness and cheap food concessions to employees totalled Rs. 47,45,000. Damage caused to city roads by military traffic, according to Municipal authorities, was Rs. 76,66,235.

In their letter dated the 22nd December, 1945, the Bengal Government in the Public Health and Local Self-Government Department stated that the Government of India had taken up the question of exacting reparation from Japan and in that connection asked for information relating to damage, loss, etc. suffered by the Corporation and other local authorities as a result of Japanese action.

Councillor Madan Mohan Barman opined that they had no business to ask for reparation from Japanese people. All these losses were due to the activities of the British and American Governments. Instead of asking reparation from Japanese people, they should demand reparations from the British and American Governments.

SHORTAGE OF WATER SUPPLY

On references by several Councillors to the extreme shortage of filtered and unfiltered water supply in some wards of the city at a time when cholera epidemic was threatening the Mayor, Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, informed the House that the Expert Committee, appointed by the Government to examine the matter, had submitted its recommendations to the Government. He suggested that the Corporation should write to the Government to give immediate effect to the Expert Committee's decisions.

The equipments, he pointed out, which were adequate for a city with a population of 11 or 12 lakhs, could not be considered to be so for a population of 40 lakhs. So there must be a proper and thorough overhauling of the entire scheme of filtered water supply.

As regards unfiltered water, provision of Rs. 9½ lakhs had been made in the budget for the purchase of new boilers. Their engineers had not been able to diagnose the trouble at Mullick Ghat Pumping Station where the pressure dropped as soon as the water left the pumps. The Chief Executive Officer should be authorized to seek the help of outside experts.

The Mayor's suggestions were accepted.

CONSERVANCY SERVICE

With regard to the city's conservancy service, the Mayor said that he did not understand why that service should deteriorate after the purchase of so many lorries by the Corporation. He suggested the undertaking of regular inspection tours by the Corporation officers and said that if even after this the situation did not improve they should take drastic action against delinquents.

FIRING OF TIME GUN URGED

The House decided to request the Government to arrange for the daily firing of the Time Gun at 1 p.m. and 9 p.m. from the ramparts of Fort William.

THE THREATENED FAMINE

The Corporation in a resolution expressed grave concern at the threatened famine in the country and requested the Provincial as well as the Central Governments to take immediate steps to avert it by stopping export of foodgrains from the country and importing foodstuffs from outside.

LEAVE TO EXERCISE FRANCHISE

The House approved the action of the Chief Executive Officer in giving leave to municipal employees up to 1 p.m. during the three days of coming elections. A letter had been received from Government, the Chief Executive Officer said, stating that facilities should be given to those who wanted to exercise their franchise.

ATTENDANCE OF THE STAFF

Pursuant to a motion tabled by Councillor A. A. Wise the House appointed a Committee of seven members to regulate the attendance of members of the staff in various departments of the Corporation and take all steps to ensure efficiency and to report to the Corporation about the matter. Councillors J. L. Saha, H. K. Ganguli, S. K. Mitter, A. Sattar, S. Afzal, A. A. Wise and P. S. Basu were appointed members of the Committee.

Councillor Wise with three other Councillors recently visited several departments in the Central Municipal Building between 10-30 a.m. and 11 a.m. Most of the employees were not present. It was apparent, he said, that employees were not giving full service to the Corporation. He suggested that a committee should be set up to inquire not only into the attendance of employees but also into the working of the departments.

Councillor W. A. Burns observed that while the Corporation was entitled to see that their staff did their work efficiently, it was up to the councillors also to ensure that their own attendance at Committee meetings was improved.

R. I. N. RATINGS SYMPATHIZED WITH

The Corporation also expressed its heartfelt sympathy with the R. I. N. ratings of Bombay and Karachi who had lost their lives or were injured in clashes with British Military and naval forces, protested against the 'uncalled for' and 'unjustified' firings and demanded the immediate redress of the ratings' grievances. A copy of the resolution would be sent to Naval Secretary to the Government of India for his attention and necessary action.

AUXILIARY FIRE BRIGADE

On a resolution moved by Councillor B. K. Banerjee as amended by Councillor Md. Rafique, the House decided to recommend to the Bengal Government for the continuance of the services of the Auxiliary Fire Brigade in the interest of the ratepayers of the city and for devising ways and means by Government to meet the expenses of maintenance of the Brigade.

In moving the resolution, Councillor Banerjee said that the total strength of the force was 2,200 men. Of them 1,000 men had been served with notice intimating them that their service would terminate on March 31 next. The rest would also be demobilised soon.

Councillor Debabrata Mookerjee said that though the Corporation's contribution towards maintenance of the Fire Brigade ranged between Rs. 3 lakhs and Rs. 3½ lakhs, it had no voice in the administration of the Brigade. Pointing out that progressive industrialization of the country would require a large staff, he said that they should impress upon the Government the desirability of maintaining a large and efficient staff.

CONDOLENCE

The Corporation condoled the death of Rai Bahadur Hemanta Kumar Raha, ex-Post Master-General, Bengal and Assam and an eminent citizen of Calcutta.

Friday: 8th March.

STRIKE SETTLEMENT SPECIAL COMMITTEE RECOMMENDATIONS

The special meeting of the Corporation held on Friday, the 8th March last, postponed consideration of the report of the Strike Settlement Special Committee till the 15th March next pending the completion of the Budget Committee's deliberations relating to the same. Some of the necessary papers in connection with the report, it was said, had reached the Councillors only on the day of the meeting and they had not sufficient time to go through these.

During the debate as to whether the House should give any direction to the Budget Special Committee on this matter, Dr. S. N. Sinha, Chairman of the Budget Special Committee, said that they would try their level best to balance the budget without raising the consolidated rate.

When the Corporation assembled, shouts of "Our demands must be fulfilled," were raised by a large number of municipal workers and employees assembled at the quadrangle of the Municipal Buildings. The doors of the Council Chamber were then closed and the meeting proceeded.

A resolution was passed at the meeting of Municipal workers and employees expressing disapproval of the recommendations of the Strike Settlement Special Committee and urging full satisfaction of all their demands which, it is gathered, would entail an expenditure of over Rs. 25 lakhs on the part of the Corporation.

In moving for postponement of the matter Councillor Sudhir Chandra Ray Chaudhuri suggested that in the meantime the Budget Special Committee of the Corporation should be advised to provide for an amount, larger than what had been recommended by the Strike Settlement Special Committee, in the budget.

Councillor Mohamed Rafique said that the only thing that the House could do was to suggest to the Budget Special Committee the percentage to which the consolidated rate could be raised.

Councillor Purnendu Sekhar Basu said that as representatives of the ratepayers they would oppose tooth and nail any proposal for enhancement of the consolidated rate.

The Mayor, Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, who was Chairman of the Strike Settlement Special Committee, suggested that the Budget Special Committee might be directed to make a provision for Rs. 17 lakhs which would be necessary to implement the recommendations of the Strike Settlement Special Committee.

"If you can give effect to the recommendations of the Strike Settlement Special Committee without raising the Rate," the Mayor remarked, "you are welcome to do that. We have left that matter to the decision of the Budget Special Committee."

Councillor W. A. Burns said that it was essential that the Corporation should give an indication to the Budget Special Committee as to the extent of the liability it was prepared to bear.

Councillor Dr. S. N. Sinha, Chairman of the Budget Special Committee, said that according to their calculation the Municipality would not require more than Rs. 15 lakhs to give effect to the recommendations of the Strike Settlement Special Committee.

As regards increasing the Rate, Councillor Dr. Sinha said that the Budget Special Committee had not come to any decision as yet. At the first meeting of the Committee members were asked to give their individual opinion and that opinion was that they would try their level best to balance the budget without raising the Rate, if that was possible. If Rs. 17 lakhs was the liability and if the direction of the House was that this sum should be incorporated in the budget, that would be done.

Expressing the view that the House should simply adjourn consideration of the report at this stage, Councillor Sudhir Chandra Ray Chaudhuri said that the Budget Special Committee would sit up to the 18th March, so there would be three days' time left to the Committee to provide necessary money according to the direction given by the House.

Dr. Sinha was of opinion that three days' time would be sufficient for the Committee.

Role Of Indian Universities In Building A New India

Pandit Nehru's Convocation Address

THE Convocation of the University of Calcutta for conferring degrees was held on the 9th March last in a specially decorated pandal erected in the open grounds of the University College of Science.

After the procession of His Excellency the Chancellor, the Vice-Chancellor, Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, former Vice-Chancellors, Fellows, Members of the Syndicate, and the Registrar of the University had entered the Convocation pandal amidst shouts of "Jai Hind," the Chancellor declared the Convocation open.

Prof. Albert Einstein, the world famous scientist, was awarded "in absentia" the Sir Devaprasad Sarbadhikari Gold Medal.

Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, who was invited to address the Convocation, spoke about the role of the Indian universities in building a new India.

It was obvious that the British rule was coming to an end. India would have to function according to her own ability and strength and should be prepared for it. They should keep before them the vision of a new India, a new Asia and a new world.

"This vast country now stands on the verge of great political changes. It will not be long before we see the self-governing people of India taking their place in the great brotherhood of nations," said His Excellency Sir Frederick Burrows, Chancellor, addressing the Convocation.

"The student of Bengal has emerged in strength hitherto undreamt of, after purification by this blood-bath (in Calcutta), before which their elders stand amazed.

"March onward my friends, with your eyes steadfastly fixed on the effulgent goal of Freedom. Pause not to think of what may fall to your lot in the end."

Thus said Dr. Radhabinode Pal, outgoing Vice-Chancellor, addressing the Convocation.

Ph.D. Degrees were then conferred on Messrs. Dakshinaranjan Bhattacharyya, Anukulchandra Bandyopadhyaya, Kalidas Bhattacharya and Mrs. Kalyani Mallik; and D.Sc. Degrees on Messrs. Bidyutkamal Bhattacharyya, Sunil Kumar Mukhopadhyay and Kanailal Mandal.

The Zainul Abedin Gold Medal, 1944 was awarded to Mr. Mohammed Ali Shahab, the Debendranath Hemlata Gold Medal, 1945 to Mr. Jagadiswar Pal and the Lila Prize to Sm. Prabhabati Devi Saraswati.

Candidates for other Degrees were then conferred their respective degrees.

The Jogattarini Gold Medal and Sarojini Basu Gold Medal were awarded respectively to Kazi Nazrul Islam and Sj. Rajsekhar Bose for their original contributions to Bengali literature.

Mr. Mathuranath Goswami was awarded the Mahendranath Roy Gold Medal.

The degree of Master of Surgery was conferred on Dr. Ajit Kumar Basu.

4,586 graduates received their diplomas at this year's Convocation.

INDIA IS TO PLAY A VERY BIG ROLE FOR WORLD PEACE AND PROGRESS

Pandit Nehru, in his address, said that when thinking of the freedom of India they should have a mental picture of the new India they wanted—what social structure they were going to have and what kind of training they should give to their people. They had to think of the problem of feeding millions of people. A foreign Government could continue even long after a ghastly famine had overtaken the country, but a national Government could not continue for a day. They should have to think in terms of feeding and housing 400,000,000 people, providing education, medical aid, sanitation and other amenities of civilized existence. Were the universities training men to solve these problems? They had to pay the greatest attention to the development of social science and to produce trained men for the building of a new India. They must have trained planners, architects, diplomats and ambassadors.

The world faced an extraordinary crisis in human affairs. They were living in a period of enormous transformation. The whole structure of society was going to be changed. Out of this would come a great and long overdue transformation of the human race.

During the last 200 years Europe had played a dominant part in the world's history by virtue of its science and culture and not merely by force of arms. Asia had ceased to play an effective part in world history because it was static. But Asia was now slowly coming into her own and in future would be the centre of both trouble and progress. Europe would, no doubt, continue to play an important part in world affairs because of its high culture but nevertheless she was moving away from the stage.

In India and a greater part of Asia they had lost the vitality which they had possessed long ago. They were, however, regaining that vitality and were going to play a big part in future world affairs. In India a big change was happening. By virtue of her geographical position she was going to be the centre of contact with South East Asia, Australia, New Zealand and Western Asia. India would be the base for the defence of South East Asia, the western part of the Indian Ocean and the great trading centre of Asia. India had in the past been the mother country influencing the whole of Asia, memory of which was still preserved in many parts of this continent. When India was free it would be for her to choose her friends and allies. It would be for her to decide what her foreign or internal policy should be. She always stood for peace and her destiny was to play a very big role for world peace and progress.

CHANCELLOR'S SPEECH

Addressing the graduates, Sir Frederick said that the future of the world was to the highly educated races who alone could handle the scientific apparatus necessary for pre-eminence in peace and survival in war. None could conduct a modern community except upon an adequate supply of persons upon whose education, whether humanitarian, technical or scientific, much time and money had been spent. It was undoubtedly true that there should be reorientation of the present educational aims and ideas.

Education was the basic activity of society. When 90 years ago the Government of the day decided to establish the Universities of Calcutta, Bombay and Madras, and to concentrate their effort more on higher than on popular education it was hoped that education would spread widely throughout the country by infiltration from the educated classes to the masses. That hope had not been realized. It must be confessed that this province still had the highest percentage of illiteracy in the civilized world, and that, while there had been a gratifying increase in the number of graduates, who came out of the universities in the province every year, there had been no proportionate rise in the number of literates in the province. Responsibility must rest on those, who, for generations, perhaps centuries, had entrusted the education of the young to the disgracefully paid and woefully ill-equipped primary school teachers. But it would fall to your generation to supply the remedy.

Britain was fortunate in that she had a very fine system of universal elementary education. The Governor did not think that it would be any exaggeration to say that for practical purposes the main education that a large percentage of the present British Cabinet had, was in the excellent elementary schools of Britain. Bengal was more fortunate inasmuch as she had received the benefit of a university education. The gift of university education as a trust was to be applied not only for personal advancement but for the service of the country and of followmen.

It was inevitably to the young men and women of the universities that they must turn for the personnel of the armies that were to undertake the great campaign of educating the illiterate masses so that this province and this country might take their rightful place in the comity of nations.

VICE-CHANCELLOR'S ADDRESS

In the review of the last year the Vice-Chancellor, Dr. Radhabinode Pal, said that what came uppermost in his mind was the tragedy that Calcutta had to witness on a November evening in which many precious young and promising lives were lost and others injured as a result of police firing. The exact causes of that tragic incident were difficult to specify with confidence.

The Syndicate, by a resolution passed at a meeting, offered their sincere sympathy to the bereaved families and to the sufferers and urged upon His Excellency the Chancellor to appoint an impartial Committee of Enquiry to investigate the circumstances connected with the unfortunate occurrences, with a view to determining and fixing responsibility for the same.

Two happenings in this city within recent memory, in both of which students were involved, each pointing to its own moral could be recalled, said Dr. Pal.

"One of them testifies to the fact that if the students take up a cause which they deem to be right after due deliberation, nothing can shake by a jot their resolute devotion to it—not even a shower of bullets. The student community of Bengal has emerged in strength hitherto undreamt of, after purification by this bloodbath, before which their elders stand amazed.

"The other incident shows how they are equally fearless in confessing their own wrong—how they have courage enough to retrace their steps, once these are shown to have been faulty, and to make suitable amends in a chastened spirit, without allowing a false sense of prestige to stand in the way."

"The good wishes of your countrymen attend you in your onward march to victory, take care that you do not forfeit the confidence of those whose duty it is to show you light where you cannot, or should not, move unaided."

Reviewing the life of the University, the Vice-Chancellor, Dr. Radhabinode Pal pointed out the various new courses of studies introduced during the year, namely, Diploma courses in obstetrics and gynaecology, librarianship, social work, inland fisheries, journalism, maternity and child welfare, soap technology and a certificate course in applied psychology.

Financial assistance from private individuals and public institutions flowed to the University during the year in the same encouraging manner as had been witnessed in recent years. This included a donation of Rs. 2,00,000 by Mr. M. M. Sur and R. Sur for the cultivation and advancement of fundamental research in pure physics, Rs. 1,15,000 by Rai Bahadur S. K. Ghose and friends for the introduction of a course of studies in plastics and Rs. 60,000 by Rai Bahadur R. P. Saha to enable the University to buy one gram of radium for research in nuclear physics and biophysics.

Referring to the Bengal Government grant of Rs. 5,00,000 the Vice-Chancellor thanked them for a further grant of Rs. 4,50,000 during the year which made it possible for the University to give dearness allowance to its teachers and administrative staff. These grants, he said, only helped the University to maintain its status quo. More liberal financial aid was urgently needed. He hoped for greater sympathy and attention from Government regarding financial help to the University.

Stressing the need for a change in the existing attitude towards education the Vice-Chancellor said that the present day approach to that problem essentially differed from its pre-war proto-type. They could no longer think of education and teaching as a super-temporal method only; the concrete nature of society, in which youth found itself and to which it would have to make its contribution, was a matter of prime concern.

ANTI-CONVOCATION MEETING

Sir Hassan Suhrawardy, a former Vice-Chancellor of Calcutta University, presiding at a meeting at Islamia College of about 100 Muslim graduates, who had boycotted the University Convocation, characterized the action of the authorities in inviting Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru to address the convocation as "most foolish."

Sir Hassan said that "Bengal being in the throes of an election fight, the time was most inopportune to call a party politician, who has by juggling with words and sophistry of argument been trying to put wrong interpretations on the demands of the Muslim League and what Pakistan stands for."

Mr. Jinnah Leaves Calcutta

Parting Appeal To Bengal Muslims

MR. M. A. Jinnah, President of the All-India Muslim League, returned to Calcutta on the 7th March last by special train from Gauhati, on the conclusion of his one week's tour of Assam. He was accompanied by his secretary and Mr. M. A. H. Isphani, a member of the League Working Committee.

Shortly after his return, Mr. Jinnah visited the office of the Muslim Chamber of Commerce where a cheque for Rs. 100,000 and donations in cash amounting to over Rs. 1,00,000 were presented to him. Mr. Jinnah was also presented with an address.

Mr. Jinnah left Calcutta on the 9th March last by air for Delhi at the end of a three weeks' visit to Bengal and Assam.

HIS MESSAGE TO BENGAL

In a statement issued prior to his departure Mr. Jinnah said:—

"During my stay in Bengal, I have witnessed unprecedented enthusiasm among the Muslims not only in Calcutta but all over the countryside in favour of the Muslim League and the Pakistan demand, which has now become a household word. I feel confident that if we stand solid and united and be not misled by false and mischievous propaganda, untruths and vilification or be intimidated by threats of our opponents, Pakistan is assured.

"On the eve of my departure from Bengal, I appeal fervently to all classes of Muslims and urge strongly upon them that if you want Pakistan, your clearest duty is to vote for the candidate nominated finally by the Central Parliamentary Board of the All-India Muslim League. Their decision is final.

"It does not matter who the League candidate happens to be. You are not voting for him personally. Every vote cast in favour of the Muslim League candidate is a vote for Pakistan and conversely, every vote in favour of their opponents will be construed as a vote against Pakistan.

THE PAKISTAN ISSUE

"In these elections which are being fought on the issue of Pakistan, Muslims of all classes must give a clear verdict. Do not be misled as in some instances which have been brought to my notice, when persons opposing the League nominee are claiming the votes of the constituency and the support of the Muslims in the name of Pakistan, declaring that they will join the League party in the Legislature, should they be elected. This is a mere snare and a trap and these people are deceiving the Muslims.

"I further wish to impress upon you that your vote is not for the formation of the League Party in the Legislature or for the formation of a Ministry, but it is for a clear verdict for Pakistan. It is, therefore, the sacred duty of the Muslim voters and workers to go to the polling booths in their numbers and win the battle of Pakistan by voting solid for the League candidate, even if he be a lamp post, and prove their determination to achieve Pakistan by capturing every seat in the Bengal Assembly.

"Discipline demands of you to act according to my appeal and enhance the prestige and honour of the All-India Muslim League. Finally, for the sake of our cause and Pakistan, I hope the Muslims will sweep the polls and prove to the world that Bengal is resolutely and determinedly behind the Pakistan demand.

"In the end, I most sincerely thank the Muslims of Bengal for the kindness, hospitality and affection shown to me wherever I went."

Pandit Nehru In Calcutta

Addresses Labour Rallies In City And Suburbs

FOLLOWING his Convocation address in the morning, Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru addressed some seven labour rallies in the suburbs later in the day on the 9th March last. Starting from Titaghur at about 2-30 in the afternoon he went on speaking almost non-stop and addressed the last meeting at Champdani when it was close upon midnight.

At all these places Panditji explained the stand taken by the Congress and asked people to vote for Congress candidates who were seeking election from the Labour Constituencies.

Pandit Nehru had arrived in Calcutta in the morning of the 8th March last by air. He stayed with Prof. P. C. Mahalanobis at Barrackpore Trunk Road.

Panditji spent a busy day on the 8th March last. He presided over the meeting of the Executive Committee of the Indian Science Congress at Statistical Laboratory. He paid a visit to the Congress Medical Mission at Dr. B. C. Roy's house and then visited the All-India Women's Conference industrial centre (north branch) and the attached Sisubhaban at Kantapukur Lane.

AT LABOUR RALLIES

At the labour rallies Pandit Nehru urged the industrial labourers of broader Calcutta to vote for Congress nominees in the ensuing elections and hasten the emergence of a new order by preventing time-servers and so-called chapions of labour from entering the legislatures.

Workers attended these rallies in their thousands to hear from Pandit Nehru's lips the inspiring message of freedom. Pandit Nehru told them that British rule in India was a thing of the past and if they all worked unitedly they would be able to make the new order in India a glorious success.

Addressing a labour rally at Howrah Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru said that the Congress was fully prepared to meet the Cabinet Mission due to arrive in India shortly and talk to them frankly.

Pandit Nehru also addressed other labour meetings at Barrackpore and Matiaburj during the day.

Leaving Calcutta in a specially chartered plane on the morning of Sunday, the 10th March, he reached Chittagong in the forenoon. Immediately after addressing a public meeting at Dacca in the afternoon he flew back to Calcutta the same evening.

A PROPER APPROACH

The need for technical and scientific training in an undertaking and a proper approach to and understanding of the spirit of the people whom it is intended to affect was stressed by Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru in course of an address to the members of the Indian National Ambulance Corps on Monday morning, the 11th March at the Carmichael Medical College.

Pandit Nehru asked the students to think over what they were going to do in future. Entering into a profession, Pandit Nehru said, was rather in the nature of an ambition, a very high ambition not only to serve the cause of science but humanity. They would have to approach service not in a partisan spirit but in the true spirit in which a medical man and a scientist should. . . in a larger human spirit.

"We in India to-day," continued Pandit Nehru, "are engrossed with one ambition, in one major activity—that is the activity of freeing India. After all, even search for truth is impossible where there is no atmosphere of freedom. There is no truth where there is no freedom. There is no truth under bondage. Therefore, we must release our energies, mass energies of the million to go ahead to build the country in the larger sense that is in search of truth for the benefit of humanity."

AT ASHUTOSH MUSEUM

Pandit Nehru, accompanied by Dr. B. C. Roy, paid a visit to the Ashutosh Museum of Indian Art, Calcutta University, on Monday morning, the 11th March. He stayed there for about half an hour.

Panditji was very much interested in the stone, bronze and terracotta relics specially of Bengal, Bihar and Orissa. He expressed keen desire that some means should be found to continue the traditional arts and crafts of India, which still survive in this part of the country. Pandit Nehru hoped that some of the living masters of these arts could be brought down to Calcutta so that they might impart their skill to the present generation.

Pandit Nehru lunched with His Excellency the Governor of Bengal, Sir Frederick Burrows, on Monday. This luncheon invitation, it is understood, followed Pandit Nehru's meeting with the Governor at the annual Convocation.

Pandit Nehru left for Bombay on Monday afternoon, the 11th March, to attend the meeting of the Congress Working Committee.

CALCUTTA NEWS & VIEWSNEW GOVERNOR'S FIRST BROADCAST

"I have come out here to work with you for the fulfilment of your hopes and the creation of conditions under which your highest aspirations can be achieved," said H. E. Sir Frederick Burrows, Governor of Bengal, in his first broadcast to the people of the province from the Calcutta Station of the All-India Radio on the 7th March last.

His Excellency asked for the confidence of the people and assured them that he would unremittingly work for the good of all with special regard for the poor.

Reviewing the food position, Sir Frederick warned that it would be "extremely unwise for us in Bengal to gamble on getting any substantial supplies of rice from outside."

He pleaded for the maximum crop of rice and asked the people to co-operate with Government for the procurement and distribution of foodstuffs in order that a second famine might be averted.

CALCUTTA TELEPHONE SERVICE

In view of the frequent disturbances in Calcutta recently which have resulted in the normal telephone service being dislocated, it is understood that the Posts and Telegraphs Department have under contemplation a scheme which will enable the telephones of important members of the public and essential organisations to function during disturbances with the minimum number of circuits which will be operated by a depleted staff.

The normal telephone service had to be suspended in some of the telephone exchanges in Calcutta during the recent disturbances owing to absence of the operating staff.

It is understood that the Postal authorities have already circularized important officers and organizations asking them for the telephone numbers which they usually require urgently in their normal course of business.

REQUISITIONED PROPERTIES RELEASED

Up to the 2nd March last, 601 requisitioned properties in Calcutta have been released by the Defence Services on the recommendation of the Standing Quartering Board which reviews the accommodated position every week. Properties released so far consist of 299 residential and 302 non-residential properties.

Two hundred and ninety-nine properties were released between July and November, 1945. The releases in the last three months have been December 83, January 131 and February 88, making an average of 23 properties per week.

GEOGRAPHICAL SURVEY OF BENGAL URGED

A thorough geographical survey of Bengal was essential before a programme of post-war reconstruction could be launched, said Prof. Meghnad Saha, F.R.S., opening a geographical exhibition at the University Senate Hall, Calcutta, on Monday, the 11th March.

Geography, he said, was a much neglected subject in this province and they had paid dearly for this. In the immediate future they would have to face many problems, one of the biggest of which was the development of electrical power. For this, they would have to study the formation of river valleys, how much water the rivers brought, and how much of the energy dissipated by rivers could be harnessed to produce power. This required a knowledge of geography, hydrology and allied sciences.

It had been shown that if the Damodar river could be harnessed, it could be made to do very useful work. The building of embankments along it would enable the storage of at least 30 per cent. of its water for the irrigation of over 1,000,000 acres of Western Bengal, which, at present, does not grow more than one crop in the year. The electrical energy that could also be produced would be equal to the amount now produced for Calcutta's consumption, and would enable the development of various new industries. There were very many other rivers that could be similarly utilized for the enrichment of the province.

MR. JNANANJAN NIYOGISTATEMENT ON THE EVE OF RETIREMENT

The following statement has been issued to the Press by Mr. Jnananjan Niyogi on the eve of his retirement from Corporation service as the Officer-in-charge, Calcutta Corporation Commercial Museum:—

About fourteen years ago Netaji Subhas Chandra entrusted to me the task of materializing one of his dreams through the Commercial Museum in the interest of Indian industry and India's prosperity. To the best of my ability, by harnessing all sources and possibilities it was my endeavour to turn the Museum into a national institution and a national asset. During the last ten years the Commercial Museum has established contacts with all the Research Laboratories and Technical Institutions in India. Through the co-operation of the indigenous manufacturers and technological institutions the Commercial Museum has been able to earn reputation for usefulness and guidance to industrial enterprisers and to prospective industrial investors. It has been the centre of education and inspiration. The Museum is sure to play an important role in the ensuing period of industrial reorganisation in India, as a centre of information, contact and guidance to the interested public. The overseas contact of the Commercial Museum with the biggest industrial and research centres and progressive manufacturers in the different parts of the world will again be revived for the benefit of the Indian industries.

"My services with the Corporation of Calcutta as the Officer-in-charge of Commercial Museum and Publicity Department, has now terminated and I owe an obligation to express my heartfelt thanks to the manufacturers, traders, the scientists, different commercial organisations, industrial research workers, the journalists of India and the public in general as well as to my beloved co-workers for all their co-operation and guidance. All credit must be given to the Corporation of Calcutta to found and finance such a unique Institution and to help to realise to some measure the dream and ideal of Shri Subhas Chandra Bose."

He urged Calcutta University to reorganize its Department of Geography on modern lines. "Money spent on such basic sciences," he said, "is well spent."

JAMINI BHUSAN AYURVEDA VIDYALAYA

The part played by the Jamini Bhusan Ashtanga Ayurvedic Vidyalaya in dissemination of Ayurvedic education in this country and its present financial difficulties were referred to at an afternoon party held at the Vidyalaya premises in Raja Dinendra Street, Calcutta, on Monday, the 11th March.

Mr. Justice C. C. Biswas, President of the Vidyalaya and Hospital, maintained the superiority of Ayurvedic form of medicine and added that long before the discovery of other forms of medical science Ayurveda flourished in India, and since then it was holding its own through its scientific explorations. He regretted that the Government of the land took no notice of this indigenous form of medicine and did not render monetary help for the development of such institutions. This institution had been receiving grants from the Calcutta Corporation. Its financial condition had turned from bad to worse and the public in general ought to come out to help the institution.

Mr. Hemendra Prasad Ghose assured the authorities all help on behalf of the journalists present.

Mr. Sures Chandra Majumdar assured the authorities of the journalists' whole-hearted support by way of publicity in order to lengthen its valuable life. He said that Calcutta owned four or five Ayurvedic institutions but none of them were in good financial condition. If all these were amalgamated into one big organisation then not only these institutions would be benefited but Ayurvedic form of medicine would march on the path of progress.

A general discussion followed as to how the financial condition of the institution could be bettered.

GOVERNMENT DESTITUTE HOMES.

Over 1,000 persons are at present accommodated in Government's three destitute homes in Calcutta.

These homes, which cater primarily for the destitute persons wandering into the city from outside, have accommodation for about 3,000 persons. In addition there are 14 homes organized by various voluntary societies and aided by Government, providing work and shelter for approximately 1,335 persons.

Collection of destitutes from the streets of Calcutta continues. From February 20 to March 3, about 200 persons have been removed. Of them 121 are Bengalees hailing mainly from the 24 Parganas, Howrah and Midnapore districts. The balance are non-Bengalees from Bihar, Madras, Orissa, the U. P. and the C. P.

On February 20 the Government Relief Co-ordination Officer was instructed to resume collection of destitutes from the streets of Calcutta after a lapse of four months during which the city streets had been reasonably free from such persons.

PERMITS FOR NEW CARS

A very large number of applications have been received by the Provincial Transport Commissioner for permits to purchase new motor cars, says a Press Note. Sale Orders and Coupons can only be issued after an allocation of the number of various types and makes of cars to be distributed in the Province has been made. As soon as an allotment is received, the Provincial Transport Commissioner from the list of registered applicants on the basis of essentiality will select allottees, who are furnished with the Sale Orders issued in their favour, together with the Letter of Authorization (Coupon).

NEW HONOUR FOR PROF. MAHALANOBIS

Prof. P. C. Mahalanobis, Secretary of the Indian Science Congress Association, and Principal of Presidency College, Calcutta, has been appointed a member of the Statistical Commission established by the Economic and Social Council of the United Nations Organisation. Prof. Mahalanobis is the only Indian member of the Commission.

Intimating this decision of the United Nations Organisation through the Government of India, its Secretary General has invited Prof. Mahalanobis to attend the first session of the Commission to be held at New York beginning from April 29. The session will last for about 3 weeks.

NEW VICE-CHANCELLOR ASSUMES CHARGE

Mr. P. N. Banerjee, a former Minister of Bengal, assumed charge on Wednesday, the 13th March as Vice-Chancellor of the Calcutta University. He is the 12th Indian Vice-Chancellor of the University, which was started about 90 years ago.

JYOTIRMAYEE GANGULI MEMORIAL

APPEAL TO PUBLIC

Mr. S. C. Roy, Secretary, Jyotirmayee Ganguli Memorial Committee, in an appeal to the public, says:—

"It may be recalled that the Jyotirmayee Ganguli Memorial Committee, with Mrs. Sarojini Naidu as President and a number of distinguished leaders as Vice-Presidents and members was formed on Dec. 16, 1945 to perpetuate the memory of Smt. Jyotirmayee Ganguli, a great educationist, patriot and a social worker.

"For three days from November 21 to November 23 last the police resorted to indiscriminate firing in Calcutta and during these disturbances, Miss Ganguli, always arraying herself on the side of the students—the first target of police firing—herself met her end under the most tragic circumstances.

Presiding at a meeting in Calcutta to condole her death Mrs. Sarojini Naidu made an earnest appeal to the people of Bengal in the following glowing terms: I want you to realise that Jyotirmayee was a teacher just as Ramkrishna was a teacher, Sri Chaitanya was a teacher, Guru Nanak was a teacher See to it that her memory does not die out, and concentrate your activities in such a way that the great humanity may be liberated for ever to come. "In the absence of any idea of the amount that may be collected it is not possible to decide at this stage as to the shape of the memorial to be raised. The Memorial Committee, however, hopes that our countrymen will contribute generously to the Fund of the committee, so that a decent amount may be collected for a suitable memorial to be raised to perpetuate the memory of Miss. Ganguli.

"All contributions should be sent to the Secretary, 15, Chittaranjan Avenue Calcutta. Cheques should be made payable to the "Jyotirmayee Ganguli Memorial Committee."

AIR TRAVEL BY CIVILIANS

The Bengal Government in a Press Note explains the position regarding allotment of priority for air travel from Calcutta by civilians.

Under existing rules the following categories of civilian applicants are entitled to priority:—Government servants travelling on duty; business men, etc. travelling on business of national importance, for example, in connection with post-war reconstruction, rehabilitation or development of essential industries; and compassionate cases.

Any person claiming priority should apply to the Under-Secretary, Home Department, of Bengal, Writers' Building, Calcutta on R. A. F. form No. 2768 in triplicate, available from the Air Booking Centre, Victoria House, or from the Home Department. Applicants should produce documentary evidence of his bona fides and the urgency of his journey.

Applicants for non-priority air passages should fill in triplicate the prescribed forms for non-priority travel available at the Air Booking Centre, or Home Department, and submit them direct to the Air Priorities Board at No. 4 Camp, Red Road (near the Chowringhee Gate of Fort William, opposite Park Street). Such applicants will be given passages, if space is available after meeting priority demands, strictly in the order in which their applications are received by the Board.

LATE SIR U. N. BRAHMACHARI

Sir U. N. Brahmachari not only made his mark as a successful medical practitioner, but also was a very prominent scientist.

Thus observed Dr. B. C. Roy, while presiding over a meeting held to condole the death of Sir U. N. Brahmachari at the Indian Association for Cultivation of Science on the 7th March last.

CHOLERA DEATHS ON THE INCREASE

Cholera attacks and deaths in Calcutta during the week ended March 9 were 60 and 30, respectively, against 57 and 31 the week before. During the corresponding two weeks last year, attacks numbered 113 and 50 and deaths 47 and 15.

There were 6 attacks and 5 deaths from small-pox during the week against 7 and 4, respectively, in the preceding week. Last year, attacks averaged 348 and deaths 251 during the corresponding weeks.

Malaria caused 18 deaths against 32 the week before. Deaths from this disease during the corresponding weeks last year averaged 42.

Recorded deaths of paupers numbered 99 against 82 in the preceding week.

Total mortality in the city amounted to 706 against the previous week's figure of 684. During the corresponding period last year, deaths from all causes averaged 1,022.

Dr. Roy continuing said that he was a scientist through and through. He could not be content by simply noting down the symptoms of his patients. His mind always underwent some scientific process which a scientist went through in discovering Atomic Bomb, the former being constructive and the latter destructive.

Dr. Roy said that the void caused by his death would be difficult to fulfil. He was a jewel amongst scientific men.

He then moved the following resolution which was accepted by all standing:—

"This gathering of the citizens of Calcutta places on record its deep sense of sorrow and severe loss at the death of Sir U. N. Brahmachari, a distinguished scientist and an eminent physician, who by his discovery of Urea Stebamin rendered a great service to the suffering humanity"

Dr. A. C. Ukil, Dr. U. P. Basu, Dr. K. N. Bagchi, Dr. Meghnad Saha and others addressed the meeting.

MAJ-GEN. A. C. CHATTERJEE

Maj-Gen. A. C. Chatterjee of Azad Hind Government was brought to Calcutta on Saturday evening, the 9th March, and flown to Delhi on Sunday last under military escort.

Members of the medical profession and medical students of Bengal voiced their united demand for immediate repatriation and release of Maj-Gen. A. C. Chatterjee, Foreign Minister of the Azad Hind Government, at a crowded rally of doctors and medical students held on the 8th March last at the University Institute Hall. Dr. B. C. Ghosh was in the chair.

The meeting resolved to be insistent in its demand for repatriation and release so that the invaluable services of Maj-Gen. Chatterjee might be available to India and to the medical profession, in particular, in this hour of national awakening. The meeting held that his unparalleled organising capacity and patriotism were badly needed for the whole country which was faced with a catastrophe of great magnitude in the shape of the impending famine.

While paying high tributes to the manifold services and sacrifices of Maj-Gen. Chatterjee speakers expressed great astonishment as to how it was possible for one who had

MAHAJATI SADAN

CASE ADJOURNED AGAIN

The matter arising out of the mysterious disappearance of Mr. Subhas Chandra Bose during the pendency of his trial under the D. I. Rules, necessitating the issue of a warrant against him and of a proclamation with attachment of his property, came up for hearing before Mr. Ali Reza, Additional Chief Presidency Magistrate, Calcutta, on Wednesday, the 13th March.

Mr. B. C. Sen, Public Prosecutor, placed before the Magistrate a letter of the Solicitor to the Province of Bengal in which it was stated that Mr. Justice Edgley's list was full and that his lordship would not be free to take any other suit before the end of the current month and that the matter might be mentioned towards the end of the month for an early hearing of the suit regarding the premises, Mahajati Sahan. Mr. Sen prayed that further action in the matter might be postponed for another three months.

The Magistrate read the letter and adjourned the case until June 20 next.

earned quite a name for being an indefatigable and a highly priced component of the bureaucratic machine could have housed such a fire of patriotism.

A resolution was also adopted by the medical students of Calcutta at general meetings held in the noon at different medical institutions demanding immediate repatriation and release of Maj-Gen. Chatterjee and his comrades of the Azad Hind Fauj.

GIRISH CHANDRA GHOSH

The great dramatist and poet late Girish Chandra Ghose's 103rd birth anniversary was observed by the Girish Sangha at the Srirangam Theatre on Monday, the 11th March. Mr. Keshab Chandra Gupta presided and many other distinguished gentlemen as also some ladies were present.

Pandit Ashokenath Shastri said that to-day when the country was on the verge of great happenings it was quite proper that they should look into the lives and works of the great in order to draw inspiration therefrom. And the works of Girish Chandra, specially his dramas 'Sivaji', 'Sirajud-doula' and 'Mirkasem', all the three banned, roused feelings and sentiments of patriotism as few other books did. The ban on these dramas should be lifted by the Government without delay and Pandit Shastri urged upon the Sangha to be up and doing for creating a public opinion towards this end. And if the ban was not lifted he proposed that the drama should be staged in defiance of the ban.

The President, while paying glowing tributes to the memory of the great dramatist-poet who, according to him, was no less a patriot than anybody else in Bengal at that time, said that the best way they could offer their respects and tributes to Girish Chandra was by rejuvenating our national life with the ideas and ideals that the great dramatist had left for this generation in his dramas.

IMPROVEMENT OF CALCUTTA'S WATER SUPPLY

A Rs. 2 crore-scheme to improve Calcutta's water-supply has been suggested by a Committee of experts appointed by the Bengal Government last year.

The scheme, to be completed in three years, will provide a continuous supply of filtered water and lead to the ultimate abolition of the dangerous dual water supply.

The object is to provide a continuous supply of 122 to 132 million gallons of filtered water daily against the present 72 to 75 million gallons. Supply of unfiltered water will also be increased.

The Committee has suggested construction of a rapid gravity filter plant having a capacity of 48 million gallons per day, improvement in the existing filters at Pulka, installation of certain new machinery, remodelling of the present arrangements for purification of water, laying of an additional 54 inch main from Pulka to Tallah and conversion of the existing 42 inch gravity main to a pressure main.

The proposed distribution arrangements in the city proper include provision of a station at the junction of Dhurrumtolla Street and Lower Circular Road to increase the pressure in zone mains in South Central and South Calcutta.

To prevent wastage the Committee has suggested that all domestic reservoirs should be provided with ball valves and that street standposts should be replaced by street tanks specially in bustees and other areas inhabited by people of low economic level.

For the improvement of the unfiltered water supply the Committee has suggested the extension of the existing jetty at the Mullickghat Pumping Station to lead the suction pipe to the deep water channel and replacement of certain existing machinery.

An independent source of supply for all purposes has been recommended for the Manicktolla area as an experimental measure.

The Committee has suggested the sinking of six 8 in. diameter deep tube-wells to be operated by electricity, each supplying one million gallons of water daily. The water will be pumped into six overhead reservoirs situated in different zones and distributed through pipelines. If the experiment proves successful six more tube-wells will be sunk in 1951.

The total expenditure in the first year, mainly for the improvement of unfiltered water supply, is estimated at Rs. 29,70,000. In the second year Rs. 1,19,00,000 is proposed to be spent for the improvement of filtered water supply. The third year's expenditure will be Rs. 48,00,000. Of this, Rs. 9,00,000 will be earmarked for the improvement of Manicktolla's supply, Rs. 5,00,000 for unfiltered water and the balance for the filtered water supply in Calcutta.

The Calcutta Corporation has been asked to what extent it is prepared to adopt the scheme irrespective of financial difficulties.

The Committee is composed of Mr. P. C. Bose, Chief Engineer, Public Health Department, Bengal (Chairman); Mr. D. N. Ganguli, Chief Engineer, Calcutta Corporation; Mr. W. Prosser, Chief Engineer, Calcutta Improvement Trust and Prof. K. Subramanvan, Professor of Sanitary Engineering, All-India Institute of Hygiene and Public Health.

THE WEEK IN THE CORPORATION

A SHORT RECORD OF THE MORE IMPORTANT DECISIONS OF AND DISCUSSIONS
AT THE CORPORATION MEETING FOR THE WEEK ENDING MARCH 22, 1946

CORPORATION BUDGET FOR 1946-47

Proposal For Increase Of Consolidated Rate Rejected

AFTER discussions for two days the Corporation adopted on Thursday, the 21st March with certain modifications the Budget Estimates of Income and Expenditure for the year 1946-47,—the first Budget after conclusion of the Second World War,—as recommended by the Budget Special Committee.

The Chief Executive Officer, it may be recalled, placed his Budget Estimates before the Corporation on the 8th February last. At that meeting the Mayor, Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, informed the House, in reference to his discussion with the then Governor, Mr. R. G. Casey, that they could be assured of Government assistance if only they did everything possible to save themselves from the impending financial crisis, which had thus been pointed out by the Chief Executive Officer in the course of his statement on the Budget Estimates.

"If in presenting the Budget Estimates for the last two years I had stated that our budgetary position was extremely embarrassing, I am to state that the Corporation is now facing a financial collapse."

The Chief Executive Officer had stated that the financial position of the Corporation was such that the deficit could not be met from the receipts. He had suggested that with an increase of 2 per cent. in the Consolidated Rate, also with Government help in the shape of Ways and Means Advance and increased income from various other sources, the Budget might somehow be balanced.

Thereupon the Corporation appointed a Budget Special Committee of 21 members to consider the Budget Estimates. The members were:—

Mr. I. Beed, Mr. A. L. Poddar, (Chairman); Dr. B. N. Basu, Mr. M. K. Mazumdar, Dr. S. N. Sinha, (Deputy Chairman); Mr. B. K. Banerjee, Kariraj Satyabrata Sen, Mr. B. C. Das, Mr. P. K. Set, Mr. H. K. Ganguli, Mr. Md. Israil, Mr. M. M. Haq, Mr. Abdus Sattar, Mr. S. Bolal, Khan Saheb S. M. Solaiman, Mr. Golam Hossain, Mr. A. A. Wise, Mr. W. A. Burns, Mr. P. S. Basu, Mr. M. Barman and Mr. R. N. Gaggar.

The Budget Special Committee held 15 meetings and suggested certain modifications in the original Budget Estimates. The main feature of the recommendations was that the Special Committee did not approve of the Chief Executive Officer's proposal for increasing the present Consolidated Rate by 2 per cent.—from 19½ per cent to 21½ per cent. The Committee did not also accept the Chief Executive Officer's suggestion for a Ways and Means Advance from the Government.

According to the estimates, as recommended by the Committee, the opening balance on Revenue Account on the 1st April, 1946, will be Rs. 36,22,000. Receipts during 1946-47 are estimated at Rs. 3,70,88,000 and expenditure at Rs. 3,85,36,000, leaving a closing balance of Rs. 21,74,000 on the 31st March, 1947.

The recommendations provided for a total increase in the revenue receipts amounting to Rs. 14,94,500 under the heads Licenses from Trade and Profession, 25 per cent. increase of the stall-holder's rent, exemption fees and rent of buildings, etc., sale proceeds of land and a new tax from the owners of vehicles and miscellaneous. A reduction in the expenditure amounting to about Rs. 27,50,000, provision of Rs. 5,27,000 for undertaking new works, Rs. 64,000 for the purchase of 8 lorries for removal of night soil from Cossipur and Manicktolla areas, and a provision of Rs. 50,000 for emergency works, were amongst other main items of the recommendations.

The Committee also recommended that the Government be approached for giving a ways and means advance to the Corporation to the extent of Rs. 5,82,000 to meet the cost necessary for the purchase of motor vehicles and road rollers.

It was also suggested that the Government be approached to pass an enactment investing the Corporation with powers to levy a Town Duty on various goods imported into the City on the same or similar lines as in Bombay, the goods recommended for taxation being coal (not household coke), jute, tea, wines and spirits, cigars, cigarettes and pipe tobacco.

Another recommendation was that a representation be made to the Government reiterating the Corporation's claim for a reasonable share of the receipts from the Amusement and Electricity taxes and for a contribution to the Municipality of 50 per cent. of the Sales Tax realized in Calcutta.

Councillor Dr. S. N. Sinha, Deputy Chairman, Budget Special Committee, who had presided over the Committee meetings, announced at the first day's meeting that the Budget Special Committee could balance the budget without increasing the Consolidated Rate by 2 per cent. as suggested by the Chief Executive Officer.

Councillor W. A. Burns proposed the increase of the Consolidated Rate, as suggested by the Chief Executive Officer but the House, at its sitting for the Second day, rejected Councillor Burn's proposal.

THE FIRST BUDGET AFTER WORLD WAR NO. II

Councillor Dr. S. N. Sinha, while presenting the Budget Estimates as modified by the Budget Special Committee before the House at its meeting on Wednesday, the 20th March, 1946, stated that the Budget Special Committee had closely examined the proposals advanced by the Chief Executive Officer in order to balance the Budget Estimates for the year 1946-47. If they could help it, the Committee felt that they would not add to the burden of taxation of the ratepayers. They avoided increasing the rate not by manipulation but by a judicious scrutiny of the figures supplied by the Departments which were found to be much in excess of their requirements.

Describing the Chief Executive Officer's Budget Estimates, Councillor Dr. Sinha said that the Chief Executive Officer had presented a deficit budget,—deficit to the extent of Rs. 50 lakhs, but which actually was Rs. 66 lakhs. It had been called an extraordinary budget and methods adopted to balance this deficit, namely, by increasing the rate by 20 per cent. yielding about Rs. 10,76,000 and asking from the Government for an advance of Rs. 37,86,000 had also been called extraordinary. Even with this, expenditure exceeded the receipt by about Rs. 16 lakhs.

INCOME OF THE CORPORATION

The average income of the Corporation of Calcutta varies from Rs. 2 crores and 75 lakhs to Rs. 3 crores every year and the average expenditure is near about this figure less Rs. 15 to Rs. 20 lakhs according to the exigencies of the situation. This year the Chief Executive Officer presented the Budget in which the total expenditure was Rs. 4,19,50,200. This figure of total expenditure less Rs. 68 lakhs paid for the dearness allowance comes to a figure of Rs. 3 crores and 56 lakhs against an expected income of Rs. 3 crores only, to be exact Rs. 2,99,27,000.

The Committee, after scrutinizing all the items of expenditure succeeded in curtailing an amount of Rs. 98,42,000 on about 118 items, added Councillor Dr. Sinha. They had also transferred all the loan items from the revenue to the loan budget and a provision for contribution to the loan fund from revenue for financing loan projects of Rs. 12,35,100 had been totally deleted. The principle enunciated by the Budget Committee was accepted by all financial experts and even by the Bengal Government. He further said that on scrutiny the provision of Rs. 1,12,81,000 in the Chief Executive Officer's budget had been reduced by the Special Committee to Rs. 78,67,000.

Dr. Sinha said: "We have reduced the provision of coal by Rs. 2 lakhs taking a rate of Rs. 20 per ton. We have further set apart a sum of Rs. 20,000 for research work in fuel economy so that the question of consumption of coal may be fully discussed by an expert. The Committee has also transferred all the loan items from the revenue to the loan Budget and provision for a contribution to the loan fund from revenue for financing loan projects of Rs. 12,35,100 has been totally deleted.

GOVERNMENT ADVANCE

"In course of a letter the Government informs that if the Corporation finds itself unable to raise loans in the open market to pay for the improvement with regard to the removal of the Chingrihatta platform to Dhappa; the provision of pumping plants at Mullickghat and at Watgung, the provision of scour and air valves for the unfiltered water mains, and the clearing of surface drains in Manicktola Cossigore, Government of Bengal will favourably consider an application for an ad hoc advance for these purposes on the lines of that recently sanctioned for the unfiltered water main."

Dr. Sinha stressed that the statement of the Chief Executive Officer proclaiming that the Corporation was on the verge of financial collapse had a harmful effect on the financial stability of the Corporation.

Councillor Provangan Kumar Sett supported Dr. S. N. Sinha's motion.

Councillor W. A. Burns, in criticizing the recommendations of the Budget Special Committee said that in order to provide a permanent borrowing capacity and a well balanced budget an increase in the rates was essential.

On the first day the House adjourned before the debate had concluded.

SECOND DAY'S SITTING

When the discussion on the recommendations of the Budget Special Committee was resumed on Thursday, the 21st March, 1946, the House rejected the proposal of Councillor W. A. Burns to increase the consolidated rate by 2 per cent. and accepted with slight modifications the budget estimates of the Municipality for 1946-47 as revised by the Budget Special Committee.

MAIN RECOMMENDATIONS FOR REVENUE INCREASE

The following are the important recommendations of the Chief Executive Officer and the Budget Special Committee :—

CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

- (a) 2 per cent. increase in the Consolidated Rate,
- (b) Ways and Means Advance from the Government,
- (c) Introduction of Town Duties,
- (d) Share in the Sales Tax and Betting and Totalizator Tax.

BUDGET SPECIAL COMMITTEE

- (a) Under Section 94 (i) (b) of the Calcutta Municipal Act the following rates, taxes and fees may be levied for the year 1946-47 :—

- (i) Consolidated Rate at $19\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. plus $\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. on account of Howrah Bridge Tax.

- (ii) Dog Tax under Section 178 (2) at Rs. 5 per dog per annum.

- (iii) License and other taxes in accordance with the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1928.

- (b) Under Section 98 of the Calcutta Municipal Act the total amount of Loan to be raised in 1946-47 for capital works may be fixed at Rs. 1,02,19,000.

On a motion moved by Councillor Debabrata Mookerjee, the House requested the Government of Bengal to give an ad hoc advance of Rs. 15½ lakhs to the Corporation in order to carry on urgent and important works of the Corporation.

By another resolution the House urged upon the Chief Executive Officer to place before the Corporation by June, 1946, a statement of all houses, properties in and around Calcutta occupied by His Majesty's Armed Forces or their Allies and the amount of taxes and charges due from them for services rendered by the Corporation.

COUNCILLOR A. A. WISE

Councillor A. A. Wise said that there was no reason before them as to why the consolidated rate should be increased by 2 per cent. Without providing any amenities for the rate-payers they could certainly not burden them with further taxation. Personally he did not recommend that the taxes be increased.

Councillor J. N. Smart remarked that the Budget Special Committee had produced a "dream budget" far removed from the realities of the situation. They had succeeded in balancing the budget by showing an increase in receipts on the one hand, and reduction in expenditure on the other. The Committee, he opined, made over-estimation and underestimation in many respects. Councillor Smart agreed with the Chief Executive Officer that the Corporation was in a state of imminent collapse and supported the proposal to raise the Consolidated Rate by 2 per cent. not as an ideal but as the best thing in the circumstances to keep the administration solvent.

ESTIMATES COMPARED

C. E. O.'S ESTIMATES

Receipts—Rs. 4,08,69,000;
Expenditure—Rs. 4,19,50,000;
Opening balance—Rs. 35,00,000;
Closing balance—Rs. 19,87,000.

COMMITTEE'S ESTIMATES

Receipts—Rs. 3,70,88,000;
Expenditure—Rs. 3,85,86,000;
Opening balance—Rs. 36,22,000;
Closing balance—Rs. 21,74,000.

COUNCILLOR N. C. PAUL

Councillor Nalin Chandra Paul said that the Budget Special Committee had been criticized on various points unjustifiably. He did not see that it would be at all prudent on the part of the Corporation to raise the Consolidated Rate taking into consideration the recent agitation in connection with the enhancement of Sales Tax. He submitted that the recent valuation of properties by the Corporation would fetch an additional income. He also criticised the stepmotherly attitude of the Government to this sister organization like the Corporation of Calcutta.

COUNCILLOR M. A. H. ISPAHANI

Reviewing the Budget Special Committee's recommendations, Councillor M. A. H. Ispahani wondered how it was possible to close their eyes to the proposal of the Chief Executive Officer that the rate should be raised. Taking into consideration the financial side of the Corporation Councillor Ispahani, though personally opposed to such proposal, suggested that the Consolidated Rates should be increased if necessary. He also opposed the sale of Corporation lands.

COUNCILLOR S. C. RAY CHAUDHURI

Councillor S. C. Ray Chaudhuri maintained that they had no right to be in the Corporation if they increased the rate unless they offered equivalent amenities to the rate-payers. They should explore all possible avenues before adopting this course.

COUNCILLOR M. M. BARMAN

Upon the resolution, directing the Chief Executive Officer to place before the Corporation in June, 1946, a complete statement of all houses, properties, and establishments in and around Calcutta occupied by H. M.'s Armed Forces and their Allies and the amounts of taxes and charges for service due from them, Councillor Madan Mohan Barman said that that was a source which would yield revenues to the Corporation.

COUNCILLOR DR. S. N. SINHA

In reply to criticisms of the Committee's recommendations by some members of the House, Councillor Dr. S. N. Sinha, Deputy Chairman, Budget Special Committee, said that he hoped that the Corporation would be in a much more flourishing condition and many urgent improvement works would be undertaken next year. At the end of the year, he assured the House, the Corporation would get more money from Government and instead of a closing balance of Rs. 22 lakhs, as at present, it would probably have a closing balance of Rs. 40 lakhs. The Committee had balanced the budget without raising the consolidated rate and approaching Government for a subvention of Rs. 37 lakhs as suggested by the Chief Executive Officer.

THE MAYOR

The Mayor, Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, congratulated Dr. Sinha and the members of the Budget Special Committee and said that the Committee had removed the scare which had been created among the citizens by the proposal of the Chief Executive Officer to increase the Consolidated Rate. The reduction which it had made on the expenditure side was justified.

"I hope next year I would see that its estimates are proved to be actuals", the Mayor added and suggested that the framers of the revised budget should be taken on the Finance Committee to be able to see that their recommendations were carried into effect.

As stated, the Corporation rejected the proposal of Councillor Burns and adopted the Budget Estimates of the Budget Special Committee.

HUNGER-STRIKE BY A MUNICIPAL EMPLOYEE

When reference was made to the hunger strike resorted to by Mr. B. M. Roy, a shift-engineer at the Mullickghat Pumping Station, at the meeting of the Corporation held on Wednesday, the 20th March Councillor M. A. H. Isphani suggested that the Chief Executive Officer should take immediate steps to remove Mr. Roy either to his house or to a hospital. The Corporation, he said, could not yield to a threat of this kind. They would not be able to maintain discipline or order if they encouraged their employees to hold a pistol at the head of the Corporation in this manner. Mr. Roy should be told that the Corporation could not be intimidated.

If they were to submit to his threat they might as well wind up the administration.

Councillor Nalin Chandra Paul, Chairman of the Services Committee No. I, explained the circumstances which had induced the Committee to reject Mr. Roy's application for promotion. He maintained that there had been no supersession.

The Mayor, Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, while deprecating Mr. Roy's action in resorting to hunger strike, suggested that the Services Committee might review his position in the light of the recent decision of amalgamating the two grades of shift-engineers.

While the meeting was in progress, Mr. Roy left the Corporation premises. It was reported that Mr. Roy had taken this step as a protest against the alleged decision of the Services Committee No. I in regard to the appointment of an outsider in supersession of his claim. He had been lying in a room adjoining the Mayor's chamber since Monday, the 18th March.

A representation had been made before the Mayor who referred the matter to the Chairman of the Committee for report. He also assured the complainant that he would bring the matter before the Corporation at the meeting on Wednesday, the 20th March, and asked him to wait till the Corporation decided one way or the other.

The resignation of his office as a Councillor tendered by Mr. J. H. Methold, prior to his departure for England on leave, was accepted by the House with regrets.

Councillor Methold, who was the leader of the European Group in the House, conveyed in the course of his letter of resignation to the Mayor his "deep appreciation of the sincere co-operation" lent to him by the brother Councillors.

Councillor Methold entered the Corporation in 1941-42.

COUNCILLOR C. W. TASSIE

CALCUTTA CORPORATION AND MILITARY AUTHORITIES

The Hon. Mr. Surput Singh had asked the following questions in the Council of State for reply by the Government of India:—

(a) Whether there is unusual pressure on the resources of all municipal bodies in and about Calcutta by reason of the military occupation of the properties and abnormal use of water, roads, thoroughfares and open lands by them;

(b) If so, whether usual rates and taxes have been regularly paid by the military authorities to the Calcutta Corporation and the different municipalities under whose municipal jurisdiction houses, buildings, open lands and gardens have been occupied by the military personnel within a radius of 25 miles of Calcutta;

(c) The total amount of rates and taxes which has been paid to the Calcutta Corporation by the military during the entire period of the war for the use of the properties owned by the Corporation of Calcutta and private individuals as also of public bodies;

(d) The total amount in rates and taxes which has been paid to the suburban municipalities on behalf of the military for the use and occupation of similar properties within their jurisdiction;

(e) Whether any amount or amounts have been sanctioned by the Central Government for the rehabilitation of the municipal bodies whose resources have been affected by the military use and occupation of lands and properties within their jurisdiction;

(f) Whether the Calcutta Corporation has represented to the Central Government for a grant to make good and repair the roads, drains, etc., damaged and affected by their abnormal use by the military for over six years.

The Hon'ble Mr. A. D. M. Dundas gave the following replies on the 11th March last:—

(a) It is correct to say that as a result of the increase on the number of military personnel in Calcutta area an additional load was thrown on the Municipal Services of the City Corporation and local Municipal bodies.

(b) Rates and taxes remain the liability of the owners but the rent or recurring compensation payable by the military authority to the owners includes an element to cover this liability. They are thus paid by the military indirectly.

(c) & (d) It is not possible to state the total amount of rates and taxes paid indirectly to the Calcutta Corporation or the Suburban Municipalities as no records are available showing the assessments of the many properties requisitioned.

A sum of Rs. 7,200 is being paid annually direct to the Calcutta Corporation by the military authorities in two special areas on account of rates and taxes.

(e) Financial assistance has been given by the centre to certain municipal bodies towards the cost of improvement and maintenance of roads within their jurisdiction and damaged by military traffic upon specific requests received from such bodies for assistance.

(f) No. Sir.

Revision Of Grades And Scales Of Pay For Corporation Employees

Strike Settlement Special Committee Recommendations Adopted With Modifications

WITH certain modifications the recommendations of the Strike Settlement Special Committee was adopted by the Corporation at a special meeting held on Friday, the 15th March.

The Corporation also appointed a Special Committee, called the Grade Reconciliation and Rules Advisory Committee, to go into the cases of omissions, anomalies and discrepancies, which, it felt, had crept into the report of the Strike Settlement Special Committee as also to redress cases of genuine grievances.

The Strike Settlement Special Committee, it may be recalled, was formed in order to implement the terms of settlement arrived at between the Mayor and the Corporation employees regarding the revision of grades, basic rates of wages and other matters in connection with the last general strike of the employees in November last.

The revision of grades and scales of pay, as accepted by the Corporation, and the cost of the additional staff that would be required to give effect to the recommendations, would in the next financial year involve an expenditure of about Rs. 17 lakhs, and it would go on increasing until the grade came into its full application when the total increase of costs might extend to Rs. 25 lakhs approximately.

The Committee suggested a general revision of the existing grades of salary of employees drawing up to Rs. 300 per month on the following principles, provided that the salary of an employee increased on this basis should not go beyond Rs. 300; up to Rs. 30—20 per cent. increase; Rs. 31 to 50—17½ per cent.; Rs. 51 to Rs. 75—15 per cent.; Rs. 76 to Rs. 100—12½ per cent.; Rs. 101 to Rs. 150—10 per cent.; Rs. 151 to Rs. 200—7½ per cent.; and Rs. 201 to Rs. 300—5 per cent.

A recommendation on dearness allowance and food concessions was to the effect that these should not be discontinued on the introduction of the new grades from April, 1946, but should continue as long as the Government would pay a subvention for them, as at present.

As regards free medical treatment of the labour staff, the Committee suggested that the Government should be approached for the establishment of hospitals for labourers and that meanwhile the Gowkhana dispensaries of the Municipality should be kept open exclusively for them at least three hours every day.

GRADE RECONCILIATION AND RULES ADVISORY COMMITTEE APPOINTED

Councillor Nalin Chandra Paul, who moved acceptance of the recommendations, said that whatever might be the result of their revision the existing salary of the present incumbents was not thereby affected. The second objective they had before them was to level up the various grades of the various departments in such a way as to enable the Corporation authorities to transfer one incumbent from one department to another.

Accepting a motion moved by Councillor Sudhir Chandra Ray Chaudhuri, the House appointed a Special Committee called Grade Reconciliation and Rules Advisory Committee to consider all cases of omissions, anomalies, discrepancies and genuine grievances and to send its recommendation within 8 months. The Committee, which has the Mayor as its Chairman, will consist of Mr. W. A. Burns, Mr. Nalin Chandra Paul, Mr. Md. Rafique and Mr. Sudhir Chandra Ray Chaudhuri.

The House also passed a motion moved by Councillor A. A. Wise granting increments to the Corporation Press workers, who called off strike on an assurance from the Special Committee.

MAIN RECOMMENDATIONS

The main recommendations of the Strike Settlement Special Committee, besides those referred to in the above, were as follows:—

UNSKILLED LABOUR STAFF

The standard grade for all unskilled labour staff will be Rs. 18—1-20 inclusive of grain compensation allowance. The present incumbents will enjoy different grades as personal to them to be fixed on the following basis: The present pay plus the grain compensation allowance plus the flat increment of Rs. 3 will be the minimum of the grade and this pay plus Rs. 2 will be maximum pay, the rate of annual increment being Rs. 1.

The benefit of the increase will be given with effect from April 1, 1946 to all the employees the maximum of whose grade is Rs. 300 per month save and except those who had already received a flat rate increment of Rs. 3 from December, 1945 along with the labour staff in the following manner:—

(a) One increment of their existing grade as personal to such employees who have reached the maximum of their grades and whose grades are otherwise restricted by bars. (b) One special increment to others within the grade in addition to usual annual increment.

Excepting those who were or are appointed to meet an emergency, or as substitutes in the places of the regular staff, the whole unskilled labour staff will be deemed as permanent with the privileges of Provident Fund and leave according to the rules to be separately framed for them.

PURCHASE OF THE TRAMWAYS

CONSIDERATION OF INJUNCTION ADJOURNED

The hearing of the application of the petitioner, the Calcutta Tramways Co., Ltd., for an injunction, restraining the respondent, the Corporation of Calcutta, from proceeding with any arbitration in connection with the disputes between them with regard to the purchase of the tramways and the other properties of the petitioner, was adjourned on the 15th March last by Justice Clough of the Calcutta High Court till the 4th April next.

The interim injunctions, already granted, restraining the Corporation from appointing Mr. N. K. Basu, Advocate, as the sole arbitrator, as well as staying all further proceedings in arbitration were directed to continue in the meantime.

SKILLED LABOUR STAFF

The skilled labour staff of every department, viz., Motor Vehicles, Workshops, Health Department, Engineering Department, etc., will be deemed as permanent with separate rules for leave and Provident Fund. For different kinds of skilled work different grades and scales of pay have been recommended. Those skilled labourers of the Pumping Stations and sub-stations who were not provided with any quarters will get Re. 1-8-0 per month as house allowance.

The Committee have recommended that photos of skilled and unskilled labour staff should be kept by the Department concerned for identity and that payment should always be made on taking thumb impression of the payee, identified by a responsible officer of the department, referring to the photos thus kept.

According to the Committee, the labour staff, both skilled and unskilled, will be made permanent from April, 1946 and that they will get the privileges of the Provident Fund from April, 1947 and of the leave rules as soon as Government sanction is obtained to the same.

PRINTING DEPARTMENT

As regards the Printing Department the House accepted the proposals made by Councillor A. A. Wise who along with four others were asked to go into their grievances, following a strike resorted to by them.

GRAIN COMPENSATION ALLOWANCE

The Committee recommends that the grain compensation allowance which was introduced after the first World War should be discontinued with effect from April, 1946 from which date the new grades take effect. The pay of the present staff who are in receipt of this allowance will be fixed in the next grades by including the amounts of this allowance which they are in receipt of.

The Committee has recommended that those who are outdoor workers should be given a distinctive uniform and those who work at night in open air during winter should be given a warm coat or jacket. Both provisions of these uniforms will have to be put off until the cloth situation is normal and the supply becomes easy.

HOUSING AND HEALTH BENEFITS

The Health Officer has been directed that pre-natal and post-natal benefits be given to the female workers according to the provision of the Bengal Maternity Act, 1939 for such cases.

So far as the question of housing of the labour staff is concerned, the Committee states that the Corporation alone could lunch upon any scheme for housing the entire labour staff. The Government have paid its attention to the question of improvement of slums in general. The Chief Executive Officer has been drawing up long-term schemes for improvement of the bustees in general. The Committee, therefore, suggests that the Chief Executive Officer should consider the housing problems of the labour staff of the Corporation as part of this scheme and report it to the Corporation as well as to the Government.

MACHINERIES AND CAPITAL GOODS

The Mayor, Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, informed the House that in the course of a communication addressed to the Corporation the Government of India wanted to know from the Corporation as to the machineries and capital goods which it might require in the near future so that orders might be placed with the Government of India.

The intention of the Government of India was that the purchase prices would be debited against India's sterling balances in England.

The Mayor also informed the House that the Chief Executive Officer in consultation with the Chief Engineer had already prepared a list of such goods costing about Rs. 30 lakhs. He requested the members to give their opinion about the sending of that list to the India Government.

The House directed that the matter be placed before a joint meeting of the Water Supply and Works Standing Committee.

Special Article"Calcutta In War-Time" As Seen By An Englishman

[By B. V. Roy, M.A.]

THE recent World-War II brought to India thousands and thousands of people from all over the world, to proceed to the far-eastern fighting Fronts, or to stay in India itself. They came from England, the United States of America, Canada, Africa, etc., and included British, Americans, Canadians, Australians, Negros (I beg pardon, I mean "Coloured Americans"), West Africans, etc. of all shades of colour ranging from white to brown and black. For all these foreign people, Calcutta had merely been a name, or perhaps many of them had never even heard of such a city as Calcutta. Yet they spent days, weeks or months in Calcutta, going to the Front or coming back from it, for during the War Calcutta was a great base, a huge clearing-house for men, munitions and materials. These "conscripted" armies from foreign lands included all sorts of people from all walks of life, students, professors, solicitors, brick-layers, engineers, etc., and surely among some of them were writers, or at least some possessed with the itch of writing about what they had seen. I was frequently asking myself why it was that, of all these people coming from strange and far-off lands, none had written about their impressions of this great city—Calcutta—in which they had spent at least some of their time. The question has now been answered. In the Strand Magazine, published in London, for the month of October, 1945, has appeared a remarkable article describing Calcutta in War-time, written by an airman, Squadron-Leader A. E. Bates. On reading it, one cannot fail to be impressed by the keen observation as well as command of language possessed by the writer, and I am giving below some extracts from it, with a running commentary.

The title of the article, which is given first place in the magazine, is "Four million plus—the astounding human spectacle known as Calcutta", and the writer begins thus:—

"Not every Englishman could name the second largest city in the British Empire. I doubt whether one Englishman or one American in a thousand would know what is now the fourth largest of Allied cities in terms of population. The answer to both questions is the same, and the answer is not Paris or Chicago or Glasgow or Sydney. The answer is the huge, sprawling, messy, sun-drunk, smelly, sensuous, fantastic anachronism of a city that lies at the mouth of the great Hooghly River in the Bay of Bengal. The answer is Calcutta. It has a population of four million plus."

Proceeding to discuss the population-figure, he rightly concludes that the "huge mass of soldiery" is responsible for the "considerable 'plus' or addition to the already large population. At the same time he sets forth the revolutionary changes brought about by this "mass of soldiery", as well as the violent contrasts" viz.:—

"No one yet seems to have estimated or to have attempted to estimate exactly what this plus means. But it is clear that it is a war time plus; it is accounted for by the huge mass of soldiery of half a dozen nations who but for the war would never be there. This floating army has not only enlarged Calcutta. It has done much to revolutionise it, super-imposing on it not only ways of life but an air that is at once disturbed, fatalistic and volatile. It has altered standards of living and pay in a city where those standards vary between extremes as violent and probably more violent than those of anywhere else on earth. It has increased in the same degree the violence of its already violent contrasts: so that the jeep is parked in Calcutta's Piccadilly side by side with the calf that calmly sucks at the teats of its mother, and the three-mile convoy for the front roars past the ancient Hindu cab-driver who, half-asleep, feeds his horse with a banana. . . . There is over all this city a certain clash of violence. Overcrowded, sun-charged, nervous, unsettled, it gives the impression of seething on the verge of an explosion. It arises from the fact that Calcutta has been a sort of power-house on the edge of the Burma war. . . . In the mind of the fighting man cut-off from civilisation, for up in the jungle, in the hills, in the dusty forward airfields, Calcutta has exercised a magnetism only exceeded in magnetism by the thought of home."

Coming next to Chowringhee, what the writer has to say is not at all complimentary to this famous thoroughfare; he then takes the bus service, train-service and horse-cabs all in turn, and spares none of them:—

"If you want to picture for yourself Chowringhee, Calcutta's equivalent of Piccadilly Circus or Broadway, all you have to do is to picture the main street of a Middle-Western town of 1880 brought slightly, very slightly, up to date. . . . This city of four million plus has only three hotels of European class, one of them closed to the public; it has less than half a dozen restaurants at which it is safe to eat, not courting the Chinese, most of which are excellent but out of bounds. It has a bus service which would have made you laugh your teeth out, if you had seen it in the key-stone comedies of 1915. . . . all of them carrying ten times the number of Indians for which they were designed. It has a train service of slightly later date and similarly over tried capacity. It has horse-cabs which would have appealed to Dickens, who would have adored the small hay stack of feed carried on the dashboard, and the situation in which the driver feeds bananas to the horse while waiting for clients to emerge from the palatial premises of the National Bank of India."

Dealing next with the sanitation of the city, which our Governor Mr. Casey at one time attempted to improve, and to describe which Mahatma Gandhi in his recent visit could find no other adjectives except "dusty and dirty", our writer uses much stronger language:—

"Calcutta's triumph, as the second largest city of the Empire, is its public sanitation. It goes far back beyond the Middle Ages; it mocks the lowest standard of Westernism that you know. Garbage piles up in vast, foul, fly-down stacks along the kerbs of its main shopping streets, to be pawed over for scraps of God knows what, until the whole thing is too revolting for words. The boy from Birmingham or Minneapolis or Montreal sees these things amazed. . . . He begins to call it, even as its own citizens have called it, the filthiest city on earth."

The impression of huge crowds of men, the dense population, next comes in for description, and the viewpoint of the foreigner, specially the white foreigner, is clearly set forth:—

"Probably the only phrase the allied soldier has ever heard about India—India's teeming millions—hits him constantly in the face. Humanity clothes itself into a black mass about him. Where do they live? What do they do? Where do they sleep? Who are they all? They simply surge about him without meaning or identity. They are themselves not only Calcutta's problem, but India's problem: the huge numerical problem of her own people, created and recreated by a fanatical worship of human fertility."

This is all on the surface, but there is another side to Calcutta the writer does not deny:—

"Behind its shopping streets there lies a Calcutta of sleepy, sensuous, opulent charm: . . . a Calcutta of big, cream, sun-bleached houses with windows shuttered by green jalousies, standing in large gardens among flaming bougainvilleas of salmon and vermilion; of old back streets with deep walls of shade; of courtyards shadowed heavily by palm and banana trees; of avenues of shrub trees, not crowded but always bright with Chinese girls, black haired and lovely and serene and cool as ice-cream, riding in rickshaws. Life here in days before Calcutta was invaded by the fighting man must have been exceedingly pleasant."

Coming to another aspect of war, as it affects the morals of the soldiers, spending their time in far away jungles and hills, and only after long and arduous intervals coming to the city, where they can have a brief interlude of "pleasure," the writer is equally frank and forthright, waxing enthusiastic about the "lovely Anglo-Indian girls" and "the still more beautiful Chinese," saying:—

"The die-hards of Calcutta, mostly Scots, will tell you that Calcutta is not what it was They stand amazed, perhaps a little shocked, by the way war has broken down and whipped up into a maelstrom all those taboos and creeds of society and colour that were once so clearly defined and rigidly observed. The fighting man who walks into this city with the dust of Mandalay on his battle dress, has no time for the delicate webs of social distinction. He cannot be bothered with unwritten laws about the colour of a lady's skin. This turns pukka sahibs grey with shame; and pukka memsahibs too.

But the lovely Anglo-Indian girls, whose status war has raised by degrees never possible in peace, and the still more beautiful Chinese, have a singular appeal to a man who has looked for weeks on dust and jungle and dead Japs, and has heard no feminine voice except the voice of solitary actress singing for him, sweet but untouchable, on the platform of an open-air theatre under the stars.

He has no time either for problems of caste distinction, or for those fierce arguments about Hindu and Moslem, Congress and Imperialism, a thousand religious and a million grievances, that bite you everywhere in India with the infuriating prick of mosquitoes.

He brings the clear, simple, powerfully direct attitude of a man who seeks ease after fighting."

Next, he vividly describes the night-scene in Calcutta in an almost romantic vein, and brings his impressions to a conclusion with the remarks that Calcutta "mocks all our western conceptions of life and logic" and that it "eludes analysis":—

"The brooding air of tension seems so lift at night. . . . After darkness comes, rising very quickly off the smoky red horizon like a thick rim of gold, the whole city suddenly has a kind of delicate serenity. By day rickshaws are just rickshaws; by night they prance along the streets jingling small bells, like processions of orange fire-flies. By day the kerb-sellers, are just kerb-sellers, selling cheap books, bananas, pocket wallets and shaving cream. By night, each of them brings out his little lamp, or even a candle screen by a paper-bag or perhaps not screened at all, and sets it on a little pyramid of tangerines, or among the books, or among the slices of melon that it is now too late for anyone to buy, so that hundreds of these golden haloes light up every street. From the centre of the city right out to the smallest suburban bazaar, they burn far on into the night, until even the rickshaw wallahs are asleep and the last possible customer has gone. These thousands of little lights give the whole city, still warm and humid after the heat of day, a kind of Christmas-tree air of mystery and wonder.

And lights also move out of the city: long lighted supply convoys that pound up dusty roads, past rows of dark sleepers who have brought their beds into the open air if they are lucky enough to have a bed at all.

By the metal roads, on either side, run the dusty bullock-tracks and along them go the huge two-wheeled bullock-carts, always too heavily laden, making their night-journeys out of the city.

And as the great 90-foot-long articulated trucks with their dazzling head-lights roar past them, feeding the supply-routes to Burma, you can look down on these heavy, swaying carts and see again and again the same sight. The two bullocks or water-buffaloes strain at the cart piled with sacks, the driver sitting behind the two with candle-lamps swinging under the shafts. On the top of the sacks there is always a tired small boy. Half-asleep and dazzled by the passing headlights, he rouses himself out of his drowsiness to give the bullocks a clout on the rump before he goes to sleep again.

In that small boy rousing himself, sleepy and startled, on a bullock-cart setting out on its journey in the dead of night, and in the noisy and powerful convoys going out to feed the air supply routes, without which a Burma war would never have been fed, or watered, or munitioned, you have the crux of Calcutta's fantastic contrast.

Somehow it mocks all our Western conceptions of life and logic.

It eludes analysis. Didn't someone once say of an Irish Politician that he was like trying to pick up mercury with a fork? Calcutta is also like that. The glitter of its mercurial contrasts never seem to solidify. It shocks and surprises and dazzles you and can never be grasped by the hand. It stands apart, with its crowded and inscrutable millions, from what we fondly call the progress of time."

CALCUTTA NEWS & VIEWSCONGRESS MEDICAL MISSION TO MALAYA

"You are carrying the message of India's sympathy and goodwill to the suffering humanity in a land which may be regarded as the gateway to south-east Asia. That message must reach the remotest hearth and hamlet," said Maulana Abul Kalam Azad, Congress President, addressing the members of the Congress Medical Mission to Malaya at the residence of Dr. B. C. Roy on Wednesday, the 20th March.

The Congress President said that the Mission was ready to start, but it could not go as the necessary help expected from the Government of India regarding transport was not forthcoming. As it appeared that there would be further delay for the steamer to leave Calcutta there was no option left to Congress but to send the Mission by aeroplane at the earliest opportunity. "I would request that the Government of India should at least help us in this regard," the Congress President added.

BENGAL ASSEMBLY ELECTION IN CALCUTTA

About 40 per cent. of the electors in the General (Hindu) constituencies in Calcutta voted on Tuesday, the 19th March, to elect six members to the Bengal Assembly.

Except in a few instances there was little of the excitement ordinarily associated with general elections. In five of the constituencies, the candidates opposing Congress nominees retired and left the field to their rivals. Some activity was noticeable in the Calcutta Central Constituency, where a Congress candidate was opposed by a Hindu Mahasabha nominee and an Independent.

Polling began at 9 a.m. and continued till 5 p.m., with an hour's interval between 12-30 and 1-30 p.m.

In the morning volunteers working on behalf of Congress candidates toured the city in motor cars fitted with loudspeakers, announcing the hours of polling and urging voters to go to their respective polling stations.

Polling was brisk between 9 and 10 a.m. In several of the 87 polling stations long queues of electors waited to record their votes. The proceedings which during the rest of the day were dull became lively again from about 3 p.m. until the closing hour, when there was a rush of voters among whom were many women.

PROTEST AGAINST SALES TAX

Resolutions recording unequivocal protest against the Sales Tax which is oppressing the famine-stricken people of Bengal and urging the Government to repeal this 'iniquitous' tax immediately, were adopted at a largely attended public meeting held at Sradhananda Park on the 16th March last.

Mr. Debatosh Dasgupta presided.

The meeting emphatically protested against the new food ration cut to be introduced from the 18th instant and demanded its withdrawal without any delay.

The meeting also was of opinion that if the ration cut was to be introduced, the Government should first declare their stocks fully, both civil and military, and stop all exports of foodstuffs from the province.

Several speakers including Messrs. Hirendra Chandra Bose, B. Harlalka, Asanul Huq, Sudhir Bose, and Purna Chakravorty addressed the gathering.

BOMBAY-CALCUTTA AIR SERVICE

Tata Air Service's bi-weekly Bombay-Calcutta service will commence from April 1. The first east-bound plane will leave Bombay at 8-15 a.m. on April 1, arrive at Nagpur at 10-55 a.m., leave Nagpur at 11-55 a.m. and arrive at Calcutta at 3-35 p.m.

The first west-bound plane will leave Calcutta on April 2, leaving at 8-15 a.m. and reaching Bombay at 3-35 p.m. with a halt of 40 minutes at Nagpur.

The fare between Bombay and Nagpur will be Rs. 95, Nagpur and Calcutta Rs. 135 and between Bombay and Calcutta Rs. 230.

UNIVERSITY SYLLABUSES TO BE REVISED

It would be his earnest endeavours to take steps to revise the syllabuses of study from the Matriculation to M.A., said Mr. P. N. Banerjee, the new Vice-Chancellor of the Calcutta University, speaking at a reception given him by the All-Bengal Teachers' Association at Indian Association Hall on the 16th March last.

Mr. Banerjee said he was aware of the criticisms made against the syllabuses that they were too heavy and that sufficient importance was not attached to science subjects. The revision of the Syllabuses which he proposed to undertake would be done in the light of these and other criticisms.

In the address of welcome presented to Mr. Banerjee by Mr. Manoranjan Sen Gupta, Secretary of the Association, reference was made to the keen interest always taken by Mr. Banerjee in the well-being of teachers.

HOLI IN CALCUTTA

Holi, one of the most popular of Hindu festivals, was observed in Calcutta on Sunday, the 18th March, in the customary manner. In the morning groups of young men paraded the streets throwing red powder and sprinkling coloured water on one another. Some of the more boisterous youths invaded tramcars and were over-generous in the use of paint.

Police patrol vans toured the city throughout the day. Over 30 persons were arrested for disorderly conduct.

PANDIT NEHRU ON HIS WAY TO MALAYA

Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, on his way to Malaya, arrived in Calcutta from New Delhi by air in the afternoon of Sunday, the 17th March, and later left for Singapore by plane. He was accompanied by Mr. G. P. Huthesingh.

During his brief stay in Calcutta Pandit Nehru accompanied by Dr. B. C. Roy, visited the office of the Congress Medical Mission to Malaya.

A communiqué issued by the Headquarters, South East Asia Command stated that Pandit Nehru arrived at Kalang airfield, on a visit to Singapore and Malaya, on Monday, the 18th March. He went as representative of the Congress Party, and his visit was sponsored by the Viceroy.

Pandit Nehru spent two days in Singapore and the remainder of his visit in Malaya. He investigated the condition of Indian residents in Malaya.

Before his departure from Delhi, Pandit Nehru said that he was going to Malaya to give psychological relief to his countrymen and to find out what other forms of relief were necessary and could be given.

U. S. ARMY G.H.Q. TO BE TRANSFERRED

The General Head Quarters of the U.S. Army in India will, it is learnt, be transferred from Delhi to Calcutta with effect from April 16 next.

A small number of personnel will, however, be left in Delhi to dispose of surplus goods belonging to the U.S. Army.

This step is preparatory to repatriation of troops from India to the U.S.A.

The personnel left in Delhi will reach Calcutta some time in May when they will embark for the U.S.A.

GUEST CONTROL ORDER

As a measure of food economy, there will be no more exceptions to the limit of 50 guests at entertainments imposed by the Guest Control Order, 1943. The issue of permits which enabled this limit to be exceeded has been stopped, writes a Bengal Government Press Note.

Any infringement of this Order is punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to three years or with fine, or with both. Instructions have been issued to the Enforcement Branch to ensure the strict observance of the Order.

NO RATION FOR RELIGIOUS CEREMONIES

In view of the overall shortage of food in the country the Government of Bengal feel that they can no longer continue to make supplies of rationed foodstuffs available for social and religious ceremonies, says a Press Note. Instructions have been issued that no supplies in future will be made available for Bhog and other religious ceremonies.

BUS STRIKE IN THE CITY

All traffic on the Howrah bridge was held up for several hours following the arrest of two bus conductors who were alleged to have beaten a passenger at Howrah Bus stand on the night of the 14th March last.

Dislocation of train service continued till 11 A.M. the next day and from mid-day, there was general suspension of bus service in the city. Bus drivers are determined not to resume their work until their grievances are redressed.

It was reported that the assaulted passenger fainted and was admitted into a hospital.

At about 11-30 p.m. the Police Superintendent, Howrah, accompanied by the District Magistrate, arrived at the spot and parleyed with the bus workers till 2 a.m. but in vain.

The arrested persons were released on personal bonds.

There was a general suspension of bus service in the city.

Bus workers met on the 15th March evening at Haara Park and decided to continue the strike until some satisfactory settlement is arrived at concerning the reductions of fines imposed on some workers by the Sealdah and Banghal Courts.

Over 400,000 citizens of Calcutta daily using buses as a means of transport were seriously inconvenienced on the 16th March last as a result of the strike by the bus conductors and drivers in a protest against "heavy fines imposed by magistrates for minor offences." About 600 buses were involved.

Already overcrowded trams were severely taxed and hundreds had to walk to and from work.

The bus service at Howrah functioned as usual.

TRAIN CRASH ON CALCUTTA-DUM DUM LINE

Twenty-five persons including two railway employees, received minor injuries when 116 Dn. Bongaon local train crashed into the rear of 20 Dn. Lalgola passenger waiting near Kankurgachi Cabin on the Calcutta-Dum Dum section of the B. A. Railway in the morning of the 16th March last.

First aid was given to the injured on the spot after which they were brought to Calcutta for further medical attention. Four of them—S. M. Bose, guard of the Bongaon local, Shahadeo, engine cleaner, Anwar Ali and Khagendra Nath Das, passengers, were admitted to hospital.

Two coaches of the Lalgola passenger were slightly damaged. There was no interruption to traffic. The cause of the accident is under investigation.

CORPORATION EMPLOYEES' ASSOCIATION

CONSIDERATION OF STRIKE COMMITTEE'S REPORT

The Executive Council of the Calcutta Corporation Employees' Association in an emergent meeting held on the 14th March last adopted the following resolutions while considering the report of the Strike Settlement Special Committee.

That in consideration of the present financial position of the Corporation and as the report of the Strike Settlement Special Committee is hopelessly dissatisfactory, the question of revision of grades of the employees contributing to the Provident Fund be postponed for three months and referred back to the Committee to review the whole case 'denovo.'

That all employees of the Corporation drawing up to Rs. 300 per month, be granted an increase of pay by 10 per cent. of their substantive pay with effect from 1st April, 1946, subject to a minimum of Rs. 3 as the total cost involved will be much less than Rs. 17,00,000 provided by the Committee in the shape of revision of grades.

That the Executive Council further feels that if the resolutions are not given effect to the growing dissatisfaction amongst the employees might lead to a drastic action affecting sudden dislocation of the city's essential services.

CALCUTTA SLUMS—WHOSE RESPONSIBILITY?

"The sight of Calcutta slums is positively a nightmare. In fact, these slums are a standing disgrace. I am ashamed that these things should be happening in India when we have been there for over 150 years. The other pitiable and terrible sight, Indian women, children and workers from jute mills, is so incredible that I have no word to express my disgust at our rule. I only hope when we clear out—clear out we must—there will usher in an era in India of social, economic and industrial development that will make that great country one of the magnificent in the world."

This is the opinion of Mrs. Nichol, a member of the Parliamentary Delegation, who had visited India sometime ago, at a recent India League meeting at London. Mrs. Nichol's assessment of the responsibility for such slums in Calcutta (and in other parts of the country) will surely absolve the Calcutta Corporation from the ultimate "disgrace" and the ultimate responsibility for the existence of such pitiable things within the precincts of a city.

IMPROVEMENT OF CITY SANITATION

Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, Mayor of Calcutta, has issued the following statement:—

"I want to draw the attention of the public to an arrangement which has recently been made for an all-round inspection, at least twice a week, of the different wards of the city, by officers named below, for improving the conservancy, checking and wastage of filtered and unfiltered water and sanitation. The rate-payers are requested to co-operate with the staff and to make this attempt a success. They may draw the attention of those inspecting officers to any of the grievances for their redress, in consultation with the Councillors of the Wards concerned.

TRACES OF ROMAN TOWNSHIP IN INDIA AND ENGLAND

Important archaeological discoveries purporting to extend the scope of the Roman Empire to the east coast of India continue, according to a French Press agency report from Pondicherry, French India.

The agency said traces of a Roman town dating to the second century before Christ can be found near the gates of Pondicherry. Mosaics and statues and pottery distinguished the town as Roman.

Signs of a lost city built by the Romans 1,800 years ago have been revealed in the heart of the blitzed streets of Leadenhall Market, London. The excavations are being carried on by W. F. Grimes, the Keeper of the London Museum.

With the help of four volunteers, he is excavating a site in Billter Avenue near Leadenhall Street.

SHILLONG MUNICIPAL BUDGET

The Shillong Municipal Boards' Budget for 1946-47 shows the estimated receipts with the opening balance to be Rs. 8,66,880 against the estimated expenditure of Rs. 8,42,900. The receipts show an increase of Rs. 85,590 over the receipts for 1945-46 and the expenditure for the ensuing year shows a decrease of Rs. 20,000 over the estimated expenditure for that year.

In the expenditure side, charges on general administration, collection, lighting and water-supply account for a little over a lakh of rupees, conservancy accounts for Rs. 1,09,500, hospital and sanitation for about Rs. 10,000, Fire-brigade Rs. 2,900, public works Rs. 41,000, Drainage Rs. 15,500, contribution to schools and other charitable purposes Rs. 92,000 besides other miscellaneous items.

The municipality has projects for a large-scale municipal market and a sewerage scheme for which money is proposed to be raised by realising premium and advances rent amounting to a total of about Rs. 4½ lakhs.

HOWRAH MUNICIPAL BUDGET

The Howrah Municipality has framed its Budget for 1946-47, at an estimated receipts of Rs. 89,82,185 and an estimated expenditure of Rs. 89,16,703.

The total receipts provided in the draft Budget had been Rs. 84.97 lakhs but the Commissioners increased the amount to Rs. 89.82 lakhs. The total expenditure as provided in the draft budget was Rs. 84.88 lakhs which was increased to Rs. 89.10 lakhs. The total receipts under consolidated rates are estimated at Rs. 25.50 lakhs for 1946-47 as against Rs. 21 lakhs provided for during the current year. Important provisions for public utility include; Rs. 8.20 lakhs for road repairs; Rs. 115,000 for improvement of burial grounds and burning ghats; Rs. 10,000 for purchase of ambulance; Rs. 10,000 for road watering cars; Rs. 15,000 and Rs. 13,000 for construction of pucca drains and improvement of parks respectively. Rs. 8,13,000 for expenditure has been on account of dearness allowance to employees out of Rs. 1,32,000 accounts for the increment of Rs. 2 per month recently sanctioned by the municipality to a large number of its employees. The Government have sanctioned a subvention of Rs. 50,000 per month of this account.

The claims of damages to municipal roads by heavy military traffic during the last five years amount to Rs. 14,00,000. The claim for accumulated contribution to the credit of the municipality in the hands of the Government out of the motor vehicles tax fund nearly amount to Rs. 2,00,000. The claim for compensation for requisition of all road rollers and road watering lorries during the period of war amounts to Rs. 1,00,000. Rents due for occupation of municipal lands for godown amounts to Rs. 40,000.

CORRECTIONS

In the advertisement of the BANK OF INDIA LTD., published in the Calcutta Municipal Gazette of the 16th March last, please read Rs. 1,83,33,550 as the corrected figure for the Reserve Fund instead of the figure that appeared. The readers are also requested to note that £ 800,000 would be the correct figure for the Reserve Fund of the EASTERN BANK LTD.

It is regretted that the above mistakes somehow crept in through inadvertence.

CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

The Corporation decided to issue advertisements inviting applications for the post of the Chief Executive Officer and directed Services Standing Committee No. I to settle the terms of the advertisement and forward the same to the Corporation for approval.

The term of office of the present incumbent, Mr. Sailapati Chatterji expires on the 29th December, 1946.

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY BUILDINGS

The Corporation directed the Chief Executive Officer to file a suit in the High Court in the dispute pending between the Corporation and the Government of Bengal regarding assessment of the Bengal Legislative Assembly buildings at No. 6, Esplanade Row, West.

Even after protracted correspondence and negotiations lasting for more than 12 years the Government did not agree to pay the Consolidated Rates in respect of the said premises (excluding the triangular piece of land on which the statue of Lord Bentinck stood). This information was received by the Corporation through a Government communication, dated the 21st January, 1946.

Later, however, the Government agreed to pay any claims which the Corporation might wish to prefer for services rendered by it to the Council House but at the same time also intimated that the Corporation was not entitled to assess the Council House, being situated beyond the limits of the Corporation.

The Council House together with the land measuring about 31 bighas appertaining to it was for the first time assessed to the consolidated rate at an annual valuation of Rs. 3,10,100 with effect from the 1st quarter of 1931-32. The Executive Engineer, 1st Calcutta Division, objected to the said assessment on the ground, among others, that the land on which the building had been built was maidan land and within the Fort William zone and was not ordinarily assessable.

With this disputed assessment was mixed up the question of ownership of a triangular plot of land measuring about 1 bigha 5 kottahs 5 chittacks on which the statue of Lord Bentinck formerly stood, but which Government had enclosed inside the compound of the Council House. The Corporation claimed that this plot was within the municipal limits of Calcutta and that the proprietary right in the plot was vested in the Corporation. In terms of our agreement, dated the 21st August, 1941, with the Government of Bengal the dispute relating to the triangular plot was referred to the arbitrator, Sir Asoka Roy, then Advocate-General, Bengal, who gave his award on the 23rd September, 1942, all in our favour.

But the dispute regarding the assessment of the entire premises excluding the triangular plot was not settled.

The report of the Assessor to the Corporation states among other things :—

"An esplanade is an open space between city and citadel, separating fortress from town. When the premises in question was allowed to be built over and appropriated to non-military purposes, for practical purposes it ceased to be part of the Esplanade and if it ceased to be part of the Esplanade, it must have come inside the municipal limits of Calcutta and should, therefore, be liable to the consolidated rate. Whatever force there might be in this connection, it had not been tested in a court of law.

"By virtue of Section 172 of the Government of India Act, the said premises is vested in the Province of Bengal for the purposes of the province. It has ceased to be part of the Esplanade."

The consolidated rates in respect of the said premises (excluding the triangular piece of land on which the statue of Lord Bentinck stood) from the 1st quarter of 1931-32 to the fourth quarter of 1936-37 was fixed at ten per cent. of the annual value having regard to the services rendered.

From the first quarter of 1937-38 onwards full rates were charged.

INFECTIOUS DISEASES HOSPITAL

The Corporation approved the Bengal Government proposal to build the Infectious Diseases Hospital for Calcutta and its suburbs on Beliaghata Main Road. The Government proposed to proceed immediately with the acquisition of the site for the establishment of the hospital.

EXTRA SMALL-POX BEDS

The House sanctioned the total expenditure of Rs. 51,754 incurred in connection with maintenance of extra small-pox beds in the Campbell Hospital from the 22nd December, 1944 to the 15th April, 1945.

CORPORATION PRESS STRIKE

The Corporation decided that the strike period from the 10th November, 1945, to the 22nd November, 1945, of the Compositors and Distributors of the Corporation Press be treated as leave with pay.

The Compositors and the Distributors of the Press went on strike on 10th November, 1945, and the general strike of all the employees of the Corporation was started on 23rd November, 1945. Both the strikes lasted up to 27th November, 1945. The Corporation, on 26th and 28th November, 1945, resolved inter alia that the period of strike from the 23rd November, 1945, to 27th November, 1945, be considered as leave with pay but mentioned nothing about the Press strike which was called off on Mayor's assurance to the President of the Press Employees' Union to the effect that the pay for their strike period from the 10th November, 1945 to the 22nd November, 1945, would be paid.

HOUSING CONSERVANCY STAFF

Regarding the retention of the rented pucca houses for accommodation of the conservancy coolies the House asked the Chief Executive Officer to inform the Government that the Corporation "strongly feels that the Government should continue paying rents in respect of the premises till alternative accommodation is found."

The Government had last written to the Corporation informing :—

(1) That the Government will not be responsible for payment for occupation of these houses in post-war period;

(2) That the Corporation should arrange for payment with effect from 1st February, 1946, in case these premises be retained by the Corporation;

(3) That the power of requisition by the Government under Defence of India Rules will only continue up to 1st October, 1946, and

(4) That if the Corporation decide to retain these premises, efforts (by the Corporation) should be made to secure leases, wherever possible.

The disposal of the labour staff was necessary as a measure of safety during the war, for which the Government helped the Corporation to requisition lands and buildings for housing, particularly the conservancy labourers.

BENGAL SLUM IMPROVEMENT ACT

The House directed that the reports of the Chief Law Officer and the Chief Valuer and Surveyor on the Bengal Slum Improvement Act be recorded.

The following difficulties have been pointed out by the Chief Valuer and Surveyor in the way of the preparation and execution of the scheme of improvement as contemplated in the Act :—

Section 5

(a) There is no provision in this Section to publish the final scheme and estimate in the official Gazette or at the office of the local authority although there is provision to publish the same at the draft stage. This should be done by a bye-law.

(b) There should also be a provision for slight modifications of the scheme if it is found necessary during the operation say within 10 per cent. of the estimated cost without which difficulties may arise during execution of the scheme. This may be done by the amendment of the section or by a bye-law.

(c) In the Act there is no definite direction when to take up the approved scheme for execution similar to section 4 directing the Local Authority to take up preparation of scheme after the declaration of Slum Area under section 3. This should be made clear.

Section 8.

This section contemplates that the Local Authority shall maintain no account of the realization of the apportioned cost of the scheme as well as cost of maintenance from the respective owners, to be finally adjusted after a period of 12 years. It is a very difficult task for the Local Authority to do so inasmuch as it shall have to submit a statement of account of unrealized dues from the owners when the Provincial Government shall pay half the unrealized amount to write off the account finally. The implication is that the Local Authority shall bear the other half of the irrecoverable dues.

Section 10.

This section provides notice to be served on the occupiers of huts to vacate them. After the huts are vacated by the occupiers either voluntarily or by suits under sub-section 3 the owner shall be in possession of the same. But there is no provision of notice to be served on the owner of huts before they are demolished though there is provision of notice to the occupiers (vide Section 10 (1)). This anomaly should be regularised either by amendment or by a law.

Besides there is a provision by which the Local Authority can demolish the huts but in disputed cases of compensation it is rather undesirable for the Local Authority to demolish the same before any award is given in accordance with the provision under Section 11. The Local Authority has no power to make any award for compensation.

There is a mistake in the print in the line 5 of this section. Section 12 should be Section 13.

This Section excludes Section 359 along with others of the Calcutta Municipal Act from its operation. The effect is that no owner shall be allowed to convert his land which falls within the declared Slum Area to building site or to utilise the same for any other purposes than bustee so long the declaration of Slum Area under Section 3 is in force. This will give rise to many complications. I suggest a saving clause in the following lines may be added to this section by way of amendment:—

"Notwithstanding anything contained in Section 21 if the owner by an application to the Local Authority intends to take his land out of the category of declared Slum Area the Local Authority after hearing such objections shall send their recommendation to the Provincial Government for such orders as it may deem fit to pass."

The opinion of the Chief Law Officer may be given as follows:—

Under Section 4 of the Act, the Provincial Government may authorize any local authority within the jurisdiction of which a particular slum area is situated to prepare a scheme for the improvement of such area together with an estimate of the cost for execution of the scheme. Sub-Section (3) of Section 4 provides for the contingency of such local authority not taking up and completing the preparation of such scheme and estimate within a reasonable time and imposes in mandatory terms a duty or obligation on the local authority to take up and complete the preparation of the scheme and estimate within such time as may be specified by Government. Although there is no provision in such terms imposing a duty or obligation on the local authority to execute and complete the scheme prepared by it, the provisions which follow, in particular the provisions of Sections 6, 9 and 12, by necessary implication impose such obligation or duty on the local authority authorised to prepare the scheme.

As will be seen from below the Statute places on the local authority concerned a heavy financial burden, which it is hardly possible for them to bear in these days of financial stringency. Section 9 provides in mandatory terms that all charges and expenses incurred by a local authority in executing an approved scheme shall be paid out of the local fund of such authority. The provisions of Section 6, which makes the owners of the land and other immoveable property in a slum area liable for the actual cost incurred by a local authority in executing an approved scheme and provides for recovery of such costs from them, clearly indicate that the local authority are under an obligation to incur the costs in executing the scheme whether or not the apportioned amounts have been paid by or recovered from the owners as provided in Sub-Sections (3) and (5) of that Section. (Mark the words "incurred" and "shall be borne at the beginning of the Section). The local authority have to go on incurring costs and paying same out of the municipal fund, without waiting for payment by or recovery from the owners of the land etc.

In a case where the owners of the land are unable to bear the entire amount of the actual cost of the scheme, a further liability is imposed on the local authority, in that they have to bear a share not exceeding 25 per cent. of the costs. The saving feature in this connection is that the local authority concerned have been made judge of the question whether the owners are so unable (vide Section 7).

Section 8 provides that if after expiry of twelve years from the date of completion of any approved scheme, any amount remains unrealized from the owners, such amount shall be written off as irrecoverable. The result is that the local authority have to meet the whole of such unrealized costs out of the local fund, unless the Provincial Government chooses, after such enquiry as it may deem necessary, to pay to the local authority half of the amount so remaining unrealized.

Having regard to the above, the main difficulty in the way of the Corporation (if and when authorised under Section 4) exercising the powers under the Bengal Slum Improvement Act, 1945, appears to be financial. It is a matter for serious consideration how to find funds to carry out and complete a scheme in respect of a slum area which may be entrusted to the Corporation.

On the matter of how to exercise powers and functions vested in the Corporation under the provisions of the Bengal Slum Improvement Act (Bengal Act XVI of 1945) the House resolved:—

I. That powers, duties and functions vested in the Corporation under the Bengal Slum Improvement Act, 1945, be delegated to the Roads and Bustees Standing Committee subject to reservation that the decisions of the Committee in regard to all matters dealt with by them, shall be subject to confirmation by the Corporation.

II. That the Committee do consider the anomalies and deficiencies in the Bengal Slum Improvement Act as pointed out by the Chief Law Officer and the Chief Valuer and Surveyor and suggest amendments to the Act with a view to their removal.

COUNCILLOR A. C. BANERJEE

The Corporation re-appointed Councillor A. C. Banerjee to represent it on the Bengal Smoke Nuisances Commission up to 31st March, 1947.

The Corporation at its meeting held on the 27th July, 1945, had nominated Councillor Banerjee to represent it on the said Commission for the year 1945-46.

CHARGES FOR CREMATION ARTICLES

The House allowed to continue till the 30th September, 1946, the revised Schedule of rates for the supply of cremation articles and the charges for the services of Brahmins, Domes, etc., at the different burning ghats of Calcutta.

A NEW MEDICAL COLLEGE

The House expressed satisfaction at the proposal for establishment of a temporary Medical College at the Lakes, as embodied in Government letter, dated the 19th January, 1946. The House also felt that the institution would be a great boon to the citizens of South Calcutta, where there was no such medical institution at present.

CHOLERA DEATHS ON THE INCREASE

Recorded deaths of paupers numbered 99 against 82 in the preceding week.

TAKING OVER OF A NEW ROAD

Upon the resolution adopted by the Works Standing Committee on the 26th June, 1944, the House decided to take over from the Calcutta Improvement Trust, under Section 65 of the Calcutta Improvement Act, the roads in Scheme No. XLIV Diagonal Road between Grey Street and Nimtolla Ghat Street generally known as Ahiritolla Diagonal in Ward Nos. 2 and 3 under certain conditions.

RELEASE OF THE TOWN HALL

After considering the communication received from the Secretary, Government of Bengal, Department of Health and Local Self-Government regarding the release of the Town Hall, the House resolved that the Government be informed that either they should make arrangements for keeping the paintings in the Victoria Memorial Hall until such time as the Town Hall remained in occupation of the Rationing Office or if they failed to make such arrangements the Town Hall should be given back to the Corporation.

It may be recalled that on the motion of Councillors Kaviraj Satyabrata Sen and M. L. Khemka, the Corporation at its meeting, dated the 2nd January, 1946, resolved that in view of the fact that the Secretary and Curator, Victoria Memorial Hall, has sent a letter asking the Corporation to remove their paintings from the Memorial Buildings, Government be requested to vacate the Town Hall early for the accommodation of those paintings. This resolution was conveyed by the Chief Executive Officer to the Government in the Department of Health and Local Self-Government with a request to take up the matter with the appropriate authorities with a view to the early release of the Town Hall.

ANTI-CHOLERA CAMPAIGN

CORPORATION HEALTH PUBLICITY OFFICER'S STATEMENT

The Health Publicity Officer, Calcutta Corporation, writes: "Cholera is taking a heavy toll of life in the city every week. The Publicity Department of the Corporation of Calcutta has organized anti-cholera campaign to prevent the spread of this fell disease. Authorities of the educational institutions, social service organizations, clubs and physical culture associations are requested to organize anti-cholera campaign meetings in their respective localities to educate the public on the prevention of Cholera.

Handbills and posters on cholera for such meetings and distribution among the students or members may be had from, and magic lantern lectures and cinema shows will also be arranged, free of cost, by the Publicity Department. Please write or phone to the following address:— College Street Market, North Block, Phone B.B. 1029.

Wednesday, the 27th March, passed a resolution requesting the Government to revise their decision within two months. Meanwhile, the Chief Executive Officer was authorized to take legal opinion.

Failing to get a satisfactory reply from the Government within the period, the matter was directed to be referred to arbitration or a suit filed in the High Court "in order to bring a finality to this old outstanding dispute between the Government and the Corporation."

The Deputy Mayor, Mr. Shamsul Haque was in the chair.

The scheme, it may be recalled, was executed by the Corporation out of loans raised for the purpose at a cost of Rs. 42,12,000 involving about Rs. 73,000 as annual recurring charges.

The Corporation had requested the Government to pay 70 per cent. of the capital cost and 50 per cent. of the annual maintenance cost.

The Government in their reply to the Corporation's request for a contribution stated that they had no statutory liability in the matter and that the authority that constructed the channel must provide relief for the block to natural drainage that the new channel created.

"The Government do not admit the position that it is open to a local authority to carry out a capital scheme on its own responsibility from its own loan funds and subsequently put in a demand for the transfer to provincial revenue of a part of the cost. They are neither prepared to admit responsibility for the silting up of the Bidyadhari river, used for outfall purposes by the Corporation, nor do they agree to contribute to the scheme on the grounds that it serves to a greater extent than anticipated for drainage of surrounding land, for it is obvious that where a new banked channel is constructed cutting across an existing drainage basin, the authority that constructs it must provide relief for the block to natural drainage which the new channel creates."

The Chief Executive Officer in his report to the Corporation on the Government's letter, recommended that the responsibility of the Government in maintaining the outfall river system should be legally clarified.

RATIONS FOR DOMESTIC SERVANTS

Councillor Jogindra Lal Saha, referring to the cut in food rations, suggested that the Government should allow the same quantity of rice and atta to the domestic servants and cooks as had been sanctioned for labour.

The Deputy Mayor, Mr. Shamsul Haque, said that the Chief Executive Officer would write to the Government on the subject.

TINS OF CONDEMNED "BUTTER" MISSING

As a matter of urgent public importance Councillor H. K. Ganguli demanded of the Chief Executive Officer a clarification of the actual state of things in respect of the alleged disappearance of 200 tins of condemned butter which were placed at the disposal of the Corporation by the military department for destruction.

The Chief Executive Officer said that the matter was two or three years old, and he had, therefore, to draw on memory. As far as he remembered it was taken that the quantity in question had already been destroyed but, subsequently, it was found that it had not been so done but was missing. The whole thing, along with the conduct of the officer concerned, was referred to the Services Standing Committee No. I. It hung with the Committee for a good length of time.

In view of the fact that there was much agitation in the city about the news, Councillor Mohamad Rafique said that it was desirable to have a statement issued by the Chief Executive Officer on behalf of the Corporation within the next seven days:

The Chief Executive Officer said that he would submit a report to the Mayor.

Councillor Nalin Chandra Paul, Chairman of the Services Standing Committee No. I, said that curiously enough the item had been withdrawn from the department and it did not find any place in the agenda.

The Chief Executive Officer said that it was done so without his knowledge and permission.

Councillor M. A. H. Ispahani expressed his amazement at the situation. He was of opinion that the matter was so serious that it did not brook any delay. He said "To-morrow we want a full statement from the Chief Executive Officer, and I think he will take all necessary steps to prepare a statement regarding the affair and place it before the House. People talk about this, and this is a most serious charge. It is necessary that facts should be placed before the public."

Councillors Sudhir Chandra Ray Chaudhuri, Kaviraj Satyabrata Sen and Bejoy Kumar Banerjee also demanded the full story of the case.

CONDOLENCE

The Corporation condoled the death of Mr. Bankim Behari Das, father of the martyr Jatindra Nath Das.

HEALTH & HYGIENE

Cholera Epidemic In Calcutta

CHOLERA was officially declared to be epidemic in the city from the week ended the 16th March. There were 88 deaths against 80 the week before, while attacks numbered 74 against 60. During the corresponding two weeks last year, attacks were 115 and 113 and deaths 54 and 47.

"A great many things will have to be done if we are to bring cholera under complete control in the second city of the empire," says Dr. M. U. Ahmad, Health Officer, Calcutta Corporation.

"February to July is the cholera period in Calcutta. The peak of mortality is ordinarily reached in the month of March.

"During the fortnight ended Saturday, March 9, 1946, there were 117 cholera attacks in the city of which 61 proved mortal.

"In 1907 there were 8,808 deaths by cholera and in 1919 there were 8,688. The city population then was just a million.

"This death rate," Dr. Ahmad declared, was brought down to a few hundreds per year. But it suddenly rose again in the last two years as an aftermath of famine, pestilence and destitution.

"The vast influx and efflux of the city population on the wake of the Pacific War also added to the rise in mortality by cholera.

"There were, consequently, 2,178 cholera deaths in 1943-44 and 1,606 in 1944-45. Death rate rose to 150 a week in March, 1944 and to 190 a week in March, 1945."

"We have ordinarily facilities to cover a normal peacetime population of 1,500,000 but the present strength is about 4,000,000.

"Also we should consider the thousands of pilgrims who pass through Calcutta all the year round bringing all sorts of epidemics with them. "The fact that Calcutta is a big port also adds to our problems."

Dr. Ahmad has catalogued the following measures that he deems necessary to prevent the recurrence of the epidemic in the city;

"The use of unfiltered water by the people must stop.

"Quicker and better methods of garbage removal must be introduced and the city must keep tidy and clean all the 24 hours.

"All the 50,000 bucket privies must be done away with, and flush system must be introduced throughout the city.

"Municipalities adjoining Calcutta must be armed with sufficient technical skill, finance and other facilities to remove from their midst epidemic-generating eye-sores."

ANOTHER PLAGUE CASE

A woman named Iaytun (25) was brought down to Calcutta from Ishapore, suffering from plague, and was admitted some days ago into the Campbell Medical Hospital. It was a case of imported plague and is kept in a separate room in the hospital for treatment.

It may be recalled that about a month ago another up-country man was brought down to Calcutta from Mirjapore suffering from the same disease. He was also kept in a separate room in the hospital for treatment and after about four days' treatment the patient expired.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

PULSE GRINDING MILLS & TUBERCULOSIS

TO THE EDITOR, "CALCUTTA MUNICIPAL GAZETTE"

Dear Sir,—I have repeatedly sought to draw the attention of the Corporation authorities to the unhealthy atmosphere created by the pulse grinding machines situated at the Aheritola Street and Durmahatta 1st Lane, but with little effect. The dust thrown up in the air by these machines is a great source of harm to the health of the people of those localities and may probably be one of the causes of the attack and spread of Tuberculosis, which the authorities profess to try to exterminate from the city. I understand that the Corporation have cancelled the licenses of some of the grinders and dealers but they are still functioning as before. One wonders if the Corporation authorities are satisfied that they have done all they could do in the matter of stopping this nuisance and have nothing more to do. On behalf of the poor public and specially of the people of the localities I beg to draw the attention of the Mayor, Aldermen and Councillors of the Corporation and also of the Bengal Tuberculosis Association and the Director of Public Health, Bengal, to this long standing nuisance,—Yours etc.,

TARA PROSAD BANERJEE,

COMMERCIAL MUSEUM

TO THE EDITOR, "CALCUTTA MUNICIPAL GAZETTE."

SIR,—It is distressing to think that there are people who see no use in the existence of the Commercial Museum of the Corporation of Calcutta.

In the Calcutta Municipal Gazette of March 2, 1946, Mr. Natabar Datta summarily pronounced his opinion that the Commercial Museum should be abolished as, in his eyes, it served no useful purpose to the rate-payers.

We are really sorry for this gentleman, who obviously derived no inspiration or benefit from the Commercial Museum. Yet this establishment has become the object of attention for every large city throughout India for its services as a first-class centre of all-round general adult education in every sphere, such as commercial, industrial, public health, general information and civic sense. When we were hoping that this ideal of the Museum be spread to every large mufassil town and city throughout India, to give an impetus to Indian business and industrial development, this rather unfortunate observation of Mr. Datta came upon us.

What, we wonder, is his conception of the functions of the Corporation? Simply to extort taxes and build roads? If these are the only functions of a municipality, then Mr. Datta ought to carry his argument to its furthest conclusion ending in the argumentum ad absurdum of closing down the primary schools, public health department, municipal hospitals, ambulance services and many other functions as items resulting in waste of public funds serving no useful purpose to all rate-payers:

The Commercial Museum with its several sections dealing with publicity, propaganda reference on Public Health, Industries, Statistics, Indian Manufactures and Industrial Enterprises, with a well-stocked library and frequent popular lectures and other publicity arrangements, becomes a most valuable asset to the city and an interesting rendezvous for the citizens. After all, the Commercial Museum is self-supporting to a considerable extent, as every manufacturer represented in the Museum has to pay a monthly rent for its upkeep.

We do not see what grudge Mr. Datta harbours against this unique institution of Calcutta, which made him air his hostile views about it. However, as an industrialist, I hope that better sense will prevail among Calcutta's citizens so as not to tolerate the abolition of this splendid institution founded on the initiative of Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose,—Yours etc.

RABINDRANATH MEMORIALAPPEAL FOR FUNDS

Mr. S. C. Majumdar, General Secretary, All-India Rabindranath Memorial Committee, has issued the following:—

"The next anniversary of the birthday of Rabindranath Tagore falls on May 8 (Baisakh 25). As the day approaches, we are once more reminded that our obligations to our national Poet still remain unredeemed. We have so far been able to collect only Rs. 12,19,116-9-10 for the Fund which was started for the perpetuation of his memory. This amount, however, is quite inadequate to fulfil the objects which the All-India Rabindra Memorial Committee has in view.

"The amount so far collected has not come up to expectations. It represents mostly small sums—even one or two-anna donations from the poor; response from the wealthier has not as yet been so encouraging. It would be a matter of profound regret if for lack of funds we fail to accomplish the Memorial in a worthy manner.

"Our aim is to reach the figure of Rs. 25 lakhs by the Poet's next birthday. With the co-operation of everybody we may yet hope to achieve this target. We appeal once more to our countrymen to come forward and help us generously in this great cause.

"All contributions will be thankfully received by the General Secretary, All-India Rabindra Memorial Committee, 6/8, Dwarkanath Tagore Lane or 1, Burman Street, Calcutta."

They were Dr. B. N. Basu, Deputy Director of the Mission, and his personal assistant.

Other members of the Mission are awaiting transport by boat, for which repeated representations have been made to the Government of India.

It has been arranged that medical supplies and equipment as well as ambulance cars which the Mission are to take out to Malaya will leave on 6th April by cargo boat.

In order to prevent the Metropolitan from entering the Church the demonstrators lay at the entrance of the Church and shouted slogans.

It is stated that a number of Indian Christians under St. Paul's Church observed January 23 and 26 as Netaji Day and Independence Day respectively. It is learnt that the Lord Bishop, in course of a letter to Mr. S. K. Biswas, stated to be the representative of these young men, expressed his disapproval of the act. It was further stated that the letter contained some insinuations against the Azad Hind Fauj.

This caused some disaffection amongst the Indian Christians and they resolved to demonstrate against the Lord Bishop so that no service could be held at the Church on Sunday morning.

Of the total accidents, 775 occurred in January resulting in 28 deaths and 374 persons being injured. February's figures show a slight decrease.

Military lorries were responsible for 36 deaths and 235 cases of injury during the two months. The figures for civilian lorries were 6 killed and 123 injured. The number of persons killed and injured by buses were 5 and 45, respectively, and 119 persons were injured in accidents in which private cars were involved. 4 persons lost their lives and 37 received injuries in accidents caused by unidentified vehicles.

Tramcars were involved in some 415 accidents during the two months.

GOVERNMENT MEASURE AGAINST STREET ACCIDENTS

Several military trucks were set on fire and damaged by a crowd in Chittaranjan Avenue, North Calcutta, in the morning of the 22nd March last, following an accident in which seven-year-old boy was run over by a lorry and killed.

A Bengal Government Press Note stated that prompt and effective measures taken by the military authorities had resulted in the tracing of the driver of the vehicle said to have been involved in the fatal accident and that steps were already being taken for proper investigation into the case.

If a charge against the driver was established he would be duly prosecuted.

"Government desire to make it clear that both they and the military authorities will take every step to fix responsibility for accidents of this nature, and give an assurance that in every case where, after due investigation, it is found that there is reason to believe that the driver, civilian or military, of any vehicle involved is criminally liable, prompt steps will be taken to bring the offender to trial in the proper manner.

"Government make it equally clear that they cannot tolerate senseless and unlawful acts of damage or destruction to other vehicles by irresponsible crowds and cannot permit "mob law" to take the place of established law."

DISTURBANCES IN CALCUTTA ELECTION

One man was killed and over 150 injured on Sunday, the 24th March, in clashes during the polling for the election of two members from the labour constituencies of Calcutta and Howrah. Of the injured 65 were admitted to hospital. As a result of the disturbances many voters failed to exercise their franchise. Armed police vans patrolled the localities in which polling booths had been set up.

About 20 persons were injured in stray cases of assault and minor disturbances in different parts of Calcutta and suburbs on Monday, the 25th March, in connection with the Bengal Assembly Election.

Tension prevailed throughout the days in Bowbazar area where three persons were assaulted on Bowbazar Street near the hospital and office of the Communist party.

Five persons were injured in a scuffle between two parties of workers of the Oriental Gas Company.

GERMANS APPLY FOR CZECH CITIZENSHIP

More than 10,000 Germans have applied for Czech citizenship in Prague alone and each claim has to be investigated separately. This is the main factor delaying the transfer of 15,000 Prague Germans back to Germany.

ARISTOTLE ON CITY PLANNING

Aristotle writes of city planning in the Fourth Century, B.C. :—

"The arrangement of the private dwellings is thought to be more agreeable and more convenient for general purposes if they are laid out in straight streets, after the modern fashion, that is, the one introduced by Hippodamus, but it is more suitable for security in war if it is on the contrary plan, as cities used to be in ancient times, for that arrangement is difficult for foreign troops to enter and to find their way about in when attacking. Hence it is well to combine the advantages of both plans..... and not lay out the whole city in straight streets, but only certain parts and districts, for in this way it will combine security with beauty." (Politics VII, 10).

IMPORTANCE OF A PROFESSIONAL ENGINEER

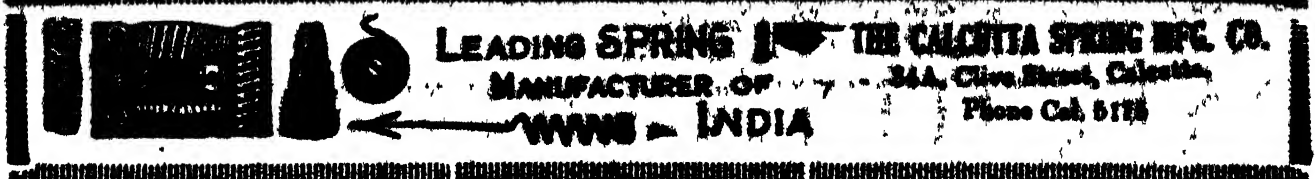

The war years have left their mark on Minnesotans—marks not of bombs or plundering armies, but marks of steel and iron and asphalt. Buildings and facilities are in need of repair and remodelling. New and larger ones are needed. Motorists are reminded only too often that roads and highways will be ready for a post-war face-lifting job. New health and safety facilities will be needed.

Planning for the future centres around three points (1) getting an overview now of the peculiar problems and needs of the community, (2) working out a sound programme of public works, and (3) determining the best means of financing such a programme.

Perhaps one of the most important figures in all this community appraisal work is the professional engineer. He is far from being the forgotten man, but often he is so taken for granted that the community is unaware of the valuable service he can give both in planning and execution—service that insures the community's getting a good return for its investment. Municipalities now engaged in post-war planning are gaining a new insight into the role of the professional engineer in public works, and it is apparent that they are going to be consulting with him even more in the immediate months to come.

As municipalities are aware, the Minnesota State Registration Law for Architects, Engineers and Land Surveyors prescribes that plans and specifications or engineering of any public work cannot be undertaken except by an individual registered in accordance with this law. So any expenditures on the part of municipalities for professional engineering services, except as they comply with this law, are illegal.

Professional engineering service is the result of a specific period of specialized training in the basic sciences, plus a broad experience with particular types of construction. This training and experience plus personal judgment, competence and ethics of conduct, make engineering the progressive profession as it is. Therefore, when community, health and safety, as well as the expenditure of public or private funds are involved, it is in the interest of public welfare that engineering designs and supervision be entrusted to men having a first order of competence in their particular field.

In hiring a professional engineer, a municipality gives itself its greatest protection that its designs will be carried out in the safest and most economical manner. The professional engineer is a specialist of the highest order; a man respected in his community for personal integrity, training, ability and loyalty to his clients.

America goes ahead as usual but which way are we thinking?

TRAFFIC SAFETY CONTEST IN AMERICA

For five years, beginning in 1989, Aberdeen had not a single traffic fatality. In peace and in war, it demonstrated convincingly the soundness of its traffic safety programme and proved that, even under the stress of war time conditions, traffic fatalities could be prevented.

In those five years of the National Traffic Safety Contest, Aberdeen won four first places and one second in its population group. And it won its first grand award.

Aberdeen was able to establish this remarkable record only by complete co-operation of all groups of the city, unofficial and official.

Under the direct supervision of the commissioner of public safety, maximum use was made of the war curtailed police force in rigidly enforcing speed laws, obedience to traffic signs and regulations for protection of pedestrians.

Among the largest cities, both Chicago and Cleveland reduced traffic deaths sharply—Chicago by 20.0 and Cleveland by 14.5 per cent.—in the face of aggravated traffic conditions inevitable in two of the nation's greatest wartime production centres.

Cities, which competed in the contest, represented more than 90 per cent. of the urban population of the United States.

Scoring of the contest was based on a maximum score of 100 points. The motor vehicle death rate counted for 30 points, while the remaining possible 70 points were divided among accident reporting systems, traffic engineering and enforcement, child safety programmes, public education and driver licensing.

Such a contest has its undoubted value. But where is the vision in this country to start one? Indian cities may very well take into consideration how Aberdeen could maintain the credit of having no single traffic fatality in the course of long five years.

HOWRAH MUNICIPALITY

IMPROVEMENT OF THE EMPLOYEES' WAGES

At a special general meeting of the Municipal Commissioners of Howrah, presided over by Mr. Bala Kumar Mukherjee, Chairman, resolutions were adopted allowing substantial improvement in the present wages position of the employees of the municipality and admitting for the first time in the history of the municipal administration, the inferior services including conservancy menials to the benefits of the Provident Fund and leave rules.

In presenting the scheme for new scale of pay, Mr. Mukherjee observed that "time-scales" of pay have been given under the scheme to all classes of employees even to those who had all along been working on fixed pays. The most important reform that the new scheme envisaged was the proposal to put the conservancy menials on a permanent footing and on a graded scale of pay. The pre-war scale of pay for 'mehtars' and 'mehtanis' he said, was Rs. 11 and Rs. 10 respectively. They (conservancy menials) would continue, he assured, to get the amount fixed by Government so long as the Government subvention was forthcoming. In the new scheme the scale of pay (basic) will be Rs. 15-1/3-18 and Rs. 13-1/3-16 respectively for the male and female conservancy staff and they will be entitled to 15 days' leave with full pay in a year. The Commissioners, he said, have also recommended that these men should be admitted to the Provident Fund so that at the end of their service they and their families had something to fall back upon.

In return, said Mr. Mukherjee, for all these considerations they had laid down the condition that the staff should work for five hours, as the "privy cleaners" of the Corporation of Calcutta did, attend muster regularly twice daily and must not work in two capacities except as evening-service men.

Continuing Mr. Mukherjee explained that without taking into consideration the sum of Rs. 1,32,000 due to increase in dearness allowance recently sanctioned they were committing themselves to an additional expenditure of Rs. 29,938 plus Rs. 40,000 in the first year of introduction of the scheme and the amount will go on increasing every year by about Rs. 18,000 for sometime until a substantial number of their men had retired from service.

The new scheme, when given effect to would cost the municipality an increase to the extent of Rs. 1,40,000 per annum for the conservancy menials alone over their basic pay and Rs. 30,000 annually for other employees. But, the municipality was justified in its decision to do so, since the present salaries of the menials were only Rs. 11 and Rs. 10.

A SHORT RECORD OF THE MORE IMPORTANT DECISIONS OF AND DISCUSSIONS
AT THE CORPORATION MEETING FOR THE WEEK ENDING MARCH 29, 1946

Last Meeting Of The Corporation For The Year 1945-46

Out-Going Mayor And Deputy Mayor Felicitated

THE outgoing Mayor, Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, and the Deputy Mayor, Mr. Shamsul Haque were felicitated at the meeting of the Corporation held on Friday, the 29th March last. This was the last meeting of the Corporation for the financial year 1945-46.

While replying to the felicitations the Mayor suggested that they should keep alive the ideals of Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose before them by hanging on one of the walls of the Council Chamber a full-sized portrait of Netaji in military uniform and also by placing a marble statue at one of the important street junctions or at any other conspicuous place.

He thanked the Councillors for the assistance they had rendered him in the discharge of his duties.

He also referred to the co-operation he had received from the Chief Executive Officer and other departmental heads.

Towards the end of the meeting on the 29th March last, which also transacted some usual business Councillors representing the different parties praised the Mayor and the Deputy Mayor for the manner in which they had discharged their duties.

Councillor Nalin Chandra Paul said that Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee's tenure of office had been an arduous one and he had, by efficient discharge of his onerous duties, justified their selecting him as the Mayor. To the Deputy Mayor, Councillor Paul said that they all had a sweet relationship with him and he would be very much missed from the chair.

Councillor Sudhir Chandra Ray Chaudhuri, while appreciating the services rendered by the Mayor and the Deputy Mayor also referred to the kind attitude they had always shown towards their employees.

Referring to the Corporation employees' strike in November last Councillor Ray Chaudhuri said that the Mayor had earned the gratitude of the public and the employees of the Corporation for the admirable way in which he had handled a most difficult situation.

Councillor B. Afzal said although Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee belong to a different community having a different following, yet he had conducted himself evenly with justice, equity and confidence. He also paid tributes to the magnanimity of heart of the Mayor.

Councillor Afzal prayed for long life and prosperity of both the Mayor and the Deputy Mayor.

Councillor A. A. Wise, while felicitating the Mayor and the Deputy Mayor, recalled the many difficulties that the Mayor had faced during the year and referred particularly to the steps that he had taken to control the cholera epidemic of 1945.

Councillor Madan Mohan Bhatnagar, rising to offer his congratulations to the Mayor and the Deputy Mayor, said that the labour staff of the Corporation had every reason to be grateful to the Mayor for during his term of office they had been given the benefits of salary grades, provident fund and security of service which they had wanted so long.

Councillors M. V. Gough-Govia, Debabrata Mookerjee, Bhabesh Chandra Das, H. K. Ganguli, Gosta Behary Sett, Purnendu Sekhar Basu, Kaviraj Satyabrata Sen and Alderman Mrs. Hemaprova Majumdar also felicitated the Mayor and the Deputy Mayor.

Replying to the felicitations the Mayor, Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee conveyed hearty and sincere thanks to the Councillors and Aldermen for their kind complements. He said that during his tenure of office there was no trouble and he felt no difficulty in securing their sincere co-operation. If there had been any success in the discharge of his duties as the Mayor of this great city it was due to their continued co-operation and help.

"I have great reverence for Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose as a nation-builder. His ideals should be maintained and kept alive before everyone of us by hanging on the wall a life-size portrait of Netaji in military uniform and a marble statue of the great man should also be set up in some part of the city," he suggested in the course of his speech.

He also expressed hope that the members would all co-operate to translate his suggestion into action.

Continuing the Mayor said that it had often been stated that the Mayor had no administrative power. But he felt that the Mayor did not require more power in order to discharge his duty. For if the Mayor was given administrative power, Mr. Mukherjee added, there was the risk of a deadlock occurring whenever there would be a disagreement between him and the Chief Executive Officer. It was the Chief Executive Officer who should be armed with more power and be given undivided responsibility. The Mayor stated that he had got full co-operation from the Chief Executive Officer and other departmental heads of the Corporation. One thing that had pained him was that the Chairman of the Budget Special Committee and the members of other Committees complained that the departmental heads did not function properly. But in his opinion, before criticising them the Councillors should look to their duties as members of the Corporation.

Referring to appointments made by the Corporation, he suggested that care should always be taken to see that the heads of departments were provided with the best material and that nothing was done to affect the morale of the services.

He also thanked the Deputy Mayor for his able and helpful assistance and co-operation in times of difficulty.

The meeting terminated with shouts of Jai-Hind raised by a number of Councillors.

Thereupon Councillor Nalin Chandra Paul, Chairman of the Services Standing Committee No. I, said that with regard to that report he had made an enquiry into the affair and was in a position to state that as the appointee did not possess the requisite knowledge of Entomology, his appointment had been cancelled and the post had been left vacant.

CAPITAL GOODS FOR CORPORATION

The Corporation at its meeting held on Thursday, the 28th March last, approved their Chief Engineer's estimate of Rs. 50,00,000 worth of capital goods required by them during the next five years. This is to be forwarded to the Bengal Government in compliance with their request.

The Government of India had recently asked the Provincial Government to ascertain from municipalities and other local bodies in the province their requirements in the way of heavy machinery during the next five years for which the Central Government were prepared to place orders in the United Kingdom against India's sterling in England. The local Government accordingly asked the Corporation to furnish them with an estimate of their requirements.

DISAPPEARANCE OF CONDEMNED BUTTER

The House appointed a Committee of Enquiry to make a sitting enquiry into the disappearance of about 2,000 lbs. of condemned butter (Ghee) which were handed over to the Corporation by the Burma Civil Supplies Department, Calcutta, about a year and a half ago for destruction.

The Committee, which consisted of Councillor Nalin Chandra Paul, A. A. Wise, Mohammad Rafique Sudhin Chandra Ray Chaudhuri and Dr. Sudhir Kumar Basu was directed to make its report ready before the first meeting of the House after the Mayoral election.

The Chief Executive Officer in the course of a statement said that about a year and a half ago nearly 11,000 lbs. of condemned butter was handed over to the Corporation by the Administrative Officer, Civil Supplies, Burma, for destruction. About 2,000 lbs. of that quantity was found missing during an inspection of the stock by the then officiating C. E. O. The matter was referred to the Services Committee and appeared in the agenda of the Committee for one or two meetings. Explanation was called from different officers but owing to the leave of absence of the Food Inspector concerned from 17th September, 1945, no finality could be done in the matter. He pleaded that until an explanation of the Food Inspector, who was on leave, was received no final statement could be given.

After prolonged discussion the House appointed the Committee stated above to go into the matter and submit their report.

OBJECTIONS AGAINST CINEMA HOUSE CONSTRUCTION

The House also directed the same Enquiry Committee to make an enquiry into the construction of a Cinema House at Tarachand Dutt Street as serious objections had been raised by the inhabitants of the locality in Ward No. VIII against its construction.

Making a statement on the matter the C. E. O. stated that the Deputy Executive Officer II had reported that there was no objection and the Police and Fire Brigade also approved of the construction. The Buildings Committee sanctioned the plan and the construction of the Cinema House was taken six months ago and it was now nearing completion.

Councillor Abdus Sattar stated that since objections were not invited from the people of that locality he wondered how the Deputy Executive Officer II could say that there was no objection. Moreover, it appeared that the plan was sanctioned in hot haste i.e., within six days from the receipt of the application.

Councillor Rafique stated that there was a mosque, three schools and one Muslim High School in close proximity of the proposed cinema building.

Thereupon the House appointed the previously elected Committee to go into the matter and directed the Chief Executive Officer to issue order for stopping the construction of the cinema building immediately.

Earlier a demonstration had been staged by a number of Muslim inhabitants of the locality who occupied the visitors gallery and also stood in the Corporation corridor demanding immediate stoppage of the construction of the cinema building.

RELEASE OF GRANTS

The Corporation also ordered for releasing grants to a number of hospitals, dispensaries, educational and charitable institutions etc., for the year 1945-46.

The Corporation appointed Mr. Kali Charan Ghose, Curator, Commercial Museum and Publicity Department, as the Officer-in-charge with effect from the 7th March last.

COUNCILLOR MACKERTICH JOHN RETIRES

The House accepted with regret the resignation tendered by Mr. Mackertich John of his office as a Councillor of the Corporation.

Councillor John was the Deputy Leader of the European Group. In his letter of resignation Councillor John conveyed his heartfelt sympathy for the co-operation that his brother-Councillors had offered him.

President Truman's Birth-Place

A Typical U. S. Town Described

THE President of the United States, Harry S. Truman, comes from the small American town of Independence, in the west central state of Missouri. Independence is typical of the American small town and yet it has a background, traditions and customs of its own that set it apart slightly from other towns of similar size and characteristics.

It is, for instance, located in the same country with and only a few miles from the thriving industrial and trading centre of Kansas City, Missouri, but it has retained its identity as a separate community. During its early history, it was an important way station on the old Santa Fe and Oregon wagon trails to the West and is rich in lore of the so-called 'border' county, the last frontier between the eastern and western sections of the country. Its Kansas border on the west saw bitter fighting during the war between the states in the 1860's.

Settled in the early 1800's mostly by southern farmers who came in along the Missouri River which bisects the state, the western part of Missouri which includes Independence was and still is the last frontier of the old South as well as the newer West. Immigrants of foreign stock have added a leavening of Old World simplicity and industry, and many sections, settled by farmers from the eastern states of Virginia and Kentucky, have preserved habits of life and conservative thought that are characteristically southern.

Independence is a handsome, historic, prosperous town of some 16,000 residents with many beautiful streets lined with shade trees and flanked by well-tended lawns and parkings. It is cooler in summer than most towns in the section for it is situated on a high ridge between the Big Blue and Little Blue Rivers. Long before its big neighbour Kansas City was even a village, Independence was famous as a starting point of the overland trail to the whole great West.

CHARACTERISTIC LANDMARK

The ample Court House Square, a characteristic landmark of many small American towns, is surrounded by business houses, banks, restaurants, office buildings and stores, including the traditional American corner drugstore, popular gathering place of farmers and townspeople alike. Off the square run the wide streets, lined with comfortable frame and stucco homes with their spacious lawns, shrubbery, rose bushes and flower gardens. One of these homes is the 14-room house built more than 80 years ago by Mrs. Truman's grandfather. Here the President and members of his family stay on their visits from the U. S. capital.

The impressive Jackson County Court House in Independence was rebuilt under President Truman's direction in 1938 when he was presiding judge of the county court. The office of county judge is more of an administrative post than a judicial one in many counties in the United States and in that position, the then judge Truman was responsible for local building construction carried out with public funds. Besides supervising the court house construction, he was also in charge of spending substantial amounts for road construction, and the total expenditure in Jackson County under his guidance were estimated at $60,000,000. This county includes Kansas City within its borders and the county seat is divided between it and Independence so that neither has a monopoly.

The town's residents, their lives and everyday activities can be duplicated in hundreds of American communities. Situated on the edge of the Great Plains in a rich farming country, the town's main activity is retail trade with the surrounding rural areas, although it has a few small manufacturing plants. Overshadowed though it is by neighbouring Kansas City, it is still a principal shopping and trading centre as well as one of the centres of county Government for a wide area extending toward the east. Its merchants and storekeepers obtain a large part of their goods from Kansas City for those who prefer to make their purchases in Independence rather than travel to the larger city.

TYPICAL EARLY CAREER

Typical of the American small town is the President's early life and career up to the time he became a U. S. Senator from Missouri. Born in the nearby community of Lamar, Missouri, he grew up on the family farm, helped with the heavy farm work and the many small duties incidental to farm operation. He attended high school in Independence and followed the young American's ordinary round of jobs, running errands for a drugstore, working for a newspaper and clerking in a bank. He returned to farming after five years and then went to France during the war of 1917-18 with a unit of the Missouri National Guard. He returned from France a captain of artillery.

Because of his small-town background, President Truman perhaps enjoys a closer bond to millions of small-town residents than any of his predecessors for many years. They feel that they know him more intimately, that he is more keenly aware of their problems and more deeply interested in their welfare.

Loyalty to one's traditions and friends is an outstanding trait of American small-town residents. President Truman's friends in former days are his friends to-day. Within the limits of the great responsibilities imposed on him as President, he spends as much time in their company as he can. While they now call him "Mr. President," they still think of him as Harry Truman, a fellow townsman and friend whose success is also their success.—USIS

Dentistry In India

Proposal For Future Improvement

LEGISLATION to make it compulsory for dentists in India to register themselves before setting up practice and to prohibit unregistered persons from starting dental clinics is one of the recommendations made by the Bhore Committee to bring dentistry in this country up to the standard obtaining in western countries.

The Committee was appointed by the Government of India to investigate into the health conditions of the people and suggest improvements. The Committee has already submitted a detailed report suggesting a ten-year scheme extending to 40 years.

NEW MEDICAL COLLEGE FOR CALCUTTA

SCHEME TO BE SUBMITTED

The Government of Bengal have decided to start a temporary Medical College in Calcutta in order to enable the licentiates with war service record to prepare themselves for the M.B. Degree of Calcutta University.

It may be recalled that the Corporation has already welcomed this project of the Government.

The proposed Medical College will be equipped and staffed on the model of the Calcutta Medical College. Dr. B. C. Roy and Dr. Subodh Mitra and the Inspector of Colleges, Calcutta University, will submit a scheme for the approval of the University.

In addition, the Committee recommends, as a short term programme, the opening of new dental colleges in Lucknow, Madras and Patna, the affiliation to Universities of the two private colleges—the Calcutta Dental College and the Nair Hospital Dental College of Bombay, and the expansion of the De Montmorency Dental College of Lahore.

The Committee estimates that at present about 60 to 70 persons annually qualify themselves in the country and the total number of qualified dentists, it is estimated, does not exceed a thousand.

JADABPUR TUBERCULOSIS HOSPITAL

I. F. A.'s DONATION

The Jadavpur Tuberculosis Hospital has received a donation of Rs. 10,000 (in addition to Rs. 3,000 previously acknowledged) from the Indian Football Association for the construction of a cottage to be named after the Association.

GOVERNMENT HEALTH PROPAGANDA

The Bengal Health Welfare Committee has granted a donation of Rs. 3,000 by the Government of Bengal for the continuance of health propaganda work in the province by means of exhibitions and health publicity campaigns.

To raise this low standard, the Committee recommends the training of 2,500 dentists annually, so that over a period of 80 to 85 years, there will be some 75,000 qualified dentists in India, providing a ratio of one dentist for 5,000 people. In the West, the Committee adds, a basic minimum of one dentist to 3,000 population is not considered sufficient.

To meet the shortage of instructors in dentistry, the Committee recommends the institution of post-graduate dental studies and the encouragement of graduates to proceed to a higher degree of Master of Dental Surgery. As a temporary measure, it is recommended that selected dental graduates should be sent overseas to obtain higher qualifications as well as to pursue training in specialised courses.

PUBLIC HEALTH SERVICES FOR VILLAGES

The Singur Unit

Over 60,000 villagers in Bengal are learning to look after their health through the Health Unit at Singur, a village about 21 miles from Calcutta, intended to provide the All-India Institute of Hygiene and Public Health with a controlled practice field for the application of results of pure research to the requirements of large units of rural population.

The Health Unit is intended to determine and demonstrate methods of public health administration which can bring essential medical protection to the rural population within the level of expenditure that the country can afford at its present stage of economic development. It also affords participative opportunity for training medical and public health personnel.

The main objectives are directed towards the chief causes of readily controllable excess mortality. Emphasis has accordingly been laid on (a) small-pox immunization and other epidemic control measures; (b) environmental emphasis on water-supply and excreta disposal; (c) maternity and child welfare; and (d) malaria. The other objectives are the minimum school health programme and improvement of vital statistics.

Three local groups—a Unit Public Health Advisory Committee, a Union Health Committee and Village Health Committees—are the channels through which the people themselves organize measures of public health in their villages. There is one Village Health Committee for each village or unit of approximately 200 families.

There are 42 primary and 10 schools of other categories in the unit. So far 50 teachers have been trained in school health work, and through these teachers the school health programme of the unit is pushed forward. Training of the primary school teachers was given at Singur in collaboration with the Department of Public Instruction. The school health programme aims at sanitation, health of students and teachers, and health of teaching staff.

Making Of A Satellite Town

What Comes Of The Improvement Trust's Proposal

SOMETIME ago the Calcutta Improvement Trust submitted to the Government of Bengal the report and plans for the making of a satellite town near Calcutta.

The Government reply (received by the Trust in January last) to the definite proposals put forward by the Trust for providing a solution to the Government long-term proposals for the elimination of bustees in Calcutta has been considered by the Board of the Trust to be unsatisfactory. The Board opines: "Government being aware of the very urgent need for the provision of pucca houses for bustee dwellers and the complete absence of any housing scheme sponsored by Government, in the past, it was not understood why the original proposal for rebuilding for 1,00,000 persons initiated by His Excellency the Governor of Bengal (Mr. R. G. Casey) had been whittled down by easy stages to a problematical provision of 10,000."

About its own scheme of rehousing the bustee dwellers the Trust has expressed that "provided cheap and adequate transport facilities are made available to the persons to be rehoused in the scheme, the scheme itself is the only practical solution to the long-term proposals for the elimination of the bustees in Calcutta, since the essential feature of bustee elimination is being provided, i.e., houses to be erected before bustees are demolished and the tenants rehoused."

The Government having objected to the estimates of expenditure involved in the Trust Schemes the Board of the Trust has stressed the fact that "any estimates submitted by the Chief Valuer of the Trust may be taken as correct for the purposes of considering the financial aspects of the scheme." The Board has also said that the full financial implications of the scheme were explained in detail and any proposal for financing the project, should now come from the Government and not the Trust.

The Trust Board while making the following observations to the Government:—

"(1) They are prepared to undertake the scheme in its entirety and to execute the whole of the work on behalf of Government, on the understanding that the total cost will be borne by Government, who will receive all recoupment from sales of land and other receipts from letting of buildings. On completion the scheme to be handed over to Government for management.

"(2) They are willing to consider any proposal that Government may have to make regarding the scheme to be taken up as a C. I. T. improvement-cum-housing scheme. They may be agreeable to take up the project as it stands, with a view to implementing the Governor's long-term bustee proposals, but it must be distinctly understood that the number of houses to be erected, would solely depend on the amount of subsidy Government are prepared to advance. The success or otherwise of the scheme, as a rehousing scheme would depend entirely on Government's attitude."

has also added that though on paper the Trust finances appear to be very sound, Government must not lose sight of the fact that no engineering works have been undertaken by the Trust during the four years and the programme now taken up, will absorb all the Trust balances. The new sewer, which must have priority of place in any programme, will absorb over 1 crore of rupees from Dhappa Pumping Station to Ultadanga Main Road and when the Trust takes on Howrah which will certainly be handed to it within the next 12 months, instead of being financially sound its resources will be strained to the limit. "Any extensive building operations undertaken by the Trust," the Board is of opinion, "can only be done if an adequate subsidy is forthcoming."

NETAJI'S PORTRAIT NOWHERE!

TO THE EDITOR, "CALCUTTA MUNICIPAL GAZETTE"

DEAR SIR,—I shall deem it a great favour if you would kindly publish the following in your esteemed weekly.

I am an ordinary tax-payer to this Corporation. The other day after paying taxes I entered the Tiffin Room of the Corporation to partake of some sweets. I saw two pictures (Mr. J. C. Mukerjee and Mr. K. P. Chattopadhyaya; Ex-Chief Executive Officer and Ex-Education Officer respectively) hung on the wall but the portrait of the founder of the Tiffin Room, our revered Netaji Subhas Chandra, was not to be found there. It is rather strange. I should like to draw the attention of the members of the Tiffin Room Committee to this.—Yours etc.

RATION CUT IN BOMBAY

The weekly ration of sugar in Bombay City and its suburbs has been reduced from 12 oz. to 9 oz from the week commencing the 31st March.

There will be a 25 per cent. reduction in the quantities of sugar allotted to establishments and an equal cut in the quota for the preparation of sweets and confectionery.

A similar reduction will be made in all large cities and towns owing to a fall in the estimated output of sugar in India.

In towns having a population between 50,000 and 100,000 the fortnightly quantum will be reduced from 16 Oz. to 12 oz., and in towns having a population of 25,000 to 50,000 from 12 oz. to 10 oz. No reduction will be made in rationed towns having a population below 25,000, where the quantum will continue to be 8 oz. each fortnight. In non-rationed areas, where the quantum is small, there will be a reduction of 1 lb. a year in the existing quantum.

Roy, organiser of the Congress Medical Mission to Malaya, and members of the Mission in Calcutta inspected medical supplies awaiting shipment to Malaya. There were 332 crates weighing altogether 382 maunds. Dr B. C. Roy said that the Mission would set up four stationary centres and two mobile dispensaries, which would move out into the interior. The estimated total expenditure was between Rs. 1,25,000 and Rs. 1,30,000. The mission is expected to be back in July.

PRINCIPALS' CONFERENCE

Mr. P. N. Banerjee, Vice-Chancellor, Calcutta University, called a conference of Principals of Calcutta colleges at the Darbhanga Buildings on the 30th March last.

At this conference discussions centered round the question of devising ways for having a closer relationship between the teachers and the taught. The conference also discussed the steps to be taken for ensuring better attendance in colleges and greater co-ordination between the University and the colleges as well as improving the condition of the teachers.

It was also decided to call a conference of Principals of colleges in Bengal and Assam affiliated to the University after the holidays. After taking into consideration the views of the educational heads in Bengal and Assam, the Vice-Chancellor, it is understood, will form policy giving effect to the objects of the conference.

NEW VICE-CHANCELLOR FELICITATED

Various problems facing the matriculation students were dealt with by Mr. P. N. Banerjee, Vice-Chancellor of the Calcutta University, while presiding over a meeting held at Arya Samaj Hall on Sunday evening the 31st March, to offer felicitations to matric candidates of this year.

Mr. Banerjee said that the present curriculum of the matriculation examination was unusually heavy. The curriculum should be so shaped as to fit in with the scholars aged 14 or 15 years. The original aim was to give an outline of a general education to the young learners; but now the course was found too heavy for boys or girls of such tender age. Great difficulties are also felt by the teachers in making class routines. The teachers say that three-fourths of the time spent in teaching the matric students was devoted in learning languages—English, Sanskrit, Bengali, etc.

In reply to a request made by a student present, Mr. Banerjee said that there might not be facility for introducing compartmental examination, but steps might be taken for introducing a supplementary matriculation examination as obtaining in some of the universities.

Mr. Banerjee said that he was opposed to making examinations unusually stiff. He was aware of the fact that in this poor country many mothers had to sell their ornaments for bearing the educational expenses of their children and many fathers had to sell their land for giving education to their sons.

Mr. Banerjee appealed for help from the students in doing away with the practice of corruption undertaken by the examinees.

Among others Prof. Khagendra Nath Sen, Prof. R. N. Singh, Prof. R. C. Banerjee and Pandit Sibchandra Vidavinode addressed the gathering.

A TRAGIC DEATH

Mr. Dharendra Nath Sen (45), Assistant Secretary, Navabidhan Brahma Samaj and Headmaster, Keahab Academy, was knocked down by a military lorry which made its escape at a break-neck speed and succumbed instantaneously on Thursday night, the 4th April, 10 p.m., near Park Circus Tram Depot.

BRITISH INDIAN ASSOCIATION

"India is entering a new phase. In the dawn of this new era landlords must keep themselves ready to offer their services and to make sacrifices, where necessary. Let it not be said that we have failed. Let us prove ourselves worthy of our position and fulfil our task nobly, sinking all differences for the larger interest of the nation."

Thus observed Sir Uday Chand Mahtab, Maharajadhiraj Bahadur of Burdwan, in his presidential address to the 94th annual general meeting of the British Indian Association at the hall of the Association on Thursday evening, the 4th April.

Three resolutions welcoming the Cabinet Mission and wishing its success in its effort to peacefully transfer power to Indians, protesting against the 'drastic' cut in the ration, expressing its concern at the continued deterioration of the cloth situation and protesting against the Bill to impose estate duty were passed.

The following office-bearers were elected: President.—Sir Uday Chand Mahtab, Vice-Presidents.—Sir B. P. Singh Roy, Sir Abul Halim Ghuznavi, Mr. Sarat Chandra Mitra, Mr. Satish Churn Law, Hony. Secretary.—Mr. P. N. Singh Roy and Hony. Treasurer.—Mr. Amarendra Narayan Roy.

TAGORE MEMORIAL FUND

Mr. S. C. Majumdar, General Secretary, All-India Rabindranath Memorial Committee has issued the following:—

"The next anniversary of the birthday of Rabindranath Tagore falls on May 6 (Baisakh 25). As the day approaches, we are once more reminded that our obligations to our national Poet still remain unredeemed. We have been able to collect up to March 15, 1946 Rs. 12,19,116-9-10 only for the Fund which was started for the perpetuation of his memory. This amount, however, is quite inadequate to fulfil the objects which the All-India Rabindranath Memorial Committee has in view.

"The amount so far collected has not come up to expectations. It represents mostly small sums—even one or two-anna donations from the poor; response from the wealthier class has not as yet been so encouraging. It would be a matter of profound regret if for lack of funds we fail to accomplish the Memorial in a worthy manner.

"Our aim is to reach the figure of Rs. 25 lakhs by the Poet's next birthday. With the co-operation of everybody we may yet hope to achieve this target. We appeal once more to our countrymen to come forward and help us generously in this great cause.

"All contributions will be thankfully received by the General Secretary, All-India Rabindranath Memorial Committee, 6/3, Dwarkanath Tagore Lane or 1, Burman Street, Calcutta."

The Rotary Club of Calcutta has sent a further amount of Rs. 1,500 being their collections for the All-India Rabindranath Memorial Fund. The total collections made by the Club for the fund now amount to Rs. 6,887.

MR. HUQ IN HOSPITAL

Mr. A. K. Fazlul Huq, ex-Premier of Bengal, who was recently elected to the Bengal Legislative Assembly from two different constituencies, is now lying ill in the Medical College Hospital.

He has been advised by his doctors to have complete rest for some time and his friends are requested not to disturb him in the hospital.

Mr. Fazlul Huq has invited all the nationalist Muslim candidates in the recent elections, whether they had won or not to an informal conference to be held at Calcutta on the 6th April.

RATION CUT

A further cut in sugar rations in Greater Calcutta and other rationed towns in Bengal has been announced.

From the 8th April the scale of rations will be reduced from 8 oz. (4 chatacks) to 6 oz. (3 chatacks) per head per week.

Manufacturers of drug will, however, be exempted from this cut.

Mr. Kiran Chandra Mitra and Mr. Sibnath Banerji have jointly sent telegram to the Viceroy requesting His Excellency to cancel the order of ration cut or increase the dearness allowances by 25 per cent. to compensate the cut.

The telegram also points out that "about ten lakhs of industrial workers of Howrah, Calcutta and suburbs are greatly agitated over ration cut which is already below living standard."

The telegram concludes by saying that the situation is grave and delay in sympathetically considering it may worsen it.

RATIONING OFFENCES

During the week ending March 2, 1946, 32 prosecutions were launched under the Calcutta Industrial Area Rationing Regulations and the Bengal Essential Foodstuffs Anti-Hoarding Order, 1944. The prosecutions were chiefly for possession of rationed articles in contravention of the Anti-Hoarding Order, but prosecutions were also launched for selling bread otherwise than on bread tickets.

MR UTTAMCHAND WELCOMED

On Tuesday last the City Fathers offered a reception to Mr. Uttamchand in the Councillors' Club Room. In Urdu he described the incidents in connection with the escape made by Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose from India through Afghanistan, where Mr. Uttamchand entertained Netaji during the days of his stay in disguise in Kabul. He expressed great self-satisfaction to have been able to provide food and shelter to the great son of India.

Mr. Uttamchand was a merchant in Kabul. When the facts about his harbouring Netaji got out, the Afghan Government expelled him and seized all his belongings.

What Netaji did will remain as India's memorable heritage for ages to come. He opened a new chapter in India's struggle for independence. And people, like Captains Shah Nawaz, Dhillon, Beghal, and Burhanuddin like Mr. Mr. Uttamchand, Col. Chatterji and thousands of others will go down in history as brave fighters for India's freedom.

SOUTH SUBURBAN MUNICIPALITY

The Commissioners of the South Suburban Municipality have decided to introduce Provident Fund Schemes for permanent sweepers with effect from the current financial year. A Committee was formed to report on the question of increasing the pay of primary school teachers. The Commissioners also decided to increase the dearness allowance of all employees with immediate effect.

LOCAL SELF-GOVERNMENT IN U. P.

Being questioned, whether nomination system would still prevail in the United Provinces so far as Local Self-Government institutions were concerned and if so, whether she contemplated its abolition immediately, Pandit Vijaylaxmi Pandit, Minister-in-charge of Local Self-Government in the United Provinces, replied the other day :—

"During the last Congress Ministry, a new Local Self-Government Act had been recommended by a Select Committee specially appointed by the Government for this purpose. This Act is very comprehensive and covers a wide field of change which will take a little time to be put into effect. My own opinion is that we should go ahead immediately with such matters as will not create much controversy and bring in the other reforms as opportunity offers. New electoral rolls drawn upon the basis of adult franchise would, I think, be very helpful and solve a major difficulty.

"The Congress Government intends to effect drastic changes in the Local Self-Government as it is one of the nation-building departments. Our changes will begin with the village Panchayat and go right up to functioning of the Board," rightly added Mrs. Pandit.

PLANNING OF SHOPPING AREAS

The use of purchasing power as a yardstick in planning neighbourhood shopping sections is urged in the latest study of the National Committee on Housing in the United States of America.

The study calls attention to the fact that most communities are overzoned and overbuilt as far as neighbourhood stores are concerned and points out that only by advance study and planning may improvements be made in shopping conveniences and physical appearance of communities. Maintenance of real estate values and relief to distressed retail merchants are other problems analyzed. Methods for rectifying existing conditions and planning new neighbourhood shopping areas are outlined.

A foreword by Mrs. Samuel I. Roseman, Chairman of the National Committee on Housing, Inc., points out that while "adequate neighbourhood shopping centres have been recognized as vital to every community, no yardstick has been readily available which would serve as a basis for determining the requirements for such centres."

Marcel A. Villanueva, A. I. A., planning consultant, who made the study, explains that "every year since 1900 some 250,000 to 400,000 retail businesses have failed and a comparable number of new ones have started apparently unaware of what was going on. There has yet been no indication of a reversal of trend. On the contrary, the postwar period shows signs of stepping up the number of civilians planning to undertake small businesses of their own. In addition some three million veterans are considering such ventures according to reports received from the armed forces."

Planning of neighbourhood shopping centres has not yet been thought of in this country. But the value of such planning, contributing facilities to the public and encouragement to those who are undertaking small businesses of their own, cannot be overestimated.

Influx Of Destitutes In Calcutta

The Mayor Suggests Relief Measures

A WARNING on the growing influx of destitutes from the neighbouring districts into Calcutta and starvation deaths in the city was given by the Mayor of Calcutta, Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, on Tuesday, the 9th April, in the course of a Press interview.

He said:

"The influx of destitutes into the city seems to be increasing, judging from the numbers of them on the footpaths and those who seek relief from private residences. The Corporation has already drawn the attention of the Government to the situation.

"If the Government does not take prompt measures, it is apprehended that a situation may develop in the city comparable to what prevailed during the last famine in 1943-44.

The position now is not very serious, and if the Government takes steps to stop this influx of destitutes, it can be prevented from endangering the health of the city.

"Steps must be taken to ensure that sufficient food supplies are available in the neighbouring districts, and the Government should also start relief kitchens at the proper time. I quite see that if the kitchens are started now in the city they will encourage destitutes to flock in.

"The Government should watch the situation carefully. The starting of relief measures in the affected districts and on the route to Calcutta seems most essential."

Preventive measures to arrest the flow of destitutes to Calcutta from Howrah and 24 Parganas, whence they have begun to drift in, are on foot, states a Press Note issued by the Bengal Government on the 5th April last. It added that Government had under close observation the first signs of the appearance of destitutes in Calcutta and were dealing with this problem.

The following is the full text of the Press Note:—

Some alarm has been caused by a statement in the Press that of the 23 unidentified bodies picked up from the Calcutta streets during the week ended March 30, 5 are stated to have died of starvation. This information was not issued by Government and appears to have been the result of considerable misunderstanding.

Of the 23 persons whose bodies are said to have been picked up in the streets, 18 are those of patients without known address who died in hospitals, while the remaining 5 are stated to be bodies disposed of under the orders of the police about which further enquiry is being made. Of the deaths reported as due to starvation, 4 have now been ascertained to be bodies obtained on the certificate of the hospital a considerable time after death. The actual deaths diagnosed as due to starvation during the week were 2.

Some confusion appears to exist in the mind of the public about casualties in Auxiliary Government Hospitals, which first came into existence as Famine Relief Emergency Hospitals. These have for some time been part of the auxiliary hospital system of Calcutta dealing in Calcutta, and are dealing with this problem on the following lines.

Ample accommodation is available in destitute camps in Calcutta which have been kept in existence since 1948, and steps to remove destitutes from the streets to these camps have been resumed. At the same time, preventive measures are on foot in the two districts from which destitutes have begun to drift in, the 24-Parganas and Howrah, to arrest this flow, both by provision of home relief and employment on relief work in the district at the point where distress originates, and by opening destitute camps to accommodate persons who have left their villages and intercept them, so far as possible, on the way to Calcutta.

The principle followed is that by attacking distress at the spot where it originates rather than waiting till the destitute has found his way into Calcutta, this tendency can be largely neutralised, while the residue of persons who still find their way into the city by rail or road (movement which cannot be entirely stopped) will be accommodated in the destitute camp in Calcutta till they can be repatriated to the districts from which they come.

Dr. M. U. Ahmad, Health Officer, Calcutta Corporation, in the course of a Press interview on the 5th April, said that "incorrect impressions have been created by statements published in the press about the number of deaths of destitutes in Calcutta."

He said he was referring to a recent statement that "56 unidentified bodies were picked up from streets of Calcutta during the fortnight ended March 80."

There were only four deaths for the fortnight in question, the Health Officer said, that may be classified as starvation cases.

Dr. Ahmad explained that "unidentified bodies picked up from streets" did not mean that "these people died in the streets of the city and were picked up as dead bodies from the streets and lanes."

He indicated that these included "paupers," those who had to be cremated at the expense of the Corporation because their relatives are too poor to afford the expenses.

"The number of such persons," Dr. Ahmad said, "whose bodies have to be cremated at Corporation expense increased due to the deterioration in the general economic condition of the poorer sections of the population."

He explained that since April, 1944, persons who have no addresses in the city and are presumably destitutes are classified under the heading "unknown."

He added that "the Government of Bengal has asked the District Magistrate to prevent destitutes from flocking in and around Calcutta and every effort is being made to prevent the repetition of 1948 conditions."

IMMORAL TRAFFIC IN WOMEN

VIGOROUS MEASURES FOR SUPPRESSION

The necessity of taking rigorous measures for the suppression of immoral traffic in women was stressed at the annual meeting of the All-Bengal Women's Union held in the Chouringhee branch of the Y. M. C. A., Calcutta, on the 4th April last.

Mr. R. Banerjee, Relief Co-ordination Officer, Bengal Government, referred to rehabilitation schemes including establishment of orphanages, central destitute homes and industrial centres. Effect was being given, he said, to the Land Alienation Act for restoring lands to persons who had sold them during the famine under the stress of poverty.

Dr. Sourin Ghosh, Director of Social Hygiene, Bengal, said that during the last year Calcutta Police had closed about 1,000 brothels and over 50 per cent. of the prostitutes had left the city. Some had gone underground and as a result soliciting had increased. Without depending entirely on the police, social welfare workers should direct their energies to rescuing minor girls.

Mrs. F. Stanley emphasized the need of having women police to prevent traffic in women. She referred to the work being done by moral welfare workers in England who were tackling problems of social welfare.

Mrs. Renuka Roy, who presided, said that it was the duty of the State to look after destitute women, thereby preventing them from leading lives of shame.

The Union's annual report for 1944-45 stated that although most of the brothels in certain areas of Calcutta had been closed, no rescued girls were sent to the Union's home for destitute women and children.

with all cases commonly treated in hospital though their returns are still apt to be regarded as an aftermath of famine conditions. Steps will be taken in the future for proper classification of the cause of death in these returns so that the present functions of these hospitals can be better understood.

To Reduce Traffic Accidents In Calcutta

Measures Adopted By Military Authorities

A REDUCTION of the maximum speed limits for all military vehicles in Calcutta is among several measures that are being enforced by the Sub-Area Commander to reduce traffic accidents in the city, it is learnt from authoritative sources. Henceforth staff cars, station wagons and jeeps will not be permitted to exceed a speed of 25 miles per hour while no other service vehicle may be driven at more than 20 miles per hour.

In order to ensure that only experienced drivers, with a specified minimum efficiency, drive in Calcutta, steps have been taken to re-test immediately all drivers and to see that no one below grade II is allowed to drive in the city.

The certificate "to drive in Calcutta" will be endorsed on the licences of drivers who qualify and the endorsement will be signed by an officer. Wasteful expeditions, which add to the traffic congestion in the city, will be avoided by the issue of work tickets to each driver specifying the exact task he is required to perform.

SUPERVISION OF DRIVING MEN

For supervising the driving of the men both officers and non-commissioned officers will be detailed to accompany certain vehicles engaged not only in convoy duties, but also plying individually. Surprise checks of military vehicles by a team of mechanics have been arranged to see that no vehicle with any mechanical defects, which are liable to cause accidents, is allowed to go on the road.

All military drivers have been warned that when they are on the road they come under the control of the Civil Police and that if they contravene any of the traffic regulations they will be reported by the Civil Police which may be followed by prosecution in civil courts. Instructions have also been given to officers and non-commissioned officers to stop any military vehicle which they notice being driven dangerously or without sufficient care and to report the driver to the appropriate authority.

Meanwhile, in accordance with existing orders, officers and non-commissioned officers travelling in vehicles carrying loads will continue to carry arms in exercise of their legal rights for the protection of Government property in their charge and also for private defence.

Sweeper's Strike In Bombay Congress Municipal Party's Offer

ELEVEN thousand sweepers employed by the Bombay Municipality went on strike since the 14th April last.

Two unions representing the sweepers had given a formal notice to the Municipal Commissioner a fortnight ago. They demanded salary increases, permanency of service, leave privileges, additional dearness allowance and a ten per cent. increase in the existing personnel of sweepers to cope with the heavy work entailed by the present abnormal population of the city.

CITIZENS CLEAR RUBBISH

The Bombay Corporation on Monday, the 8th April, debated the sweepers' strike that continued but did not come to any conclusion. The offer made by the Congress Municipal Party to the menial staff involving an additional expenditure of Rs. 30,00,000 annually, had been summarily rejected by the strike leaders. The appointment of an adjudicator by the Government was suggested by a member of the Corporation as a possible solution.

Due to the sewage compressor stations being abandoned by the workers, sewage water was seen flowing in some of the streets. Citizens and Congress volunteers helped in clearing rubbish and offal dumps.

OFFER OF CONCESSIONS

The Congress Party in the Bombay Municipal Corporation which considered the situation arising out of the strike of sweepers had decided to secure some material concessions to the strikers. These concessions, one of which would, for the first time, introduce graded scales of pay, cost more than Rs. 30 lakhs a year.

The Party considered the letter of the Western India Harijan League, embodying the demands made on behalf of the sweepers. All these demands were very seriously and sympathetically considered and the Party endorsed the assurance given by its Leader Mr. S. K. Patil on the floor of the Corporation that whatever the benefits the Corporation might grant, would come into operation from April 1, 1946. The Party decided to take steps to secure from the Corporation the following benefits to the sweepers and other low paid staff:

Firstly, for the first time in the history of the municipality the introduction of a graded scale of pay Rs. 25-1-35 for low paid staff. For those who have already put in a low service, accumulated promotion would be given at once on the following basis:—

- 1 year—one promotion, 3 years—two, 5 years—three, 7 years—four, 10 years—five, 15 years—seven and 20 years ten promotions. The average increase calculated on the basis in the basic salary will be round about Rs. 5.

Secondly, dearness allowance to continue at Rs. 22 per month as at present.

Thirdly, permanency after one year's service.

Other benefits are: 15 days' annual leave with pay, 15 days' casual leave with pay, half day off every week, free accommodation wherever possible and room rent at the rate of Rs. 6 per family or Rs. 3 per head of municipal employees where rooms are not available.

Some of the benefits are to be made applicable for all low paid staff drawing up to Rs. 60 per month.

The cumulative expenditure on all these benefits, it was estimated, would be Rs. 30 lakhs a year, besides the following supplementary benefits which would also be available:—

Injury and maternity leave, medical relief, special compassionate allowance and special gratuity.

On the conservancy department alone the municipality would have to spend not less than Rs. 75 lakhs a year.

Mr. S. K. Patil, Leader of the Congress Municipal Party, communicated the decision of the Party to the Western India Harijan League, with an appeal to the sweepers to resume work forthwith and not to expose the health of the three million people of the city to the danger of insanitation and possible epidemic.

Dumps of garbage are littered on streets, lanes and pavements of Bombay.

Bombay's non-vegetarian public have to go without meat as the strike also affected the menial staff of the Meat Transport Section of the Conservancy Department.

NEW MAYOR OF BOMBAY

Mr. Mohamedbhoy Rowjee was elected Mayor of the Bombay Municipal Corporation on Monday, the 1st April.

Mr. Rowjee secured 68 votes while Mr. A. H. Mirza and Mr. M. M. Killedar obtained 16 and 8 votes respectively.

Mr. Rowjee was supported by the Congress Party while the other candidates had the support of the Muslim League.

MR. AMAR KRISHNA GHOSH

RETURNED TO BENGAL ASSEMBLY

Congress candidates, Mr. Amar Krishna Ghosh and Mr. Bimal Kumar Ghosh, have been declared elected to the Bengal Legislative Assembly from the Bengal National Chamber of Commerce.

The following are the results:—

1. Mr. Amar Krishna Ghosh (Congress)—204 elected.

Mints And Coins

[By B. V. Roy, M.A.]

THE following item of news appeared in the Calcutta Municipal Gazette of the 28rd February last:—

"The Government of India, it is learnt, propose to transfer the Lahore Mint back to Calcutta in pursuance of its original scheme to establish a new, up-to-date Mint at Alipore (Calcutta) in place of the existing Calcutta Mint".

The proposed new Calcutta Mint will be the third Mint to be established in Calcutta, and I am giving a short account of the two previous Mints, viz., the present Mint in Strand Road and the earlier one, which was the first Mint in Calcutta. I will also deal with the different kinds of coinage minted from time to time.

It was after the defeat of Siraj-ud-dowla at the battle of Plassey, and his death, when Nawab Mir Jafar ascended the Musnud of Murshidabad, that permission was for the first time given to the English merchants of the East India Company to establish their own Mint at Calcutta, and issue coinage therefrom. The Order (in Persian) was dated the 28th July, 1757, and under it "the Hight and Mighty, the Bold and Valiant Commanders, the greatest of Merchants, the English Company" were empowered to coin gold and silver into Siccas and Mohurs of the same weight and standard as those coined in Murshidabad, the then capital of Bengal. The Order was given under the seal of "Fidvee—Allum-gueer Badsha Gazee, Siraj-ul-mulk, Hossain-o-dowlah, Meer Mohammed Jaffiar Ally Khawn Bahadeer, Mahabut Jung" or in short, Nawab Mir Jafar.

The "sicca" rupee, it may be explained, was the standard rupee as coined in Murshidabad. The newly-minted sicca rupee circulated at full value for one year, after which it decreased proportionately in value, until recoined. During the second year of circulation it was called "Hirsun" and thereafter called "Sunott" or "Sonatt". At the time the English Mint started work, and for a good many years afterwards, there were various different kinds of money in circulation in Bengal. The payment of Government revenue and other dues by such different kinds of coins, naturally caused confusion and loss, and it was found necessary to fix the exchange-value of such different coins in relation to the standard "sicca". It is a curious fact, worthy of note, that even at the end of the 18th Century, Government revenue was being paid in some places in "cowrie" shells, and the following extract from the Calcutta Gazette of the 6th October, 1791, is self-explanatory:—

"Notice is hereby given that on or before the 1st November next, sealed proposals of contract for the remittance in Dacca of the couries received on account of the revenues of Sylhet, which may, at the expiration of each month, remain in balance in the Treasury of the Collector to be paid into the Treasury of the Collector of Dacca in silver, will be received at the office of the Secretary to the Board of Revenue. All persons, who may deliver in proposals, are desired to specify the rates per Cowan or Cowans of Couries at which they will engage to make the remittances proposed."

It was in the year 1792, that we find a long Notification issued by the Government relating to the minting of coins, recalling of coins other than siccas, and fixing the exchange value of the different species of coins. The Notification appeared in the Calcutta Gazette of the 1st November, 1792, and I am quoting some portions of it:—

"The following Regulations for the conduct of the several Mints having been adopted by the Governor-General in Council, they are now made public, together with the subjoined table of rates of Batta, for general information:—

1st—that after the 30th Chyete 1200 Bengali style, corresponding with the 10th April, 1794, only the 19th Sun Sicca Rupee be received at the Public Treasuries, or issued therefrom, on any account whatsoever.

2nd—that public notice be given that Government, with a view to enable individuals to get their old coin or bullion converted into Sicca Rupees without delay, have established Mints at Patna, Moorshedabad and Dacca, in addition to the Mint at Calcutta.

3rd—that for all bullion or old coin of sicca standard delivered into the Mint, an equal weight of Sicca Rupees be returned to the proprietor without any charge whatsoever.

4th—that all bullion or old coin under sicca standard delivered into the Mints be refined to the sicca standard, and that a number of Sicca Rupees equal to the weight of the bullion so refined, be returned, after deducting twelve annas per cent. for the charge of refining.

5th—that as there may not be a sufficient number of Sicca Rupees in circulation in some districts (notwithstanding the great number of this species of Rupees that has lately been coined in the Mints at Dacca and Calcutta), to enable the Landholders to pay their revenues to Government in Sicca Rupees, as stipulated in their engagements for the Decennial Settlement, that the various species of Rupees current in the several districts be received at the Public Treasuries from the Landholders and Farmers in payment of their revenue until the 30th Chyete, 1200 Bengali style, or 10th April, 1794, at fixed rates of Batta, to be calculated according to the difference of intrinsic value, which the various species of coins in circulation bear to the Sicca Rupee, as ascertained by assay in the Calcutta Mint.

10th—that all Rupees, excepting Siccas, which may be received at the Public Treasuries agreeably to the 9th Article, be not on any account issued therefrom, but that they be sent to the Mints and coined into Sicca of the 19th Sun."

The reader may probably be puzzled at the term "Sun" as used above; it is merely the Bengali term for "year", and "19th Sun Sicca" means the rupees coined in the 19th year, which were to be taken as standard. We also find from the above Notification that other Mints had been established at Patna, Murshidabad and Dacca by the Company, and that the different kinds of coins were now being recalled, to be melted down and recoined into Siccas, time being allowed for nearly two years. The table of rates of batta or discount, as subjoined to the Notification, is given below, showing the various kinds of coins in circulation at the time :—

Occasionally there was shortage of silver coins, and in 1791 some people of Calcutta had applied to the Superintendent of Police "to compel the shroffs to furnish silver in exchange for gold coin" and to punish them "if they gave less value than the former market price" which was one Arcot and 15 Sicea Rupees for each Gold Mohur. In response to this the Government simply announced, in the Calcutta Gazette of the 1st December, 1791, that the "sale of gold and silver coin shall be as free and unrestrained in every respect as the sale of gold and silver bullion". Similarly, at another period, too much gold and silver had been taken in, and a notice appeared in the Gazette of the 26th April, 1791, stopping further intake of the precious metals, as follows :—

"This is to give notice that the deliveries of gold and silver bullion at the Mint upon the advertisements of the 1st December, 1790, and 14th January, 1791, having considerably exceeded the abilities of the Mint, the Governor-General in Council is under the necessity of suspending the permission granted, by the orders above referred to, until the bullion in the Mint shall have been coined; of which the public will be duly informed.

By order of the Governor-General in Council,

J. L. O'NEILL,

Secy. to Govt.

Coming to the Mint now, it was situated to the west of St. John's Church, roughly on the site now occupied by the Stamp and Stationery Office in Church Lane. The first coins struck here were issued on 19th August, 1757, and the Mint continued to function till 1802.

The present Mint, situated on Strand Road, was the second Mint in Calcutta. The building was designed by Major-General Forbes of the Bengal Engineers, on the model of the famous Temple of Minerva at Athens (Greece), the pillared portico being an exact replica in miniature of that famed temple. Its foundation stone was laid on 31st March, 1824, the building being completed and equipped in 1830 at a cost of about 24 lakhs of rupees. It is said that the building having been erected on the reclaimed bank of the river, very secure foundations were necessary, and these were solidly built for an average depth of 25 ft. below the surface-level of Clive Street. The coinage of the East India Company began to be minted here from the year 1835. It may be mentioned that copper coins were first issued from this Mint in 1865, and nickel coins in 1907.

G. B. S. PLANS TO BE A CENTENARIAN

George Bernard Shaw plans to have to be 100—at least he has joined the Centenarian Club without the formality of waiting for one-hundredth year.

The Club is for those of a hundred or those who aspire to be. Shaw, who is in his ninetieth year, has written to the President of the Club explaining his attitude to old age, but would not be drawn on the subject when questioned, reports the "Sunday Dispatch."

When asked if he wanted to live to be a hundred, he answered: "You wait until you are 90 and see how you feel. At my age individuality matters so very little. If you gave me a few years to write an article on this subject, I might do it, though you would find that I have said it all before."

George Bernard Shaw wants doctors in Britain to be "paid an agreed fee for keeping a family well throughout the year." He writes in "The Times" :—

"The monstrosity of the present system of private practices in medicine is that it gives doctors a vested interest in disease, which they are defending desperately. We, the victims, support them because we want doctors of our own friendly choice and not strangers planted on us by the state.

"The solution is simple. In Sweden, the most civilized country in Western Europe, a private doctor is paid an agreed fee for keeping a family well throughout the year. He gains nothing and has more to do when there is illness in the family."

Shaw adds: "My Swedish acquaintance has found no difficulty in inducing English doctors to make this arrangement. Why not make it obligatory and abolish payment by the nob ruthlessly?"

Bridging Up Distances In Post-War Period Government Of India's National Highways Scheme

The Government of India have, as a part of their post-war planning, formulated a national highways scheme which includes 87 roads proposed to be classified as national highways with a total length of about 18,000 miles of which about 15,000 miles are to be in British India and 3,000 in the States.

The cost of constructing the missing links bridging major rivers and improving the whole system up to modern standards, is roughly estimated at Rs. 70 crores in 10 to 15 years and an annual maintenance cost of between two to two-and-a-half crores.

The roads will be developed to uniform traffic-bearing standards but not extravagantly.

Provincial Governments have been informed that subject to vote of the legislature and an agreement reached on conditions set out, the Central Government would accept full liability for completion and survey of lands in different districts in Bengal is now in progress in connection with the construction of five roads to link Calcutta with Assam, Madras, Bombay, Delhi, Darjeeling and Chittagong as a post-war measure.

The proposed Calcutta-Assam road will be about 250 miles long. It will run through Faridpur, Dacca and Mymensingh districts. Starting from Calcutta-Jessore road the important stations it will touch before it reaches the borders of Assam will be Goalundo, Aricha, Tangail and Singjani in Mymensingh.

Bengal part of Calcutta-Madras-Bombay road is expected to be about 125 miles long. Before it reaches the Bihar borders it will touch Pursura and Arambag in the Hooghly district and Midnapore town.

Calcutta-Delhi road will pass through Haripal (Hooghly) and Devipur near Memari (Burdwan). Near Devipur it will join Grand Trunk Road.

Calcutta-Darjeeling road will be about 290 miles long. Its route will be as follows: Calcutta to Devipur (via Calcutta-Assam road); Aricha to Narayanganje and Dacca. From the other side of the Meghna the road will run via Daudkandi, Comilla and Feni before it reaches Chittagong.

Bridges are proposed to be constructed over rivers and rivulets lying across the route of the national highways and power-driven ferry boats provided for crossing big rivers.

A casualty of World War II, Calcutta's 200-mile road system will soon have a fresh lease of life. On representations by the Bengal Government, the Government of India have agreed to bear a considerable proportion of the expenses to be incurred by the Corporation in repairing roads which have been damaged by heavy military-traffic during the past six years.

CALCUTTA BUSTEES

THE FIRST TO BE IMPROVED

The first bustee in Calcutta to be improved under the short-term scheme inaugurated last year by Mr. R. G. Casey, late Governor of Bengal, is that at 109-110, Ultadanga Main Road, having a total population of 2,650.

The Improvement Trust are undertaking the work. Construction of modern drains and roads to facilitate conservancy, replacement of insanitary latrins, installation of bathing platforms, clearing of tanks and sinking of tubs wells for augmenting the existing water supply are among the improvements to be carried out.

The scheme is estimated to cost Rs. 2,18,860 of which half is proposed to be borne by the Government and the Improvement Trust in equal proportions and the remaining half will be recovered from the owners of land and huts.

maintenance of the national highways with effect from April 1, 1947.

Roads covered by the scheme include, among others, the Grand Trunk Road north, Grand Trunk Road East, Calcutta-Madras Road, Bombay-Calcutta Road, Bihar-North Bengal Highway, Siliguri-Rangpur-Gangtok Road, Calcutta-Comilla Road, Comilla-Sylhet, Shillong-Gauhati Road, etc.

The post-war transport and communications development schemes of the Central Government are estimated to cost about Rs. 477 crores. The railway programme will involve an expenditure of Rs. 819 crores of which about 20 per cent. is likely to be spent in 1946-47. The civil aviation plan involves an expenditure of Rs. 6 crores of which Rs. 60 lakhs is proposed to be spent in the coming year. Provision of national highways, the responsibility for construction of which will be that of the Centre, will cost Rs. 70 crores. Development of the Posts and Telegraphs will cost Rs. 12 crores.

DACCA MUNICIPALITY

TAKES UP ROAD-REPAIR PROGRAMME

The Dacca Municipality has accepted the tenders for repairing almost all remaining damaged roads of the city at the cost of Rs. 3,12,000 and the work will begin soon. It is understood that the contractors have been directed to finish the work within March, 1947.

Nawabpur Road, one of the main roads in the city has already been repaired.

COOKING MEALS BY TELEPHONE CALL

Cooking a meal by simply making a telephone call home may be as everyday an event as ringing up a friend, according to experts who are working on telephone communications development.

The idea would be a boon to thousands of women who have to be at business during the day or out-of-doors a lot with their children. The only human effort necessary would be to prepare the meal before going out and leave it in the oven. Then at a pre-determined time ring up the house, where a thermostat control from telephone to oven would start cooking.

DEATH BY ELECTROCUTION

A middle-aged Bengali was electrocuted on Chowringhee, near Lower Circular Road crossing, when the city was swampy by a storm on Tuesday night, the 9th April. A branch of a tree snapped and in falling brought down the overhead electric tram wire. A boy passing beneath was trapped and the man went to his rescue. He succeeded in freeing the boy, who was unhurt but touched a 'live' wire and was killed instantaneously.

MAYORAL ELECTIONS

CALCUTTA had its new Mayor and Deputy Mayor elected for one year on Monday, the 29th April

Since Deshabandhu Chittaranjan Das had been the first Mayor of Calcutta in the New Corporation, this high position had gone to leaders of the people,—mostly to politicians and legal luminaries. This practice definitely took a different turn when Mr. Hem Chandra Nasker adorned the Mayoral Chair. He proved beyond doubt that the first citizen of Calcutta need not belong to the upper ten of the city's social life. Mr. Nasker was followed by Mr. Badrudduja, who did not also trace his descent from aristocracy. But next to him came Mr. Anandi Lal Poddar, a merchant prince of the city. Though the election of Mr. Poddar as the Mayor of Calcutta sounded a note of reversion to the old ways, an equally interesting step was taken thereby in giving recognition to a fairly large, and mostly wealthy, section of the rate-payers of Calcutta.

Against this background is to be seen the election of Mr. S. M. Usman as the new Mayor of Calcutta, seeking to continue the agreement that Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose had entered into with the most important and influential minority party in the Corporation,—that is, the Muslim League.

The election of the New Mayor should reflect the amity of the leading political parties in Bengal. Though this hope may only appear to be a pious one, yet we feel that such rapprochement, however temporary, have a permanent value, as it looks forward to the attainment of an ideal which is uppermost in the minds of all who have the good of India at heart.

"I am the first Mayor, who is a proletariat, and I assure you that I have no piece of land here nor do I own any building. I have been brought up in the slums.....I have lived with the masons and day-labourers," said the new Mayor, while replying to the felicitations offered to him by the Aldermen and the Councillors.

In the advent of a new era in power-politics of the world, in the rise of the masses in every individual country, this election of the Mayor and the Deputy Mayor,—a unity between the mass and the class,—is fraught with significance in the context of the general civic life of Calcutta, the amelioration of the living conditions of the masses in the slums and the bustees of the city and also the rights and privileges of the People's Corporation against all undue interference from any quarter whatsoever.

We offer our respectful welcome to Mr. S. M. Usman and Mr. Naresh Nath Mookerjee, the New Mayor and the Deputy Mayor respectively, to their high office. We have no doubt that they will be able to maintain its high traditions, in a manner which will reflect credit on them and the Corporation as well. Mr. Usman's inaugural speech augurs well, and his Deputy, Mr. Mookerjee, with his long and intimate experience of Corporation affairs and suave personality will be able to afford very substantial assistance to his "Chief." The combination, if we may say so, has been excellent,—a combination of youth, energy and capacity for work at a high level. Calcutta expects much and expects not to be disappointed.

In bidding farewell to the retiring Mayor and the Deputy Mayor, we shall be failing in our duty if we did not pay our tribute to the retiring Mayor and the Deputy Mayor. Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee has borne his heavy burden wisely and worthily and steered the ship of our Corporation and the City's affairs in general during a year of singular storm and stress and fateful history clear of eddies and shoals and rocks. Calcutta will remember it.

TWO DISTINGUISHED FRIENDS OF RABINDRANATH

With a heavy heart we have received reports of the deaths of two very distinguished foreigner friends of Poet Rabindranath Tagore: Count Hermann Von Keyserling and Dr. Edward Thompson.

Count Keyserling was a famous philosopher and had been a host to Rabindranath at his famous school of Darmstadt when the poet visited Germany.

Dr. Thompson, who was a poet himself, wrote the best book on the life and works of Poet Tagore.

Calcutta is proud of Rabindranath and also of the associations through which the poet made this city, and the country as a whole, known to the great minds of the world.

WELCOME TO UTTAMCHAND

In the issue of the Gazette, dated the 18th April, 1946, referring to the occasion of a party of welcome accorded to Mr. Uttamchand, the well-known Indian merchant of Kabul, who afforded shelter to Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose at the time of his mysterious disappearance from India and his sojourn in Afganistan. It has been brought to our notice, we most inadvertently missed reference to the facts that it was the then Mayor of Calcutta, Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, who gave that party to Mr. Uttamchand, and also that the Mayor, while offering welcome to the honoured guest, on behalf of himself and the Corporation, expressed gratefulness to Mr. Uttamchand for having given protection to Netaji Bose during his adventurous disappearance for the achievement of India's independence. For such unwilful and merely circumstantial omissions we offer our sincere regrets to Mr. Mukherjee.

DEREQUISITIONED HOUSES

The city of New York has faced acute dearth of living rooms for the inflated population that it has at present to accommodate. Whether this scarcity of accommodation in New York has been equally distressful as in Calcutta may not be affirmed, but the present situation in this city cannot be imagined to be worse than ever in the near future.

When new houses are not to be easily built for want of materials, it should be the duty of the authorities to see that the existing living spaces in the city are properly used to their best advantages. It has been brought to our notice that some new houses have been constructed by the Government—Central or Provincial, for use by their officers and staff. But how many of these houses have been properly occupied by those for whom they have been built? Filling up of such houses will certainly create some vacuum in other parts of the city, which the people, who are now living in unhygienic living rooms, can profitably fill in.

It has also been brought to our notice that some scores of big mansions, mostly made up of flat-tenements, have been vacated by the military personnel, who used to occupy them sometime ago, but strangely enough they have still been kept under lock and key, thus denying entry to the persons, who are madly roving about in search of any "damned" living space. Who? and Why? are our pertinent questions to the authorities in connection with these deserted yet denied houses. On the other hand, we find occasional reports of a swelling number of derequisitioned houses. Where these houses go and how are they being used?

It has further been brought to our notice that the landlords have now learnt better ways to avoid the Rent Controller. Their ways are

The Week In The Corporation

New Mayor And Deputy Mayor Elected

The First Meeting In The Year 1946-47

MR. S. M. Usman and Mr. Naresh Nath Mookerjee were elected Mayor and Deputy Mayor respectively until the first meeting of the Corporation in 1947-48 at the meeting, being the first in 1946-47, held on Monday, the 29th April, 1946.

After the new members had taken the Oath of Allegiance, the name of Mr. S. M. Usman was proposed by Mr. Abdur Rezak and seconded by Mr. S. A. Habib, while the name of Mr. Shamsul Haque was proposed by Dr. M. N. Sarkar and seconded by Dr. S. N. Sinha.

At first the voting was by show of hands; later poll having been demanded, the result of voting upon the name of Mr. Usman was as follows:—71 "for"; 10 "against"; 2 "not voting."

The name of Mr. Naresh Nath Mookerjee was proposed by Mr. Purnendu Sekhar Basu for election as Deputy Mayor, until the first Meeting of the Corporation in 1947-48. Mr. Jogindra Lal Saha seconded. No other name having been proposed, Mr. Mookerjee was declared elected.

After the elections, the new Mayor and the Deputy Mayor were conducted to their chairs on the dais by the retiring Mayor, Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee.

honour of the election of the new Mayor and the Deputy Mayor.

While replying to the felicitations, offered by the Councillors and Aldermen the new Mayor styled himself as the first "proletariat" Mayor for Calcutta, who did not possess a house nor a piece of land in the city. He, having lived for twenty-five years of his early life in a "bustee" of Calcutta with the masons and labourers, was keenly alive to the miserable conditions of the bustee people. The bustees and slums were, according to him, like a blot on the fair face of the city of Calcutta,—a scourge and a festering sore.

"I assure you that I will zealously guard the rights and privileges of the Aldermen and Council-strange and circuitous. They take salami of exorbitantly tall sums; they receive higher rents and render receipts for smaller amounts. Poor seekers of living rooms, they fall easy prey to such obnoxious tricks of the landlords! Where are ways to control these?

Going in search of the causes for such a state of affairs, we have found two in the main. First until uniform rationing is introduced all over the province, people from various parts of Bengal will be flowing in into the city to avail themselves of the advantages of full rationing in Calcutta. Secondly, the Burma evacuees, who first took shelter in villages and mofussil towns, have flocked in Calcutta, more particularly at present when the males are returning to Burma leaving behind the families in more secured conditions.

This much for the present. We shall be dilating upon the subject at any next opportunity. In the meantime we shall be earnestly expecting to see the vacated houses, as referred to in the above, really derequisitioned.

Memorial To Deshapriya J. M. Sen-Gupta

Foundation Stone Laid By The Mayor

THE foundation stone of the memorial to Deshapriya J. M. Sen-Gupta to be built at Keoratala burning ghat was laid by the Mayor, Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, on Sunday, the 28th April.

Mr. Mukherjee said that the foundation stone of the Memorial had formally been laid by the late Dr. Charu Chandra Chatterjee in 1942. He recalled that during the Mayoralty of Mr. Anandilal Poddar about two years ago, Rs. 7,000 was collected for building the memorial. Of this Rs. 5,000 was paid by the late Dr. Charu Chandra Chatterjee and Rs. 2,000 by the Chittagong Union. The whole of this money, Mr. Mukherjee said, was with Mr. Anandilal Poddar. Mr. Mukherjee added that the cost of the building had been estimated at Rs. 12,000, and the late Dr. Charu Chandra Chatterjee made in 1942 a promise to pay the balance himself, if necessary.

It was a matter of disgrace that the memorial building was not yet an accomplished fact for want of funds, though fifteen years had elapsed since Deshapriya passed away, and though he fought for the country to the very last day of his life.

The President then announced that Mr. Satya Ranjan Chatterjee, son of the late Dr. Charu Chandra Chatterjee, who was present at the ceremony would fulfil the wishes of his father.

Placed by the side of Deshbandhu's mausoleum, this memorial, the Mayor pointed out, would be a source of inspiration to generations of his countrymen. Deshapriya had dedicated his life and sacrificed all he had for the cause of his country. His patriotism, sacrifice and courage would keep his memory ever green in the hearts of his countrymen.

Among those present were the Deputy Mayor, Mr. Samsul Haque, Mr. Anandilal Poddar, Kaviraj Satyabrata Sen, Sri. THE RETIRING MAYOR
Mr. DEBENDRA NATH MUKHERJEE

FIVE-FOLD PROBLEMS OF THE CORPORATION

The Out-Going Mayor's Analysis

In the course of a Press interview Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, the out-going Mayor, has sent a request to the citizens of Calcutta to exercise economy in the use of both filtered and unfiltered water. The Corporation equipments, in his opinion, are not sufficient for more than 30 lakhs of people.

The citizens should keep the roads and streets neat and clean and should not throw garbage on the streets after 9 in the morning and before 3 p.m. and after 6 p.m.

Referring to Corporation administration, he observes:—

"If there is any defect in the administration, it is not so much for the subordinate staff as for the lack of vigilant control and supervision by departmental heads and principal officers.

"Principal officers should work hard to see that their staff put in their services in right earnest by punctual attendance and by faithful discharge of duties entrusted to them."

According to the out-going Mayor, the problems of the Corporation, crying for immediate solution, have been five-fold:—

(1) Adequate Water Supply—both filtered and unfiltered;

(2) Proper Drainage in Cossipore and Manicktolla areas;

(3) Proper Maintenance of the Kulti Outfall;

(4) Reforms of 'Khatals' (cousheds); and

(5) Slum Improvement.

"The cousheds in the various parts of the city are growing to be more and more a serious nuisance. As also the milk problem in Calcutta is perhaps more acute than in any other city.

"Slums should be cleansed daily instead of once a fortnight as currently done. Government should immediately open out paths inside the 'bustees', provide for electric posts and construct privies."

"The Corporation to do all that is wanted of it needs more money from the Government", he adds.

Expressing the hope that the Government will soon make available to citizens an infectious diseases hospital, the retiring Mayor remarks, "Health of the city is much better now than when I took office last year."

"My term of office has been one of the most eventful. During this period twice broke out what is now known as 'Calcutta Disturbance'—once in November, 1945, and again in February this year—the former synchronising with an all-out municipal employees' strike, involving stoppage of water-supply, transport and conservancy."

Some Calcutta Problems Reviewed

Street Accidents : Derequisitioning Of Houses : Food Economy : Slum Improvement

Street accidents, derequisitioning of houses and Army's food economy campaign were the subjects dealt with at a Press Conference held by the military authorities in Calcutta during the week before last.

Dealing with traffic accidents, Maj. Gen. F. R. R. Busher Commander, 808 (Bengal) area, said, "We have now taken all possible safely-first measures on the military side, and we expect the public to assist us by educating itself in traffic sense."

The General said that a large number of military-type vehicles to be seen in the city are not the property of the Defence Services. The Central P. W. D., the C. and W. Dept. and Civil Supplies Department of the Provincial Government, and the Calcutta Corporation all possess military-type vehicles, and their drivers are often the offenders. The General said that he had verified this from personal observation, and added: "We are arranging for our vehicles to be given a distinctive colour on bonnets and tail-boards."

According to the General, the standard of military driving in Calcutta is no worse than that of the average civilian driver, or in comparison to military driving in many other large towns.

The General said that little is done to educate the public on the highway code. Pedestrians walk in the middle of the street instead of on the pavements. They cross the road without looking in the proper direction. There are few 'islands', and these only on the main thoroughfares. The different types of vehicular traffic using the Calcutta thoroughfares—bullock-carts, rickshaws, wheel-barrow, tram cars, etc., all travelling at different speeds, and, in the case of the first three, observing no rule-of-the-road, create a traffic problem not encountered in many other great cities.

"Generally, the Calcutta public is the worst in traffic sense that I have come across. I have been in Cairo, Basra, Baghdad, Teheran, Bombay, Madras and in many other places during the war, so I speak from knowledge."

The fastest drivers of military-type vehicles in Calcutta, according to the General, were U. S. F. Negro troops and Indian civilians driving large six wheel lorries. This is a conclusion come to, the the General said, as the result of his own tours around the city.

DEREQUISITIONING OF HOUSES

On the question of derequisitioning, Maj.-Gen. J. S. Ballentine, in-charge of Administration, Eastern Command, said, that the total number of requisitioned properties was 1757. Of these, recommendations had been made for the release of 849, while 275 had been actually released. He admitted that there was sometimes delay between vacation of a property by the Defence Services and its being handed over to its rightful owner. This was due to shortage of trained staff in the Lands, Hirings and Disposal Directorate.

In reply to a question, the General said that requisitioning was done under the D. I. Rules. So the order would automatically lapse from October 1, 1946, that is six months after the official declaration of cessation of hostilities. He, however, proposed to derequisition all properties held by the Army by October 1, 1946.

FOOD ECONOMY

Speaking on Army's food economy, the General said that the military authorities had imposed an arbitrary cut of approximately one-sixth of the total ration of atta, rice, flour, sugar and other less important items of the soldier's diet in view of the world shortage of foodstuffs.

Foodstuffs saved by the Army all over India for four weeks in February last were 945 tons of dal, 630 tons of atta, 268 tons of sugar and 88 tons of flour. The cut in flour and sugar rations supplied to the Services' canteens effected a saving of 3,035 tons of flour and over 5,000 tons of sugar at the beginning of March. The quantity had been surrendered to the Food Department for reallocation to civil needs.

The ban on the slaughter of cattle as imposed by the Central and Provincial Governments, the General said, during the war was still in force and it had now been decided that troops overseas in S. E. A. C. would no longer be supplied with sheep and goats from India. The percentage of cattle killed for Army to the total cattle population stood at .11 in 1942. In 1945, it had come down to .05.

Military transport had also been made available in the distribution of food for the civil population. The four civil G. T. Cos. raised in Bengal and Behar had been offered as complete units to provincial governments but the offer had been rejected.

SLUM IMPROVEMENT

Mr. Bhupesh Gupta, Barrister-at-Law, Honorary Legal Adviser, and Mr. Hrishikesh Banerjee, Secretary to the Ultadanga Bustee Committee, in a statement referring to the quit notice served on the Ultadanga bustee dwellers under the Bengal Slum Improvement Act say:—

Under the Bengal Slum Improvement Act, 1945, the Chairman of Calcutta Improvement Trust has served notices upon about 250 owners of bustee huts, affecting roughly 1,000 families. It is understood that similar notices will shortly be served on many others.

Before preparing the present scheme, the authorities of the Calcutta Improvement Trust did not bother to ascertain the views of the actual inhabitants of these bustees with the result that the scheme is full of drawbacks and in some measure, directly against the interests of the tenants. The scheme provides that a sum of Rs. 40,478 only shall be spent toward the cost of demolition and as compensations to be paid to the owners of the huts. There is no provision, however, as to how much the actual occupants of these huts shall get.

HEALTH & HYGIENEModern Conception Of Health Requirements*Dr. B. C. Roy's Broadcast Talks

"It may take 40 years or more to implement fully the Long-Term Programme, but once given effect to, it will secure for the people, a reasonably well developed service based on the newer and extended conception of modern health requirements," said Dr. B. C. Roy, Member of the Bhore Health Committee, in a broadcast talk on the Committee's Report, from All-India Radio, Calcutta.

He said that such a long term of years would be necessary to give full effect to the scheme because,

(1) the total number of personnel required for implementing the scheme for the whole of British India was not now available. It may take 30 years and more to do so;

(2) the money necessary for giving effect to this scheme, both recurring and non-recurring, may be difficult for this country to afford immediately; and

(3) the technique for providing the health services should be developed in reference to the existing social and economic conditions of the people.

Emphasizing this third reason, Dr. Roy pointed out that it should be a tragedy if the techniques developed in other countries were to be applied to India.

He also mentioned the short-term scheme covering two periods of five years each which the Committee had considered along with the blue print of the long term.

TWO TYPES OF SERVICES

As Chairman of the Medical Relief Committee, Dr. Roy prepared a plan for medical relief of people covering health services of two types viz., personal and impersonal. The figures collected for this purpose brought out the fact that death rate in India was perhaps the highest in the world except Egypt. Infant mortality was also the highest and the expectation of life was the lowest. It was estimated that 60 per cent. of deaths could be and should have been prevented, if provision was made to create healthy environment to provide adequate nutrition and to undertake preventive and curative measures for all members of the community irrespective of their ability to pay for the same and to enlist the active co-operation of people in the maintenance of their health.

In British India the total number of Doctors was 47,000, Nurses 7,000, Health Visitors 750, and Midwives 5,000, i.e., 1 Doctor for every 6,300 people, 1 Nurse for 43,000 people, 1 Health Visitor for 4 lacs people and 1 Midwife for 60,000 people. As compared with this in England there was one Doctor for 1,000 people, 1 Nurse for 300 people, one Health Visitor for 4,000 and one Midwife for 580.

The total number of Hospital beds available in India was about 73,000, that is to say, 24 beds per thousand population whereas it was 10.4 in America and 7.11 in England. According to Dr. Roy absence of planning, apathy of Government and want of health consciousness among the people were the three reasons for the present state of affairs in India.

The combined expenditure on medical relief and public health activities in India in 1944-45 amounted to Rs. 519 per capita per year whereas the corresponding figure for the United Kingdom was Rs. 54-8 in 1935-36 and in the United States of America Rs. 51-6 in 1938. A moderate calculation showed that not more than 5 to 6 per cent. of the total provincial revenue was meant for health services.

HEALTH SERVICE FOR FUTURE

Dr. Roy observed, "For the first time, the Bhore Committee has made a serious attempt to draw up such a comprehensive plan for every type of health service, in order to secure positive health for the people of the country."

He said that in preparing a plan for health development in the future, the Committee accepted certain fundamental principles.

(1) That every individual had a right to receive from the State free and adequate medical care;

(2) That the health programme must include both curative and preventive measures;

(3) That there was an urgent need to develop and maintain health services for the vast rural population;

(4) That the health services should be placed as close to the people as possible;

(5) That the scheme should be so devised as to secure active co-operation of the people in all stages.

(6) The Ministry of Health in future should contain persons with an intimate knowledge of health matters, who should enjoy the confidence of the public and were thus able to secure their support in matters of legislation and administration.

The countryside was the focal point of the Committee's main recommendations, because therein resided 90 per cent. of the people, who to-day received very little health protection.

I. N. A. MEDICAL MENTHEIR SERVICES REQUISITIONED BY U.P. GOVERNMENT

The Hon'ble Mrs. Vijaya Laxmi Pandit, Minister for Public Health and Local Self-Government, U. P., disclosed at a recent press conference that the Congress Ministry had requisitioned the services of Indian National Army medical men to fight diseases particularly plague and cholera in the province.

Mrs. Pandit said that 50 nursing orderlies and three doctors of I. N. A. had already been employed temporarily and a request for more medical men had been made to the Central I. N. A. Committee. The Government was considering the question of issuing an appeal to medical men to offer their services to Government in their anti-epidemic drive.

TWO FUNDAMENTAL PRINCIPLES

Dr. Roy also observed that he had raised the following two fundamental issues at the time of the Bhore Committee's appointment and that these principles were accepted by the authorities:—

"First that we should be free to overhaul, if need be, the whole of the existing machinery for administration of health services in India as also the policy guiding it, and not be weighed down by any consideration of sectional service, communal or racial interests.

"Secondly, that in planning for the future, we should proceed on the basis that the problems belong to an Independent India, an India which would be free to formulate its own Scheme of Health Development and be responsible to carry it into effect, an India where people will give to the plan their free and willing co-operation without which success cannot be ensured."

(II)

The Bhore Committee's Short-Term Programme, divided into five three year periods and providing for a country-wide health organisation, was reviewed by Dr. B. C. Roy during his second broadcast on the Committee's Report from A.I.R., Calcutta.

Pointing out that in this programme emphasis was laid on preventive work in preference to curative, Dr. Roy said that even if all the money and staff at present available were employed for curative purposes, only a small section of the population would be relieved. On the other hand, every health programme should be developed on the foundation of preventive service.

SHORT-TERM PROGRAMME

In the Short-Term Programme such measure would be adopted as would produce demonstrable

GOVT. VACCINE LYMPH DEPOT

REPLY TO PRESS CRITICISM

The Government of Bengal in the course of a Press Note says:—

Certain observations made in the report of the Health Survey and Development Committee, popularly known as the Bhore Committee, have led to comments in a section of the Press in respect of the administration of the Government Vaccine Lymph Depot and the Cholera Vaccine Laboratory in Calcutta.

It is perhaps not realized that the Bhore Committee report, which has been published only recently, is actually based on inquiries made a considerable time ago; in fact, the Committee's impressions in regard to the Lymph Depot and the Cholera Vaccine Laboratory were formed during a visit to these institutions on May 7, 1944.

Even before the Committee's visit, however, Government had appointed a Sub-Committee of the Sanitary Board to examine the whole position, and steps were taken on the recommendations of this Sub-Committee to rectify defects. The improvements effected included the construction of separate quarantine sheds, a revision of the manufacture of lymphs on the lines followed at Belgaum, purchase of new equipment and the installation of a more efficient refrigeration machinery. Field tests were introduced to test the potency of lymphs which were issued for use only if found suitable.

In 1945 another Sub-Committee of experts was appointed by Government to make a further report and this Sub-Committee certified that definite improvements had been made and production was being carried out in accordance with accepted methods.

For several months now the Vaccine Depot in Calcutta has been manufacturing lymphs sufficient not only to meet the demands of Bengal but also the requirements of Indian and British troops in the S. E. A. C. area. Similarly the Vaccines prepared at the Cholera Vaccine Laboratory are meeting the demands not only of Bengal and other provinces but also of some of armed forces overseas.

TUBERCULOSIS IN NEWS

HIS EXCELLENCY AT TUBERCULOSIS ASSOCIATION

H. E. Sir Frederick Burrows, Governor of Bengal, addressing the annual general meeting of the Bengal Tuberculosis Association in Calcutta, referred to the recent incidence of epidemics in the province and the vigorous measures taken by Government to combat them. "I believe that we have to a large extent been successful," he said.

For good and essential work done, thanks, on behalf of himself and the people of the province, were given by the Governor to the workers and members of the Association. In that connection he said he hoped that the Association would continue to be supported both morally and financially by the public in this province.

After referring to the increase in facilities for treatment made available during the past year, Sir Frederick said it was planned to convert one of the largest American military hospitals in the province into a tuberculosis hospital. This should provide at least 500 more beds for the accommodation of patients.

H. E. Sir Frederick Burrows and Lady Burrows visited the Jadavpur Tuberculosis Hospital on the 27th April last. On arrival they were received by Dr. B. C. Roy and Dr. K. S. Ray, President and Superintendent respectively of the hospital. H. E. and Lady Burrows were shown round different wards of the hospital.

Among others present were Mr. H. S. Suhrawardy, Chief Minister, Khan Bahadur Muhammed Ali, Finance Minister, and Khan Bahadur Abdul Goffran, Minister for Civil Supplies.

Started in 1924 with a bequest of about Rs. 2,00,000 made by the late Mr. Provash Chandra Ghosh of Calcutta and a cottage hospital of four beds, it has now accommodation for 310 patients. The number is insignificant compared to the number of patients afflicted with the disease in Bengal, which is estimated at 1,000,000.

result. Maternity and Child Welfare work was placed on the forefront of the programme because 50 per cent of the total deaths in the year occurred below the age of 10 and 200,000 mothers died at childbirth every year. If the mortality could be reduced by intensive educative propaganda, particularly among women and children and by improving environment condition, water supply, etc.

the value of the programme would be demonstrated both to the public and to the authorities.

The Programme would aim at :—

(1) Increasing provision for training of Doctors, Technician Nurses, Midwives, Pharmacists, Health Assistants, Social Workers, etc. Not only must a larger number of Doctors be trained, but should be trained as "social" physicians with a bias for preventive work so as to ensure personal and community health.

(2) Perfecting the technique of health administration in the country by actual demonstration of health services over certain areas.

(3) Educating the public in health matters, mobilising the goodwill and rousing their health consciousness by letting them participate in local health programme through the creation of village, Sub-division or District Committees. Such health education would enable the people themselves to discard social customs, habits and prejudices detrimental to health.

Due to insufficiency of funds and of trained personnel, at the outset no District Health Centre Organisation was provided in the Short-Term Programme. One Secondary Centre and 5 Primary Centres would be started in the District with a smaller hospital and staff than that under the Long-Term Programme. The staff in the Primary Centre would attend to preventive work like sterilisation of water supply, vaccination, checking of vital statistics, anti-malaria field operation, etc. As experience grew, the number of Primary and Secondary Units would increase in a District and eventually, as more money, trained personnel and tested techniques became available the District Health Centre and Hospital would be established and the complete 3 million plan worked.

Dr. Roy emphasised that a widely distributed machinery of this type could work satisfactorily only if there was some authority to guide and supervise and to co-ordinate the activities of the constituent units. The Committee had visualised that there would be a Ministry of Health at the Centre and Ministries of Health in the Provinces. There would also be Local Area Health Administrations while the Central Authority was necessary to control interprovincial spread of communicable diseases, the sanitary control of interprovincial traffic, the enforcement of standards regarding food and drugs, it would at the same time recognise the autonomy of the Provincial Health Authorities.

HEALTH SERVICES PERSONNEL

Dr. Roy further pointed out that all the personnel employed for the various health services during the Long and Short-Term periods would be whole-time officers. Part-time workers or honorary workers may have some place in the District and Secondary Health Centres. In creating this combined health service, a complete overhauling of the present system of having Imperial, provincial or subordinate services was suggested and a policy was laid down for making these appointments.

The per capita expenditure per year under the long-term would be about Rs. 10 whereas during the first three 5 year periods the estimated cost per capita would be Re. 1-4 for the first quinquennium,

Rs. 2-7 for the second and Re. 1-14 for the third. These figures represented an expenditure of 4 to 6 times the amount spent to-day. Dr. Roy observed: "To those who consider this to be excessive, I can only say that health programme demands a very high priority in the allocation of available financial resources, because the carrying out of the health measures proposed is one of the most effective ways of ensuring the economic prosperity of the country and of materially raising the level of national income. Who can assess accurately in terms of money, the effect of ill health on the community, who can estimate the financial loss which the country suffers as the result of decreased productivity through sickness?"

LONG-TERM PROGRAMME

Dr. Roy also gave an outline of the Long-Term Programme which would take years to mature and would require 2,83,000 doctors, 6,70,000 nurses including health workers, 1,15,000 midwives and 77,000 Pharmacists. The countryside was the focal point of this planning. The aim was to place the health services as near to the people of the villagers as possible and to make the ultimate unit health administration as small as practicable. Thus under the Long-Term Programme, there would be Primary units under the guidance, advice and control of Secondary Units, with District Units at the top. Thus there would be a net work of units from the Centre to periphery along which would flow currents of co-operative efforts, guidance and counsel.

Concluding his talk Dr. Roy said: "The task is stupendous. We need money, we need men, we need developed technique. The Bhore Committee has given the blue print for the future workers to fill in the details, give it a shape and make it a growing, living programme for the generations yet unborn."

Obviously, the compensation provided for is much too inadequate, especially in respect of those, who are using their houses for trade and business purposes. Moreover, there is no provision that alternative housings shall be found for those, who are going to be eventually evicted from the bustees.

The notices have not allowed sufficient time for the persons affected to consider the plans and state their suggestions and the manner in which they have been served falls far short of what is known as "reasonable notice."

But what is most objectionable is that the Chairman of the Calcutta Improvement Trust refuses to answer the communications sent to him by our Committee and would not otherwise negotiate with it. The Calcutta Improvement Trust is, therefore, acting contrary to the spirit of the Bengal Slum Improvement Act, 1945, and against the best interests of the citizens, specially the bustee-dwellers.

They appeal to all the leading citizens to take up the cause of those poor bustee people and see that the Calcutta Improvement Trust may not function in such authoritative manner.

"NORTHERN PARK" AS "NETAJI PARK"

To the Editor, "Calcutta Municipal Gazette".

Sir.—People will naturally think that "Northern Park" is situated somewhere in the northern part of the City. Really, it is not a happy naming when a park in South Calcutta is called "Northern Park". May I, therefore, suggest through the medium of your esteemed journal, that if the said park (Northern Park in Bhowanipur), which is very close to Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose's residence, be called "Netaji Park" in hallowed memory of the greatest patriot and martyr, Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose, Supreme Commander, Indian National Army (Azad Hind Fauj), the first Chief Executive Officer and former Mayor of the Corporation of Calcutta, an inhabitant of this place, whose sublime self-sacrifice at the altar of his country's freedom has brought a new national inspiration to the hearts of the Indian people and has awakened a feeling of respectful gratitude to him throughout the length and breadth of India and even abroad, it will not be an unhappy naming after all.—Yours etc.

ROAD ACCIDENTS AND SAFETY MEASURES

To the Editor, Calcutta Municipal Gazette

Sir,—It seems that despite the termination of the war and the consequent absence of necessity for high speed, the carelessness of the drivers of military and Government vehicles and of bus and taxis in Calcutta has increased.

A large majority of recent fatal accidents have, however, been caused by military vehicles. I cannot induce myself to believe that citizens, who had in the past taken great interest in safety education, wilfully violate highway codes and fail in front of these vehicles. The case of the young and popular headmaster of the Keshub Academy is an instance in point.

A multiplicity of factors is responsible for the street accidents, of which careless driving at high speed is only one. I deprecate the tendency of military and other authorities to throw the onus on the drivers of civilian vehicles and on lack of road sense among the public.

The Bengal Provincial Branch of the Safety First Association of India is trying its best to educate the public in the highway code, in co-operation with the Police and other departments of the Government and the Calcutta Corporation. Lectures, exhibitions and special drives have been organized. Before safety education can permeate every age group and walk of life of a population which is taking over from agriculture to industry, a decline in the incidence of accidents cannot be expected. The Education Departments of Government and of local authorities have a great responsibility in this regard.

But safety education can neither attend to road engineering nor to the removal of footpath obstruction by stationary hawkers, beggars and destitutes and unnecessary road furniture. It is not the fault of pedestrians that he walks in the road under these circumstances. The poor pedestrian has been blamed far too much for any preventable accident that occurs.

In a study undertaken last year it was shown that drivers of civilian cars were the least responsible for rash driving and for causing accidents. Tests for driving licenses, whether for the military or for civilians, must be made more stringent. They must be asked not to exceed a speed of 15 to 20 miles an hour within the town; to go slow before educational institutions and hospitals and near crossings; and to halt behind a stationary tramcar or bus until all the passengers have cleared off the street.

More military and police patrols are indicated; recalcitrants should be heavily punished. The Traffic Control Department needs to be strengthened to attend to all important road junctions.—Yours, etc.

CAMPAIGN AGAINST LEPROSYA 20-Year Programme For Southern India

A 20-year war against leprosy in India is being planned in England, it is revealed by Dr. R. G. Cochrane of Vellore, South India, who is giving a course of lectures on leprosy to students at the School of Tropical Medicine in Liverpool.

Dr. Cochrane, Honorary Director of a Government sponsored campaign against leprosy in Southern India, is returning to Vellore in June to establish a Medical College of the University grade.

He said, he hoped to provide teaching facilities about leprosy and to build up adequate preventive units in every district where leprosy is prevalent.

Experiments for ridding the country of the disease have been remarkably successful, Dr. Cochrane claims for in three out of four villages, there has been a marked decrease in the disease, while in one village that had not yet received medical attention, the disease had spread five times in five years.

"The Medical College, which will be the only wholly residential Medical College in India, will integrate the teaching of medicine with rural needs and conditions will be studied in the affected villages themselves," Dr. Cochrane said. "The method of waging war on leprosy is to prevent it from spreading. There is a belief that it is inherited. That is wrong. The disease is contracted in childhood and if we can prevent the children from becoming lepers, then the battle can be won in 20 years."

Dr. Cochrane said that the cost of the war against the disease would be in the region of 2,00,000 pounds.

CALCUTTA NEWS & VIEWSGEN. SHAH NAWAZ AND COL MAHBOOB AHMED

Major-General Shah Nawaz and Col. Mahboob Ahmed, Military Secretary of the Supreme Headquarters of the Azad Hind Fauz arrived in Calcutta on Monday morning, the 29th April, by the B. N. R. Bombay Mail.

The I. N. A. volunteers and a band party along with a large crowd waited at the Howrah station to receive the two soldiers of the Azad Hind Fauz. When the train arrived, Major-General Shah Nawaz and Col. Ahmed could not get down for nearly 15 minutes from the train on account of rush of the crowd before the train door.

Major-General Shah Nawaz and Col. Mehboob visited the Bengal I. N. A. Relief and Enquiry Committee at Bowbazar. They were shown round the various departments of the office by Amiyannath Bose, Secretary of the Committee.

Major-General Shah Nawaz explained the main line of operation followed by Mr. Subhas Chandra Bose on a map of India-Burma theatre of war.

The time for talks was gone. The British were now gasping for life. They would have to answer one question—whether or not they would part with power in good grace or be made to quit India, declared Maj-Gen. Shah Nawaz addressing a mammoth gathering at Sraddhananda Park on Tuesday evening last.

The story that there was extortion in the matter of contribution to the Azad Hind Fund which financed the Provincial Azad Hind Government was downright false propaganda of the British, asserted Gen. Shah Nawaz and added that contributions were purely voluntary.

This propaganda, the General continued, was carried out only to bring Netaji into disgrace. People ought not to be deceived by British bluff and take this stuff lying down.

Gen. Shah Nawaz addressed the meeting in Hindusthani.

MR. JAMINI ROY'S PAINTINGSAN EXHIBITION HELD IN LONDON

An exhibition of paintings and drawings of the famous Indian artist, Mr. Jamini Roy, was recently opened in the Arcade Gallery in London. The ceremony was performed by Mr. E. M. Forster, well-known novelist and writer on Indian affairs.

Over a hundred people present at the opening included the Indian High Commissioner, Sir Samuel Rungtadhan, and leading British writers and artists.

Forster told the audience that during his recent visit to India he appreciated Indian art, specially the work of Bengalee artists, and it was his interest, while in India, that was mainly responsible for exhibition being arranged in London—the first time that Roy's work has been exhibited outside India.

Nearly eighty paintings and drawings are on view.

HYDERABAD MUNICIPALITYSUSPENDED FOR THREE YEARS

A Sind Government Press Note announces that Hyderabad Municipality has been suspended for three years. Unsound finances, inefficient administration and unhealthy conditions in the town are among the 13 charges brought against the municipality.

An I. C. S. officer has been appointed to take over the administration and carry out certain improvements.

Syed Nausher Ali, President, I. N. A. Relief Committee, Bengal, presided.

Col. Mahboob Ahmed Military Secretary to Netaji, who also addressed the meeting said that as members of the I. N. A. they had taken the vow that until freedom was achieved they would take no rest and continue their fight. Whatever might be the outcome of the leaders' talk with the Cabinet Mission they did not mind. They for themselves were always ready to fight for winning their freedom.

During their short visit to Calcutta, the sum of Rs. 1,613 besides some gold ornaments were presented to them towards the I. N. A. Relief Fund. They also called on Sarat Chandra Bose.

CALCUTTA MORTALITY

Deaths from all causes in Calcutta during the week ended April 27 showed a rise of 78 over the previous week's figure of 574. Causes other than the 49 classified diseases and accidents mentioned in Calcutta Corporation's weekly vital statistics report were responsible for loss of 205 lives against 167 the week before. During the corresponding week last year there were 874 and 929 deaths from all causes.

Of the total mortality during the week, 14 persons had no permanent address in the city. In 10 of these cases, the cause of death is reported to have been specific diseases, while in 3 it has been certified as "natural" and in 1 as "unknown."

Cholera attacks and deaths were 78 and 28, respectively, against 128 and 39 the week before. During the corresponding weeks last year there were 592 and 422 attacks and 175 and 186 deaths.

There were 6 attacks and 4 deaths from small-pox against 8 and 5 in the preceding week. Figures for the corresponding weeks last year were 65 and 116 attacks and 52 and 101 deaths.

Deaths from malaria totalled 23 against 22 the week before. In the corresponding weeks last year the disease claimed 36 and 30 lives.

Presiding over the function Prof. Ghosh said that the Forward Bloc was still under ban because it was the only powerful body in India that the Government was afraid of. If they could follow the ideals of Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose, they would be able to achieve independence in no time. Forward Bloc was a party within the Congress and not a separate organization. "We have ideological differences with the Congress but we would like to convert the Congress to our own ideology," said Prof. Ghosh.

GEOLOGICAL INSTITUTE ANNIVERSARY

The view that India could not thrive without industrialization and industrialization called for an extensive geological survey and that unfortunately India had not gone beyond the graduate stage geologically and therefore extensive research and exploration works connected with geology was imperative, was expressed by Dr. M. N. Saha, speaking at the 42nd

Anniversary Meeting of the Geological Institute on the 27th April last in the Geology Department of the Presidency College

Referring to his recent visit to Moscow in connection with the Jubilee Celebration of the Soviet Science Academy where he met a former Director of Geological Survey as also a member of the Viceroy's Executive Council who had advised him to visit the Mineralogical Museum of Russia, he said, that the Museum impressed him as an exemplary institution, of earthly science where 10,000 geologists were employed in connection with geological research besides innumerable geophysicists and geochemists. There he saw a geological map of Russia which gave a vivid account of the minerals of economic use. Thereafter he had asked the former Director of Geological Survey of India as to why he was not able to advance geological research in India when he was in a much privileged position. The Director had replied that all through he was obstructed by the Indian Civil Service, particularly the Finance Department, in all of his plans for geological survey.

LEGAL INTELLIGENCERENT CONTROLLER'S AUTHORITY

Justice Clough of the Calcutta High Court held that the appointment of the Controller of Rent under the Calcutta House Rent Control Order, 1943, was not ultra vires Rule 81 (2) (bb) of the Defence of India Rules.

The question was raised in the suit brought by the plaintiff, Butto Kristo Shaw, to recover possession of a premises, in Calcutta, from the defendant, Panchu Gopal Shaw.

The plaintiff's contention was that Clauses 9A and 9B of the Calcutta House Rent Control Order set up an officer called the Rent Controller who was given the duty to determine private rights between H. M.'s subjects concerning laws relating to property and contract. The Controller performed judicial functions and was, therefore, a "court" and a "tribunal."

Such a court could not be created under Section 14 of the Defence of India Act. Further, Clauses 9A and 9B were ultra vires the powers of the provincial Government.

His lordship held that the Rent Control Order was not an ouster of the jurisdiction of the Court. It seemed to him that the Controller was set up to act not in a judicial but in an executive capacity. The Order merely changed the existing law relating to landlord and tenant. His lordship also found it impossible to say that Clauses 9A and 9B did not come within the words used in Rule 81 (2) (bb).

His lordship, accordingly, refused the plaintiff's prayer for possession of the premises but granted him a decree for arrears of rent, etc., with costs.

Cities are organic expressions of culture.
Uptil today our cities have grown up,
as much of our exterior life has, chaotically.
They have been imitation of Europe and their lives have flowed in channels which have been sometimes at tangent, sometimes parallel to our own. Now that India is slowly coming to her own our towns should mirror our national culture and artistic sensitivity. I look forward to a Calcutta which will reflect this ideal.

RABINDRANATH

WE cannot paint the lily, nor deck the stars, and we shall not make the vain attempt at appraising Rabindranath, which so many among us seemed to have attempted on the occasion of his eighty-fifth birth anniversary. We could not do that. Nor should we only stress the obvious, trying to emphasise what others said on the occasion in dwelling on Rabindranath's greatness. We shall not dwell on it.

What could we really say of Rabindranath? We are all his creations. His majestic figure forms the entire background of all that is abiding and significant in Bengali life of today and yesterday. Eighty long years took him through all phases and all stages of Bengal's creative life as seen against the world's social forces. In his works, more than in anything else, they are reflected to their full. One stage gradually merges into the next, sometimes anticipating the latter, sometimes continuing the past through the next. His creative life had been a life of eternal flux, and since it was so, it had a dynamic character, which is very often missed when he is read only in parts and viewed only by bits.

Rabindranath cannot be approached narrowly and parochially. We have to take him in his entirety, in his comprehensiveness and see him whole. We should not be led away by dogmas and creeds—however challenging and from whatever quarters they may come. Slogans and shibboleths may very well serve their purpose elsewhere, but they should not encroach upon our approach to Tagore. No creed could ever bind him, nothing could cramp his creations. We may very well say of him: "Thou art free!"

There is one thing which is often overlooked or missed by the rest of India. Rabindranath was no flash in the pan of Bengal. He was the climax and the crown of a long and honoured poetical tradition. Love of Nature and God was all along the most distinctive quality of the Bengali lyric from the earliest ages. It not only manifested itself in the intimate passion of Vaishnava Romanticists, from Chandidas and Vidyapati onwards, but also formed the core of the enraptured muse of Sakta poets like Ramprasad, whose exaltation of the Motherhood of Power had its roots deep in the wonderland of Bengal's landscape. From the studied classicism of the cloisters where Pandits intoned their age-long dreams, to the folk-music of the fields and the market-place, Rabindranath collected material for his muse and blended them with the majestic store-house of Sanskrit song. He was also the inheritor of the Iran-Arabic culture, which, for well nigh six centuries, had pulsed and moulded the life of medieval Bengal. Here—in the flat vast plain of Bengal banked by swift-flowing majestic rivers—the domes of Ispahan with their magic moonlights of unceasing dalliance mingled with the hard glitter of Arabia's league upon league of echoing sands. Finally, came Europe with its multitude of influences, pouring into his soul, like the waters of the open sea. Whatever touched him, whether it was the turbid violence of Byron or the magic of Keats, the raptures of Shelley or the vehement mind of Browning, or the lovely lilt of Swinburne, he chastened all his Western influences in the austere crucible of his Eastern discipline.

Tagore thus derived from his cosmopolitan upbringing a richness which he utilized to the full for the benefit of his country's literature. He brought to the service of his Muse all the varied currents of the world's experiences and rescued his own language—from what had hitherto been its most destructive blight—its maddening monotony of theme. It was the fate of Bengal before Rabindranath came to rule in her literary firmament, that she could express herself, and do it well, but that she had little to express. Tagore gave to Bengal matchless variety and wondrous lyrical resources.

And not only this. Tagore's poetry represents the union of the Romantic spirit—with its high adventure, its yearning for unfollowed ways, its thrills of whelming passion, its storms and thunders,—with the classic austerity of outline of the antique life, the epic grace and poise, the serenity of its idealism, its rationality and calm,—the perfect equivalence of its thought and expression.

Tagore has spanned for India the ages with his song.

Bhulabhai Desai

India is distinctly the poorer by the death of Mr. Bhulabhai Desai. As a lawyer, he was eminent; as a parliamentarian, he was pre-eminent; as a patriot he was peerless. His allegiance to his party he did not sacrifice to his convictions. The so-called Liaquat-Desai Pact fully brought out this trait of his character. He had, perhaps, to pay for it but he did not mind. He knew he was working for the good of his Motherland and whether he lost or won, came up or went down, it was all the same to him. He was a fearless knight sans la reproche.

Government Grant To Corporation

The Bengal Government have sanctioned a grant-in-aid of Rs. 13,51,200 to Calcutta Corporation for the quarter ending June 30, 1946, being 80 per cent. of the estimated cost of dearness allowance to the Corporation employees and the estimated loss on account of sale of subsidized foodstuffs to certain grades of employees during the period.

Municipal Elections In Turkey

A crisis has arisen in Turkey on the eve of Electoral reforms enabling new Parties to be elected by universal suffrage.

The Government decided to hold municipal elections this month instead of in September "to avoid the municipal elections clashing with the general elections which will probably be held this autumn."

The Opposition consider this a political manoeuvre and say it does not leave sufficient time for the New Parties to organize.

The Democratic Party has decided not to participate in the municipal elections and hint that

TAGORE MEMORIAL

APPEAL FOR CONTRIBUTIONS

Mr. S. C. Majumdar, General Secretary, All-India Rabindranath Memorial Committee, has issued the following:—

"The birthday anniversary of poet Rabindranath Tagore falls on the 8th May (Baisakh 25). We have no doubt that this day will be observed in a fitting manner as in previous years by our countrymen all over India. But in celebrating this occasion we must not forget that our duty towards the poet has not yet been fulfilled. More funds are still to be raised for perpetuating his memory in a worthy manner. It will not, therefore, do if his birthday is observed in empty ceremonials. We, therefore, earnestly appeal to all organisations and literary societies to make an all-out effort on this occasion for securing contributions for the All-India Rabindranath Memorial Fund so that his memorial may be accomplished without further delay. Funds so far raised are inadequate for the purpose. If our countrymen are all alive to their sense of obligation to the poet, we may still hope to reach the figure of Rs. 25 lakhs on this occasion."

they may not stand for the general elections. It is understood that a third Party—the National Recovery Party—is taking similar action.

Calcutta's Homage On Tagore Birthday

Eighty-Fifth Anniversary Celebrations

ON the occasion of the eighty-fifth Birthday Anniversary of Rabindranath Tagore Calcutta,—the city of his birth where he woke up to his poetic self and destiny, where came to him the "Great Awakening" when he seemed to witness all humanity in his vision,—paid homage to his memory on Wednesday, the 8th May, when various organizations, literary and cultural, observed the day by holding meetings where poems from Rabindranath were recited and Rabindra songs were sung and speeches were made dwelling on his multi-sided achievements.

In the morning, a divine service was held at the Poet's ancestral residence in Dwarkanath Tagore Lane, Jorasanko. Flowers and wreaths were also offered at the site in Nimtollah Burning Ghat where the mortal remains of the Poet were consigned to the flames five years ago. In several parts of the city groups of morning singers (Provat Pheries) paraded the streets singing inspiring national songs from Rabindranath.

Men and women in large numbers also flocked to the Poet's ancestral home and visited the room where he breathed his last.

The spacious compound where the service was held was profusely decorated with flowers and foliage. The fragrance of flowers and the burning incense and the chanting of "Mantrams" created an atmosphere of deep solemnity and sanctity.

The function commenced with the recitation of Vedic Slokas by Mr. Tapan Mohan Chatterjee and singing of the Poet's songs.

Addressing the gathering assembled there Mr. Atul Chandra Gupta said that posterity would look with amazement at the genius of Rabindranath when it would try to fathom its depth. What was remarkable in Rabindranath was that he was in intimate touch with the life and activities of mankind all the world over.

Rabindranath was not, Mr. Gupta said, simply a poet living in a dreamland. He was also a great worker and organiser. The task of carrying out his unfinished work in the Visva-Bharati devolved on his countrymen. On this occasion of the Poet's birthday they should take the vow that they would faithfully carry out this task with unflinching devotion inspired by the ideal which the Poet had set up in the Visva-Bharati.

"India must live,—not for herself alone but for salvation of the world. The liberation of the world depends on the liberation of India.

"Those who work for the liberation of India work also for the salvation of the whole world.

"This is the India that Poet Rabindranath had dreamt of,—the unity of India and the world in the supreme unity of the soul."

This statement was made by Mr. Sarat Chandra Bose presiding at a great public meeting convened by the All-India Rabindranath Memorial Committee at the Senate Hall in the evening of Wednesday, the 8th May.

It was announced at the meeting that the total collections so far made by the Committee amounted to Rs. 12,80,000.

Mr. Bose appealed to the people to contribute their mite to enable the Committee to raise the target figure of Rs. 25 lakhs.

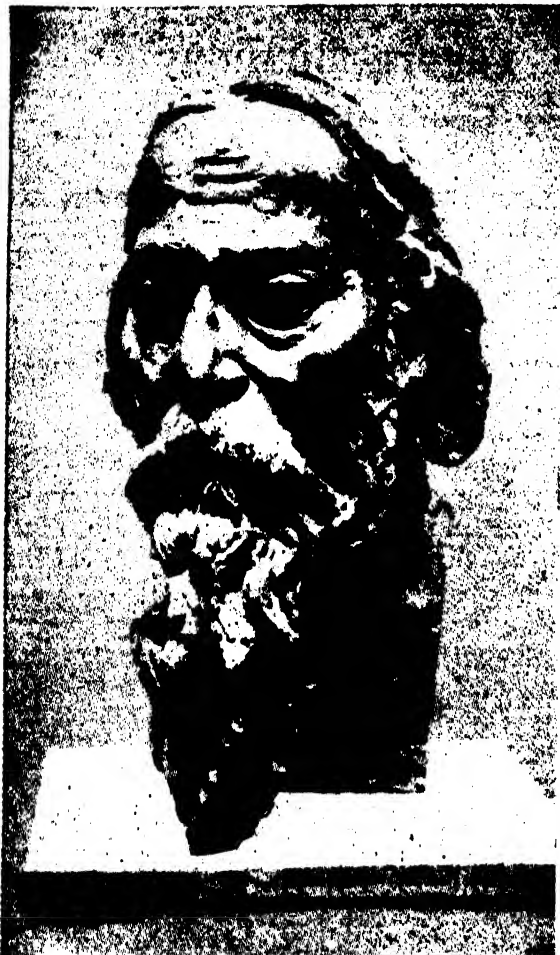

"TAGORE DREAMT OF A UNIFIED AND SELF-CONTAINED INDIA": MR. SARAT C. BOSE'S TRIBUTES TO THE POET

Addressing the meeting Mr. Bose said:—

To-day is the twenty-fifth of Baisakh. This day has been engraved in immortal letters in the calendar of India's life history. The glory of the Poet, born eighty-six years ago in a Bengali home, shone forth brighter and brighter in every hour of his life till it surpassed the furthest limit of world-genius. His life's cycle being over, he has now vanished beyond the horizon of fullness. The whole of our country has been beautiful and green and loving by the warmth and radiance, by the beauty and vitality of his genius; the whole of our country has been filled with a new spirit of youth.

We doubt if so far-reaching a change has ever occurred in course of the life-time of a genius. A few years before Rabindranath's birth, Company-rule in India had ended and now just after his demise, we are seeing British rule in its last throes. It would not be far wrong to say that Tagore's birth belongs to past history; and now about the time of his passing we find a new India sending her message to the world through her poets, saints and selfless heroes.

All these have happened during our life-time and before our eyes. That is why we are not always conscious of the glory and grandeur of these events.

A HEAD BY EPSTEIN AT BIRMINGHAM MUSEUM.

The change that we have witnessed may be claimed to be the greatest revolution in India.

Revolution certainly it is, a revolution in the soul of India, a far-reaching revolution in the world.

TAGORE'S TRANSCENDENTAL GLORY

Tagore's transcendental glory has with the rainbow radiance of his genius bridged these two epochs, the past and the present, in Indian history. We ourselves have witnessed almost all this. Within this period, we have seen the Poet of Bengal sending out his call to fulfil the truth, to cherish the worth of "Bengal's earth, Bengal's water, Bengal's resolve and Bengal's hope." We have seen the Poet of India inviting all to fill the holy receptacle of our worshipped Mother with the waters of the Indian Ocean, hallowed by the touch of all. Again, we have seen the same Bengali Poet chanting—

"Oh Lord of the Universe!

In what attire have you revealed Yourself to me to-day?

I have seen You in the Eastern sky
I have seen You in my Motherland."

The Poet of Bengal has been transformed into the Poet of the world, and to him the Motherland and the Universe, India and the world abroad, have blended and merged into one vast Cosmic scheme. What an astonishing revolution? I do not know if such an event ever occurred in the history of any other country.

"SWARAJ OF THE SPIRIT."

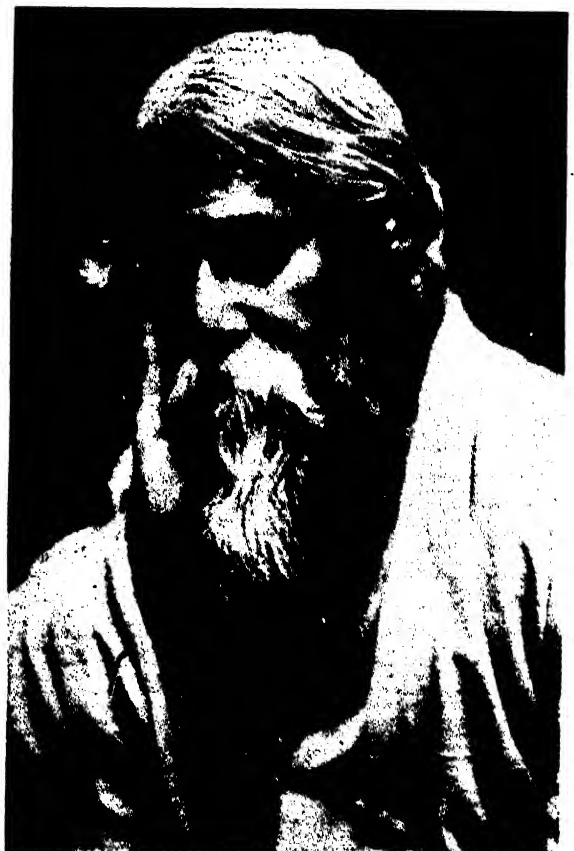

In the beginning of his youth, the young Poet enduring the melancholy sight of his suffering Motherland sang thus:

"By chanting verse win your place in the world at large." The prophecy which sounded impossible then finally came to be true in the Poet's own life. Even with his songs only Tagore has won an honourable place for us in the world. The greatest Poet of India, the Vyasa of our new Mahabharata, has installed his birth-place, Bengal, his Motherland, India, in a place of high honour by the strength of his genius. He has linked India for ever with the world with the golden thread of his unrivalled genius, free from all the limitations of class, caste, creed and country. Long before the consummation of our struggle for political 'Swaraj' Tagore has for us founded the Swaraj of the Spirit.

A PILGRIM OF THE WORLD

Like India, Tagore has a thousand eye. No mystery of life and death has escaped his piercing glance. This is not the day for discussing those philosophical aspects of Tagore's genius. I shall discuss today Tagore in relation to India. Tagore complimented Ram Mohan as a Pilgrim of India. Following his own hint we may call Tagore a pilgrim of the world. In the spiritual vision of this pilgrim of the world India reveals herself in such a light that there is no conflict between nationalism and internationalism, no animosity between Indians and foreigners.

For, the India of our pilgrim of the world is viewed in the world perspective. For us all and for the posterity for ever, Tagore, the pilgrim of the world, has rediscovered India. The India we live in, the air which invigorates our blood, and energises us every minute, the India which is not a mere geographical sign but a grand idea of unity—that India is Tagore's discovery. We have all received that immortal gift from him, and we are indebted for it not only to him, but to the posterity, to humanity at large and to India also.

DREAM OF A UNITED INDIA

It is our task to enrich India materially and spiritually. It is our task to break all the fetters of Body and Spirit that keep her in chains. It is our task to set new and newer gems on the immortal crown of India. What a heavy debt do we owe to the Poet! The very thought of it makes one feel hesitant. Yet when one remembers that the Poet alone has nearly completed this arduous task, then one's heart overflows with wonder, courage and pride.

Dante once dreamt the dream of a United Italy. Italy had then been torn into pieces, divided and ruled by foreigners. Dante's dream was not realised during his life-time. But what of that? Despite the seeming failure of Dante's dream, unified Italy is Dante's spiritual offspring.

Our Tagore too dreamt of a unified and self-contained India. In his case the difference with Dante is that Tagore's dream took shape into reality even during his life-time. As with Sivaji, so was it with Tagore—the desire to bind together divided and scattered India into a holy kingdom.

Tagore's vocation as a poet was to bring about an ideal unity of thought. Is not India today—India where Tagore was born, where we live in—hostile to the ideal of unity? There is no end of difficulties, and the greatest amongst them is foreign rule.

PROBLEM OF HUMANITY

Tagore was no visionary: he did not take shelter in the ivory tower of poetic imagination. To remind all these is superfluous today. Tagore succeeded in harmonizing the Ideal and the Real, in blending dream with life, and for that reason it was possible for him to keep one eye fixed upon the ideal, and another on the real. To him no problem of humanity, nation and politics, could hold back its secret. The ideal India which he cherished in his dream and the real India which he saw all around—these both he saw and how much pained he was at the sight of the insuperable gulf between these two, we all know.

A few months before his death Tagore wrote a message on the "Crisis in Civilisation." What a melancholy picture of the actual problem of the country it gave and how grimly gloomy were the colours which painted this mournful picture of the death of all hopes:—

HIS LAST MESSAGE

"Today I complete eighty years of my life. As I look back on the vast stretch of years that lie behind me and see in clear perspective the history of my early development, I am struck by the change that has taken place both in my own attitude and in the psychology of my countrymen—a change that carries within it a cause of profound tragedy.

"The wheels of Fate will some day compel the English to give up their Indian Empire. But what kind of India will they leave behind, what stark misery? When the stream of their century's administration runs dry at last, what a waste of mud and filth they will leave behind them! I had at one time believed that the springs of civilization would issue out of the heart of Europe. But today when I am about to quit the world that faith has gone bankrupt altogether.

MAHATMA'S TRIBUTE TO GURUDEVA

Mahatma Gandhi speaking at the prayer meeting in the evening of the 8th May, at Simla said that as it was Gurudev's (Rabindranath Tagore's) birthday he could speak on nothing but on him.

A picture of the poet had been put on the dias.

Drawing the attention of the audience to it, Mahatma Gandhi said that the inscription under the portrait was "The light that never failed."

Gurudev's body, he said, was reduced to ashes but the radiance that had been within him was like the sun which would shine so long as life on this earth lasted. But the light, he said, was for the soul as the sun's was for the body.

Continuing Gandhiji said:—

"He was a poet and a literary star of the first magnitude. He wrote in his mother tongue and all Bengal was able to drink deep at the fountain of his poetry. Translations of his works existed in many languages. He was a great writer in English too, perhaps almost without knowing it."

Mahatma Gandhi added:—

*"He had school education, but he could boast of no University degree. He was just Gurudev. One Viceroy had called him 'The Poet of Asia,' a title that no one before him had had. He was also a world poet, and what was more a 'Rishi.' He had left us 'Gitanjali,' the poems which brought him world fame. The great Tulsidas left us his immortal 'Ramayana'. The renowned Ved-

"They were not mere poets. They were teachers. Gurudev too wrote not only as a poet but as a 'Rishi'. Writing, however, was not his only gift. He was an artist, a singer with all the sweetness and purity that art in its finest sense should contain. His creative genius has also given us 'Santiniketan', 'Sriniketan' and 'Visva-Bharati.'

"These breathe his spirit and are a legacy not only to Bengal but to India. Santiniketan has become, as it were, a place of pilgrimage to us all. He was not in his lifetime able to make of these institutions what he had dreamed for them. What can man do? Fulfilment of man's purpose is in God's hand. But they are monuments to his endeavour and are a constant reminder to us of the passionate love he had for his country and the service he rendered to her.

"They had just heard the national song he wrote, a song which has found a place in our national life."

Mahatma Gandhi ended by exhorting the people to learn the lessons of love of country, love of the world and selfless service from the noble example which Gurudev had left.

"As I look around I see the crumbling ruins of a proud civilization strewn like a vast heap of futility."

FAITH IN HUMANITY

And it is Britain's lack of faith in humanity that is at the root of the problem known as Hindu-Muslim differences in our country. For this lack of faith in humanity, there has appeared in British character a conflict between material and spiritual values. This conflict the British have tried to present in the shape of a got-up quarrel between the Hindus and Muslims. It is the sword of this conflict that is flashing out now and then for splitting India into fragments.

The Poet has deeply and vividly seen and appreciated the real problem of India. Yet he has not allowed the crudities of reality to overcome his faith in humanity, and with that faith to sustain him in his last journey, he has left us.

"And yet I shall not commit the grievous sin of losing faith in Man.

"I would rather look forward to the opening of a new chapter in his history after the cataclysm is over and the atmosphere rendered clean with the spirit of service and sacrifice. Perhaps that dawn will come from this horizon, from the East where the sun rises. A day will come when unvanquished Man will retrace his path of conquest, despite all barriers, to win back his lost human heritage."

The genius and the insight of the Poet we lack. We must nevertheless say that we shall not lose faith in humanity, for no worse insult to humanity can even be conceived of.

REAL AND IDEAL INDIA

Real India has been portrayed in the "Crisis in Civilisation." Therein has been set forth the abiding faith of the Poet in the ultimate solution of that crisis. The ideal India of the Poet has similarly been portrayed in the novel, "Gora". I have described Rabindranath as the discoverer of India. It is in his "Gora" that he has discovered this world of the soul.

Rabindranath's "Gora" like Columbus, the great sailor, has carried to us the message of a new and wonderful continent. So vast is that continent, so sublime its message that it is difficult to believe that it exists at all. But it is no unreality, no illusion.

Do we not get today in the history of India a glimpse into the undivided and indivisible abstraction of the ideal India beyond the ocean of material reality? We all may not even now declare the abiding faith in our heart that having been born in the affectionate lap of India we have known in full the joy of the loving support of mother's lap.

DAWN OF A NEW AGE

We all may not possess the faith of Gora, but is not such faith the ideal of our Nationalism? Is it not under the inspiration of this faith that lakhs of men and women of this country have undergone persecution and even laid down their lives? Has not the army of India's children been inspired by such faith confidently to look forward to the dawn of a new age for India? Has not the prophetic vision of the Poet witnessed in the leader of that army of children the embodiment in faint outlines of the glory of India that is to blossom forth in future?

FAITH IN SUBHAS CHANDRA

What an unshaking faith did the Poet have in Bengal's noble son, Subhas Chandra! It was to him that Rabindranath had addressed the following words. "You shall carry to the help of Bengal's me that banner of hope which is free from all doubts and conflicts and which marks the triumph over Death. It is in such hope that I welcome you today to the seat of the leader of the country. Let the people of Bengal declare today in a voice that does not falter in hesitation that they have prepared the seat for your enthronement..... Those are never alone who are the real and the natural representatives of the people. They are for all and for all times. From the crest of the mountain of the Present they offer their first salute to the blossoming dawn of the Future. It is in this hope and belief that I welcome you today to the exalted position of the leader of Bengal and I summon the whole country to your side."

It was not for Bengal alone that the Poet had called Subhas Chandra in these words. It was for the whole of India, it was for establishment on the summit of the worker's reality the imagination and the dream of the Poet.

INDIA AND WORLD SALVATION

India must live,—not for herself alone but for the salvation of the world. The drug that can revive the mortally-stricken world is there only in the wisdom of India of yore. The liberation of the world depends on the liberation of India. The world can fulfil its destiny only after India has come to her own. Those who work for the liberation of India work also for the salvation of the whole world. This is the India that the Poet had dreamt of—the unity of India and the world in the supreme unity of the soul.

"Oh thou Lord of the world
Thou art at one with the eternal land of my own."

On the broad canvas of the Future the prophetic vision of the Poet has been the radiant image of India, the country of his soul. In paying my respectful tributes to him on behalf of the people of India I can do no better than recite the words of the Poet himself:

"I know not in what unborn years,
I heard with my eyes closed,
India joyfully blow thy sacred shell.
Drowning the world's war cries,
And the jingle of merchants' coins,
Under the spacious sky
The deep-toned sound of 'Om'
Rises high, defying all obstacles."

TRIBUTES BY OTHERS

In paying his tribute to the work of the Poet Mr. Tara Sahkar Banerjee said that his genius had transcended the boundaries of his country and times.

Prof. Dhurjati Prasad Mukherjee said, that though the Poet was born in Bengal, he could not be claimed exclusively as a Bengali. He was a product of Indian culture and culture of the East though the medium through which he had expressed his thoughts was Bengali.

Mr. Sitaram Sakseria said that Rabindranath had enhanced the prestige of India in the international world.

Referring to the talks of division of India, Mr. Chapala Kanta Bhattacharya said that it was a matter of joy that Rabindranath had not lived to see these attempts to divide India. It was a matter of regret also that he was not in their midst today at this critical juncture in the history of the country.

A NOBLE GIFT

Announcing the collections made so far by the Committee Mr. Sajani Kanta Das said that Mr. Birendra Kishore Roy Chowdhury of Gouripore had that day donated Rs. 10,000. He expressed the hope that other rich people would follow his example and contribute handsomely to the memorial fund. It was a matter of satisfaction to them that the bulk of the collections made had been contributed by poor and middle class families.

A FEW MORE FUNCTIONS

A function was held at 20, Jagannath Datta Lane under the auspices of Agrangee and presided over by Mr. Kumudendu Bhattacharjee. Collections towards the Rabindra Memorial Fund were made.

The birth-day anniversary of Rabindranath Tagore was celebrated in the Jitendra Narayan Ray Infant and Nursery School solemnly under the presidency of Mrs. Mrinmayee Ray. The students, whose ages ranged from 2 to 8 years decorated the photo of the Poet with flowers, chandan-paste, etc. Songs composed by the late Poet were sung by some of the students. They also received poems of Rabindranath.

The Kamalalaya Stores Ltd., observed as usual. Rabindranath's birth-day in a fitting manner. A portrait of the Poet was placed at the central hall. Selected records of songs and recitations, in the Poet's own voice were played.

CORPORATION CONDOLES THE DEATHS OF MESSRS. DESAI AND SASTRI

The Corporation of Calcutta at its first meeting on Wednesday, the 8th May, condoled the deaths of Mr. Bhulabhai J. Desai, a lawyer of international reputation and former Leader of the Opposition in the Central Legislative Assembly and the Rt. Hon. V. S. Srinivasa Sastri, the first non-official agent of the Government of India in the Union of South Africa, and adjourned its business as a mark of respect to their memories.

Both the resolutions, moved from the chair, were tabled by Councillor Hirendra Kumar Ganguli.

The text of the resolution upon the death of Mr. Bhulabhai J. Desai being published elsewhere in this issue, the text of the other resolution upon the death of the Rt. Hon. V. S. Srinivasa Sastri may be given as follows:—

(a) That this Corporation places on record its deep sense of sorrow at the sad demise of the Rt. Hon. V. S. Srinivasa Sastri at the ripe old age of 76 at Madras—who as a genuine patriot, as the President of the Servants of India Society founded by Gopal Krishna Gokhale, as the first non-official Agent of the Government of India in the Union of South Africa, as a distinguished member of the liberal party, as an erudite scholar, as an orator of international fame—proved to be one of the most outstanding personalities that India has recently produced and is of opinion that the void caused by his death will be difficult to fill up and prays to the Almighty that his soul may rest in peace.

(b) That a copy of the resolution be sent to the members of the bereaved family.

Indians In South Africa

Calcutta Citizens Record Protest Against Asiatic Land Tenure Bill

A TIME will shortly come when the South African whites ought to be made to feel that they are transgressing the new spirit for which the World War had been waged and that they are condemning themselves to be handed down to posterity as neo-barbarians of this age," said Hon'ble Mr. H. S. Suhrawardy, Chief Minister of Bengal, addressing an all-party public meeting held at the Muslim Institute Hall on the 2nd May last to meet the South African delegation who had been in Calcutta. The Mayor of Calcutta, Mr. S. M. Usman presided.

Resolutions condemning the Asiatic Land Tenure and the Indian Representation Bills and the attitude of the South African Government towards the Indian settlers there were adopted.

Mr. Kiron Sankar Roy said that if India had freedom and sword, India would have drawn it out to-day against South Africa. Continuing Mr. Roy said that although they had their differences in internal politics, but in a matter like this the Indians stood united.

Sir B. P. Singh Roy expressed hope that before long the South African Government would be forced under the combined dictation of the members of the United Nations Organisation to give up their present policy of discrimination.

Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, ex-Mayor and General Secretary, Bengal Provincial Hindu Mahasabha, said that everybody knew that racial discrimination was a thing of the past and that the South Africans were themselves violating their own jurisprudence—their own system of law by introducing these Bills.

Mr. S. M. Usman, the Mayor of Calcutta, said that General Smuts was one of the founders of the League of Nations and the same General Smuts was also one of those who had formulated the Charter of the U. N. O. He assured that these were camouflage—these were tricks that the European and Whites were playing to keep down the Asiatics.

Concluding the Mayor said:—"We want to give a note of warning to the world that very soon, if racial discrimination is not removed, if the shabby treatment which is being meted out to Indians is not stopped, there will be a third Great War and even if other great nations of Asia do not wage it, at least India will wage it. We, the younger generation of India, refuse to take this insult lying down."

Mr. Bhulabhai J. Desai Passes Away

A Great Patriot : A Reputed Lawyer : A Big Personality

Mr. Bhulabhai Jivanji Desai, former member of the Congress Working Committee, former leader of the Congress Party and leader of the Opposition in the Central Legislative Assembly and leading defence counsel in the first I.N.A. trial, passed away at his residence in Bombay in the early hours of Monday morning, the 6th May, at the age of about 69.

Mr. Desai had been ailing for the last four months and after a crisis some time ago had rallied round. His condition took a sudden turn for the worse on the 4th May last.

All offices of the Calcutta Corporation were closed on Monday after 12 noon as a mark of respect to the memory of the late Bhulabhai Desai.

THE LATE MR. BHULABHAI DESAI

The Calcutta Stock Exchange, the Indian Chamber of Commerce and some other institutions also remained closed on Monday.

The Bombay Municipal Corporation adjourned on the same day without transacting any official business as a mark of respect to the memory of Mr. Bhulabhai Desai.

Mahatma Gandhi paying tribute to the memory of Bhulabhai Desai says:—

"It was the heroism and travail of Bardoli that brought to public life men like Shri Bhulabhai Desai. He might otherwise have remained a distinguished Government servant and ended his career as a judge of the Bombay High Court. He reached the heights of fame when his forensic talents resulted in the release of the I. N. A. prisoners."

Maulana Abul Kalam Azad says:

"His death leaves a void in our national life which cannot be easily filled."

Pandit Nehru says:

"A big personality has gone, overworking himself to death."

Mr. M. A. Jinnah says:—

"I had very close relations with him at the Bombay bar. I knew him for over 30 years and as one of the leading members of the bar his death is a great loss to the profession."

SHORT LIFE-SKETCH

The text of the resolution is as follows:—

(a) *That this Corporation places on record its deep sense of sorrow at the sad demise on 6th May, 1946 at Bombay of Mr. Bhulabhai J. Desai, a lawyer of international reputation, a former Advocate-General of Bombay, a former Leader of the Opposition in the Central Legislative Assembly, a great patriot and statesman, who by his manifold public activities and services and by his recent brilliant defence of the three I. Free And Compulsory Elementary Education

Programme Before National Planning Committee

A PROGRAMME for a universal system of compulsory, free elementary education of six to eight years' duration and for conscription of qualified persons as teachers to carry out the plan has been proposed to the National Planning Committee by its Priority Sub-Committee, dealing with education.

The Sub-Committee declared that "education of the children of the community up to a given minimum standard must be accepted as the absolute and inescapable obligation of civilised society and, therefore, of the State representing it."

The huge programme, whose basic cost was estimated at not less than Rs. 200 crores annually, could be financed over a period of 10 years or more and chiefly paid for by the funding of private agricultural debt through the State at a lower interest rate, the Sub-Committee added.

The Chief points in the education plan include :

- (a) A required elementary education period for children of six to eight years' duration.
- (b) An adult literacy programme for both sex, both for those past-school age and those "remaining illiterate because of wastage or stagnation in their school period."
- (c) Free nursery or kindergarten classes for children under school age at the expense of employers, local governing bodies and voluntary associations.
- (d) Free books, stationery and other equipment.
- (e) Conscription of qualified persons as teachers, and special provision for training one lakh of teachers annually, along with increases in salaries as well as other facilities and amenities.
- (f) Serving of free mid-day meals in elementary schools.
- (g) Use of the radio and motion picture as part of the educational programme, especially for adult illiterates.

The Sub-Committee specified that the education programme should be integrated with the national master plan, particularly in regard to financing.

Of the financing plan for the basic schooling and combating adult illiteracy, the Sub-Committee said :

"It is a well-known fact that the agriculturists in India labour under a heavy load of indebtedness—all the more heavy because the rate of interest was variously reported at 12 per cent. onwards to 75 per cent. or even more.

"If all this debt of the individual agriculturists is consolidated and taken over by the State—in each Province or State by Central Provincial Bank—and funded at 10 per cent. simple interest to be paid to the State, the burden on the cultivator would be very substantially lowered.

"The total of agricultural indebtedness in this country has been variously estimated. The aggregate would not be excessive if we put it at 2,000 crores per annum in all provinces and states. The annual interest burden on this cannot possibly be less than 250 crores per annum."

"The difference between the rate that the State receives from the debtor agriculturist (10 per cent.) and that the State pays to the creditor namely, five per cent., would amount on a total debt of 2,000 crores to over 100 crores per annum in British India, while in the states, at least half that amount may be added.

"The aggregate would be about Rs. 150 crores per annum, available almost at once."

With regard to the conscription of teachers, the Sub-Committee had this to say:—

"The personnel for giving effect to this item must be found in some system of social conscription of those already educated up to a given standard, say, men who have completed the secondary stage of education. Whether they intend to go up for higher education or take to some occupation, these persons, numbering about 2,50,000 in all India, should be drafted into the national social service, as conscripts have hitherto been drafted for military service. This must be regarded as a sort of poll tax paid in kind by those best able to afford it."

It must be a condition precedent to their admission in any occupation, or entrance to any university for prosecuting their own studies further or acquiring specialised qualifications that each should have discharged this social duty," the Sub-Committee continued.

"It must be a universal obligation from which no exemption should be allowed to anyone except on grounds of permanent invalidation or specific disability," it added.

A compulsory training course would be given to such conscript instructors in the last year of their high school career. They would be fed, housed and clothed at public expense, and given special training to fit them for their tasks.

The plan of social conscription, of which teaching service would form a part, was suggested in 1937 by Prof. K. T. Shah, General Secretary of the Planning Committee, and at that time was approved and endorsed by Mahatma Gandhi in his weekly journal, "Harijan."

The 200 crores, which the Sub Committee estimated would be spent annually, compares with the figure of Rs. 81 crores spent in British India on all stages of education, cited by the Sub-Committee in the report.

"The proportion of illiterates is nearly 90 per cent. of the total population," the Sub-Committee said. "or some 270,000,000 in British India to-day and 350,000,000 all over the country."

It estimated there are 15,000,000 children in school, leaving 55,000,000 "for whom immediate action must be taken if these are not to be a burden—inefficient and inadequate—upon the rest of the community."

"As for the illiterate adults, we may put their number at 25 crores. In their case, besides the ordinary verbal instruction from teachers, measures must be adopted to utilise the screen and the radio for a wholesale programme of immediate action.

"It is an indispensable condition of discharging this obligation that such education should be provided to all at least up to the prescribed minimum standard, free of all cost to the recipient or his or her parent or guardian," the Sub-Committee said.

"Not only no fees should be charged for it: all the equipments, books, paper, etc., etc., needed for giving and imbibing such instruction, training or education, must be free and provided at public expense."

The providing of a lakh of teachers per year would require 1,000 training schools, the Sub-Committee estimated, adding that "the woman teacher will have to be given a special importance and would have to be recruited in larger and larger numbers," whether boys and girls trained together or separately.

The Sub-Committee estimated that at present there are something like 225,000 educational institutions of all grades in India. Of these, it said, primary, special and middle account for nearly 88 per cent. or 200,000, and these can be extended and remodelled to meet the requirements of the national education programme.

The building programme cost was estimated at not less than 100 crores to be financed by a loan to be repaid over either 10 years or 15 years.

The figures are intended to be rather illustrative than accurate to the last digit.

LT-COL. S. P. JAMES

TROPICAL DISEASES AUTHORITY DEAD

The death was announced at London on the 18th April last of Lt-Col. Sydney Price James, the eminent authority on tropical diseases.

IMPROVEMENT OF EKBALPORE LANE AND MOMINPORE ROAD

TO THE EDITOR, CALCUTTA MUNICIPAL GAZETTE

Sir,—We, the undersigned hut-owners of Ekbalpore Lane and Mominpore Road localities, request the favour of your publishing the following in your esteemed journal.

Although we are required by the Corporation to pay rates which are ever on the increase, and although we are required to pay rents to our landlords which also are on the increase, nothing has practically been done either by the landlords or by the Corporation to safeguard our interests or, to give us any of the amenities of modern life. As regards roads, lighting arrangements, bustee water-outlets and watering, we are living a life, as if it were hundred years old.

We, therefore, fervently pray that the authorities in question may be pleased to give some thought over the question and minimise our sufferings keeping in view the fact that we are already over-taxed and over-drained.—Yours Etc.

RENAMING OF A CITY LANE

TO THE EDITOR, CALCUTTA MUNICIPAL GAZETTE

Sir,—Thank God, the ill-famed Harkata Lane in Ward 9, is now no more the headquarters of the brothels of Central Calcutta. But though the unfortunate women have been removed from there the name "Harkata Gali" is still odious. The newcomers there feel very shy to think that they live in Harkata Lane.

About eighty years ago lived in that locality a number of artisans whose occupation was to cut bones to make buttons etc., therewith. Hence came the name "Harkata Lane." But now there is none doing that work. So it is now a misnomer.

For reasons stated above I would suggest that the impersonal and repulsive name of Harkata Lane be changed into some other name, and in the absence of a more suitable name I would suggest the name of Lall Chand Boral, who was one of the most famous musicians and who used to live nearby.

Yours faithfully,
M. N. Auddy.

CALCUTTA CORPORATION COLLECTION DEPARTMENT EMPLOYEES' UNION

The Third Annual General Meeting of the Calcutta Corporation Collection Department Employees' Union to elect the Office-Bearers and members of the Executive Committee will be held on Monday, the 20th May, 1946, at 5-15 p.m., at Division VII. The Secretary of the Union requests all members to be present on that day.

—MR. BHULABHAI DESAI PASSES AWAY

Enquiry Committee appointed by the Congress in 1931.

He was for some time the President of the Bombay Provincial Congress Committee.

Mr. Desai plunged himself into the Civil Disobedience movement in 1932, was arrested and sentenced to a year's imprisonment and a fine of Rs. 10,000. His health broke down during imprisonment. On release, he went to Europe.

On his return from the Continent in 1934, Mr. Desai took a prominent part in the re-organisation of the Congress till then under ban and in the formation of the Congress Parliamentary Board, being elected to its Secretaryship.

Since then he had been in the forefront of the Congress and took part in the individual Satyagraha movement started by Mahatma Gandhi in 1940. On December 1, that year, he was arrested and detained in the Yerwada Central Prison under the Defence of India Rules.

Just before the introduction of the Government of India Act, 1935, Mr. Desai was elected to the Central Assembly from Gujrat with an overwhelming majority. He was the leader of the Congress Party in the last Central Assembly.

An erudite scholar and top-ranking parliamentarian, his speeches drew the attention of the whole country. He was the bitterest critic of the Government all through.

Of the many civil cases with which his name is associated as the successful advocate, perhaps the most famous was the Dumraon Raj case.

First, the case was taken up by the late Deshabandhu C. R. Das who handed it over to late Motilal Nehru. Ultimately it was taken up by Mr. Desai who conducted it very ably.

He was considered to be an authority on constitutional and international laws. The most monumental of his achievements was his able defence of Maj-Gen. Shah Nawaz, Col. Dillon and Col. Seghal of the I. N. A. before a Special Court Martial at Delhi Fort.

His masterly arguments in that case on international law will remain written in letters of gold in the annals of history.

He leaves behind him his only son Mr. Dhirubhai Desai, a barrister, practising at Bombay High Court. His wife pre-deceased him by ten years.

CALCUTTA NEWS & VIEWSMR. JAI PRAKASH NARAIN IN CALCUTTA

A warning against complacency and undue optimism about the outcome of the present talks between the Cabinet Mission and Indian leaders was given by Mr. Jai Prakash Narain addressing a mass meeting at Deshabandhu Park on Tuesday evening, the 7th May.

While asking his countrymen to refrain from doing anything that might jeopardise the success of the talks, as desired by Mahatma Gandhi and Rashtrapati Azad, he stressed the need for preparation and consolidation of strength for the struggle that was bound to come should the negotiations fail.

The meeting was organized by the Bengal Provincial Congress Committee. Mr. Surendra Mohan Gosh, President of the B. P. C. C., who was in the chair, welcomed Mr. Jai Prakash Narain and his wife Mrs. Pravabati Debi.

FIRE BRIGADE WORKERS' STRIKE ENDS

A settlement was reached on the 3rd May last in the dispute which led to a strike by the personnel of Calcutta Fire Services, and to certain subsequent developments. The terms of the settlement, based on a formula acceptable to the Government and the Workers' Union, were enforced with immediate effect.

Following the termination of the strike the men resumed duty on the 4th May last.

Workers' representatives who had a prolonged discussion with the Minister for Local Self-Government on the 1st May last stated that their talks with the Minister had reached the final stage and a settlement was expected to be reached shortly.

MAJ-GEN. SHAH NAWAZ LEAVES CALCUTTA

Major-General Shah Nawaz left for Delhi by Toofan Express on the 2nd May last.

Earlier he was entertained at a tea-party given in his honour by Nationalist Muslims at the residence of Maulvi Ashrafuddin Ahmed Chaudhury.

In reply to the address of welcome by Maulvi Syed Badrudduza on behalf of Nationalist Muslims, Major-General Shah Nawaz said that he was glad to find Bengalee Muslims joining in the struggle for the independence of India.

"It is my firm conviction that we are bound to succeed in the struggle for the independence of India if we work unitedly. We must live for and achieve Netaji's ideal," Major-General Shah Nawaz said.

NEW MINISTERS FELICITATED

Mr. H. S. Suhrawardy and the newly appointed Bengal Ministers were felicitated by Mr. P. N. Banerji, Vice-Chancellor, at the Calcutta University Senate meeting on the 4th May last. Mr. Suhrawardy, the Vice-Chancellor said, was a figure well-known to them not only as the Premier of Bengal but also as a former member of the Senate and ex-professor of the University Law College.

Referring to Khan Bahadur Mohammed Ali, a member of the Senate, Mr. Banerji expressed the hope that his inclusion in the Cabinet as Finance Minister would be of lasting benefit to the University.

Mr. Banerji also welcomed Khan Bahadur Moazzemuddin Hossain, Education Minister, who attended the meeting as ex-officio member.

Replying, Khan Bahadur Mohammed Ali assured the Senate that the interests of the University and education in Bengal would be safe in the hands of the Ministry.

MR. PALME DUTT IN CALCUTTA

Mr. Rajani Palme Dutt, Vice-President of the Communist Party of Great Britain, left Calcutta for Simla by air on the 4th May last. Before his departure Mr. Dutt issued a statement urging Indian patriots and supporters of Indian freedom to give active assistance to the efforts of the pre-Reforms Political Prisoners Release Campaign Committee for the release of pre-Reforms political prisoners of Bengal.

A suggestion that Indian journalists should form an organization like the National Union of Journalists in England based on trade union laws by which both the interests of journalists and the fulfilment of their responsibilities could be upheld against the views of millionaire newspaper proprietors was made by Mr. Dutt speaking in reply to a reception given him by the Indian Journalists Association at the Indian Association Hall, Calcutta, on the 1st May last. Mr. Mrinal Kanti Bose presided.

Mr. Dutt dwelt at length on the monopoly control of the British Press by big business interests and emphasized the role of the National Union of Journalists in fighting the menace. He pointed out that recently the Union had passed a resolution asking for the appointment of a Royal Commission to investigate the ownership and control of the press in Britain and consider the best methods of raising the standard of presentation of news in newspapers.

He noted with concern the development of monopolist tendencies in the Indian Press also.

STORM OVER CALCUTTA

A nor-wester, reaching a maximum speed of 80 m.p.h. and accompanied by heavy rain and lightning, swept over Calcutta in the evening of the 1st May last. The storm lasted for over half an hour.

Many shop signs and temporary constructions of corrugated sheeting and thatch were blown from their positions. Telephone and tramway overhead wires were snapped in many parts of the city by uprooted trees and broken branches. Several low-lying areas were flooded.

CONFERENCE OF COLLEGE PRINCIPALS

The conference of Principals of Bengal and Assam colleges under the presidency of Mr. P. N. Banerjee, Vice-Chancellor, Calcutta University, which concluded its deliberations on Tuesday, the 7th May, agreed that the University regulation regarding students' attendance in classes should henceforward be strictly enforced.

The conference felt that greater emphasis should be laid on tutorial system and to make it effective the percentage of attendance in the tutorial classes for students sent up for final consideration.

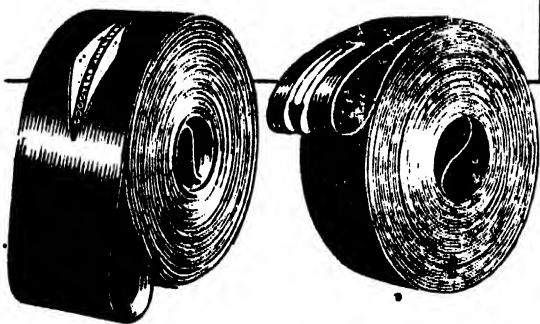

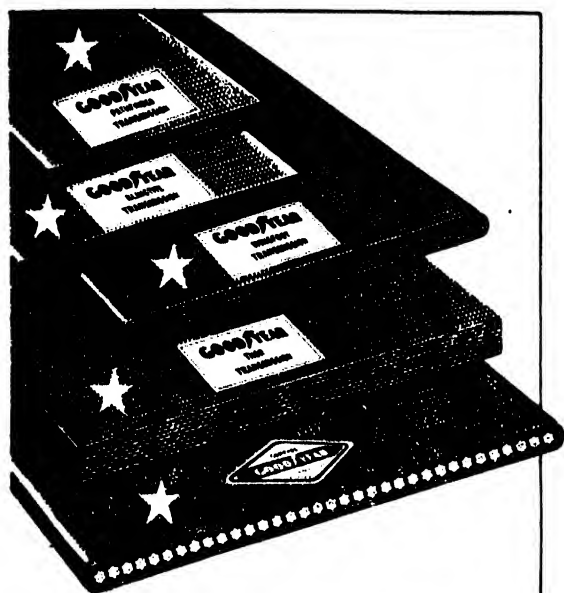

The conference accepted a suggestion of the Vice-Chancellor that a minimum uniform tuition fee of Rs. 8 should be charged by all Calcutta colleges, while mofussil colleges should increase their present fees by Re. 1.

MR. SIDDIQI ON TO-DAY'S MUSLIM WORLD

Mr. Abdur Rahman Siddiqi addressed the members of the Noakhali Muslim Workers' Association at the Islamia College Hall on Tuesday, the 7th May evening. Prof. Taher Jamil of the Islamia College presided.

Mr. Siddiqi after giving a picture of the downfall of Islamic Governments in the latter half of the 19th century, dilated at length on the appalling conditions prevailing in the Muslim countries. From Indonesia to Morocco on the Atlantic coast, the Muslims, economically, educationally and politically, were not in a happy position. The war, however, had set in motion new forces which, if harnessed properly by Muslim leaders all over the world, would bring about a resurgence that promised a general betterment of the world. The fraternity of Islam has a lesson which the fighting nations of the world could learn advantageously even from the suppressed and depressed Muslims of to-day. The time had come when the new forces reverberated in different parts of the Muslim World should be made to run jointly in the Islamic channel, for alone through joint effort, the Muslims would regain their lost position and teach the world the lesson of freedom, brotherhood and equality. Islam made no distinction between the black and the white, between the Europeans, Africans or Asiatics.

Islam could teach the world a lesson of toleration and mutual accommodation which would lead to peace and prosperity the U. N. O. will never be able to obtain under its present one-sided, selfish and unjudged constitution, the results of which are already observable in the cat and dog fight in the Foreign Ministers' Conference and the Security Council formed under it. Islam alone could find the remedy for ailments of mankind of every description everywhere.

Plan For An Indian Union British Cabinet Mission's Proposals

A Union of India including the States with powers to control foreign affairs, rejection of Pakistan, arrangements for setting up immediately a constitution-making machinery, and formation at once of an Interim Government at the Centre with all portfolios including that of the War Member transferred to popular control, have been recommended with H. M. G.'s full approval by the British Cabinet Delegation and the Viceroy.

They found from the evidence submitted to them that there was an almost universal desire for the unity of India, and "they were unable to advise H. M. G. that the power which at present resides in British hands should be handed over to two entirely separate sovereign States."

The constitution-making machinery is to be formed with representatives of different communities elected on a communal basis by the Provincial Assemblies, each Province being allotted seats proportionate to its population, the number of seats being calculated in the ratio of one to a million. The Viceroy will at once ask Provincial Assemblies to elect such representatives and the States a Negotiating Committee, and they will meet in New Delhi as soon as possible.

The Cabinet Delegation and the Viceroy have recommended that the constitution should take the following basic forms:—

- (1) There should be a Union of India, embracing both British India and the States, which should deal with the following subjects: Foreign Affairs, Defence and Communications; and should have the powers necessary to raise the finances required for the above subjects.
- (2) The Union should have an Executive and a Legislature constituted from British Indian and States representatives. Any question raising a major communal issue in the Legislature should require for its decision a majority of the representatives present and voting of each of the two major communities as well as a majority of all the members present and voting.
- (3) All subjects other than the Union subjects and all residuary powers should vest in the Provinces.
- (4) The States will retain all subjects and powers other than those ceded to the Union.
- (5) Provinces should be free to form Groups with executives and legislatures, and each Group could determine the Provincial subjects to be taken in common.
- (6) The constitutions of the Union and of the Groups should contain a provision whereby any Province could, by a majority vote of its Legislative Assembly, call for a reconsideration of the terms of the constitution after an initial period of 10 years and at 10 yearly intervals thereafter.

The Mission and the Viceroy trust that these proposals will enable Indians to attain Independence in the shortest time and with the least danger of Internal disturbance and conflict.

THE MISSION'S APPEAL

Making the foregoing declaration, in the course of a statement, on Thursday night, the 16th May, the Cabinet Mission and the Viceroy add:—

"To the leaders and people of India who now have the opportunity of complete independence we would finally say this. We and our Government and countrymen hoped that it would be possible for the Indian people themselves to agree upon the method of framing the new constitution under which they will live. Despite the labours which we have shared with the Indian Parties, and the exercise of much patience and goodwill by all, this has not been possible. We therefore now lay before you proposals which, after listening to all sides and after much earnest thought, we trust, will enable you to attain your independence in the shortest time and with the least danger of internal disturbance and conflict. These proposals may not, of course, completely satisfy all parties, but you will recognise with us that at this supreme moment in Indian history statesmanship demands mutual accommodation.

"We ask you to consider the alternative to acceptance of these proposals. After all the efforts which we and the Indian Parties have made together for agreement we must state that in our view there is small hope of peaceful settlement by agreement of the Indian Parties alone. The alternative would therefore be a grave danger of violence, chaos, and even civil war. The result and duration of such a disturbance cannot be foreseen; but it is certain that it would be a terrible disaster for many millions of men, women and children. This is a possibility which must be regarded with equal abhorrence by the Indian people, our own countrymen, and the world as a whole.

"We, therefore, lay these proposals before you in the profound hope that they will be accepted and operated by you in the spirit of accommodation and goodwill in which they are offered. We appeal to all who have the future good of India at heart to extend their vision beyond their own community or interest to the interest of the whole four hundred millions of the Indian people.

"We hope that the new independent India may choose to be a member of the British Commonwealth. We hope in any event that you will remain in close and friendly association with our people. But these are matters for your own free choice. Whatever that choice may be we look forward with you to your ever increasing prosperity among the great nations of the world, and to a future even more glorious than your past.

MADRAS CORPORATION AND THE UNION JACK

Lt.-Col. Lakshmi of the Rani of Jhansi Regiment of the I. N. A. declined to receive a civic address proposed to be presented to her by the Madras Corporation on the 8th May last.

In a letter to the Mayor of Madras, Lt.-Col. Lakshmi expresses her inability to receive the address as it has been brought to her notice that it is the usual practice for the Corporation of Madras to fly the Union Jack over the Corporation building on such occasions.

FURTHER MEASURES AGAINST TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS

As a further measure to avoid traffic accidents, the army authorities in Calcutta decided to place the following roads out of bounds to the army vehicles with effect from the 5th May last:—

Harrison Road from Sealdah Railway Station to Howrah Railway Station, Bow Bazar Street.

Vivekananda Road-Beadon Street-Grey Street.

Cornwallis Street-College Street-Wellington Street.

Wellesly Street to Park Street.

Dharamtala Street from Lower Circular Road to Chowringhee.

Central Avenue from Five Points to Bow Bazar Street will be closed to southbound traffic.

All army traffic entering Calcutta from the north will travel from Five Points via Upper Circular Road-Lower Circular Road and Corporation or Park Streets.

Loaded tank transporters will be permitted to use Central Avenue both ways but only with a military police escort.

Traffic proceeding to Sealdah Station will use Lower Circular Road-Park Street or Corporation Street.

Traffic proceeding to Howrah will go via Strand Road.

Between Lower Circular Road and Corporation Street, Chowringhee will be closed for North and South movement of 15 C. W. T. and heavier vehicles between 8 p.m. and 5-30 a.m. Load carrying and recreational transport will be discharged at Dufferin Car Park approaching by either Dufferin Road or Ochterlony Road.

POST-WAR ROAD DEVELOPMENTIN JUBBULPORE CITY

With a view to improving the condition of roads within the Municipal limits which are now awfully impaired by heavy military traffic during war, the Jubbulpore Municipal Committee unanimously urges the Provincial Government to allocate 20 lakhs of rupees from Post-war Roads Development Funds for construction of cement roads in Jubbulpore city this year.

'BUSTEE' IMPROVEMENT

At the meeting of the Corporation held on Wednesday, the 15th May, 1946, Councillor B. N. Roy Chowdhury having drawn the attention of the House to the filthy condition of slums and bustees and the bad conservancy service in the city, the Mayor, Mr. S. M. Usman, said that the question of bustee improvement was engaging his foremost attention. He had already visited some bustees and was appalled to see the miserable condition prevailing there. With the limited resources at the disposal of the Corporation he was endeavouring to do all that was possible to improve bustee areas and the city's conservancy system.

MR. SIDDIQI RESIGNS

LEAGUE PARTY LEADERSHIP

Following the Mayoral elections last month Alderman Abdur Rahman Siddiqi resigned his leadership of the Muslim League Party in the Corporation.

Mr. Siddiqi, while tendering resignation of his leadership of the Muslim League Party in the Calcutta Corporation, intimated his decision to the members of the Party in a circular letter, which states as follows:—

"After the meetings we held in connection with the Mayoral election, it has been borne upon me clearly that there should be a change in the leadership of the Corporation Muslim League and the Corporation Muslim League Coalition Parties.

"I am conscious of the honour conferred upon me by my Corporation colleagues for the last many years and feel grateful to them for the confidence they extended to me throughout this long period.

"I have to request you kindly to consider this letter of mine as my letter of resignation from the leadership of the two groups stated above. May I also point out that this request of mine is final and irrevocable?"

So far as the short-term bustee improvement scheme was concerned, the Corporation expected to start work soon. As for the long-term scheme of housing poor people, they hoped to place their proposal before Government in a month's time. Should Government sanction it and come to their help, some headway would be made.

The Mayor also referred to two conferences he had with officers of the Corporation and rate-payers and said that he believed that things would look up within a fortnight.

Referring to the report published in The Statesman on Tuesday, the 14th May, about the city's health, Councillor Roy Chowdhury observed that in spite of the Health Officer's declaration that cholera had ceased to be epidemic in Calcutta, several cases were reported last week and numerous potential sources of infection were present all over the city. Referring to hawkers selling peeled fruits on pavements, he said that they were actually helping the spread of epidemic of every kind in the city. The condition of 'khatals' showed no improvement.

MR. W. F. DINES RETIRES

The House accepted the resignation tendered by Mr. W. F. Dines of his office as a Councillor of the Corporation as he had no longer been in service

"NETAJI BHAWAN"

MR. SARAT C. BOSE'S MOVE

Mr. Sarat Chandra Bose with the help of two friends has acquired a three-fourth share belonging to Mr. Subhas Chandra Bose and two of his other brothers in premises No. 38/2, Elgin Road, freed of the subsisting mortgage and of the attachment (effected shortly after Netaji left India) by the Government in the criminal proceedings pending against him. The three-fourths share has been acquired at a cost of nearly Rs. 1,80,000.

By amicable partition the whole of the main building (including the bed room and sitting room used by Netaji) and a portion of outhouses have been allotted to Mr. Sarat Chandra Bose and his friends. The acquired property will be devoted solely to national purposes dear to the heart of Mr. Subhas Chandra Bose. The necessary deed of trust will shortly be executed by Mr. Sarat Chandra Bose and his friends who will not retain any beneficial interest in the property.

Mr. Sarat C. Bose and his friends have named the building as "Netaji Bhawan" and pending the execution of the trust deed it will be used for accommodating I. N. A. officers and men and for giving them rest and relief. The bed room and sitting room of Mr. Subhas Chandra Bose will now ever be maintained as they were when he left.

of one of the constituent companies of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce.

The House also decided to record their appreciation of Mr. Dines' services to the Corporation.

COUNCILLOR P. E. WALDE GOES ON LEAVE

The House granted leave of absence from meetings of the Corporation for six months to Councillor P. E. Walde.

Councillor Walde had proceeded to the United Kingdom by the end of April.

COUNCILLOR ANANDI LALL PODDAR

The House postponed for the second time their consideration of the resignation tendered by Councillor Anandi Lall Poddar of his office as a Councillor of the Corporation and recommended that Councillor Poddar be requested to reconsider his decision.

It may be recalled that the House on the 18th March last postponed consideration of the matter and Councillor Poddar was requested to reconsider his decision. Whereupon Councillor Poddar informed that he felt that owing to heavy pressure of work he would not be able to discharge his duties as a Councillor.

"GROW MORE FOOD" CAMPAIGN

When the recommendations of the "Grow More Food" Special Committee came up, the House, after some discussion, postponed consideration of the matter.

The recommendations of the Special Committee concerned about the steps regarding growing more food crops on the Corporation land within the compound of the Pulta Pumping Station.

AN INSTITUTE FOR FISHERIES RESEARCH

The House authorized the Chief Executive Officer, Mr. Sailapati Chatterji, to carry on negotiations with Dr. S. L. Hora, Director of Fisheries, Bengal, regarding a proposal of the Government of India for the establishment of a central institute of fisheries research. He was, however, directed to see that the Corporation was not committed in any way.

The above decision resulted from the Chief Executive Officer having placed a letter received by him from the Department of Fisheries, Bengal, containing a proposal for the establishment of a Central Institute of Fisheries Research in the land adjoining the Pulta Water Works. According to Dr. Hora an expert, Col. R. B. S. Sewell, had been invited from England to advise Government on the matter.

In that letter Mr. S. L. Hora, Director of Fisheries, had stated that it had occurred to him that an area of about five to eight acres before the Manirampur Gate of the Pulta Water Works might prove very suitable for the sections of the Institute dealing with ponds, tanks and river problems. The Institute, which was likely to have a number of algaeologists, zoologists, chemists, bacteriologists and others on its staff, would be in a position to correlate the scientific work of the Pulta Laboratory with their investigations. It would not interfere in any way with the working of the water works.

IMPROVEMENT OF SLUMSGOVERNMENT REPLY TO PRESS CRITICISMS

A Bengal Government Press Note says:—

Allegations of hardship on the population of a bustee near Calcutta have been made in recent Press comments in respect of a Government scheme for the improvement of slums. The criticism is obviously based on a misunderstanding of the position.

The bustee referred to is situated at 109 and 110, Ultadanga Main Road and was scheduled as a slum area under the Bengal Slum Improvement Act, 1945. Following instructions from Government to make the necessary improvements in the bustee, the Calcutta Improvement Trust have now drawn up a scheme which has since been notified.

It is intended under the scheme to provide an adequate supply of water throughout the bustee by sinking two additional tube-wells to erect five bathing platforms and four sets of latrines, to demolish and re-erect 40 privies which are at present in a very bad condition and to repair and bring up to a sanitary standard 48 other privies which exist in the bustee. Provision has also been made for making several passages throughout the bustee to facilitate conservancy and to construct pucca surface drains alongside of these new roadways. Work is also to be undertaken to clean the existing tank.

It may be necessary in giving effect to these improvements to demolish a couple of huts and make small adjustments in a few others, but there is ample room in the bustees for the re-erection of the huts that may be demolished. There is no question whatsoever of notices of ejectment having been served on one thousand families; at the worst the number of persons who may be temporarily disturbed will not be more than an infinitesimal proportion of the total population of the bustee which is 2,650. Government are convinced that no one with any civic sense could ever object to improvements being carried out in the bustee to raise its standard of sanitation so that the population might live in healthier conditions.

Major-General Chatterjee In Calcutta

An Address Of Welcome Presented On Behalf Of The People Of Bengal

MAJOR-GENERAL A. C. Chatterjee, Foreign Minister of the Provisional Government of the Azad Hind, was given a public ovation on his arrival in Calcutta on the 9th May. He was taken in a mile-long procession, in which mounted cyclist volunteers and I. N. A. men formed part, along a route which was lined by thousands of people.

Major-General Chatterjee returned to the city after more than four years where he had been a distinguished member of the I. M. S. holding the rank of Colonel and office of Director of Public Health of the Bengal Government. With the outbreak of the war with Japan, he was sent to Singapore where on the surrender of British forces he was made prisoner. When the I. N. A. was formed he took a leading part in it, his example being a source of inspiration to junior officers and other ranks. He was appointed Governor of areas which passed into the hands of the Azad Hind Government when Manipur was invaded.

At the Howrah Station Major-General Chatterjee was received and garlanded by Mr. Sarat C. Bose; Mr. Kalipada Mukherji, Secretary, B. P. C. C.; Mr. Saila Kumar Mukherji, Chairman, Howrah Municipality; Mr. Amiya Nath Bose, Jt.-Secretary, I. N. A. Relief Committee and others.

Accosted by Pressmen Major-General Chatterjee said that he met Mr. Subhas Chandra Bose last on the 6th June, 1945.

"Azad Hind Fouz was free from communalism and narrow provincialism. Discipline, faith in the cause for which they fought and sacrifice were the watchwords of the officers and men of the Azad Hind Fouz. If we have full faith in ourselves and spirit of sacrifice, there is no power in the earth who can deny freedom to us."

Thus declared Maj.-Gen. Chatterjee, who was the Foreign Minister of the Azad Hind Government and Governor-Designate of the liberated areas, replying to the welcome address accorded to him at a public meeting at Deshapriya Park on Sunday afternoon, the 12th May. Mr. Sarat Chandra Bose presided over the function.

Mr. Bose, who presided, extended a most cordial welcome to the General on behalf of the I. N. A. Relief Committee, Bengal and the people of Bengal. He said:

"The years from 1942 to 1945 will remain memorable in the history of India. And when the history of this period is written, I have no doubt that General Chatterjee's name will be inscribed in letters of gold."

Mr. Bose hoped that General Chatterjee would initiate his countrymen into the 'mantram' of Unity, Faith and Sacrifice which he took outside the borders of India and show his countrymen the way.

THE "MANTRAM" OF UNITY, FAITH AND SACRIFICE

Hailing General Chatterjee as "the brave son of Bengal, of India," Mr. Sarat Chandra Bose said:

"We know that the battle for freedom began within the borders of India in 1942. The same year the struggle for independence also started from outside the borders of India. In this we did not succeed. This we also know that the struggle which started from outside the borders of India and which began inside the country, did not follow the same methods. Their object was however the same, namely, attainment of India's independence.

"It is true that we have not yet been able to win independence for India. We are not however sorry for that for the simple reason that there is no power on earth which can suppress the strength which my countrymen displayed both inside and outside the country. Even if all the Powers of Europe stood in opposition to that strength, I firmly believe that they will not be able to suppress the strength which my countrymen displayed.

"TO WIN FREEDOM IS NO EASY TASK"

"Brave son of India, I realise how difficult it is to be able to say anything which will do full justice to your worth. I have not the language to describe your sacrifice, your capacity for work, your unbounded love for your country. I hope you will soon get back your former health and take your place in the life of activity in Bengal, in India. We hope that your high character will inspire our coun-

Major-General A. C. Chatterjee after his arrival in Calcutta, was taken out in a mile-long procession through the city streets. Major General Chatterjee (garlanded) may be seen in the picture offering his gratitude to the people who lined the route of the procession and paid their respects to him.

trymen. We hope that you will initiate our countrymen into the 'mantram' that you took outside India—the 'mantram' of Unity, Faith and Sacrifice. I hope that by your character and by your advice you will guide the young men and women of India along the right path. To-day, we look upon you as one who will show us the way. Not only that, the whole of Bengal look up to you to show them the way. My earnest prayer to the Almighty is that He may soon restore you to your former health and you may soon return to the field of your activities.

It is no easy task to win freedom. For that are needed character, discipline, capacity for work and sacrifice, a shining example of which we find before us to-day."

GENERAL CHATTERJEE REPLIES

Addressing the gathering, General Chatterjee said:—

"I do not know what I have done for which I am bestowed this honour. I have but done my duty. Had any other Indian been placed in the same circumstances, he would have done the same thing."

"I shall speak to you to-day one or two words about the characteristics of the Azad Hind Fauj. The first peculiarity about it was that it was entirely a volunteer Army, every officer and soldier joining it voluntarily, of his own accord and without any compulsion being exerted. Secondly, no provincial or religious considerations found any place in this great organisation. Thirdly, in this organisation the criterion of promotion in the ranks was the capability and competence of the man in question, irrespective of the province or religion to which he belonged.

CORPORATION TO ACCORD CIVIC RECEPTION

The Calcutta Corporation at its meeting held on Wednesday, the 15th May, decided to accord a civic reception to Maj.-Gen. Dr. A. C. Chatterjee of the Indian National Army, and sanctioned an expenditure of Rs. 2,000 for the purpose.

Mr. J. N. Smart, leader of the European Group, said that, without going into merits of the proposal, they were opposed to it in view of the fact that expenditure of public money for such a purpose might be liable to surcharge. He wanted their opposition to be recorded.

At this stage Mr. Debendra Nath Mukherjee, ex-Mayor, moved an amendment to Councillor Kaviraj Satyabrata Sen's resolution, to the effect that the proposed expenditure be raised from Rs. 1,000 to Rs. 2,000.

The amendment was carried.

Three respective motions, moved by Councillors Kaviraj Satyabrata Sen, Dr. M. N. Sarkar and Jogesh Chandra Ghose, suggested the idea of a civic reception being accorded to Major-General Chatterjee by the Corporation of Calcutta.

THAT MEMORABLE DAY

"When the talk of raising money for Azad Hind Government from Singapore was going on, the Chettiar merchants stated that they were prepared to contribute money if Netaji would agree to address them from a temple. To that Netaji said that a man could invoke the name of God and worship Him in any way he liked but there was absolutely no connection between religion and politics and religion should not weigh with them when dealing with matters which concerned the welfare of the country. 'I am prepared to go and address you from the temple if you allow everyone to go inside the temple. Unless you agree to that, I don't want your money,' said Netaji. They stated in reply that they would not raise any objection to any people entering the temple.

"On that memorable day, Muslims, Sikhs, Christians all were allowed inside the temple. Before this only Hindus could enter the temple premises and Brahmmins alone could go into the interior of the temple."

Sense of responsibility and spirit of sacrifice was the keynote of success of the Azad Hind Government. They were free from communalism and provincialism, the Maj.-General declared.

Concluding the Maj.-Gen. asked the people to cultivate discipline and be ready to sacrifice their all for the freedom of the country.

Major-General Chatterjee is replying to the Address of Welcome presented to him on behalf of the People of Bengal. Mr. Sarat C. Bose is seen in the picture sitting by the side of Major-General Chatterjee.

RECEPTION TO NEW MAYOR AND DEPUTY MAYOR

Corporation Ambulance Service : Corporation Teachers' Union

Mr. S. M. Usman, Mayor, and Mr. Naresh Nath Mookerjee, Deputy Mayor of Calcutta, were felicitated at a party given by the staff of Ambulance Service, at the Central Station, Calcutta, on the 11th May last.

Presenting an address on behalf of the staff, Dr. M. U. Ahmad gave an account of the good work that was being done by the ambulance staff and referred to the difficulties they experienced in the proper discharge of their duties for lack of adequate staff and equipment. He said that almost every year about 4,000 to 5,000 cases were attended to after considerable delay owing to these handicaps. In 1944-45, of the 26,778 calls received, 22,266 were attended, 3,820 were delayed on account of all cars being engaged on other calls, 692 refused owing to no accommodation being arranged in hospitals, as against 30,692, 24,765, 4,912 and 1,015 respectively in the previous year.

A reception was accorded to the new Mayor, Mr. S. M. Usman and the new Deputy Mayor, Mr. Naresh Nath Mookerjee, by the members of the Calcutta Corporation Teachers' Union in the Mahabodhi Society Hall, College Square, on the 7th May, 1946.

Mr. Sudhir Chandra Ray Chaudhuri presided over the function.

CANCER RESEARCH IN U. S. A.

Dr. Harry Friedgood, President of the Cancer Research Foundation of California, has told a House of Representatives Committee that Congress could pave the way to cure cancer by giving President Truman $100,000,000 for all-out concentrated research.

Friedgood said that while $1,500,000 are being spent on incomplete research "somebody is dying of cancer every three minutes."

VACCINE AGAINST DENGUE FEVER

The U. S. Army doctors have discovered an effective vaccine against dengue fever, according to a War Department announcement. It is considered, however, that there may be certain forms of dengue which are not affected by the new vaccine.

The doctors first isolated the virus in Hawaii. Passing it through the brains of mice 32 times, they found the virus had lost the capacity to produce severe illness and long fever.

It is stated that the immunizing dose is very small. The extract from the brain of a single mouse contains at least 10,000 doses.

GOVERNMENT'S PART IN THE 'GROW MORE FOOD' CAMPAIGN

The "Grow More Food" campaign cannot be a success unless Government offers a remunerative price to the cultivators. This view has been expressed in course of a press statement by the Secretary, Indian Produce Association Calcutta, who also emphasized the need for supplying manure and making available to cultivators plough cattle, whose price is prohibitive. Besides, it is pointed out that no progress has been made in cultivating fallow lands. He hopes the popular Ministers will make a more correct approach to the problem.

"Defects To Be Remedied" : Says The Mayor

Food And Famine Exposition At Corporation Commercial Museum

"BEFORE the advent of the Britishers we find that our country was self-sufficient and prosperous. We had our own system of agriculture, we had our own trade, commerce and industry; but the industrial revolution which brought tremendous changes in the life of the European people, produced little effect in this country only because science and other technique were not applied to India," said Mr. S. M. Usman, the newly-elected Mayor of Calcutta, in declaring open the "Food and Famine Exposition" at the Commercial Museum on the 9th May last organized in connection with the 11th anniversary of the Museum.

Continuing the Mayor said that the administrators in this country did never care for any improvement or betterment of this country. They wanted to have some sort of machinery which they were successful in setting up in this country. The result was that this subcontinent lagged behind to-day and the people of this country who are regarded mainly as 'agriculturists' all over the world were begging for rice and cereals from other parts of the world. He said that the Calcutta Corporation Commercial Museum was the first of its kind in India, the main objects of which were to bring before the countrymen the defects of agricultural and industrial systems and how best to remedy them and also to encourage the indigenous products. India which could boast of being the biggest agricultural country, was being visited and devastated by famine. He hoped that very soon the administrators of this province and of the whole country would appreciate the services which had been rendered by the organizers of this Museum in the field of agriculture and industry.

In conclusion, the Mayor assured that during his term of office this useful institution would receive special consideration. He also requested the public and particularly, the students, to take lively interest in the affairs of the Museum.

Dr. A. C. Ukil, in course of his address on the occasion, suggested that although the Museum was rendering signal services to the people of the province, a separate museum should be started by the municipal authorities so that people might be trained up in taking up the agricultural industries.

Mr. Sailapati Chatterji, Chief Executive Officer, said that he would like the public to take a little more interest in the Commercial Museum which was bound to play a very important part in the days when the problem of food was overcome.

Mr. Kali Charan Ghosh, Officer-in-charge, Commercial Museum and Publicity Department, Calcutta Corporation, in submitting the annual re-

Tagore Birthday Celebrations In The City

Writers' Association Observes Rabindra Memorial Week

UNDER the auspices of Rabindra Smriti-Sahityik-Samiti (Association of writers for Rabindra Memorial), formed with Dr. Abanindra Nath Tagore as President, and Mr. Narendra Dev as Hony. Secretary, for the purpose of raising money for the All-India Rabindra Memorial Fund and for the propagation of the ideals of the poet as reflected in his literature, a week-long programme of Rabindra music, Rabindra-drama and dances based on Rabindranath's poems and songs was observed in the city. The sale-proceeds of that performances was meant for the All-India Rabindra Memorial Fund.

TAGORE BIRTHDAY OBSERVED AT CAMBRIDGE

Prof. A. S. Bessicoritch of Cambridge University presided over the Tagore birthday dinner organized by the Cambridge University Tagore Institute.

In a warm tribute to Tagore, Prof. Bessicoritch said that when the world was ruled by modern scientific inventions, which unfortunately had brought havoc twice in their lifetime, it would be well to remember the moral philosophy of the greatest poet and philosopher of their time—Rabindranath Tagore.

Sir S. Radhakrishnan, Vice-Chancellor of Benares Hindu University and Lecturer at Oxford, who was the guest of honour, described Tagore as the greatest figure in Indian history.

Prof. Mascarc, Spanish Professor at Barcelona University who is paying a short visit to Cambridge, said that international solidarity could only be achieved by learning Tagore's philosophy of universalism based on the Upanishad. Tagore was the spirit of India.

The memorial week started on the 9th May with musical and dance recitals held at the University Institute under the directions of Gitabharati.

On the second day of the week, the members of the Progressive Writers' Association staged the poet's drama, "Muktadhara" on the "Sreerangam" board.

On the third day, the members of the Writers' Rabindra Memorial Committee staged the poet's drama, "Bashikaran" on the "Rungmahal" board with eminent writers. Messrs. Basanta Kumar Chatterjea, Probodh Kumar Sanyal, Tarasankar Banerjee, and others took the various roles. The female roles, it may be added, were played by the ladies.

On the fourth day on the "Star" board the Writers' Committee staged the Poet's inimitable drama, "Dak-Ghar" (a version of which was relayed from the Paris Radio Station, it may be remembered, on the night of the city's fall in the Great War). The well-known writers like Messrs. Dakshina Ranjan Mitra Majumdar, Narendra Deb, Sunirmal Basu, Akhil Neogy, Bimal Ghose appeared in the different roles.

On the fifth day Gitabharati held musical and dance recitals based on the poet's songs at the Calcutta University Institute.

On the last day, the 14th May, the performance of "Dak-Ghar" was repeated on the "Minerva" board.

The Writers' Committee, it may be added, has planned to publish a collection of poems, short stories and articles written by a hundred well-known writers of Bengal. Sreemati Radharani Deb and Mr. Amal Home are jointly editing the work, which has been named "Satadipa". The sale-proceeds of the book will go to the All-India Rabindra Memorial Fund.

CONGRESS SAHITYA SANGHA

In observance of the 86th birth anniversary of Poet Rabindranath Tagore, a meeting was held at Kumar Singh Hall on the 8th May last under the auspices of the Congress Sahitya Sangha.

A PENCIL SKETCH OF THE POET (1912)
BY WILLIAM ROTHENSTEIN

Mr. Hemendra Prasad Ghose, who presided, said that Rabindranath took an active interest in the affairs of the nation. His connection with the Congress began in 1891. He took a lively interest in the anti-partition agitation. His contributions towards the growth of Indian nationalism were immense. He had a soft corner in his heart for the sufferings of the poor and the downtrodden and this love had found expression through numerous writings.

Prof. Benoy Kumar Sarkar, Chief Guest, said that any attempt to classify poets, far less a poet of the outstanding eminence of Rabindranath, in groups was futile for poets were by nature men of changing moods. They would be committing an error if they tried to bring Rabindranath into a particular fold. Rabindranath was a great patriot. Three hundred Bengali boys, he recalled, took their lessons in music from young Rabindranath under the auspices of Dawn Society and the songs taught were some of his best national songs.

Paying his tributes to the work of Rabindranath, Mr. Bepin Behary Ganguly asked members of the Congress Sahitya Sangha to give a correct lead to the nation through their writings.

NETAJI BLOCK AT CALCUTTA HOSPITAL

A laudable move to set up a Netaji Block at the Ramkrishna Hospital (Bhowanipore) after Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose has been taken up by the business community of South Calcutta.

Mr. B. Haralalka, Secretary, Ramkrishna Hospital announces that so far Rs. 6,362 have been collected towards the proposed Netaji Block.

Rabindra songs were sung on the occasion, among others, by Sukriti Sen, Banikantha Nirmal Chand Baral and Mr. Pravash Mitra. Mr. Mukur Sarbadhikary, Mr. Krishna Garai, Mr. Piyush Roy and others recited poems from Rabindranath.

Mr. Bijay Singh Nahar offered a vote of thanks to the Chair.

ALL-INDIA LIGHTHOUSE FOR THE BLIND

The 86th birth anniversary of Poet Rabindranath Tagore was observed by boy and girl students of All-India Lighthouse for the Blind in the premises of the institution in Russa Road on the 10th May last. Mr. Sajani Kanta Das presided.

BOMBAY TO RAISE A MEMORIAL.

A Committee has been formed in Bombay with Mr. B. G. Kher, Prime Minister, as Chairman to collect funds to raise a suitable memorial to Poet Tagore. The memorial is likely to take the shape of a building to house a library and theatre and provide the centre of cultural activities.

Recitation of poems from Rabindranath and singing of Rabindra songs by blind students were a feature of the function.

Mr. Subodh Roy, founder of the Lighthouse, said that he had been surprised at the love of Americans for Rabindranath. There were English translations of Rabindranath in many American houses. Many a young man and woman in England and America had been inspired by the thoughts of Rabindranath. When the speaker met Rabindranath in 1938, the Poet said that he would write more, touching the lives of the blind. He did not live to fulfil his desire.

INDIA'S ROADWAY PROGRAMME

TWO AMERICAN ADVISERS ARRIVE

The India Government is to be advised by two American officials, who have just returned to Washington after spending six weeks studying road conditions in India, to undertake a plan for sufficient widening of its roadways to allow vehicles to pass each other easily.

Major-General Philip B. Fleming, U. S. MacDonald, Commissioner of the American Public Roads Administration, told a news conference that this recommendation would be their major suggestion in a report to be submitted to the Government of India.

Commenting that most Indian roads are only 10 or 12 feet wide, General Fleming said that driving conditions were compelled to swerve to the road shoulders. He added that India had a "confident group of engineers," but pointed out that a shortage of young men in the profession was hampering the country's roadway programme.

Primary Teachers Resolve To Strike

All-Bengal Primary School Teachers' Conference In Calcutta

URGING the fulfilment of the ten minimum demands regarding pay, prospects and conditions of work, the special session of the All-Bengal Primary School Teachers' Conference on the 1st May last resolved to launch a strike of primary teachers, numbering over 1,00,000 for a week at the first instance and then for an indefinite period, if the token strike failed to secure the redress of their grievances.

The token strike will start on September 1 and the latter one in November next. The Association will give notice of the strike to the authorities on July 1, if no satisfactory response is forthcoming before June 30.

Mr. Mohitosh Roy Chowdhury, President, All-Bengal Primary School Teachers' Association, who was in the chair, apprised the conference of the trend of talks he and nine other members of the deputation had with the Chief Minister and Education Minister. The Ministers recognized the justness of the demands of the teachers but did not see how to find money to meet their minimum demands, which would now require Rs. 310,00,000 to fulfil.

Mr. K. S. Roy said that an amendment moved by the Congress Party for earmarking the revenue derived from sales tax for nation-building work had once been defeated by the League Ministry. The Bengal Government spent only Rs. 43,00,000 on primary education, while its jail and police expenses amounted to Rs. 11,100,000 and Rs. 33,900,000 respectively. By reducing expenditure on those items, money could surely be found for meeting the demands of teachers, he said.

Mr. Shamsuddin Ahmed, Minister for Labour, said that he had no comment to make on the teachers' decision to strike. All he would like to say was that a new Ministry had taken office and he hoped that teachers would give the Ministry help and co-operation.

Sir Bejoy Prasad Singh Roy hoped that the Primary Education Act would be extended to the whole of Bengal.

The following are the minimum demands of primary teachers, as formulated by the conference:

1. Minimum salary be fixed at Rs. 50 and Rs. 40 per month for trained and untrained teachers respectively in rural areas, with an additional salary of Rs. 10 for teachers in urban areas. To this be added a monthly dearness allowance of Rs. 15.
2. Salary be paid regularly at the end of every month, without deducting money order commission.
3. No teacher be removed without a month's previous notice or dismissed without proper inquiry by an impartial authority.
In case of removal without any lapse on his part, the teacher be paid as many months' pay as the number of years he has been in service.
4. Provident fund be immediately introduced in every school.
5. Leave be granted according to the fundamental rules of the Government.

6. At least one ward of every primary teacher be granted free studentship in aided secondary schools.

7. At least one primary teacher be taken on the District School Boards from each subdivision, and two on the Education Sub-Committee of local self-governing bodies.

8. At least one representative of the All-Bengal Primary Teachers' Association be taken on the Central Primary Education Committee.

9. More training schools be established including at least one such school for women teachers in every district.

10. Training allowance be increased from Rs. 10 to Rs. 20 per month.

Mobile Sterilisation Equipment For Water

A Notable Trailer Plant

[By DAVID BROWNLIE]

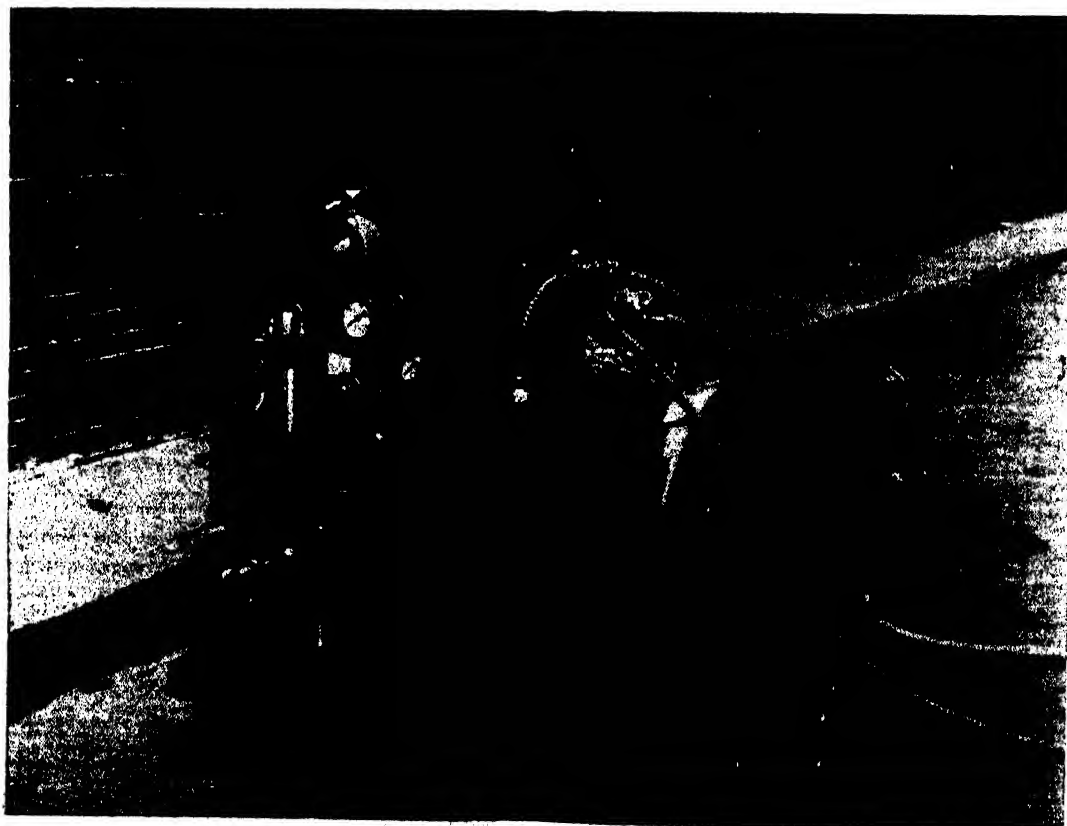

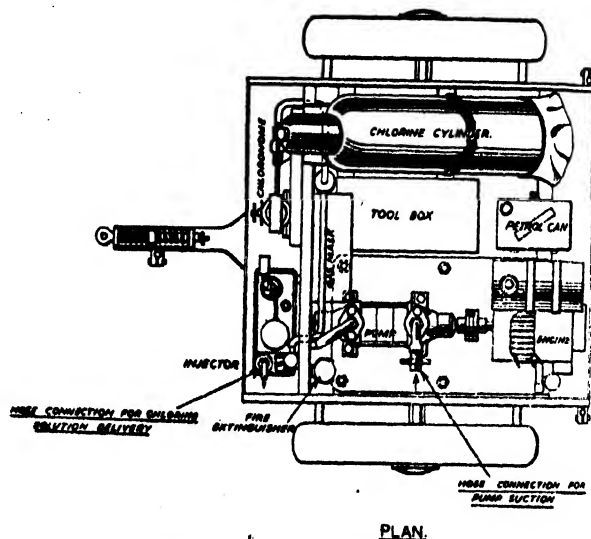

AN example of the vital importance of motor transport is mobile sterilisation plant, carried on a trailer for emergency sterilisation of towns and general drinking and cooling water supply. This is nearly always sterilised with chlorine gas, and in the event of fracture of mains or damage to water-works, such as by bombing, fast-moving mobile sterilising equipment was used to continue the supply without fear of disease being caused by contamination, particularly valuable for agricultural, mining, and thinly-populated districts.

Much interest attaches to the latest modified designs of the "Mobile" Chloronome plant made by the Paterson Engineering Co., Ltd., of London (Windsor House, Kingsway, W.C. 2) pioneer specialists in this field.

Essentially the mobile equipment, carried on a 2-wheel trailer, is a modern scientific waterworks sterilisation equipment in miniature, which can be hitched on to the back of a motor vehicle or hauled in any other way, even by hand if necessary. The arrangement consists of a petrol engine driven centrifugal pump and a small "Concentric Manometer" type of Chloronome which includes a control valve, narrow diameter flexible copper tubing, pressure gauges, metering devices, filter and pressure reducing valve. Also there is carried on the trailer, in a cradle, a cylinder of liquid chlorine connected by flexible narrow diameter tubing to the Chloronome, so that the required amount of chlorine gas is dissolved in water and the solution pumped by the petrol engine driven pump through 20 feet of flexible chlorine-resisting hose connections to the water to be sterilised.

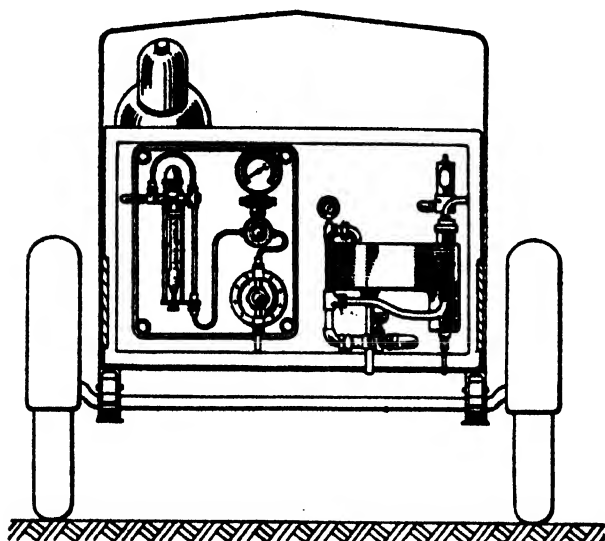

In the case of mains, for example, a special connection is made and the chlorine solution pumped into the mains continuously in desired amount. There is also included 20 feet of armoured suction hose 17 in. diameter, which is dipped into any suitable source of water for making the solution, such as a river, stream, pond or tank, although of course the main can also be used, whilst other auxiliaries carried on the trailer in neat and compact fashion include a can of petrol for the engine, a tool box, another box containing spare parts and meters, a testing set to determine whether excess of chlorine is being added to the water, a gas mask, and a small hand fire extinguisher.

Also it should be stated that the trailer is of robust workmanship, having a drawbar with automatic brake, a number plate and rear lamp, canvas hood and frame (for protection against wet weather), and three supporting jacks which keep the arrangement rigid when it is being used detached from the motor vehicle.

A VIEW OF THE MOBILE CHLORONOME PLANT

FRONT ELEVATION.

SIDE ELEVATION.

It may be mentioned further that in some cases a more convenient method of sterilising is to use a solution of sodium or calcium hypochlorite and this mobile equipment can be adapted for the purpose a similar type of auxiliary equipment being provided which is carried on the motor vehicle.

NEW HILL ROADS

Under a post-war development scheme of the Government of Bengal two important motor roads are under construction in the inaccessible parts of the Darjeeling hills. One is designed to connect the Rishap and Suriel forests in the Senchal Range with the Ghum-Peshoke motor road and the other will link up Manebhanjang with Batasi in the Tonglu Range.

The first road will help the transport of milk, vegetables and other agricultural produce from the Labda Khasmahal and the cinchona plantation areas. This road has also the possibilities of linking up Mungpo with Ghum and Darjeeling. The other road will open up the hitherto unexploited forests of the Tonglu Range.

A large number of labourers, most of whom are ex-servicemen, are now engaged in the construction of the roads.

It is learnt that a thirty mile-long ship canal for Calcutta port is to be constructed from Kidderpore to Diamond Harbour, off the Hooghly river.

The Week In The Corporation

CIVIC RECEPTION TO JAIPRAKASH NARAIN

The Corporation at its meeting held on Wednesday, the 22nd May, 1946, decided to accord a reception to Mr. Jaiprakash Narain, the Congress Socialist leader, on the 28th May at the Central Municipal Office.

On the motion of Councillor Sudhir Chandra Ray Chaudhuri, the following resolution was adopted:—

"That a Civic Reception be accorded to the well-known young Congress Socialist leader of India, Mr. Jaiprakash Narain, on 28th May, 1946, at the Central Municipal Office and that a sum of Rs. 250 be sanctioned for the purpose."

Mr. Jaiprakash Narain will arrive in Calcutta on Tuesday, the 28th May, 1946, from Dehra Dun and will stay here for two days. He will address a labour rally at Cossipore, a students' meeting in Calcutta and a meeting organised by the Punjab Naujawan Sabha in South Calcutta besides attending to other urgent political matters.

HAWKERS' NUISANCE

Councillor W. I. N. McEwan referred in the House to the encroachments made on the city's streets and pavements by hawkers and vendors of fruits, foodstuffs and consumers' goods.

Mentioning the matter Councillor McEwan said:—

"We are daily eye-witnesses of the encroachment of our street pavements, public parks and at times the thoroughfares by hawkers and vendors of fruits, foodstuffs and consumers' goods in a manner which tends to challenge the rights of the Calcutta Corporation and the Police authorities. This practice has not sprung up overnight, it has been allowed to grow steadily and is now virtually an institutional and a great evil."

"While it is the duty of the Police to prevent obstruction and the committing of nuisance", he suggested, "this Corporation has also a joint responsibility in the matter and the Corporation must see that every hawker and vendor is in possession of the proper license, that no hawker or itinerant vendor is allowed to take possession of municipal property to the discomfort and inconvenience of taxpayers."

Councillor Nalin Chandra Paul inquired about the steps taken by the Corporation to remove this standing nuisance.

The Chief Executive Officer, Mr. Sailapati Chatterji, said that the nuisance was growing. Not only footpaths of most of the main thoroughfares were encroached upon but some important street corners also were made impassable by the crowd of hawkers during the day. In some places regular markets were held on streets. Corporation authorities were helpless in the matter as they had no power to remove them. They had on several occasions taken up the matter with the Police but with no tangible result. At the instance of the late Governor, Mr. R. G. Casey, this nuisance was removed from certain places but it had come back again.

He recently wrote to the Commissioner of Police drawing his attention to this growing nuisance and informing him that Corporation efforts to

THE NETAJI BHAWAN

MR. SARAT C. BOSE'S STATEMENT

"We intend to utilize the separated three-fourth share—except the two rooms used by Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose before he left—for the purpose of accommodating I. N. A. officers and men and giving them rest and relief," says Mr. Sarat C. Bose, who has acquired the above share in the premises No. 38/2, Elgin Road, named 'Netaji Bhawan' with two of his friends, in the course of a statement.

"In case Netaji returns, it will be utilized to such purposes as he directs" Mr. Bose adds.

The statement reads:

"The public are aware that sometime after Mr. Subhas Chandra Bose left the country the Collector of 24-Parganas acting at the instance of the Additional Chief Presidency Magistrate, Calcutta, attached Mr. Subhas Chandra Bose's undivided one-fourth share in premises No. 38/2, Elgin Road, Calcutta.

"At the date of the said attachment, the said premises was subject to a mortgage created jointly by Mr. Subhas Chandra Bose, and his co-sharers Mr. Satish Chandra Bose, Mr. Sudhir Chandra Bose and Mr. Sailesh Chandra Bose.

"I may state for the information of the public that when Mr. Subhas Chandra Bose was in Calcutta he, with the consent of his said co-sharers, was negotiating for the sale of the back portion of the said premises (which practically represented one-fourth share in the said premises) for the purpose of discharging the said mortgage but the negotiations could not be completed before he left.

FREED FROM ATTACHMENT

"I am glad to announce to the public that I and two friends, have by negotiations and conveyances, been able to acquire three-fourths share in the said premises, (including the one-fourth share which belonged to Mr. Subhas Chandra Bose) free from the said mortgage and attachment.

"An amicable partition of the said premises has been effected whereby the whole of the main residential building (including Mr. Subhas Chandra Bose's study and his father's bedroom which was subsequently used by him as his bedroom) and a portion of the outhouses have been allotted to me and my said friends in respect of the three-fourths share purchased by us.

"I and my said friends shall not retain any beneficial interest in the separated three-fourths share but we intend to devote it to purposes which were nearest to Mr. Subhas Chandra Bose's heart.

FOR I. N. A. MEN

"I may inform the public that a proper deed of trust will be executed in respect of the said separated three-fourths share of the said premises at an early date and it will be provided therein that Mr. Subhas Chandra Bose's study and bedroom are to be maintained as they were when he left and that in case he returns, the three-fourths separated share shall be devoted to such purposes as he directs.

"In the meantime we intend to utilise the said separated three-fourths share (except the said two rooms mentioned above) for the purpose of accommodating I. N. A. officers and men and giving them rest and relief.

"The necessity for providing further accommodation for I. N. A. officers and men in Calcutta is most urgent, as the existing rest camps have not got sufficient accommodation and one of the said rest camps will shortly be converted into a hospital for ailing I. N. A. officers and men.

"The building is badly in need of repairs and steps are being taken to execute the necessary repairs without delay.

"The said separated three-fourths share in the said premises No. 38/2, Elgin Road is named and will be known as 'Netaji Bhawan.'"

Health & HygieneFighting Against Venereal Diseases*Wartime Medical Achievements Have Set The Pace For It

Penicillin and the war have set the stage for a new era in the fight against venereal diseases in the United States. The U. S. Public Health Service, states and local communities, greatly encouraged by wartime achievements, have embarked on a programme proposing to attack the "social diseases" as forcefully and openly, and render them just as controllable as tuberculosis and other infectious illnesses which medicine and health education have done much to suppress in past decades.

Not that venereal cases have increased in the United States. On the contrary, while war dislocations and life in the armed forces usually provide more opportunities for exposure, and in the past always were followed by a higher general VD rate, World War II has brought no such increase in the United States. As a matter of fact, in the civilian population the gains previously made against syphilis were maintained throughout the war; the loss of time from active duty in the armed forces was less than in any other country in any previous war; and from July, 1944 to July, 1945 the total of syphilis cases in the United States was reduced by not less than 21 per cent., the total of gonorrhea cases by three per cent.

Such successes were the results of several particularly important developments widely applied in the war and now destined to become an integral part of intensified VD control.

RAPID TREATMENT BY NEW METHODS

During the war, throughout the country, rapid treatment centres were established in which new penicillin methods reduced the time for the treatment of gonorrhea from 16 days to about three days, in sessions ranging from a few minutes to about four hours. Hospital treatment of syphilis was brought down from 24 days to 11 days, by a combination schedule of five injections of an arsenical drug, 1,200,000 units of penicillin, and three injections of bismuth.

The faster turn-over of patients enabled the VD clinics, 3,477 of which receive public financial assistance, to devote more attention to case finding and thus attack the problem of social diseases at the root by uncovering cases which because of fear or shame were not reported. Early infectious syphilis was referred to the rapid treatment centres; gonorrhea patients to private physicians whose co-operation was sought and found on a large scale as soon as the simplified methods became generally available. Intensified fact finding was supported by campaigns of public education and mass blood testing: the VD problem passed beyond the hush-hush period and entered into an era in which the open fight against it has become a public concern.

The new era was opened in 1945 in two big southern cities by campaigns outstanding for their publicity and the support they received from the population.

In New Orleans, in the southern state of Louisiana, the U. S. Public Health Service co-operated with the State and municipal health departments, and with the city's Parish Medical Society in an intensive 45-day programme of public education, case finding, and treatment of gonorrhea. Approximately 40 per cent. of the 4,000 gonorrhea patients discovered were treated by 152 physicians in private practice, and the remaining 60 per cent. were treated in clinics.

COMPULSORY BLOOD TESTS

More spectacular was a similar programme carried out in Birmingham, Alabama, where a State law requires blood tests for all persons between the ages of 15 and 50. Realizing the social importance of mass VD tests in an industrial and over-crowded city like Birmingham the health departments employed every means of making the tests a matter of public concern. All organizations of citizens, churches not excluded, co-operated fully.

The report on the experiment by the Director of the Division of Venereal Diseases in the Alabama Department of Public Health, Dr. Walton H. Y. Smith relates with dramatic vividness how the people concerned more than a quarter of a million of them co-operated in a programme that in previous years would have had to contend with misinformation and fear of social disgrace.

The daily papers of Birmingham, its labour and its press gave unstinting support in large advertisements and in daily coverage, explanatory articles, and editorials. Weekly summaries were displayed like election returns to keep the people informed on the progress of blood testing. Street signs were posted; trolley cars carried large signs on their fronts an announcement on inside advertising space. Thirty thousand posters were placed in store windows, and even the sterile caps of milk bottles carried the message to the people.

Women's groups recruited 1,100 house-to-house canvassers who distributed hundreds of thousands of leaflets. The four local radio stations had people from all walks of life speak on the tests and their importance. Messages on syphilis were read from the pulpits of the churches; church bulletins displayed notices and information; fully 90 per cent. of the blood testing stations were located in religious buildings.

In 13 days of actual testing 271,755 persons streamed through 370 stations. Rich and poor, young and old, White and Negro, stood in line for the tests. Altogether the survey uncovered 4,781 cases of early infectious syphilis while the average usually reported during a like period was 383. This margin in discovering infection, the first and vital step toward cure and elimination of the social danger, was wholly due to the full public light that had been thrown on the blood tests in mass proportions.

PUBLIC ENLIGHTENMENT CAMPAIGN

For this reason, the U. S. Public Health Service plans to concentrate strongly on education and public enlightenment in its campaign. In the armed forces, where no sensitivity prevails concerning venereal diseases, every soldier and sailor was shown a motion picture on venereal diseases and continually subjected to instruction.

The U. S. Health Service now has completed a technicolor film for audience of girls and women, which is being distributed to health departments and social hygiene groups. Dramatic radio programmes are available to radio stations by way of transcription. Thousands of pharmacists co-operate in Venereal Disease control and education. Large-scale local information campaigns were conducted with results which the U. S. Public Health report for 1944-45 calls "excellent."

During that same period the results of bringing the fight against syphilis and gonorrhea fully into the open showed up in the records of the rapid treatment centres; they handled three and four-fold the number of patients of previous years. And it also appeared in a remarkable reduction of Venereal Disease cases: during the one year period covered in the report, out of a total of roughly 140 million people in the United States, 373,288 cases of syphilis were reported, which is 21 per cent. less than the year before, and 301,828 cases of gonorrhea (minus three per cent.). The annual incidence of syphilis is estimated at 200,000, presenting what the U. S. Surgeon-General calls a "manageable problem." He points especially to the importance of the new Venereal Diseases control programme, which promises to bring the once-dreaded diseases well within the limits of complete control.

To carry out the programme, the U. S. Public Health Service requested Congress to authorize the funds necessary to make the rapid treatment centres and campaigns like the ones of New Orleans, Birmingham and other localities an integral part of Venereal Diseases control. Forty-five individual centres are contemplated by 35 states, in co-operation with the U. S. Health Service and local health departments. Six states plan to reserve beds in 800 hospitals exclusively for rapid treatment.

Beyond the continuation of wartime services, new means are being developed to obtain increased co-operation of private physicians in reporting Venereal Diseases cases and obtaining information on the source of infection. Courses are being planned to train special Venereal Diseases investigators for service with the state health departments. In the rapid treatment centres costs reduced 56 per cent. for syphilis treatment (from 119 dollars to 52 dollars) and by 84 per cent. for gonorrhea (from 33 to 13 dollars). These savings are to be translated into increased service for out-patients of hospital clinics.

In addition, research is being conducted on the new methods in co-operation with numerous schools and societies. A project carried out through the U. S. Public Health Service by 187 physicians and clinics in various parts of the country showed that a single intramuscular injection of penicillin, suspended in an oil wax mixture because of its prolonged action, was an effective and safe treatment for gonorrhea as soon as this mixture is generally available, the treatment will become widely applicable. Similar research is being conducted on syphilis and its mass control to provide the medical means for another of man's victories over dreaded diseases.

THE WEEK IN THE CORPORATION

remove it had become unsuccessful. At his invitation the Commissioner of Police had agreed to send three of his Deputy Commissioners to attend a Conference to be held on Thursday, the 23rd May, to consider the steps to be taken to remove the nuisance. The Chief Executive Officer was not, however, very hopeful about its outcome.

STANDING COMMITTEES

At the instance of Councillor Sudhir Chandra Ray Chaudhuri the formation of various Standing Committees of the Corporation was postponed for a week.

PROPOSAL FOR RENAMING CALCUTTA

Consideration of the resolution to name the city of Calcutta as 'Subhasnagore' was postponed for a fortnight at the request of the sponsor, Councillor Jogesh Chandra Ghose, who stated in his letter to the Mayor that he was taking legal opinion on the matter.

It may be recalled that the Chief Law Officer's opinion stated that the naming of the city did not come within the purview of the Corporation.

AN EYE CLINIC FOR SOUTH CALCUTTA

The House also decided to open an eye clinic at the Kalighat Dispensary at an initial cost of Rs. 10,000 and a recurring cost of Rs. 1,200 per year.

SLOW DRIVING OF TRAMCARS

Councillor Hirendra Kumar Ganguli referred to the slow driving of tramcars after 9-30 p.m. especially on Shambazar and Belgachia sections. The reasons for this action, according to Councillor Ganguli, was the unwillingness of drivers to go in for an additional trip. He suggested that the Corporation should take steps to redress this grievance of the passengers.

The Mayor, Mr. S. M. Usman, said that the matter would be referred to the Tramways Company.

They were the last batch of security prisoners in Presidency Jail.

GOVERNMENT PROFIT BY RICE SELLING

That the Government are making a profit of Rs. 4 per md. in rice sold in Calcutta, that appalling conditions prevail in foodgrains storage, that low prices are being paid to paddy cultivators and rice millers and that waste of food-stuffs is enormous, are among the allegations made by Mr. P. Samanta, Secretary, Burdwan Rice Mill-owners' Association, in a statement.

BENGAL DELEGATES TO A.I.C.C.

Seventy-two members to the All-India Congress Committee from Bengal have been elected at a meeting of delegates held in Calcutta. They include Mr. Sarat Chandra Bose, Dr. Prafulla Chandra Ghosh, Mr. Syed Nausher Ali, Mr. Surendra Mohan Ghosh, Mr. Kalipada Mookerjee, Mr. Kiran Sankar Roy, Mr. Asrafuddin Ahmed Chowdhury and Mrs. Labanya Prova Dutta.

DESTITUTES COMING TO CALCUTTA

The proportion of destitutes coming into Calcutta from outside Bengal continues to be very large. Of a total of 1,907 collected from the streets of Calcutta and conveyed to Government Homes in the city since March 1, 1946, no less than 1,100 were non-Bengalees. For the first 11 days of May the figure of non-Bengalees was 176 compared with 119 Bengalees.

This influx of indigent persons from outside provinces is a matter which seriously perturbs the Government of Bengal. Repeated requests have been made to other Governments concerned both to arrange to receive back their own destitutes as well as take appropriate steps to prevent any further drift to Calcutta.

LATE BEPIN CHANDRA PAL

The invaluable services of Bepin Chandra Pal, the great orator and political thinker, for the cause of the country were recalled at a memorial meeting held on Monday, the 20th May, 1946, (evening), at the Commercial Museum Hall, Mr. Kiran Sankar Roy presided.

In paying his respect to the memory of the late Bepin Ch. Pal, Mr. Kiran S. Roy recalled his youthful days when he had the opportunity to listen to the speeches of Bepin Chandra Pal. As an orator, said Mr. Roy, Bepin Chandra

PUBLIC HOLIDAY ON JUNE 13

June 13 has been declared to be a public holiday for the observance of the birthday of the King-Emperor of India, under the Negotiable Instruments Act, says a notification issued by the Government of Bengal.

Pal was second to none in those days and he could hold the audience spell-bound for hours together by virtue of his inspiring oratory.

It was a matter of great regret, continued Mr. Roy, that the youngmen of the present generation did not care to know anything about those nationalists who sacrificed their lives for the cause of India's independence and were even forgetting the names of the late Bepin Chandra Pal and Surendra Nath Banerjee who were on the vanguard of Swadeshi movement. Mr. Roy also said that the purpose of this anniversary meeting would be best served if they could emulate the noble character of Bepin Chandra Pal and follow the great ideal placed by him before his countrymen.

Mr. Surendra Nath Sen said that one of the noble traits of Bepin Chandra Pal's character, was that what he considered to be right, he translated it into action even in the teeth of tremendous opposition.

Dr. Sundari Mohan Das in recalling his past association with Bipin Chandra said that domestic distractions, although innumerable they were, could not deter him from pursuing his ideal. An ardent lover of the country he never considered himself to be a leader but a 'trumpeter'—as he used to call himself—to rouse the country to its sense of political rights. His fiery eloquence acted on the audience with immediate effect. It was Bepin Chandra who infused a new sense of social and political values in Deshbandhu Chittaranjan Das. In fact, Deshbandhu had his first lesson in politics from Bipin Chandra.

Concluding Dr. Das referred to the uncommon strength of character of Bipin Chandra which enabled him to overcome the many attractions and allurements that came in his way.

ACADEMY OF FINE ARTS EXHIBITION

Modern trends in Indian art were discussed by Lt.-Col. Sir Francis Tucker, G.O.C.-in-C, Eastern Command, opening a special exhibition of the Academy of Fine Arts, Calcutta, on Monday, the 20th May, 1946, at the Government School of Art.

Sir Francis, who has himself contributed about a dozen etchings to the exhibition, said that Indian art was passing through a period of great perplexity. Indian artists had behind them the ancient traditions of India sometimes formalized. Indian art, which had already had impressed upon it the influence of Persia and of China, had now impinged upon it the strong, prolific and vigorous influence of the art of the west. He hoped that foreign art such as displayed at the present exhibition would be of interest to the people of this country.

The exhibits, which belong to French, American and English schools of art, were loaned by the All-India Fine Arts and Crafts Society, New Delhi, to the Academy for a display in Calcutta. The exhibition will remain open to the public till May 30.

HAFFLE-WALLS TO BE REMOVED

The Government of Bengal have directed the Corporation of Calcutta to remove immediately the last vestige of the numerous haffle walls that were constructed not only by the Corporation but also by other agencies, both governmental and private.

This is urged by way of precaution as during the last disturbance bricks from broken haffle walls were used as missiles by the mob.

"SHIP-CANAL PROPOSAL SHOULD BE ABANDONED."

"A deep gloom has been cast upon the people to be affected by the construction of the proposed ship canal for port purposes from the Hooghly river off Diamond Harbour to the Kidderpore Dock", says Mr. Charu Chandra Bhandari, M.L.A., (Diamond Harbour) in a Press statement, appealing to the authorities to abandon the scheme.

Mr. Bhandari says:-

"A vast tract of land more than 30 miles long and one mile in width, measuring about 55 thousand bighas and comprising 125 villages and their paddy and vegetable lands of the five police stations of Diamond Harbour, Falta, Bishnupore, Mahostala and Behala in the 24 Parganas district, has been notified to be acquired under the Land Acquisition Act". If the scheme be carried out, these 125 villages will be effaced from the face of the earth and no less than one lakh villagers, mostly petty cultivators have to be driven out from the homesteads and lands of their forefathers.

"The scheme has been made by the Calcutta Port Commissioners on the recommendation of their chief engineer. The cost is roughly estimated at Rs. 15 crores including Rs. 3 crores for land. The work would not be undertaken unless the Government are prepared to contribute one half the cost as a loan. Dredging by three suction dredgers has to be done at present to maintain the safe navigation for ships of their upper reaches of the Hooghly river between Diamond Harbour and Calcutta as there are sandheads in this part of the river, and the pilotage in ships while plying this part, has to be entrusted to the specialised service of the

HOUSE RENT CONTROL ORDER AMENDMENT

Further amendments in the Bengal House Rent Control Order have been notified in a Calcutta Gazette Extraordinary, published on Monday, the 20th May.

Following proviso, among other amendments, has been added to paragraph 10-D:—

"Provided that if the necessity for making any repairs or for taking any measures referred to in sub-paragraph (1) is so urgent that any delay involved in the foregoing procedure is likely to subject the tenant to personal loss, damage or serious inconvenience, the tenant may himself cause the notice referred to in the said sub-paragraph to be served on the landlord requiring him to make such repairs or to take such measures within 48 hours of the service of such notice and shall in every such case submit, at the same time, a copy of such notice to the Controller together with an estimate of the cost of such repairs or measures to enable the Controller to make such inquiries as he may consider necessary about the necessity of such repairs or measures and the correctness of the estimate so submitted, and if after the service of such notice the landlord fails to make such repairs or to take such measures within the time mentioned in the notice, the tenant may himself make such repairs or take such measures, as the case may be, and after completion of such repairs or measures submit to the Controller a statement of the costs thereof and thereafter the Controller, after considering such statement and making such further inquiries as he may consider necessary, may, by an order in writing, determine the amount of the costs which the tenant may thereupon deduct the amount so determined from the rent or otherwise recover it from the landlord."

The House Rent Control Order will cease to operate on October 1, 1946, with the expiry of the Defence of India Rules but the question as to whether it will be necessary to continue rent control measures beyond that date by legislation is being examined by the Land Revenue Department.

Tool Skill...

The spirit of the craftsman has always been the achievement of perfection in production. It is there still and cannot be improved.

But the tools of the older craftsmen have been replaced by modern equipment. Present day manufacture calls for complete collaboration from machines and tools which largely depend on graded steel for precision.

The makers of Skob Steel are continually investigating better and new uses of steel.

PURCHASE OF TRAMWAYS UNDERTAKING

With a view to implement the decision of the Corporation, dated the 12th September last, to acquire the Calcutta Tramways undertaking and to run it through its own agency on and from 1st January, 1946, the Public Utilities and Markets Standing Committee at their meeting held on the 6th November last, settled the general terms and conditions for appointment of an Agent for the said purpose. These recommendations will be placed before the Corporation at its first available meeting for confirmation, after which the formal advertisement will be issued inviting tenders.

In the meantime intending tenderers have been allowed to interview the Chief Engineer to look into the general terms and conditions and for other informations relating thereto.

MACE BEARER BECOMES MAYOR

It was the business of ex-police sergeant Robert Marshall at all civic functions in the Somerset City of Bath to carry the mace for Mr. Edward Clements, the Mayor.

The Mayor has not been elected but his mace-bearer at the recent municipal elections. The city will now have to find a new official to carry the mace.

FIRST CITY ELECTION IN CENTRAL EUROPE

The first election balloting since the war's end in Central Europe has been for the City Council of Budapest. The result of testing the strength of the Communist party in the area occupied by the Red Army has not been announced.

The Smallholders' party headquarters which furnished the principal opposition to the joint programme of the Communist and social democratic parties estimate that 65 per cent of the city's estimated 600,000 registered voters have gone to the polls.

INDIAN RED CROSS CONFERENCE

A three-day conference of field-workers of the Provincial Branch of the Indian Red Cross engaged on Civil Relief and Child Welfare, held in Calcutta on the 3rd, 4th and 5th November and presided over by Rai Sahib N. K. Sur, Hony. Secy., Noakhali District Branch of the Indian Red Cross, was addressed by experts on various items of the Expansion Programme, which included the building and operating of still more Maternity and Child Welfare Clinics, increased health propaganda work and the introduction of junior Red Cross activities in schools, cater for free meals to children in primary schools.

The operating of nearly 2,000 Milk Canteens throughout Bengal, all of which are managed by local volunteers, has been another important branch of Red Cross work.

Mr. Goerge Kirkland of Carolina, U.S.A., of the American Red Cross was the first speaker. He gave an interesting outline of the organization and administrative set up of the American Red Cross civilian work. He was followed by Miss Anne Carter Greene, who hails from Washington, D.C. She is at present Director of Staff Welfare, American Red Cross. She spoke of the voluntary work carried out by American women throughout the Red Cross organization and among other interesting facts, mentioned that 245 million dollars were raised in 12 months by voluntary subscriptions, with the help of the 46 million subscribing members in the United States. Of these, 8½ millions are boys and girls in 3757 local branches.

MEDICAL EDUCATION IN BENGAL

The upgrading of the medical schools in Bengal to the status of colleges and the institution of a State Medical Service are among the measures suggested by an expert committee, which was appointed by the Bengal Government to recommend ways and means for improving the standard of medical education in the province.

In their report the committee have reviewed the history of the development of medical school education in Bengal since 1873 and have observed that there has been a stagnation since 1914. In their opinion the next stage of upgrading the licentiate-ship standard, which has been long overdue, should be the same as that for medical colleges, with a diploma in I. Sc. with physics, chemistry and biology as the minimum preliminary educational qualifications and five years as the minimum course of medical studies, as compared with the present minimum preliminary educational standard of matriculation and four years course of study. This would bring the medical schools in line with the standard observed at medical colleges in the province.

To make life in the mofussil more attractive for medical men, the committee have recommended the organization of a State Medical Service, carrying adequate remuneration and good prospects, which should extend to the interior of the districts. In addition to ensure that there is no fall in the outturn of qualified medical men as a result of the suggested upgrading of medical schools, the committee have also recommended a cautious programme of gradual conversion and suggest that a minimum of 100 students should be admitted annually in the first year course of the proposed new colleges.

The expert committee consisted of the Surgeon-General with the Bengal Government (President); Principal, Medical College, Calcutta; Superintendent, Campbell Medical School, Burdwan; Superintendent, Calcutta Medical School, Calcutta; Dr. A. K. M. Wahed, Dr. K. S. Ray, Dr. A. D. Mukherji and the Secretary of the Bengal Council of Medical Registration (Secretary).

Purchase Of Electric Supply Corporation How Government Refused Sanction In 1938

WHEN in 1938 the Corporation of Calcutta approached the Government of Bengal for granting their sanction to the proposal for purchasing the undertakings of the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation within the Municipal limits of Calcutta, the Government in the then Department of Commerce and Labour in a communication addressed to the Chief Executive Officer of the Calcutta Corporation informed the Corporation authorities that after giving the "most careful consideration" to the subject the Government were unable to grant the necessary sanction.

Following is the text of the communication addressed to the Chief Executive Officer:—

No. 1022 Com.

Government of Bengal, Department of Commerce and Labour,

Calcutta, the 29th January, 1938:

From R. H. Parker, Esq., I.C.S., Joint Secretary, to the Government of Bengal.

To The Chief Executive Officer, Corporation of Calcutta.

Sir,

With reference to your No. S/4189, dated the 17th September, 1937, requesting the Local Government to convey to the Corporation of Calcutta the necessary sanction to the election of the Corporation to purchase such of the undertakings as lies within the municipal limits of Calcutta, I beg to inform you that after giving the "most careful" consideration to the subject, Government are unable to grant the necessary sanction. Government are aware that there are several legal points involved in the issue and that is being contended that for various reasons election of the Corporation is invalid. They have, however, thought it their duty to disregard such points and to consider the matter on its merits. Government have taken the view that it is the duty of the Corporation to satisfy Government that the granting of the sanction should be in the interest of the public. No attempts have been made by the Corporation to discharge this obligation and Government have thus been considerably handicapped in their consideration of the matter.

They have, however, considered the proposal in relation to the general question of Government policy in regard to the electricity development in the province and their policy in this matter will be made public in due course. For the present it must suffice to say that the proposal of the Corporation involving as it does the dismemberment of an existing electricity undertaking, is so directly contrary to the accepted trend of electricity development and is so much in conflict with the policy embodied in the Indian Electricity Act of 1910 and constitute so serious an obstacle in the way of the ultimate adoption of a comprehensive scheme of public control, that they are unable to hold that it would be in public interest to grant the sanction applied for Government, therefore, regret that they are unable to accede to the request of the Corporation.

Mr. Subhas Chandra Bose then issued the following statement:—

"By their recent refusal to allow the city of Calcutta to acquire and own the electricity undertaking and thereby obtain light and power at the lowest cost—the dal-bhat Ministry of Bengal have dealt a serious blow to the prospect of the people for a better livelihood.

"Through public ownership the people of Calcutta could rightaway get electricity at a low rate which would mean a saving of several lacs of rupees. To this aim, the City Corporation has since 1930 consistently put forward before the Government the case for reduction of electricity rates, namely, to the level at least one anna per unit for domestic purpose. At that time, the rate was three annas per unit. Persistent agitation secured them a half-anna reduction. Thereafter the government appointed an enquiry Committee presided over by Sir Nalini Ranjan Chatterjee. This Committee's recommendation resulted in a further reduction of half annas, viz., to the present level of 2 annas per unit. The City Corporation then found that the remaining stage could only be secured by taking over the Calcutta Electric License. The Corporation has proved to the hilt that it can easily reduce the rate for domestic purposes to one anna per unit, which will mean a saving of rupees 24 lacs per annum to the public of Calcutta.

"All this has been known to the present as well as to the previous Government. But while the previous Government in their many communications to the City Corporation took infinite pains to disapprove the popular allegation of Government partisanship for the private company that has been supplying electricity, the present "popular" Government have not hesitated to go against the wishes of the people and have openly espoused the interests of that company by expressing in their recent letter of refusal their anxiety to prevent the "dismemberment" of that undertaking.

"By this partisanship in favour of a company incorporated in England, the Government have thoughtlessly thrown away the opportunity of taking the first step towards the economic uplift of the province by the building up of a vital national industry.

"By their refusal the Government have set at naught for a period of ten years all chances of public ownership of the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation, or inauguration of any national electricity scheme that would include Calcutta. For under the Indian Electricity Act—which comes under the purview of the Central Government, the Bengal Government is powerless to take any action in this matter for the next ten years if they do not allow the City of Calcutta to a size the right of ownership which falls due to the City this year.

"The question is, therefore, one of national importance, affecting the welfare of every community. The action of the Government in refusing sanction to the City in this matter amounts to dispossessing the City of its legitimate rights and is tantamount to a gross betrayal of the vital interest of the people."

Following the Government refusal to grant permission to the Corporation of Calcutta for purchasing the electrical undertaking working within the limits of the city, when the Bengal Legislative Assembly met for its Budget Session on the 7th February, 1938, during the forty-minutes sitting that the Assembly had, Mr. Syed Jalaludin Hashemiy (Proja Party) wanted leave of the House to move an adjournment motion to discuss the situation created by the refusal of Government to give permission to the Calcutta Corporation to purchase the undertakings of the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation within the municipal limits of Calcutta. The requisite number of members having arisen in their seats in support of leave being granted to move the motion, the Hon'ble Speaker fixed the next day for discussion of the adjournment motion.

HOUSING FACILITIES FOR CITIZENS

The need for the Government creating a central authority for securing housing facilities for citizens and setting up a department for controlling housing sites all over India was stressed by Mr. V. M. Ghatikochalam, Secretary, Madras Tenants' Association, speaking at a tea party given in his honour by the Calcutta Tenants' Association at the Furus.

He commented on Government's apathy towards this problem and regretted that their post-war reconstruction plan did not deal with the question. He urged that the question be taken up by all political and non-political bodies.

He pointed out that the problem of the tenants was the same all over India, they were subjected to great hardships and harassments at the hands of house owners. He suggested the setting up of an All India Tenants' Federation to safeguard the interests of tenants.

BENGAL'S POST WAR PLANS CRITICIZED

Bengal Government's post-war reconstruction plan was criticized by Dr. Meghnad Saha presiding at a meeting at the Calcutta University Institute during the last week.

Schemes for lavish expenditure on administration, police and jails formed a prominent feature of the plan, he said. In spite of the professed sympathy with the objective of village improvement, there was neither any analysis of the conditions of village life nor recommendation for any specific measures for the improvement of these conditions. If Government really intended to bring any relief to villagers, it must provide at least half the rural population with new kinds of activities other than agricultural. That could only be done by the creation of all major industries for which there was scope in the province.

Government should have a permanent Planning Commission consisting of scientists and technicians—an autonomous organization independent of any Ministry, and all important research institutes including the River Research Institute, should be directly under this body.

Prof. K. P. Chattopadhyaya, Prof. Rajkumar Chakrabarty and Chowdhury Moazzem Hossain, M.L.C., who were among other speakers, dwelt on the problems of food, cloth and rehabilitation.

A resolution urging Government to make immediate statutory provision for certain relief and rehabilitation measures was passed.

On that day the Assembly rejected by 122 votes against 80 the adjournment motion of Mr. Syed Jalaluddin Hashemy to discuss the situation arising out of the refusal of Government to accord sanction

MEDICAL EDUCATION IN BENGAL

Dr. K. S. Ray On Expert Committee's Report

Interviewed regarding the report issued to the press of the Expert Committee about the upgrading of medical schools in Bengal, Dr. K. S. Ray, who was a member of this Committee, said that the Committee was unanimous in their recommendation that the school types of medical education should be put an end to in Bengal as soon as possible. This policy has already been given effect to in most of the other provinces in India by converting them into colleges by suitable State aid.

According to the Government Committee's estimate a sum of about Rs. 15 lacs capital expenditure would be necessary to convert the National Medical Institute into a college. The public has also a duty in the matter. There is no reason why Government should not come to aid as a post-war measure, so as to give some practical proof of its in action. We do not yet know what the Bhow Committee has to say regarding the fate of the existing medical schools both official and non-official and as to the need of the future requirements regarding the number of medical colleges. It is high time the public is taken into confidence by making its recommendations available to the public.

The province of Bengal also had Post-War Reconstruction Committee on various problems and I had the privilege to serve in some of them, but we do not know yet what happened to their recommendations and how far they are going to be accepted by the Government. Past experience does not inspire much hope about committees and commissions' recommendations, they usually find restful places and nourishment.

COMBATING EPIDEMICS

British Government's Plans

British health and military authorities have completed preparation to combat what was described by a high Government spokesman as the "danger of an epidemic resulting in a catastrophe such as the human race has not known", writes Reuter's commentator on international affairs.

Penicillin and "M and B" supplies have been concentrated at strategic centres in Britain and, where possible in Europe. Mobile medical units are standing by prepared to be rushed to any danger point threatened by epidemics. Ruthless and drastic measures are contemplated to isolate zones of infection and take every possible preventive action.

This, it is felt in Government quarters, is the only hope of avoiding one or more epidemics this winter, which would dwarf the death-roll of the two waves of influenza in 1918, when 31,640,000 people died in nine months. For, if a similar epidemic breaks out and is not isolated, the capacity to resist will be considerably lower in Europe than it was at the end of the last war.

The danger as seen from London, is that medical control is not centralized and that British health authorities do not know what is going on, for example in refugee camps in the Russian zone in Austria. In view of the highest authorities here, the problem is so grave that soon it may overshadow all political difference and call for energetic and total collaboration among all the nations to defeat the threatening menace to the future of mankind.

So far, however, it seems that efforts for concerted world-wide counter epidemic plans have not yet materialised.

to the proposal of the Calcutta Corporation to exercise its option of purchasing the undertaking of the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation within the Municipal Limits of Calcutta at the expiry of the present terms of Municipal License of the Electric Supply Corporation on the 20th October, 1938.

The Adjournment Motion was supported by the entire Congress Party, several members of the Praja Party and independent Hindu Members while the Government and the Coalition Party "supporters of the present Government," and European and Anglo-Indian members opposed the motion. The members, who remain neutral, included the two coalition party members, one independent Hindu member representing landholders' Constituency and one Schedule Caste member.

During the two hours debate on the subject, the Congress Members characterized the action of the Government as betrayal of the interest of the people.

Mr. Sarat Chandra Bose, leader of the Opposition, declared that the Calcutta Corporation had demonstrated to the satisfaction of its critics that they could produce and supply electricity at the rate of one anna per unit for domestic purposes and the Corporation still maintain that it could do so. Replying to the critics of the administration of the Calcutta Corporation the leader of the Opposition challenged the critics to have a fresh election of the Corporation and see whether the Congress Hindus and the Congress Musalmans did not enjoy the confidence of the rate-payers of the city.

The Minister-in-charge, Mr. H. S. Suhrawardy, on the other hand, maintained that the Government as the guardian of the interest of the public were fully justified in refusing to sanction the scheme. The tender submitted by the Corporation, he said, was "worthless and childish".

It was announced that the Government proposed to undertake shortly an electrical survey of the province with a view to nationalizing the supply of electrical energy.

An attack was made by some Moslem members on the Calcutta Corporation as constituted at that time, and it was contended that it would be unfair to add to the burden of the Municipality by allowing it to run the electrical concern of the city. The European group did not take part in the discussion.

Thereupon the Gazette through its editorial columns expressed thus:—

"No case has ever been more convincingly and completely made out for reconsideration of a hasty Government decision as was done during the Assembly debate. Even some of the Government supporters urged the termination of the present Electric Company, and criticized the Government for its inaction to give effect to the scheme for public ownership as envisaged by the Calcutta Corporation.

"It is no longer an issue between the Corporation and the Government over an Electric Scheme inspired by Dr. B. N. Dey. That stage has passed. Dr. Dey has proved to the hilt by the actual working cost of the Corporation's own electricity organisation that the rates charged by the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation reduced as they are now, thanks to Dr. Dey's drive—are yet too high and admit of lowering to the level of one anna per unit for domestic consumption.

"The Government must now take action and either themselves take over the Calcutta Electric undertaking from the present company in October, 1938, as per terms of the Calcutta Electric License and under the provisions of the Indian Electricity Act or they should allow the Corporation to do so. As the Government do not appear to be ready for action, it is incumbent on them that the sanction sought by the Corporation is accorded in the public interest.

"We do hope and trust that the Government will yet see the immediate necessity of public ownership of Calcutta Electricity as pointed out by the President-elect of the Indian National Congress, Alderman Subhas Chandra Bose and reconsider their decision."

It is heartening that after a spar of about 7 years the Government of Bengal have lately engaged their attention towards nationalization of the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation under a special arrangement with the said undertaking.

While announcing the decision of the Government, His Excellency Mr. R. G. Casey the other day definitely pointed out that the Government had no idea of Corporationizing the undertaking.

Now, the City Corporation, which first brought to public notice the advantage of running the city electrical undertaking as a public utility concern, cannot be expected to sit idle at a time when the Government are going to totally set aside the Corporation's claim upon possession of a public utility project. This claim deserves consideration in view of the priority of move made by the municipal institution for acquiring the electrical undertaking some seven years ago.

The Chief Executive Officer has hence directed the Law Officer and the Chief Engineer to go into the terms of the agreement reached between the Government and the undertaking and to see if the Government's action in consolidating the licences for purchase of the concern has been legal.

AMERICAN HOSPITALS IN BENGAL

BENGAL GOVERNMENT TO PURCHASE STORES AND EQUIPMENTS

The Bengal Government have agreed to purchase the full equipment and stores of four of the seven American hospitals now in the province. One of these hospitals is at Lalmonirhat and the other three are situated in the districts of Burdwan, Bankura and Midnapur.

The U. S. authorities propose to hand over the equipment of the fifth hospital near Dacca to an American missionary society working in Bengal. The remaining two hospitals are still being used by the Americans, but the Government have already entered into negotiations with them regarding the purchase of the equipment of these institutions.

The Government are considering whether the equipment and stores purchased by them will be used for supplementing the existing supplies or whether the hospitals will be retained in their present sites.

Mr. J. L. Llewellyn, Secretary, Health and Local Self-Government, told a reporter of the Statesman that the Government would make every effort to ensure that all medical supplies and equipment in Bengal which the American authorities did not require for their own use, were acquired for use in the province.

The Government Health Department has also a scheme for using a portion of the American hospital in the Dhakuria Lake area as a children's hospital for Calcutta and the neighbourhood. The proposed hospital will have 500 beds.

CONTROL OF COMMUNICABLE DISEASES

PART PLAYED BY THE UNITED NATIONS

The part played by the 'Big Three' of the United Nations, the United Kingdom, United States of America and by the U. S. S. R. in the control of communicable diseases was recounted by Dr. R. B. Lal, Professor of Epidemiology, All-India Institute of Hygiene and Public Health, Calcutta, during the course of a recent broadcast from the Calcutta station of the All India Radio.

Taking the countries piecemeal Dr. Lal revealed how as a result of efforts to combat the disease, Cholera, Plague and Typhus fever no longer existed in the United Kingdom—which country led the vanguard in Public Health and where the annual cost of the New National Health Service is estimated at 138 million pounds. Regarding United States of America he said that Yellow fever and Cholera had entirely vanished from the country and the latter disease had also been eliminated from the U. S. S. R.

Czarist Russia, he continued, had left a legacy of ignorance, of poverty and disease and the subsequent efforts of the Union of Soviet Republics led to the reduction by 1936 of death rates for small-pox and enteric by .99 per cent. and 75 per cent. respectively as compared to 1913.

Discussing the distinguishing features of communicable disease control as practised in the 3 countries, regarding the United States the speaker emphasised the role played by voluntary organisations on their own initiative, while in the United Kingdom, he said, though the voluntary organisations helped the growth of governmental activities through surveys, suggestions and criticism the original system of state responsibility and control remained unaltered.

Regarding the Russian policy he enumerated the features of complete state control, thorough planning, full recognition of the importance of scientific research, and removal of artificial barriers between curative and preventive medicine.

GOVT. OF INDIA'S PUBLIC HEALTH SCHEMES

FOREIGN TRAINING FOR INDIAN SCHOLARS

Doctors to assist the Government of India's public health schemes and teachers who will implement education programme will be arriving in England next year for advanced training, has said Mr. Kirpal, Assistant Educational Adviser attached to the High Commissioner's Office in London in the course of an interview.

These scholars, all Post-Graduates, will follow the 150 technological scholars expected to arrive here before the end of the year.

The "scholars are to undertake special technical and social training in this country as part of Government of India's post-war development scheme," Mr. Kirpal stated. "Universities and technical colleges throughout the United Kingdom have given me every assistance to place these scholars and although they had considerable difficulties to overcome, they have managed to find accommodation for the 150 new-comers."

Bengal Slum Improvement Bill, 1945

Schemes For The Notified Areas

A re-draft of the Bengal Slum Improvement Bill originally published on the 31st May, 1945, for public opinion, was published in the issue of the "Calcutta Gazette" of the 20th September last. This re-draft had been prepared in the light of the various opinions received by the Government after the circulation of the primary draft.

Hereinbelow is being published the re-draft and therewith the opinion of the Bengal National Chamber of Commerce, which we have received.

THE improvements which may be made in such areas for the immediate amelioration of living conditions and for removing circumstances likely to cause or facilitate the spread of disease.

These schemes will be carried out, as far as possible and equitable, at the expense of the owners of the buildings and lands within the notified areas. Provision has, however, been made in the Bill to enable the Provincial Government and the local authority in exceptional cases to bear, in equal shares, such part of the cost, not exceeding half, as the Provincial Government may determine.

SCOPE OF THE BILL

This Act which will be called the Bengal Slum Improvement Act, 1945, will apply to Calcutta and to every area constituted a municipality under the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932. It shall come into force on such date as the Provincial Government may notify and may apply to different areas on different dates.

If, in the opinion of the Provincial Government the condition of any area containing hut or huts and other buildings is insanitary or attended with the risk of disease to the persons residing within, or in the neighbourhood of such area by reason of the manner in which the hut or huts and other buildings are constructed or crowded together or of want of drainage or sewerage or of impracticability of scavenging or from any other reason, the Act provides, that the Provincial Government may either of its own motion, or on the recommendation of a local authority, by notification, declare any such area to be a slum area.

DECLARATION AND AFTER

When any area has been declared a slum area under Section 8, the Provincial Government may, authorise any local authority within the jurisdiction of which such area is situated to prepare a scheme for the improvement of the slum area together with an estimate of the cost of execution of the scheme

The scheme prepared in such a manner shall make provision for the following matters, namely:

(a) the construction of streets or passages within such area sufficient in number and of sufficient width to enable the proper scavenging of the slum area;

(b) the construction of drains and sewers in such manner as to render the slum area sanitary, and may make provision for the following matters, namely:—

(i) the partial or complete removal or demolition of any hut or other building in the slum area, or the alteration or reconstruction of any such hut or building;

(ii) public water-supply, common bathing arrangements and public privies or latrines for the use of the inhabitants of the slum area, and the lighting of any streets, passages, common bathing arrangements, and public privies or latrines constructed in such area;

(iii) the filling up of tanks, wells, ditches or trenches or low lands in the slum area and the construction of new tanks or the deepening or improvement of existing tanks in such area.

The local authority having prepared a scheme and estimate for the improvement of a slum area publish the scheme in the "Official Gazette" together with a notice calling upon all persons interested in the scheme to submit any objections or suggestions which they may wish to submit with respect to such scheme and estimate to such local authority within a period to be specified in the notice and stating the place at which a plan showing the proposed improvements may be seen at reasonable hours.

MODIFICATIONS

After the expiry of the period specified in the notice the local authority shall consider the objections and suggestions, if any, received by it and thereafter may make such modifications in the scheme or estimate as it may consider necessary and may thereupon approve the scheme and estimate with or without modification, as the case may be:

Provided the estimated cost of the scheme exceeds Rs. 1,00,000 the local authority shall submit the scheme or estimate with such modifications, if any, as it may consider necessary, to the Provincial Government for approval, and the Provincial Government may thereupon either approve the scheme and estimate so submitted or approve them subject to such further modifications, if any, as the Provincial Government may think fit.

The actual cost incurred by a local authority in executing an approved scheme shall be borne

INDIA'S NATIONAL HIGHWAY

FROM CALCUTTA TO DELHI

The scheme of a national high way from Calcutta to Delhi has been taken up by Government of India.

This is part of the post-war development plan of roads, aimed at facilitating uninterrupted road communication throughout India.

The Bengal portion of the road will run through the districts of Hooghly and Bankura. The acquisition of land for the first portion of the road which will run through the district of Hooghly, is being taken up by the Bengal Government as a first step.

by the owners of the land and other immovable property in the slum area in respect of which the said scheme has been prepared and shall be realised from such owners by such local authority in the manner provided in this section.

The estimated cost of the approved scheme shall be apportioned between such owners by the local authority by which the scheme has been prepared in the manner determined by such local authority and the apportionment so made shall be final and shall not be enquired into or varied in any Court.

PAYMENT BY OWNERS

The amount payable by the owners to the local authority in respect of any slum area shall, subject to the prior payment of the land-revenue, if any, due to the Provincial Government in respect of the land in such area, be a first charge on the land and other immovable property in such area.

If the amount payable by any owner to the local authority is not paid within the time specified such amount shall be recoverable from any of all of the said owners either as a public demand or by the attachment and collection in the prescribed manner of all rents and arrears of rent which any tenant on such land in such immovable property is liable to pay to such owner or owners.

If the amount thus payable by any owner is realised in whole or in part from any other person such person shall be entitled to recover from the said owner the amount so paid by him.

If the actual cost of executing an approved scheme exceeds the estimated cost it shall be apportioned between the owners.

If the actual cost of executing an approved scheme is less than the estimated cost, the amount determined as recoverable from any owner shall be reduced proportionately, and, if more than such reduced amount has already been realised from such owner, he shall be entitled to a refund.

If the owners of the land and other immovable property in the slum area are unable to bear the entire amount of the actual cost of the scheme, the local authority may, with the sanction of the Provincial Government, fix an amount not less than fifty per centum of the estimated cost of the scheme as the portion of the actual cost of such scheme which shall be borne by such owners and the amount by which the actual cost of executing the approved scheme exceeds the amount fixed as payable by such owners shall be payable in equal shares by the Provincial Government out of the revenues of the Province and the local authority out of the local fund of such authority.

GOVERNMENT TO PAY HALF THE DUES

After the expiry of twelve years from the date of completion of any approved scheme, the local authority which executed such scheme shall submit a statement of its accounts in respect of such scheme showing the amount due and remaining unrealised from the owners of the land and other immovable property in the slum area in which such scheme was executed, and the Provincial Government may, after such enquiry, if any, as it may deem necessary, pay to the local authority out of the revenues of the Province half the amount so remaining unrealised and as remaining unrealised after the expiry of the twelve years shall be written off as irrecoverable and no action for their realisation shall thereafter be taken.

If in executing any improvements in a slum area under an approved scheme any hut or other building or part thereof is required to be pulled down or removed the local authority shall, by notice in writing served in the prescribed manner, require every occupier of such hut or building or part thereof to vacate the hut, building or part thereof within a period not being less than fifteen days to be specified in such notice and such occupier shall comply with such notice within the period specified therein.

If the occupier of any hut or other building or part thereof fails to comply with the notice the local authority may apply to a Magistrate for the eviction of all persons who so fail to vacate such hut or other building or part thereof in pursuance of such notice and, thereupon, the Magistrate after making such enquiries, if any, as he thinks fit, may evict such persons and may take such steps or cause such steps to be taken as he considers necessary for this purpose.

The owner of any hut or other building or part thereof which is pulled down or caused to be removed in executing any improvements in a slum area under an approved scheme may take away the materials of the hut or building or part thereof so pulled down or caused to be removed; but if such owner fails or neglects to take them away, or if the owner is unknown, or if the title to the hut or such building is disputed, such materials shall be sold in auction and the proceeds of such sale shall, after deducting therefrom the cost of holding such sale, be held in deposit by the local authority until any person obtains an order from competent Court for the payment of such amount to him.

The provisions of this Act and of any rules and orders made thereunder shall have effect notwithstanding anything contained in the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1928, or the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932 and the powers conferred by sections 337 to 362 of the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1923, and Sections 336 to 347 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932, shall not be exercisable in respect of any slum area.

HOUSING FOR INDUSTRIAL WORKERS

How The Problem May Be Solved

Low roofed hovels sunk below the street level and surrounded by stinking drains filled with stagnant excreta and foul water, flies and mosquitoes swarming all round, shelter thousands of Indian industrial workers who pay high rent for these most insanitary housing facilities.

This was how Dr. M. Ahmed, Chief Medical Officer of an industrial concern near Calcutta, described housing conditions in most of the industrial areas in the country, speaking at a recent meeting of the Calcutta Rotary Club on "Health Problems of the Industrial Workers in India."

He said a vast majority of workers lived in houses built by private enterprise. These varied from over-crowded hovels of mud and thatch of Bengal and Madras to multiple storeyed brick-built tenements of Bombay where ten or more persons lived in one room barely 10 ft. by 10 ft.

Dr. Ahmed emphasized the need for combined efforts on the part of Government and industrialists to solve the workers' housing problem.

VIEWS EXPRESSED BY BENGAL NATIONAL CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The Committee of the Bengal National Chamber of Commerce draw attention of the Government to the continuance of the Section 93 regime in Bengal for the last seven months and to the certainty of its further continuance for at least another six months, in any case pending the results of the forthcoming elections. While not expressing any opinion on this aspect of the question, the Committee cannot but help feeling that, under a parliamentary regime, any legislation like the one under consideration would have the double benefit of examination by a popular ministry and a very strict scrutiny by the legislature composed of the representatives of various political parties. The present Bill is, however, admittedly the product of departmental officers and the method of the publicity given to it by publication in the Gazette does not obviously provide an opportunity to the public for thorough examination of the implications of all its provisions. The Committee of the Chamber would, therefore, suggest that, even if the Government do not desire to further delay the enactment of the legislation, they should at least refer the Bill for full discussion to a representative Committee consisting of the representatives of the Government, Local Authorities, Chambers of Commerce and such other persons whose advice may be considered to be helpful in the matter, and to recast the Bill in the light of such criticisms as may be made by this Committee. The Committee of the Chamber trust that in view of the very wide repercussions of the provisions made in the Bill, the Government will carefully consider this suggestion and will be persuaded to accept it.

So far as they are concerned, the Committee have examined the Bill, and they note that the proposed Bill provides for work of improvement in a declared "Slum Area" to be carried out at the expense of the owner of the land and the owner of the huts and buildings on the land. Provision has been made in the Bill for payment of a maximum of 25 per cent. by the Government and 25 per cent. by Local Authorities in exceptional cases. A further provision has been made that, when the owner defaults payment, the deficit will be met by the Government paying half and the Local Authority paying the other half. The Committee further note, that, under the proposed Act, the cost of improvement to water supply, common Bathing place and common latrine, roads and lighting arrangements as well as the cost of repairs and maintenance will have to be paid by the owner. The Act will further transfer ownership of all these improvements to the owner of the land and all costs will be a first charge on the land after meeting the Land Revenue.

The Committee regret to note that the Government do not appear to have given any consideration to the views expressed by them on the original draft of the Bengal Slum Improvement Bill particularly regarding a differentiation between the "owners of the bustee land" and the "owners of the bustees." The revised Bill still proposed to hold the owner of the bustee land to be financially liable for all the improvements made. As the Committee had pointed out in their previous letter, the bustee land-owners often get a very small sum per cottah per month, while the bustee hut-owners reap the benefit of letting out the huts at a comparatively higher rent. Besides, the lands are owned, in some cases, by landlords who do not reside in the area, or to minors; in certain other cases, they may belong to Debottor or Waqf Trusts. The imposition of the financial burden on these owners will thus prove in many cases to be both inequitable and impracticable, and there may be considerable difficulties and delays in getting possession of the land, as a preliminary to its improvement, and then to realise the capital cost of improvement and the cost of maintenance. It is more than likely that the moment an area is declared a "Slum Area" under the proposed legislation, the hut-owners who have very little stake will disappear from the scene, avoid payment and shift the burden on to the land-owners who will have to bear the cost under Sub-Sections (5) and (6) of Section 6 of the Bill. This is admittedly unjust and very much inequitable, particularly, in view of the further provision made by Section 17 imposing the burden of the additional Municipal tax on account of the improvement on the owner of the land.

The Committee also note that part of the cost is thrown on the Local Authorities. This again is not considered desirable as most of the Local Authorities in Bengal live from hand to mouth and their inability to pay will make any particular Scheme infructuous. Thus, the object will be nullified.

For reasons mentioned above, the Committee of the Chamber do not consider the financial provisions of the Bill at all satisfactory. They are indeed of opinion that, in view of the beneficial effects of the improvement of the Slum areas on the general, economic and sanitary conditions of the Province, the financial burden should be entirely undertaken by the Government of Bengal. It should not be difficult for the Government to raise the necessary fund by issuing special loans or "Bustee Improvement Bonds" at say 3 to 4 per cent.

In conclusion, the Committee would re-iterate the suggestion made by them in their previous letter for the constitution of a statutory Board styled as the "Bengal Bustee Improvement and Development Board" on the lines of the Calcutta Improvement Trust. This Board should be entrusted with the task of long-term improvement of the Slum areas in and around Calcutta.

TEMPORARY HOUSING PROGRAMME

PREFABRICATED HUTS FOR INDIA

New houses may not be rising so quickly, but the estimated prices are, according to a White Paper which shows that the originally estimated cost of the temporary housing programme has increased by £34,000,000 in 12 months.

First figure mentioned for an aluminium house was £900; then it was estimated at £914, and now it has risen to £1,365. "But this is subject to negotiation," says the White Paper.

Last October the cost of a pressed steel bungalow was estimated at £600. By March this year, it was announced that the target figure was likely to be exceeded.

Under Lend-Lease 30,000 temporary houses from America were expected to cost £800 each including £210 duty. When Lend-Lease ended the price rose to £1,330. It was then decided to take only 8,150 houses instead of the original 30,000.

Figures which the Government have obtained from six contractors show that the average increase over the estimates which had been made last January was £28 with the exception of one type of prefabricated house.

The first consignment of components of prefabricated huts for India has already landed at Karachi from the United States and Canada. It forms part of a shipment of those materials that arrived here last week for rehabilitation purposes in the Far East and also in India. A moiety of 10,000 tons iron beams flooring and roofs is being transported through India to various centres in the Far East.

It is claimed that a hut can be assembled in a couple of hours.

Another consignment of housing materials of about 5,000 tons is soon expected here from the United States of America.

CALCUTTA : OLD AND NEW

Calcutta Theatre Fires

[By B. V. Roy, M.A.]

IN ancient Greek mythology there were nine Muses or goddesses presiding over the various fine arts, of whom two presided over the Dramatic arts, viz., Thalia the Muse of Comedy and Melpomene the Muse of Tragedy. In Hindu mythology, Agni Deva is the presiding god of Fire, and it is curious that the fire-god seems to have borne a grudge against the two Greek goddesses presiding over the Theatre. During the period of about two hundred years since the first Theatre was established in Calcutta, there have been several instances when fire has played havoc with Calcutta Theatres, and I will give a short account of these happenings.

The first Theatre in Calcutta was established by the English settlers some time in the 18th century, before the battle of Plassey (1757)—we cannot be more definite than that. It was known as the Calcutta Theatre or old play house, situated at the corner of the present day Mission Row and Lalbazar Street, where the offices of Messrs. Martin and Co., now stand. Ordinary fire did not affect this Playhouse, but it came under fire in the year 1756, when Siraj-ud-dowla with his army invaded Calcutta. The Theatre building was used as an advanced outpost by the English to defend their "settlement" then centred in and around Dalhousie Square. The advancing armies of the enemy subjected the building to so much fire from cannons and muskets that the English defenders were forced to abandon it and fall back. The invaders then took possession of the building and placed cannon on its top storeys and from there carried on the attack. Thus the building was much damaged though it is probable that after the English retook Calcutta in 1757, it was repaired and dramatic performances carried on for some little time longer.

Going forward into the 19th century, we come to the Chowringhee Theatre, situated at the corner of Chowringhee Road and the present Theatre Road, which was opened on 25th November, 1813. The Theatre was established entirely on the strength of subscriptions raised among the English residents of Calcutta, and the Governor contributed liberally to it. In its later days, its principal actress was a talented lady named Mrs. Esther Leach, to whom I shall have to refer again presently. The Theatre ran well for some years, but about 1824 we find it in low financial condition, though it managed to struggle on, until the building was completely destroyed by fire on 31st May 1839. The following report of its destruction is taken from the Bengal Hurkaru newspaper of 1st June 1839:—

"The Chowringhee Theatre is no more, or exists but as a crumbling and ghastly skeleton of its former self. Between one and two o'clock in the morning of the 31st ultimo it was discovered to be on fire, and in about an hour it was blackened into an empty shell. All help was unavailing from the combustible nature of the various portions of the interior—scenery, furnitures, etc. The flames made such rapid progress that although engines arrived in the shortest possible time, they could do nothing for the preservation of the house. The whole inside of the Theatre, boxes, pit and stage with all their decorations, appurtenances, in short everything that would burn, was burnt. The wooden dome made a most awful blaze which was seen from the most remote part of the town, until about half past two, when it fell with a tremendous crash. The only portions of the premises which have escaped, are the portions on the westward, and a part of the house to the south occupied by the Secretary. Not an atom of the furnitures and other appurtenances of the Theatre has, as far as can be learnt, been saved from destruction. No one seems to know how the fire originated.

The Secretary Mr. Chester's account is that as he was going towards the door of communication between the house and the stage, and encountered a volume of dense and suffocating smoke. There had been a rehearsal of "The Pilot" and "The Sleeping Draught" which concluded at about half past twelve, shortly after which the party of the amateurs engaged in the representation broke up and retired from the Theatre. On their departure the lights were all carefully extinguished with the exception of one which was kept burning in front of the stage every night."

After having completed the destruction of the Chowringhee Theatre, the fire-god turned his baleful eyes in the direction of its principal actress, Mrs. Esther Leach, who had for many years been practically its life and soul, its guiding star. This is what happened: after the destruction of the Chowringhee Theatre, Mrs. Leach by her own efforts started another Theatre named the Calcutta Theatre, at the corner of Government Place and Waterloo Street (where the Ezra Mansions stand now), but this venture was not much successful. Then some of the leading English residents of Calcutta again got together, raised subscriptions, and chiefly through the enterprise of Mr. Stocqueler of the "Englishman" newspaper, established the Sans Souci Theatre in Park Street, in the building now occupied by the St. Xavier's College. The actors were a mixture of amateurs and professionals, among the former being such notable persons as Mr. H. W. Torrens of the Bengal Civil Service, and his son-in-law Mr. James Hume, a Barrister who later became Chief Presidency Magistrate of Calcutta. Some of the professional actors were brought out from London, and one of them, a talented actor named James Vining, was billed to appear as "Shylock" in Shakespeare's "Merchant of Venice" on the 2nd November, 1848. There was a full house on the occasion, and the "Merchant of Venice" was followed by "The Handsome Husband," in which Mrs. Leach was to appear as "Mrs. Wyndham." As she was standing in the wings waiting for her cue a fold of the billowing gown she was wearing, caught fire from one of the oil lamps on the floor and she was badly burnt. She was carried to her house near by (now the Palace of the Roman Catholic Archbishop in Park Street) but in spite of the best medical attention she died 16 days later, at the early age of 34. Partly as a result of this tragedy and partly owing to commercial failure, after continuing a precarious existence for some time longer, the Theatre had to close down.

About this time, that is, the middle of the 19th century, there was great dramatic activity among the Indian inhabitants of Calcutta, numerous amateur dramatic clubs being formed all over Calcutta by students as well as adults, including wealthy people. A great step forward was taken by the establishment of the Belgachia Theatre in 1858 through the efforts of (Maharaja Sir) Jatindra Mohan Tagore, Raja Iswar Singh of Paikpara etc. Among others, Michael Madhusudan Dutt began writing Bengali plays for this Theatre, and a great impetus was given towards the formation of a Bengali Stage in Calcutta. Actually it was on the 7th December, 1872 that the opening of the first Bengali professional Theatre—the National Theatre—took place. Unfortunately, however, within a short time there were splits and dissensions among the promoters of the National Theatre, due to which two parties held performances in different places under the names of the National and the Great National Theatre. The latter (the Great National) was housed for the first time in a permanent structure of its own, viz., a wooden pavilion built in Beadon Street, where the Minerva Theatre now stands. On the opening night, 31st December, 1873, the play-bill was "Kamya Kanan" and a farce "Young Bengal". At that time a play named "Maya Kanan" was running well at the Bengal Theatre, and "Kamya Kanan" was hastily written by Amritlal Bose, jointly with Nagendra Nath Banerjee and two others, as a rival attraction to compete with "Maya Kanan". In one scene the hero (played by Amritlal Bose) was shown as worshipping the goddess Kali before a sacrificial or "Hom" fire on the stage, when suddenly a cry of "fire" broke out among the audience, and a blaze was seen in one of the wings, on the side of the stage. There was great commotion and the audience began to rush out. Ardhendu Sekhar Mustafi, who was present not as an actor but as a friend and sympathiser, tried his best to pacify the audience but without effect. Actually the fire was a small one and did not do much damage, but as an omen on the opening night it was considered unlucky and the play "Kamya Kanan" was, therefore, put off as inauspicious.

Coming down to more recent times, the Theatre Royal in Chowringhee Road was burnt down in 1919. It had been established some time during the sixties of the 19th century, and used to be let out to English touring companies who came to India. Latterly it was in bad condition and out of repairs. In the course of a performance in which a horse was brought on the stage, the floor-boards were so rotten that they gave way and the horse was precipitated below the stage. In the year 1894 Arratoon Stephen, who carried on a jewellery business, purchased No. 16, Chowringhee Road, which comprised the Theatre Royal and the Royal Hotel. He put the Theatre (and the Hotel) on a proper footing again, and it may be mentioned, purchased the adjacent premises Nos. 17 and 18, Chowringhee Road, adding in 1906 a third storey and a verandah to the Hotel, all of which now forms the Grand Hotel. During the Christmas season of 1918-19, the Humphrey-Bishop Company from London were performing at the Theatre Royal. On the 2nd January, 1919 the Theatre came under the wrath of the fire-god and was completely burnt down, even to the music and manuscripts of plays belonging to the Humphrey-Bishop Co., who lost everything.

The last occasion on which the wrath of the fire-god found full play was on 18th October, 1922, when the Minerva Theatre in Beadon Street was burnt completely down. The Theatre building had been constructed in 1892, and the Theatre opened on 28th January, 1893, with Girish Ghosh as Manager, and it continued with varying fortune under different lessees such as Manomohan Pande, Mahendra Nath Mitra, Upendra Nath Mitra, etc. During the early part of the present century the staff of artists was a brilliant one, including the veteran Girish Ghosh, Ardhendu Sekhar Mustafi, Nilmadhab Chakrabarty, Girish Babu's son Surendra (Dani Babu), the sweet-voiced songstress, Sushilabala, the great tragic actresses Tara Sundari and Tincowri, etc. At the period when the fire occurred, the Theatre was at a rather low ebb, but through the enterprise of the proprietor the Theatre was rebuilt within about two years and started again in or about 1925, with a novel kind of allegorical play entitled "Atma Darsan" (or self-realisation) presenting the abstruse philosophy of the "Upanishads" in a popular form and manner, which proved very attractive to the public. Also sometime after it was re-started, the veteran Amritlal Bose—the sole survivor of the band of enterprising youths who first established the Bengali professional Theatre in 1872—joined the Theatre as playwright, and produced two of his last plays, viz., the sparkling comedietta "Byapika Biday" in 1926, and the mythological play "Yagnaseni" in 1928. The Minerva Theatre is still carrying on, though under different management, to the present day.

BOMBAY'S POST-WAR PLANS

Services Of Foreign Engineers May Be Requisitioned

The Government of Bombay is contemplating requisitioning of the services of engineers from Foreign countries and from other parts of India to assist them in the early implementation of their post-war reconstruction programme in respect of communication, road construction and bridge work.

There has been a paucity of engineering talent in the presidency which, it is stated, has held up many a project of the Public Works Department of the Bombay Government. Even during peace time the Government had felt acutely the want of fully trained engineering staff and the war has only made this position more acute. They have, therefore, decided to start another Engineering College at an early date at Ahmedabad.

The Bombay Government's post-war communications plan envisages the construction of 30,000 miles of new roads, split up into national highways, provincial highways and district and rural roads. The first of these highways—the road between Bombay and Ahmedabad—is already under construction but the completion of it has been held up because of bridge construction difficulties.

In their first five-year programme of post-war reconstruction, the Government has set apart a sum of Rs. 20,00,00,000 for the construction of roads but the execution of this large-scale programme has been held up owing to lack of technical staff. It is for the purpose of filling in this gap that the Government now contemplates bringing engineering talent from outside the province in India and from abroad.

Progress Of Soviet Medicine

[By HENRY E. SICKIST, M.D., Professor and Director of the Institute of the History of Medicine, Johns Hopkins University, Editor, "American Review of Soviet Medicine."]

THE accomplishments of Soviet medicine have just begun to be revealed and it is no exaggeration to say that the experience of glimpsing these achievements and visualizing what they can mean to world medicine and health protection is being seized upon with enthusiasm. Dr. Alan Gregg, Medical Director of the Rockefeller Foundation, at the first anniversary meeting of the American-Soviet Medical Society in November, 1944, defined the Soviet Medical advance as "one of efflorescence and nascence, and not one of renaissance: of cultural, intellectual and scientific plethora, the like of which has never been known before."

The methods used in Soviet medicine's social approach to health protection and the accomplishments stemming from its approach in research and wartime surgical and medical practice have aroused a great interest. Specifically, the greatest interest has been aroused by the blood bank system, the successful epidemic control, gas gangrene vaccine, Bogmolet's old-age serum, Filatov's work in transplantation of tissues, Frumkin's reconstruction of wounded genitalia, and Negovosky's revival work. It goes without saying that the splendid record of the Soviet medical corps during the war has made a profound impression. The sum of this newly circulating knowledge is the recognition, among growing number of foreign medical men.

Colonel Elliott C. Cutler, formerly Professor of Surgery at Harvard University, and Chief Consulting Surgeon of the European Theatre of Operations, reported after his visit to Russia in 1943, "With devotion to the ordinary private soldier as the keystone of Russian military ideology, the Red Army hospitals evidence a capacity for organization that we have not thought of, but we should have thought of it...The process by which Russian wounded are sorted so as to get the best care is better than ours... Giving a man who has lived in a trench a hot bath is A 1 medicine and the Russians have cashed in on it...Russian care of the lightly wounded is excellent, proved by a record of 76 per cent of men restored to service."

Dr. Charles Richard Drew, Negro Physician and Professor at Howard University in Washington, D.C., who was awarded the Spingarn Medal for 1943 for his work on blood plasma and who prepared the first plasma to be shipped from the United States to Europe for transfusion purposes, says, "To the Russian investigators must go the credit for supplying the early work, most of the fundamental knowledge, and the impetus which has to a large degree been responsible for the widespread creation of the blood and plasma banks."

Dr. Cabot, stating that the Russians lead the world in the treatment of battle casualties and in prevention methods to forestall warbred epidemics, said, "What I want to know is how they have been so successful and whether their methods can be adapted by ourselves for our own benefit." Dr. Cabot has been one of the most spirited advocates of exchange of physicians between the two countries for study and investigation.

Dr. Wilder Penfield, Professor of Neurology and Neurosurgery at McGill University, Montreal, Canada, said after his return from Russia as a representative of the Allied Medical Mission, "Soviet surgery is well organized, efficient and modern. Their methods of blood collecting and the preparation of blood derivatives and distribution of these preparations may well be considered the best in the world. Psychoneurosis or shell-shock is really rare in Russia for they have an enormous supply of its specific antidote. This antidote is high morale and an enthusiasm generated in adversity."

Dr. Tracy J. Putnam, Professor of Neurology at Columbia University and director of Services of Neurology at Neurological Institute, says, "In the fields of neurology and neurosurgery, great strides have been made by the scientists of the Soviet Union, and neurologists in this country look forward to a broader exchange of ideas and students with their Russian colleagues."

Dr. Kingsbury has reported, "The U. S. S. R. Commissariat of Health, caring for 170,000,000 people is the greatest and only one of its kind. No one can deny that in the short period of a quarter century Soviet medicine has stood the test. All that has been accomplished so far in 5,000 years of medical progress represents but the first epoch, that pertaining to curative medicine. Now we are at the beginning of a new epoch, that of preventive medicine begun in the Soviet Union."

Many physicians have remarked on the large proportion of women among Russian doctors. In this connection, Dr. Cabot says, "There is to my mind, no rational explanation of the relatively small proportion of women in the practice of medicine in English-speaking countries. I suspect that it has been importantly influenced by habit, custom and prejudice, and I suggest for your consideration the question of whether or not in the advancement of modern medicine in this country, in the days to come, we cannot profit by the example of our Russian allies."

Dr. Penfield says of his visit to Russia, "Aside from medical and surgical information and their excellent organization, the thing that made the deepest impression on us, perhaps, was the role of the Russian women."

These are samples of the appreciation of American physicians for the magnificent record of our Russian colleagues. It is an appreciation founded on solid accomplishment and it cannot help but continue to grow. From this growing knowledge and co-operation, in turn, will inevitably come immeasurable benefits for our people.—U.S.O.W.I.

A CORRECTION.

It has been brought to our notice that in the letter written to us by Prof. K. P. Chattopadhyay, formerly, Education Officer, Calcutta Corporation, on "A New Method Of Analysis," published in the Gazette of the 6th October last, an ill-repeated mistake quite "untechnically" crept in. The word "adsorption" i.e., surface condensation) took the usual shape of "absorption," the meaning of which is quite different from what Prof. Chattopadhyaya meant. Readers, will please read "adsorption" in place of "absorption."

CALCUTTA NEWS & VIEWSDIWALI IN CALCUTTA

On Sunday, the 4th November, Calcutta witnessed Dewali, the festival of lights. Houses were lit with multi-coloured electric bulbs, candles and chirags.

The lavishness of pre-war days was, however, absent from the celebrations due to shortage of materials and high prices for them.

Decorated pandals sprung up in every Hindu locality of the city and temporary sweetmeat shops in every bent and every corner of streets. Permanent sweetmeat shops wore a gala appearance.

There were displays of fireworks on house-tops, in parks and even on street pavements. But these were also on a small scale due to the ingredients for making crackers, etc., not being abundantly available.

There was a rush of pilgrims at Kali's temple at Kalighat where a special puja was offered. Images of the goddess were also worshipped at different places in the city.

Nine persons, including a 12-month-old baby, were injured in fireworks explosions in various parts of Calcutta and had to be removed to hospital.

The immersion ceremony in connection with Kali Puja took place on Monday. Scores of processions carrying images of the goddess passed along the roads leading to the riverside and were watched by thousands of people who thronged the routes. In many instances members of the processions displayed the Congress flag and portraits of Mr. Subhas Chandra Bose and shouted slogans for the release of the I. N. A. personnel.

OCHTERLONY MONUMENT

The key of Ochterlony Monument on Calcutta's maidan is missing, reports the Statesman. It is understood that the key, which is usually kept in the custody of the Calcutta Police, was handed to the military authorities in July 1942 when they wished to use the monument as an observation post, writes a reporter of the Statesman. Three months ago the key was missed and is still untraced. Admission to the monument was formerly unrestricted but when one or two individuals used the top of the structure, 152 feet high, as a convenient means of committing suicide, the police authorities took charge and permits were necessary to enter the monument.

PEASANTS AND WORKERS' RALLY

The immediate need for reconstruction of Bengal was emphasized by speakers addressing a rally of peasants and workers at Wellington Square, Calcutta, on the 1st November last. Mr. J. C. Gupta presided.

The speakers referred to the unsatisfactory crop position this year and asked the Government to take timely steps to prevent another famine in the province. They appealed to all parties to sink their political differences and combine in tackling the present problems of food and cloth.

DEATH OF DR. CHARU C. CHATTERJEE

The death occurred of Dr. Charu Chandra Chatterjee, a well-known Congress and social worker, and prominent business man of the city, at his Tollygunge residence, on Monday last. He had been suffering from chronic dysentery for the last six months. He was 68. He leaves behind his wife, seven sons and five daughters.

Dr. Chatterjee was born in a small village in the district of Burdwan. After completing his education he became connected with several business concerns. In 1910, he founded a firm to do export and import business. The Bengal Glass Works, the Ganga Glass Works and several other firms came into being mainly due to his untiring efforts.

In 1932, Dr. Chatterjee took up land development schemes to help middle-class families to have houses of their own in the suburbs of Calcutta. The present expansion of Tollygunge was largely due to his schemes of land development. He founded Charu Chandra Estate Ltd., for development of land and construction of houses in the suburbs of the city and in other places outside Calcutta.

He was intimately associated with Jadavpur Tuberculosis Hospital, National Council of Education, Presidency Medical Education Society, Govindasundari Ayurved College and Hospital, Patipukoor Astanga Ayurved T. B. Hospital, Beltala Girls' Education Society, Nari Kalyan Asram, Bharat Sevasaram Sangha, Prabartak Sangha and Hindu Mission. He was the President of Employees Association and Abhaya-charan Vidyamandir in Lake Road. He presided over mass education section of Bangabhasha and Sanskriti Sammilani held at Khulna this year. Charu Market, Charu Avenue and Charu Park, all in Tollygunge, were his creations.

MR. CASEY RESIGNSMR. BURROWS TO SUCCEED AS GOVERNOR

Right Hon. R. G. Casey, Ch. D.S.O., M.C., Governor of Bengal, has tendered to His Majesty the King his resignation of that appointment, which His Majesty has been pleased to accept, says a Communique from New Delhi dated the 6th November.

His Majesty the King has been pleased to appoint Mr. Frederick John Burrows to be Governor of Bengal in succession to Mr. Casey who will vacate the appointment on a date to be arranged in February next.

It is understood says a "Press Note," that when Mr. Casey accepted appointment as Governor of Bengal in 1943 he undertook the appointment as a war time service asked that he might be relieved as early as might be convenient following the end of the war against Japan. His resignation early next year is therefore in accordance with the arrangements contemplated when he was appointed.

Mr. Frederick John Burrows, who is to succeed Mr. R. G. Casey as Governor of Bengal was on the staff of the Great Western Railway at the outbreak of the war of 1914. He served with the grenadier guards during the war and was on active service from 1915 to 1918. He was for a number of years a member of the Executive Committee of the National Union of Railwaymen and a member of the National Executive Committee of the Labour Party from 1942 to 1944 and in the latter year he was member of the Soulbury Commission on Constitutional Reform in Ceylon.

He was charitably disposed. He donated Rs. 5,000 towards the preliminary expenses of building a memorial structure for late Deshapriya Jatindra Mohan Sen Gupta at Keoratala burning ghat.

"AZAD HIND FAUJ DAY"

"If patriotism is a crime every Indian is guilty of the offence. Any punishment inflicted upon any member of the Azad Hind Fauj will be taken as a punishment on India as a whole. Touch a hair on the head of a single member of the Azad Hind Fauj and you commit an act of sacrilege which India will never forgive and forget"—thus observed Hon'ble Mr. Syed Naushar Ali, Speaker, Bengal Legislative Assembly, presiding over a largely attended public meeting held under the auspices of the Bengal Provincial Congress Committee at Shradhananda Park, on Monday last, in observance of the "Azad Hind Fauj Day". More than 50,000 people including large number of ladies attended the meeting.

Long before the meeting was held, there were shouts of 'Jai Hind,' 'Delhi Chalo,' and other slogans which were echoed and re-echoed from every corner of the Park.

After the termination of the meeting a long procession paraded through different streets, terminated near the Cornwallis Square.

CALCUTTA HOUSE RENT CONTROL ORDER

Among comments received from various quarters on the Calcutta House Rent Control Order, 1943, are suggestions to impose a penalty on landlords for violating provisions of the Order. Government have carefully considered these suggestions and find that it would not be legal to provide for penalty in the Order nor is it necessary to do so as penal provisions to meet these cases already exist in the D I Rules says a Press Note.

Suggestions have also been received that the application of the Order should be extended to bustees shops and stalls in the Calcutta Corporation markets. The present position is that bustees are included within the purview of the Order, the only exception being stalls which are let out at variable rents at different seasons for the retail sale of goods and in the case of which it is not possible to determine a standard rent.

Grievances against landlord include complaints that for compelling tenants to vacate the premises they cut off electric or water supply. It is pointed out that provision for meeting such cases already exists in the Order.

'Pin-pricks' of which landlords are also guilty include the restraining of tenants from entering the gates of their premises at night if they arrive late and protecting friends and relatives of the tenants from visiting them and in some cases of planting undesirable tenants with the object of harassing others. Such cases are not within the scope of the Order and tenants have to seek relief in criminal court in normal manner.

RELEASE OF I N A MEN DEMANDED

A resolution characterizing the coming trial of the I N A personnel as unjustified and demanding immediate release of the men was passed at a meeting organised by the Bengal Provincial I U C at Shradhmandi Park Calcutta on the 3rd November, last. Mr. Mrital Kanti Bose, President of the A I F U C was in the chair.

The speakers said that four members of the I N A—Amar Singh Gill, Jyotish Bose, Dr. Pabitra Ray and Haridas Mitra, had recently been tried and sentenced to death—the first two in Presidency Jail and the other two in Alipore Central Jail and were now awaiting execution. Young Amir Singh when a petition for mercy was put up before him for his signature, turned down the offer, remarking that he was an I N A soldier and would far rather face the gallows than sign a petition for mercy.

DEATH OF MOULANA AMIN

The death occurred of Moulana Mohammad Rahul Amin, President of the Jamiat-ul-Ulema Hind, Bengal, at the Calcutta residence of Mr. A. K. Fazlul Huq on the 2nd November last. He was about 70 at the time of his death and had been ill for the past few months.

ALL-BENGAL PRIMARY TEACHERS' CONFERENCE

Immediate introduction of free and compulsory primary education in the province with or without taxation, thorough improvement of the service conditions of the primary school teachers and a bold post-war planning for the primary education in Bengal were demanded at the fifth session of the All-Bengal Primary Teachers' Conference held in the University Institute Hall during the last week. Mr. Hemendra Prasad Ghosh was in the chair. Nearly 200 delegates attended.

CALCUTTA MORTALITY

There was a further drop in deaths from malaria in Calcutta during the week ended November 3. Only 27 persons fell victim to the disease against 35 the week before. During the corresponding two weeks last year deaths numbered 159 and 167.

Cholera attacks and deaths during the week were 18 and 10 against 28 and 2 respectively, in the previous week. Last year there were 27 and 31 attacks and 12 and 11 deaths during the corresponding weeks.

Attacks and deaths from small pox were 3 each against 2 and 1 respectively the week before. The corresponding weeks of last year recorded 28 and 27 attacks and 23 and 21 deaths.

Total mortality during the week was 665, a drop of 75 from the previous week's figure. In the corresponding two weeks last year, deaths from all causes were 965 and 1012 the average figure for the same period during the last five years being 938.

Recorded deaths of paupers numbered 90 against 109 the week before.

Deploping the apathy and step-motherly treatment that had so long been shown to the vital issue of primary education and to those who are engaged in the diffusion of this education among the masses, the Conference put forward some minimum demands of the primary teachers of Bengal which was in their opinion, essential for the improvement of primary education for this province. These demands among others contained the following:

The minimum salary or stipend of Primary Teachers should be fixed at Rs. 50 per month for those who are trained and Rs. 40 for the untrained.

Revision of the Rules relating to the representation of primary teachers in the School Boards under the Bengal Rural Primary Education Act of 1930, with a view to including at least one primary teacher representative from each sub-division of a district in such Boards, provided no School Board will contain less than two such representatives.

The amendment of the same Act for the purpose of the inclusion of at least one representative of the All-Bengal Primary Teachers' Association in the Central Primary Education Committee.

The inclusion of at least two experienced primary teachers in the Education Sub-Committee of every Local Body.

Establishment of more training schools for male and female teachers.

IMPROVEMENT OF CALCUTTA BUSTEES

Parks And Playgrounds To Be Laid Out

Parks and children's playgrounds are to be laid out in some of the "bustee" areas in Calcutta following a Bengal Government decision to convert certain A. R. P. structures to peace-time use.

During the war it was found necessary, as an A. R. P. measure, to cut "fire lanes" through a number of Calcutta "bustees" to enable the free movement of fire engines in an emergency. The Government of Bengal have decided, as a part of their proposed slum improvement scheme, to acquire permanently several of the larger areas thus cleared and to convert these into parks and playgrounds for children.

The Government and the Calcutta Improvement Trust will equally share the cost of the plan which is estimated at Rs. 2,50,000. The lands will vest in the Trust, which has agreed to undertake their development as also the planting of trees, the supply of playground equipment and their subsequent maintenance.

PROGRESS OF TRANSPORT PLANNING IN INDIA

The War Transport Member, Sir Edward Benthall, in the course of a review of the progress of transport planning in India has urged the necessity of framing a definite policy and taking decisions with regard to the future

The position of the Central Government, Sir Edward said, was that they were anxious that railways should go into the road business in partnership with existing operators on reasonable terms, but that those terms could not in reason take into account inflated gross earnings during a transport shortage.

Sir Edward mentioned the amended code of principle and practice in the regulation of motor transport and said that the code was an entirely novel departure in co-ordination of transport designed to suit the particular constitutional and other circumstances of India and it would be extremely interesting to see how it worked out.

Long-range road development plans were nearly complete. The acceptance by the Central Government, subject to the approval of the legislature and confirmation by the provinces, of liability for the completion, improvement and maintenance in British India of the system of national highways now delineated formed part of the general scheme of financial aid to provinces for development and land transport co-ordination and carries with it the need for acceptance by provinces of certain conditions which were reasonable and indeed consequential upon the acceptance by the centre of the liability for the main highways of the country.

THE WHEEL IS TURNED

During those eventful days of 1914—1918 India faced a serious shortage of essential medicines. Supplies of Sera and Vaccines, wholly imported till then, were discontinued. Thousands of patients died for want of proper remedies. Can a more helpless state of affairs be imagined?

And this tragedy lasted till Bengal Immunity Co., Ltd, emerged in 1919 to completely reverse the picture.

Most people treat municipal subjects with indifference and unconcern—everybody's business being nobody's interest. But, really there are no uninteresting subjects, only uninterested people.

Yet, there is an increasingly large number of people now who believe that civics is a matter of concern to them, to their community and to the future of their city.

The Calcutta Municipal Gazette appeals to just such people. It invites discussion and constructive criticism in the conduct of our municipal affairs. It helps to increase the interest in Local Government, to make public life more useful, to make our nationalism richer by making it a matter of practical, constructive achievement.

And the Gazette is free from party fealty, without any party obligations or debts to pay. It wishes to present ideas impartially and judge questions in the interests of the city only and none other.

We invite you to read the Gazette regularly and help to spread ideas on municipal subjects.
